GIRLS VARSITY TRIMS MILLERSVILLE

Moretz Does Fine Guarding

The Girls' Basketball team of C. V. S. N. S. won its third game by defeating the Millersville tossers last Saturday afternoon on the home floor. The game was hotly contested from start to finish.

Millersville was the first to score from the field, but it was not long until Houck tossed in a foul. The score was fairly even throughout the game, Millersville at one time being in the lead by five points. Houck after a number of tries caged two field goals and several fouls. Just before the close of the first half the Millersville lassies increased their score by securing four field goals. The half ended with Millersville in the lead by the score of 18 to 13.

The Red and Blue came back in the second half determined to make their opponents fight to the flinish for a victory. The ball was in Millersville territory at the start for a short time, after which "Houcky" threw a twopointer. The fourth quarter was marked by Shippensburg's run of five field goals and a number of fouls. In the last few minutes of play Shippensburg forged ahead by throwing three one-pointers.

Both the regular Varsity centers, Minnich and Andrews were out of the game on account of injuries but Felton was a worthy substitute. Moretz at guard deserves special mention as she broke up-many of the opponents' offensive plays.

PLAN FOR ORCHESTRA CONCERT

Girls' Choral Club at Work

One of the big features in the near future is a concert to be given by the school orchestra under the direction of Prof. D. O. Slyter. An announcement will be made later of the definite date decided upon. Prof. Slyter is well pleased with the wonderful progress of the orchestra and from all indications this concert will be one of the best musical programs ever given in the school.

The Girls' Choral Club is hard at work preparing for a special Easter program. The musical selections will be appropriate for Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday. The music given by the Choral Club has always been of high merit and music lovers can expect a rare treat from the Easter pro-

PORTMANTEAU COMPANY PLAY

"Nevertheless," the one act play that is being given by the Normal Society this evening is one of the Stuart Walker plays. This play, written in 1915 was first produced by the Portmanteau Company in New York City. Stuart Walker is the originator of this company. It is significant to know that the Portmanteau stage is complete theatrically and can be packed up and carried in its entire form from one city to another. For this reason it is probably better known nation- Caesar to the number of Thirty-sixally as the Little Theatre.

Question Box Pleases The Normal Society

MISS KRALL, EDITOR OF GAZETTE, IMITATES FACULTY MEMBERS TO PERFECTION

A unique feature of the Normal Literary Society Program last Friday evening was the "Question Box" in charge of William Hudson '24. During this number the society was amused when Edwin Harbaugh '24 failed to define "love" as he saw it; and somewhat startled to learn that all Miss Ruth Snyder '23 gleaned from the School Efficiency Class wasquoting Bozidor Grba-"six feet, one inch." All questions were answered to Mr. Hudson's satisfaction and the society as a whole was benefited.

A male octette in charge of Clifford Smith '24 sang a negro melody, "My Darling Chloe" which was well received.

The debators of the question "Resolved that the French are justified in invading the Ruhr district" showed that they had made careful preparation for the debate. Blair Mann '24 and Chalmer Sell '24 upheld the affirmative while Miss Florence White '24 and Miss Virginia Ranck '23 maintained that the French are not justified in invading the Ruhr district. The judges gave the decision in favor of the affirmative.

Miss "Betty" Hall '23 gave a discussion on St. Valentines' Day and Miss Elizabeth Selfrige '24 entertained the society with the humorous monologue 'How Gentlemen Are Made."

The Gazette which was edited and read by Miss George Krall '23 revealed unusual originality, was well balanced and was excellently presented. Miss Krall delighted the society with her accurate imitations of various members of the faculty.

During the miscellaneous business President Straley '23 appointed the committees for Normal Anniversary. Andrew Sterner '23 reported that satisfactory arrangements had been made with Philo to alternate the meting places and that next week Normal Society would convene in the main auditorium. Officers were elected for the ensuing term. Ralph Orner '23 was elected President, Franklin Mc-Dermitt '23 Vice President, Miss Hazel Frye '23, Secretary and Miss Carolyn Cox '23, Critic.

Miss Alice Huber, the faculty representative at the meeting, commended the society on the program and made suggestions for improvement.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CAMPAIGN OF JULIUS CAESAR

An attack by Helvetian infantry on the Jura redoubt was repulsed by the soldiers of the Tenth Legion, according to a dispatch received yesterday afternoon. Caesar when interviewed by war correspondents said that war was inevitable as a result of his ultimatum to the Gallic diplomats. The Third and Fifth Helvetian Army Corps are at present mobilized on the east bank of the river Rhone and their attempted passage is hourly expected by

The One-Hundred-Thirty-Ninth Field engineers have fortified the pass between the Jura mountain and Lake Lemanus by a series of trenches and redoubts. Caesar has with him his famous "Old Guard" or Tenth Legion as it is officially known. Troops C and E of the Seventh Ethiopian Cavalry, and a Company of the One-Hundred-Thirty-Ninth engineers. The Province has already been levied for troops and these together with the Eighth Legion or "Limestone Division" as it is properly called will swell the ranks of

Normal Quintet Tries For Title Tomorrow

BLOOMSBURG OUT FOR REVENGE

This evening the varsity launches into what is doubtless the most important game of the remainder of the schedule, when they sail into the Bloomsburg quintet. Shippensburg has but three more games to play, the one today, one at Millersville and West Chester here. If Normal wins today she will practically clinch the championship of the South Eastern Division of the State Normal

We have already beaten all three of these teams once including West Chester on her own floor so that we feel rather confident of beating her here. A month ago Bloomsburg gave us perhaps the most exciting game of the season when we trimmed them with a thirty-seven, thirty-one score. Since this time we have not lost a game but Bloomsburg has also won the last five.

Moreover, the absence of Jones from the line-up in the past two weeks has been felt and although he expects to get into the fray tonight he will not be in the best of condition. The action declaring Kelly, Green and Martin ineligible has also added to the weakening of Varsity as well as the morale of the squad.

However, the boys have been practicing faithfully the past week and are being keyed to a high pitch for this game. The brand of ball played at West Chester two weeks ago showed two things. First, that the new combination made necessary with the retirement of Hays did not weaken the team. Secondly, that this combination can win away from home. So irrespective of the fact that a Jinx seems to be trailing on our heels Shippensburg feels confident of victory this

APRIL 14TH DATE OF PRESS CLUB SOCIAL

At a business meeting of the Press Club last night it was decided that the Club's annual social would be held Saturday, April 14th. Committees on music and refreshments were ordered appointed by the president. If possible an orchestra made up mostly of Normal students will furnish the mu-

At the next meeting, which will be held March 8th, Mr. Hugh Miller of Carlisle, will address the club on "Preparing Copy for the Editorial Room." Coming at this time, the talk should be interesting to the REFLEC-TOR staff, and there is a possibility that the staff will be extended a special invitation to attend this meeting.

It was decided that because H. H. Diller had served the club well while a boarding student, he would still be retained as a member of the club in spite of the fact that he is now a day student. Due to the fact that George Wolf has quit school, his name was dropped from the roll.

The photographic work for the Year Book was completed this week. All material is to be at the printer's by March the first.

Girls To Discuss Honor System

The Girls' Student Council on Monday evening decided a mass meeting of all the Boarding Girls should be called in the near future in order to discuss a higher system of honor among the girls. The girls feel that a better system of honor must be maintined if the student government is to be successful to the fullest extent possible.

A meeting of all Senior girls was also urged for the purpose of finding out what privileges the girls shall ask

The breaking of minor rules, such as visiting during study period was discussed. It was decided that members of the Student Council should be especially strict about enforcing these rules. Accordingly, a number of girls had their visiting privileges withdrawn and several were cam-

The Philo play committee presented a play from the "Harvard Workshop" Series at the meeting last Friday evening. The cast included Miss Peggy Lehman '25 in the leading role, Mrs. E. M. The new Philo Orchestra made its first appearnce at this meeting and was enthusiastically received by the Society. The girls of the Glee Club sang McDowell's "To a Wild Rose"; Miss Florence Davis '23 and Miss Janet Shearer '24 sang a duet; and Roy Bamberger '23 sang some of the latest hits to the accompaniment of Karl Blanche's banjo and Robert Maclay's

An oration entitled "Wars Should Cease" delivered by Warren Burke '24 set forth some interesting facts. The Philo Review was read by Lloyd Price

During the business session officers for the next term were nominated. Prof. L. C. Krebs, the visiting teacher, urged the Society not to overlook the placing of a report of the work of the Society in the Herald since alumni members of Philo are interested in its activities.

CLASS MOTTO SELECTED

A meeting of the Junior Class was held on Thursday evening for the purpose of selecting a Class Motto and Class Flower. The motto chosen was 'Not on the Heights but Climbing" and the flower, "Brown Eyed Susan."

Juniors were asked to be on the job at the Dining Room at 5:30 P. M. Saturay to help with the decorating in order to rush it through.

EVERYTHING READY FOR YEAR'S BIGGEST SOCIAL—SCHOOL KEYED UP FOR DANCE

Final preparations for the Junior Prom, the gala social event of the year, were being made the latter part of this week. The committee under chairman, Clifford Smith, announces that several entirely novel features will be introduced this year.

The trustees will be represented in the receiving line by Mr. and Mrs. George S. McLean, who together with the faculty and a number of the Junior Class will greet the students in the parlor, promptly at seven-thirty o'clock.

Both the dining room and the gymnasium are being gaily decorated for the event. Between the dining room and Solomon's Temple the revellers will find themselves walking under an arch of springtime greens. In the dining room they will find beautifully decorated tables around which they will gather in true Epicurean style. While so doing their minds will be moved forward to Spring. For the theme of decoration in the dining hall will be Spring. This will be represented by a funtain in the centre of the room, the fountain to be bedecked with greens and surrounded by ferns and plants. The ideas will be carried out in decorating the windows. The minor trimming will be with streamers of the class colors, brown and gold, promiscuously scattered throughout the dining room.

Updegrove's Orchestra will find itself perched conspicuously on a platform in the middle of the gym. This will be adorned with trellis work and greens. The outstanding feature of the decoration in the gym will be the frieze which the committee is putting around the balcony.. Overhead streamers running from one side of the gym to the other will give an appearance of solidity.

NORMAL DEFEATS PHILO IN EXCITING GAME

Close Guarding Features

In an exciting game featured by close guarding and sensational shots, the Normal Society girls last night defeated the Philo girls by a 14-7 score. This game as all the others that have been played this week was played with a two division floor. As usual it served to make the game faster.

The close guarding of the Normal lassies held Philo scoreless until nearly the end of the first half, while Normal was kept well ahead by free tosses and sensational field shots by Taughinbaugh. The crowd was continually on edge during this half.

With the second half Philo came back for blood, and drew a little. For a while they ran nip and tuck, but finally Normal pulled ahead and the game ended with Normal on the long end, and with the ball in Normal territory.

A PERMANENT CHEER LEADING SYSTEM

Last week the cheer leaders published in the CAMPUS REFLECTOR a number of revised yells which they plan to make a part of the cheering system of the school. They also announced that they are devising a new method of presentation which they believe will do much to improve the system. This action on the part of the cheer leaders is to be heartily commended. They have been laboring under great difficulties all year, for when they were elected last fall they were forced to create their own system of leading the cheers and to originate practically all of the yells which have been used this year.

The experiences of the past semester have shown that there is a need for some system that will pass the cheers and methods of leading the yells on from year to year, so that a custom can be established with regard to cheering that will be distinctly characteristic of C. V. S. N. S. A competitive system might be established that will train the juniors to take the place of the senior cheer leaders when they are graduated.

There is hardly a well organized school that does not have some system of this sort, and there is no reason why Cumberland Valley Normal should not have cheering that is equal, if not better than that of most of the small colleges and the Normal Schools of the state.

WHY NOT CONTRIBUTE?

So far the student body and faculty as a whole have made no contributions to the REFLECTOR in the way of general articles or news items. This is your paper, run for your benefit and the best interests of the school. If you know of some news of interest that we have ovrlooked or are not likely to notice, tell us and we will have it covered, or better still, write it up yourself. In this way we may discover some additional newspaper talent in the school and bring to light students who ought to be on the staff. Cooperate with us and help make our paper a real publication.

TRAINING SCHOOL SERVES HOT LUNCHES

Special commendation is due the student teachers who make themselves responsible for the hot lunches served daily at the Training School. Four young women go down to the Training School kitchen every day in time to prepare cocoa to serve at 10 o'clock. About 70 children from the Primary grades and 40 from the Intermediate and Junior High School grades receive a cup of cocoa each morning.

All the children have been weighed monthly since June 1920 and a record has been kept for the benefit of both the children and the parents. This procedure has aroused a surprising amount of interest on the part of the parents. They always seem glad to know when their children are underweight and usually are willing to cooperate in the attempt to bring them up to standard. That the children also are quite willing to do their part in this project, is evident by the fact that 25 quarts of milk are consumed by them each day in hot cocoa.

A hot lunch is also provided at noon, designed to supplement the cold basket lunches which the children carry from their homes. A second group of four student teachers are assigned the duty of preparing this noon lunch, which consists usually of soup, sandwiches, cocoa and ice cream. About 90 children have purchased their lunch each noon during the past semester.

The expense accounts are kept by the teachers in charge, who also assume the responsibility of making the necessary purchases. The slight charges that are made fully ever the expense of maintainin the lunch room.

The administration of this project is under the supervision of Miss Harris, the Assistant Director of the Training School. The work has also been largely forwarded through the assistance of Miss McWilliams, Dietition of the Normal School, and the Bursar, Mr. Lackhove.

The Training School is always alert to make school life happy, homelike, and loveable, and on a recent date when the birthdays of two children of the lower grades occurred on the same day, the student teachers made it an occasion for a special affair in the form of a brief party. Dainty paper napkins were furnished and the time honored candles appeared in the decorations. The occasion was made an opportunity for teaching certain correct social customs on the part of little ones, who might some day be having or attending a party in a home, and all the niceties were gravely and carefully carried out by the small visitors and guests of honor.

The children were taught in simple language that it is the duty of guests to be bright and entertaining and to contribute something to "keep the hall rolling," and their quaint voluntary efforts varied from the recitation "Little Miss Muffet" to the song "Throw Out the Life Line," and the following speech: I didn't know Mary was going to have such a nice party, but I'm glad I was in school to-day so I could

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB DOING INTERESTING WORK

The members of the Arts and Crafts Club have been engaged in working out very artistic and interesting problems during the past semester.

One of the new problems they have undertaken is block printing. Basketry and clay modeling have formed a very fascinating and instructive part of their work also.

During this semester the club is planning to do enamelac work, leather tooling and oil cloth painting.

Miss Catherine Cox, a member of the faculty, has been responsible to a great degree for the successful working out of the different problems which the club has undertaken.

TOSSERS DEFEAT ARMY QUINTET

The first string men easily took the Carlisle Army Post five into camp last Friday night by the score of 27 to 16. The game was poorly played on both sides and it was marred by unnecessary roughness. The score would seem to indicate the game was rather closely contested, but such was not the case. Roughness on the part of the visitors prohibited a show of good teamwork by the Normal lads, while they themselves showed no teamwork.

At the beginning of the first half it began to look interesting when Chapelle uncorked several long, sensational shots. This however, marred completely all semblance of teamwork for the Post boys began to shoot from all parts of the cage. The offense by Sterner, Craig and Smith and the foul shooting of Heiges kept Normal in the running. Heiges and Grba broke up all plays under the Post goal. The first half ended with Normal leading 13 to 10.

Shortly after the second half started Smith retired and Heiges went to forward, with Wert at Guard. This combination kept up the work of the former five, Grba, Sterner and Craig each registering a two-pointer. Heiges layed six free tosses through the net in this half.

The absence of Jones from the lineup was greatly felt but the new combination proved themselves capable of upholding the name of the Varsity.

NORMAL WILL MEET IN CHAPEL TONIGHT

Play "Nevertheless" Will Be Presented

Normal Society is preparing what appears to be one of the most interesting program of the year. The play entitled "Nevertheless" will be very entertaining and also instructive. This play is in charge of the play committee representing the society and it is believed the coaching of this committee will be shown in the play. The stage in the main auditorium will aid greatly in the successful production of this number.

Musical numbers will not be lacking on the program. The Glee Club will sing a selection and a Ukelele Chorus in charge of Miss Kathleen Gibbons '23 will appear. Miss Helen Emig '23 will give a violin solo.

Other interesting literary numbers will be an oration by Wilson Dodd '24 and the Normal Gazette which is edited this week by Denver Evans '23.

Due to the unexpected number of students wishing to take work in Advanced Botany and Educational Tests it was necessary to form a new class in each of these subjects.

STUDENTS ENJOY FINE COMEDIES

The school was very fortunate in having the screen classic "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" shown last Saturday evening. The play was based upon Mark Twain's novel of the same title. Pictures of the novelist and a few facts of his life were flashed on the screen before the story began.

The story tells how a Connecticut Yankee is transported back to the times and customs of King Arthur and his Round Table. The Yankee slang he uses in speaking to the people of those times produces absurd effects. A Ford is used in making an attack on a castle with all the knights following on motorcycles and dressed in armor. It can truthfully be said that this is one of the best comedies shown on the screen today.

Harold Lloyd featured in the one reel comedy "The Big Idea." In another reel alligators were shown in the natural habitat and on farms. This was creepy as well as interest-

PUPILS DRAMATIZE LINCOLN'S LIFE

A Lincoln's Day program was given by the pupils of the Training School last Friday afternoon in their general assembly period. The main feature of the program was the dramatization of Lincoln's life by a number of ninth grade pupils.

The dramatization was given in eight different scenes, starting with Lincoln as a boy in his log cabin home, and ending with the scene of the great man delivering his world famous Gettysburg address.

Of all the scenes, which were especially well chosen, the sixth deserves special comment. It was the one at the White House, between Lincoln and General Butler, when the latter complained to the President of his leniency in dealing with soldiers condemned to death for lapse of duty The greatness of Lincoln's character was brought out forcibly in the conversation which ensued.

GIRLS' VARSITY TO FACE HARD SCHEDULE

To Play New Rules at Chambersburg

Despite last week's victory, the Girls' Varsity is not over-confident but is working hard in expectation of two fast games over this week-end. The Normal sextet will face two strong opponents in Chambersburg High and the Dickinson College Tossers. Both of these games are to be played away from home.

The C. V. co-eds will be playing under a handicap when they journey to Chambersburg tonight. It is likely they will be forced to play with three forwards and three guards, due to the fact that Chambersburg floor has two sections instead of three. The girls have been practicing under these new regulations for the past week and they expect to add another victory to their string.

Tomorrow the Normal cagers will face a hard game at Carlisle when they meet the co-eds from Dickinson. If the Normal girls can add this game to their list of victories they will have proven their ability to win on foreign floors. The line-up will be as follows:

Houck Heiges Felton je Meyer Coble Heckman

Substitutes-Sleichter, Moretz, and Upperman.

NOVEL FEATURE FOR JUNIOR PROM TOMORROW EVENING

(Continued from First Page) General excitement and anticipation prevail in both dorms. The general topic of conversation is the "Junior Prom." It has become more than talk. That it is a reality, or at least gives signs of being a reality, is evidenced by the number of packages being received on both sides of the house. Sisters, brothers, mothers, and even 'Dads" seem to be contributing "glad rags" for this memorable event. The book-room for the past five days has been over-whelmed with huge and fantastically shaped packages from all corners of the state. With much gusto and hasty dispatch the students flock to the book-room after every breakfast and dinner to look for their package. It is even rumored that some get up for breakfast to look for their packages.

With all this easily evident the committee feels the importance of their tasks and are working accordingly. Friday night and Saturday will see the final artistic touches being applied. Saturday night at eleven-thirty will see the drooping of all this when, with a long drawn sigh, as the strains of "Home Sweet Home" die out the Junior Prom will be over.

A last interview with the committee gave us the promise of the following "eats:"

Chicken Salad

Assorted cakes Coffee

Candy Salted peanuts

7:00 P. M. Prayer Meeting, Auditorium NORMAL QUINTET TRIES FOR

TITLE TOMORROW

(Continued from First Page) Normal rooters have found that in the combination representing them they have a squad of fine basketball players. With Craig, last year's Captain, going like a house afire and his running mate. Heiges, shooting them from all angles and dropping the free throws through the net in rapid succession, they have a pair of forwards who are hard to beat and who have been declared by opposing guards, unusually hard to guard. Sterner at centre is falling more and more into his stride and that stride is proving far too speedy for opposing centres. The Woodlawn lads, Jones and Grba are proving themselves an almost impregnable defense through which very few successful offensives have been launched. These five men working together with wonderful harmony have proven that they can form a defense or start an offensive that commands absolute respect and admiration from Normal fans. Backed by Smith an all-around forward or centre and Wert who can play guard, centre or forward in a very creditable manner, this squad will strive to bring home the bacon from Bloomsburg.

Prof. T. J. Pennington of the English Department of this school has purchased a Dodge Coupe.

GIRLS' VARSITY DEFEATED BY RESERVES

The Girls' Varsity basketball team received a trouncing by the Reserves on Tuesday evening, the final score being 18 to 11.

The Varsity played its usual type of game the first half, not being able however, to capture more than three field goals. The Reserves caged one two-pointer near the close of the first half making the score 6 to 2 in favor of the Varsity.

The second half showed the Reserves at their best. Sleichter and Upperman made several nice shots and with this run of field goals the Reserves soon left the Varsity behind. The superior teamwork of the second string players enabled them to keep the ball in their territory.

Field Goals-Heiges, Houck 2, Sleichter 2, Taughinbaugh, Upperman. Foul Goals-Sleichter, 3 out of 5; Houck, 0 out of 4.

A Young People's Conference will be held in the Methodist Church on Saturday February twenty-fourth to which all students are invited. The conference is planned to last from 10 A. M. until 4 P. M. and an interesting program is anticipated.
