Dramatic Club Experiments with New Forum Plan

"The Forfeit" is the Occasion of a College Get-Together

By HELENA SILVAGY

The Chi Kappa Sigma Dramatic Club quite formally and very dramatically welcomed the college to its first get-acquainted party in the auditorium on Friday, October 15. The occasion was the excellent presentation of "The Forfeit," a one-act drama by the well known English playwright, T. B. Rogers. The character parts, from the intelligent and sympathetic Miss Hyde to the honest and trustworthy Thropp, were beautifully portrayed.

Preceding the play, President Joseph McVerney spoke briefly concerning further developments in the Dramatic Club reorganization. This year the club has gone one step farther in its program. The members have agreed to try out a new plan. This will include five forums, namely: Play-reading, costume, staging, make-up and directing. These forums will meet at regularly scheduled nights. Their purpose is to have those people working together toward a common cause who are interested in one or all of these several phases of dramatic art. In their groups the members of these forums will study, discuss, and apply if possible, all things connected with that particular phase of activity. The reason for all this activity, as outlined by Mr. McVerney, is to make the college, and more especially the Dramatic Club, worthy of the lovely new auditorium to be erected on the Lock Haven Teachers College Campus, the blue-prints of which show a fine and very elegant edifice, with dressing rooms and work shops.

Incidentally, Miss Brons is responsible for the location and several of the very clever and convenient compartments of the auditorium-to-be. I refer you all to Miss Brons—for interest, energy, and originality. She will meet those interested in any kind of dramatic work, in Room 33, Friday, October 22, either at 10:30 A. M. to 11:20 A. M., or at 7:00 P. M. to 9:00 P. M. The Dramatic Club urges all of you to give yourselves a chance.

From The President's Office

The thinking person must be constantly impressed with the thought that in life there are innumerable values which cannot be measured or defined. For instance, what do we measure truth, or beauty? And yet it is true that some of the greatest values are in the areas of the immeasurable?

Consider the question of "school spirit." Is it a quality which can be measured or defined? We are nevertheless conscious of its existence. We go to a football game and are impressed by the presence or absence of an indefinable something which makes the difference between a live, wide awake and enthusiastic group and one which gives the opposite impression. We may attend assemblies, chapels, class meetings, or club meetings and see the presence or absence of this phenomena we call "school spirit."

To develop the sense of unity, the feeling of loyalty and the enthusiastic spirit needed in building a wholesome college community, it is essential that every student and faculty member understand the purposes of the college. After this fundamental understanding has been attained the next step is the development of desirable attitudes. Let us clearly define our purposes and then strive with all the strength and enthusiasm of our beings to attain the worth-while goals we have set up. In so doing we shall build an even greater and finer college and, incidentally, enrich ourselves.

J. G. FLOWERS, President

Sarah Beck and Rev. Ditzler Speak to Student Body at Interesting Chapel Programs

On October 6, Miss Sarah Beck, a member of the Lock Haven High School faculty, spoke to the student body on the subject of "Making the Most of Teaching." She stressed teaching embodies more than the old important fact that real new presentation of text book information. The teacher's opportunities, if she would really see, stretch beyond the classroom into the social and the home life of her students.

On October 11, the chapel program was in charge of June Freed. Dorothy Heller sang the solo, "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

The Reverend Mr. Ditzler, pastor of the local Reformed Church, spoke on the theme, "God and Nature." He supplemented his talk with various poems.

Dr. T. Z. Koo, yesterday's assembly speaker, is internationally known in government circles. He is now traveling secretary for the Second Opium Conference called by the League of Nations. He is now traveling secretary for the World Student Christian Federation and a member of the China National Committee.

The contacts of College Instructors in the field on Extension service are intended to bring both to the field and to the College a sense of unity and continuity of purpose and effort.

It is intended that Instructors on the field will acquaint themselves with the needs of the teachers in service and of the schools in our area so that the College may be able to meet the needs of how these needs may best be met by the College. The efforts of the College so far to reach out in its attempt to meet the needs of the field have met with sincere and hearty cooperation on the part of the teachers and school officials in our area.

Girls' Lounge To Be Furnished

An interesting meeting was held in the new non-resident girls' lounge, formerly the infirmary, on Friday morning, October 8. Miss Poole addressed the girls briefly on new regulations and those affecting all boarding students of the college. Dr. Flowers' interest in non-resident students was very well shown by his attitude toward, and plans for the refurbishing of the room. Through the aid of available funds, and the fine cooperation of both non-resident anditory students the lounge will prove to be one of the most attractive rooms in College.

For the first time since student assessment has provided the financial backbone for student activities in Lock Haven, the Student Budget, long the subject of controversy, is being made public in detail. Administered by the Student Activity Council, of meager student representation, it was drawn up under circumstances resembling those of a military staff's strategical planning.

At the meeting for the purpose of drawing up the present budget, it was found necessary to make a reduction in last year's activity program. A slightly restricted schedule in Men's Athletics was the major adjustment; this allowed an increased appropriation for Women's Sports. The other items have not varied appreciably. The secretary-treasurer's salary is a newcomer to the budget, since Dr. Weber relinquished his management of council funds.

Significant percentages are the following: Men's Athletics, 40%; Women's Athletics, 8 1/2%; Artists' Course, 15%; and the Præco, 14 1/2%.

Student Activity Council Budget 1937-38
Men's Athletics	$3600.00

English Majors Organize Club

Tuesday evening, October 5, a tackle some brain-teasers prepared large number of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior English majors, plus several others vitally interested in English, met at the club's home. Although this was the initial meeting of English enthusiasts this year, part of the group met last year to elect a temporary chairman, Caroline Brown, who presided Tuesday evening. The club decided to substitute a secretary for complex organization. As North's man, there will be Geraldine Merz, and secretary, Alice Frederick.

After the business session, Mrs. North served delicious refreshments. Armed with this nourishment, the group proceeded to

All those present at this first meeting will be charter members of the club. At least once a month, there will be a meeting at a private home or at college. The group will discuss contemporary novel, drama, poetry, in short anything of interest to the literary-minded. Interesting gatherings will be invited to meet with the club.

Council by Students

For nearly two months, a group of enthusiastic students have been working on a plan of initiating a student council in the College. Before college registration began, twelve students, representing the various phases of college life, met with Dr. Flowers and discussed ways of bettering life on our campus.

At the first dinner and conference, the group has been enlarged to twenty-four, for the purpose of putting our plans into action. A Student Council seemed to be one way of settling many grievances. In order to accomplish its plans, the group chose George Hoffnagle student chairman. Without losing time, Mr. Hoffnagle asked everyone to become thoroughly acquainted with different types of student councils in operation.

Do we really want a student council in Lock Haven? Will a council solve any of our present needs? These questions were brought before the student body in an assembly program. Dr. Flowers started students thinking on many school problems, and left the matter of what we wanted entirely in our hands. A Student Council seemed to be the best solution to our problem.

The committee on selecting the best plan to fit the College has made an intensive study of various plans. The committee had considered the plans in operation at Shippensburg and West Chester as well as various high schools, and plans submitted by Dr. Weber, Miss Poole and Walter Montague. We do not expect to adapt any one of these plans outright, but some of these features, combined with original ideas, may fit our needs.

Anyone is welcome to these meetings on the formation of a student council which are held every Wednesday evening in Miss Poole's office. Various plans will soon be submitted to the student body for approval, and before the close of the semester we hope to have a student council in operation.

Study in Black and White

"The only thing in the European situation that I feel absolutely certain about in my own mind is that another great war cannot be avoided."—Webb Miller.

When the magazine "Time" donated space to the militant peace organization World Peaceways, Inc., it opened itself to tongue lashings by hot-collared chauvinists. "The spirit of the now-famous "Hello Soldier" advertisement—the drawing of a crippled soldier, captioned by the above greeting—is apparent to any cool-headed adult; it is patently not one of ridicule for the war cripples.

We have had enough about war revealed to us by men who lived in it; we have seen the last generation betrayed by the convenient idealism of diplomats. The spirit of the greatest in the history of humanity; we are prophets enough even to predict the casualties of the next war; they will be as follows:

Men killed (combatants and non-combatants) 17,076,630
Wounded . . . . . 42,438,904
The greatest battle to be fought in this war will be the greatest in the history of humanity; 2,100,000 men will die on this field alone; the homes of 1,500,000 families will be wrecked by bombs; 70,000 miles of road will be blasted to rubble. The nations of Europe will come out of the conflict bankrupt; international trade will be a shadow of its old self. Thus in the battle of the best minds and bodies, will leave the peoples of the world eugenically bankrupt.

The above figures are not arbitrary; they were arrived at by doubling the corresponding official figures for the War of 1914-18. The technique of warfare has improved intensively; they will perhaps be found conservative at some future date.

New Junior High Activities Begin

Miss Lillian Russell, of the Training School faculty, reports that the Junior High School is well under way with 171 pupils enrolled. This is the largest enrollment that the school has ever had.

There are many new extra-curricular activities organized in the grades. The most prominent of these is the Boys' Athletic Club, which was formed in conjunction with the Physical Education classes. The club is open to all the boys in the Junior High who are interested in the further development of sports.

The other clubs that are being organized are: two Dramatic Clubs—one for the Eighth Grade and one for the Ninth, a Sewing and Knitting Club, a Hiking Club, and a special Speech Club, under the direct supervision of Miss Brong, for the Seventh Grade.

The Seventh Grade is also enjoying French for the first time in the history of the school.

All the Junior High and the faculty are anxiously anticipating the annual Halloween Party to be held Friday afternoon, October 29, in the college gymnasium.

D. C. Redraft

(Continued from first page) and other students not acquainted with the new organization launched under the Dramatic Club last year, a few of the major items of the constitution are here printed. These concern the ways that any college student may become eligible for membership.

Dr. Koo, Lecturer, Diplomat, "Prophet"

Monday's assembly speaker, Dr. Koo, has spoken before American audiences so often that he may be called the "Ambassador of the American public platform." After graduating from St. John's University, Shanghai, he entered the administrative department of the Chinese Railway Service; he then joined the staff of the national committee of the Y. M. C. A. of China in connection with the colleges and universities. Later he represented China at the 1925 Opium Conference in Geneva. From here he has been in India, Australasia and Europe. He was especially well received in England where he became well-known as a diplomat and prophet. At present his energies are being directed in work among students in behalf of the World's Student Christian Federation.

ON the MERRYGROUND

Something in Common
When the English Fascist leader, Mosley, spoke in London, he was attacked by an anti-Fascist mob. There were also fights within the crowd between Fascists and Communists. The meeting ended with the singing of "God Save the King," during which the Fascists and Communists, both singing, gave salutes of upraised palms and clenched fists, respectively.

The Japanese Advance
In an air raid on Hongkong, a Japanese bomber dropped seven bombs on the campus of the Sun Yat-sen University without much effect. Another bomb Sunday seriously damaged the Home for the Aged Poor, killing several of the inmates. Japanese naval warfare on Junks resulted in the destruction of a fleet of fishermen and their families.

A New Spanish Custom
A terrific night bombardment marked the "day of the race" in Madrid, a religious festival of Christmas, New Year's, Epiphany and other holidays during this war.

Beethoven Hath Charms
Every time it looked like matiny aboard the British freighter, Sherard Osborne, "Fiddling Freddy," you u n g Norwegian-Chinese, brought out his fiddle and played Beethoven's Sonata in F in the fo'e'sle to the crew—and most times they cried.

C. C. Advances on New Front
The C. C. has turned its attention to that age-old problem of youth, homesickness, and what can be done about it. The corps is making a valiant effort to be against "homesickness" that "Camp officers have been given the title—D. O. H.—Doctor of Homesickness."

Heroes Are Unmaded
The recent Soviet executions are making it embarrassing for Russian officials. Many factories, streets, towns and public buildings were named for Soviet heroes who were later stood against a stone wall of traitors; these landmarks are now being renamed—until the when it may be necessary to change them again.

Justice in the Act
An Indiana Justice of the Peace found himself running through a red light. He brought the charge against the offender, held a session of court, pleaded guilty and fined himself—the fine to be paid—himself.

Marking Time
The Emperor Hirohito has announced the opening of an ancient court ritual—the annual poetry contest—set as the subject "In a Shrine Garden." It is open to any Japanese citizen; the condition is that it must be written in a strict classical form. The Japanese military councils could submit the verse they have been reciting since Manchukuo from glowing and harrowing in the Chinese garden.

Student Placement

secondary placement is still being handled.

Slippery Rock Fire Destroys Dorm

Kitchen Source of Fire Which Drives Students Out on Campus; Loss Estimated at $400,000

A fire at the Slippery Rock Teachers College Saturday, drove 167 girl students from their dormitory North Hall when a fire which started in the kitchen, where homecoming preparations were being made, moved toward the building. The damage to the building which collapsed, amounted to $400,000. Warning was given by one of the girls students, and came just in time to allow them to leave the building hurriedly.

The building consisted of the women's dormitory, the college dining room and the living quarters of President Miller and his family.

Although many alumni had gathered for the celebration and the football game with Westminster, the president announced that all plans were called off.

The other college buildings and homes near the campus took care of the students who moved out on the campus, trying to keep warm.

It Happened One Night

The other day as I approached the library, I noticed a crowd of flying, spear-like missiles. I ducked toward the corner, and from the safety of the bookstore door watched for further developments. Soon a big cat sped desperately toward the corner, and disappeared through the Post Office window, and disappeared across the campus. Hard on her tail were two ladies who tried to identify them, but I couldn't identify them. For some time I remained quietly in my place of refuge puzzling over the nature and cause of the incident. When I felt it safe, I cautiously rounded the corner. From the library a salvaged one of the missiles—swapped stick from the library—was agast! What reason could there be for such a violent display of antagonism toward a harmless, friendly cat? Why were the two librarians so intent on shoeing the cat away from their domain? Last year the cat in the library had been treated quite kindly, especially the bow-legged ones who didn't talk. This, I decided, was a topic for investigation.

The next day I assumed my best S. P. C. A. manner and approached the library determined to get to the root of the matter. I thought that the librarians would show a little sympathy for the cat and share with her behavior, but throughout our interview they were righteously indignant. When two students asked for books, one of them said, "Oh, by the way, the anger knew no bounds. This is the story they told me; I let you see whether the methods of preventing its repetition were justified. We all called her Alice, a beautiful cat.

She purred round our ankles, she came every rat. She came into the library and sat on the floor. She was so fat. She didn't want books; no, she wanted a nest.

We thought she was bookish; we treated her fine; She came in at seven and stayed overnight. Her conduct was perfect; she made not a sound; But she had a purpose in hanging around.

When we came to open on one bright night, Alice, with pride, revealed to our sight. Three little kittens surrounded by a host of mice, Disheveled and dirty and not much for looks.

Kutztown Breaks Under L. H. Drives

First Quarter Lead for Kutztown Headed Off by Mollura; Third Team Plays

Recovering from a hard-hitting Kutztown attack which left them trailing 7-0 at the end of the first quarter, Lock Haven went into fighting mood that brought them into the lead by the end of the second quarter, with steady gains from there on.

1st quarter: Mannion kicked off three times to open the first quarter due to two successive offside plays by Kutztown. W. Hopkins ran 30 yards on the first play after Kutztown's quick kick. After an exchange of punts, Kutztown started a march from the Lock Haven 40 yard line and ran off three successive first downs to the Lock Haven 3 yard line from which Forte plunged over for the six pointer. DeMatteo place-kicked the extra point. Kutztown 7, Lock Haven 0. Huffnagle recovered a Kutztown fumble on their 34 yard line just as the quarter ended.

2nd quarter: At the beginning of the quarter, Lock Haven started a drive from their own 34 yard line to the 2 yard line, where Mollura sliced through center to Lock Haven's first score. But Pete missed the try for point from placement. Kutztown 7, Lock Haven 0. From their own 30 yard line, Lock Haven started another march with Mollura and W. Hopkins crashing the Kutztown line for successive gains. Two passes by Yohe to Kruper and Hoffnagle netted 30 yards and put the ball on Kutztown's 11 yard line, where Bill Hopkins, starter three tries, put the pigskin over for L. H. Nevins' touchdown. Again Mollura place-kicked the extra point. Kutztown 7, Lock Haven 0. Just as the quarter was ending, Yohe returned Forte's punt 20 yards from the Lock Haven 15 yard line to the 35 yard line. J. Hopkins, on two tries, gained 22 yards as the whistle blew.

3rd quarter: On the first Lock Haven offensive play, Abe Hochrein, on a reverse from Mollura, raced 34 yards to the Kutztown 23 yard line. Four plays later, Mollura plunged over for the Maroon's third count. Mollura place-kicked the extra point. Kutztown 7, Lock Haven 19. Kutztown punted to Lock Haven; Blankenship, on a reverse, raced to Kutztown's 39 yard line from his own 40 yard marker. After Lock Haven aimed another first down on Kutztown's 29 yard line, Yohe's pass, intended for DeMatteo, was intercepted by DeMatteo. But again Kutztown was forced to punt. On two plays, W. Hopkins and Blankenship gained 25 yards, resting the ball on the Kutztown 22 yard line; but the Maroons' threat was stopped by an intercepted pass. Kutztown punted to their own 30 yard line; W. Hopkins raced 14 yards to the Kutztown 22 yard stripe to threaten the Kutztown goal line. Blankenship, on a reverse, ran to the 3 yard line from where W. Hopkins scored the 4th Lock Haven goal. McCollum place-kicked the extra point. Kutztown 7, Lock Haven 26. Kutztown kicked off to L. H. and Hertz, caught slugging, caused his punt. The game ended with L. H. in possession of the ball on their own 25 yard line.

By JOE SARAFINSKI
After a mediocre start, the Maroon and Gray gridders flashed into the same form that won them the State Championship title in '36. The fighting hearts of these lads were uncovered during both the Indiana and Cortland games. During the first quarters of these contests, the Maroons were definitely outclassed; but the results of those games are now T. C. history.

team to be penalized half the distance to the goal. After L. H. lost the ball on downs, Kutztown punted to L. H.'s 48 yard line as the quarter ended.

4th quarter: After Kutztown started what looked like a touch-down march, Frethy intercepted a pass and raced to K.'s 17 yard line. A pass from Blankenship to R. Myers advanced the ball to the 9 yard line, where Frethy scored L. H.'s fifth touchdown. McCollum place-kicked the point. Kutztown 7, Lock Haven—35. Kutztown started a drive against L. H.'s third stringers, but after running up three first downs, Blankenship intercepted a pass on his own 10 yard line. From here Nevins raced 17 yards to the 27 yard line. After a 15 yard penalty, L. H. was held for downs on their own 18 yard line. With but a few minutes left to play Kutztown started an aerial attack, and here is where "Rollie" Myers stepped in to intercept a pass. Nevins boot a beautiful

"Two-in-one," watched the Cortland game from the side-lines. He injured his knee during the Indiana fracas and is slowly recuperating with the aid of "Whitney." "Cherub" Hoffnagle displayed some of his highly touted tackling ability in the Cortland game. He was running close to "Pedro" Mollura in turning in pretty defensive plays. In fact, the entire line showed up well after that peculiar first quarter lapse.

"Gorgeous" Frethy started on a short story one night and ended up by telling a tall one. "Swifty" Ann, and Margie enjoyed it until they were told it was only a nightmare. Murder after murder was committed in that story.

Not many of us have heard of a young lad by the name of Roman "Fili" Pieo, but it seems that his name is among the names of the champions. He holds the national record for climbing a 25 foot rope. We all hope to see him in action some time in the near future. He is also a master in the art of trepze work on parallel bars. Keep an eye on him.

"Ringle" Smith, although playing for only a few minutes of the Cortland game, made his presence felt in more ways than one.

"Jocko" Nevins has been doing some very fine punting every time he gets the chance. He booted one for 80 yards at Geneva. And against Cortland he had a perfect 50 yard send-off.

"Ducky" Weaver has been keeping up his hard tackling and blocking along with "Bruto" McCollum. Take time out during a game and watch these lads.

When grid men turn in a performance like ours at the Cortland game, rival teams watch L. H. stock soar. Of course, our season has just started, and our toughest games (Mansfield, West Chester, and Shippensburg) are yet to come.

Women's Sports

The girls' hockey team has been invited to a hockey tournament at Shippensburg the week end of October 23. All the teachers colleges will be represented.

W. A. A. The Women's Athletic Association has been sponsoring a membership campaign during the week ending October 18. "Mad" White and Florence Galante were membership team leaders; the winning team will be guests of the losing side at a hamburger fry on Thursday of this week.

Hiking Club The Hiking Club, which has just been organized on the campus, is planning a supper hike Thursday evening at 4:30.
