Six Career Seminars Will Be Presented

The School of Arts and Science and the Office of Placement and Career Information at Lock Haven State is planning a series of six Career Seminars to be held on the campus during the 1971-72 school year.

The first of these will be held Thursday, October 14th at 1 p.m. in the Ulmer Planetarium on campus. Mr. Al Speth, administrator of the Lock Haven Hospital since December, 1951, will discuss various careers available to college graduates in the health services field. Prior to his post at Lock Haven, he was assistant administrator at a Wilmington, Delaware hospital. His military career also involved him in health services. He is active in many public health and hospital organizations and is well qualified to speak on this subject.

Although the seminars will consider opportunities open to those who have specifically prepared for the career under discussion, the main emphasis in these seminars will be on opportunities available to graduates who have not considered their major interest to be in that field. Students from all curricula of the college are therefore being urged to attend these seminars. Interested high school students and other members of the community are invited to participate. Where do I go from here?

Most of us have little difficulty in knowing what kind of job a chemistry major or an engineering student will have when he graduates.

But what about the Arts and Science student who has majored in English, Fine Arts, Speech, Foreign Language, or one of the sciences such as Biology or Earth Science? Suppose he does not want to go into the teaching profession. What other careers are open to him?

The same question applies to the Education major who decides not to teach. What else can he do? Where is his place?

Do you know what careers are available to you?

The School of Arts and Science, in cooperation with the Office of Placement and Career Information, has scheduled a series of monthly seminars on career opportunities. There will be six seminars, each given by persons of wide experience in business, industry, and government. The six areas selected are broad, and we will attempt to show how various educational backgrounds can fit into such areas.

Who should attend?

It's not too soon to start investigating careers when you are a Freshman. Serious consideration should definitely begin no later than the Junior year.

Most of us do not really know the breadth of career opportunities available to us, regardless of major.

What qualifications are needed?

There are many key positions in government, business, and industry in which the major plays a secondary role. It's the sharply honed composite ability of the person which often takes him into a leadership role, rather than his excellence in a specific field. One's total academic record therefore needs to be the best possible. You cannot dismiss certain courses as being of no consequence since you cannot always tell which ones really sharpen your analytical insights or increase your communication skills.

Previous experience -- how to get it

One of the first questions an employer asks, even of a person just graduated from college, is whether he has any experience in the field.

Once you have tentatively decided on a career, you should consider trying to obtain summer employment in that field. You may not make as much money as you would by working in construction or at a summer resort, but a prospective employer will be more favorably impressed if you have had actual work experience in your field.

Suppose I change my mind?

Don't feel that you are locked into a career because you have chosen a major. If you experience a decided change of interest, talk to your faculty advisor, members of the student personnel staff, your dean, and to the Director of the Placement Office.

How you spend the rest of your life is important to you and to the people associated with you. Most of us do not make this decision early or easily.

In succeeding months seminars relating to careers in local government, banking, insurance, publishing, advertising and civil service will be presented.

Open Houses Reinstated

It was decided Thursday evening to reinstate the Open Houses in the men's dorms for this past weekend and the weekend of October 16.

For violation of rules during Open House certain policies were established. Anyone having a first offense will be given a campus. During this weekend he will be required to stay in the dorm and check in periodically with one of the two house managers. The violator will then be taken to the Judicial Board (to be set up early next week).

On a second offense, the State Police will be called in while for a third offense the student will be referred to the President who has the power to expel the student from school.

These actions were taken to assure punishment of the violator and not the whole dorm in which he lives.

One of the features of Homecoming Weekend will be a six-hour dance on Friday, October 22 in Rogers Gym. There will be two groups: "Truk" from 9 p.m. until 12 p.m. and "Wheat" playing for the nightcap from midnight until 3 a.m. All students with ID's will be admitted FREE and all people without ID's will be charged $1.00.

Jobs Europe Offers 1972 Program

"The Jobs Europe program offers salaried and guaranteed job in Europe for young people 18 to 29 years of age all the year-round-fall through summer," stated Dr. F.X. Gordon, Jr., Director of the Princeton Research Jobs Europe Program.

U.S. Economic experts state that the job recession of the past two years will probably continue another year. Jobs Europe offer 3,000 jobs for young people now, anytime of the year. While the program has jobs all over Europe, Scandinavia and the United Kingdom, after 12 years of experience they only offer the selected best opportunities. Jobs are mostly for general help in 1st class hotels in London and Switzerland, and most jobs provide board and room. Participants are free to arrange their own bargain transportation.

Besides the educational and cultural benefits of living and learning abroad in a foreign environment there is the opportunity to travel with earned cash. "One can afford to sit out a semester and/or the job recession here in the U.S.A. then return to school or a job," Dr. Gordon concluded. Eagles Lose But Defense Shines

The Lock Haven State Football machine ran into a temporary roadblock in their quest for the Western Conference Championship. On Saturday, the Clarion Golden Eagles handed the Bald Eagles their first defeat of the 1971 season by a score of 17-7. The game was played under cloudy skies at the victor's field.

The skies were cloudy but things started brightly for the Bald Eagles. They took the opening kickoff and marched down deep into Clarion territory. Instrumental in this drive was the running of Kevin Mack who ran as if he were a truck of the same name. He bit off large chunks of Clarion real estate as he jumped and swerved Clarion tacklers. When a tackler was lucky enough to get his hands on Mack, Kevin took him for an extra two or three yards. When Mack wasn't running the ball, Packer was hitting the Bald Eagle receivers with precision. It looked as if Clarion was going to have a sad Homecoming day, but the drive bogged down at the Clarion 10. Clarion pushed the Eagles back and Dan Guers was forced to try a long field goal. The kick fell short and although nobody knew it at the time, that kick was the foreshadowing of the Bald Eagles hopes for that day. Clarion scored on their first set of downs as a long pass fooled the Bald Eagle defensive secondary.

With the score at 7-0 Mike Packer hit Skip Haley with a brilliant 82-yard touchdown pass. Guers' kick made the score 7-7. Clarion moved the ball to the Bald Eagle 10 yard line, but the stellar defense of LHS forced Clarion to settle for a field goal.

The third quarter was scoreless, but it showed everyone how good the Bald Eagle defense is. Time and again the defense was tested and time and again it proved worthy to the test. Clarion's coach had to wonder whether LHS had only 11 men on the field. He had to figure that the Bald Eagles had at least three guys named Yeager on the field, because it seemed that for a stretch in the third quarter Barry was in on every tackle.

It was in the fourth quarter, however, that the defensive line and linebackers really showed their greatness. They might not have had to show their stuff if certain events hadn't transpired at the end of the third quarter. The defense had held Clarion deep in their territory and Clarion got off a poor kick. The Bald Eagles had the ball on the Clarion 38 yard line and the momentum was in their favor, however, a holding penalty and two losses pushed the Bald Eagles back to a point from where they never recovered. Clarion drove inside the 10 yard line, but the Eagles held. Coach Weller did something then that surprised those people. He took Packer out and replaced him with McGill. Packer had been having a bad day, and the coach apparently felt that the change would help. It didn't. Two running plays up the middle and a loss while McGill was rolling out caused the Eagles to punt the ball. Clarion drove down and had a first down on the LHS four yard line. Here is where the defense really got tough. The line of Tom Zimmerman, Tank Sherman, Mel Abel, and Bill McNessis submarined the offensive line and the linebacking corps of Butch Pinner, Barry Yeager, and Jeff Knarr stacked up the ball carrier. Despite their effort, Clarion had the ball on the one foot line with a third down. This is when the defense looked like the Purple People Eaters of Minnesota. In this case perhaps they could be called the Red and White Golden Eagle-munchers. Zimmie, Mel, Tank, and Bill sealed up everything that even resembled an opening for the Clarion ball carrier and Butch, Budha and Barry made sure he didn't score. The fantastic three of Chuck Vennie, Dough Williams, and Steve Glass helped out and Clarion had a fourth down situation. The trouble was that it was fourth down and one inch to go. No problem the defense held again and Lock Haven had the ball. The momentum seemed to have swung, but Lock Haven tried three running plays that went nowhere and Knarr was forced to punt from deep in his end zone. Clarion returned the punt inside the Lock Haven 10 yard line. Could the defense do it again? The answer was apparently yes. Two downs and Clarion had gotten nowhere. On third down the snap from center and defensive tackle Bob Seale got to the Clarion quarterback at about the same time. The result was a 4th and 14 for Clarion. A desperation pass found a Clarion receiver open in the end zone and the Bald Eagles had suffered their first defeat.

Things aren't really as bad as they seemed when that Clarion receiver tucked the ball away and scored the points that put the ballgame out of reach. Clarion travels to Edinboro next week and its doubtful whether they'll come out of that game alive. The Bald Eagles travel to Shippensburg and the bet here is the Shippensburg is going to be in for a long afternoon. The defense had shown what it can do and there is no way that anyone can hold the offense down for two weeks in a row. If we win and Clarion loses, that gives us a chance to decide our own fate when we meet Edinboro for Homecoming. If the offense forgets about Saturday and the defense remembers it, that fate could be a lot better than almost anyone thought possible at the beginning of the season.

Packer, Allen Are Nationally Recognized

Two LHS football players continue to be nationally ranked in the latest release of NCAA College-Division statistics by the National Collegiate Sports Services.

Tommy Allen, split end, is ranked as the second best pass receiver in the nation with an average per-game of 8.3 catches. Quarterback Mike Packer is rated as the sixth best passer with an average per-game of 16.3 completions. Packer is also nationally ranked in total offense with 216.3 yards per-game. The two LHS stars were the only Pennsylvania Conference players ranked in passing, receiving or total offense.

LHS is ranked 10th in the nation in pass offense with a per-game average of 227.7.

Eagles Begin New Winning Streak

The Lock Haven soccer team began another winning streak and destroyed any remaining hard feelings from a tough setback to Shippensburg earlier this week as they rolled over St. Vincent's College 3-0 Saturday.

The LHS offense had a little trouble getting started and was sluggish through most of the first period. It looked as though the St. Vincent goalie would be impenetrable. Luckily, the defense was sharp enough to compensate for the offensive inactivity by preventing anything and everything from getting into the net.

Throughout the next two periods, there was very little action. Both defenses were quite solid, and neither offense looked alive. Both periods passed by scoreless.

But the Eagles' offense started clicking in the last period. Taking advantage of several defensive lapses, they scored two goals to put the game on ice. The first one, at 9:44, was scored by Hess into a totally unguarded net, after he received a pass from Mike Minchoff. Less than four minutes later, at 13:32, Hess passed one to Don Copeland, who sent a perfect 20-yard shot straight on in to finish the day's scoring.

The LHS offense had some extra opportunity to score in the last period. In addition to the fact that St. Vincent was double-teaming Hess, opening up their defense slightly, the Eagles often switched positions, creating some confusion and opening up further scoring possibilities.

When asked what he thought of the game, coach Karl Herrmann commented, "Once we started to move the ball out to our wings, we broke the game open. We've had this problem all year—trying to pour it down the middle too often, where everyone has a tight defense. We looked a lot stronger with Steve Steffen at full-time duty, and our defense (Copeland, Rick Armstrong, Curt Wolf, and goalie Craig Dawson) played another excellent, steady game."

Next week, LHS encounters East Stroudsburg at home. Things don't look too good for the booters; ES is a perennial power, and they have another fine team this year. In addition, the Eagles have beaten them only once (last year) for the first time in the last 15 years.
