

"Collector's Luck" Exhibit
Unusual Project of A. C. E.

On January 10, the A. C. E. meeting was given over to a "Collector's Luck" exhibit. The kindergarten became a museum full of interesting and valuable articles from all parts of the world. As there are no museums near Lock Haven, this exhibit was particularly significant and instructive. Miss Lyndall Fox, with the assistance of A. C. E. members, arranged and explained the exhibit.

The following is a list of exhibitors and their contributions: Miss Lillian Russell, Philippine lace, wall hanging from Manila, a Chinese necklace, a cameo from Manila, and a fan from Porto Rico.

Miss Gladys Erickson — articles from Turkey, small knives and forks with colored handles, a knife in a case, hand made plates, a camel saddle bag; articles from China, grass linen lunch set, a teapot, an inlaid Go. an holder for the holy book; from Norway, Hardanger lunch cloth made by Mrs. Erickson, and silver jewelry, including bracelets and brooches.

Mr. J. Elliott Fisher—a Turkish cigarette holder which is a yard long, a pair of peasant slippers from Athens, Greece, and a carved, small cigarette holder.

Dr. Frances Coppens — Persian candle stick, a rug woven in a Scottish Highland cottage, liberty scarfs, a tile plaque made in Winchester, England, a dish of Sabino ware from Paris, a tavern pewter ale mug from Aberdeen, Scotland, and a wedding basket from Porto Rico.

Miss Esther Richards—hand made lace from Brittany, France, a Bulgarian linen lunch set, and a hammered copper tray from China.

Miss Berthe Daniel — hand crocheted bed spread, and several books of poems autographed by the poet, Robert Frost.

Miss Maloise Dixon—a collection of forty or more articles decorated with owls. This collection included book ends, letter opener, lamp, ring, glass ware, and a Vassar College year book in which the decorations are of owl designs.

SENIORS ANNOUNCE FEB. 16
AS DATE FOR ANNUAL DANCE

The Senior dance, which is the outstanding social event of the year, will be held in the College gymnasium on Friday, February 16, 1934. This promises to be an elaborate affair. Music will be furnished by Joe Vanucci's orchestra.

Dr. Armstrong has granted the seniors Friday only because of a special circumstance and does not want it to establish a precedent. The seniors are very grateful to Dr. Armstrong for this favor.

J. H. S. History Classes
Finish Two Clever Units

The history department of the Junior High School has completed the projects for the semester with two very clever ones.

The Eight C division, under the direction of Robert Emery and John Marshall, wrote a very original play, centering around President Roosevelt and the current problems. While sitting at his desk and wondering about solutions to the national problems he fell asleep and dreamed. In his dream, the shadows of all the Presidents appeared and told him about the important events and their solution during their terms of office. Mr. Roosevelt awakened, and with the help of former Presidents, the formation of the N. R. A., C. W. A., and C. C. C. was carried out.

A sand map of Pennsylvania was made up by the Eight A division under the direction of Dale Smith. The topography of the state was carried out by scale. Such points as the State Capital, Gettysburg and others of interest were designated by miniature models carved in soap. The products such as coal and oil were placed in the respective regions. The entire project was worked out in units by individuals within the class.

Y. M. C. A. Circus Features
Minstrels and Side Shows

Saturday evening, January 13, at eight o'clock the college students and faculty of Lock Haven State Teachers College turned out for an evening of real fun. The members of the Y. M. C. A. gave a Circus and Minstrel Show in the gymnasium.

It was a real circus from beginning to end. The side-shows were the most unique ever shown, and all for a nickel. Ralph Opper, who has had actual experience, was a barker of no mean quality.

The announcer of the big show was Cal Cooke. Arthur McCloskey was the interlocutor. The audience enjoyed not only the acts and freaks of the circus but the numbers of the minstrel show. The use of familiar names in the jokes increased the hilarity which accompanied the minstrels. The mountaineers, Wilkinson, Opper and Salada, received loud acclaim. The Al Jolson act by Jimmie Myers, Johnsons, Drick and McCarthy kept the audience in an uproar. Harold Cronister and Jimmie Myers' solos made some songs become popular over night with the students. Bill Murphy's big part was accompanist at the piano.

Popsicles, candy, and gum, without which no circus would be complete, were sold. Much of the credit for the success of the circus goes to William Statler, chairman of the committee.

Alpha Sigma Tau Wins
Second Scholarship Cup

For the second time in four years the Zeta Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Tau Fraternity (located at Lock Haven State Teachers College) has won the Alpha Sigma Tau national scholarship cup. This announcement was made in the last issue of The Anchor, the Fraternity's publication. Older issues indicate that the Zeta Chapter won second scholarship honors for the last several years. A letter from the national president states that the cup will soon arrive from the Alpha Chapter at Detroit State Normal College.

At the A. S. T. meeting on January 17, the officers for the new semester were elected. They are: President, Virginia Cheesman; Vice President, Charlotte Knapp; Treasurer, Louise Robertson; Secretary, Caroline Shultz; Corresponding Secretary, Florence Priddy; Inter-Sorority Council, Nancy Kiser and Caroline Shultz.

Gage Memorial Loan Fund
Is Established for Students

Homer Howell Gage, a former instructor in the foreign language and English departments at Lock Haven State Teachers College, who died during the school year, 1930-1931, the Class of 1931 established a fund as a memorial to him to be used for library purposes. To the present time the money has not been used. It was thought fitting this sum should be used in such a manner as to help the students whom Mr. Gage would have aided. A Homer Howell Gage Memorial Loan Fund has been established with the contribution which the Class of 1931 dedicated to Mr. Gage. This fund is to be administered by a committee composed of the President of the college, a member of the English Department, and a representative of the Training School.

Because the Memorial Fund is not so large, at present, only a limited amount can be borrowed by any one student. The applicant must be a member of the junior or senior class, and must have done conspicuous work in the English or in the language departments. The loan is made for one year but upon application the committee may renew it.

It is not the purpose to have this memorial in its present form made permanent, but only so long as the students are in need. A change will be made when a more fitting memorial is founded.

Praeco Dance in Early Spring

An event which we may look forward to with much pleasure is the Praeco Dance. It will be held the last part of March or the first part of April. A further and more definite announcement will be made later.

Betty Glatzert Will Head
Times Staff this Semester

According to the custom of the College Times Staff of giving as many members as possible an opportunity to act in different capacities, the Board of Control has announced the new staff which will publish the paper during this second semester. Betty Glatzert, who has been managing editor, will head the staff as editor-in-chief with Mary Sharp as assistant editor and William Anderson as managing editor. Other positions on the Board of Control are: business manager, William O. Murphy; copy editor, Ethel Quigg; make-up editor, Madelyn Faulkner.

Those in charge of different departments are: news, Florence Hunt; sports, Trafton Buchanan and Stewart Wilson; alumni and exchange, Lucetta McKibben; social, Naomi Wentz; girls' sports, Blanche Hoberman; features, Marjorie Dice; typists, Lucile Orlin and David Smith. Olga Bader, Doris Catterson, Edward Kimble, Jack Daugherty, Franklin Couter, Howard Underwood, and Paul Miller are news reporters in the different departments.

The two former editors-in-chief who are still on campus, Marion Francisco and Isabel Welch, will act as student advisers to assist Miss Berthe Daniel, who has been appointed faculty adviser in the absence of Mr. Weldon Williams.

Local Students Attend Y
Conference at Penn State

Nine girls from the two Y. W. C. A.'s at the Lock Haven State Teachers College attended the Student Christian Association Conference held January 13 and 14 at Penn State, under the leadership of Dr. A. Bruce Curry, professor at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and one of the most popular speakers to students in the country. Rebecca Williams, president of the dormitory Y. W., Maude Brungard, president of the dayroom Y. W., and the following cabinet members were in the local delegation: Ellen Louise Rooke, Jean Smith, Wanda Brown, Betty Glatzert,

EDITORIAL

One of the most interesting departments on any high school or college paper is the exchange department. Our College Times for several years has exchanged editions with other State Teachers Colleges in Pennsylvania and neighboring states, and with some of the larger colleges and universities including Bucknell, Kent State (Ohio), and Carnegie Tech. Such an exchange of college newspapers makes for a better paper. From many of these editions we have taken or adopted helpful ideas for our own paper, or we have frequently used interesting bits about college life for our exchange column.

Nevertheless, we are unable to print all the interesting features in these college papers because of lack of space. We suggest that you, as members of a college student body interested in what other college students are doing, come up to the College Times office some day and look over these newspapers on the rack just inside the door. Read the interesting Cheyney Record, issued by the Negro State Teachers College at Cheyney; read the Bloomsburg Maroon and Gold and the Shippensburg Reflector, the Indiana Penn, the Kutztown Keystone, and the Hammer and Tongs from the Vulcan Smithy of California State Teachers College. Each of these newspapers publishes interesting student news, timely editorials, clever features, and unusual exchange notes. Each in its own way should hold some interest for you as college students. These newspapers are not just for members of the Times Staff but for every one in the college.

Welcome!

To new students who are entering our school for the first time this semester, and to those who are returning to college to go on with their educational work, we extend our heartiest greetings and best wishes for success.

Have You Read?

(Being a very brief list of books, old and new, which you may find interesting and entertaining as well as educational.)

Call Home the Heart Fielding Burke

A charming story of the ever lovable Southern mountaineers—the story of Ishma, who tires of the drabness of life in the hills and seeks a position in a factory town, only to return to the loveliness of the clear mountain air and the hills.

As the Earth Turns

Gladys Hasty Carroll

A novel of the New England soil, of the sturdy New Englanders and their ups and downs of life—birth, death, love, marriage, and threatened divorce—throughout the relentless rounds of the seasons, winter, spring, summer, fall, and winter again.

South Moon Under

Marjorie K. Rawlings

Another of those deeply moving "novels of the soil," a story of poor whites in the Florida scrub.

Testament of Youth Vera Brittain

A personal account of the period from 1900 to 1925 interpreting the changing moods of the time, by a girl who came to maturity during the poignant War period.

Collected Poems of Rupert Brooke

The poems of young Rupert Brooke, English poet who died in the war, will satisfy all your desires for loveliness and charm.

Journey of the Flame

Antonio deFierro Blanco

A glamorous tale of early pioneer days in lower California, an enthralling book for red-blooded adventurers!

The House of Exile Norah Waln

A delightful account of personal experience in China, describing life within the barrier set up by Chinese aristocracy against most foreigners.

Let the Hurricane Roar

Rose Wilder Lane

A short and simple tale of the two young pioneers, Charles and Caroline, and the hardships they endured on the Dakota plains.

Young Mrs. Meigs Elizabeth Corbett

For your lighter moments is this story of a captivating young lady of eighty years, who does what she pleases which includes ignoring interfering relatives.

TWELVE THINGS TO REMEMBER

The Value of Time.
The Success of Perseverance.
The Pleasure of Working.
The Dignity of Simplicity.
The Worth of Character.
The Power of Kindness.
The Influence of Example.
The Obligation of Duty.
The Wisdom of Economy.
The Virtue of Patience.
The Importance of Talent.

LOCAL STUDENTS ATTEND Y CONFERENCE AT PENN STATE

Catherine Moore, Grace Thompson, and Lucetta McKibben.

The conference opened Saturday afternoon after lunch with a short worship program, and a discussion led by Dr. Curry on "The Bible and the Quest of Life," followed by group discussions for the boys under the direction of Mr. Forrest D. Brown, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Bucknell, and for the girls under Mrs. Harry W. Seamans, former Y. W. C. A. secretary at Penn State.

At 6.00 o'clock was the Student Movement Dinner for the visiting leaders and delegates in the Sandwich Shoppe. Greetings to the convention were extended by the college representatives, with Manlio F. DeAngelio, '35, Penn State, as toastmaster, and Dr. Curry as guest of honor. Dean R. L. Watts, of Penn State, spoke of "The Student Christian Movement and the Local Campus" and Prof. C. M. Bond, Bucknell, discussed "The Student Christian Movement and Its World Outreaches." The dinner ended with a review of the Canadian-American Student Christian Association Conference, and a preview of the 1934 conferences at Buck Hill Falls and Eagles Mere.

The evening session, in charge of Dr. Curry, was followed by a hike and doggie roast at the Pennsylvania Student Christian Association Cabin, Shingletown Gap, Tussey Mountains. Overnight the girls were entertained at the State sorority houses and dormitories.

The Sunday sessions opened at 9.00 o'clock with a program session followed by worship, and chapel in the College auditorium with Dr. A. Bruce Curry as speaker. The closing session after dinner was also in charge of Dr. Curry.

Dr. Curry in his speeches stressed the aims of Christian living, using the Bible as a guide. The aim of life, he said, is to develop human personality, and the contributions of religion to this development are the New Ideal, method, and resources.

Other colleges represented at the conference were: Bloomsburg Teachers, Bucknell, Juniata, Mansfield Teachers, Susquehanna, and Wilson.

INTRA MURAL CAPTAINS ARE CHOSEN FOR TEN TEAMS

The intra mural basketball season will be under way before long. There will be ten teams in all and these will be divided into two leagues of five teams each. Various names have been chosen for the teams. The games will be played on Wednesday nights with two games in each league taking place every Wednesday. At the end of the schedule the winners of each league will meet in the play-off for the championship.

The team captains are Shively, Poole, Baker, Marshall, Hoy, Dettrey, Kipp, Reighard, Stehman and Wilson.

"A great teacher is more precious than the perfect course of study . . . Great teachers make great men." King.

CLUB NOTES

Rho Omega Lambda

The Rho Omega Lambda's enjoyed a Christmas party on Monday, December 18, in the sorority room. The girls presented Miss Mable-Louise Arey, the faculty advisor, a glass hobnail lamp, and they also exchanged gifts. The sorority room was attractively decorated with training pine and red ribbons; the tea table was set with silver and red candles. Delicious refreshments were served.

Shakespeare Literary Society

Friday afternoon, January 12, the Shakespeare Literary Society held its first meeting of the new year. The most important business was the election of officers for the second semester. Plans are being made for interesting meetings next semester. This includes a meeting at Dr. A. S. Rude's home. Ernest Gilliland is to be president, Michael Danko, vice-president, Charles Eyer, treasurer, Ethel Quigg, secretary, and William Statler, sergeant-at-arms.

Rho Omega Lambda

At the meeting of the Rho Omega Lambda Sorority January 15, the newly elected officers were installed by the out-going president, Florence Hunt. The officers who will serve for the second semester are: president, Clarita Duhart; vice president, Marion Harsch; recording secretary, Naomi Wentz; social secretary, Dorothea Stitt; treasurer, Martha McDowell; usher, Virginia Albright; chaplain, Mary Hill.

Delta Rho Beta

On Friday evening, February 2, the Delta Rho Betas will hold a smoker and formal initiation of new members recently ushered into the mystic realms of Deltaism. Faculty members, alumni, and the new plebes will gather once more for an evening of fun. Plans will be made for the ushering of freshmen into the order in the immediate future.

B. E. X. Entertain Miss Edgerton

On Saturday evening, January 7, the Beta Sigma Chi Sorority entertained one of their advisors, Miss Avis Edgerton, at a dinner party at the Dutch Inn, Mill Hill.

Previous to the dinner Miss Edgerton was presented with a gift. After the dinner Miss Edgerton served coffee in the family dining room.

Members of the sorority planned the attractive table decorations which included clever place cards. Candlelight added to the coziness of the Inn.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

The Junior High School Student Council, in a recent meeting, granted an appropriation to the Junior High School Orchestra for the purchase of music.

The Orchestra plans to buy the Fox, No. 3, File, which contains marches, novelties, waltzes, and mazurkas. Plans were made for a spring concert which will be given to the entire Junior High School student body.

MR. HILLS DELIGHTS STUDENTS WITH MODERN POETRY TALK

Last Wednesday afternoon, in the new training school, Mr. O. B. Hills, a writer and a former professor of poetry at the University of New Hampshire, afforded lovers of poetry an opportunity to enjoy hearing him read.

Mr. Hill selected poems he himself liked and enjoyed, for he feels that the reader must enjoy before his audience can appreciate. His selection showed how poetry portrays moods, music, subjects, beauty of atmosphere, imagery, ideas, sense of humor, and contrast.

It was through the invitation of Miss Gladys Erickson that Mr. Hills, the present manager of the Dutch Inn, in Mill Hall, came to the college. Miss Erickson's, Miss Berthe Daniel's and Miss Esther Richard's classes met together to enjoy the poetry.

FORMER GRADUATES WORKING ON RECREATION SURVEY

Miss Ruth Holmes, a graduate of Lock Haven State Teachers College, who holds an M. A. degree from Columbia University, is research assistant in charge of the survey of recreational facilities in the local district, which includes six counties, Clinton, Centre, Cameron, Clearfield, Snyder, and Union. Four other members of the survey group are alumnae of this college. They are Katherine Diaek, Clinton County supervisor, Esther B. Fox, statistician, Elizabeth Fullmer, local interviewer, and Edna M. Rempe, clerk. Miss Helen Bartholomew, of Mill Hall, is the stenographer for the force. This work was begun January 1 and must be finished by February 16.

LOCK HAVEN BASKETEERS SUFFER DEFEAT IN OPENING GAMES OF THE CAGE SEASON

Shippensburg T. C. Wins Hard Fought Game 30-27

With a hard fight Lock Haven went down to defeat in a thrilling game at Shippensburg by three points. The final score was 30-27 in favor of Shippensburg, although the score was close throughout the entire game. At the end of the first quarter the Maroon and Gray were leading by one point with the score 5 to 4, and at the end of the half the score was evened at 11-11. During the third quarter Lock Haven fell behind to end the quarter at 23-19. In the last quarter Coach Kaiser's team, with a last minute rally, tied the score at 27-27. With 50 seconds to play a foul was called on Lock Haven and Shippensburg scored to go into the lead 28-27. In the few remaining seconds Shippensburg bagged another field goal and the final whistle blew ending the game.

Local Quintet Beaten by Bloomsburg, Score 48-33

Returning to Bloomsburg on Saturday evening the Maroon and Gray suffered the second defeat of the season at the hands of the Bloomsburg Teachers. Lock Haven trailed on the small end of the score throughout the game although at several times were within a narrow margin of tying the score. Bloom led at the end of the first quarter by 5 points while at the end of the half Lock Haven trailed in the score 19-12. When the final whistle blew Bloomsburg had forged far ahead due to their sharp shooting forwards, and the game ended with the score of 48-33.

PERSONALS

The marriage of one of the faculty members of the Lock Haven Junior High School has enabled Lavon Basinger, a graduate in the class of 1933, to obtain a position there as substitute teacher.

The reason for William Mahaffey's cheerfulness and good humor since Christmas vacation may be attributed to his engagement to Flora Goodrich, of Williamsport.

Julia Cornely, of Madera, Pennsylvania, a graduate of Lock Haven Teachers College, was married to H'ram Pursley, of Lock Haven, on Dec. 29, 1933, at the home of her parents.

The couple expect to live in Lock Haven after May first.

Evangelists Entertain

Prof. and Mrs. G. E. Vinaroff, of Russell, Kansas, entertained the student body with several musical selections on Friday morning during the chapel period. Prof. Vinaroff is a noted baritone soloist, song composer and chorus director, and Mrs. Vinaroff is an accomplished pianist and vibraphonist. Rev. H. W. Heisley, of the Evangelical Church, conducted the devotions.

Basketball Chatter

D'ed you know that?—

"Whitey" does his bit in basketball the same as he does in football. (It's quite a bit.)

Chris Hammaker is still the old standby when it comes to guarding and sinking long ones.

The J. V.'s are playing a nice brand of basketball. (Ask Lock Haven High School).

We play Bloomsburg and Shippensburg again.

There is a four day trip into the western part of the state when the squad meets Clarion, Indiana and California.

The Altoona School of Commerce was defeated 37-34 on Friday, the 12th.

Geno is rounding out as a capable referee. He has been quite busy of late.

Joe Miller was ill for a few days but is back in uniform and ready to go.

Duff threw a "bug" on one of the opposing players at Bloomsburg.

There is still time for a successful season.

"Throughout our history, colleges have been and are now the seed-beds of leadership." Ex-President Hoover.

How to Acquire Self-Confidence

(Written for and Dedicated to—)

1. Read all the works of Laura Jean Libbey, and Mary Jane Holmes, also Voltaire's Candide.

2. Smoke a corn cob pipe filled with "Yankee Girl."

3. Learn to play a duet with a saxophone and clarinet.

4. Have your hair waved regularly (not kinked) and while you are at the beauty salon have the beautician paste on a few dozen artificial eye lashes. They make your eyes look dreamy. (Keep young and beautiful if you want to be loved.)

5. Don't argue in Dr. Rude's classes.

6. Accept everything as you hear it.

7. Never play Elizabethan music.

8. Never quote Shakespeare unless you are using a typewriter.

If Louisa Alcott's 'Jo' were a girl now she could lean against a radiator and still wear the same dress to a ball. * * *

Scene—Upper Social Square.
Characters—A good looking salesman (or perhaps he had some other important office) and two senior girls.

Action—Senior drops (accidentally?) books. Man steps over books, and goes on. The senior picks up the books.

How to get a position—Consult the Ouija board and what ever place the board spells out, go there and haunt the school board until they give you a position. * * *

Junior: Dido was a Roman writer.
Frosh: Oh, no. She was a Greek goddess. * * *

Wilbur Anderson says: "Be kind to dumb animals, you may never know when you may need a brother's help." * * *

Max Cook wanted to be excused from the History Exam because it was on his birthday. Tough, Max. What's a milestone in History, more or less? * * *

Wimpy Underwood is still trying to eat the holes in his daily doughnuts. Last year he endeavored to find out which came first, the hen or the egg. He quit when he found a bad egg. It muffed his thoughts. * * *

Vic Williams is the new addition in the All American Classic. Bill Knapp leads by a nose, Harter Vonada is second and out of breath, and Vic is just around the last curve.

Daily Broadcast

Hello, everybody. This is station E-X-A-M broadcasting from their studio S-T-C at Lock Haven. You are now hearing our theme song, "We Come—We Go."

We are certain that all our dear friends are elated to hear us on the air again, and have awaited impatiently the days when we should meet them in person. Be patient, our friends, be patient.

Here I must mention the sad fact that our sponsor, Prof. Educate Nuts, heard some complaints since our last broadcast, Nov. 7. One of our dearest enemies charges us with corrupting the peace of mind of our student body. Social says it is lonely. Dear old social square! Please forgive us for mixing school with school.

However, we must continue our program. Time is limited, you know. For the first number we shall hear that sectionally known crooner, Simple Science, singing "It's E.Z." Mr. Science . . .

That was fine, Mr. Science, wasn't it, radio friends? And now, we shall hear our own little Wing Lish sing in her delightful soprano, "Grammar, Come Back to Me." . . . How did you like that, friends of radioland?

Here comes a year surprise for you—you'd never expect it, really that all-American athlete, Math Matics, who will tell you about his last bout with Dumb Figures. Mr. Matics, ladies and gentlemen . . .

And now, dear audience, our time is almost up. We will conclude our program by presenting Jim Geography, who will speak to you on the topic, "The Beginning—And the End."

We leave you now wishing you the best of luck when we meet you in person. Remember the dates, dear friends, January 17-18-19. Good-biiiiiii.

Wise and Otherwise

(Freshmen, Please Note)

We'll begin with box; the plural is boxes,

But the plural of ox should be oxen not oxes.

One fowl is a goose, but two are called geese,

Yet the plural of moose should never be meese,

You may find a lone mouse, or a whole nest of mice,

But the plural of house is houses, not hiee.

If the plural of man is always called men,

Why shouldn't the plural of pan be pen?

The cow in the plural may be called cows or kine;

But a bow, if repeated, is never called b'ne;

And the plural of vow is vows, not vine.

If I speak of a foot and you show me two feet

And I gave you a boot, would a pair be called beet?

If one is a tooth and the whole set are teeth,

Why shouldn't the plural of booth be beeth?

If the singular's this, and the plural is these;

Should the plural of kiss ever be written keese?

Tho one may be that, and two would be those

Yet hat in the plural would never be hose.

And the plural of cat is cats, and not cose.

We speak of a brother and also of brethren,

But though we say mother, we never say methren.

The masculine pronouns are he, his and him,

STUDENT OPINION

STUDENTS FEEL NEED OF NEW RECORDS

Dreams may be walking and talking; maybe Jimmie lost a nickel; possibly nobody is afraid of the big, bad wolf; without doubt Alice is in Wonderland; probably the Easter parade is coming to town; we accept with credulity the spinning wheel that's in the parlor; but you would never know it from the records they play at the evening dances. The very latest piece there tells about the Red Cross work against consumption—"T. B. or Not T. B. in Love." Then, too, we have the gardener song—"Gather Lip Rouge While You May." Doesn't it seem a pity that the students must still go to Georgia on two tickets? Why can't some one see that our dances are made a little more interesting by providing some new records? Or why not let the student body purchase some from collected funds? There is no one attending these dances who would not willingly contribute to this cause. How about it, Collegians?

EXCHANGE

Several of the State Teachers Colleges—Clarion, Kutztown and Shippensburg—have had the privilege of hearing that ultra-modern musical instrument, the Theremin, a box and two antennae from which music is produced by the waving of the conductor's hands.

The Clarion Call has been receiving adverse criticism in that some of the students feel that serious matters have been treated too lightly, and that there is too much space devoted to humor.

Clarion has done away with the letter grade system and has substituted satisfactory and unsatisfactory system, which must be accompanied by the instructor's estimate of the work the student is doing and is capable of doing.

At Indiana S. T. C. the Social Science Department is sponsoring each week a Forum open to all students and providing an opportunity to discuss current topics. It has been enthusiastically received by the student body.

The recent dramatic presentation at Shippensburg was Shaw's "Arms and the Man."

The Shakespeare class at Kutztown produced with great success Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors."

The student body of Cheyney S. T. C. is vitally interested in social problems, in preventing lynchings, and in bettering the conditions of life for the negro. Many artists and lecturers have appeared including Max Yergery, a missionary; Anne Wiggins Brown, a brilliant soprano; and Mary White Ovington, social worker and author.

But imagine the feminine she, shis and shim!
So the English, I think you all will agree,
Is the funniest language you ever did see.

—The College Spirit.
