VARSIITY HAS EASY GAME WITH BIGLERVILLE A. C.

Sluggest in First Inning and Harvest of Errors Cause Visitors' Downfall

MELLOTT SHOWS GOOD FORM

The C. V. S. N. S. sluggers sent the strong Biglerville team down to defeat to the tune of 7 to 6 on Eckels field last Saturday.

The game was hotly contested throughout and both teams took advantage of every break. The Normalites lead off with a hitting spur in the first inning driving in 5 runs. They continued this streak into the second frame bringing in an additional tally. Neither team scored again until the sixth inning when the Red and Blue scored its final count making a total of 7 runs. Biglerville was blanked from the start until their half of the ninth when they opened up with a great batting rally. In the ninth, Mellott, Normal's veteran twirler gave way allowing Biglerville to score 6 runs. The turn of the battle looked like a rout with only one out and 2 men on base. Coach Sharadin sent Shull to the mound. Shull framed the remaining batters, ending the struggle.

The Normal infielders fielded everything that came their way without a single error. Biglerville's defeat can be attributed to their errors and their failure to tighten up during the first two frames.

CHAMBERSBURG MINISTER TALKS AT VESPER SERVICE

Dr. Dougherty Says Great Need Is Definite Religious Convictions

Dr. S. B. Dougherty, Pastor of the First United Brethren Church of Chambersburg, spoke at the vesper service last Sunday evening on the subject, "What Think Ye of Christ?"

He showed how men's lives are too much concerned with the problems of the world and that they are giving too little consideration to this vital question. While men seemingly have no time to discuss Christ, He still stands at the bar of public opinion. Many people have no definite conviction of Christ. Every school boy has a conviction of Washington, Lincoln, Milton, and other great heroes and writers, because he has been lead and taught in such a manner that he has made convictions regarding them. Yet very few people have a definite idea of Christ. We cannot hope for a brighter day until leading men and women have definite convictions on the subject.

He further stated that it is Christ alone who can lift us out of Depravity. He alone can lead us into the New Jerusalem. In conclusion, Rev. Dougherty urged that we can no longer be passive or neutral; we must come to a definite conclusion.

SUMMER RECEPTION AND DANCE HELD IN GYM

On June 30, the faculty of C. V. S. N. S. tendered a reception and dance to the students at the opening of the largest summer session in the history of the institution. The receiving line formed at 7:30 o'clock. Those in the line were Dr. and Mrs. Lehman, Dr. and Mrs. Heiges, Miss Arnold and Prof. Levi Gilbert.

The students who did not care to dance left the Gym at 8:30 and went to the parlor where they spent a pleasant evening playing games and listening to the radio.

The music for the dance was furnished by the Chambersburg Orchestra.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Twenty-five additional members were added to the Men's Summer Glee Club at a meeting held last Tuesday evening. Prof. D. O. Slyter, the director, is well pleased with the interest shown by the Club in general.

According to a statement made by Prof. Slyter, the object of the Club is purely educational and not entertaining. A concert will be given by the Glee Club later in the school year. The regular time for meeting is on each Tuesday at 7 p. m.

Y. M. C. A. SELLS ICE CREAM IN BOYS' DORMITORY

The proceeds of the sales during the summer are to be used in purchasing a victrola for the Y. M. C. A. room.

FAMOUS SOPRANO WILL ENTERTAIN STUDENTS

Miss Lawson Sang As Soloist With The Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra

CONCERT TO BE HELD IN LUTHERAN CHURCH

Franceska Kaspar Lawson, noted soprano of Washington, D. C., will give a Song Recital for the Normal School students next Thursday, July 12, in the Lutheran Church. This is the second of the high grade entertainments that will be given C. V.'s students this summer.

Mrs. Lawson comes here very highly recommended and with a record of having successfully appeared before hundreds of large audiences. Many of these have been so well pleased with her work that she has appeared at the same place as high as twelve times.

H. C. Culbertson former president of Emporia College, Kansas, and Ripon College, Wisconsin, says of her: "Mrs. Lawson has one of the most beautiful voices on the concert platform today. It is unusual in both power and sweetness. Her notes have a penetrating quality that is quite notable; I have listened to her in a concert hall when her singing seemed perfectly adapted to the size of her audience, and then have gone to my hotel a block distant, and still heard her voice as clearly as if I had remained with the audience in the hall. Mrs. Lawson has sung as soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, has sung in recital at the White House in Washington and before audiences in some of our leading universities and Colleges. Her work has always aroused enthusiasm among the most cultured audiences. As a lecturer upon programs where Mrs. Lawson has appeared, I have seen her heartily applauded and admired everywhere."

Among the many Universities and Colleges at which Mrs. Lawson has given recitals are, Princeton University, University of West Virginia, University of Ohio, University of Virginia, Ursinus College, William and Mary College, and George Washington University.

The program which Miss Lawson will give on Thursday night is as follows:

- Classical Airs—
 - The Lass with the Delicate Air Arne
 - Rose Softly Blooming .. Sophr
 - Swiss Echo Song (As sung by Jenny Lind) .. Eckert
- Russian and French Songs—
 - Three Cavaliers .. Dargomysky
 - Song of India Rimsky Korsakow
 - Villanello .. Del Acqua
 - Twilight .. Massenet
- American Songs—
 - The Lark Now Leaves His Watry Nest .. Parker
 - My Laddie .. Thayer
 - Maid Sings Light .. Farley
 - Daddy's Sweetheart .. Lehman
 - A Little Bit O' Honey .. Bond

GOOD RADIO WEATHER DURING PAST WEEK

The past week has been excellent Radio weather as very little static was audible when the power amplifier was used.

Miss Hannah Kieffer received the July 4th program over the one wire tower aerial, through the Westinghouse receiving outfit. Pittsburg relayed the Dempsy-Gibbons returns clearly.

Over the same wave length with slight variations of the tuning WHAS, PWX, and WOR came through in clear liquid tone quality.

PWX, Cuba broadcasted a Municipal Bond Concert.

WHAS, Louisville, "The Eleventh Infantry" Band Concert; while WOR, Newark gave the opera "Cavallerat Rusticana."

Radio in summer time has been demonstrated as worth while and pleasing to the listener. When the time and static permit the loud speaker will be used for the student body.

BOYS' STUDENT GOVERNMENT MAKES SUMMER SCHOOL PLAN

At a recent meeting of the officers of the Student Board, the former Constitution of the Boys' Association was revised and unanimously accepted. Under the new ruling the Boys' rooming in the Dormitory, who are twenty-one years of age may enjoy special privileges. These privileges may also be secured by those over eighteen and less than twenty-one years of age with the consent of their parents.

It is the aim of the Student Board to look after the welfare of all Boarding Boys, and desires their hearty cooperation in maintaining self-government.

MOVIES ON THE CAMPUS ATTENDED BY MANY STUDENTS

The movies held on the campus, Wednesday, July 4th, were well attended by the student body.

Miss Katherine Baker and Karl Blanche furnished music, consisting of piano and banjo selections during the early part of the entertainment.

The feature picnic, "The Prince and the Pauper," taken from Mark Twain's book, pictured the discontent that may exist even in the hearts of princes. In the comedy, Harold Lloyd played the leading role.

People who go on picnics to forget everything, usually forget even the salt for the eggs.

TWO FORMER MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY MARRY

Miss Adams, Was Music Dept. Head—Miss Disert Taught in English Dept. While at This School

BOTH ARE ON WEDDING TRIPS

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Minerva Adams, formerly head of the Music department, at her home in Ocean City, N. J., to Mr. Warren Cocklin '17 of Siddonsburg, on Tuesday, June 25, 1923. Miss Elizabeth Clever, also a former teacher, was maid of honor. The best man was Mr. Chester Meyers, a classmate of Mr. Cocklin's.

Mrs. Cocklin was in charge of the music of this school from 1917-1922. She was graduated from Cornell University in the class of 1917. Miss Evans a present member of our Music department, was a classmate of the bride.

Mr. Cocklin was graduated from this school in 1917 and from Franklin and Marshall College with the class of 1923. During the past year he was the Captain of the baseball team. He will teach at Perkiomen preparatory School this year.

They are on a trip through the Delaware Water Gap.

Miss Myrtle Mayberry, former Dean of Women, attended the wedding.

Miss Mary Disert of Waynesboro, a member during Spring and Summer of 1922 of our faculty, was united in marriage to Mr. J. Murray Barbour of Chambersburg, on June 30, 1923. The wedding took place at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Harper Black, uncle of the groom. Mrs. Robert Cline a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march.

Mrs. Barbour taught in the English Department while here. She is a graduate of the school and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania in the mid-year class of 1922. During the past year she has been assistant in the department of Education at Wilson College.

Mr. Barbour is a graduate of Dickinson College. He has been organist at the Haverford School, Haverford, for several years and is obtaining recognition as a composer.

After a simple luncheon was served Mr. and Mrs. Barbour departed upon an extended wedding trip to shore and mountain resorts. They will be at home in suburban Philadelphia after September 15.

EDUCATIONAL BOOKS POPULAR AT LIBRARY

Shippensburg students are duly interested in the profession of teaching, if an analysis of the librarian lists of books taken from her reports of July 4th is any criterion. A total of fifty-one books on Psychology, How to Teach, History of Education, and Psychology of Education, were asked for. Fiction proved a close second in popularity with twenty-four books in demand.

Thirty-eight books on various subjects were checked out, making a total of one hundred and thirteen volumes.

WILL SERVE LUNCH ONLY AT PICNIC TOMORROW

Since all the students are expected to attend the picnic, lunch will be served only at the picnic grounds tomorrow noon, according to an announcement by Miss McWilliams, the school dietitian.

RURAL DEPARTMENT CONTINUES RURAL SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

During the past year the Rural Department under the direction of Miss Kieffer, the Rural Director, has been assisting with the graded Sunday School Work at Cleversburg Evangelical Church, Rev. B. S. Hoffman, pastor.

Miss Catherine Baker, Miss Loleta Boden, Miss Ethel Hoffman and Miss Della Flickinger, will teach in the Primary and Intermediate Departments during the first half of the summer session.

The children are interested in the radio, the library, handiwork songs, short prayers, and Bible Study.

Normal School students talented in music and story telling are invited to volunteer to give special numbers at any time.

NO PATIENTS AT THE INFIRMARY THIS WEEK

The health of the students is exceptionally good this week either on account of the pleasant weather or with the picnic in view. It was reported by Miss Kyle the School Nurse, that the Infirmary was vacant making it seem rather out of the ordinary.

Keep cool at the picnic. Buy drinks and ice cream from the Y. M. C. A.

EFFICIENCY OF THE SCHOOL LAUNDRY INCREASED

Many improvements have been added to the laundry so that it is now able to take care of all the extra work imposed upon it by the very large summer school attendance.

A new Prosperity Pressing machine has been added. This machine is more efficient than the old hand method of pressing the various articles of clothing. The mangle and the extractors which wring the clothing, have been rebuilt. Each student has a locker for clothing when finished. All the clothing is sorted and handed to each student when called for. By using this method many mistakes are avoided.

The baseball game scheduled for 5:30 Thursday with Shippensburg A. C. team, had to be postponed because of rain.

STUDENTS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF VACATION, JULY 4TH

Many of the students went to Harrisburg, Gettysburg, Chambersburg, Boiling Springs or Carlisle for the Fourth. Gettysburg presented no special attraction. Visitors went over the battlefield or visited the places of historical interest connected with the field. The dancing and boating at Boiling Springs drew numbers of the C. V. Students. The Mummer's parade and the fireworks at Carlisle provided the greatest entertainment.

Carlisle made big preparations to entertain all visitors there. A tourist's guide was handed to visitors by the boy scouts. This listed thirty-two points of historical interest. Among them were the Molly Pitcher Monument, the house where Major Andre lived and the former home of Admiral Lamberton, Dewey's Chief of Staff at Manila. Some of the C. V. students stayed for the Mummer's parade at 7 p. m. and then went to see the fireworks.

The students who went to Harrisburg went chiefly to visit friends.

READING DEMONSTRATIONS HELD AT TRAINING SCHOOL

The students of the classes in the Teaching of Reading are having a splendid opportunity to attend demonstrations of the latest and best methods of teaching reading. These are given in the training school chapel.

On Friday, June 29, two demonstrations of the Aldine Method were given by Mrs. Gareissen. One was given at 11:15 and one at 3:15.

Today the Elson-Kunkel Method was demonstrated by Mr. Harry Briner.

Monday, July 9, the author of the Magee Readers will explain the purpose and methods of those books.

These meetings have been well attended by the student body.

STUDENTS AVAIL THEMSELVES OF THE UNDERWEIGHT LUNCH

The underweight students, since they realize the worth of being up to standard weight and have learned that a lunch is given at 10:15 in the cafeteria have begun to avail themselves of the opportunity.

The plans for the picnic at Middle Spring tomorrow have been completed. Four trucks accommodating about two hundred and fifty people will furnish transportation. The trucks will leave between one and two o'clock. A fee of fifteen cents will be charged each student for transportation.

Lunch will be served at 6 o'clock. One of the chief attractions for the evening will be a long fire at which all the students will roast weiners. Miss McWilliams has hinted that there will be sandwiches and other eats. Watermelons will likely be included.

Miss Hannah Keiffer has planned a large number of games for the afternoon and evening. Mrs. Stewart will read a valuable paper on the history of Middle Spring Community.

The majority of students will walk home. However, trucks will be provided for those who are not able to stand the hike. This will cost an additional fifteen cents. The only thing that might make the evening more pleasant would be a full moon.

THE ROSE FAIRY

(By Nina V. Ruth '23)

"Oh Bobby, my feet are too sore to go another step. You told me it wasn't far to Fairyland, but we have been walking since sunrise and we are only at the foot of the mountain." "Mona dear, please don't cry. See! Yonder is a hut where we may stop and rest. Perhaps we can stay all night and then in the morning we will continue our search for Fairyland."

So saying, he took Mona's hand and they walked on until they came to the little hut at the foot of the mountain. Just as Bobby was about to knock on the door, it opened of itself and the children walked inside. The door immediately closed behind them, although there was no one to be seen.

They had scarcely sat down, however, when a cheery voice greeted them from the direction of the fireplace.

"Good evening, my dears, what brought you here so late?"

Both the children stared at the fireplace, for the voice seemed to come from there, but they couldn't see a thing. Finally Bobby, not wishing to seem rude, made answer, "Kind sir, we are on our way to Fairyland in order to speak with the Rose Fairy who lives in the great Rose Palace. She has the secret of the Fairy Dew, and we are going to beg her to give us some of it to make Pattie well again."

"Who is Pattie," continued the same cheery voice, "and what is the matter with her?"

Bobby walked a little closer to the fireplace, but he could see no one so he replied politely, "Pattie is Mona's little sister, who cannot run and play like us children, but must sit all day by the window because she is crippled. We heard about the magic dew of Fairyland and promised Pattie to bring her some."

"You have come to a good place then, for I am the only person who can guide you to the home of the Rose Fairy."

Just as these words were being spoken, the fire sputtered and out of it stepped the smallest man the children had ever seen. He stepped right out of the fire, onto the middle of the floor and looked at the children with a pair of very bright eyes indeed. He was only about a foot high and was dressed in a bright yellow jacket and black trousers.

After looking at the children intently for a few seconds he said, "Since you seek the Rose Fairy for so kind and unselfish a reason, I will show you the way, but first you must have some supper."

So saying, he whisked around in such a brisk fashion that in about the space of three breaths, the table was all set with the most delicious fruits and vegetables imaginable. There was a smoking hot ear of sweet corn for each of them, and some tomatoes which were much redder than any the children had seen before. In the center of the table was a huge dish filled with golden apples and blue grapes and some peaches with cheeks as pink as Mona's. The children ate heartily and then sat by the fire while the little old man told them how to get to Fairyland.

The next morning they set off, after many promises to be very careful when they reached the silver gate in the mountain gap.

Just about noon time they reached the silver gate. Mona clung to Bobby's hand and looked in awe at the shining portal. Think of it! A gate made of solid silver. The children were so dazzled that they forgot to obey the little old man's commands.

"Oh Bobby, it's getting smaller!" cried Mona; and sure enough it certainly was shrinking away from sight.

Suddenly Bobby screamed, "The magic words! Mona, I have forgotten to say the magic words."

Too late, the gate had disappeared and Bobby had not said the magic words. The little old man had told them so many times to say the words the minute they caught sight of the silver gate.

Bobby looked regretful at Mona, who was weeping bitterly, and was about to suggest that they return to the hut of the little old man, when a squirrel came out of a tree nearby and spoke to them.

"So the silver gate made you forget the magic words, did it?" Mona raised a tearful face to look at the little squirrel and reply that they had indeed been quite overpowered by the brilliance of the gate.

"Well," continued the squirrel, "if you go across the valley to that mountain opposite this one, you will find another gateway into Fairyland. This gate is made of gold and is twice as high as the silver gate, and three times as dazzling. Don't say the magic words at this gate until you have gazed at it for a long time, for it is just the opposite to the silver gate."

The children thanked the kind little squirrel and walked quickly toward the opposite mountain. It was almost twilight when they came to the gap in the mountain, but to before their eyes appeared on the golden gate, Bobby remembered only the fact that he hadn't spoken quickly enough at the silver gate, and at once spoke the magic words. There was a sudden movement and the gate slowly disappeared from sight.

THE DINING ROOM RUSH

A few of the students are so selfish and thoughtless as to push and crowd at the dining room entrance in true mob fashion. This is especially true on the Chapel days. Last Thursday several women students who happened to be caught in the rush were not able to stand this crowding and fighting and were compelled to step out of line while the mob fought its way on. There is something radically wrong when conditions such as these exist.

The faculty has tried to remedy this by dismissing the students from chapel in sections. This plan has helped somewhat; but last Thursday the second section had been dismissed before the first section had gone into the dining room. Why cannot the dining room open a little earlier on chapel days?

The real source of the trouble lies with the students themselves. No matter how hungry a student may be or how anxious he is to enter the dining room he is not justified in such unmannerly conduct as was displayed last Thursday. No one would individually fight his way through or push the weaker members out of line, but when in a crowd the mob spirit is at work. The result is a rush.

Even if such conduct benefited any one it would be undesirable, but no one profits by this roudyism. Only a certain number can enter the dining room at a time and the only result of this pushing is an undue congestion at the room entrance.

We hope that next Tuesday we shall not have a situation like this. Remember to act the part of a gentleman and a good citizen of this school and this situation will take care of itself.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

For some unknown reason the school spirit of the students of this summer session does not measure up to par. It has only been three weeks since the winter term ended. The students of that term may not have had an ideal school spirit, but many things were accomplished by them. They were able to have a band for nine months; an orchestra of more than forty pieces for just as long. The baseball games were full of pep even if the cheering wasn't so loud. The men's Glee Club and the girls' chorus sang selections for chapel and other services. The literary societies presented programs full of vigor. The movies were well attended. The dances and receptions always found every student present with but a few exceptions. Pumpkin Centre and Red Bridge were hardly ever heard of except in a mythical way. Every event and project was entered into with true spirit, and enthusiasm lasted. Why can't we summer students have just as much spirit?

We heard a fellow say today, "This is the deadest school I ever attended." Naturally we asked him "Why?" He began complaining about the regulations, the work, and declared that this school wasn't nearly as good as the one he had attended last year. When asked what he was doing to help the school, he replied, "Well, I'm paying my tuition and I study once in a while; what else is there to do?" School Spirit? He didn't even know there was such a thing. And this fellow is a prospective teacher. We wonder what kind of a school spirit a teacher of this sort would take into the class room. It is an acknowledged fact that the members of the faculty help to create school spirit as well as the students. But since we have practically the same faculty as we had during the winter term we wonder if the fault doesn't lie with the students. In fact we are sure that it does. If the school is dead why is it dead? What are you contributing to put real life into it?

REFLECTIONS

Dances are a help to us
 As surely you'll agree,
 Let us revert to last week's notes
 The times that used to be.

'Twas a night filled with beauty
 Just suiting a lover's taste,
 I heard this exclamation,
 "Another moon gone to waste!"

An orchestra quite snappy
 Had "Jingle Bells" on file,
 Then just as an encore
 Put "The Old Gray Mare" in style.

The refreshments were cool
 Most dancers will say,
 We can get the same thing
 Any time in the day.

Some though lacking in beauty
 Were yet filled with grace,
 Like an Elgin movement
 In an Ingersol case.

Girls were all busy Sunday
 Shining up the toes
 Of shoes, which the night before
 Stood many awkward blows.

No wonder some complained
 On Sunday of sore feet,
 Many steps that "Greenhorns" took
 Were far from being neat.

Not all fast men show their stuff in track Athletics. We know a fellow who can cover the distance between the fourth floor and the dining room at noon in nothing flat.

For men students taking Public Speaking who are unable to make a success of the subject we guarantee this: Try talking with a pretty co-ed some moonlight night in a cozy nook.
 For once in your life you may be able to hold your audience.

"SNAPPY DRESSER"

That's what we'd like to hear said about us, isn't it? Well just pay us a visit and choose from our wonderful showing. If it were possible to say that it is in our Men's Furnishing Department that the most care in buying is exercised, we would surely do so, but since every department is merchandised with the same extreme care, you are assured that there are no finer assortments of men's wear to be had in any store.
