FACULTY CORPS OF TEACHERS INCREASED

Three New Members Added to Present Staff; All Hold Degrees

COME HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

Three new teachers have been installed at C. V. S. N. S. for the second semester. They are Miss Jessie Lane, Miss Clara Bragg, and Prof. Horace Kenyon. Because of the absence of Miss Robinson, Miss Lane will be elected to fill the vacancy in the psychology department and in the educational tests and measurements.

Miss Lane is a graduate of the University of Chicago. She was for two years instructor and director at Fort Wayne. For one year she taught psychology and educational measurements at Detroit Teachers College. Lately she has been taking graduate work at Columbia, specializing in psychology education. Illinois is her home state. She is highly recommended.

Miss Clara Walker Bragg is a resident of Rome, New York. Because of the absence of Miss Slaven, Miss Bragg now holds the position of assistant librarian. She is a graduate of Cornell and also attended Pratt Institute. She was head cataloguer at Wooster, Massachusetts for some time and also at Columbia University. Miss Bragg has had many years of experience in the field of her present occupation.

Prof. Horace Kenyon will fill the vacancy created in the mathematical department by Mr. Grove who was given a half year leave of absence. He is a Normal School graduate, graduating with honors. He is a Columbia man having received the degree of B. S. and M. A. from that institution. During the war, he was superintendent of instruction in the army educational corps in France. Here he won the love and respect of all the men and was called "father" and "friend."

KEEN RIVALRY IS SEEN IN INTER-CLASS GAMES

Competition between the various girls' class teams is waxing fast and furious. Last Saturday morning the Junior second team defeated the Senior first team in a fast game. It ended with an 8-4 score.

The "invincible" Underclass girls' team surrendered to the Junior first team in a well fought battle staged the same morning. Fodder put up a strong defensive game for the Juniors and the forwards did some admirable scoring.

Monday evening the Underclass girls came out strong expecting to pick up an easy victory from the Senior first team. The underclassmen came within seven points of their objective. "Pud" Easterbrook was shifted to jumping center to contend with Wharman and they proved a match for each other. Class spirit was decidedly in evidence during the fray.

DICKINSON CO-EDS TO CLASH WITH RED AND BLUE LASSIES

Tomorrow the Red and Blue lassies play their difficult game of the season with Dickinson College. Up to date the Dickinsonians have won every game played. Gettysburg suffered a severe defeat at their hands. The unusual height of the majority of the members of the team gives them a decided advantage over the home squad. An invitation has been extended to the Dickinson team to stay over for dinner. A representative body of students will meet them.

REFLECTOR CELEBRATES ITS FIRST BIRTHDAY

Dean of Women Presents Birthday Gift

The staff of the "Campus Reflector," celebrated the birth of the paper by holding a party in the dining room, Saturday evening. One year ago, February 9, the "Reflector" literally uttered its first cry and since such an important date could not be allowed to pass unnoticed, the birthday party was given, which it is hoped, will form a precedent for future staffs.

The success of the party was due largely to Miss McWilliams who generously gave one of the annexes on the right of the main dining room for the tables which were placed in "horse-shoe" fashion, offered the Cafeteria to the committees, and provided materials for a special salad.

The tables were lighted by red candles shaded by valentine shades. The only other decorations were the heart shaped place cards containing limmericks descriptive of the guests. The limmericks were written for the occasion by a member of the staff, Helen Miller '25. Besides the members of the editorial and business staffs, the guests were Mr. Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Lackhove and their daughter Zola, and Mr. Blanche. Mr. Lackhove spoke a few words to the staff. Last of all the place cards were exchanged and the limmericks read aloud.

The only gift the paper received on its first birthday was a supply of candy hearts from Miss Arnold, Dean of Women.

SOPHOMORE CLASS LEADS WITH STAR CAGE TEAM

The Sophomore class has surprised everybody by putting on an all-star winning team this year. The agility and quick thinking of these girls is more than a match for the more mature Juniors and Seniors. The Juniors and Seniors are tie for second place. However, because of the varsity, the Senior team is practically a new one as a large part of the team made the varsity. The Juniors also suffered a loss. During the past two weeks the Junior team has improved surprisingly. The Juniors reserved the result of last week's game with the Seniors which was a victory for the last year girls, by causing the Seniors to bow to a score of 12-5. The accurate shooting of Minnich and the splendid team work of the centers, Corle and Ickes, put the Juniors on the map. Warfel starred for the Seniors.

The Juniors' second team, though beaten by the Junior first, to the tune of 34-0, held the Underclassmen to score of 20-13. Although the Underclassmen were beaten, this was a great improvement over former scores.

On Wednesday evening the varsity played a team which was composed of players selected from the class teams. This was the first time the student body saw the varsity play. The purpose of the game was to test the endurance, co-operation, signals and skill of the aggregation game. It was also to give the Varsity practice for the first game of the season on Saturday with Gettysburg College at Gettysburg. Through the splendid work of Heckman and Morrow only two points were scored by the picked team and both were scored by fouls.

The game ended in favor of the Varsity with a score of 14-2. The ball was chiefly at the Varsity end of the floor. This was due largely to the splendid working of signals in the center.

CO-ED TOSSERS LOSE TO GETTYSBURG SEXTETTE

STOUFFER STARS FOR GETTYSBURG

The C. V. girls suffered a 24-10 defeat at the hands of the fast Gettysburg sextette last Saturday afternoon. This was the initial appearance of the Normal girls and prospects for the future are promising. The Gettysburg game was a hard one for the Red and Blue lassies. It was a severe test for their wind, the working of signals, team work, and good sportsmanship—especially the last. The floor is a very small one. It is about one half the size of the Shippensburg one. From the start the C. V. S. N. S. team was severely handicapped because they were unused to boys rules, which were used by the Gettysburg team.

The Cumberland Valley center's signals did not work at the beginning of the game because of the smallness of the floor. Before the ball was near the Shippensburg basket Gettysburg had scored eight points. The unexpected roughness of the guards when the ball was at C. V.'s basket did not allow the Red and Blue forwards to score. Stouffer, Gettysburg's forward, led the Shippensburg guards a merry chase because of her spryness and remarkable accuracy in making baskets. Practically all the scoring was done by Stouffer for Gettysburg. Rhine's quick action and head work caused the ball to enter the C. V. S. N. S. territory more frequently than was pleasing to Gettysburg. At the end of the first half, the score was sixteen-nothing with a dreary future for Shippensburg. A jump at the Shippensburg basket was no sooner tossed to Smith than she tallied two points for Shippensburg. Gettysburg followed the points with a basket. Rhine saved the day and Smith again tallied a two pointer. A passed ball from Felton to Lehman ended in a goal for Lehman. Gettysburg again scored. A jump ball giving Lehman possession of it, gave her a chance to add another two pointer to the score. Gettysburg again sent the score up by a pretty goal from mid field. Minehart sent the ball to Smith and with a long dribble and good shot from a very difficult position of the field, the final goal for Shippensburg was made. A slight delay was caused by Smith's shoulder being knocked out of place but she was able to finish the game.

The Shippensburgians were encouraged by the cheering of the Gettysburg students and though losing, did credit to the splendid coaching of Miss Robb.

Line-up:
Shippensburg Gettysburg
Smith F Stouffer
Lehman F Whissler
Felton JC Weaver
Minehart SC Dougherty
Heckman G Baker
Morrow G Richards

JUNIOR CHORUS IS ORGANIZED BY PROF. SLYTER

A Junior Chorus was organized on Tuesday evening in the main chapel by Professor Slyter.

There were sixty-four girls out for the first practice. Plans are being made for the chorus to have it take part in chapel exercises with the other musical organizations of the school.

MARY POTTER'S COMPANY GIVE EXCELLENT PROGRAM

Audience Unresponsive to Type of Music Presented

Mary Potter and her associates presented an excellent program in the Main Chapel last Friday evening. Although pleasing in its character the program as a whole did not leave a distinct impression upon the audience because of the lightness of the numbers presented. An audience, however, which expects encores should express its appreciation. Probably many excellent numbers were missed owing to the fact that the audience did not show their appreciation in a more generous fashion.

Mary Potter, lyric contralto, had a voice of considerable beauty. Her rendering of the ballad type of song was particularly effective and her diction was very good.

Angelo Boschetto, baritone, had a distinctive dramatic voice and his tones were all robust. He sang the operatic arias best, since they were in his native language.

Ary Duffer, a violinist of considerable ability had a very prepossessing stage presence. His tone was good and he had an excellent bow arm.

Raymond Putman accompanying pianist, followed the soloists in a sympathetic manner. While never in the foreground, his playing was distinctive and his solo number was so appreciated that he responded with the only encore of the evening. His interpretation of "Poems" by Fibish, was especially good.

It is to be regretted that a more appreciative audience can not be found in C. V. S. N. S. than the one gathered in the chapel last Friday evening.

TWO MEMBERS OF FACULTY LEAVE FOR OTHER WORK

J. Seth Grove, teacher of Mathematics and Estella M. Slavin, assistant librarian and English teacher, have left C. V. S. N. S. for other work.

Mr. Grove is well known to a majority of the alumni as he went to C. V. S. N. S. as a student and has for the past few years been head of the mathematical and scientific departments. For the past few years he has had charge of the moving picture entertainments and those who never studied under him were acquainted with him because of this activity. Mr. Grove has been granted a leave of absence for one semester so that he may obtain a masters degree at Columbia University. He will be back at Normal for the coming session of the summer school.

Miss Slavin was a member of the faculty of the institution a year and a half. She reorganized the filing system and brought into the library the most up-to-date reference books obtainable. Her plans for the future are not mature as yet.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT JUNIORS IN INTER-CLASS LEAGUE

Saturday afternoon the Freshmen walloped the Juniors to the tune of 15-13. The Juniors were considered strong contenders for the class championship, but this game has ruined their chances. The stars for the victors were Plasterer and Easterbrook. The stars for the losers were Swan and Andrew Hoover.

The Seniors succeeded in defeating the Middlers in a close and exciting contest by a score of 8 to 7. The Middlers put up a strong fight and practically outplayed the visitors. The defensive playing of Smith of the Senior team was the big feature of the game. The Senior class team staged a comeback in this game as they lost their first game to the Juniors which practically prevents them from taking the championship.

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY FOR SCHOOL SOCIAL

Prom Expected to Surpass Those of Previous Years; All Committees Appointed

DATE SET FEBRUARY 23RD

The Junior class is laying plans for the annual reception which is given every year by the trustees of the school. Committees have been appointed by Ralph Swan, acting president of the Junior class. Juniors have been waiting with bated breath for the glad tidings of the "Prom." At last the news has come and all the students are enthusiastically awaiting the night of the twenty-third, the magic date.

Miss McWilliams and Prof. Gilbert, the class advisors met with the class and started preparations for the reception. Committee meetings have been planned but no definite arrangements have been made. Those in charge of the decorations hope to transform the "gym" and dining room into veritable fairy-lands.

When asked what the "Junior Prom" is, one girl replied that it is the time when Junior girls "step out with dainty party frocks and for one whole evening hold court in the gymnasium and dining room.

A member of the faculty stated that the reception is a thing which has been given annually for several years by the trustees to the new students. A few years ago the Juniors requested that this be "their right," that they might participate in the plans. The request was granted and now none but Juniors may assist in the preparations.

It is hoped that the "Prom" this year will far surpass those of preceding years. The committees are as follows:

Dining room decorations—Lola Pheasant, chairman; Mildred Kline, Mildred Yingling, Sara Young, Mary Stewart, William Parthemer, Clairmont Smith, Ralph Weigel, Margaret Ickes and Helen Maxheimer.

RED AND BLUE QUINTET WILL PLAY KUTZTOWN NORMAL

Probably the greatest game of the Shippensburg Normal School basketball season will be played tomorrow afternoon when the Red and Blue quintet meets the husky representatives of Kutztown Normal School.

The Red and Blue team cannot afford to lose another game or the athletic standing of the school will receive a severe jolt.

In order to be in shape for the contest the Shippensburg varsity squad has been drilling hard the past week. This game which is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock promises many thrills. The probable line-up will be: S. Smith, center; Line and Green, forwards; Miller and Funk, guards.

PHILO TRYOUT WAS HELD AND THE TEAM CHOSEN

The debators who will represent Philo Society in the inter-society and inter-normal debates were chosen at a try-out held in the training school chapel, Wednesday afternoon. There were ten people who showed their Philo spirit by trying out. The judges were, Miss Parks, Miss Culp and Mr. Krebs.

A RADIO ROOM

There is the new chapel, the new parlor, the day students' new lunch room, but the radio room has evidently been buried under the debris of the old chapel and the old parlors. It is true that the Main Building is being remodeled into a modern twentieth century normal school building, but why, when we are being modernized to such a high degree, can't we go one step farther and make the renovation absolutely flawless? The radio today, is becoming as common as the victrola. It is recognized as an instrument of intellectual value as well as of delectable value. It has come into common usage and the majority of schools and colleges in the state are using it as a source of information for current matters as well as for amusement.

The need for a radio room where concerts might be broadcasted to the students of the institution was to be recognized last Wednesday afternoon when Miss Hanna Keiffer endeavored to give the students the benefit of "listening in" on Ex-President Wilson's funeral services. Miss Keiffer went to considerable trouble to set up her machine in the Main Chapel. She succeeded in establishing connections with Washington at the exact hour that the school orchestra was holding its weekly practice. Prof. Slyter very obligingly called the rehearsal to a close when the connections were established so that the students gathered in the auditorium might hear the impressive services.

Prof. Slyter was certainly inconvenienced by not being able to conduct the rehearsal. As a result the orchestra was unable to play at Thursday's chapel exercises as it was scheduled to do.

The chapel is not properly equipped for the broadcasting of radio messages and hence the listeners did not meet with very satisfactory results. The music was the only thing that could be heard distinctly.

These disadvantages could have been avoided had the school possessed a room specifically equipped for radio. The students could have assembled here and listened to the service without interrupting the practice of the orchestra. It is altogether likely that the services could have been heard in such a room in their entirety.

Indeed a radio room is not a pipe dream of the radio enthusiasts of the school. It could be easily attained. The library could be equipped for radio concerts in a decidedly favorable fashion. The apparatus could be set up permanently and it would not hinder the work of the librarians or the students. When important events could be received the students interested in it could assemble here and receive the benefit of the concert.

Not only would a radio room be servicable for the above mentioned purposes but it might also be used profitably in conjunction with history work. History students are constantly being urged to read the daily press in order to glean the latest current topics. Would it not be far more interesting to hear these subjects discussed by some statesman or prominent citizen? Would the students not be likely to retain the thought for a longer time?

A radio room would certainly be an asset to the other improvements. The "Campus Reflector" feels that this suggestion should be given careful consideration. It feels that it voices the opinion of the student body when it requests that a room be created to house this instrument of information. Without a doubt we will be as sadly out of things without a radio room as we would be without a gymnasium. The "Reflector" hopes that it will be able to print an announcement concerning the opening of this room sometime in the immediate future.

SENIOR CLASS TO DINE AT NEW NATIONAL HOTEL

The Senior class will hold a dinner at the New National Hotel Saturday evening in place of their annual sleigh ride. The meal will consist of chicken and waffles, salads, ice-cream and cake.

The entertaining committee is providing for games and dancing. The Committee consists of Anna McFadden, chairman, Mae Parfet, and Charles Gentzler.

The Seniors are also beginning to plan for their commencement activities. Announcements have been ordered and the cap and gown committee has been appointed. They are Wilson Dodd, chairman; Louise Swartz and Mildred Brenneman.

tee has been appointed. They are Wilson Dodd, chairman; Louise Swartz and Mildred Brenneman.

NEW TEACHING GROUP FORMS TEACHERS' CLUB

The new teaching group met in the Training School chapel, Friday morning at 8:15 and unanimously voted to form a Teacher Club as the teachers of the first semester had done. A committee consisting of Merle Gabler, Edwin Harbaugh, Mabel Smith and Reba Shue, was elected to form a constitution to be presented at the next meeting at which a permanent organization will be effected.

VARSIITY TRIMMED IN HARD WEEK-END GAMES

The Red and Blue Varsity squad made a week-end trip to Bloomsburg and Kutztown and were handed the small end of the score on both occasions.

Coach Ingalls changed the line-up considerably for the Bloomsburg game in the hopes that the new combination would work better against the strong Columbia County five but it was to no avail because the Red and Gold dribblers displayed brilliant passing and accurate shooting which the Valley lads were unable to stop.

The Bloomsburg squad completely outclassed the Shippensburgians in the first canto and at the end of the half the score was out of reach of Coach Ingalls' team. In the second half, however, Capt. Smith and his quartet worked well together and held the Red and Gold cagemen to a much smaller score than in the first half, but were unable to push the score up for themselves which gave the Bloomsburg team a 57 to 21 victory over the Shippensburg quintet.

After playing the hard game at Bloomsburg on Friday night and traveling from early morning until time for the game the Red and Blue five met the Keystone team on the latter's floor Saturday afternoon and were handed the second defeat of the journey.

The Valley team was tired out before they went on the floor and hence were handicapped during the entire fracas. Coach Ingalls' team was again placed under a handicap by the fact that the Kutztown floor is about twice the size of the local floor which put the Red and Blue cagemen at a loss to find themselves and the net.

The game was hard fought throughout, but at the opening of the fray the Kutztown squad started off with a 9 to 0 lead over the Shippensburgians. Capt. Smith's team rallied and tied the score only to have the Keystone Normal five forge ahead and keep the lead until the final blast of the whistle with the score 28 to 18.

Capt. Smith and Bob Line were the high scorers for the Shippensburg team in the Bloomsburg contest and Mark Green and Capt. Smith were the heavy counters in the Kutztown fray.

Many substitutions were made in both games. "Boots" Shuler was sent in at the first position to relieve Smith while Smith was shifted to forward. Jones and Gilbert were substituted for Line and Funk in the Bloomsburg tilt. It the Kutztown game during the last half Line was shifted to take Chet Miller's place at guard and Jones was sent in to occupy Line's place.

Shippensburg squad:
 Capt. Smith—C and F.
 Line—G and F.
 Green—F.
 Miller—G.
 Funk—G
 Jones F and G.
 Gilbert—G.

MISSES ZIMMERMAN AND SMITH TEACH TOWN SCHOOL

Mabel Zimmerman and Mabel Smith substituted in the town school last week during the illness of two teachers. The former taught in the second grade for Miss Mabel Barner and the latter in the seventh and eighth grades for Miss Ruth Goodyear.

REFLECTIONS

Reba Shue

Thurston Collicott

It wouldn't be so bad if they would publish an answer book to the Intelligence Questionnaire.

If you don't especially enjoy the process of answering the Intelligence Questions, think of the good time you'll have after it's over discovering what the other fellow didn't know.

St. Valentine is turning to such scientific things as scientific questionings for his greetings.

The Training School seems to be developing some latent terpsichorean talent. Ask the student music teachers.

Just when we'd forgotten there was such a thing as a report from last semester, somebody has to ask when the reports will appear.

Some Seniors earned their meal Saturday night by their efforts in its behalf.

It is expected that our debaters will involve a solution for the national immigration problem.

The literary editors of the Cumberland are surprised and delighted to find what talent and model traits the Senior members possess according to the write-ups.

We wonder if the Seniors won't eventually decide to make their social a sleighing party.

It's too bad the Y. W. Valentine party wasn't held in the gym so that the Seniors could perform the stunts they've learned.

It would be interesting to know how many of the faithful attendants who appear at the evening basket ball games notice which team won.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN PROGRAM GIVEN AT PHILO SOCIETY

Philomatheans presented an interesting program in commemoration of Abraham Lincoln last Friday evening when the society met in the Training School chapel.

Philipus Mosescu '25 gave an original essay on Abraham Lincoln. The theme of the oration was "Would You Choose to be Rich and Not Great or Can You Become Great without Being Rich?" Mr. Mosescu stated that although Lincoln was born poor and of ordinary parentage he became one of the greatest men in history.

Miriam Embick '24, also carried out the idea of the program by reciting "Oh Captain, My Captain," in honor of Abraham Lincoln. "The Perfect Tribute" was the title of Martha Light's reading. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was given by Swirls Himes '24.

A musical selection was presented by the orchestra, "Baron Munchausen" by C. W. Bennet, Dorothy Emerrick '25 director. Eleanor Coons '25 sang a vocal solo "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Anton Dvorak. Romayne Miller '24 played a piano solo, "Moon Flower" by Colman.

Philo Review was edited by William Barbour '25. It contained an editorial on Ex-President Woodrow Wilson, school news, current topics, jokes and poetry.

The president, Hubert Sheatz gave a short talk to the society and endorsed Dr. Lehman's words at chapel on Thursday by trying to impress on the audience the significance of quality not quantity in getting new members. Miriam Embick was appointed parliamentarian. It was announced that tryouts for Philo Debating team would be held last Wednesday.

An even exchange is no robbery, but teaching and non-teaching Seniors have not yet settled whether they've experienced such a transaction.

Library attendance this week indicates that our students at least begin the semester with the best intentions.

The most recent educational tour of which we have any record was the inspection of the training school by the new teachers.

The latest topic for conversation in the dining room is the discussion of the chicken dinner advocated by the Seniors. The Junior High opinion adds light on the subject.

Preparing for debate try outs became very popular—the night before the try out. The prize for sprinting is offered in athletics, not in debating, however.

Ask any member of the staff why it is more desirable to have its staff meeting at 8:15 than 7:45.

REV. EMMERT SPEAKS AT MID-WEEK PRAYER SERVICE

Benjamin Ingalls lead the mid-week prayer service Wednesday evening. Rev. Emmert of the Church of the Brethren was the speaker. He spoke on the life of Lincoln. Rev. Emmert emphasized the religious side of Lincoln's life. He showed that Lincoln prized the Bible above all other books, that he used it as the foundation of all his work. He also said that Lincoln always could find comfort and solace in its pages. Rev. Emmert closed his address by encouraging the students of the institution to follow in the footsteps of Lincoln and to use the Bible to find comfort in times of trouble.

ANOTHER NORMAL SCHOOL ISSUES A SCHOOL PAPER

The West Chester Normal School has added its name to the list of Normal Schools in the state which can boast of a paper published by the students.

The "Green Stone," the official organ for the expression of opinion at West Chester, was born at a conference of a little band of valiant workers about two months ago. After a study of the problem and a careful selection of a staff the "Green Stone" has embarked on its mission of service to the school which it represents. It has been the desire of the students for the past several years to publish a paper. This desire finally materialized in the form of the "Green Stone"

The name of the paper was derived from the green stone of which the buildings of the West Chester Normal School are constructed.

The "Campus Reflector" is sure that a better school spirit will be generated and solidified by the presence of the paper in the school. It will be a medium thru which students will be able to find expressions for their talents. It will be a record of the history of the school more complete and more exact than a book of facts concerning the institution which might be compiled by a few men. It will be a medium thru which many ideas for the welfare of the school will find an outlet.

"FRIENDSHIP" TOPIC OF DISCUSSION AT Y. MEETING

A very interesting service, in charge of Ellen Welsh, was held Sunday evening. The topic for discussion was "Friendship." Miss Welsh emphasized the fact that "A real friend is one who is willing to share both your sorrows and joys." She said that friends come through three ways; likeness in spirit, common work, and mutual purpose. She brought out the fact that although a person may not be our friend she is somebody's friend.

The Scripture lesson was read by Margaret Peters and Kathryn Kauffman. Readings were given in keeping with the subject, by Edyth Williams and Mildred Yingling. Winona Garbrick played a cello solo and Dorothy Tyler and Mary Williams gave a piano duet. Other musical numbers were given by Vesta Grim, Mary Halloway, Mildred Yingling and Mildred Barkdoll. Martha Crozier and Helen Maxheimer led the girls in prayer.

NORMAL SOCIETY INSTALLS OFFICERS FOR NEXT MONTH

Members of Normal Literary Society witnessed an interesting program last Friday evening in the Normal School Chapel. Each number presented showed skillful preparation and was exceptionally well received.

The new officers were installed. William Hudson '25, speaking for the officers who had served faithfully for the past month, thanked the members for the co-operation and asked that this spirit might be continued in the future. Harry Slothour '24, the incoming president, stated that the society is beginning a new semester and has a new field ahead of it. The following quotation was given by Mr. Slothour: "Face the task which is immediately before us and then do it exceedingly well. One may cross over the highest mountain, one step at a time."

The Normal Glee Club sang "Down the Raging Main" and Mabel Frank '26 gave a recitation entitled "The Cremation of Sam Magee." The Girls' Chorus, under the directorship of Naomi Wineland '26 sang a pleasing selection "Evening Bells."

"George Washington" was the title of an oration by Wilson Dodd '24 and George Kauffman '25 gave a discussion concerning the Bok Peace Award.

The musical program of the evening was completed by a piano duet by Mary Williams '25 and Margaret Sadler '26 and by a boys' quartet under the leadership of Vincent Tritch '26.

Claude Mellott '26 edited a well prepared Gazette giving the audience the latest school news. During the business meeting, Raymond Cromer was appointed parliamentarian of the society.

Miss Culp commended the members of Normal for their work and asked that the Society as a whole take up the challenge offered by the president in that it should face the task which is immediately before it and do it exceedingly well.

TEMPLE MEASURES THE MINDS OF THE PUBLIC

The Department of Psychology of Temple University scored a unique hit during the dedication exercises of Conwell Hall, a new addition to the school. A sign, inviting the public to measure their minds, lured many of the visitors to venture into the laboratory, where trained assistants measured their lung capacity, grip, recitation time and other individual characteristics that bear upon general fitness. Most of the visitors showed a willingness to find out what their rating was in comparison to a form established by long experimentation. Some, however, were afraid that their ignorance would be the cause of jesting and refused to submit to the tests.

JOURNALISM IS BIG FIELD
OFFERED TO WOMEN TODAY

"Openings for Women in Journalism" was the theme of an editorial written by Miss Dotson in the "Nicholas Republican." Last year, Miss Dotson was editor of the West Virginia University school paper which is published three times a week. She has entered the field and in her editorial comments on the ability of women to do this type of work. She remarks: "If there is any one profession for which women are especially adapted it is surely that of journalism. Woman is by nature friendly, sensitive to the things going on around her, curious, imaginative, and interested in the development of the community that affects the home. These are the characteristics that are most needed in the newspaper work."

"I firmly believe," she continues, "That women have found their true professional work in the field of journalism. It is the field in which they can do a great service, and in which they are not handicapped when placed by the side of man."

ALUMNI NOTES

Paul Wert '23 and Karl Blanche '23 were week-end visitors at C. V. S. N. S. Mr. Blanche is teaching in the Elizabethtown Schools. He has charge of the science department.

W. Don Morton of the class of 1905, is residing at Omaha, Nebraska. After his graduation from C. V. S. N. S. Mr. Morton taught in the public schools for several years. He is now engaged in the Insurance business.

Charlese Raffensberger is teaching near Philadelphia. Mr. Raffensberger was graduated from C. V. S. N. S. in 1921.

Fred Lamferson '20 is enrolled in the Dickinson Law School. Mr. Lamferson was a successful teacher for several years after leaving Normal but has now decided to enter the law profession.

Paul Shull is teaching in the Lewistown schools. Mr. Shull was a member of last year's graduating class.

Clair McVitty is teaching in a vocational school in the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. McVitty was graduated from C. V. S. N. in 1915.

Hope Ferguson is teaching near Doylestown, Pa. Miss Ferguson was a member of the class of 1917.

Harper Wentz is teaching in the Expedite School, Cambria County. He was recently elected President of the Cambria County Alumni Association. Mr. Wentz was graduated from C. V. S. N. S. in 1918.

John Neely '22 is teaching in the Beaversdale schools. He is coaching athletics and teaching science.

Dr. James Smiley is practicing medicine at Yeagerstown, Pa. Dr. Smiley was graduated from C. V. S. N. S. in 1891, and was a class mate of Dr. Heiges.

A. C. Shuck (State certificate) 1909, is superintendent of the schools in Freehold, New Jersey. Mr. Shuck had formerly been principal of the Chambersburg High School.

Mr. Chas. E. Boyer is superintendent of the schools at Saldorf, Minnesota. Mr. Boyer was graduated from C. V. S. N. S. in 1910.

Ralph Angle '20 is a student at State College.

The Cambria County Alumni Association reorganized October 24, 1923. The following officers were elected: President, Harper Wentz '18; Secretary, Emma Shaw '96; Treasurer, William C. Nenninger '18. The organization is planning a number of important meetings.

Gordon Charlton is head coach of athletics in the Ebensburg schools. Mr. Charlton was graduated from C. V. S. N. S. in 1921.

J. Emory Thomas of the class of 1894, is principal of the McConnellsburg High School. Mr. Thomas was superintendent of the Fulton County Schools for eight years.

The engagement of Sarah Hess of the class of '21 to Paul Negley, has recently been announced. Miss Hess has been teaching in the Harrisburg schools.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Shuman of Newburg, Pa., to Frank A. Heberly has recently been announced. The ceremony was performed Dec. 23, 1923 at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. H. R. Myers. The bride was graduated from C. V. S. N. S. in 1922.

An interesting letter has recently been received from one of the Alumni of C. V. S. N. S.—W. S. Hendershot, who was graduated in 1910. Mr. Hendershot has not been to the school since 1912, but says he is very proud of his Alma Mater. Mr. Hendershot is engaged as a distributor of furniture for Public Buildings.

From the "Ursinus Weekly" we learn that Ralph Heiges '23 is holding his own at basketball. Ralph is a member of the Varsity five and is playing a position at guard. In a recent game with Osteopathy he was high scorer with five field goals and one foul to his credit.

Karl Blanche '23 the first Business Manager of the "Campus Reflector," was a guest at the "Reflector's" birthday party Saturday evening. Mr. Blanche told of the excitement the staff had in making up the first issue of the paper. We wondered why the Castoria ad had appeared so many times in that first paper.
