

MEMBERS OF STATE BOARD SPEAK TO STUDENT BODY

Commend Students on the Fine Spirit They Show Toward the Teaching Profession

WARNING GIVEN TO STUDENTS

The rare privilege of hearing two members of the State Department at Harrisburg, was afforded the students at Tuesday chapel services. D. E. Crosley, Assistant Director of the Teachers' Bureau, was introduced, for the first time to a Cumberland Valley State Normal School audience. The other speaker, Miss Erna Grassmuck, State Director of Geography, has visited the school several times much to the pleasure of many persons besides those interested in geography.

"I am very much pleased with the spirit you people have" began Mr. Crosley. "I believe you realize the importance of the thing you are doing." He continued by saying that in teaching there is more opportunity to render service than in any other field. Mr. Crosley has charge of the certification of teachers and in respect to this he gave one very practical word of warning to students as well as alumni—Normal certificates must be registered with the Superintendent of the district in which you are teaching in order that they may be valid.

Miss Grassmuck stated that she had found at C. V. S. N. S. the keynote of success—a spirit of co-operation; Miss Grassmuck further remarked that in the game of education, information, development of abilities, skills and the attitude of mind are all necessary; these three things will bring about preparation and participation which are so very essential to school work. "Make good and trust to what will happen" was one of Miss Grassmuck's parting thoughts. She closed her address by singing "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," an Omaha Indian melody set to music by Charles Wakefield Cadman of Pittsburgh. The song emphasized the fact that Miss Grassmuck had said that the Indian was a man of art and music and should always be taught to children as such.

The band made its first appearance at this time. It consists of twenty-five players, the majority of whom have never played an instrument before coming to Normal last fall. Two selections, "Chalma" and "The Little Grey Church" by Harold Bennett were presented in excellent style.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING HELD IN TRAINING SCHOOL

The Senior Class met in the Training School chapel Thursday, at 4:15. Payments on the year-book, write-ups for the Cumberland and Commencement announcements were discussed.

HOME TEAM WILL MEET MILLERSVILLE QUINTET

Post Game Expected; Hope to Avenge Last Year's Defeat

Coach Ingalls' team will meet the Millersville quintet on the gym floor tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The game promises to be fast as both five's are evenly matched from latest reports.

Coach Ingalls has completely renovated the line-up of the previous games and after a hard week of practice following the West Chester tilt all indications point toward a fast and snappy combination for tomorrow's game. Capt. Smith's squad is handicapped however, by the loss of several fellows of varsity calibre who will be ineligible for tomorrow's game and by "Sammy" Angle, left forward, who is still out due to a bad leg. Despite this handicap, Capt. Smith states that a smooth working set will be thrown in against the Black and Gold.

The Valley lads will be out for gore in tomorrow's game, because it is to be remembered that the Millersville squad handed a defeat to the wearers of the Red and Blue lads last Spring at Harrisburg in the post season game which was played for the sectional championship of the state.

The motto of the squad for tomorrow's duel is "We're Out to Win."

UNDERCLASS GIRLS HEAD LIST IN INTER-CLASS LEAGUE

Last Friday evening the Underclass girls' basket ball team defeated the Junior first team, on the gym floor, by the close score 7-12. The game was a hard-fought battle from start to finish. The line-up:

Center—"Joe" Corle
S. Center—"Peg" Ickes.
Forward—Taughinbaugh and Taylor
Guards—Fodder and Tiley.
Subs—R. Straley for Ickes,
Gendig for Fodder,
Ryder for Tiley.

The Underclass rooters put all their snap into boosting for the following team:

Center—Eisenhour
S. Center—Shambaugh.
Forwards—M. Barnhart, Barbour
Guards—Rhine, and Easterbrook

The Underclass team opened up the game well but fell behind trying out all their subs. The small margin against them could not be filled up and thus another victory was added to the Underclass girls' record.

The Senior class team last Monday, too, bowed to the Underclass girls in a heated and high-spirited struggle.

The Seniors were represented by:

Center—Wahrman
S. Center—S. Reiter
Forwards—Crosier and Warfel.
Guards—Seiders and E. Mitchell
Sub—McFadden for Reiter

The Underclass girls opposing the Center—Wiseman
S. Center—Herring

Forwards—Barbour, M. Barnhart
Guards—Easterbrook and Warren.
"Nell" Wiseman, center, did some admirable jumping while "Rach" Barbour did the high scoring. The teams were well matched. The game ended 10-11—another victory for the Underclass girls. This team has no defeats on its score board.

DR. LEHMAN SPEAKS AT CHAPEL ON SCHOOL SPIRIT

Dr. Lehman spoke to the student body at the Thursday chapel exercises about the kind of school spirit that the students have shown at the basketball games. He said that real school spirit is not merely an abundance of cheering when the team is winning, but it is also supporting the team with an equal volume of pep when they are losing.

GIRLS VARSITY BASKET BALL TEAM IS CHOSEN

Qualifications of Girls Picked; Endurance, Cleanness, and Keeness of Playing

TEAM FACES HARD SCHEDULE

The girls' varsity basketball team was picked Saturday morning from the first class teams and their substitutes. Endurance, cleanness, and keeness of playing counted most toward the qualification of the player.

Five girls from the Senior team were chosen for first varsity; four girls from the Junior and three from the Underclassmen were picked for the sub positions.

Mabel Smith '24 the forward for the Senior team and a former star of the Mt. Union High School has been chosen to hold down one of the forward positions. Mabel can put-em in from any angle.

Peggy Lehman '26 is her co-worker and is also head of basketball. Peggy has played on the class teams every year during her career here and has had experience in several positions.

Alertness and height are both in the make-up of the center, "Peg" Felton '24, while quickness and lightness are the qualifications of tiny "Betty" Minehardt '24, the side-center. "Betty" and "Peg" have worked together in basketball previously and both have received their training in the Normal School. The varsity is looking forward to keeping the ball down in their forward's territory. Thelma Heckman '24 and Mary Morrow '24 are a splendid pair of guards, for "everywhere the forwards go, the guards are sure to follow."

The varsity has a hard schedule to follow this season. It is the best one that the girls' varsity has ever had. The signs all point to a winning team for the C. V. girls' varsity basketball team.

BE CAREFUL WHERE YOU SIT IN THE CLASS ROOM

A lecturer at the Oklahoma A. & M. College said: "Through years of observation while teaching college students, I have come to the conclusion that in the front row of every class room will be found the bluffers and hypocrites. In the second row I have usually found all the true students, those who are here primarily for an education, and who are devoting their time to study. And on the back rows I have always found those students who have some other interests uppermost in their minds at the time of recitation, be it sparking, courting, or cramming for the succeeding class." Is it true?

REMODELING OF SCHOOL CHAPEL NEAR COMPLETION

New Lights and Stage Decorations Add Much To The Beauty Of The Auditorium

DR. LEHMAN DESERVES VERY MUCH CREDIT

The alterations which have been going on in the school chapel are about completed. With the installation of the lights which in all probability will be finished not later than Feb. 1, the auditorium will be in first class condition. The chapel has been in a state of disorder ever since early spring, but all the inconveniences caused by it have not been endured in vain. The room has been transformed in a manner that would quite surprise its former occupants.

Fifty years ago in June 1873, the first class graduating from C. V. S. N. S. received their diplomas in the Normal Chapel. At that time the walls were painted gray and over the entrances to the library on the front walls at either side of the stage, painted figures looked down on the audience. On the right hand side, a figure holding a scroll represented History, while on the left, Art took the form of another figure holding a pallet.

The seating arrangement was solved by having long rows of wooden benches, the seats of which were fastened to the backs with hinges. It is whispered that, as time wore on, those hinges were not kept as well oiled as discretion might suggest and perhaps the boys and girls of yesterday were just as capable of assembling noisily as are the students of today.

About 1900, however, the walls of the chapel were re-painted a pale shade of gray and "History" and "Art" were seen no more. This was the only change made in the appearance of the chapel until the Summer of 1916.

In the Normal School Herald for April 15, one article contained the following extract: "During the summer, we expect to have the chapel re-decorated and equipped with a more modern system of electric lighting." From the October number the following is quoted from Dr. Lehman's letter to the alumni: "During the Vaca-

C. V. S. N. S. TO ENTER WORLD ESSAY CONTEST

The American School Citizenship League has offered two sets of prizes to the best essayists in the country. The first set open to Normal and Teacher's colleges, is based on essays written on "Methods of Promoting World Friendship Through Education." The second set open to Seniors in secondary schools is based on papers written on "The Organization of the World for the Prevention of War."

The conditions are as follows:

Each essay must be accompanied by a topical outline and a bibliography with brief notes on each book. Essays must not exceed 5,000 words, (a length of 3,000 is most desirable) and must be written on one side only of paper 8½ by 11 inches with a margin of at least 1¼ inches. They must be legible. The name of the writer must not appear on the essay, which should be accompanied by a letter giving writer's name. School and home address should be sent to Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews, 405 Marborough Street, Boston 17 Massachusetts not later than June 1, 1924. The essays should be mailed flat. Further information about them can be secured from Mrs. Andrews.

tion period we have been very busy improving conditions in the school. The chapel has been re-decorated and fitted with electric lights. This improvement adds much to the beauty of the chapel as well as to its serviceableness." A new system of seating had been installed prior to this time, but no radical changes have been made until the past summer—fifty years since the chapel was first opened.

During the summer of 1923 the plastering in the chapel was torn away; a new system of lighting was installed and the chapel re-decorated in shades of ivory. The walls were re-plastered and painted; the balcony was equipped with seats similar to those used on the lower floor, in place of the old time benches; the stage was re-decorated with ancient designs in wood carving enameled in ivory shades. The entire ceiling was re-plastered, and the inverted lighting system was installed. Five bowls were suspended from the ceiling and three small shaded lights are to be placed in each side, between the windows. It is probable, that, thru the kindness of the alumni the stage will be equipped with new curtains.

The students of C. V. S. N. S. can be justly proud of their beautiful chapel, which is the finest of any Normal School Chapel in the state. It was through the untiring efforts of Dr. Lehman, that the remodeling of the old chapel, which for fifty years remained unchanged, was made possible.

BETTING A DETRIMENT TO COLLEGE FOOT-BALL

Fielding Yost, coach of the University of Michigan football team, asserts that one of the greatest detriments to a college football team is the habit of betting. It is practiced freely by so called sports. College athletics are based fundamentally on the idea of play for play's sake; but many collegians have the idea that they are showing their loyalty toward their Alma Mater when they bet on the football team. As a matter of fact, betting is actually disloyalty. In the first place, it breeds a lack of harmony. It is detrimental to the team and creates criticism. It may even create lack of confidence in some of the students. And, above all, most collegiate "sports" do all their gambling with their parents' money.

TRACK

Tuesday morning, January the fifteenth at the regular bi-weekly chapel exercises, Dr. Lehman read the birth announcement of the C. V. S. N. S. track team. For the first time in the history of the institution we are going to put a team on the track. Shippensburg has always taken an active part in athletics to baseball, basketball and football.

Twenty-five responded to the call. This indeed is a splendid response and a team that will bring home the laurels should be developed from the candidates. We have the reputation of doing a thing to the best of our ability, once we have tackled it. If this distinction runs true to form, the future of the track team is an assured success. Even though the material is practically all inexperienced, it is predicted that the old Shippensburg spirit will whip a team that we can be justly be proud of, into shape.

Not only will meets be held on Eckels' Field, but it is also probable that a team will be sent to the Penn Relays next spring. Here Shippensburg Normal will compete with the normal schools of the state who are also planning to send teams. Shippensburg can always be relied upon to do the right thing at the right time. She never fails to produce the product when the demand is created. The advisability of the school's supporting a track team has been felt for the past several months. Therefore, the call was issued and a team is in the making.

Special commendation should be given to the local business men who are helping to make the bi-county track meet which will be held on Eckels' Field May the tenth or seventeenth under the auspices of the school, a success. Without their co-operation, the meet could not be held. Through their kindness prizes will be awarded the visiting teams.

Yes, the student body welcomes the latest born of its teams. It is assured that ours will be the winning team and will bring even more glory to rest upon the brow of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School.

SENIOR NIGHT OUT

One Saturday night out of every month the Senior girls of the school are permitted to invade the town of Shippensburg in the company of some young man, a student in the institution, with whom they are particularly acquainted. The co-eds and their gallant companions are compelled by the regulations of the school to wile away the evening until such a time as will permit them to regain the dormitory steps at the ringing of the ten o'clock bell, in the town's moving picture show. The Saturday night that is chosen for this event must be one on which no other activity of the school is holding forth.

And is this regulation fair? The Juniors claim that it isn't. The Seniors who were Juniors last year think that it is. (They have changed their minds since last year.) To the Juniors it is another one of the unpardonable crimes that they have to charge against the Seniors. From the Juniors' point of view it is rather a severe penalty to have to pay for being a Junior.

It is almost unimaginable to think of having to spend one evening a month in the quiet of the dormitory while their upper class sisters are enjoying the thrills of a movie down town. It is indeed maddening to hear the Seniors tell of the pleasant evening that they have spent while the poor Junior is forced to compare it, mentally, with the dismal one she spent.

Are the Juniors really as badly treated as they think they are? The present Seniors lived through the same sensations last year and have learned to glory in their last year's experiences. It is doubtful if Juniors would appreciate their coming privileges more, if they had become common through usage in the Junior year.

After all there must be some class distinction. Surely a student who has successfully won the proud title of Senior deserves some special mark to signify her distinction. There is no decided line of demarkation between the two classes at Shippensburg. The "Senior Night Out" is the only special star that shines in a Senior's crown.

And yet the Juniors begrudge them that one privilege! The attention of the Juniors should be called to the fact that they are escaping the penalty of the crime of being a Junior with a light punishment. At college, they would receive the rank of Freshman. The punishment meted out to Freshmen is no light one.

Rejoice Juniors and be glad that circumstances are no worse than they are. Remember that you won't always be a Junior and the day is coing when you will appreciate your Junior apprenticeship.

3% IMMIGRATION LAW TOPIC OF PHILO DEBATE LAST FRI.

The debate Friday evening in Philo on, "Resolved, That the present 3% Immigration laws continue in effect," was instructive and vital because it is the question to be debated in the Inter-School debates. The debaters on the affirmative side were Wallis McKendree '25 and Jack Seal '24, while the negative side was upheld by Clair Smith '24 and Corbin Pennington '25. The arguments presented by both sides were convincing and the points well-presented and developed. The affirmative side argued that the industrial conditions demand the fulfillment of the three per cent Immigration Law because the low wages would bring about a weakening of labor in general if the percent should be increased. They also argued that the standard of living in cities would be lowered. "Every city has its "Chinatown and Little Italy," was a statement made by one of the affirmative speakers. The negative debaters maintained that the present law is neither elastic or selective and that it does not fulfill requirements or meet the industrial need. In speaking of the selection of immigrants, one of the negative speakers said "The melting pot has failed to melt."

After the decision of the judges in favor of the negative side, there was an open debate in which several members participated.

The special feature, with Helen Crozier '24 as chairman, represented a doll shop and indeed the human dolls were very charming and doll-like. "I want them all" was the customer's cry.

The musical numbers, an old negro song which was sung in true "darky style," by Margaretta Snow '24 and the violin duet, "A Polish Dance" by Virginia Dixon '25 and Eleanor Nessinger '24, were both appreciated by all Philomatheans present. John Ulsh '24 recited "The Stowaway" and held the interest of the audience until he told the fate of "the captain" and "the boy."

The Philo Review was edited by Flo Moyer. A very real campfire composed the setting for the review and current events, jokes and a good editorial on "What is a Good Citizen?" were read.

Officers for the next month were elected. They are: Pres., Herbert Sheetz '24; V. Pres., Adam Hoover '25; Sec., Helen Crozier '24; Critic, Anne Sourber '24, and curators Eliza Russell '25, George Brougner '26 and Earl Ryan '26.

Miss Hannah Keiffer, the visiting teacher commended the society on its program and offered helpful suggestions.

LAST DANCE OF SEMESTER TO BE HELD SATURDAY

The last dance of the semester will be held in the gymnasium Saturday evening from 7 until 10 o'clock.

Professor Burkholder, chairman of the committee, has been very fortunate in securing Updegrove's orchestra of Harrisburg, to furnish the rhythmic music to which the merry dancers will swing their partners. The orchestra comes to Normal with a high recommendation from dance lovers of the Capitol City and vicinity. They claim the orchestra furnishes the finest type of music available for occasions of this kind. Much credit is due Professor Burkholder for securing a medium of such high calibre to furnish the music.

The dance will begin promptly at seven o'clock. Young men who will act as escorts to members of the fair sex will call promptly at the court in order that they may not be denied the pleasure of a single encore.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Due to the fact that next week is examination week and the staff will be very busy preparing for this bi-annual event, there will be no paper printed next week. The next number of the "Campus Reflector" will be issued Friday, February 8.

REFLECTIONS

Reba Shue

Thurston Collicott

To be inscribed above the radiators in chapel corridor: "Many are cold, but few are frozen."

The quotation which has become unusually dear to the girls of the Senior gym classes is "A horse, my kingdom for a horse."

Take hope, aspiring pedagogues. When a certain student was asked to designate a source from which information could be gained concerning the professional work of the present Seniors fifteen years hence, she advised reference to "Who's Who in America"

Indications last week seemed to show that the G. A. A. was considering the sale of hair shampoo as a means of adding revenue to its treasury.

Some people have expressed their surprise at gaining admittance to "The Holy City" by the payment of an entrance fee.

MANY ATTEND SABBATH SCHOOL SERVICE AT NORMAL

The Sunday School Service held January 20, was in charge of Dr. Heiges, who gave a brief discussion on the lesson. He stated that as it was a long road to freedom for the Israelites, so it is for us. We should not be discouraged, for "A thousand years are as but a day and a day is as a thousand years," in God's sight. Realizing this, let us do our part in relieving the world from sin.

Prof. J. K. Stewart led the meeting in prayer.

FACULTY ENTERTAINED BY DR. AND MRS. LEHMAN SAT.

Dr. and Mrs. Ezra Lehman entertained informally for members of the faculty and their wives Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. About forty guests were present.

The guests spent a pleasant evening playing Mah Jongg, five hundred and bridge. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at the end of the evening.

NORMAL HOLDS SESSION OF PARLIAMENTARY DRILL

A parliamentary drill added much to the interesting program at Normal Literary Society last Friday night. The drill was introduced by one of the members who suggested that a new constitution be adopted and that a clause be inserted prohibiting members of the opposite sex from attending society together. Just as the discussion reached the height of interest someone moved that the parliamentary drill be closed.

The special feature of which Ethel McCormick '24 was in charge was very unusual. It consisted of a radio program which was broadcasted from N. L. S. six years hence. Many of former Normalites took part.

The Hawaiian scene directed by Winona Garbrick '26 proved very entertaining. The music was furnished by several girls who sang lilting melodies to the accompaniment of ukeleles. Anne McFadden '24 completed this exotic setting by giving an oriental dance.

The musical program was completed by Harry Markley '25 who sang "My Open Fire," by Gilbert Spross and Vincent Tritch '25 who sang "Lonesome, That's All," by Smith.

Mr. Houck '25 gave an interesting discussion on the Ku Klux Klan. A detailed book report was given by Alma Gluck '25 on "A Son at the Front" by Edith Wharton. A humorous recitation was given by Ruth Herring '25. The Gazette was edited by Margaret Felton '24. It contained an editorial on Benjamin Franklin, school news, current topics and jokes. Ruth Frank '25 read an article on the life of Franklin.

Miss Snively, the visiting teacher, commended Normal Society on its good programs and on the interest taken by everyone in the parliamentary drill.

RESERVES WIN INITIAL TILT FROM BIGLERVILLE

The Red and Blue Reserves, in their initial tilt of the season, sent the Biglerville five down to defeat by a score of 49 to 18, last Saturday afternoon on the home floor.

The visiting lads opened up the game by scoring six points against the Normal team when a few minutes later Bailey registered one from the free throw line for the reserves. The Black and Gold team was out-classed but they displayed exceptionally good team work during the entire game. Capt. Line's squad played a good defensive game and showed up well for the opening contest.

Many substitutions were made on the Reserve team. Hamil was forced to the lines in the first few minutes of play, due to an injured ankle. Capt. Line was sent in at the pivot position while "Chet" Miller took Line's place at guard. Few substitutions were made on the Biglerville team during the entire fracas.

The Red and Blue quintet held a considerable margin on the Black and Gold cagemen. The first half ended with a 21 to 5 score. In the second session the visiting squad registered 12 points to the reserves' 28. Oiler who played at center for the Black and Gold boys, was their high scoring man while Capt. Line was the heavy scorer for the Reserves with a total of eleven two-pointers.

The feature of the game was brother against brother or S. Gilbert of the Reserve squad against Homer Gilbert of the visiting squad. Both played good ball and S. Gilbert in pushing 4 through the hoop. Line-up.

VARSITY FIVE SNOWED UNDER BY WEST CHESTER CAGERS
 West Chester defeated Normal 32-12 on the West Chester floor last Saturday in a fast and hard fought game.
 The two teams seemed evenly matched during the first part of the game, the Red and Blue men scoring first by way of Capt. Smith, Jimmie Smith and McCullough, but Coach Mosier's team proved too much opposition for the home team and they piled up a large score.
 Capt. Smith and his men were lost on West Chester's large floor and could not pass in an effective manner while the opposing five secured most of their baskets from fine passing and accurate shots.
 No individual starred for West Chester. They had a real five man team. Every man worked in on the offense while three men worked the defense.
 Bill McCullough, guard on the local team, was not watched as closely as the forwards and was able to make seven of Normal's 12 points. Eby was off color in shooting as he missed easy shots time after time from under the net.
 Funk and McCullough deserve credit for the fine guarding they exhibited. They broke up many difficult shots and intercepted passes that would have resulted in field goals. Capt. Smith, at center, had his hands full trying to keep his man, a big husky six-footer, from ringing through the loop every time he got hold of the ball. Eby and J. Smith were out of play practically all of the time due to close guarding of West Chester. Man for man guarding kept the Normal forwards away from the ball.
 Jones substituting made a fine attempt to score but was helpless against Coach Mosier's six-footers.

LIBRARY HAS STATION FOR FILLING FOUNTAIN PENS
 A new convenience has been introduced in the library of the University of Pennsylvania. It is a filling station for fountain pens—a penny a fill. L. P. Thompson, the inventor, claims that no drug store, hotel or library is complete without one.

NEW PLANS FOR PHYSICAL EDUCATION BEING ADOPTED
 Miss Robb, head of the Physical Training Department of C. V. S. N. S. was a delegate at the conference of the Pennsylvania Branch of the American Physical Education Society held in Bethlehem, December 14 and 15, 1923. Some of the leading men who addressed the assembly were Charles H. Keen of the State Department, R. Tait McKenzie of the University of Pennsylvania and Judge Northrup of the American playground Association of New York City.
 Miss Robb disclosed the theme of the conference in a recent interview with a reporter of the "Campus Reflector." The sum and substance of the interview is as follows: "The commercializing of athletics must in the near future be done away with and a new system will be adopted. It has been the custom to select a favored few pupils to participate in athletics in the schools and colleges of the country. The new plan advocates the abolishing of this system and having all the students take an active part in the athletic side of school life."

The formal side of the physical training program has a place in the school, but it is far surpassed by the recreational side. Therefore, marching and free exercise, should constitute a part of the program but games and sports should have a greater part and more time should be devoted to them.
 Physical examinations should be given at least once a year for every student. The examination should be followed by special groups doing corrective exercises. Every pupil should undergo a physical examination by a physician once a year. If any deformities or weaknesses are found the students should be arranged in groups according to their individual needs and exercises and games that tend to correct the abnormal condition of the group should be given.

STUDENT COUNCIL BANS PHYSICAL PUNISHMENT
 The Student Council at St. John's has decided that no more physical punishment shall be inflicted for violation of Freshmen Regulations. In plain words, "No more slating for St. John's."

STATE VISITORS SPEAK TO STUDENTS THRU REFLECTOR

"The manliest of men and the womanliest of women" is the statement which Miss Erma Grassmuck and Mr. D. E. Crosley, used to describe the students of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School. Miss Grassmuck, State Director of Geography and Mr. Crosley, Assistant Director of the Teachers' Bureau, formed a committee of two sent to study the work at the school.

The same type of investigation will be conducted in all the Normal Schools of the state once each semester. The committee will probably be accompanied by a county and a district superintendent when next it visits Shippensburg. At that time special attention will be paid to Seniors; an examination will not be given to individuals but a very thorough inventory will be taken of the abilities and qualifications they have for their work. The committees will consist of one general and one special supervisor.

Miss Grassmuck asked the reporter from the "Campus Reflector" to say that the things being done by the school now are only a beginning and that it is necessary for the members of the alumni to keep in touch with the school and its activities so that its plans may be carried out. Mr. Crosley was quite enthusiastic concerning the new improvements. He felt that they could justly be the cause of pride on the part of everyone connected with the school.

Both visitors paid a special tribute to Miss Hannah Keiffer, Supervisor of the Rural work, by saying that the work done under Miss Keiffer's supervision in connection with rural education is evidence of the type of thing that can be done in all the Normal Schools everywhere in the state of Pennsylvania.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHERS

A large attendance, an unusually fine program and keen interest manifested by the patrons, produced a successful meeting of the Training School Parent-Teacher Association held Tuesday evening. Mr. Allison, the president, began the program by offering a prayer. One of the pleasing numbers of the program was a piano duet by Misses Ethel Warfel and Elizabeth Gantt. Myrtle Eshleman contributed a vocal solo, "Danny Boy."

The subject for the general discussion was "The Co-operation Between the Parents and the Teachers." Two teachers from each group, Primary, Intermediate and Junior High, gave speeches on the teacher's side of the subject while two parents from each group responded on the other side. Specific points which the teachers brought out were: that the parents see that the children obey the health rules; that the children are taught to respect authority before they come to school; that a suitable time and place be provided for study; that the children be kept in school until they are sixteen and that they attend regularly. The parents in response asked that the teachers become better acquainted with the parents; that they counsel and advise the parents and interpret the new educational program for them; that they do not compel the rural children to remain in school late in the evening; also that remarks, telling of the children's progress or weaknesses be placed on the report cards.

An interesting exhibition of the semester's work was displayed in the class rooms. Much of the work showed the use of the project method. Booklets on "Cavemen" were exhibited by the third grade while booklets on the "Life of Benjamin Franklin" were shown by the fourth grade.

A unique project in arithmetic was carried out in the fourth grade. This was the making of millinery, bakery, grocery, tin and clothing stores. After taking inventory of the stock, they found how much money it took to stock their stores.

Many of the projects were carried out by committees, thus training the children to co-operate with others.
