PHIDELAH RICE READS WELL KNOWN PLAY

His Characterization of Roles vivid;
Tells Several Humorous stories

AUDIENCE HIGHLY DELIGHTED

Phidelah Rice, impersonator and reader of plays, delighted a rather meager audience last Friday evening with his rendition of "David Garrick." Mr. Rice has been engaged in the art of impersonation for twenty years and is known throughout Lyceum and Chautauqua circles as an artist. His characterization of the various roles in "David Garrick" were vivid to the extent that the audience did not feel the lack of scenery or properties and appreciated the play as much as if each role had been played by an individual actor.

The play "David Garrick" is based upon an incident in the life of England's most famous actor and contemporary of Sir Joshua Reynolds, Oliver Goldsmith, and Samuel Johnson. The play is based on the following story.

An English gentleman with strict views as to classes of society and a contempt for actors, has a daughter, Ada, who is much infatuated with David Garrick and possesses an underlying disgust for the suitor of her father's choice. Her father summons David Garrick to his home, tells him the story and offers him any price he might name to leave England. Garrick refused the old man's offer but promises to cure Ada of her love for him and swears he will marry no girl without her father's permission and unless the father, hat in hand, should see him to accept his child.

Much assured, the old gentleman invites David Garrick to his home to dinner. Garrick proceeds to disgust Ada by pretending to be drunk and so well does he succeed that Ada asks him to leave. She is so disappointed in Garrick that she promises to marry Dick, whom her father detests.

Later Dick enters in a state of intoxication and tells the story of Garrick's pretense to the wondering girl. She sees through the whole plot and resolves to stop Garrick from fighting a duel with a man who insulted her father and her. The next day she runs away from home and goes to David's lodgings, but he has already left for the duel. Her father finds her there and quarrels with her so violently that she faints. He hastens out to find men to carry her home while she is unconscious and during his absence Garrick returns. The young people admit their love for each other, but Garrick urges Ada to return to her father's house and to do his bidding. During this talk Ada's father returns unobserved and is so pleased that he not only gives permission to Ada's marriage with Garrick but even stoops to ask David to accept his daughter.

CHANGE IN NATURE OF ENTRANCE EXAMS.

There is a movement afoot in some of the American Universities at present to change the nature of the entrance examinations. Instead of giving eight or ten complete questions requiring long discussions, it has been planned to give many short problems to be answered in a few words and covering many different subjects.

NORMAL TRACK TEAM SPONSORS FIRST TRI-COUNTY TRACK AND FIELD MEET ON ECKELS' FIELD SATURDAY, MAY 10th

Over One Hundred and Thirty Contestants; Greencastle Sends Largest Number in Class A and Biglerville Has the Largest Entry List in Class B.

CARLISLE TAKES FIRST HONORS IN CLASS A WHILE BIGLERVILLE WINS IN CLASS B

The first annual tri-county track and field meet, sponsored by the local Normal track team, was held on the Eckels' Field last Saturday afternoon. The Carlisle High School team won the meet in Class A with a total of 64 points while the Biglerville High School carried off the honors for class B with 40 tallies. Both teams had a big lead over their opponents in the final summary of the events.

There were over one hundred and thirty contestants from the eleven high schools which were entered. Greencastle High School sent 12 contestants which was the largest number in class A and Biglerville ranked first in class B with an entry list of 14.

The meet was called promptly at one o'clock and each of the twenty events was run off on regular schedule time which was a marked feature of the event.

The high scoring men of the meet were Kissinger of Carlisle, class A who registered 15 tallies and Oyler of Biglerville, class B with 13½ points which gave their respective teams a big boost toward the final scores.

Despite the fact that the track was heavy after a three day rain, several good records were made for a high school meet. A peculiar feature of the meet was that class B made better records in a majority of the events than class A which is a good showing for class B entries.

Prizes for the meet were contributed by the merchants of the town and it is expected that the silver cup which will be presented to the Carlisle team will be given by L. P. Teel, a local merchant while the cup which will go to Biglerville, winner of class B, will be given by Dr. Ezra Lehman.

SHIPPENSBURG ROTARY CLUB HOLDS BANQUET AT C. V. S. N. S.

The newly organized Rotary Club of Shippensburg held its first banquet in the C. V. S. N. S. dining hall last Thursday evening. The President, Mr. Paul Neftsker, was successful in having members of the Harrisburg, Carlisle and Chambersburg Rotary Clubs present at this dinner. Mr. Slyter furnished the music for the occasion.

RESULTS OF VOTES CAST FOR SERVICE MEDAL

The following students received the highest number of votes cast by the students on Tuesday, May 11, for the distinguished service medal which is awarded every year to the student who does the most for the school. The names are arranged alphabetically and not in the order of the number of votes received.

Sherrick Gilbert, Peggy Lehman, Wallis McKendree, Helen Miller, Elizabeth Minehart, Genevieve Mitchell, Reba Shue, Harry Slothower, Clifford Smith, Louise Swartz.

The vote in several cases was exceedingly close. Ruth Frank and James Smith tied for eleventh place and were only one vote below the vote of the student who secured tenth place.

HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT WILL HAVE OWN TEAM

The newest section of the Normal School is the High School Department which is under the supervision of Prof. L. C. Smith. To vary the strain of scholastic work the High School Department will have its own athletic teams next year.

Prof. Smith has stated that nothing definite has as yet been arranged, but by next year a definite schedule for the department will be made out.

Material for some good teams seems to be present since the Normal High track squad captured second place in the Tri-County Meet last Saturday.

COLLEGES PLAN FOR "SCHOOL IN EUROPE"

William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Virginia, is blazing a new trail in education. Her novel "School in Europe" plan for this summer's program provides for an educational trip to France for a group of fifteen students from her own or any other colleges. College credit is to be granted for the courses offered.

PROF. L. C. KREBS AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP AT CLARK U.

Prof. L. C. Krebs of the Normal faculty has received information from Clark University, Worcester, Mass., that he has been awarded a scholarship in the Department of Geography for the year 1925. Prof. Krebs has accepted the award and will be granted a leave of absence from school from Sept. 1924 until Feb. 1925.

LAWN FETE IS STAGED ON CAMPUS BY G. A. A.

Money Will Be Used to Buy Gold
Basketballs and Medals

G. A. A. PINS ARE ON SALE

A Lawn Fete was held by the G. A. A. on the Campus last evening. Ten gaily decorated booths were grouped on the upper part of the Campus and here a goodly crowd composed of students, town people and the visiting Rotary Club purchased the wares of the G. A. A.

There were five food booths at which ice cream, cake, candy, sandwiches and soft drinks were sold. In addition to these booths, there were novelty, fortune telling, fish pond and chance booths.

At the novelty booth, flowers, G. A. A. stationery and the new Association pins were sold. The pins have just been procured. They are tiny sterling silver Indian clubs and bear the Association's initials, G. A. A. They may be worn by G. A. A. members only.

A black and white booth sheltered the co-eds who were selling chances on a memory book, a cake and a box of candy. The winners were:

Mr. J. W. Lackhove—Memory Book
David Eberly—Cake
Esther Kapp—Candy

The fortune tellers who were located in a large tent at the lower end of the Campus, attracted a large number of the students. The amount of silver that was used to cross the palms of these dusky maidens was no small one.

The fish pond also attracted a crowd. It was uniquely decorated with huge goldfish who swam on a green crepe paper sea. The fishermen seem to be pleased with the kind of fish they caught, for gales of laughter were constantly surging over the Campus from the direction of the pond.

Prof. Clyter, Mr. Green and Mr. Brunner were ensnatched on the faculty porches where they made music for the students who wished to dance. The porches were decorated with red and blue crepe paper.

The money derived from the Fete will be used by the G. A. A. to buy gold basketballs for the varsity basketball players and a gold medal for the girl who has earned the highest number of points during her career at C. V. S. N. S.

The exact sum of money that was taken in is not known at the time of the "Reflector" going to print, but Helen Andrews, the president of the Association, says that she feels sure it will be a large enough one to satisfy the amount demanded by the Association's expense account.

ANNUAL DANCE OF DAY STUDENTS HELD TONIGHT

The annual dance of the day students of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School will be held this evening in the Reddig Studio on N. Earl St., from nine until 1 o'clock.

The Student Dance is an annual social event and is usually well attended by the day students and their friends. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Carlisle Barracks Orchestra of Carlisle. This orchestra is composed of men stationed at the Medical Corps Barracks of Carlisle. Previous to this the orchestra has played at the Reddig Studio on one occasion and met with the general approval of the dancers.

Prof. Krebs and Miss Quigley will serve in the capacity of chaperones for the day students.

HONOR VS. LIBRARY BOOKS

The rule of having books checked off before the students take them from the library has not been newly made. In spite of the fact that the rule was made at the same time that the library was created, it is repeatedly being violated. It was in existence from the very beginning of every student's sojourn here at this institution. There isn't a student in the school who hasn't lived under the rules and regulations for a sufficient length of time to be thoroughly familiar with them.

Even at this late date in the course of the school year, the library books continue to take wings and fly from the library. The time of their flight is unknown. Their absence is not noted until some student or teacher starts on a wild goose chase for them. Many times it is decidedly urgent that the books be on their shelves and many times the degree of inconvenience that their absence causes is no low one.

Not only do books of fiction leave the library without being charged to any student or member of the faculty, but reference books that are in every day use also take leaves of absence.

The mystery surrounding the flight of the books is very deep. No one sees them disappear and no one sees them return. After an absence of three or four days they are sometimes found resting on the librarian's desk or peacefully reposing on one of the library tables. It surely is a strange thing the way these inanimate objects come to life at the most unexpected times and betake themselves to sections unrecorded in the librarian's system of checking their absence.

Every student of C. V. S. N. S. has his own code of honor. He wouldn't steal; he wouldn't lie; he wouldn't cheat and he wouldn't forget to pay his debts. And there his code seems to come to a conclusion! It isn't stealing to take a book from the library without the librarian's knowledge. It isn't lying to deny the knowledge of the book whereabouts when that book is resting in one's own room.

It would seem that the students' code of honor is a trifle too elastic. Honor is honor no matter whether it applies to taking money or library books.

There is absolutely no excuse for this abominable practice. Students realize the seriousness of the offense when they go to the library for a book for the next day's classes only to find the book among the missing. Of course these students are righteously indignant. They complain to the librarian and talk wildly to their friends, yet when they discover one of the offenders they make no effort to try to make this offender repent.

This is not a situation for the faculty to settle. It would be impossible for them to ferret out the transgressors under the present library system where each student is allowed to go to the cases and get the book he desires. The only possible way to stop this disreputable practice is to forbid the student the freedom of the bookcases. It would be rather inconvenient not to be allowed to get the book one desires and have to wait until the librarian has time to get the book, but the students deserve the inconvenience if they do not know how to treat the privilege that is afforded them.

Since the matter of taking the books unchecked is one which especially inconveniences the students, the feasible action to be taken seems to rest on the shoulders of the students themselves. These students who are eternally complaining about the disappearance of the books—let them show some initiative in bringing the culprits to justice. If each student were to make himself responsible for his own actions and the actions of some other student, the practice would soon pass out of use.

The matter should also be taken in hand by the two student councils. Surely their combined efforts would be enough to break it up.

Students of C. V. S. N. S., we are honorable students, but the library books continue to disappear. Let's unite to put an end to their disappearance and thus do ourselves a service as well as saving the librarians a considerable amount of work and trouble.

MOTHER'S DAY OBSERVED AT Y. W. C. A. MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. meeting which was in charge of Lola Pheasant was almost entirely devoted to Mothers' Day. "The Dear Mother's Love" was recited by Troupiere Sipe. A violin solo, "Berceuse," was played by Virginia Coons. Marie Phillips read Psalm 61 and Ruth Keadle read a paper on the origin of Mother's Day. This custom was started by Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, on May 10, 1908. Since that time the second Sunday of May has been dedicated to Mothers. Mother's Day is not only observed by the United States but it has become an international holiday.

PRESS CLUB NOMINATES OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

Officers for the coming year of the Press Club were nominated at the meeting of the Club, Thursday, May 8, Wallis McKendree '25 was the only nominee of president. Sherick Gilbert was nominated for vice president; Ruth Frank and Caroline Stamm, secretary; Josephine Corle, Reporter to Dr. Lehman; Genevieve Mitchell and Earl Ryan, Reporter to The Herald; Harry Gardner, Curator. At the last meeting of Press Club on June 2nd, the Seniors will present a farewell program and the new officers will be installed. Before that date a special meeting will be called for the election of officers.

NEW MEMBERS OF COUNCIL SIT WITH OLD MEMBERS

The new members of Student Council sat with the old members Monday evening at the regular meeting. Several cases of discipline were brought up and penalties were imposed. The Council went on record as being very much opposed to the habit of girls carrying books out of the library without having them charged. In the future penalties will be imposed by the Council on any girl reported guilty of this offense by Miss Quigley.

Owing to the rain the "clean up day" set aside by the Council was not a great success. The girls are urged to refrain from throwing things from their windows. They are also requested to use "vacant" periods to clean up the ground below their windows. The new officers of Council are as follows: Pres., Margaret Peters; V. Pres., Naomi Wineland; Sec., Margaret Ickes; Treas., Loretta Raffensberger.

MR. LOWE SEES MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN PAPER

Mr. Lowe, Head of the Department of English, visited the school last Friday.

He congratulated the staff on its progressiveness and hoped that they would keep up their good work.

Mr. Lowe, during the course of the interview with a "Reflector" reporter, said that he was especially pleased with the poetry courses that are offered. He said that it is very necessary for the Junior High Group to have a wealth of knowledge in modern literature in order to meet demands.

Mr. Lowe commented on the marked improvement in the "make up" of the "Campus Reflector." He remarked that the articles were done in good newspaper style and that the "ads" were of a high type. He also went on to say that he preferred a regular weekly newspaper in a school rather than the magazine type published every two weeks or once a month.

STATE INSPECTORS VISIT NORMAL THIS WEEK

A committee of state inspectors representing the State Department of Education and Superintendents of Counties visited the Normal School this week. D. E. Crosley, Chairman, from the Teachers' Certification Bureau of Public Instruction; Miss Evan Grassmuck, Head of Department of Geography; Superintendent D. A. Kline of Perry County; Superintendent J. W. Wagner of the Carlisle Schools and Superintendent Lloyd Hinkle of Bedford County, composed the committee.

The committee replaces the State Board of Instructors who formally came to the Normal Schools to examine the students in class work. Instead of examining the students the committee's work is to note the classroom instructor, the character of the instruction, and the student recreation. If any change in the course of study is deemed advisable by this committee, the report will be submitted to the State.

Last Monday evening the Junior Class met for the purpose of deciding whether or not it was the wish of the Class to permit the Junior High Class of '25 to combine their Year Book with that of the Junior Class.

After considerable discussion a motion was made that the president appoint a Committee to confer with a committee representing the Junior High Class as to their plans for the Year Book. The motion was put to the class and carried.

When asked to vote as to whether or not the class was willing for the Junior High to combine with it in publishing a Year Book, the class voted in favor of combining provided that an agreement could be made, whereby the class is given certain rights.

There has never been a man in our history who led a life of ease, whose name is worth remembering.

Character is an educated will.

DR. LEHMAN ADDRESSES SCHOOLS OF DAUPHIN CO.

Last Thursday and Friday Dr. Lehman with Supt. I. D. App and Asst. Supt. W. R. Zimmerman, both of Dauphin County, visited the following places: Dauphin County High Schools, Dauphin; Halifax; Millersburg; Elizabethville; Lykens; Williamstown; and Wiconisco.

Dr. Lehman spoke to the students on the advantage of teaching as a profession. He also gave them opportunity to ask any questions concerning the work at Shippensburg Normal School.

A large number of the students of these various schools have enrolled for the summer and fall sessions.

DR. HEIGES SPEAKS AT MEETING OF TEACHERS' CLUB

Dr. Heiges spoke at the Teachers' Club Friday morning in the Training School. He based his talk on the teaching profession. Dr. Heiges stated, "You can be making use of the profession but the profession may not be making use of you." He also stressed the importance of professional reading for teachers and the study of educational problems.

Other discussions were given by the student teachers. Thelma Small gave a discussion on "The Value of Lesson Plans." Mary Morrow talked on "Thrift" and Emma Mitchell spoke on "The Value of Illustrative Materials." May Irvin gave a recitation, "Trials of a New Teacher" and Edward Harbaugh played a cornet solo, "Forsaken."

FACULTY MEMBERS WILL BE GUESTS AT NORMAL REUNION

It was the custom until about three years ago to reserve places for the faculty at both Philo and Normal Reunions. From that time on the faculty members have not been the guests of either society. Normal is again going back to the old form and the faculty will be the guests of Normal Literary Society at the Normal Reunion which will be held May 23 and 24.

Plans have been made to have the decorations for the program and the dance harmonize. Ethel McCormick '24 is chairman of the decorating committee for the gymnasium.

William Hudson '25, general chairman, is being assisted by Effie Wynn '24, Ethel McCormick '24, Russel Coover '25 and Clifford Smith '25. The committees are using every means to secure an especially good orchestra for the dance.

One thorn of experience is worth a whole wilderness of warning.

Seniors wrung their hands that day, At the signs of columns of smoke, Showing plainly their true dismay, When they found it to be a joke.

Four red engines with worthy notion, Made their way to our abode. Only adding to the great commotion, Of the students coming up the road.

Heads from the Girls' Dormitory came

Long for a sight of smoke in vain; And to see what at last the Gods had brought

To relieve the afternoon's strain.

Speed was not only seen in their Dorm,

But the boys too showed some skill. And from our Dorm went many an odd form,

And some trying their shoes to fill.

The "Holy City" we had just rehearsed,

And we did not think of Rome. But we just wondered who had fiddled, On our way as we hurried home.

We're grateful to the brave firefighter,

With axe, nozzle, coat and hose. We hope the next excursion will be brighter,

Or when the sun shines, I suppose.

MISS EDNA ARNOLD ELECTED COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Miss Edna Arnold, Dean of Women, has been elected by the Jesse Jaco graduating class of the Weston High School, Weston, West Virginia, to deliver the Commencement address, Wednesday May 28. Miss Arnold was principal of the Weston High School before she accepted the position here as dean of women.

Miss Arnold's popularity among the Weston High Seniors is well marked by the fact that she was almost the unanimous choice of the class. Only one other speaker was even nominated.

When the president of the class invited Miss Arnold during the Easter vacation, to make the address, she was doubtful as to whether or not she could accept because of her work here with the Commencement and Normal plays. However, things have been so arranged that Miss Arnold will be able to appear before her old friends on that date.

During Miss Arnold's brief period of work at Shippensburg she has proved invaluable not only as a dean but also as a coach of dramatics.

PROF. J. K. STEWART IS IN CHARGE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Sunday School exercises were in charge of Prof. J. K. Stewart. The central theme was "Mothers' Day." A special program was given to carry out this plan. It was as follows: Talk on Mothers' Day -- Dr. Lehman Poem—"Mother" -- Margaret Lehman "Mother O' Mine" --- Olive Horton Paper—"Mother" --- Claude Mellott Prayer ----- Dr. Heiges Music (vocal)

Clifford Smith, Janet Shearer, Mildred Yingling, Harry Markley

MOONLIGHT HIKE WILL TAKE PLACE TOMORROW

Tomorrow evening at 6:15 the girls who have passed the hiking season with no more than two cuts against them will leave for the moonlight hike, which is to be the hike of the season.

The hikers are asked to bring mandolins and ukeleles in order that the hour around the campfire might be still more enjoyable. Marshmallows toasted in the open fire will be no slight attraction to the hungry trappers.

PHILO PROGRAM HAS HIGH LITERARY VALUE

The weekly meeting of Philo Literary Society was held in the Main Chapel Friday evening at six-thirty. The program was largely a literary one.

Jessie Baker '24 gave a brief sketch of Charlotte Bronte's well known novel, "Jane Eyre." The story pictures all the sorrows and griefs of a mistreated English girl of the eighteenth century. It is said that the author used the character, Jane Eyre, as an outlet for the storm and stress of her own nature.

Mary Sanders '24 presented "The Ride of Jennie McNeil," a poem with action and one with an interesting story. A recitation was given by Helen Stoner. The theme of her pathetic story was "Jack" and it portrayed the joy and tender feelings of an inmate of New York's east side.

Philo Review, edited by Paul Bert, contained many original jokes and timely discussions. President Coolidge's pledge to continue to root out, and punish the corrupt and his commendation of the Dawes report was discussed in full.

Community singing and a piano solo, a selection of Ethelbert Nevins, by Dorothy Embick '24 composed the musical side of the program. A special feature by Margaret Wierman '25 entitled "The Dream" showed a grave yard with spirits of C.V.S.N.S. buried there. They were all awakened by the sounds of revelry. Topics of interest to Philo were woven into the conversation.

STUDENT IDEALS DISCUSSED

AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Claire Deardorff '26 and Ralph Swan '25 led the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday night. They discussed jointly the topic, "Student Ideals." Mr. Deardorff brought out the fact that a student should take someone as his ideal and that Jesus Christ should be taken as everyone's ideal. Mr. Swan discussed the topic by emphasizing his viewpoint of Mothers' Day. Mr. Dodd and Mr. Sheetz also gave brief discussions on the question.

DINNER HIKE ENJOYED IN SPITE OF RAIN

Last Saturday afternoon after the excitement of the track meet a peppy crowd of hikers gathered in front of the gym to go to the Cave for dinner. In spite of the muddy roads, flooded fields and damp atmosphere a steady pace was maintained, while songs and cheers kept up the steady rhythm of the whole affair.

Two fires were built at the entrance of the cave. After securing sticks for roasting meat, the hikers filed past the improvised lunch counter and were presented with rolls, weiners, bacon, and bananas. The meat was roasted and soon the whole party was refreshed.

The rain which followed scattered the crowd and all started for home. Roads became more muddy, fields more flooded, but the atmosphere was anything but disagreeable. Songs and cheers heightened all spirits and the happy party arrived at the Normal School none the worse for the hike, although probably their clothes were more damp than when they started.

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS" IS SHOWN AS MONTHLY MOVIE

"The Three Musketeers" was given in the Chapel Saturday evening, May 10. For the second time the students were disappointed for "The Call of the Wild" had been promised again for the monthly movie, but for the second time it failed to reach the school and another picture was sent as a substitute.

Preceding "The Three Musketeers" two lively comedies were shown. Harold Lloyd played the leading role in both.

GAUL'S "THE HOLY CITY" TO BE PRESENTED SUNDAY

"The Holy City," the cantata which was presented by the Mixed Chorus was repeated Sunday evening in the Lutheran Church under the direction of Prof. D. O. Slyter. Many Shippensburg people had asked that the oratorio be sung again as a fitting climax to Music Week, so the Mixed Chorus repeated "The Holy City."

The cantata was open to all and there were no admission fee.

BIG POND WILL BE SCENE OF JUNIOR HIGH PICNIC

Plans for the Junior High Class '25 picnic to be held tomorrow have been completed. The committee in charge has selected Big Pond as the site for the event. Cars have been secured as means of conveyance and the picnickers will leave the school at one o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The girls of the class have charge of the refreshments and an appetizing meal can be assured. The Class Deans, Miss Parks and Mr. Harley will be the faculty members in charge.

Do Monday's lessons early, for there's a big week end ahead.

Failures are but pillars of success.

NORMAL DEBATE CAUSES DISSENSION IN HOUSE

"Should the United States Adopt Uniform Divorce Laws" was the question debated at Normal Literary Society last Friday evening. The judges settled the question by casting three votes for the affirmative. There was a heated discussion in the house when that body voted almost unanimously for the negative side as having given the most forceful arguments. The negative speakers were May Fox '24 and Margaret Felton '24, the affirmative speakers were Gail Walker '24 and Anna Altland '24.

A new and talented pianist came to the fore when Katherine Main '26 made her first appearance before a Normal audience. Miss Main played Benj. Godard's "Fourth Mazourka." Gladys Huber '24 read Henry Van Dyke's selection, "The Lost Word."

Thelma Heckman who was in charge of the "Question Box" based the questions on the past history of the society. The Gazette was edited by Mary Altland '25. Merle Garble '24 gave a short discussion on the "Postal Air Service."

During the business meeting it was voted that a committee of two be appointed to mark all Normal property.

STAGE CURTAINS ARE PRESENTED BY HARRY SLOTHOWER

The new velvet curtains for the chapel stage were presented by Harry Slothower '24, president of the Senior class, in behalf of the Senior Class and the class of 1917, Tuesday May 6. Dr. Lehman accepted the gift in behalf of the student body assembled in the chapel for the regular chapel exercises.

Mr. Pogue, a representative of the National Prohibition Society, gave a short address on the work the colleges of the nation are doing in upholding the Volstead Act.

Let's make Normal Reunion the best yet.

RESERVE BALL TEAM WILL PLAY MERCERSBURG

Tomorrow morning the Reserve baseball nine will journey in a light truck to Mercersburg where they will meet the Mercersburg reserve squad. The local lads will try to cop the victory to avenge the defeat they suffered at the hands of Mercersburg two weeks ago on Eckels' Field.

The Reserve squad has been working for the last two weeks playing the Varsity squad and has improved in fielding and hitting. All the members of the nine feel confident of another victory in tomorrow's game.

Walters will probably occupy the mound. He has had heavy work-outs the last two weeks and should be in good condition for a fray. Hamil, a former student of Mercersburg will back up Walters on the Pitcher's box. Hamil was Mercersburg Academy's crack pitcher last year, so if Walters is unable to check the Mercersburgians the Reserves will have another good twirler to fall back on. Weigle will probably hold down the receiving end and Kennedy also has an option on the catching position.

"Y" MEETING DISBANDED FOR STEP SINGING

The "Y" at Gettysburg College has disbanded its usual weekly religious services, since the coming of warm weather, in favor of a sing on the "Y" steps. This method of getting together was tried last year and was found to be very successful. The success of such affairs depends entirely upon the support given by the student body.

ALUMNI

Mrs. Jennie Martin Rich of the class of '82 writes to the Alumni editor to say that she is now living at Los Angeles, California. She is teaching second, third and fourth grades in the Frances M. De Paum Spanish School of the Womens' Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Los Angeles.

Prof. Hiram Shank of the class of '94 is at present historian at Lebanon Valley College. He is to be the speaker at the New Cumberland Memorial Day exercises at Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Mrs. J. P. McNeil, formerly Florence Beard, of class of 1905 is now living in Setka, Alaska. Mrs. McNeil has taken an active interest in the school since her graduation and has been a subscriber for the Herald since her graduation.

Miss Edisto M. Felton, class of 1915 and Mr. Fred V. Oler were married Saturday, February 16, 1924 at Oakland, Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hickey announce the birth of a son at the Harrisburg Hospital, Saturday, May 3. Mrs. Hickey was Miss Mildred Fogel-songer of the class of 1915.

Miss Anna Minerva Woodall of class of '21 and Mr. Oscar Wible were married Thursday, May 1, 1924. Miss Woodall has been teaching in the Fulton County schools. Mr. Wible has been employed in the Westinghouse Electric plant. The ceremony was performed in the parsonage of Rev. H. L. Jarrett.

PITTSBURG ALUMNI HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

The Pittsburgh Alumni Association of C. V. S. N. S. held its annual banquet at the Fort Pitt Hotel on March 1st, at seven P. M.

Mr. Frank Hare, class of '17 presided and also addressed the assembled alumni. Dr. Ezra Lehman was the guest of honor and extended the best wishes of Shippensburg to the Alumni.

Mr. Hare called for two minute speeches from the representatives of each of the classes present at the banquet. Several persons who were not present sent letters of greeting which were read. The association voted to retain the present officers who are: Pres., H. Frank Hare '17; Vice-Pres., J. M. Nycum '97, and Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Titus '17.

ALUMNUS BECOMES DISTINGUISHED COMPOSER

George Balch Nevin, composer, was born March 15, 1859 at Shippensburg. He was brought up at Shippensburg, attending the local schools. He came to Shippensburg Normal and took preparatory work for Lafayette College where he spent two years.

Mr. Nevin has devoted nearly his entire life to music. His compositions are usually sacred songs, duets, anthems, and cantatas.

His most famous works are: "The Adoration," "Crucified," "Crown of Life," "America, the Beautiful," and "Arise, Shine, for Thy Light Is Come," which was sung by the Girls' Chorus in the oratorio last year.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY ELIMINATES EXAMS.

Columbia University has added her name to the list of colleges that have eliminated examinations. The faculty decided that no more exams. will be given and the grades hereafter will depend entirely on themes and recitations.

NORMAL NINE JOURNEYS TO KUTZTOWN ON SATURDAY

Coach Ingalls' team will journey to Kutztown tomorrow where they will meet the Keystone nine for the second time this year.

Capt. Strike and his followers are in good trim for tomorrow's conflict despite the fact that weather conditions compelled the squad to quit practice for nearly a week. However, practice was renewed on Eckels field on Thursday night which gave promise of a strong line-up for tomorrow.

There is little doubt as to the outcome of tomorrow's game as the valley boys snatched a 19-3 victory from the Red and Orange Nine during the early part of the season and the Red and Blue team has been showing classy ball in the last two tilts which is an indication of a stronger set of players both at the bat and in the field than in the earlier part of the season.

"Danny" Grove and "Pal" Smith will in all probability do the mound work for the Shippensburgians while Angle will receive for the local team. The other positions will likely be filled by their regular holders.

The men making the trip will be Capt. Strike, P. Smith, Grove, Angle, Miller, Line, Swope, H. Smith, Bailey, Blynn, Geedy, and Eby.

DR. SWIFT SPEAKS AT WEDNESDAY PRAYER MEETING

Dr. Swift of the Anti-Saloon League talked at the mid-week prayer service. He lead those present in reciting the first Psalm. Dr. Swift said that human lives might be easily likened to flowers. Just as the pansy has been perfected from the johnny-jump-up and as the carnation has been developed from the pink, so the lives of people may grow into bigger, more beautiful lives.
