Andre Voznesensky, Russia's foremost Modern Poet, to present his readings Sunday, November 7.

Andrei Voznesensky To Read His Poetry

Russian poet Andre Voznesensky, frequently described as "The Eloquent New Voice of Russia," will deliver a reading of his own poetry Sunday evening, November 7 at 8:15 p.m. in Price Auditorium. Tickets will be available at the PUB Reception Desk Monday, November 1.

Mr. Voznesensky will read his poems in his native language, Russian, with Dr. Robert Kidder reading the English translations. Although Voznesensky's commentary is in excellent English, alternate readings in Russian and English will be presented in order to achieve the full dramatic effect and to display masterful use of assonances, rhythms, and modulations of pitch.

Russia's foremost Modern Poet, Andre Voznesensky is the idol of young "intelligentsia" and his public readings attract thousands of cheering admirers. He has won international recognition as one of the greatest contemporary poets in any country writing in any language. In Europe, his poetry has had wide circulation in German, Italian and British translations. Two collections of his verse have recently appeared in America. These are Antiworlds by Basic Books, and Voznesensky: Selected Poems by Hill and Wang. Selected Poems, the Grove Press Collection, has been ordered by the Bookstore.

Robert Lowell describes Voznesensky as "a difficult poet . . . yet he moves large audiences, and I think this has encouraged him to give an immediate spoken vitality to his surprising thoughts and most ingenious images. 'We are not born to survive, alas,' he says, 'but to step on the gas.'"

. . . He is full of invention, fireworks and humor . . . a first rate craftsman who has the heroic patience and imagination to be himself. We are excited, too, that he comes from the Soviet Union. And, now when the official handshakes of the great powers seem to me so often like the clanging of metal hooks, I am glad to have this moment of free poetic fellowship."

W.H. Auden, an American poet, made the following observations concerning Mr. Voznesensky: "Every word he writes, even when he is criticizing, reveals a profound love for his native land and its traditions. I wish to stress this strongly, because, given the existing political climate, there is a danger that we shall misunderstand him by looking for ideological clues instead of reading his poems as one would read any poet who is a fellow countryman. One of the primary proofs that a poem, or any work of art, has value is that, wherever, whenever and by whomever it was made, we find it relevant to ourselves, our time and our place."

Andre Voznesensky was born in Moscow on May 12, 1933. As a youngster he was introduced to poetry, particularly the works of Severyanin and Boris Pasternak, the great man who later became his mentor. His first poems were published in 1958. Mozika, his first volume of verse, was issued in 1960 followed by the collections, Parabola, The Triangular Pear, and Antiworlds.

Mr. Voznesensky has presented programs at Harvard, University of Chicago, Brown, Rutgers, University of Oregon and University of California at Berkeley.

French Club Focuses on Social Aspect

The traditional French Club of Lock Haven State is undergoing considerable reform under the direction of Mr. Ernest Lundy, Associate Professor, Department of Foreign Languages. Informality is the key word for the meetings, the second of which will be held on Tuesday, October 26 at Mr. Lundy's home.

The atmosphere he wishes to create for this late afternoon meeting will be social, with no stress on the academic aspect of speaking French. To help promote this informal atmosphere, officers will not be elected.

Refreshments will be served and games played. French will be spoken whenever possible, although knowledge of French is not a prerequisite.

Dr. Edmund Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. John Koons, and the French teachers from the two local high schools will also attend these gatherings because their fluency in French will help enrich the atmosphere.

Got any social events you want to tell the campus about? Have it televised over WLHS-TV. Just call Jackie Kircher at ext. 423 or the SCC office, Linda Dicks at ext. 402, or Cendy Welch at 748-3881 by Wednesday evening.

PSEA Will Meet

Members of the LHS student Pennsylvania State Education Association will hear student teachers discuss their trials and tribulations of teaching during the November meeting. The club will also hear elementary and junior high school students give their opinion of student teachers.

Joyce Hoffman, president of the local PSEA, states that other programs will include a speech by a state PSEA officer from Harrisburg, and a panel discussion in the spring by Lock Haven State teachers and elementary teachers from neighboring schools.

Officers this year are Joyce Hoffman, President; Bob White, Vice-President; Tim Little, Treasurer; Carol Long, Recording Secretary; Libby Reed, Corresponding Secretary, and Jenny Cox, SCC Representative.

The Library's circulation of free books has been lacking contributions to the cause. Anyone having paperbacks to contribute are asked to do so.

Ox-Roast Is A Feature of Homecoming

Saturday afternoon of Homecoming Weekend will only be beginning with the football game with Edinboro.

Immediately following the game, the student union building named for Dr. Richard T. Parsons, past LHS President, will be dedicated. Dr. Parsons will make remarks as guest of honor. Gary Worthington, President of the SCC, will deliver the address on behalf of the student body. Presiding will be Ron Jury, Second Vice President of the SCC and Chairman of the PCEEB.

The action will then move to the practice field below Smith Hall where the SCC will begin serving the ox roast sandwiches. The ox will arrive at 7 p.m. Friday evening courtesy of G.A. Kemper of Muncy, who will be providing all lumber and equipment needed for the roast. An aluminum cooking pit will be constructed and the 650 pound steer will be put on a rotating spit where it will cook for 12 to 14 hours. All persons bearing an ID will be entitled to a sandwich. For those without an ID and for all additional sandwiches, the cost will be 50¢.

Accompanying the oxroast will be a free cider pour sponsored by the Varsity Club.

Women Vote For Rights

by Carol Van Gorder

We've come a long way baby but we still have a long way to go. The time has come for the women of Lock Haven State College to ban together and demand their rights as equals. We want a week-end 24 hour open dorm policy; the equivalent of the one the men now have in effect and we want it now! The proper channels are now being taken, the Women's Dorm Council is involved, and the SCC will be voting on whether to support the measure, but the final vote is up to us, the women of Lock Haven. Let's make ourselves heard and let's do it now!

Ballots will be passed out and collected on Wednesday, October 20th at 10:30 p.m. at floor meetings on each respective floor. These ballots will be only a tentative vote, to get an idea which dorms have the majority approval of the women residents. So, women of LHS, if you want change, if you want equality let's get together and make it happen.

Results Are In For Women's Dorm Council

The results of the Women's Dorm Council elections held yesterday are as follows:

McEntire Hall

Independent Study Offered

An independent study program is open to Lock Haven State students. The revisions of the program effective this semester say, "It is a program under which the student exercises his initiative, with the necessary amount of skilled faculty supervision, to develop his special skills, interest and insights; enrich his background; and/or explore new areas beyond the opportunities offered by regular courses."

In order to enter the program, one must be a junior or senior with a cumulative average of 2.5 though unusually qualified students may be considered as well. An application form can be obtained from the department through which the student wishes to work. After completing the application which requires a preliminary or tentative outline and bibliography, the student must find a qualified faculty sponsor to supervise his work.

The student then presents the proposal to his faculty sponsor, advisor department chairman and director of the division under which the project will be completed. His application is kept on file.

When the project reaches completion, which may take more than one semester, a written report, to be kept in the library, must be submitted. An oral report is required as well, though it may take the form of an exhibit, demonstration, or performance before students and faculty.

Credits range from three to one, as judged by the faculty sponsor.

Freshmen Are Unimpressed by Right to Vote

Due to lack of knowledge or interest, 65% of the Freshman Class did not register to vote. This fact was determined from a recent polling of 40 freshmen to determine the effects of the new voter registration law. A majority felt they would have had no trouble registering, but just did not get around to it.

Of the registered freshmen, 90% said they were having absentee ballots sent to them at college. The two main problems experienced by those registering were transportation and getting to the registration office during open hours. Many were almost discouraged from registering because they knew nothing about the process.

On the question of whether, if given another chance, they would register in Lock Haven, the non-registered freshmen were equally divided: 44% said that they would register and 44% said they would not. Many of these were not sure how to register so they did not. Also, many said that they would register next year.

LHS Will Compete In NAIA District 18 Meet

The NAIA District 18 cross country championships will be held Saturday at Frontier Park in Erie, Pa., and promises to be a wild affair.

Thirteen teams will send seven runners each to the starting line at 11 a.m. and a dog-fight should develop among three runners for the title. Geneva, Waynesburg, Gannon, Edinboro, Indiana, Point Park, Frostburg, Clarion, Slippery Rock, Alliance, California and St. Vincent will join the Bald Eagles in search of the championship. Slippery Rock is favored, with Indiana, Edinboro, and LHS also in the running.

The big three shooting for the individual title are defending titlist Dave Antagnoli from Edinboro, Ed Galewski of Slippery Rock, and LHS' Steve Podgajny. Antagnoli is an NAIA All-American in track and cross country, as well as defending conference champ. Galewski, conference mile champ, and third in the conference last year, missed last year's meet due to an injury. Podgajny placed second in last year's meet along with a fifth place in the conference, and 19th in the nationals, missing All-American status by only four slots.

Accompanying Podgajny for LHS through the flat, swampy 4.6 mile course will be juniors George Bower, Steve Harnish, and Carl Klingman, sophomores Reed Humphrey and Larry Wise, and freshman Bill Landis. Bower and Harnish have an excellent chance to place in the top ten and there by qualify themselves for the National meet. The top ten individuals and firsts two teams receive automatic invitations.

"If my guys were healthy I'd say we'd have a good chance at the title-you don't know," commented Coach Jim Dolan.

"I'd say we definitely have a crack at second, and if Slippery Rock makes any mistakes at all, we have a chance at the title." Dolan coached teams have finished first and third in district competition. Last year, while finishing third as a team, Podgajny, Dave Mosbrook, and Nibs Gordon earned trips to the national meet by placing second, fourth, and seventh, respectively for the Bald Eagles.

Greek Grounds

The Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority has crowded the calendar with events since the beginning of the fall semester.

This year's officers: President, Linda Rothenberger; Vice President, Karyle Kimmel; Treasurer, Sue Bard; Recording Secretary, Lynda Laudig; Corresponding Secretary, Barb Foley; Historian, Gail Simpson; Custodian, Brenda Jones; Chaplain, June Witmer; Editor, Diane Muthler; Housing and Money Carol Miller; Social Chairman, Eileen Banta; and Pledge Trainer, Bonnie Martin.

Resulting from Greek Rush Week the Taus have chosen their fall pledge class. The five members consist of Toni Lehman, Bonnie (Bonehead) Groff, Jacqueline (Jake) Crowell, and Chris Sweigart, all sophomore physical education majors, and Sue Shirey, a sophomore secondary English major.

After receiving their bids on Friday, October 1, they attended a pizza party held in their honor at the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity house. Later that night they celebrated with a party of their own in the sorority wing.

On Monday, October 4, these girls received their ribbons at the Tau Kappa Epsilon house. This signifies their intentions of becoming a pledge.

Three Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority members are on the Panhellenic Council this year.

Interested in an evening of Christian sharing? If so, why not attend a Campus Crusade program at Penn State. Agape Fellowship is sponsoring a bus on Tuesday, October 19. Anyone interested in going meet in front of Bentley Hall at 5:30 pm. A donation of $1.00 should be paid to Cindy Raski (Woolridge ext. 414) or Brenda Ralston (McEntire ext. 417) before October 18.

For Homecoming Weekend the Bookstore will be open Saturday, October 23 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 8 p.m.

The Snack Bar will be open Saturday, October 23, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

To the Editor:

We'd like to make the public aware of the humiliating experience the hockey team went through on Tuesday. When we went to get on our bus for our four and one-half hour drive to West Chester, we discussed that the SCC had generously provided us with a little yellow school bus, and everyone should recall how easy it is to relax, read, sleep, or stretch out in a smooth riding school bus! It certainly is funny that none of the other teams throughout the year have to ride in a school bus.

After riding comfortably for two hours, we found the bus stopping for lunch. Our hungry players sat down to a fulfilling lunch of one small glass of juice, one fifteen-cent drink of our choice, one hamburger with a pickle and one ten-cent candy bar for dessert.

We would like to direct the student's attention to the way the SCC allocates funds to the various sports teams. It seems that coaches who over spend their budget by staying at Holiday Inns and eating four-dollar meals can get more money than a coach who sticks to her budget by making do with scrumpy meals and inconvenient transportation.

We know that hockey games do not bring in money but the student interest is still high. If you students care at all about the conditions your hockey team has to play under we're sure the SCC will be glad to hear about it.

Signed unanimously,
The Women's Hockey Team

P.S. We are writing this letter on the bus on our way to the game. We can't wait to arrive at West Chester's new grassy hockey field in our little yellow school bus to represent Lock Haven State College.

To the Editor:

It seems there has been some misunderstandings concerning the 24-hour weekend open dorm policy which will go up for a vote on Wednesday, October 20th. We would like to clear up these misunderstandings at this time:

1. The vote on Wednesday IS NOT THE FINAL VOTE. It is to find out the amount of support behind the movement.

2. The 24-hour open dorm policy WILL ONLY APPLY TO WEEKENDS, from Friday night to Sunday afternoon. All men will be out of the dorms before Sunday evening quiet hours begin.

We feel the only way this policy can be defeated is through ignorance caused by mis-information, and apathy. If you have any questions or hang-ups on this issue, visit us in McEntire 726 and 735. We want to hear your opinion. Support us and your rights.

Women's Hockey Defeated

by Kathy "Sax" Umbach

After a long and bumpy ride down, the battered and bruised women's field hockey team took the field against a strong and stout West Chester team.

The game started out slowly with each team waiting to see how the other was playing. After LHS became accustomed to the grass field, they moved the ball down the field and Bonnie Groff knocked it in for the score.

The game to somewhat of a standstill, however, West Chester seemed to have more get up and go as they constantly had the ball around the LHS goal. Sue Black, LH halfback, made 2 very fine saves to keep the score at 1-0 for the Eaglettes. But the West Chester Rams were not about to give up as they drove the ball in for the score. West Chester's score seemed to baffle the Eaglettes and before long West Chester scored again making the halftime score - West Chester 2, Lock Haven 1.

The second half belonged to West Chester as they scored 3 goals to LHS' 0 to put the final score at WCSC 5, LHSC 1.

Although both teams seemed to have the same playing ability and the game looked as though it was going to be close, West Chester had a definite advantage in mental attitude. After the Rams second goal the Eaglettes seemed to give up with only some of the players putting forth a total all out effort. Since LHS could not get organized and work together as a team, the game got out of reach and the Eaglettes suffered a humiliating defeat at the hands of West Chester.

The junior varsity squad although losing by the score of 3 to 1 played much better ball than the varsity. The junior varsity worked together as a team and set up more scoring opportunities; the difficulty being the West Chester goalie always seemed to be in the right place at the right time.

Both squads are looking for comeback victories Thursday against Slippery Rock. The game will be played at home and varsity action starts at 3:45 p.m.

Eagles To Tackle Shippensburg

by Bill Heilemann

On Saturday the LHS football team travels to Shippensburg to try and regain its winning ways. Saturday is Shippensburg's Homecoming and this brings to mind what Shippensburg did to us on our Homecoming last year. Memory of that game is somewhat cloudy because the mind tends to blot out things which are unpleasant to remember. However, I do recall that Shippensburg spoiled our Homecoming by the tune of 42-7. I have a feeling that on Saturday the Bald Eagles will be operating under a modified version of the Golden Rule: Do unto others as they did unto us last year.

Any resemblance between last year's team at the time they played Shippensburg and this year's team is purely coincidental. Last year's team was a crumbling tinkertoys, while the 1971 team is a powerful locomotive, which was slowed down momentarily at Clarion, but is now heading at full steam toward Shippensburg. The team has the incentive of last year's humiliation plus the added incentive of trying to prove that last weeks loss was just a fluke. These two motives should make the team too much for Shippensburg to handle.

Last week a lot of students made the trip to Clarion to root on the Bald Eagles. One student brought along a trumpet, and although he wasn't quite Al Hirt, he was good enough to add pep to the cheering section. Everyone who went to the game last week should bring along a couple of friends and go again this week. The guy who had the trumpet should bring it again this week. Maybe TKE could even bring its base drum. All those who want to could take along a six-pack to celebrate a Bald Eagle victory and everyone who does go, especially the ones with the six-packs, will not be disappointed.

School Colors Reaffirmed

The traditional maroon and gray football and soccer uniforms have been replaced by scarlet and white, but the school colors are still officially maroon and gray. Dr. Francis Hamblin, President of Lock Haven State, stated an announcement will be made at a later date concerning the official changing of school colors to scarlet and white.

In the spring of 1971, the athletic coaches approached the SCC with a proposal to change the colors of the athletic uniforms. The coaches wanted this change because the traditional maroon and gray colors were difficult to obtain when ordering new uniforms. The SCC agreed to change the colors to scarlet and white.

Thus far, the change in school colors has not taken place only in the athletic uniforms, but soon scarlet and white will be adopted by the school.
