Degrees are officially granted to the preceding lists of candidate when the fulfillment of all academic requirements has been certified by the University.

Academic Attire

The traditional attire worn by Lock Haven University faculty, staff, Council of Trustees and distinguished speakers at Convocation and Commencement is a record of academic achievement.

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries when universities were forming in England and other parts of Europe. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric. Long gowns were worn, and may have been necessary for warmth, in unheated buildings. Hoods may have served as a cover to protect the tonsured heads of monks and other medieval scholars in the winter.

European institutions have always had great diversity in their specifications of academic dress. In contrast, shortly after the traditional academic dress was brought to the United States with the founding of Kings College (now Columbia University), American educators opted for a standardized system that all colleges and universities might follow.

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, drafted a code of academic dress, which in addition to regulating the style, cut and material of the gowns, prescribed the colors which represent various degrees of learning. This code was revised in 1932 and 1959, and updated in 1986.

The wearer's level of degree is indicated by the gown's cut. Doctoral gowns have full sleeves which are round and open. Gowns worn by Masters have long, closed, somewhat fuller sleeves, which reach nearly to the wearer's knees. The arm goes through a slot, giving the appearance of short sleeves. Those worn by Bachelors have long, pointed sleeves.

The color of the gown also varies. Although most of the doctoral gowns are black, in some cases their color is that of the university conferring the degree. Trimmed with three two-inch velvet bars on the sleeves and a five-inch velvet border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front, the doctoral gown is usually black. The velvet trimming may be of a color that indicates the nature of the degree. Master's and Bachelor's gowns have no such facing.

The size and shape of the hood, which is the most significant part of the academic dress, indicate the degree of the wearer. The Bachelor's hood is three feet in length with a two-inch velvet border; the Master's hood measures three and one half feet in length with a three-inch border; and the Doctoral hood is four feet with a five-inch border.

The color of the velvet border and hood lining indicate the academic field and the color or colors of the institution granting the degree respectively. The hood worn by University President Craig Dean Willis is lined in the school colors of The Ohio State University—crimson and gray. Other representative colors displayed by members of the University faculty and staff include:

| | |
|------------------------------------|----------------------|
| Pennsylvania State University..... | dark blue and white |
| Temple University..... | red and white |
| Columbia University..... | slate blue and white |
| Duke University..... | royal blue |

Some of the colors worn by Lock Haven University faculty and staff for all academic purposes, including the trimmings of doctors' gowns, edging of hoods and cap tassels, are associated with the following disciplines:

| | |
|--------------------|---------------------------------|
| White..... | Arts, Letters, Humanities |
| Drab..... | Commerce, Accountancy, Business |
| Light Blue..... | Education |
| Brown..... | Fine Arts |
| Crimson..... | Journalism |
| Lemon..... | Library Science |
| Pink..... | Music |
| Silver-Gray..... | Oratory |
| Dark Blue..... | Philosophy |
| Sage Green..... | Physical Education |
| Golden Yellow..... | Science |
| Citron..... | Social Science |

The mortarboard cap, conventionalized from the skull cap worn by the monks of the 12th and 13th centuries, is usually black. Tassels are worn over the left front quarter by degree holders; candidates wear the tassel over the right quarter until the degree is conferred.

The Academic Procession

The centuries old pageantry of the academic procession dates from ancient tradition rooted in the early universities. Since the first academic ceremonies were predominantly in the charge of the clergy, they followed the familiar order of the religious procession in which the place of highest honor was at the end of the procession. Accordingly, the academic procession is made up of members of the platform party, members of the faculty, and members of the graduating class, marching in that order.

The Mace

The staff carried at the front of the academic procession is called the mace. It is a symbol of authority and indicates that the activity is an official function of Lock Haven University. Since responsibility for the ceremony is shared by co-marshals, each of them carries a mace. The maces were fashioned from wood from old Sullivan Hall which once stood on the present site of Stevenson Library.

Commencement Speaker

Honorary Degree Recipient

William F. Clinger, Jr.

Today's commencement address is presented by William F. Clinger, Jr., United States Congressman, Pennsylvania 5th District.

Representative Clinger serves as chairman of the Commonwealth Congress Government Reform and Oversight Committee and as an ex-officio member of all subcommittees. He is also vice chairman of Transportation and Infrastructure. He is active on the Board of Directors of The Ripon Educational Fund and in the House Wednesday Group, of which he was a former chairman.

Representative Clinger has held numerous positions in politics. In 1978 he was elected to the 96th Congress on his first bid for elective office, and he has since been re-elected to all subsequent Congresses. For seven years he served as state committeeman, Pennsylvania Republican Committee, and twice held leadership positions in the Pennsylvania Bush for President Committee.

Representative Clinger holds a bachelor's degree from Johns Hopkins University and a law degree from the University of Virginia. He is a member of the University of Virginia Law Review editorial staff. He has previously served in the U.S. Navy Intelligence, Blair Company, and Stone and Harper Law Firm, both located in Warren, PA. Representative Clinger has served as chief counsel to the Economic Development Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, and as a member of the Harper, Clinger and Eberly Law Firm in Warren, PA.

Currently residing in Warren, PA, with his wife, he has four children and two grandchildren.
