Vol. XV, No. 19 LOCK HAVEN STATE COLLEGE Thursday, October 14

Editorial

The Union has no day-time help to maintain the appearance of the TV Lounges and it seems the students who use them should have enough conscience to help. It can't be too much to ask to simply deposit all refuse in the provided waste baskets and return dishes and trays to the Eagle Wing. The plea is simple: by all means use the lounges, that is what they are for - but have enough consideration to help keep them decent enough to be used by others!

Has consideration died on the LHS campus? If not, then there are an awful lot of people using the PUE Lounges who have lost track of its meaning.

The lounges are for the use of all students in their free time and is open to all those not having a campus residence in which to spend time. However, these facilities are certainly not to be abused. Leaving paper, garbage, trays and other debris spread all through the lounges, in my mind, is abuse.

Artist Series Opens Oct. 18

The Maryland Quartet will open the Lock Haven Artist Series on Monday, October 18, at 8:15 p.m. in Price Auditorium.

The quartet, consisting of piano, viola, violin, and cello, is a faculty-artist ensemble in residence at the University of Maryland.

The first work on the program will be a technically demanding work by Mozart, the Quartet in G Minor, followed by a modern work, the Piano Quartet composed in 1947 by Robert Palmer. After intermission, the C Minor Quartet by Brahms will be presented.

The Maryland Quartet began as a trio with violinist Joel Berman, cellist William Skidmore, and pianist Evelyn Garvey. With the addition of former Cleveland Orchestra violist Sally Trembley in 1970, the group has developed a completely new repertoire -- masterworks for the piano quartet.

Other performances in the Artist Series will be presented by pianist William Ibes in December, the Goldovsky Opera Company in February, violinist David Madison and pianist Marion Filar in the early spring, and the Paris Chamber Orchestra in May.

The Lock Haven Artist Series is sponsored by the Community Concert Association, composed of members of the local community, the music department of LHS, and the college students government.

Season tickets are still available from Mrs. Lucy S. Caprio at 748-3759 or Dr. Russell Nelson in Price Auditorium. Special rates are available to school children and high school students.

Are you wondering about the Jesus movement? Come to Chi Alpha Open Forum - sing and rap with John Kuert and Ron Poach, touring Pennsylvania campuses; Thursday, October 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the PUB lounge.

NOTICES FROM BOOKSTORE
There will be no book returns after Oct. 15.
Charges close Oct. 15.
All accounts are due and payable by Oct. 20.

Parade Again Is A Homecoming Attraction

After several years' absence from the local scene, the traditional parade through downtown Lock Haven will be a major attraction on LHS' Homecoming Weekend.

On Saturday, October 23, all organizations entering a float in the parade will be reporting in front of Thomas Field House at 10 a.m. The floats, illustrating the theme "A Brand New Start," reflecting the start of LHS' second century, are being sponsored by local merchants. Each merchant is contributing $10 toward the cost of the float he is sponsoring and the SCC is providing an additional $15 per float.

Three cash prizes will be awarded to the best entries.

Local high school bands, other marching groups, and the seven Homecoming Queen contestants will also be part of the parade, which will commence at approximately 10:30 a.m.

The procession, being marshaled by Dr. Francis N. Hamblin, college president, and Gary Worthington, SCC president, will move down Water St. and continue to Henderson St., come back up Main St. and continue onto Bellefonte Ave. to Spring Street Stadium for the football game with Edinboro. Parade entry winners will be announced at halftime.

Interested in an evening of Christian sharing? If so, why not attend a Campus Crusade program at Penn State. Agape Fellowship is sponsoring a bus on Tuesday, October 19. Anyone interested in going meet in front of Bentley Hall at 5:30 p.m. A donation of $1.00 should be paid to Cindy Raski (Woolridge ext. 414) or Brenda Ralston (McEntire ext. 417) before October 18.

Anyone interested in going to the Saturday, October 16th Shippensburg football game must sign the list in the PUB by 12:00 Thursday, October 14th. The cost is $4.00 per person. The bus will leave from the PUB at 9:30.

'The Tiger' Will Be the Next Readers Theatre Production

A Reader's Theatre presentation has been one of the increasingly popular events on campus in recent years. Since November 1968 when Readers' Theatre first performed before a LHS audience, the art form has steadily grown in status with students and townpeople.

Directed by Dr. Robert Kidder, Readers' Theatre on campus is a unique and intimate form of theater.

"I would say there is more presentation than representation," says Kidder.

In a sense the audience response to the play is less controlled by technical devices; much more is created by the audience's imagination. It is sometimes more highly sophisticated than a traditionally staged play in that the audience and the actor must do the job of complex technical aspects.

A Readers' Theatre presentation can often be readied in less time than a traditional stage play since movement and memorization are minimized. Dr. Kidder's presentations usually utilize stools and a copy of the script during the performance. These devices encourage the viewer to enter the scene and become, through his imagination, an intimate part of the play.

Dr. Kidder directs 2 to 4 productions yearly and selects the cast for a particular play through open try-outs. Although there is a course entitled Readers' Theatre, these productions are not a direct outgrowth of the course. Anyone may participate whether or not he is enrolled in the course, and often a play is cast from theatre-lovers outside the course.

One of the most popular productions given in the history of local Readers' Theatre was The Brick and The Rose, done in the Spring of 1970. After presentation on campus, it was so widely acclaimed that a downtown performance drew a crowd of 400 at the Lock Haven Y.M.C.A.

Currently Dr. Kidder is rehearsing the cast for the October 18 and 19 performance of The Tiger by Murray Schisgal. Lynn Miner and Ben Aptaker take the spotlight in Schisgal's play of abduction and terror. If the reputation of Kidder and past Readers' Theatre performances mean anything, The Tiger promises to be a delightful evening of theatre.

"Take off that skirt!" is the order given here by "Tiger" cast member Ben Aptaker to Lynn Miner.

The Library's circulation of free books has been lacking contributions to the cause. Anyone having paperbacks to contribute are asked to do so.

Pre Season Wrestling, Basketball Face Tough New Season

Pre-season wrestling and basketball practice is scheduled to start October 15 at LHS.

The wrestlers of second-year head coach Dr. Ken Cox will be preparing for one of the toughest schedules in the long history of the sport at LHS. The Eagle grapplers open a 14-meet season, plus two exhibitions with the Alumni and powerful Athletics in action, at Lehigh University "snake pit" on December 4.

This will be a rebuilding year for wrestling at Lock Haven. Graduation last May took six three-year-regulars, three were Conference Champions Larry Rippey, Byron Brodmerkel; and Gene Taxis, Hank Hawkins and Scott Brooks.

Seven lettermen return led by the Rupp twins, Jim and Tim. Coach Cox also has a fine group of freshmen including two PIAA Champions -- Rod Tate from Penn Highlands and Wes Schrader of Shamokin.

Coach Jim Christopher's cagers, coming off 8-12, the school's best record in nineteen years; will face a rugged 20-game slate plus another appearance at the tough Augusta, Georgia Holiday Tournament, December 20-21. The Bald Eagles open the campaign at Erie on December

2 against Mercyhurst College.

Two regulars will be missing from the 1970-71 basketball team. Captain Bruce Parkhill graduated and freshman star Ken Stalling has transferred to a junior college in Kentucky.

Co-Captains Cliff Billet (6-5) and Bud Brennan (6-4), record-breaking rebounder, head a list of seven returning regulars.

Coach Christopher has several outstanding newcomers to the squad this year including Clyde Soule (6-9), John Salley (6-8) of Waymart, and Russ Paulin (6-7) from Bridgeville.

To the Editor:

On Tuesday night a meeting was held concerning 24 hour visitation on weekends for women. Out of 800 women residents, approximately 30 were present. Where were all the women? I can imagine every one of them had some excuse, but I couldn't think of one. Why? Because as a member of this community, its my responsibility to support its decisions and policies. This is my temporary home and I want to use my individual power, as a woman resident, to make the rules and regulations of the dorms. It's my right! Regardless of your opinion, please take an interest in your dorm council. Attend all the meetings and voice your opinion.

Sue Krum

To the Editor:

Is it really true that the majority of women at Lock Haven State College are apathetic? That seems to be the opinion of their fellow female colleagues. The issue concerning open dorms for women has been posted in every ladies latrine on campus. What is happening to you girls? Is it that you don't use the latrines or is it that you don't care! Approximately 30 girls turned out for the first discussion on the issue. If your in favor of open dorms, please come. If your not in favor of open dorms, please come. Please please don't be apathetic. Voice your opinion, you can talk!

Sue Lewandowski

Three old times movies will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Eagle Wing.

The movies featured are "The Champion" starring Charlie Chaplin, "The Music Box" a Laurel and Hardy flick and the only academy award winner, and "Wrong Way Willie".

The duration of the three movies together will run approximately 1 hour.

For obvious reasons resulting from a condition created by a minority -- no coats, jackets, or outer wear, previously purchased books, notebooks, attache cases, back packs, etc. will be allowed in the bookstore.

It is also necessary for us to close all charges at 3:00 each day, due to the administrative work-load.

SCC Dance:

Saturday, October 16, 9-12 p.m. in the PUB, Music by "Truk". Students: FREE and non-students: $2.00

Swimming

Sunday - 2-3 p.m. faculty, staff, children (Field House Pool)

- 3-5 p.m. college students only (Field House Pool)

Monday - 7-9 p.m. college students only (Field House Pool)

Tuesday - 12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m. college students and faculty (Zimmerli Pool)

Thursday - 12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m. college students and faculty (Zimmerli Pool)

Ski Club Meeting Thursday night Smith Hall lounge 7 p.m. All members please attend.

Yeager, Haley All-Stars ; Receive Honorable Mention

Barre Yeager, LHS linebacker, and George Haley, Eagles 135-pound star flanker, have been selected for Honorable Mention on this week's ECAC All-East All Star squad.

Yeager led the fine LHS defensive unit in a losing cause against Clarion State last Saturday. The 26 year-old, 5' 10" 170 pound senior and a veteran of two years of service in Vietnam, had seven unassisted tackles and 12 assists for a total of 19.

Haley, who never played high school football, caught five passes for 127 yards. He scored the first touchdown given up by Clarion in four games on a beautiful pass-run play covering 82 yards. The pass was thrown by quarterback Mike Packer.

It marked the fourth straight week that Bald Eagle players have been picked for the All-Star squad.

SCC CANOE ENTRY BLANK

NAME _____

Starts Sunday Oct. 24 2:00

open to any student or faculty member who can provide their own canoe. SCC has four canoes which will go on a first come basis. Requests should be made with Ron Jury in the SCC office.

1st prize $25.00

2nd $15.00

3rd $10.00.

leave entry blank with the PUB secretary

We have proposed that for 24 hour open house on weekends in a women's dorm the following would hold:

1. All men must be escorted at all times.
2. After hours guys will only be let in when escorted by a girl and let in by the security guard.
3. Each girl can only escort one male into the dorm.
4. Any guys wandering around the dorm will be asked to leave.
5. Floor managers will be chosen to keep order.

Now, this doesn't sound all that bad does it? Don't be selfish-even if you don't have a guy now, who knows - you may before the years is over.

As for your privacy - can't you walk to the bathroom with your robe on? After all, how many girls walk around the dorm in their underwear?

Come on, women, give us your support in making Lock Haven a progressive college rather than a regressive one!!!
