NEW TALENTS DISPLAYED ON NORMAL PROGRAM

Musical Ability Shown in Men's Quartet and Ruth Frank's Special Feature

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

Normal Literary Society presented a program last Friday evening in the school chapel, which not only pleased the audience but also won the praise from the visiting teacher, Miss Irene Huber. Miss Huber commented on the noticeable growth of the society paying special recognition to the inaugural address given by Clifford Smith '25, which she described as being fine and manly.

The Men's Quartette sang J. A. Parks' "Good-Night." Percy James '25, a new student, was welcomed into the Normal rank of workers due to his part in the Quartette. Mr. James, who comes from Johnstown is a tenor singer of reputation, having been a member of the Bethlehem Steel Glee Club and having sung in his own High School Quartette and Glee Club. Vincent Trichy '25 who has also recently enrolled with Normal Society assisted in presenting the O. P. R. A., a comic quartette which required Mr. Trichy to take the part of a director wishing to hire a company of singers. The dialogue united with song formed a very "different" special number.

The monologue, "As a Wash Woman Sees It" was given by Gladys Huber '24 who showed exceptional ability by her character portrayed of the wash-woman. Lyda Stine '24 discussed these topics of the day which might still be of interest one century from the present time. This discussion was very imaginative and carried the listeners into an apparently fairy land realm.

Misses Wynn '24 and Wharman '24, played a piano duet, the Bob-o-Link Polka. "Untie," by Sohr was sung by Harry Markley '25. The Gazette was edited by Chalmers Sell '24. Normal Society has a certain standard for the Gazette in this respect that it is to serve as a conveyor of useful news. Mr. Sell, as an editor met the requirements by presenting to those present a regular bureau of information.

FIRST MOVIES TO BE SHOWN TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow night the school will be entertained by the first of the movie series of the school year. "The Kid" will be shown starring the well known comedian Charlie Chaplin and the greatest juvenile actor "Jackie" Coogan. This is one of the most popular screen productions of the day. It touches the heart and once seen is never forgotten. Besides the feature film there will also be a comedy the title of which has not yet been announced.

The school has an excellent moving picture machine and many entertainments were given last year which to all appearances were appreciated by the student body.

It is interesting to note that since "The Kid" is one of the most representative picture of the present age in the motion picture industry it is to be filed away in a museum to be reproduced during the next fifty years and contrasted with the films being produced then. This plan is designed to mark the progress or deterioration of the picture industry.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ILL

Last Sunday, our Editor-in-Chief, Miss Genevieve Mitchell '25, of York, Pa., was compelled to go to her home on account of personal illness.

DR. E. LEHMAN ADDRESSES PRESS CLUB TUESDAY NIGHT

Prof. J. K. Stewart Again Welcomed as Leader of Organization

The Press Club, an organization of ten years standing at C. V. S. N. S., held its first meeting Tuesday evening at 6:20 o'clock.

An address was given by Dr. Lehman who outlined the policy for the year. He described the condition before the advent of the Press Club; there were enrolled at this time of the year about sixty day students and about as many boarding students. The fact that it is only human nature to like to see our names and the names of our friends in print was used as an illustration to emphasize the advertising effect the printing of the school has on the communities represented by the students of the school.

Wallis McKendree '25, acting president during the absence of the president Charles Pyle '24, gave an address concerning the part the members should take in keeping the press club what it has always been—one of finest organizations of the school.

Each member was assigned a certain paper to which he will send news which is of interest to the readers of the newspaper. The stationery and postage used in writing these letters will be furnished by the school and may be gotten from Wallis McKendree, Ann McFadden or Janet Shearer.

The first Thursday evening of every month will be devoted to the meetings of the club. The next meeting will be a literary one with Miss Rouletta Dugan '24 chairman of the program committee.

Mr. John K. Stewart is again heartily welcomed back as advisor of the organization. Mr. Stewart has been connected with the club for a number of years and as Dr. Lehman said, "He always makes a success of things of which he has charge."

Prof. Green, of the music department, played the selection, Tarantelle in A Minor by Charles Dennee. This number found an appreciative audience.

MEMBERS CHOSEN FOR DRAMATIC SOCIETY

The Dramatic Club is ready to start work after having a two day tryout for candidates. Although seventy people applied for admission those in charge of this organization felt that it would be impossible to cope with such a large number. The judges stated that great deal of talent was displayed but only those who showed the most promise were chosen since the number of members was limited to forty.

This organization is planning to give a constructive course in dramatics which will include property management, costuming study of modern plays and coaching of plays. Plays will be presented to the school at various times during the year.

Those who have been chosen for the club are: Helen Miller '25, Eliza Lee Russel '25, Louise Swartz '24, Myrtle Eshelman '24, Peggy Lehman '25, Gladys Huber '24, Sophia Reiter '24, Mary Burgoon '24, Marion Emerick '24, Anna McFadden '24, Ruth Straley '25, Esther Straley '25, Anna Chilcot '25, Ruth Frank '25, Sara Young '25, Helen Maxheimer '25, Miriam Embick '24, Ruth Keable '25, Reba Shue '24, Pearl Witmer '25, Olive Horton '25, Anna Burkins '25, Edith Williams '25, Martha Light '25, Swirls Himes '25, Corbin Pennington '25, John Harris '25, Harry Gardner '25, Wallis McKendree '25, George Kauffman '25, Harvey Sheets '24, William Hudson '25, Roy Whitsel '25, Harry Slothower '25, Roy Coover '25, Clair Smith '24, Wilson Dodd '24 and William Parthemore '25.

ORIGINALITY IS KEYNOTE OF PHILO PROGRAM

Peggy Lehman's Special Feature Is Pleasing to Audience

GLEE CLUB MAKES APPEARANCE

A smouldering fire and a large cauldron filled with the boiling concoction of future destinies plus witches, spirits and mere mortals, was the setting of Peggy Lehman's '25 special feature given at Philo Literary Society which was held in the training school chapel Sept. 28, 1923.

The talkative lady who related her happiness and imaginary troubles as an affianced girl was portrayed by Eliza Russell '25 in a monologue entitled "When I am Married." Reba Shue '24 in an essay on the unit system explained fully the importance of the major and minor plan which has recently been adopted by the school.

The oration, "Social Discontent" by George Robinson '25 and the Philo Review by John Harris '25, completed the literary program.

Josephine Clark '24, who has received much attention by the society in her previous appearances sang a southern melody "Don't you Hear Me Callin' Caroline."

The Glee Club which made its first appearance under the direction of Janet Shearer '24 gave "Turn Thee to Me." The Glee Club labored under difficulties this week and its good work deserves special mention.

The instrumental music was furnished by Sara Cider '24 and Anna Scuber '24 who played a piano duet, and Clarence Bernicker '24 who gave a trombone solo.

During miscellaneous business new members were admitted to the society and a motion was made that the president appoint a committee to collect some Society songs and yells.

Miss Huber, the visiting teacher congratulated the Society on its program and commended the originality manifested by several of the members.

SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE STARTS FOR CAMPUS REFLECTOR

The business staff of the CAMPUS REFLECTOR is busy directing a subscription campaign. Each floor in the dormitory is in charge of a member of the staff who will canvass the floor of which he is captain. The REFLECTOR appeals to the student body for its support. So do not turn the staff representative of your floor away without your subscription.

Through the generosity of the school we are able to cut the price of the paper from $1.75 to $1.00. The subscription price may be paid in two installments of $.50 each or the entire amount may be received if the student desires.

Last year Seniors reached the ninety per cent mark in their list of subscribers; the present Senior class achieved the total of 60 per cent. It is up to the students to go over the top in the drive now going on and make the subscription list a hundred per cent for every class.

HOCKEY TEAMS TO BE CHOSEN NEXT WEEK

Next week the fate of the members of the hockey squad will be decided, for the class teams are to be picked at that time.

Great interest has been shown in hockey by the classes and splendid teams are expected. This past week there were thirty-two seniors, seventy-three juniors and eleven underclassmen out for practice. This is the largest turnout for hockey in the history of the school.

RED AND BLUE WARRIORS READY FOR MERCERSBURG

Coach Ingalls Puts Squad Through Hard Practices For Battle Against Heavier Opponents

MOUNTAINEERS EXPECTS HARD STRUGGLE

The Red and Blue eleven is in prime condition for the initial battle of the season when the carefully trained Mercersburg machine will take them into camp tomorrow. Scouts from the Shippensburg squad report that the Academy men have a heavy line which will outweigh the Normal line and their backfield is up to the minute and display good form in aerial work. The scouts claim that C. V. S. N. S. must work hard for victory and they are sure that McCormick's aggregation is a capable team for a rare battle.

McCormick's squad is practically a new one this year since nearly all the letter men from last year were graduated. Reports from Mercersburg state that the Blue and White griders are expecting a hard grueling contest with the Shippensburg team. It is a common supposition that McCormick's men will be out for gore in tomorrow's game due to the fact that the Normal team walloped them twice on the diamond last spring and this year marks the beginning of the first football relations C. V. S. N. S. ever had with the mountain lads.

Coach Ingalls prescribed hard work out for the squad this week, and every ounce of the perscription was filled. Monday and Tuesday evenings the practice was started with work on the dummy followed by running down punts and signal practice. Wednesday and Thursday were devoted to the development of end running and several attacks followed by scrimmage with the reserves and the High School Eleven, which was valuable in that Coach Ingalls was able to iron out the rough spots on the line and to set the backfield in tiptop condition for tomorrow's game. Tonight's practice will likely be given over to signal practice and the perfecting of forward passing. With the work out tonight Coach Ingalls expects to have the team to the height of perfection for the kick off tomorrow.

The probably line up is as follows:

Ends—Geedy, Hayes.
Tackles—Sell, Hockersmith
Guards—Gilbert and Ritter.
Center—Shuler
Q. Back—Angle.
H. Back—Eby, Clair Smith.
Full Back—Paul Smith.

WM. D. UPSHAW OF GEORGIA ADDRESSES STUDENT BODY

Congressman Says "Beware of Indigo Subjectivity"

Hon. Wm. D. Upshaw, an ex-congressman from Georgia, who is giving a series of lectures throughout the state in behalf of the W. C. T. U., gave a short address to the student body of C. V. S. N. S.

"You cannot do your best when suffering from indigo subjectivity," said the congressman, "and I charge you in the name of the Continental Congress and the faculty of C. V. S. N. S. never to write a letter home when you have the blues. Always remember whatever happens, it could have been worse."

"After spending seven years in bed, twenty years in a rolling chair, and many more in body braces" continued the speaker, "I have never lost sight of my ideals. You young men and women, strong in body and with your whole life before you, can do anything in this world that God wants you to."

The Georgian orator gave his audience to understand that he has no time for the idler, the cigarette fiend, or the flapper. Girls who cheapen themselves by loitering on the streets and boys disdain the advice of their superiors should aim for higher ideals, "for," remarked the speaker in his closing words, "in every heart there is born a purpose linked to God which demands expression in the lives we lead."

STUDENTS TO FOLLOW TEAM TO MERCERSBURG

The students have at least received the privilege of accompanying the team to Mercersburg. This privilege which was withdrawn from the students two years was returned to them after due deliberation by Dr. Lehman. All those who are going will meet in front of the Main Building promptly at 10:30 Saturday morning.

Miss McWilliams requests that all those shall bring down boxes for lunches before 8:30.

Y. W. AND Y. M. RECEPTION HELD IN GIRLS DORTMORY

Stunts Arranged by Students of Each Floor Furnish Entertainment

The annual Y. W. and Y. M. party was held in the court of the Girls' dormitory last Saturday evening, the change in the place of entertainment was due to the condition of the parlors and chapel which are being remodeled.

The receiving line was composed of the cabinets of the organizations and formed in the court at 7 o'clock. Everyone were an identification which aided in the "get acquainted" contest which Dr. Heiges, faculty chairman began immediately after the guests arrived. The game consisted in forming your own christian name from the first letters of other people's surnames.

Unusually fine stunts were prepared by the different groups of students. The girls of first floor dorm represented a "Yankee Doodle Kitchen," second floor, "The Four Years of High School" and third floor, "Amateur Night." The Main building girls presented a group of Nursery rhymes. A large assortment of prominent people—those usually found in the comic section of our papers—came bustling in from the Viener Apartments and the gym.

"Hypnotic Powers" as represented by the boys from fourth floor found favor in the eyes of the audience.

Ice-cream, cake and candy were served to more than three hundred persons. William Hudson '25 and Charles Glenzler '25 made the after-dinner speeches.

The remainder of the evening was spent in singing school songs as well as some old familiar melodies. After a rousing cheer for C. V. S. N. S. the boys ended the party by singing "Good Night Ladies."

INJURED IN SCRIMMAGE

On account of injuries received in last night's scrimmage, Arthur Filler, promising second string center, will probably be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

PLAY THE GAME CLEAN AND FAIR

It is you, fellow student, to whom this article is written and not to the other fellow. You who always try to find out what particular individual that the shoe will fit, but never think for one moment that you need to be reshod.

There seems to be no better time of the year than just right now for the slogan "Play clean and fair." It is a time when each one is starting the game off to win or lose his point of vantage. Whether it be in studies, music, dramatics, newspaper work, or athletics it matters little, because all are alike. It is a time when you should see the value of playing the game "Clean and fair," but how many do?

Night after night, week after week, the gridiron squad assembles on the field of action. It is a field of action not in the sense of physical activity alone but mental activity as well. It is upon the rectangle of earth that the brain must learn to function with accuracy and speed. It is there that the ball must be snapped and caught with correctness. It is there that you are training to hit your opponent hard and low and fight to a finish. It is there that you learn to take the rough knocks and thus keep on smiling and be a man. No man on the square can really play foot-ball if he can't measure up in these qualifications. How many men have failed simply because they couldn't play clean and fair? Oh, countless is the number who when opportunity knocks couldn't play the game and they were ruled out because they had failed somewhere, sometime. They had either hit the fellow high and were penalized or slugged and hit their opponent who was down.

Can't we liken the game in life to that on the football plot? Think! Doesn't every young man and woman participate in the game? And are not all of us training for accuracy, speed and the higher things of life? If you are not you had better start, because the old saying is, "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today." Many people believe that playing the game clean and fair is merely some sort of a sham and is not essential to life's game. That is the great trouble with the people living in this age and day. That is the cause of all the discontent, strife, turmoil, and revolution that is surging over the world today. Too many people are out to win no matter how they do it, fair means or foul. They don't realize what it means to play fair and win the game, but eventually the time will come when foul playing will beat them, no matter how bright the future may be.

To prove this let me cite an incident at Harvard College. A young man left high school and needed just one more credit in algebra to enter Harvard, and then all would be clear sailing for a varsity position on the football team. In his final examination in Algebra there was one problem that he couldn't solve and he needed this problem to get a high enough grade to pass the subject. His class mate just in front of him had solved the problem and the temptation was too great for the boy to refuse to copy because he simply had to get the problem. He copied the problem. The next fall he entered Harvard and was pretty sure of his position in the team, but his scholastic standing was low. Mathematics was his failing subject. The time came for the examination that would determine whether or not he was eligible to play. In this examination occurred the same old algebra problem which meant victory or defeat to him, and he failed again. He didn't have his old class-mate along with him and he had failed to play fair with himself in High School and he beat himself in the end. There are hundreds in the world like him.

Failures because they did not hit their opponents low; failures because they knocked their opponent when he was down; failure because they tricked their opponent and played foul.

Are you in C. V. S. N. S. going to fail because you did not hit the subject hard and low and master it from the ground, or are you going to knock your enemy while he is down? Why not give him a chance? Maybe he is not nearly as badly hurt as you think him to be. Are you going to trick your opponent and play foul? Remember—you are penalized in the end.

IMPROMPTU CLASS AT PHILO TONIGHT

The special Musical feature by Betty Minehart '24 and Roy Funk, will probably be one of the high spots of the program. Both of these people have shown by their previous work in the society that they are fully capable of handling this number, and all members of the society are looking forward to it. Another musical number on the program will be a piano solo by Miss Romayne Miller '24. Miss Miller has already shown the society that she is a talented player and the society is always anxious to see her on the program. The other musical number will be a male quartette under the direction of Wallis McKendree '25. It is not known what Mr. McKendree is planning but no doubt it will be up to his standard and his former work in the society.

The High spot on the literary side of the program will be the discussion by Mr. Clair Smith '24, who will take as his subject "The Advisability of the Two Societies Alternating Meeting Places." This discussion will be given on a new system; Mr. Smith will merely open the discussion, then the other members of the society will continue it. As this is a very live question, it is expected that a lively discussion will follow. Miss Sophie Reiter '24 will give a story by Mark Twain. The title of the story is "The Death Disk." Miss Sophie Reiter is a well known story teller.

The impromptu class by Miss Anna Sourber '24 will furnish the amusement of the program. The society looks forward with pleasure to this number, as impromptu classes always appeal to the humor of the Philomatheans. The impromptu class this evening should be an exceptionally good one, as Miss Sourber has originality to make the class a fine one.

The "Philo Review" for tonight is in charge of Miss Marian Emerick '25. Miss Emerick is a new student at this school and the society is anxious to test her ability, but there is no doubt that she will come up to expectations.

Tonight is the night for the election of the officers. The nominees are as follows:—president, George Robinson '24 and Harold Miller '25; secretary, Grace Filler '24 and Mary Burgoon '24; vice-president, George Meredith '26 and Ernest Kennedy '25; critic, Marian Embick '24 and Helen Cozier '24; curators, Nellie Duncan '25, Swirls Himes '26, Florence Nicodemus '24, Harriet Rhine '26, John Ullsh '25, and Genevieve Mitchell '25.

GIRLS' HIKING SEASON IN FULL SWING

About one hundred girls formed the hiking squad last Saturday. This is rather a small number in comparison with other years but it is hoped that more will avail themselves of this pleasure. The first hike was to swinging bridge. Here the girls sang well known songs and also learned new ones. This was an unusually short walk but it was thought best for the beginning since many of the girls are not accustomed to hiking. Great enthusiasm was shown and the games and sports were carried on with splendid spirit. Louise Swartz '24, head of hiking announces that taken all in all this season will be likely be the finest that the school has ever known. Miss Swartz wishes to call attention to the fact that only one cut is allowed a season for those girls who are working for points.

DAY STUDENTS DISCUSS PLANS FOR INITIATION

The initiation plans were discussed by the day students at a meeting of the association Tuesday, Oct. 2, 1923.

The question of combining with the day students in the "Dog Party" was discussed at length and it was finally decided that the day students would accept if the boarding boys were willing to comply.

In the case that this proposition should not be accepted the party will be held Monday at 4:15. Refreshments will be served after the initiation.

Every day student is requested to attend or suffer the consequences.

REFLECTIONS

Reba Shue

Mary Burgoon

When you come to the end of the "Reflections" news,
 And you set alone with the ads,
 And you think of the things they didn't use,
 Which you longed to see in print,
 Did you ever think how the poor staff worked
 Making up for the things you shirked
 And worked half the night writing things of some sort,
 For the items you didn't report?

Tell me not in tones discussed,
 Roads are often oiled with tar,
 That the smell is everlasting,
 And unsightly boards the walks will mar.

For advancing from the campus,
 With my senses all ajar,
 Marks of previous encounters
 Dormitory carpets mar.

Teachie—Teachie—Allday teachie,
 Night look over papers—Nervie—
 Creepie—
 No one kisse, no one huggie—
 Poor old maid—no one lovie—

There was a gal named Mo.
 She had a lamb,
 Fleece all velly white, like snow.
 Everywhere Mo gal go
 Ba-ba hoppy 'long too.

SHERICK GILBERT LEADS "Y" MEETING

Mr. Sherick Gilbert led the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday evening. Mr. Gilbert had no topic, so he gave a general talk encouraging the fellows to take more part in the religious affairs in the school.

Prof. Levi Gilbert then made a few remarks in which he suggested a plan whereby the school might keep track of the religious work of each student. He proposed that each student make a monthly, written report of the religious work he has done. Due to the fact that very few boys were present no action was taken on the matter.

SENIOR CLASS ELECT HARRY SLOTHOWER PRES.

The first meeting of the Senior class was held at 4:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Wallis McKendree, president, presiding. The only business to be transacted was the reorganization of the class under the new officers. Harry Slothower was elected president; Wilson Dodd, vice-president; Ruth Miller, secretary; and Raymond Kornbaum, treasure.

INTERMEDIATE GROUP SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST MEETING

One of the most lively and interesting organizations in the Training School is the Intermediate Group Society which held its first meeting at 1:15 Friday, September 28. The members of this society are all the children of fourth, fifth and sixth grades with their teachers acting in an advisory capacity.

The work of the society is carried on by the children with their teachers. One of the main purposes of the society is to give to the children their fundamental lessons in parliamentary law. The ease and confidence with which these Training School children conduct their meetings is remarkable. Another purpose of the organization is to train in public speaking, the helpfulness of which they will fully realize in later life.

The program which the children planned and prepared last week was varied, each grade contributing its part. The musical part of the program consisted of a song by each grade, supplemented by three vocal solos, a vocal trio and two piano solos. One of the interesting numbers of the program was an arithmetic drill, an original contribution to the program by a group of sixth grade girls. One of the girls acting as teacher gave the other girls a rapid drill in addition combinations to which all responded correctly. Six recitations and four stories added interest to the program. The critic of the society, one of the sixth grade girls, gave both instructive and adverse criticism by which the society can profit in preparing and presenting its next program.

The next regular meeting of this new association will be held Friday October 12, when a program commemorating Columbus Day will be given.

TRIBUNAL ESTABLISHED AT GETTYSBURG COLLEGE

Since the adoption of daylight underclass discipline at Gettysburg College an organization has been formed in order to handle the situation systematically. This organization is known as "The Tribunal" and shall consist of two Seniors, three Juniors and four Sophomores, all of whom are to be appointed by the student council. The number shall serve for one year. However, any member may be summoned by the Student Council if he proves to be unsuited for the ask which he has to perform. The duties of "The Tribunal" are to punish all violators of college customs and to enforce the penalties in each case. The Student Council shall be responsible to the faculty for the action of "The Tribunal" and can at any time add or discontinue the customs or penalties as they may see fit.

"How did the swimming team come out?"
 "Wet."

If absence makes the heart grow fonder, how some students must love assembly!

GIRLS' CHORAL SOCIETY TO SING "THE HOLY CITY"

The Girls' Choral Club is fast becoming established. Up to this time the club has not been able to pursue its usual activities, due to the try outs for memberships which have been going on. Many girls this year applied for membership, and the total number of applicants in both major and minor fields soared to very near the hundred mark.

Unusual interest has been shown in all the musical work of the school this semester. Due to this attitude, the combined organizations of singers are contemplating the presenting of Caul's "The Holy City." The expectation of the music department is to present this number sometime between the first and fifteenth of December. Plans for this work have been on the various parts will be begun in the near future.

MOTHER OF FACULTY MEMBER DEAD

The members of the faculty and the students of Shippensburg Normal wish to extend their sympathy to Miss Harris who recently lost her mother.

Miss Harris arrived at Lehighton too late to see her mother alive.

The late Mrs. Harris died at the home of her daughter at Lehighton, Wednesday, Sept. 26.

The funeral services took place Saturday afternoon, at Lehighton.

UNIT SYSTEM EXPLAINED TO STUDENT BODY

The unit system which is being introduced by the school authorities was explained to the students by Dr. Lehman last Tuesday morning. The plan is for the purpose of classifying the major and minor activities of the students. The unit system provides that each student at the beginning of the school year shall select his major extra-curricular activities. By major activities is meant the one in which he is most interested and which he will give first consideration. No student will be allowed to carry more than ten extra-curricular hours unless his scholarship is such that the faculty by a two-third vote grant him a special dispensation.

These major activities are music, athletics and literary work. That is, work on school publications, dramatics etc. Any major activity is one that occupies four hours per week of the student's time. A minor activity two hours and an auxiliary activity one hour.

No student will be permitted to hold office in more than one of the following organizations: student council, cabinet of Y. M. or Y. W. C. A., Girls' Athletic Association or Men's Association. Neither will a student be permitted to hold the captaincy of more than one athletic team during the year. No student shall be permitted to be a business manager or treasurer of more than one organization. Students holding the treasurership, in classes must secure faculty permission to hold another similar office.

STUDENTS ENTERTAINED BY MUSICAL DEPARTMENT

The students of the Normal School were entertained by members of the musical department in the chapel services Tuesday.

Mrs. Blanche Wright Hale sang an Indian song "By the Waters of Minnetauqua" written by Charles Wakefield Cadman. She was accompanied by Mr. Roger W. P. Green on the piano and Mr. Stanley V. Brunner on the violin. Mr. Green delighted the audience by his piano solo, "Waltz Aral-esque."

Prof. Slyter is planning a regular musical program for each chapel service. Thirty minutes of the time are to be devoted to musical numbers by various organizations and classes. The Girls' Choral Club will appear in the chapel services next Tuesday. Those of us who were here last year and are familiar with their work are looking forward to their number.

It has been announced that at an early date the members of the musical of the students will give a recital in chapel. Among other members the recital will include a vocal solo by Mrs. Hale, whose appearance is always enthusiastically received by the students.

SATURDAY MORNING HIKES POPULAR AT C. V. S. N. S.

Much enthusiasm is being shown by the Hiking Squad this year. The first hike was held on Saturday morning when about a hundred girls walked to swinging bridge.

Louise Swartz '24 the head of Hiking is planning to institute a new system of taking the roll. The squad will be divided into groups of twenty and one girl appointed to take the roll and check up on those girls.

This week there will be no hike due to the girls going to Mercersburg to witness the game.

Many peppy songs and yells will be taught to the girls. A cordial invitation is extended to all C. V. S. N. S. girls. Remember you do not have to major in athletics to participate in the hiking season.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY

The Sunday School service on Sunday morning, which was held in the chapel, was in charge of Dr. Heiges. After singing several hymns a prayer was offered by Prof. Stewart. Dr. Heiges then discussed the lesson which was a review of the previous work.

The students were assigned to their classes and it was announced that regular classes will begin next Sunday morning. Various members of the faculty will be in charge of the different classes and the work of the coming year promises to be both interesting and profitable.

"We shall never have any more time. We have, and always had all the time there is," Arnold Bennet.

to the students of the school. It is not enough to have a name; you must have a life.

Worth Our Consideration: I will not have eyes for that error in another, which I would long to have go unnoticed in myself.

WEEKLY PUNTS

The Normal boys are set for the kickoff tomorrow at Mercersburg.

Captain Gilbert expects to repeat his record of last year, of playing all the games all the time.

With him will be two other veterans Steve Sell and "Boots" Shuler.

S. Angle is a new addition to the team and he is some addition.

Cliff Smith still has his game leg under this year.

Bruce Hockersmith is classed as one of the toughest rubber balls that ever bounced.

The Hays twins lived up to their fighting rep. Wed., when High School played Normal

Eddie is on our side.

The dark horse is Ben Grubb. He fools all the boys. He looks one way and runs the other.

Bill McCullough joined the sling gang. His shoulder was hurt in scrimmage Tuesday.

Paul Smith is playing flashy football in the backfield.

Geedy looks like the great Charlie Way of Penn State, when he steps out with the ball.

One of the latest prodigies is Clair Smith who hails from Hopewell. "Smitty" plays like an old "vet" despite the fact that he never played the game before.

When Our Boys go to Mercersburg with their fight

And our students go with their pep, We're going to try with all our might To make the Academy boys lose their rep.

THE TEN BEST BOOKS CONTEST

The Campus Reflector wishes to encourage the student body to enter the ten best books contest which is now going on, with the direction of Miss Parks.

The contest is the first of its kind to be held and as students it should be to your interest to enter this contest not for the sake of the prize but for your own personal gain.

It will be remembered that a similar article by H. C. Wells appearing in a recent issue of the American Magazine caused much dispute among literary critics. Let us have your opinion. Write your letter to the editor of the Campus Reflector today. It is a contest which will make for a better selection of books by the student body as a whole; it will cause each contestant to spend some thought upon his past reading and it will help in the judging of the best books in the future. The following are the rules of the contest:

1. Contest closes October 19, 1923.
2. Letters must be written to editor of the Campus Reflector; theme paper must be used; names must be signed; number of words must be stated at bottom of letters.
3. Letters are to give lists of the ten books preferred and reasons for preference; letters must be between 250 and 400 words in length.
4. One of the ten best books selected will be given as a prize for the best letter with the best selection of books.

If you are happy, it is largely to your own credit. If you are miserable it is chiefly your own fault.

DR. ELIHU ROOT SPEAKS ON THE VALUE OF EDUCATION
 In the Stephens Institute "stute" is found this reprint from the New York Times, which seems well worth another reprint.

"The greatest thing a young man learns in college he absorbs without learning," said Elihu Root, telling his fellow alumni at their annual dinner in the Hotel Savoy, the best of a college education from an older man's view point. "The real benefit of a college for boys is not realized at the moment," said Mr. Root, "but as men grow older and live less exclusively in the future and measurably in the past, they learn what inestimable wealth has he who, blest by a host of memories, preserves the generous and noble standards created in him without his knowledge. Probably we all forget the greater part of what we have learned in college, but the things we can't lose are the influences upon character that go with us to our dying day. "Physical forces backed by the accumulated wealth of productivity, have failed to bring happiness to mankind. Misery, poverty and distress have followed its utmost use and the world now seeks a new path to happiness through the spiritual re-enthronement of civilization that depend upon what men really are, upon the heart and soul and character of men. All the world over, mankind is hoping that the day be sped when the nobility of character and spiritual power may control the vast and complicated machinery of life. It is first of all the colleges that must teach the qualities upon which the future of our beloved country depends. To have builded ones self in the structure of these dying institutions, to have aided the development of these priceless possessions of civilizations, is to have lived not in vain and it is to have lived perpetually."

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB OUTLINE WORK FOR THE YEAR

The first regular meeting of the Arts and Crafts Club was held Tuesday evening at 4:15.

At this time the work for the year was outlined and discussed.

The school year was divided into four parts and each part devoted to a special craft. Block printing, basketry, leather tooling and applied design were designated as the units of work. Miss Cox exhibited to the club specimens of basketry, block-printing, and leather tooling as suggested for further work along these lines.

Thirty-three members are now enrolled in the club and several others have signified the desire to join. Meetings will be held every Tues. at 4:15.

SENARIO "AMATEUR LOVE" TO BE GIVEN AT NORMAL TONIGHT

The program to be given at Normal tonight promises to be an unusual one.

A senario "Amateur Love," starring Misses Katherine Werner '24, May Parfet '24, and Margaret Shafstol '24, will be one of the most interesting numbers of the evening. This will be something new for the society. Miss Ruth Frank '25 will give a recitation and Mr. Charles Gentzler '24 is the editor of the Gazette.

The question "Resolved, that the peaceable annexation of Mexico to the United States would be advantageous to both parties," will be the subject for debate. It will be debated affirmatively by Messrs. Harry Gardner '24 and Russel Cobver '24 and negatively by Misses Leah Decker '24 and Helen Dougherty '24.

Miss Pauletta Dugan '24 will play a piano solo "Santa Lucia" by Carlos Manuel. The double quartet under the direction of Miss Ethel McCormack '24 will present "The story of an Apple" by J. A. Parks.
