FOREIGN SERVICE ENTRANCE EXAM OFFERED

Washington, D.C. The Foreign Service, whose officers are responsible for maintaining U.S. relations with more than 130 governments around the world, has opened its annual drive to recruit new junior officers, the State Department announced.

The written entrance exam will be given this year on Saturday, December 1st in 154 cities across the country and at Foreign Service posts abroad. Applications for the examination must be filed by interested candidates no later than October 19. They may be obtained in the Career Development Center, Raub Hall or by writing to: Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Room 7113, SA-15, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20520.

To build a Foreign Service that is representative of the population at large, the Department of State is emphasizing recruitment of women and minorities. The Foreign Service is also interested in recruiting persons for work in the economic/commercial and administrative fields. Selection is determined on a competitive basis by both written examination and other assessment techniques.

Foreign Service applicants must be U.S. citizens and at least 20 years of age. Although there are no specific educational requirements, successful completion of the test requires a broad knowledge of foreign and domestic affairs and current events, as well as U.S. history, government, and culture.

The examination differs somewhat depending on whether the applicant desired to join the Department of State as a Foreign Service Officer (FSO), or the U.S. International Communication Agency (USICA) as a Foreign Service Information Officer (FSIO). There is no foreign language requirement, but after appointment an officer must become proficient in at least one foreign language.

Starting annual salaries for junior officers range from approximately $13,000 to $18,264. On overseas assignments this is supplemented by housing allowances and educational allowances for dependents, and sometimes, depending on local conditions, by cost-of-living and hardship post allowances.

The written exam will test the candidate's skills and abilities in the different areas of Foreign Service work--administrative, consular, economic/commercial, and political for FSO's, or information/cultural for FSIO's. Sections on English expression and general background information also are included.

Those who pass the written examination are eligible to participate in the subsequent assessment program.

Appointments are made according to the needs of the Foreign Service without regard to race, creed, sex, ethnic background, or marital status.

Administrative officers specialize in management and budget and supervise the daily operations of U.S. embassies and consulates.

Consular officers provide a broad range of services to Americans living and traveling abroad and to foreign travelers to the United States.

Economic/commercial officers provide a broad liaison between American and foreign business interests, report on economic conditions overseas, and negotiate international trade and monetary agreements.

Political officers are responsible for the more widely publicized aspects of diplomacy; they negotiate with foreign governments and report on political conditions within a country.

Information and cultural officers, representing US ICA, work with the news media, plan cultural programs, and coordinate educational exchanges.

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

Howard Morland-Whose article on the H-Bomb will finally be published next month by the progressive magazine said the United States should reduce its inventory of nuclear warheads from 30-thousand to "about 100." The government recently dropped its lawsuit to block Morland's article when similar information was published in several newspapers.

The Supreme Court refused to extend the stay of execution for convicted Nevada murdered Jesse Bishop, who is condemned to die in the gas chamber. Bishop says he wants to die, but the state public defender filed an appeal on his behalf anyway.

(Boston)--Pope John Paul began a week-long visit to the United States yesterday with a mass in Historic Boston Common. He stressed his Love for America and its People. At one point he quoted from the song, "America The Beautiful."

The United States officially ended 76 years of control over the Panama Canal yesterday. Vice President Mondale said the return of the Canal shows the U.S. belief that "fairness and not force" should be the basis of U.S. relations.

Ford Motor Company has presented a contract offer to the United Auto Workers, apparently matching terms of the Union's contract with General Motors.

More than 160 people have been arrested in an anti-nuclear power protest in Barnwell County, South Carolina. The demonstrators--most of them singing "We Shall Overcome"--submitted peacefully to arrest.

The State Department says it is "most disappointing" that Chile has refused to extradite three Army Officers to the United States. The three are charged in the 1976 murder of Chilean Diplomat Orlando Letelier.

EDITORIAL

By DIANE ORBAN

The most popular topic of conversation around campus this weekend was definitely the annual Phi Mu Delta Dance Marathon. Although the topic was consistent, the opinions were not.

Most everyone agreed that the dance was a lot of fun and that it was for a good cause, however, there was a great deal of concern about the length of the contest. Maybe we should consider a 24 hour marathon.

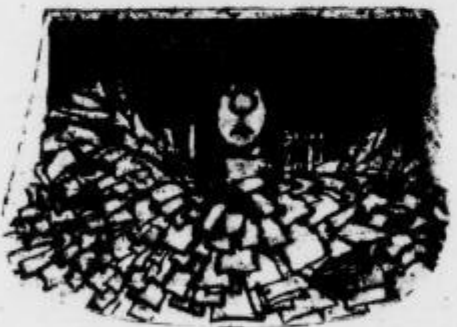

Those in favor of the 48 hour grueling marathon might say that the personal reward after 48 hours is far greater than after only a 24 hour period. They might also argue that more money can be earned in the more lengthy marathon.

However, is personal reward really worth swollen ankles, torn or stretched tendons and ligaments, fallen arches and the mental strain?

Isn't it also logical that if the contest was shortened to 24 hours, more couples would dance and therefore the amount raised would be the same?

Also, after a 24 hour period, students would have more time to revive themselves for their Monday classes. After all, this is a learning institution.

Ginny Roth, one of the contestants who survived the straining marathon, summed it up pretty well when she said, "It was the best and the worst time of my life, all in one weekend."

To the Editor,

In various east coast cities these past few months, there have been marches and demonstrations by women to "take back the night." The women of this campus need to unite to take back not only the night, but every minute of the day. In the first month of this semester there have been close to 14 assaults on this campus - and most assaults on a person are by someone they know.

This past weekend as I walked around the campus at night, I took note of the large number of lights that were out on campus. In particular, I saw one light on the stairs leading up to the hill and no light in the back corner of Raub by the library. I am aware that there is an energy crisis but when it comes to my safety and the safety of every other person on this campus, I want those lights on.

Women of Lock Haven State College, unite! Take back the 24 hours of each day that you are entitled to have. When walking around campus, don't walk alone - walk in pairs or groups. NEVER jog alone. Lock the door to your room every night and identify a visitor before opening the door.

At the present rate, there will be 56 assaults by the end of the semester - that's 1 in 20 women. If you are assaulted (by anyone) report the incident to Law Enforcement. For support and legal services referral, contact the Women's Resource Organization in the basement of Russell.

Take care of yourself!

Bobi Hegarty

To everyone who cared enough to help me last weekend - THANKS! debbi

Attention Freshman Students, please pick-up your Freshman record, "The Haven" as soon as possible in 431 Mc Entire. There are approx. 300 books still to be picked up. For further information contact Lou at 893-3829.

A great big Thank you to all of our friends who supported us this weekend, and a special thanks to the Phi Mu Delta Brothers, our sponsor and the other dancers. You guys are super! We had such a fun time - we couldn't have made it without you all.....

Finance Committee meeting in PUB tonight at 6 p.m. All small club officers interested should attend.

To the Editor

It has come to the attention of the High Hall Council that a mandatory attendance policy is taking form before the S.C.C. Under the vague terms we have received from the Committee for Academic Regulations and Admissions the understanding follows as such: A student may not miss, unexcused, more than 15% of his classes. No penalties were set for those who exceeded the allotted 15%.

It is the unanimous contention of the High Hall Council that a mandatory attendance policy should not be adopted. As consumers who have paid excessive amounts of money we feel we should have the liberty of using our product as we see fit. After paying the fee for college the students should be responsible for their own attendance.

Our major concern went far beyond the preceding points. There is one question that sticks sharply in our minds. If a policy is to be considered that directly affects every student who attends Lock Haven then why don't more people know about the basic proposals concerning the attendance policy. Shouldn't it be the responsibility of S.C.C. to educate the students of this policy in hopes of receiving feedback?

The purpose behind this letter is to make students at least aware of the situation that is before us. Wednesday evening at 6:30 pm. at the PUB North Lounge there will be a 'S.C.C. meeting taking place. Go there, ask questions, and express your views on a policy may be passed that you are not satisfied with.

Yours truly,
Don Johnston
President High Hall

Feeling disoriented, down in the dumps, or just lonely - why not audition for a play and get involved in College Players?

College Players have two more studio plays scheduled for this semester. Anyone can audition or offer to work behind stage.

The two one-act plays scheduled are "Sociability", being directed by Darsell Brittingham, (two men and two women), and "The Brick and the Rose" being directed by Mike Fix, (five men and five women). "Sociability" is a comedy about manners and "The Brick and the Rose" is a dramatic play.

Both plays will be performed on November 11,12,13, and 14. Auditions begin tonight, Tuesday, October 2 from 6-7 p.m. and will run each night through this Thursday.

All students are encouraged to try out.

This week, the College Players will be performing the first of the studio plays for this semester. The first performance will be this Tuesday, tonight, in Sloan 321.

The first play, "The Happy Journey" is a comedy about a family taking a trip to see their married daughter. This production has been under the direction of Aaron Battle for three weeks and is a somewhat of an old fashion type of humor.

The people in this farce are: Susan Szabo, Cathy Policheak, Joe Ritchey, Chris Foster, and Mike Winkelman. This one-act play is short and uses an imaginary car and props.

The second show is an english farce, "Hands Across the Sea," and deals with light British humor. The action takes place in a rich proper english home, with everyone trying to act very rich and snobby.

The students in this production are: Barbara Loza, Sandy Magera, Sharon Stoll, Peter Lyer, Gary Simmerman, Barbara Paladino, and Dave Shuey.

The productions of "The Happy Journey" and "Hands Across the Sea" will run Tuesday of this week through Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the Upstairs Theater in Sloan. Admission is free and tickets can be picked up with student I.D.s in the PUB

The movie that was just released last Friday, "The Legacy," is another horror flick for the season of flicks. This movie is based on a book by the same name that has been pushed to the limit by the publishers for the last couple of months.

The movie stars Katharine Ross and Sam Elliott. Ross starred in the spine tingling flick, "The Stepford Wives".

The plot of the movie is to have only one survivor to receive the gift of legacy. It is a real modern horror show.

PENNA. RECEIVES LOWEST PHEAA GRANTS

(HARRISBURG) Pennsylvania state college and university (PSCU) students pay the highest public college tuition in the nation, receive less money from PHEAA grants than students in private and state-related schools and, due to serious underfunding from the state legislature, and subjected to severe cutbacks in course offerings, laboratory and library services and student work-study programs.

In an effort to promote an understanding of these serious budget problems facing PSCU students, the Commonwealth Association of Students (CAS) will hold a massive tuition and underfunding education campaign during the week of October 8-15 on all PSCU campuses.

Cas local campus chapters will distribute tuition and budget fact sheets to students and will ask students to take part in letter-writing and phone-in campaigns to the Governor, Secretary of Education and members of the state legislature.

"Students should be outraged at the fact that they are paying more money for less educational opportunities," declared CAS President Chris Leavey. "Yet, before we can band together and protest rising tuition and underfunding by the state, we have to be informed and aware of the bleak financial picture of our system," he explained.

A study recently compiled by the CAS staff in Harrisburg on tuition and appropriations shows that:

*Tuition at Pennsylvania's 13 state-owned colleges and Indiana University is the highest in the nation for public higher education. If tuition were to rise by $50, Pennsylvania would be the first state to charge a four-figure amount for public college tuition.

*Pennsylvania ranks 51st in the nation for the number of high school graduates going on to college education. CAS believes there is a direct correlation between high tuition and the low number of high school graduates pursuing an education.

*The average PHEAA grant (full year) to PSCU students has experienced a 26 per cent decrease, while grants to private and state-related schools students have increased.

*Pennsylvania ranks 37th in the nation in the percentage of a state's operation budget going to higher education.

*Pennsylvania ranks 44th among state in appropriations to higher education per capita.

*High tuition decreases enrollments, thus lowering campus budgets, while lower budgets force cutbacks in course offerings, library and laboratory services and student work-study.

*The State Legislature had not passed a capital budget of a comprehensive nature in six years, which has resulted in lack of funding to repair and maintain campus buildings.

These facts and more will be given to students throughout Pennsylvania to gather support for the present tuition cap and to show the importance of students registering to vote in their campus districts. By registering and voting, students will have a greater say in electing legislators who will vote for more funds for the state-owned colleges and consequently, keep tuition costs down. CAS believes a greater understanding of the tuition cap must be shown so that students can write or call Governor Thornburgh and Secretary of Education Robert Scanlon urging them to keep a cap on tuition for the remainder of this year. The tuition cap was written by CAS and was passed by the state legislature in July. It mandates that the Secretary of Education not raise tuition for a one-year period. Yet, Secretary Scanlon has been attempting to get a ruling from the Attorney General declaring the cap unconstitutional. If this were to happen, tuition could rise anywhere from $50-$100 for the spring semester.

"CAS needs the students to unite and do something about the bad state of education in Pennsylvania," concluded President Leavey. "Take the time and write or phone or else you may be taking the time to look for a way to finance your education."

HUMAN RELATIONS WORKSHOP

By CLARENCE WASHINGTON

Human Relations held its second annual workshop at Sieg Conference Center on the weekend of September 15, 1979. The theme of this year's program was "We Are Making It."

Approximately 50 minority students, under the direction of Ms. Maritza Tason, Human Relations Coordinator, and Ms. Patricia Jones, Department Director of Act 101 worked through a series of exercises and programs that were designed for learning and to help the students to get to know each other better.

Three guest speakers also made up a main part of the program. The first speaker was Mr. Gary Banks who talked on, "How to Better Our Education in Lock Haven." Mr. Terrell Jones was the second speaker and he discussed the "Social Strategies for Survival at Lock Haven" and also involved everyone in a few self-awareness exercises. The final speaker was Mr. William Smith-Hinds who gave the students an insight on Afro-American History.

The program closed with the officers of the Black Cultural Society at the controls. The last day events included: a picnic, swimming, and a dance. Ms. Tason said she "thought that the workshop was a very fulfilling, exciting experience" and she thought everyone enjoyed and gained something from the program.

THE ULTIMATE SPORT

Not quite good enough for the other sports here at college? Try a new one! Ultimate Frisbee could be your answer. You don't have to be a great athlete or have a variety of throws. All you need is the desire to learn something new, to have a good time.

In Ultimate we compete against other colleges on the east coast. We are in the process of rebuilding and developing our program to the height of competition we once were. The team is in its third year of league competition. We placed third in Penna, during our first year.

Practices are held at the Catholic school on Water Street (4 blocks from school) Mon.-Fri. at 4:00 pm. Everyone is Welcome!!

To promote a more lively atmosphere for Homecoming '79, the Lock Haven State College Alumni Association is sponsoring a "SUPPORT THE BALD EAGLES" sign contest, open to any Lock Haven State College student or organization.

The signs, placed around the football fence will be judged in three categories:
A. Best Theme Support
B. Most Original
C. Most Artistic

with a ten dollar award to the winner in each category. All entries must be registered by completing a registration form in the Alumni Office, Sullivan 311, by Friday, October 12 at 4 pm. Rules and guidelines concerning the contest may be secured at that time.

The Alumni Association is looking forward to making Homecoming '79 a great weekend for all.

FRISBEE

It's such a beautiful day, I think I'll go out and throw the Frisbee. Oh well maybe I won't I think I'll watch those same guys again. It sure would be nice to throw, but those hot dogs would embarrass me.

Have these thoughts run through your mind? You need not think this way. Anyone can learn to throw! It just takes a little patience and a few pointers. Frisbee is one of the most relaxing and yet at times competitive of all sports. It's totally up to you, as to the level you wish to attain.

For those of you with the desire to get out of the peanut gallery and into the action come to the Frisbee disc Club meeting, Tues, Oct 2nd. The meeting will be held in Raub 206 at 6:30 pm. Topics will include setting up an instruction schedule, on campus tournaments for members, etc. This is a co-ed club so don't be bashful. The only way to enjoy college is to take advantage of what it has to offer. We hope to see you at the meeting. If you can't make it stop by Russell Lawn and throw a few. We would be more than pleased to throw with you. LHSC Frisbee disc Club

BALD EAGLE GRIDDEERS UPSET IUP IN 3RD STRAIGHT WIN

by BOB BAKER

A sloppy field didn't hinder Joe Speese as he ran for 172 yards and quarter back Dan Spittal threw for two touchdowns as the Lock Haven football team won their third consecutive game of the season by defeating Indiana University of Pa. 28-21 this past Saturday.

IUP did get on the scoreboard first as quarter back Bob MacFarland hit wide receiver Terry Skelley for a 53 yard catch and run putting the ball on the Lock Haven 21 yard line. Four running plays moved the ball to the 10 yard line giving IUP a first and goal. Running back Ed Gonzalez moved the ball to the three. On a third and goal from the three, MacFarland rolled right going for the goal line, but cornerback Scott Reiner met him head on and it appeared that Bald Eagles might stop the touchdown. However on the next play MacFarland dove over from the one for the score. Kicker Kurt Bowers added the extra point and IUP lead 7-0. The rest of the first quarter remained scoreless as neither team could get their offense in gear.

Lock Haven got its initial touchdown of the game following a fumble recovery by Steve Orsini on the Lock Haven 33 yard line. The Bald Eagles began to get their offense going as Speese turned out 23 yards in the drive. Lock Haven was also helped by an offsidess penalty which gave them a first down at the IUP 17 yard line. From here Spittal hit Bob Lynn with a 17 yard touchdown pass. Harshman's extra point was wide and IUP lead 7-6.

Lock Haven's next score came after a poor IUP punt which set up the Bald Eagles on the IUP 47 yard line. On the first play Speese took a Spittal pitchout and ran 47 yards for the score. Lock Haven then tried for two points, but Bob Maley's pass was incomplete and Lock Haven lead 12-7.

IUP appeared not to be bothered by the score as they took the following kick off and marched 67 yards for the score with MacFarland hitting Shelley with a three yard touchdown pass. Bowers added the point after and IUP had a 14-12 lead, which is the way the first half ended.

Lock Haven received the second half kick off and proceeded to drive 75 yards for the score. The drive again featured some good running by Speese as the offensive line gave him some good blocks as he ran off 33 yards in the drive. Spittal also hit Lynn with two key passes of 16 and 12 yards. The key play in the drive was an offsidess penalty giving Lock Haven a first down on the IUP four yard line. Three running plays by Speese and Brian Statler put the ball on the one yard line. With the crowd yelling "Go for it", Coach Jack Fisher elected to try for the touchdown. Spittal didn't disappoint the crowd as he dove over the goal line for the score. Lock Haven again went for two points on the extra point and this time Maley hit Jim Letcavage for the conversion and Lock Haven lead 20-14.

The Lock Haven defense got the ball back in two plays as defensive back Tom Garizone intercepted a MacFarland pass and the Bald Eagles had another chance for a score. The third quarter ended with Spittal hitting Lynn with an 18 yard pass for the score. Maley this time hit Bill Semetelli with a pass on the extra point and Lock Haven lead 28-14 with about 13 minutes left in the game.

Some good punting the rest of the game by Jeff Coolidge kept IUP off the scoreboard until Gonzales ran over from the ten yard line to put IUP within seven points at 28-21 with 2:21 left in the game. IUP then tried an onsidess kick but the ball went out of bounds before going ten yards and Lock Haven had the ball on the IUP 48 only needing to run out the final 2:18 on the clock. However the IUP defense stopped Spittal on a fourth down and they had one play with two seconds left on the clock. MacFarland tried a long pass into the end zone, but it fell incomplete and Lock Haven had its 28-21 victory.

Joe Speese again lead the Bald Eagle rushing attack as he ground out 172 yards on 25 carries and scored on touchdown. Quarterback Dan Spittal also hit on 9 of 18 attempts for 134 yards and two touchdowns as he kept his percentage over fifty for the year. Bob Lynn was his leading receiver with six catches for 111 yards and one touchdown.

Next week Lock Haven travels to Edinboro State College for a game as they seek their fourth straight win of the season. Game time is set for 2 o'clock.

Enroute to the third straight victory for the Bald Eagle Griddeers, senior Bob Maley dives to make the reception as the IUP Indians look on. Lock Haven slid past IUP with a 28-21 victory.

EAGLES UPSET PSU 2-1

By DIANE ORBAN

The Lock Haven State College Women's Field Hockey Team, ranked 12th in the nation, squeezed by a powerful Penn State University team, ranked 2nd, to beat the Lady Lions 2-1.

Junior forward Jane Shaw started off the scoring, for the Eagles 58 seconds into the first half of the game. The goal which came off a penalty corner was assisted by Senior Sue Sakler who hand stopped the ball before Shaw, drove it for the goal.

The second score of the game, also for Lock Haven in the first half, once again came off a penalty corner, but this time it was Senior Darcy Hill who pushed the ball into the goal for a score.

The PSU Lady Lions then scored late in the first half to narrow the margin and bring the score to a 2-1 half-time.

Although both teams threatened near the goal cages during the second half of play, neither team was able to score and the Eagles pulled through to win, 2-1.

The Lock Haven J.V. team played a tough game but were unable to score as the Lady Lions J.V. won 3-0.
