Annual Pageant Of The Physical Education Department

Maloise Sturdivant Dixon In Charge

The Department of Physical Education at the college presented its twenty-second annual activity demonstration program in the college gymnasium Friday evening, January 15th, at eight o'clock, under the leadership of Miss Maloise Sturdivant Dixon, director of physical education for women. This midwinter festival comprises a pageant of sport with a narrative unfold, preceding episodes and scenes, by Elmer Huggler, a student in the major department of physical education. The program was a creative project, the work of Miss Dixon's classes in physical education.

The prologue introduced women's classes in physical fitness techniques. Aligned in the popular "V for Victory" formation, and using the traditional Schubert Marche Militaire, the group showed a series of gymnastic activities designed to favor the development of organic power, flexibility, and endurance. The exercises were originated by major students, and the procession was led by Toni Kilsdonk, a senior in this department. Fifteen major women formed the front row of the "V" formation. The balance of the program unifies today's most vigorous and popular sports in a composite picture, tracing the etymology of sport, with a background gleaned from historical and geographical research.

Episode 1 pictures the sports of antiquity—Egyptian wrestling, Roman boxing, the Greek Olympiad. Marjorie Binder, Toni Kilsdonk, and Margaret R. Rooney, advanced major students, personified Greek maidens, while the pentathlon or Greek athletic events were presented in pantomime by men from Miss Dixon's gymnastic activities classes, George Barnes, Earl Burris, Randall Clees, Fred Hill, Elmer Huggler, and Francis Johnson. Lewis Rathgeber, student council president, assumed the role of the Greek official who awards the laurel to the victors.

The next episode dealt with seasonal sports. In a modern winter scene, Ethel Batley, June Cochrane, Doris Huffman, and Sally Loncoske will show an original tap dance. Ethel Batley, Virginia Keith and Sally Loncoske presented an authentic Russian folk dance, with a background of forty dancers in costume. Scandinavia was represented by the Folk Dance Group of majors, men and women, including Maxine Hoffman and Doris Carpenter, president and vice-president of the Women's Athletic Association. In a scene from Latin America, members of two hockey teams which played on campus last fall, captained by Clara Glossner and Mary Mapes, completed under the direction of Marjorie Binder and Toni Kilsdonk, outstanding players. Both men and women participated in the basketball scene, portraying practice as it was in the "gay nineties," and as it is at the present time. Material from the Indian scene was authentic, from notes made by Miss Dixon while a member of the audience at the Gallup Intertribal Ceremonials. The men from her classes performed several unique races, including a sack race and the Navajo centipede race. Three types of badminton were illustrated: the Indian form, an elimination contest played in a circle; the Chinese game, played with the feet; and the modern sport, demonstrated by George Barnes and Toni Kilsdonk, also showed the development of tennis. The Indian Eagle dance was given by Marjorie Binder and Margaret Rooney. Freshmen girls presented Chinese temple dance, based on material and music assembled by Dr. North of the college faculty. Upperclassmen, Vonture Bielefield, Helen Burgess, Flora Kline, Martha Ruth Miller, Mary Jean Moyer, Alwilda Muir, Lucy Read, and Mary Washburn presented the minuet. A fairy dance was originated by freshmen majors, Mary Drick, Mary Jane Hoffman, Helene Porter, Nancy Rockey, Janice Sackett, Frances June Slenker and Mary Margaret Whitsel, with Emily Elliott at the piano. George Kauffman and Earl Lyons, assisted by Frances June Slenker and Mary Margaret Whitsel demonstrated tumbling. At the close of the program, the entire cast joined in the Virginia Reel, following a medley of American dances by the Square Dance Group of sophomore and junior women, non-majors.

Board of Directors Hold Meeting

The ninth meeting of the Student Cooperative Council met Thursday evening in the Council rooms. After roll call was taken, the new dean of women was introduced to the Council. The cost and selling of tickets for Miss Dixon's festival were discussed. Arnold Ericker has been chosen the chairman of the social committee since William Hoover graduates this January. The new budget was read for the rest of the semester and voted on. The next meeting will be called January 21st.

The production side of the performance was in the hands of the pageantry class. Costumes were worked out by Doris Carpenter, Elizabeth Clark, Maxine Hoffman, Alice Knowles, Gertrude Lutz, and Marie Winkleman; lighting, by Earl Burris, Randall Clees, and Donald Pletcher; properties, Leonard Brion and Francis Johnson. The setting was designed and constructed by George Barnes, Michael Bernardi, Regina Johnson, George Kauffman, Chester Pfeffer, and Paul Renne. Ticket selling was in charge of a student council group, with Marian MacPhee as chairman; Helen Burgess was responsible for advertising.

Alpha Psi Omega Has Banquet

Eiects Officers

The highest honor that can be attained on the Teachers College campus by those interested in work connected with dramatics, was achieved Friday evening, January 8, by seven members of the College Players. The Theta Zeta cast of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity, took into its membership Mary Jean Moyer, Helen Burgess, Jane Bitner, Doris Huffman, Phyllis Wolf, John Akeley, and Dan Stanley. The other members, in charge of the ceremonies, were: president, Dale Olmstead; vice-president, Janice Stratton; secretary-treasurer, Lucy Reed; and prompter Kathryn Draucker. The initiation took place at The Dutch Inn, after a dinner there in honor of the initiates.

At a brief business meeting held after the ceremonies, the following officers were elected to replace those who will leave school at the end of this semester: president, Helen Burgess; vice-president, Doris Huffman; secretary-treasurer, Phyllis Wolfe.

Kappa Delta Pi Meets At Library

Mrs. Ricker Speaks

The regular monthly meeting of Kappa Delta Pi was held at the Ross Library, January 11, 1943. Fred Jamison, President of Delta Sigma Chapter, was host. Ruth Brungard was elected historian-reporter and Jeanette Earon treasurer of the fraternity for the second semester.

Mrs. Mack C. Ricker, a member of the faculty of the Lock Haven High School, was the guest speaker for the evening. Her discussion of the responsibilities of a teacher while serving as a leader for extracurricular activities in the public schools was extremely interesting.

Miss Ruth M. Holmes took numerous pictures of the members for use in publicity. Miss Isabel Welsh, Librarian at the Ross Library, and Dr. Agnes McElwee were also guests of the fraternity.

Praeco Officers Elect

The first meeting of the Praeco staff was held Friday, January 9 in the Student Council room. At this time, Mary Debo was unanimously elected Editor-in-Chief. The editor then appointed James Peet, Business Manager; Snips Rossman and Virginia Keith, Assistant Editors.

The second meeting was held Friday, January 15 at which time assignments were given to the staff members. They were urged by the editor to have their work in by Feb. 5, the deadline, so as to prevent any delay in the Praeco's publication.

needy children of Lock Haven

The children of the training school donated most of the playthings. Members of the A. C. E. painted wooden and metal toys, dressed and mended dolls, and generally made these items suitable for gifts.

Seventeen Students To Be Graduated Under New Plan

Faculty Group Studies Tests

In an effort to keep our school on a high scholastic plane the faculty began a series of studies of the methods employed in education at Lock Haven. Dr. Parsons appointed a committee consisting of Dean MacDougall as chairman, Dr. Bottorf and Mr. Stemple. These people made a study of the types of examinations used by the faculty, in an effort to determine how valuable as tests they were, and how fair they were to the students. Each member studied each test, making his individual comments and asking questions. They were then discussed at a faculty meeting. The conclusions reached indicated that some few needed revising but that in general they were of a type most educators would accept.

The study was not and should not be considered as an investigation or as an admission of weakness on the part of our school but purely an attempt on the part of Dr. Parsons and the faculty to raise the scholastic standings of Lock Haven State Teachers College by an analytical and stimulating survey of its methods.

Assembly Attendance

Do you want two assembly programs? If you don't, let's cooperate and come at least once a week. Dr. Parsons has definitely decided to deduct quality points as he has already threatened, from all students who have over three absences each semester. He did away with one assembly program, under the impression that we were not too indifferent to attend once a week. It does not seem to work; so, it is probable that we may go back to our old schedule with two programs each week. Let's see what we can do!

Women's Basketball To Be Inaugurated

The college women step in to take their place among college physical fitness programs. They have succeeded in organizing a self-coached basketball team, co-captained by Margaret Rooney formerly an Ace of the Renovo High School basketball team, and Antoinette Kilsdonk.

Among the many girls trying out for positions on the team are Jean Drye and Mary Jane Hoffman of Huntington; Maxine Hoffman of St. Mary's; Helene Porter, Altoona; Frances June Slenker and Jane Bauman, Lock Haven; and Marjorie Binder who played two years on the varsity basketball team of Chestnut Hill College.

Games are on a tentative schedule which includes Indiana Teachers, Bucknell, Penn State Sororities, and local high school teams.

The manager of the team has not yet been selected.

The first January commencement under the new accelerated program for Lock Haven State Teachers College will take place Friday, January 22, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the new auditorium.

Simple exercises are planned. After devotions Dr. Parsons will address the graduating class. Dean MacDougall will confer degrees and distribute the diplomas. Group songs will be included in the program. Parents and friends of the graduates are cordially invited to attend.

The following students will be graduated with a B. S. degree in Education:

Beatrice Jane Bittner
William Robert Bittner
Cora Maxine Bressler
Richard Russell Caraher
Jean Frances Haagen
Elizabeth Carter Harrison
Alice June Homler
William Alexander Hoover
Fred Thomas Jamison
Gertrude Mae Lutz
Alice Mae Marshall
Mary Kathrynne Martin

Three students will be presented with the degree of B. S. in Health and Physical Education:

Jeffra, Western Maryland Coach

Harry Jeffra, none other than the former bantam and featherweight champion of the world, is the new boxing coach of the Western Maryland mittmen.

Jeffra accompanied his team to Penn State, last Saturday, where they were beaten 7-1.

Western Maryland were to have come here this season, but due to unknown reasons, they are not on our schedule.

Western Maryland nosed out the Eagles last year 4½ to 3½.

"INCIDENT AT DUSK" WELL RECEIVED

"Incident at Dusk," an original one-act play written in verse by William R. Bittner was presented in last Friday's assembly. The play was directed by Dale J. Olmstead. The cast was a skillful blending of veteran and novice College Players. Doris Huffman played Eva, Donald Swope, Joseph; William R. Bittner, Darwin, and Francis Staffiere played the warrior.

The play seemed to be well received considering that it was a drama in verse. The story concerns the remnants of civilization which are being kept alive by Darwin and Joseph. When the "culture" shows signs of dying a message of hope is injected by Joseph. He asserts that "the new day is just beginning. We will go on to discover."

Men are dying for the Four Freedoms. The least we can do here at home is to buy War Bonds—10% for War Bonds, every pay day.

This Way Out

This is the first issue of the College Times to be published under the direction of the new staff. It has been a very difficult but most interesting project for all of us. For some, it has been familiar work, but for others it has been a process of learning chiefly by the trial and error method.

The whole thought has been to present the things that are of utmost importance and value to our readers, and to make its publication an event to be anticipated.

During this time of discord among nations, this little College paper has brought a great amount of happiness to many men who have left L. H. S. T. C. and are now among Uncle Sam's military forces. There have been brought to our attention many letters of gratitude from men in the service who have been receiving the College Times.

We hope that it continues to be a great source of pleasure to everyone.

WHAT THEY DID IN THEIR TEENS:

Coach Max Bossert—

Although it may just be hear-say, it is reported that Coach Bossert left home at the tender age of fifteen to join a prize long-distance swimming team. Not long after coach had joined the team, it appeared on exhibition at Philadelphia. It happened on this trip that, during a discussion concerning who could swim the longest and furthest our genial coach accepted a challenge to swim the Chesapeake Bay to Clearfield by way of the Susquehanna River passing thru Harrisburg, Williamsport, and Lock Haven. Coach Bossert left the Chesapeake Bay in the fall of '29 and long about the spring of '36 he was gradually approaching the metropolis of Lock Haven. Here is where he (and we) got into trouble. On approaching Lockport Bridge he encountered a rather high tide which swept him about and finally marooned him in the swimming pool of old L. H. S. T. C.—NOW WE PAY FOR THAT HIGH TIDE. (this story has been submitted by the 9:00 o'clock aquatics class).

Excerpts:

The "C. C." Hit Parade—"I had the Craziest Dream," in first place with "Hear My Song—Violette" in second—"That Soldier of Mine" still sounds good to some . . . Now that our basketball team has five wins under their belt—the winner of the E. Stroudsburg-Lock Haven tilt will be, within all probably, the state teachers college "champs" . . . The girls basketball team is really looking swell in practice—(I mean in basketball—to be sure) . . . The boxing and wrestling teams are going to try to make the "Nittany Lion" roar soon—best of luck—This is one Lion you won't have to bring home alive . . . Congratulations to our new coach—he is really in the swing of things already—his pleasing smile should be one to be copied by all—he's really O.K. . . . The big town of Cleveland says their new "horse-burger" sandwiches are going over big (but not with the horses) . . . A PREVIEW—A VARSITY CLUB DANCE—SOON—so is said. . . I guess this is the time and whether it is the place or not—to all you seniors who are embarking in the field at semesters—we wish you all the success in the world—ALL of you—we hope you find what you want in life and an abundance of such—our acquaintance with you through (Continued on Page 4)

Dr. McElwee, New Dean Is Very Unusual Person

To a big collie named Mike, the leaving of his mistress, Dr. McElwee, when she came to Lock Haven, was a great disaster. He left home for three days to mourn in a lonely way, and even the local police were searching for him. At last, he came back, giving her up as lost to him forever. His spirits rose like sky-rockets, however, when Dr. McElwee brought him here for the week-end.

We can easily see why Mike is such a devoted dog, for Dr. McElwee is a gracious lady. Her eyes lighted with interest as she told us about Mike's escapade. Behind the large, natural-finish desk, she appeared small and petite. Her blue suit and bright blouse was a pleasant contrast to her blonde hair.

Dr. McElwee was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, and she graduated from Forty-Fort High School, located in a suburb of Wilkes-Barre. Her family moved to Philadelphia, and she attended the University of Pennsylvania, attaining a B. S. Degree. She obtained her master's degree at Pennsylvania State College, as well as her Ph.D., with a major in Psychology.

She taught at Hanover Township High School and later became a member of the faculty at the Pennsylvania State College, before she accepted the position as Dean of Women at Lock Haven.

She has traveled a good deal, having been to the West Coast twice. She especially liked scenic Yellowstone National Park. Dr. McElwee is fond of swimming, hiking, reading and driving her car.

When we asked about her plans as Dean of Women, she stated thoughtfully: "I want to co-operate with Dr. Parsons on stressing scholarship and to attempt to develop some scientific processes to employ in building the kind of character which is needed for a world in transition."

She told us that she would like to make a psychological study of students who are failures as compared with those who are successes, and try to make Lock Haven Teachers College a school that develops the latter.

We left Dr. McElwee's office, impressed, and perhaps carrying with us a bit of Mike's sentiments.

Beatrice Jane Bittner

Beatrice Jane Bittner, having left Jersey Shore High School with the graduating class of 1939, immediately enrolled at Lock Haven S. T. C. Having been active in dramatics while attending high school she continued to forward her dramatic ability in several large productions on campus.

Her plans for the future are yet indefinite as she plans to work at some job in the U. S. Army in sunny Florida, where she is now vacationing.

William Robert Bittner

William R. Bittner, a graduate of the Lock Haven High School, has been very outstanding in the fields of languages, dramatics, and composition. He is now Principal of the Westport High School in Clinton County, but is eligible for duty in the armed forces.

The spectacular roles in which he has played in major dramatic productions, the fine work he has done as editor of the College Times, and the honor which he has brought to the college when he won first prize in the "Atlantic Contest for College Students in Poetry" last year has proven his ability in his chosen field.

Richard Russell Caraher

Dick Caraher of Altoona, Pa., attended the Altoona High School and was graduated in the class of 1938. Dick was very active in both band and orchestra work while in high school. After graduation he played with a local orchestra until September. He then enrolled as a Freshman at Juniata College.

Dick enrolled at our college as a Sophomore. During his three years here he has majored in Science and Geography. He also was among the students who took the civilian Pilots Training Course. A member of the Y. M. C. A., the Delta Sigma Pi, the college orchestra and dance band.

If there were no war, Dick would like to enter into the teaching field. It is also his aim to attend Peabody College and work towards his masters degree. Another of Dick's plans is to seek civil service in the geographical field.

Maxine Bressler

Maxine Bressler, as a student of Renovo High School, was a member of the Glee Club and various other musical organizations.

After graduation in 1939, she enrolled in L. H. S. T. C. in the elementary field. Along with performing the duties of required courses, she participated in many extra-curricular activities which included A. C. E., W. A. A., Y. M. C. A. and all Music organizations on the campus. She was also elected to the office of Vice President of Dormitory during her Junior year.

Maxine, along with her expectations of securing a job in the teaching profession, expects to direct her attention to library work and further her education along this line.

Jean Frances Haagen

Jean Frances Haagen of Rebersburg, was graduated from the Bellefonte High School in 1939.

She entered the Teacher's College at Lock Haven the following year and chose to study in the field of Science and Mathematics. Proving to be an excellent student she was elected to Kappa Delta Pi.

In addition to her curriculum, she found time to participate actively in W. A. A. At the present time Miss Haagen is an inspector in the Glen L. Martin Defense Plant in Baltimore, Md., but anticipates a career in the teaching profession.

Elizabeth Carter Harrison

After spending two years at Dickenson, Elizabeth Harrison transferred to Lock Haven S. T. C. where she has completed her college education.

Elizabeth graduated from South Williamsport High School, South Williamsport, Pa.

While in Dickenson, Elizabeth was active in dramatics and was a member of the college choir. She continued her good work here on campus and was a member of A. C. E.; Naturalist Club, Pi Kappa Sigma.

She has a position teaching fourth grade in her home town. More luck to you, Elizabeth.

Alice June Homler

A graduate of the class of 1939 at Lock Haven High School, Alice June Homler decided to further her education by majoring in social studies and biological sciences.

Due to her excellent scholarly attainment, she has been called out of college to teach at Canton High School. She is making up the work she has missed through the help of Dean MacDougall.

William Alexander Hoover

"Cotton" Hoover comes from Winburn, Pa. He graduated from Cooper Township High School in 1938.

After he graduated from Cooper he went to State College where he worked a year before coming to Lock Haven.

He enrolled here as a freshman in the fall of 1939. He spent one summer session at Lock Haven which enabled him to graduate in three and one-half years. He majored in elementary education.

"Cotton" was a very active member of the Delta Phi Bato, a representative to the Student Cooperative Council, and the social committee on campus. His senior year he was president of the social committee.

"Cotton's" plans to be a teacher have been cancelled for the time being due to the war. In order to finish his college career, he had to enlist in the United States Army Reserve. He expects to go immediately after graduation so he hasn't any plans for the future except to wait for his call from the Army.

Alice Mae Marshall

Alice Mae Marshall already has proved her ability as a teacher by substitute teaching.

Jersey Shore can be proud of her. She was a graduate of Jersey Shore High School in 1939 and took a Post Graduate Course.

She came here in 1939 to continue her education and majored in the Elementary Course. While a member of this campus she was an active participant in the English Club and W. A. A. She was president of the A. C. E. in her senior year. Alice is also very much interested in Science and English.

As for Alice's future we're not sure. Although she is teaching now she did receive an engagement on Christmas so . . .

Mary Kathryn Martin

Mary Kathryn Martin, better known on the campus as Mary K., is another teacher that Lock Haven is proud to send out to take her place in the teaching profession.

Miss Martin graduated from the Avis High School, Avis, Pennsylvania.

During her college career her initiative and winning personality have made her a welcome participant in the W. A. A. and the A. C. E. Miss Martin was also a member of Pi Kappa Sigma and the Pan Hellenic League.

She has a position teaching the third and fourth grades at Centre Hall.

As for Mary K.'s future—ask "Cotton" Hoover.

Melvin Albert Dry

Under adverse conditions of having been out of school for twelve years, Melvin Dry entered Lock Haven Teachers College and proceeded to make a name for himself not only in football, but as a student—a remarkable achievement for anyone away from his books for so long.

Molle, as the native Bellefontan, is a nicknamed graduate with his degree in physical education two or three months after he had landed a lucrative position as assistant athletic director to Coach Vince Davis at Lock Haven High School.

Mr. Dry was a 60-minute center on the Eagle football team for three years and gained a reputation of being one of the steadiest men on the field.

He played his last game against Mansfield, when the favored Maroon was held to a 6-6 tie.

Dale Junior Olmstead

Dale Olmstead, graduated from Lock Haven High School in the class of '38. Being dramatically inclined, he decided to major in English and minor in the field of speech. Since his matriculation he has been an outstanding figure among the College Players, and has been associate editor of the College Times. Last Spring he brought forth his literary ability—winning first award in "The Harper's Short Story Contest for College Students."

Lucy Virginia Reed

Everyone on the campus is familiar with popular Lucy Virginia Reed and her pleasant smile.

Coming here as a graduate from Huntingdon High School, where she was very active in all school affairs, she became an outstanding student on our campus.

Recognizing her pleasant personality and dependability she was eagerly welcomed into a variety of clubs and sororities, and soon was elected to many offices. She is a member of the Alpha Psi Omega, the College Players and was a member of the Y. W. C. A. for two years. She was an active member of the Naturalist Club holding the office of Treasurer in her Junior year, and Secretary in her Senior year. As a Sophomore she was elected Secretary of the Girls' Dormitory and a year later she was Secretary of the Student Cooperative Council. She has been Vice President of the A. C. E. for two years.

Lucy is a major in the Elementary field and although she has no immediate prospects for the future, we know that she will meet with success in all her attempts. Such an active participant on the campus will be missed by everyone.

Worth Junior Randall

Worth Randall, a product of Jersey Shore High School, has been a well known figure in the boxing world. The "Rat" was undefeated during his junior year, and will bring down the curtain on his brilliant ring career against Penn State on the twenty-third of January.

He also has been a member of the Varsity Club, and has been pledged as a fraternity brother, Delta Rho Beta.

He is majoring in health and physical education, and upon graduation he will enter the service in Gene Tunney's "Navy Physical Education Program."

Fred Thomas Jamison

Fred Thomas Jamison, graduate of Lock Haven High School in 1939, entered with the desire to gain a foundation for biological sciences. Because of attaining high scholastic standards in his academic subjects, Mr. Jamison was elected President of Kappa Delta Pi. Last year he was sent to the Kappa-Delta Phi convention held at New York City to represent the college. He has also been an active member of the College Players, participating in two of the major productions. Fr. Jamison was active in the Delta Rho Beta, English Club, Naturalist Club, and Shakespeare Literary Society. His intentions after graduation are indefinite, but he would like to prove himself in the field of biological research.

Gertrude Lutz

After graduation from Portage Township High School in 1939, Gertrude Lutz enrolled in L. H. S. T. C. in the Elementary department.

She has been a member of the ACE, WAA, and various other Musical organizations. She was also elected President of the Dormitory for one year.

Miss Lutz is hoping to obtain a teaching position immediately following her graduation.

Walter Armin Ganz

An outstanding figure in the sporting world around the campus is Walter Ganz, a product of Pitcairn, Pa. where he attended high school. At Pitcairn, he was a four letter man, excellent in football, basketball, baseball, and track. All this did not interfere with his scholastic work as he was a member of the student council and stood in the upper third of his class. He was also an Eagle Scout and assistant scoutmaster.

Upon graduation from Pitcairn High School in 1939, he entered Lock Haven S. T. C. and prepared to follow his natural ability in the athletic world by majoring in health and physical education. He immediately set out to make good in his desired field, as he made the varsity football and baseball teams. He also is boxing this year, his senior year. Scholastically he continued to keep up his excellent work. He has been student council representative, a member of the YMCA of which he has been treasurer for two years, a member of the naturalist club being president for two semesters, and a member of the varsity club.

He plans to teach biological science and physical education along with coaching athletic teams. He also planned to study for his Master's Degree but his study will be interrupted as he is in the Naval Reserve in the V-7 program. He expects immediate call after graduation in January, and has asked for submarine warfare duty.

Yost Drills Naval Cadets

Lieutenant (j.g.) W. Howard Yost, U. S. N. R. is now on duty at Athens, Ga. U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School, conditioning air corps cadets to be the finest turned out by the armed services.

It was Lieutenant Yost that was responsible for the great basketball team at this college for the past two seasons.

The Eagle cagers, under the Coatesville, Pa. native rose to great heights last year when they conquered the unbeaten Pocono Mountain boys from East Stroudsburg, who were one of the high ranking teams in the nation.

At Athens, Lieutenant Yost is one of a staff of experienced instructors and athletic leaders supervising the stiff 12 weeks physical fitness program for more than 2000 cadets.

He received his indoctrination at the Pre-Flight School, Chapel Hill, N. C.

A large article about him appeared in the Tuesday evening Williamsport Sun with a good-looking picture of the former Eagle cage mentor in his Naval uniform.

COLLEGE SPORTS

Eagles Box, Wrestle Penn State, Sat.

Wrestle In Afternoon, Boxing In Evening At Recreation Hall

The long-awaited meeting with State in boxing and wrestling will take place this Saturday at State College.

With a school 26 times ours in enrollment, such a venture would seem to many of the wiser sports enthusiasts to be a suicidal gesture but to the mittmen and grapplers of T. C., it is just another meet.

The Eagle punchers have set up enviable records with other big schools and in comparison with State's should make a creditable showing before the State College fans.

On the mat, Lock Haven has not been up against such competition as the boxers, but the fact that the Maroon team has never been beaten since the insurrection of the sport in 1938, is alone an outstanding achievement and should warrant their meeting the Nittany mittmen.

Leading the Bossert ringmen will be Senior Worth Randall at 121, George Barnes, 135; Earl Burris, 145; and Leo Rafferty, light-heavy. Clees, veteran 128 pounder, was operated on for appendicitis and is lost for the season.

New faces will be Walter Ganz, 155, and Red Sanzatta, 165, and heavyweight Max Conley.

Hobart Benchoff, Rafferty's understudy may see action in case of a shift in the lineup.

Coach Jack's squad is still indefinite but is built around Francis Johnson and Mike Flanagan.

Wrestling will start at 2:30 and the boxing matches at 7 P. M.

A crowd of approximately 4,000 is anticipated.

Hubert Jack Assumes Duties

Handling Basketball and Wrestling

The shortage in the Physical Education department has been relieved with the arrival of the newly-elected coach from DuBois High.

It is congenial Hubert Jack who took over Yost's desk two weeks ago and is already creating a likeable personality with the students and faculty.

The Western Pennsylvanian, (more specifically Slippery Rock) comes here with quite an enviable record in sports circles.

In his six years at DuBois High, his football record was 42 victories and 15 setbacks. Last year the gridders were undefeated.

In wrestling, Jack's team was really outstanding, having 40 wins and but six defeats.

Oddly enough, all six losses were to strong Clearfield.

He has produced four State Wrestling champs and 19 district title holders.

Born in Slippery Rock, Pa., Coach Jack graduated from our rival school Slippery Rock Teachers with his degree in Phys. Ed.

He did his graduate work at University of Pittsburgh.

His first job was at Grove City H. S. where he supervised wrestling, football, gymnastics and track. Jack was at this post for eleven years before he went to the Clearfield County school.

Unable to single out any one sport as his favorite, "Smiling" Jack says football, wrestling, and boxing are all great.

Incidentally, he did some amateur boxing, himself,—for the YMCA in Butler, Pa. as a light heavy.

Hobby—well, none in particular but the new mentor does like good movies and adds that "Gone With The Wind" is still tops.

L. H. BEATS BLOOM

The fast-traveling Lock Haven basketeers thumped Bloom on Jan. 9th, 59-36, and the score might have been more drastic, but the new cage mentor, Hubert Jack, saw an opening to give his second stringers a much needed chance for playing experience.

Faul Coront led the one-sided battle with 18 points and might have had more had he done better or the foul shooting line where he sank 4 out of 14.

Metzler and Bernardi rang up 15 and 13 points respectively.

Buss Shaner's teamwork and defensive play was something to behold.

Stroud Has Big Second Period

By Glenn Miller

Lock Haven bowed last night to one of the best college teams in the state. It was a breath-taking thriller. Toothpick Pete and his cohorts were a happy bunch when the ball game ended, and also awfully lucky. Foul shooting was the deciding factor in the ball game as each team had twenty field goals. Stroucsburg made 6 out of 7 fouls and the Havenites only made 5 out of 9.

Lock Haven started fast and it was 11 to 10 at the end of the first period, then the rains came. Stroucsburg racked up 23 points in the next period to the Eagles nine. This gave them a comfortable 33 to 20 lead at the half.

In the 3rd and 4th quarters, the Eagles outplayed and out fought the victors by a large margin. Sheer guts and determination was the outstanding factor in the second half. Lock Haven was outclassed as far as ball handling was concerned, but they were an inspired team. The whole team played their hearts out and gave a good account of themselves.

Again this year, Bus Shaner covered Pete Pasko like a tent and held him down to ten points. Coront practically pulled the team through the first half alone, as he scored 12 of the 20 points scored in the first half. Bernie Metzler was off in the first half, but scored 7 field goals in the second half. The "mighty mite" from Pottstown played a brilliant game at guard scoring 13 points. His ball handling was superb as usual and he made his share of the buckets. Mike Bernardi played a good floor game, but was off in his shooting and failed to dent the cords. The shining light from Lilly, Jim Maurer, was the only sub used by Lock Haven.

Clees Suffers Appendectomy

Lost To Team

The boxing team suffered its first setback even before the first match when Randall Clees, varsity 128 pound slugger had his appendix removed last Saturday afternoon.

The graduate of Montoursville High would have been almost a certainty to score for the Eagles against State.

This will probably write the finish to Clees' ring career, due to the War.

Clees turned in four victories last season.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

SPORTS COMMENTS

By George Barnes

ON THE HARDWOOD SLABS

From what I've heard, the Stroud game must have been a real Madison Square Garden thriller.

Buss Shaner proved himself again, as the celebrated Pasko netted just 10 points.

The Pottstown flash has kept Pete from looking like a topnotcher both times that he has played against him.

Bernie Metzler is a hustler if there ever was one.

He tipped in 8 baskets at Philadelphia.

Coach Jack is handling the basketball team very well, considering his late arrival at T. C.

With some capable reserves, Lock Haven would rank with the big basketball teams in the country, in the opinion of many observers.

Certainly, last year's and perhaps this year's team is the best ever put out at Lock Haven.

WITH THE GRAPPLERS

Coach Hubert Jack is really putting the wrestlers through the paces.

With such a competent head man, we should have a pretty good team to send to State, Saturday.

Young Clem Link, who will probably be at 121, is expected to leave for the army the week following.

John Plummer may develop into a good heavy from what we have seen of him in practise.

Charlie Ridenour and Sam Harry, both Eastern Intercollegiate wrestling champions, are on Penn State's team.

A GLIMPSE AT THE MITTMEN

After a little scouting last week, I found that Penn State, whom we box Saturday night, have but two men back from last season.

The Lions beat Western Maryland 7-1 but it was the poor shape of the Marylanders that made the meet uninteresting.

On three or four occasions, a Western Maryland boy was ahead only to tire in the final heat. The chances for an Eagle upset look very promising.

The boxing meet with University of Maryland, 1942 Eastern Intercollegiate champs, has been set back from January 16 to February 6th.

Sam Brazinski has taken over the managerial reins of the boxing squad.

Walter Ganz, along with Rat Randall, is the most faithful trainer.

We still have no definite home matches although Bossert is contacting Michigan State, CCNY and VMI.

SPORT SCRAPS

The Women's athletics have been appropriated money for the second semester.

They are planning a girls' basketball team.

Joe Moran was high man for the Alumni against the I. C., the other week.

Someone has nicknamed our new coach, "Smiling Jack."

I heard that Whitey minds Coach Bossert's little daughter while the Mill Hall suburbanite goes out on business.

Someone's complaining that Bossert is giving them the works in aquatics class.

Stinky Hartzell, last year's 145 wrestler, was on campus and looking none too rough in his Navy outfit.

Don Blomen, former Eagle heavy, does a little boxing in the Navy Air Corps when he has time.

Miss Dixon incorporated practically the entire student body in her annual Mid-Winter festival. How's she do it?

Ray Bauman is number one off-campus sports fan.

Buzzard Davies is absolutely the most persistent ping-pong fiend.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Joe Moran

PROLOGUE—Once again as we commence this highly impecunious and thankless task we recall with distinct feelings of nostalgia the days when we were getting paid for pounding out less copy than we do now. However, there is nothing we like to do better (well almost nothing), so if you'll bear with us again, we'll attempt to see another issue through.

HAIL AND FAREWELL—To Miss Margaret Mary Madden, one of Hollidaysburg's proudest products (Bernie Metzler's the other) we extend our congratulations as the new TIMES editor. And to Bill Bittner, the outgoing chief we tender our felicitations on a job well done and a hearty wish for the best of luck as he takes off in the pedagogical field up in the wilds of Westport. One word of caution, Bill—stay away from the Westport Hotel!

WHO SAID THAT—Mr. Glenn (Fata) Miller has been reported present at the docking of one or two Fortresses on the Dawn patrol. . . . Wonder if there'll be some changes made now that the Brookville Miss is back??? . . . Rat Randall is up to his old tricks again—shining mirrors in the eyes of passers-by. It's bad enough having Bloody Bill Bittner's blue serge suit constantly before us. . . . Ruthy Terrill of the Main Office, and Paul Coront are quite an item, and Tommy Galitski has switched his affections from Beech Creek to the Dean of Instruction's office. . . . Lilly's Shining light—James LeRoy Maurer—is reported to be creating quite a furore in the hearts of some of the down-town lassies. . . . Rosie Brachbill's Brockerhoff Hotel friend left for the Army Air Corps over the week-end and Peggy Smeal was dealt a blow when James Stephen McLaughlin that white collar lad from Piper Aircraft, departed for the service last week.

WE'D LIKE THIS—Mary Debo's ability to shag under chairs displayed. . . . Christy Bauman in the Front Office. . . . That band (?) of George Barnes' at basketball games. . . . To see how some of these critics of the Enlisted Reserve would fare in the Army. . . . Less snow and more sunshine. . . . to see Larrupin' Leo Rafferty 'a courtin' . . . and a victory over Pete Pasko & Co. down at East Stroudsburg.

THEY SAY—There's nothing like the good, old days. . . . Pat O'Neill (vill) used to be a lieutenant in the Marines and Johnny Quigley, former editor of the TIMES is mighty close to a commission as a pilot in the Air Corps. . . . Lover Bob McFall once spent a term as keeper of a bunch of lunatics near Selingsgrove. . . . We wonder? . . . Sammy Brzinsky still visit in Beech Creek at the Beechdel Ranch. . . . Mitch Flegal has a friend on one of the Fortresses. . . . Seaman Pete Innocent, whom you will no doubt remember as a pretty fair footballer last fall, was once a member of the Boys' Choir at St. Agnes Church here in town. . . . Several young ladies in the Girls' Dorm are concerned over the condition of Jim Peet, the hospitalized native of Proctor, Pa. . . . Rita Williams who lost Ben Ulrich to Penn State, now has Earl Lyons to console here.

BI-WEEKLY BOUQUET — This time presented, with all appropriate gestures, to those two female screwballs—the Misses Helen Burgess and Mary Jean Moyer for their unique method of bidding farewell to our graduating mid-terms. Incidentally Dean Bottorf is still trying to deny any interest in Miss Moyer.

ESSAY—Once upon a time, long long ago, we knew a young man attending college who was still foolish enough to attempt to solve the mysteries of the feminine gender. He became enamored of a certain young lady. Now this confession, in itself, is nothing out of the ordinary, as all adolescents, we are told, at some time or another experience the same thing.

However, the young lassie in the deal, apparently not realizing that she had a diamond in the rough for the asking, spurned our hero's advances.

In honor of this milestone in his career, we scribbled, at that time, several essays proclaiming the jilted's feelings. Here for the first time, we release for publication one of these valuable manuscripts. The title:—

"ON BEING JILTED"

(Wherein the writer attempts to describe the feelings of one who has been suddenly informed that his company is no longer desired by the object of his most tender affections.)

The sensation of being "jilted," to use the common term for being let down by the one person one does not suspect capable of such action, is to say the least, a most depressing one. It does all sorts of undermining things to the unfortunate being who is on the receiving end of the action. His ego receives a cruel blow when the realization comes that there is, after all, some other individual in this whole, wide world that the young lady in question prefers to him.

And ego is a most important commodity in the everyday life of a normal young man. It makes him feel like jumping fences on his way to see Her, and he thinks that the world is his when, resplendent in that new blue serge suit and polka dot bow tie, he strolls proudly down the avenue with his Choice beside him.

He can be feeling most mighty blue until he suddenly sights Her and then there comes over him a decided change and he glows all over with happiness. Yes, ego is a most essential part of the armor with which a young man defends himself against the onslaughts of this cruel world and all the false subtleties connected therewith.

Our jilted, to coin a word, when he receives the fatal news tries to be as blasé about it as possible, striking an attitude of nonchalance with just a little of the "you're not the only pebble on the beach" philosophy thrown in to conceal what he desperately hopes will pass for a good front. In public he is all the "good fellow" that he formerly was, never seeming the least bit affected, or so he hopes.

There are so many intimate little secrets that he shared with Her before their association was so rudely and so abruptly terminated, that he finds it difficult at times to realize that another lad has now taken all that over. Radios and nickleodians send forth sentimental ballads that will not allow his memory to free itself from those thoughts once so dear to him.

He consoles himself with the thought that "it was ever thus" and that he is not the only lad who in all the years of time has been faced with this type of disillusionment. Time and again however, he runs across something that reminds him of those former days and his gloom returns anew. He thinks seriously of wearing a mourning band upon his sleeve where once was displayed his noble heart, and he grins bravely at the gibes of his associates who josh him unceasingly on his newly-acquired solitude.

And so, finally, he accepts the advice of more seasoned and learned individuals that—"the best cure for one woman is another"—and sets forth in search of new worlds to conquer.

If we write another Chatter column before the Army beckons, we'll let you know how Our Hero makes out.
