MAROON AND GRAY DOWNS SUSQUEHANNA RESERVES 6-0

OPENING OFFENSIVE WINS FOR LOCALS

Achenbach Carries Ball Over Goal Line For Only Touchdown of the Game.

ROOTERS HELP TEAM TO WIN

The Maroon and Gray scored its first victory of the season when, on Hanson Field before a large crowd, it conquered the fighting Susquehanna University Jayvees by a score of 6-0. Although the score indicates a hard fought and closely contested game the locals clearly outclassed the plucky Susquehanna squad and no fewer than five times did a touchdown seem to be in the making only to have it thwarted when a pass was grounded or intercepted. Only on one or two occasions could the visitors stop the Maroon and Gray line attack during the first quarter, carrying the ball straight down the field for big gains.

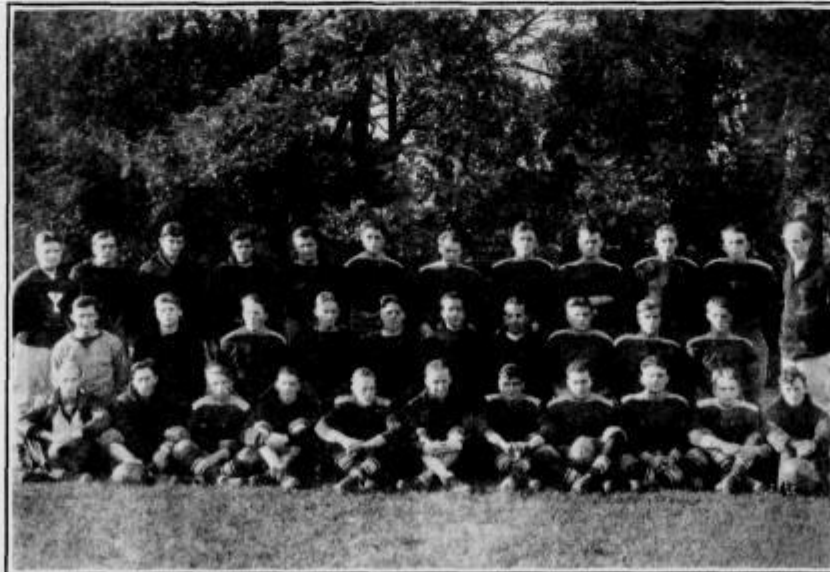

Scored in First Five Minutes.

With the visitors receiving the kick-off the Maroon and Gray line proved so tough that Susquehanna was forced to kick. Here began the offensive that was to prove the margin of victory by which Teachers College was to win. With Cowfer and Hatter carrying the ball the Maroon and Gray swept down the field, completely routing the visitors. The passing attack was used at times to vary the attack. With Renninger tossing and Hatter and Achenbach receiving (the latter going over, after a 25 yard run, for the touchdown which won the game) the Maroon and Gray had, within five minutes of play, scored a touchdown. The try for the extra point failed when the ball hit the post and bounded back into the playing field.

The locals kicked off again and, as the Maroon and Gray line did not yield sufficient ground for a first down, the visitors were again forced to punt. Cowfer and Hatter again alternated at smashing through the opposing line for big gains and the quarter ended with the ball in our possession deep in the visitors' territory and with the score 6-0 in favor of the Maroon and Gray.

OUR TEAM

On to the field of battle they ran,
With fight in the heart of every man.
They played the game square and won it too,
And this is the message I bring to you.

They did their bit and we did ours;
In unity, there is always power.
So come out and yell at the next big game,
And add some more to Lock Haven's fame.

They had not won in the last few years,
But now they have put an end to our tears;
And with your support, they will win
again,
So give three cheers for our football
men!

Maude Cunningham, '30.

DON'TS FOR FOOTBALL

Don't Dance.
Don't Smoke.
Don't Eat Candy Between Meals.
Don't Keep Irregular Habits.
Don't Neglect Your Studies.

"What do you think of a boy that would make a girl blush?"
"I think he's a wonder."

FOOTBALL TID-BITS

Coach Morgan has initiated a new procedure for selecting the player to lead the football team into action. The Captain is selected by the coach just before each game, the player showing the finest spirit and greatest improvement during the week previous to the game being chosen as Captain.

The daily practice held under the watchful eye of Coach Morgan, ably assisted by Coaches Fredericks and Griffin, are affording the coaches the opportunity of ironing out the mistakes made in previous games and giving additional drills on the plays to speed up their execution. A gradual improvement is being shown by the squad as each game passes, and if this improvement continues, it means that Teachers College will give a good account of itself in the games that are to follow.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS CAMPFIRE PARTY IN GYMNASIUM

Wednesday evening, October 16, the Y. W. C. A. had a variation in their usual program in the form of a P. J. party in the gym at 9:00 o'clock. The girls presented a very interesting study as they sat around the artificial campfire and sang familiar songs.

HI-HATS WIN HOCKEY GAMES

The Women's Athletic Association held an interesting meeting Tuesday, October 15, for the benefit of new members. After the reading of the constitution, and the disposal of regular business, a program was given illustrating various ways by which members could obtain W. A. A. points. It was given in the form of a pantomime in which the following persons took part: Basketball—Ruth Grier; Hockey—Helen Lewis; Interpretative Dancing—Edythe Lewis; Tennis—Nancy Galbraith; Track—Geneva Anderson; Hiking—Betty Kohler and Loretta Wyar; Baseball—Catherine Stiffler; Volley Ball—Doris Fitzgibbon; Roller Skating—Florence Bonner. Grace Mark acted as cheer leader.

During the meeting it was announced that the W. A. A. pins had arrived. Those qualified for them may obtain them from Nancy Galbraith.

COACH MORGAN COMPLIMENTS STUDENTS ON FINE CHEERING

On Monday morning October 21, Coach Morgan gave an inspirational talk in chapel, in which he complimented the students for their fine cheering during the game with Susquehanna, and expressed the hope that it would continue to be as good in succeeding games. He also complimented the squad on showing the College that they can win games. From now on, he said, the students are going to see a team fighting for every advantage to "bring home the bacon." He stressed the necessity for co-operation between the students and the team, and requested the students to show at every opportunity, their appreciation of the efforts of the squad to make football a winning proposition at this College.

The motorist was a stranger in Boston. It was night, a man approached. "Sir," he said, "your beacon has ceased to function."

"What," gasped the astonished driver.

"Your illuminator, I say, is shrouded with unmitigated oblivion."

"I don't quite—"

"The effulgence of your irradiator has evanesced."

"My dear fellow—"

"The transversal ether oscillations in your incandescer have been discontinued."

Just then a little newsboy came over and said, "Say, Mister, your light's out."

R. O. L.'s HOLD GET-TOGETHER PARTY FOR ALUMNUS

The members of the Rho Omega Lambda Sorority held a get-together party last Saturday evening after the dance in honor of Phoebe Varner who was graduated in 1928.

A meeting of the Beta Sigma Chi Sorority was held on Tuesday afternoon at 4:30.

On Monday evening at 4:30 the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority held its regular meeting.

On Monday evening at 4:30 the Rho Omega Lambdas met and arranged for a pajama party in honor of their visiting members.

The Art Club members are busily engaged painting Christmas cards for which they will take orders from the students and faculty members.

NATURALIST CLUB HOLDS A MOONLIGHT PICNIC

Friday, October 18, the Naturalist Club held a moonlight picnic. It was a clear moonlight night which lent itself to the outing in the best possible manner. No campfire group would be complete without an Indian War Dance, so the Naturalists had a visit from the "Would-be-Indians" of the Junior High School, who gave their wild cries and encircled the group around the campfire. While sandwiches and marshmallows were toasted, stories were told and songs sung. The picnic meant a great deal of fun for the Club.

Price and Shakespeare Literary Societies have accepted a challenge to debate with the Clarion State Teachers College. The debate will be held here at our College and will probably take place the latter part of February or the first of March.

Dannelly Takes Cowfer's Place.

The second quarter found a fighting Susquehanna team facing the locals who could do little or nothing with the opposing line when scoring distance was reached. Several times during this quarter, the Maroon and Gray took the ball to within twenty or twenty-five yards of a touchdown only to lose the ball when the opponents' line held or a pass was intercepted. During this quarter "Red" Cowfer, who had been hurt during the first quarter, was taken out when he appeared to be "out on his feet." His place was taken by Dannelly, who played a whale of a game during the rest of the contest. "Red" got a great hand as he was helped to the side lines. Coach Morgan made other substitutions at various intervals in an effort to speed up the attack of the Maroon and Gray but the visitors fought gamely and held off every threat made by the locals to score. The first half ended with the score of 6-0 in our favor and with the ball in mid-field in our possession.

Strong Defense of Locals.

The third quarter was largely a repetition of the second with the Maroon and Gray fighting to score only to meet up with the plucky defense of the visitors. The local defense suffered a short lapse in this period when the Susquehanna offense brought the ball as far as the local 35 yard line. Here the Maroon and Gray defense stiffened and took the ball on downs. With Hart, who had replaced Achenbach in the backfield, and Hatter doing some great ball carrying, ably aided by Dick Smith and Dannelly, the latter part of the quarter found the Maroon and Gray offense gradually regaining its momentum. The line play was featured by Parson's tackling and all around playing, Malone and Poust, who smashed many plays started by the visitors, Bohn and Sundberg who were in every play, and Hank Smith who made many fine tackles to spill the opposing ball carriers just as it seemed that they would get started on a long run. McCall, who started his first varsity game gave a fine account of himself, considering his lack of experience, and will be heard from later.

The fourth quarter found the Maroon and Gray attack functioning smoothly again and, with Dick Smith and Hart doing most of the ball carrying, with Dannelly and Hatter leading the interference, the locals swept down the field for what seemed an inevitable touchdown. The final punch was lacking however, and the visitors took the ball and punted out of danger. Again the Maroon and Gray began a march goal-ward and only the final whistle saved the visitors from being scored upon. The game ended with the ball on Susquehanna's 20 yard line in our possession, the final score being 6-0 in favor of the Maroon and Gray.

Students Stage Snake Dance.

The students staged a snake dance on the field to celebrate the first football victory, showing that the spirit of the school is strong. The cheering was the best heard in years. It appears that Lock Haven may be heard from this season and it is up to the students to continue to show Coach Morgan and his squad that their efforts to bring prestige to our school are appreciated. Let's have more of that spirit and backing next Saturday when the Maroon and Gray

WHO'S WHO IN FOOTBALL

In order to give the students of the College a little closer contact with the members of the football squad, the Times will publish each week a resume of the records of the men on the teams. We have started first with the men who play on the line.

Poust, Christian name, Hal, but better known as Handsome, is one of the crashing ends. Hal is a stellar basketball player, and his experience is certainly transferable to football. He's going great guns.

Malone, sometimes called Fred, is the boy who played the other end on Saturday, and what a whale of a game he played. Fred is one of the novices of our squad and is showing improvement with every game.

Bohn, just Russ is enough, and he is one of the burly veterans of our team, having played on the team when our College was a Normal School. He is a virtual Rock of Gibraltar and just as dependable.

Smith, that member of the Smith combination known as Hank. His experience dates back to the time when Lock Haven High had a championship eleven and he surely is playing a champion brand of football.

McCall, Chester, the boy who made good his first year out for football and he is doing admirable playing on the first team. He is a hard worker and is helping to imbibe that new winning spirit in our team.

Sundberg, Sunny Sundberg, a letter man from last year and well on the way to another one. Sunny is as hard as they make 'em, and has never been carried off the field.

Parsons, big boy Dick, who has been snapping the ball from center for three seasons, and doing it accurately too. Dick is truly a veteran and he is hard to fool in a game. He can really appreciate our winning stride.

(A review of the backfield men will appear in the next issue).

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS CANDLE-LIGHT INITIATION SERVICE

A very impressive service was held at the vesper hour on Sunday evening in the auditorium. The new Y. W. C. A. members were taken into the association in a lively candle-light initiation service. The cabinet and old members marched into the assembly room with lighted candles. The new members followed and formed a solid triangle around which the old members formed a circle. The formal service of welcome was led by Elizabeth Kittleberger, the President. When the new members had declared their allegiance to the association they lit their candles at the candle of the President. During the service Warren Scott sang "The Hymn of the Lights." Lillian Rhode at the piano played "Follow the Gleam" for the recessional.

"The team that won't be beat, can't be beat!"

The men wearing the Maroon and Gray out on Hanson Field last Saturday went out to win—and they won! We wish to take this chance to congratulate Coach Morgan and his squad on the game they played; we also want to take this way of pledging our support in the contest with Millersville this week. The quantity and quality of the backing that came from the stands during the game with Susquehanna would have been an inspiration to any team. It was not only a football victory; it was a victory of college spirit over indifference. With that to start on, we will come out with flying colors next Saturday afternoon.

There is another event of unusual importance scheduled for next Saturday—the annual Hallowe'en reception given by the faculty for the students of the college and their guests. Unique in that it is the first of the big social events and the only costume dance of the year, it creates an exceptional stir on the campus. Plans are rapidly going forward that predict an evening of pleasure no one should miss. It is the first chance we have to meet all of our faculty on intimate social grounds, an opportunity always valued highly by both new students and old. Whole-hearted cooperation and personal interest will manifest most effectively the students' appreciation of the efforts of the faculty.

ALUMNI NOTES

Announcement has been made of the marriage, nearly two months ago, of Helen Dunlap, of Beech Creek and Charles Laubscher, of Lock Port, which took place at Calvary Methodist Church at Frederick, Maryland, August 26. Mrs. Laubscher is a graduate of this College and has been teaching in the Elementary School of Beech Creek.

Loretta Funk is teaching Sixth Grade in Jamestown, New York. This is her fourth year of teaching in Jamestown, and she says she likes it very much there.

1928
Helen Behrer, a Beta Sigma Chi, visited her numerous friends here over the week-end. She is teaching Grades 1 to 7 near her home, State College, Pa. Life as usual agrees with her.

1929
Phoebe Varner is teaching Grades 1 to 8 at Woodland.

Doris Mattern, former president of the Young Women's Christian Association, is at Phillipsburg, teaching Grade III.

Marguerite Furtney, of Somerset, and Joyce Harpster, of Phillipsburg, spent the week-end here with Sally Wisman. Marguerite is teaching the First and Second Grades at Acasta, Pa. Joyce is teaching Grades 1 and 2 at Chester Hill, Pa.

Margaret Smeltzer, one of Penn State's fair co-eds this year, dropped in very suddenly to see us. Everything is going fine according to Peg.

FORMER TRAINING SCHOOL PUPIL GETS POETRY PRIZE

Ruth Gardner, a former pupil of the Training School, has been declared the winner of a nation-wide poetry contest conducted among the High Schools of the country by Current Literature, a periodical used in the English Department of the Lock Haven High School. Ruth has received a prize of $50 for her poem, "St. Sepulchre," which was judged the best among hundreds of poems submitted from all sections of the United States.

The prize winning compositions submitted in the contest will be published in book form with photographs of the winners, entitled "Literary Leaves." Each prize winner will receive a copy.

Ruth was graduated from the College Training School two years ago, and is now a Junior in the Lock Haven High School.

JAKE WARD SENDS GREETINGS

Jake Ward, Class of '28, recently sent greetings to the Times and a request for a subscription. He is well remembered by many of the upperclassmen as a great big "little" man on the football team. In his letter he wishes all success and good luck to the present "Big Eleven." We can imagine how thrilled he will be when he hears of the record being made this year by the Maroon and Gray.

SHAKESPEARE PLEDGES UNDERGO INITIATION

Shakespeare Literary Society has launched an intensive initiation program by which they are testing the mettle of their pledges. This accounts for all of the hand shaking that is taking place in the halls and dining room, and various other places of meeting. The rules which these pledges must observe are as follows:

1. Each pledge must carry a volume of Shakespeare's plays.
2. Each pledge must shake hands with the Senior members of the club and the faculty advisors of the club whenever they meet.
3. Each pledge must quote some portion of one of Shakespeare's plays on the first meeting of a Senior member each day.
4. Each pledge must wear a flowing black tie similar to the one that Shakespeare wore.
5. Each pledge must stand at the door of "Shake" hall for a certain period of time to be decided on at a later date.
6. Each pledge must go to each faculty advisor and ask a foolish question.
7. Each pledge must wear the club colors, blue and gold in the form of a ribbon six inches long and one-half inch wide.
8. Each pledge must report to the persons designated after 3:00 o'clock P. M., each day.
9. The final step in the initiation is in the form of an entertainment and party given by the pledges to the Senior members on Monday, October 28.

HIGH SCHOOL ORGANIZES ITS OWN STUDENT COUNCIL

The Junior High Department of the Training School has introduced a novel idea into its organization. They have a Student Council consisting of nine pupils who are chosen to represent the various Home Rooms; two faculty advisors: Miss Russell and Mr. Smith; and two student teachers: Edith Morrison and Samuel Long. This organization will continue throughout the present school year.

The officers of the Student Council of the J. H. S. are as follows:

9. President—Harold Whiting, Grade 8.
9. Vice-President—Dorothy Jordan, Grade 8.
7. Secretary—Dorothy Knarr, Grade 7.

Four committees have been formed which are responsible for various school activities. Each committee consists of a chairman who is a member of the Student Council and pupils elected by each Home Room. The committees formed are as follows—Traffic Committee, Room Inspection Committee, Assembly Program Committee, Club Committee.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Who were the youngsters playing Indian on Monday morning, trying to smoke the really studious people out of the library?

Can you beat it? Miss Whitwell wanted us to sing the same song over just twice as fast and at the same rate of speed!

The Astronomy Class did discover something in their star study the other night. When the train went by they found the original "chocolate milky way." Ask them about it.

More Wise Sayings by the Faculty
Miss Edgerton: "Put your muscles on this end of the table and your food on that one."

Problem in Co-ed Arithmetic: If Don Rice's motto is "Variety's the Spice of Life" and he treats at least four girls a week, how long will it be before the four hundredth girl gets her chance?

When Coach Morgan called for his "three-minute man" in chapel on Monday morning there were just two people embarrassed—it was the natural thing for Auchie under the circumstances, but why Betty's red cheeks?

We would advise some people to pay attention in class. Fred Malone

ALL HALLOW'S EVE

The mountains rise high o'er the highway before me,
The steel-blue skyline fades into dusk;
A ruby cloud hovers above a swaying apple tree;
A lone grey farm house flies swiftly past,
The wind rattles through the corn shocks,
And plays in the trees as it rushes on;
The last faint glow of the sky slips away.
Now I pass through a grove of pines and oaks
Into the night.

Two balls of fire loom before me;
A black form stalks across my path;
Now a shriek and groan of horror
Drive me faster on.
Two long bony arms enclose me,
Drawing me closer and closer,
Until I too am drawn into the realm of Hecate.

Betty Machtley, '30.

ANYBODY'S ALMA MATER SONG

On your feet everybody!
First Verse:
Da da da de da da thee
Da da da da dear
Da da da da da da de o'er thee
Da da da da year.

Chorus:
La la la la la lying
La la la la united we
La la la la la la lying Evermore for theeeeeeeeeee!

started to recite the other day and then very nonchalantly inquired what the subject under discussion was!

The latest thing in college songs: a special duet by Miss Lewis and Mr. Piper, for the benefit of an attentive library audience—"The Lock Haven Love Song." We have no official information yet as to whether this is the first of weekly, monthly or accidental concerts, but all request numbers will be duly recorded.

Advice to Foley: It might be well to take the cap off the end of the telescope before you try to make any definite observations by use of this instrument.

A second Will Rogers in our midst: Miss Noel: "Why were the Spaniards such sea faring people?"
Russ Bohn: "Because there's sea all around them."

After many petty trials and tribulations, Pete Doyle once again is thinking in couples. At lunch Sunday night he tried to serve twice, and ate his salad with two forks. It must be tough to be in love!

Moon is not planning to go to the dance. S'tough—but this is too ticklish a matter for even Campus Chatter to discuss!

ROOSEVELT DAY IN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Today is Roosevelt Day in the Junior High School. The Eighth Grade English Class, taught by Mary Brosius, will give the following program:

1. Song — "America"
2. "My Creed" — Theo. Roosevelt
By Ruth Crowley.
3. Recitation — "Roosevelt"
By Paul Hockenberry.
4. American Ideals — Dialogue
Boyd Brungard, Leslie Williams,
Forest Cross, Max Selfe.
5. Acrostic — "Roosevelt Day"
Jean Sharp, Fred Wetzel, Lawrence Pedigree, Charlotte Erickson, Clyde Englert, Earl Shope, Marie Chapman, Glenn Hanna, Esther Caldwell, Charles Smith, Charles Harvey, Harry Master-son.
6. Recitation — "Roosevelt"
By Dorothy Jordan.
7. Song — "America the Beautiful"

WHY HALLOWE'EN

And now we find the infernal realist asking, "Who is this man, Hallow? Why do we set aside a day to pay him tribute?" Even the less serious individual is often in doubt as to the real significance of this interesting holiday, so we are going to give you briefly "The Story of Hallowe'en." "Hallowe'en" or "All Hallows Eve" is the name given to the 31st of October as the "Vigil of Hallowmas" or "All Saints Day." Though now known as little else but the eve of the Christian festival, Hallowe'en was celebrated many years before the beginning of Christianity. The ancient belief was that of all nights of the year, this is the one during which witches and ghosts were most likely to wander abroad.

On or about the first of November, the Druids held their great autumn festival and lighted fires in honor of the Sun-god in thanksgiving for the Harvest. Further, it was the Druidic belief that on the eve of this festival, Samar, Lord of Death, called together the wicked souls that within the past twelve months had been condemned to inhabit the bodies of animals. Thus it is clear that the main celebrations were purely Druidical.

The custom of lighting Hallowe'en fires, survived until recent years in Scotland and Wales. In the dying embers, it was usual to place as many small stones as there were persons around the fire, and the next morning a search was made. If any of the pebbles were displaced, it was regarded as certain that the person represented would die within the next twelve months.

Probably the main reason for the celebrating of Hallowe'en in the modern day is the arousing of certain emotions which seem to foster fun and mischief. Most men have memories of some moonlight Hallowe'en night when they with their boys' gang, prowled around the streets scaring people who were unfortunate enough to pass their way.

With almost as much feeling as the ancient Druid, the modern folk on October 31, disguise themselves and proceed to enjoy the thrill which comes only with Hallowe'en.

I. K. U. PLANS BAZAAR

Plans are rapidly going forward for the annual Christmas Bazaar given under the auspices of the I. K. U. The date set for the Bazaar of '29 is Wednesday, December 4, immediately following the return from the Thanksgiving vacation. If present expectations are fulfilled, the booths in the Kindergarten room of the training school on the afternoon of this date will hold many articles of interest and value. Not only the students of the Group 1 course but all the students of the College will be cordially invited to take advantage of this sale. A fortune telling booth will again be featured, but on a larger scale than last year, providing a chance for everyone to see what the Fates have in store.

Watch for further announcements in later issues of the Times.
