Kryl Symphony To Present Concert

WOMEN'S SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA OF CHICAGO TO APPEAR IN AUDITORIUM DECEMBER 2

College Association To Meet Here

Edinboro State Teachers College has been selected as the host college for the convention of The Co-operative Associations of Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges for 1946.

Miss Wilma Jean Steadman and Miss Edith Bates of Edinboro have just returned from the 1945 conference held at Cheney Training School for Teachers. Delegates attended from the 13 State Teachers Colleges of Pennsylvania. Discussions over the two day period centered around "The Teacher in the Post War Era" with group discussions concerned with such vital subjects as the returned veteran, the teachers place in peace, juvenile delinquency, and social trends on college campuses.

Miss Steadman, as senior representative of the host college, will act as president and chairman of the planning group for the next conference.

Bohumir Kryl, conductor of the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago, will present his orchestra in concert at the Edinboro College Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, December 2nd at 3 p. m.

Now entering its 41st year in a continuous pilgrimage of beauty, Bohumir Kryl's symphony is expected to be one of the best programs ever presented to Edinboro Students. Leading colleges and universities all over the North American continent proclaim its artistry to be of the finest quality. Success after success, triumph after triumph is scored by Kryl's every year.

Concert tours by Mr. Kryl total one million five hundred thousand miles. Included are 16,000 concerts of which at least one hundred were before leading educational institutions.

Of Kryl himself it is said that by the most celebrated critics, "one of the most magnetic and forceful chefs d'orchestra before the public." A renowned performing musician, he began his career as a cornet soloist at 19 years with John Philip Sousa. Thus began a long career of music including renown in violin, cornet, as conductor of the Kryl Symphony orchestra, and finally as a "profoundly erudite connoisseur of the fine arts."

A ticket for the concert was given to each student. If you are not planning to attend, please return this to Miss Portz, secretary to Dr. Van Houten in order that some one may enjoy an afternoon of fine symphony music.

The program were: "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," "Bells of St. Marys," "Barcarolle," "Always," "My Buddy" and "Deep Purple." For an encore she chose "My Rosary."

Mutability

"It's grand to be back!" some of us are thinking. The first week is over, with its eager moments of scanning each new arrival to see if perchance we might not recognize a familiar face. Some of last year's friends we find; others, many others, we do not. We feel a tinge of regret and realize that things will not be the same this year; they cannot be.

We live in a fast-changing world. If there is any single word descriptively characteristic of the world today, it is mutability—and especially is it true in the realm of human society.

*At best this life seems but a breath of time;
 As thin as vapour—fleeting as the summer's dawn,
 A rod too slim to hold securely in the grasp,
 A mist, appearing for a time, then quickly gone.*

No doubt each of us here at Edinboro has taken inventory of all factors bearing upon the possibility of a successful year. We have noted the changes as they affect us, have chalked them up in our minds, plus or minus, and are now settling down to a—but wait!—

Before you get into that rut, back up a little and see if it is taking you exactly where you want to go. Of course a rut is helpful if we would escape responsibilities.

"That's what I want then," says one, "a rut. Smooth going; nothing to worry about, just taking things as they came. I want to be happy!"

Well, if that's the way to be happy, then, according to W. L. Phelps, the American cow ought to be about the happiest creature on earth. The American cow, because in some countries a cow is harnessed and forced to work, while the American Elsie needs do nothing but wander at leisure, munching grass. (She doesn't even have to chew it while on her feet, but can retire to some shady lane and lie down to do her chewing.) She has no cares and is at peace with the entire world. She completes her day's toilet with an unconcerned flick of the tail (which is a distinct advantage over humanity, the average woman requiring about forty-five minutes each day to groom.

All in all then, the cow leads a very serene life with a minimum of responsibility and work; but who, after all, would like to be a cow?

It takes some people a long time, sometimes more time than they have, to learn that in the fast-changing world of today there exists no "Shangri-La." There is no possibility of carving out for ourselves a niche where we can sit down and lure happiness to us. The real values and finer experiences of life are not static, but are ever progressing. Let's move on in their company.

ESTC STUDENTS HEAR NOTED LECTURER

On Monday, November 12, Mrs. Welthy Honsinger Fisher, world traveler and noted lecturer, spoke to the faculty and student body of Edinboro State Teachers College concerning the problems of India. Mrs. Fisher has spent several years in the Orient and is preparing for a trip to Palestine soon.

Mrs. Fisher discussed the problem of Indian education. Although the British government in India was at first against any type of education, fearing Indian control, they have since introduced even secondary and higher education—providing that it is taught through the medium of the English language. Even considering this, the rate of illiteracy in India is alarming, being practically the same as it was 165 years ago. Only ten people out of every hundred can read and write their own language, to say nothing of English.

The smaller Indian states are governed by native maharajas. Several of these princes have been well educated and are zealous for the welfare of their subjects. As an example, Mrs. Fisher spoke of the maharaja who overthrew the castes, instituted a system of compulsory education and advocated the brotherhood of man.

India has played a great and important part in World War II. Her troops have fought side by side with the Allies, and her mass production of war materials has marked her a creditor country.

Mrs. Fisher stated by word and example that in order to become a really great nation, India must have the co-operation and intelligent understanding of the countries of the world.

Team Presents Debate

On October 31, the three students on E. S. T. C. campus studying debate argued the question: Resolved: That the United States should adopt a plan of peace time conscription. Miss Evadna Hunter and Miss Madeline Ledwig presented the affirmative side of the question while Mr. Glen Sebring came back with the negative.

Before assembly ballots were given to the students upon which they were to tell whether they were with the affirmative or the negative. After the debate they were to tell their attitude, be it affirmative, negative or neutral. Results posted showed the affirmative in the lead by a wide margin.

Debunking Spiritualism

October 24 found the student body gathered together to hear Mr. Howard Higgins, Dean of Emerson College, Boston, Massachusetts, and Head of the Psychology and Education Departments at that institution. His speech presented: First, the idea that he himself was a spiritualist doing a few magician's tricks, holding a seance, and communicating with the spirits. Then the second part of his speech brought forth the point: "The principle attributes of a medium are imagination and the ability to lie well."

Hamrin, Professor of Education of Guidance Director at Northwest University, spoke on "Targets for Deans" and conducted a demonstration of vocational guidance.

PLANES YOU WILL FLY IN

AIRLINES are ready to swing into action with these models, most of them war tested, but brand new to civilian operations. a—Curtiss Commando (C46)—Largest twin-engine transport, gained war fame flying the "Hump." It will carry 36-45 passengers at 250 miles an hour. b—Martin Mars (JRM)—World's biggest flying boat. Cruising over 200 miles an hour, it can carry 106 passengers with a payload of more than 14 tons for over 3000 miles. c—Lockheed Constellation (C69)—Giant war transport and holder of a transcontinental record, can carry 64 passengers or considerably more people than shown standing under its 123-ft. wing span. d—Boeing Strato-cruiser (C97)—Crossed continent in just over 6 hours. This counterpart of the Super-Express will carry 90 passengers at 380 miles an hour. e—Douglas DC-4 (C54)—Workhorse of war-time transport will be among first of newcomers to civilian use. Carries 44 passengers at 250 miles an hour. f—Consolidated Vultee "37"—Giant 204-passenger plane is 12 times size of present twin-engine airliner and will cruise at 340 miles an hour.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTIONS HELD

The officers of this year's Junior Class were elected in the first meeting held on September 14. They are Rose Pertl, President; Helen Ager, Vice-President; Helen Barrett, Secretary; Phyllis Fogel, Treasurer; and Student Council Representatives, Helen Pushchak and B. G. Hall. The year book staff was also elected. The Editor is Dora Noxon; Assistant Editor, B. G. Hall; Business Manager, Jean Hersperger; Art Editor, Annette Henness, and the art staff, Helen Barrett and Emma Lee Kingen.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Y.W.C.A. was held in Music Hall on October 3, 1945. The meeting was opened with a hymn sung by the group with Elaine Reese as accompanist. Scripture was read by Rose Pertl and the prayer was led by Peggy Stormer.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Gilmore, who spoke on the topic, "This Nation Under God." She pointed out that during the war evidence could not always be found to show that our nation was under God, but that if one would really think about it one would find that a large part of it is. She stated the principle that if the world is to be a peaceful world, our nation must be under God.

Miss Gilmore's talk was followed by the lighting of candles in the traditional candle light initiation. During the Candlelight Service "The Old Rugged Cross" was sung by a trio including Clea Johnson, Kay Bartoo and Jean Webster.

REEDER'S DIGEST

We're off to a start again, but this time it's not the fellows—but us gals who occupy this magnificent mansion that was once the boys' dorm. Beautiful rooms and no mice, except the two white rats that used to live here. Quote, "It's a wonderful place to live." Unquote.

Queenie celebrated her birthday and got through it very well. Now she's free, white, and 21. Another marvelous thing is that Filis Rite hasn't been falling out of bed since DeFlavio has moved over to Haven Hall. On the first floor, we don't need a clock to tell us when it is eleven o'clock. LeVieve Obert pops in with "It's lights out now."

The Reederites are a talented group, we sew beautiful blouses, are becoming Nurse Cadets, and can make beautiful napkins, place-mats, and Christmas cards. Sca-Rab ought to make Margie Obert an honorary member. While waiting for her husband to get back, and working for Dr. Offner, she makes leather purses and many other things in her spare time.

Something has to be done about the hot water system around here in the mornings, because Miss Fister has been handicapped by the ice-cold water. Pushie is having a birthday next month and will someone please tell us when it is.

Now that the war is over it's not hard to tell on these fair damsels that their handsome knights are returning home. Such is the case with Miss Love, her man just got home awhile ago. After dinner there has been some beautiful carol singing coming from the Music Room here in Reeder. The Nurse Cadets have been working on their Christmas program.

We can't figure out where Mary Portz lives more—here or home in Erie.

As over in Haven Hall, the woes and complaints of student teaching can also be heard here at Reeder Hall. Filis and Queenie are doing their's and Pushie's just waiting—

I must get back to my brainwork (?) after this, so lo-long for awhile.

DELTA PHI DELTA SPONSORS EXHIBIT

The Delta Phi Delta Honorary Art Fraternity is sponsoring an exhibition of Mr. A. J. Haller's paintings in the parlors of Haven Hall. These include flowers, still-life, landscapes, and scenes from Italy.

Student work is on exhibit in the rooms of Loveland Hall. Miss Skinner's exhibition includes work done in her design classes of the last few years.

The elected officers for the present year are:

President—Edith Bates.

Vice-President — Annette Hennes.

Secretary—Helen Hanson.

Treasurer—Joy Knarr.

Historian—Phyl Wright.

ALPHA DELTA ENTERTAINS

The Iota Chapter of the Alpha Delta sorority of Edinboro State Teachers College entertained the girls of the freshman class at a Thanksgiving party on Thursday, November 15, in the chapter rooms in Music Hall. The "thankful" theme was carried out in the entertainment, and refreshments were appropriate to the season.

Miss Wilma Jean Steadman of Erie is the president of the sorority and Miss Jean Hersperger, also of Erie, served as chairman of the hostess group.

Off Campus

Up we trudge our weary way To the campus every day.

Yes, that's us — the off-campus gang. We're all back with a few new ones sprinkled in here and there or shall we say hither and yon. At any rate these new ones add spice to the crowd. Would you like to know their names? Well, there's Katherine Bartoo, Jean Webster, Alice Millspaw, Clea Johnson, Marjorie Campbell, Lena Calvin and Mary Artello. Oh! Oh! I see I've forgotten a really rare specimen. Uh-huh, Jerome Folmar. What, another? You mean there are three more? Oh, this is too much! Their names are Paul Zarenko, Frank Halchin and Charles Huzenic. Now you can faint too if you like.

Flash! Since the 14th of June, Emma Lee Seabrook has been wearing those matching rings you hear about. You know—third finger—left hand. The name is now Mrs. Robert Kingen. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Kingen Loads of luck.

Two of our number traveled to Cheyney, the only negro state teachers college in Pennsylvania. Wilma Jean and Edith have nothing but praise for the gracious reception and hospitality which they received while attending the conference.

We are proud to announce that Kappa Kappa Howe House is the home of two student teachers this semester, Ro Mineo and Helen Boythe. The feeling for teaching is mutual. I mean, they like teaching, the kids like them, and teaching likes them. Oh! Oh! Here I am in a rut again! Well, anyway, you understand what I mean. Nothing more to present to date. "Se ya next issue."

Back we trudge our weary way, From the campus every day.

KEY CLUB OPENS NEW YEAR

The Key Club got off to a flying start this year when Irene Kellogg led the group in a discussion of "date etiquette." It proved most interesting and informative.

This organization has as its purpose the improvement of poise and social graces. At each meeting, the first half hour will be devoted to various etiquette problems, under the leadership of one of the faculty or student members. Games will follow, including learners bridge.

Jean Hersperger is the president of the Key Club this year, and Margaret Stormer is secretary treasurer and Romaline Hall is social chairman.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"MEN UNDER STRESS" by Lt. Col. Roy R. Grinker and Major John F. Spiegel, deserves more attention than it's getting. Because of its serious nature—it treats of mental disturbances caused by the war—readers may think it's only for specialists. Actually, it is important for all who want to understand better the hidden wounds our fighting men have suffered.

LT. COL. GRINKER

Colonel Grinker's unique method of treatment, hitherto a military secret, has to do with the use of the drug pentothal, that induces a deep comatose state under which the patient may relive the experiences that have so deeply affected him. Wonderful cures have resulted from this drug, in conjunction with other psychiatric methods.

It is the authors' conviction that discoveries that have come out of the war will prove of the greatest value in civilian life.

The word "guerrilla" is a diminutive of the Spanish word for war, "guerra," thus literally meaning "little war," points out Isabel de Palencia in "Smouldering Freedom." She quotes the definition of the Spanish novelist, Don Benito Perez Galdos: "Guerrilla warfare is the country in arms, it is the territory, geography itself, fighting."

One of the Book-of-the-Month Club December selections is "Beach Red," a novel about the Pacific. by Peter Bowman of the Staff of Air Force Magazine. The other is "Lovely Is the Lee" by Robert Gibbings.

It was so hot in the Persian Gulf district, says Joel Sayre in "Persian Gulf Command," that medical thermometers had to be kept on ice. One night 3,000 men were waiting under the stars to hear Lily Pons, when she sent out word she couldn't go on. She had just taken her temperature with her own thermometer and found that it was 103. A properly chilled thermometer was rushed to her dressing room forthwith, and the show went on.

Library Notes

You have undoubtedly read the news item on page one about the new books which the library is making available for the students' use; but have you glanced at any of these books? Have you even so much as looked at their titles? There are really some grand up-to-date volumes; for instance, 20 Best Filmplays, Gassner; Ten Years in Japan, Joseph C. Graw; Doctors at War, Fishbein; At His Side (a story of the Red Cross in World War II), George Korson; Modern Dramas, C. H. Whitman. Why don't you look these books over? You always can learn something new. And while you're browsing through these new books, you might meander over and look at the current magazines. The library offers, Life, Fortune, Time, Reader's Digest, Ladies Home Journal, Cosmopolitan, Good Housekeeping; many Science periodicals and many others with which you are familiar.

Do you miss the home town news or the news of your vicinity? There are newspapers available from every locality. It might be well to check up and to see if yours might be among them.

Don't forget, students, the library is for you. Make use of the modern novels, the modern non-fiction, the magazines and the newspapers bought for your use. Keep up with the times! Be a "well-read" American!

READERS IN PITTSBURGH SCHOOLS VISIT CAMPUS

Miss Grace Courtney, Assistant Director of Personnel, and Miss Mary A. McKibben, head of the Art Department, of the Pittsburgh Schools visited the campus of the Edinboro State Teachers College on Wednesday, Nov. 7, 1945, for the purpose of interviewing juniors and seniors with the aim of assisting future teaching personnel in the city of Pittsburgh. In view of the present impending shortage of teachers the personnel department is taking the long range view and presenting the advantages offered to future graduates by the city of Pittsburgh. Many of the upperclassmen interviewed were interested in the presentation given them.

NEW DIETITIAN COMES TO ESTC

The Edinboro State Teachers College dining room has a new dietitian, Miss D. E. Morrison. Miss Morrison was formerly the dietitian for the Allies, Inn, Washington, D. C.

Although she has just recently arrived, changes for the better can already be noticed. Breakfast is now served cafeteria style from 7:15 to 8:00 A.M.; everyone remains standing for grace at luncheon and dinner, and there no longer is any pushing or crowding to reach the dining room. All these are great improvements.

YEARBOOK PICTURES TAKEN

Pictures for the 1946 E. S. T. C. Yearbook were taken November 2. In order not to exceed the budget, it was necessary to take the three lower classes in group pictures. However, the seniors traveled to Erie the next day to have theirs taken individually.

The class pictures will be paid for out of the class treasury; others will be accounted for by the Student Council.

GUIDANCE GROUP MEET

The State Teachers College at Edinboro announced on Thursday the organization meeting of a guidance group in northwestern Pennsylvania. The meeting was held at the college on Tuesday, Nov. 13. This organization is the outgrowth of an interest aroused at the recent meeting of the Pennsylvania State Education Association held at Erie. A need was felt for a discussion group of persons interested in guidance, and under the chairmanship of Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Dean of Women at the college, a general meeting was arranged for four o'clock and a dinner meeting and discussion group at six o'clock. This meeting was open to all persons interested in the guidance of youth.

Approximately thirty people were present from Erie, Cochran, Corry, Meadville, Harbor Creek, Union City and Edinboro. Officers elected to plan for a spring meeting at Allegheny College are:

Chairman: Miss Laila Skinner, Dean of Women, Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa.

Vice-Chairman: Mr. Hamilton C. Gillespie, Principal, Roosevelt Jr. High, Erie, Pa.

FROM THE HOCKEY FIELD

The hockey season closed this year with the game played between Lake Erie College and Edinboro. The Lake Erie girls, with their beautiful manipulation of sticks, played a wonderful game. The playing time was so divided as to allow both the Varsity and Freshman teams a chance to play and to watch the team in action. The final score was 3-2, in favor of Lake Erie.

Throughout the year the upperclassmen and Freshmen played scrimmage to keep in practice and to eradicate the difficulties they may have had in technique.

The main games between the Phis and Delts took place on October 4th and October 11th. The Phis won both games, thus giving them the championship.

The results of the intramural games are as follows: The Sophomore team won 2-0 over the Freshmen, the upperclassmen was 3-0 over the Freshmen, and the Varsity won 2-0 over the Alumni.

Interscholastic games help to bring about a closer understanding between the schools and also present a wider range of experience beneficial to all who participate. During the past season four interscholastic games were played. Edinboro played Mercyhurst on November 8th. November 10, the Varsity went to Allegheny to participate in a play day. The colleges represented were Allegheny, Grove City and Edinboro.

The final scores for the entire day: Grove City 3, Edinboro 1; Edinboro 1, Allegheny 0.

The following girls make up the '45 hockey team:

Freshmen: Armagost, K. Bartoo, Buckley, Crowl, Dunbar, Flower, Fox, Gross, A. Johnson, D. Johnson, C. Johnson, Kennedy, Palmer, Peplinski, Rozelle, Sanner, Spraggon, Theobald, Vose, Twichell and McClure.

Upperclassmen: Davis, Deeter, Gordon, Houghton, Hazen, Henness, Ledwick, Merry, Mould, Patterson, Puschak, Sokolowski, Steadman, Stockton and Weldon.

W.A.A. OFFICERS

The Women's Athletic Association has held an election of officers. The President for the coming year is Annette Henness, swimming instructor and hockey star. Isabelle Gordon is the Delta leader; Frances Buchanan is the Phi leader; Helen Puschak is secretary; Wilma Jean Steadman is Treasurer, and Phil Small is the Publicity Manager. B. G. Hall is Head Custodian. Joyce Weldon and LaVieve Obert are two Phi custodians, and Shirley Hazen and Grethen Haughton are the Delta custodians.

Meetings are held every Monday at 4:30 to decide and to arrange the activities for the year.

EDINBORO PLAYERS OFF TO A SUCCESSFUL START

The Edinboro Players, dramatic organization on campus, have made a good start toward a successful season. Their membership was increased as a result of the tryouts held at the first meeting. Barring the shortage of men, the situation now seems quite favorable!

The first presentation was given in the form of a walking rehearsal of the play, "Where But In America?" Yvonne Davis, Mary Livingston and Clyde Snyder helped to make this a success.

The entire membership took part in the studio production of the Chinese play, "The Stolen Prince." All those who attended this program termed it a great success and will long remember Louise Johnson's heroic (?) lines as the property man.

A brief business meeting was held on November 7 to explain the requirements for Alpha Psi Omega, the national honorary dramatic fraternity. Evadna Hunter gave an interesting review of the play "Arsenic and Old Lace" at this gathering.

The Players report that they are contemplating some top presentations for the future so let's all be on the look-out for announcements!

TENNIS RESULTS ANNOUNCED

Just completed is the tennis tournament with 28 girls competing and the singles championship going to Catherine Sablyak, Springboro. In the preliminary singles contest Lois Rhea of Knox was the winner with Therese Malinowski of Erie as runnerup. In the doubles tournament C. Sablyak and P. Fogle of Pleasantville won over their opponents, Peggy Gillespie, Erie, and Mary Livingston, Jamestown. In addition to the above schedule 36 beginners in tennis competed for honors, the results being determined Nov. 12. Betty Gross of the freshman class was the winner with Wilma Fox the runner-up. For this contest there were thirty-six contestants.

W. A. A.

In addition to the final news in hockey and tennis, the W. A. A. can add that an extensive women's athletic program was adopted this fall. Included in fall sports were not only hockey and tennis, but also horseback riding, archery, badminton, ping pong and golf. Every girl found at least one of these activities interesting and participated wholeheartedly.

Now the outdoor sports are being superseded by swimming and basketball which will occupy the girls until the winter sports of skiing, tobogganing, and skating can be enjoyed.

PURELY GOSSIP WITH THE CADET NURSES

Why is Betty Allen's favorite color pink? Ask Lila Baker who pays for all the phone calls. Joan Bell likes candy, doesn't she, Francine? Whom does Bernie belong to, Delores Johnson or Sonia Bitzer? Shall we tell this sailor friend about Clyde, Rusty Briggs? Say, what is the name of the big town you came from, Ruth Burdick. Lois Buzza certainly has her hands full with her "children!" We hear that Lois Caldwell's beau didn't write to her for three weeks. What trip has Helen Appleby made many times?

Ednamae Carlotti makes the best fortune teller. Jean Carr's hangout seems to be Danesville. Ripley seems to be a nice place to Bernice Crippen. Marie Daniels and Charlotte are the chaperones of Danesville. What is it Betty Dahl has for a hobby? Francine Getz and Marion Shaw play a "mean" duet together. What does Marjorie Drake see in the Navy, that the rest of us don't? Flo Hulme is the quiet lassie of second floor. Doris Hayden's favorite tune is "Shine On Harvest Moon," I wonder why? Donna Johnson has her hands full with the Cadet choir. Who lives on Cranberry Street in Erie that you know, Doris Jones?

Irene Kauffer seems to prefer Florida weather to Edinboro's, and we don't blame her a bit. Nelda is the "speaker" of the Cadet Nurses. The girl with the personality is Jean Kobel. Babs Loesch, what happened on a certain Tuesday night? Clair McLane likes the name Dick and so does Pat Monroe. I hear that it's not just the name—Audrey Patterson and Cynthia Scott are the gals who keep the skating rinks going. I wonder why Dorthea Peterson is known as the "Demon." Adelle Prezwicki and Loretta Slomski seem to like hitch-hiking. The dark-haired beauty on third floor is Ginny Quagliana. Bobology is the favorite subject of Rita Quirk.

Jean Snapp likes trips to Chicago. Who doesn't? The inseparable two of Reeder Hall are Mary Lou Thrush and Dottie Trout. Hazel Tricknor loves animals as one can plainly see. "Keepie" alias Mary Ulrich, is looking for a millionaire. Has anyone lost one? Doris Van Dyke is the only woman on the earth who can go an hour without saying a word. Ask Ruth Waldemeyer if it pays to wait for a man. Just who is this Tom we hear about, Lois Walker? Let Wilma Weed tell you about the important letter she got on Saturday. Irene Zebrowski is on the lookout for a steady. What's that, Irene?

This is all the gossip around here for a little while, folks.

A rare bit of information: Edinboro is an art school, not Home Economics?

Haven Hall seems to have its share of the mouse specii—including Herbert, Harriet and Hildabelt. Seems one has made a habit of an 11:30 prowl in Room 7. And what about the waste basket on the porch roof? Perhaps we need an increase of vitae, animaliae, chordatae, mammaliae, carnivorae, felidae, feliia domesticae!!!

Who is the affectionate person on second floor who leaves red trade-marks?

What's this we hear about Deeter and Stormer? A fight? Timmy out the window? Why, girls.

Davies and Pep AND "late pers". We hear that Carol Atwater is contemplating starting a knitting class. Those are swell mittens, Carol!

Who lives over the Dean's apartment?

We're all glad to have Mary Jane back again. We've missed you, Mary Jane! Welcome back to Fibber McGee's clothes press!

Who moved the bunk beds from the vacant room on second floor?

SOPHOMORE DOIN'S

The Sophomores started the new year off right by a get-together party for the freshmen on September 10. Several simple games were played in order to acquaint the new students with each other and refreshments were served.

On Friday, November 16, the sophomore class played host to the student body and nurse cadets on a general invitation to a "pool" party" to be held in the college pool. There were games in the gym proper for those who did not participate in swimming. The party was certainly a huge success, for landlubbers and fish alike! Let's have more of 'em!

Scarab Spout

Officers for the year have been elected as follows:

Little Bug—Annette Hennes.

Scratches—Marjorie Evans.

Eggs—Joseph Grube.

The club has already held series of meetings when its members were able to sketch from live models, including Doris Bisker, Clyde Snyder, and Rex Fuller. More of this type of work will be provided if the club requests it.

Total membership, which includes every art student, number forty. We are also happy to have Miss O'Dell, Training School Art Supervisor, with us and Mrs. Marjorie Obert of the office staff. Miss O'Dell has been spending her Monday evenings working with lucite, designing candle holders with leaf motif. Mrs. Obert has done wood-working and is now interested in a leather-craft project. Another evening, Emma Lee Kinger brought her husband and we saw some of the work which he had done with metal bracelets.

With twenty-two freshmen, ten sophomores, three juniors, and five student teachers among our number we expect to have many original and progressive ideas introduced. Special projects have been planned particularly with painting which will be the first undertaking immediately after Thanksgiving. Many students are already busy with Christmas gifts for their families and friends. Exhibits, speakers, and entertainments are under discussion.

All art students, remember this is your organization. The officers welcome all suggestions. Keep Monday evenings free from homework and other activities, and make that your night for your vacation! Come on time and stay the full meeting. With your attendance, your ideas, and your spirit the Scarab Club can make this year to remember.
