Eagles fall short in Homecoming game

By Kevin Campbell
Sports Editor

Homecoming day at Lock Haven State would have been an ideal afternoon had the Slippery Rock football team not shown up for the game. With the Bald Eagle offense mustering less excitement than the antics of the flag squad of "The Rock" band, the Rockets jumped on top of the Haven early and held on for a 13-10 victory.

The Lock Haven offense could accumulate just 58 total yards and three first downs in the first two quarters of play, and fell behind the visiting team 10-0 before the intermission.

Rockets score

The Rockets scored on their third possession of the contest after stopping the Bald Eagle offense cold. The Rock returned the Lock Haven punt to its own 41 yard line, and scored just six plays later on a 19 yard aerial from quarterback Don Christian to receiver Wade Acker.

Slippery Rock held its 7-0 lead throughout the remainder of the first half. With just 51 seconds remaining in the second quarter, the offense of the Rockets faced a fourth and nine from the Bald Eagle 39 yard line. Slippery Rock head coach Don Ault opted to attempt a field goal. Place-kicker Keith Johnson nailed the 49 yard attempt with five yards to spare, and the Rockets led 10-0.

It was a different Lock Haven State football team that took the field in the second half. The offense decided to come to life and, after recovering a Rocket punt on the Lock Haven 10 yard line, marched 90 yards for a three pointer by kicker Dan Young. The drive, highlighted by a 28 yard Mike Kresovich run and Dan Greer passes of 24 and 17 yards to Barron Grantham and Pat Schell, was halted at the Rocket eight yard line. Young's 18 yard field goal cut Slippery Rock's lead to 10-3.

The Rock increased their lead to ten points once again as Phil Dunlevey picked off a Greer pass. The interception led to a 19 yard field goal by Johnson with 13:04 to play.

Eagles recover fumble

The Eagles were not about to give up, and moments later recovered a Rocket fumble at the Slippery Rock three yard line. Three plays later Ty Hall plowed across the goal line for Lock Haven's lone touchdown.

An onside kick followed Young's extra point conversion, and was recovered by the Eagles at the Slippery Rock 42. The offense could not capitalize, however, and turned the ball over on downs. Greer connected with Schell for 26 yards to the Rocket 15 yard line, but a holding call nullified the play to spoil the Haven's hopes.

The Bald Eagles got the ball back with 1:15 to go and moved to the Slippery Rock 40. With 18 seconds remaining, Greer launched a ball to Pat Schell in the corner of the end zone.

The Bald Eagle got the ball back with 1:15 to go and moved to the Slippery Rock 40. With 18 seconds remaining, Green launched a ball to Pat Schell in the corner of the end zone. The pass fell first a few feet short and was intercepted to end the game.

The Bald Eagle are now 3-4 on the season and 0-4 in conference play. The team travels to Indiana University of Pennsylvania Saturday to test on improved Indian squad which defeated Clarion a week ago.

Milliken tower dedicated

By Kerri Meyers &

The dedication ceremony for the Milliken Bell Tower was held Saturday to commemorate the late Lock Haven State College (LHSC) Administrative Vice-President, Dr. Russell A. Milliken. The dedication was sponsored by the Alumni Association of LHSC.

Mrs. Milliken cuts ribbon

Opening remarks were given by Joseph Whittaker, chairman of the Friends of Lock Haven, and a response from Mrs. Russell A. Milliken. The formal cutting of the ribbon, encircling the tower was performed by Mrs. Milliken. The invocation and benediction were given by Dr. Charles DeSanto, chairman of the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work.

The bell was given to the LHSC model school in 1911 by Wilson

Kistler. When the model school was torn down the 3,800 pound, solid bronze bell was taken down and stored in a garage. According to Director of Alumni Affairs, Karin Van Deun, the class of 1961 retrieved the bell and established its position in front of Sullivan Hall.

When the alumni decided to erect the tower, the bell was sent to a company in Ohio to be cleaned and fitted with an electric clapper.

The task of placing the bell in the specifically constructed 50 foot tower was initiated in 1981 by the LHSC Alumni Association. The overall cost of the project was $15,000. The bell itself is worth $40,000. The bell will ring electronically on an hourly basis. The bell will be rung manually for victories or emergencies.

Under the bell tower will be a box containing memorabilia of the dedication and homecoming. This box will not be opened again for 100 years.

Run for your life

A smart theologian would build a church in that disaster inviting intersection where Water Street meets Fairview Street because prayers run rampant there. Every time I make that mad dash from the commuter lot (no. 8, the one by the tennis courts) toward the library, I pray for my life.

Russian roulette inspired facial expressions are commonplace on pedestrians who navigate that intersection.

To drive through it is confusing enough; to walk through it is downright scary. The fact that the cross from the commuter lot toward the library is diagonal doesn't help matters.

The intersection is obviously a trouble spot. Should we do something about it now, or should we wait until someone dies?

Before the inevitable disaster occurs, the SCC should form a committee to discuss the intersection, come up with a plan of change, and present it to the Lock Haven City Council.

Until then, biped defensively.

"The air was cool but the jeans were not." This is the motto of millions of Americans marching in protest against designer jeans. The radical jeans haters are known as (PANTS) People's Advocate for Neato and Terrific Stuff, and they don't think designer jeans are neat or terrific. Rumor has it that late last year a mysterious outbreak of buttocks scratchiness had begun and it was all downhill from there. It's been circulated that this scratchy scene developed because of a crazed and disgruntled Sassoon employee who loaded a giant weaving machine with live sheep and bus boys. One young bus boy who was missing since March of 1979 turned up in a size 7 pair of designer jeans in the Encino Valley, California earlier this month. The young woman who owned the jeans remarked, "I thought they pinched a little." The father of the boy stated, "Those pants were smiling from seam to seam."

Dr. Buster Hymen, noted gynecologist has undeniable evidence that designers are compounding "Carbuniculus Crotchus" throughout the population of the world. He also went on to say that black market jeans, run a higher risk of disease. Dr. Hymen has set up street corner clinics throughout New Jersey. These clinics are designed to get the afflicted person back into the main stream of normal life through massive cruex injections and a leisure suit deprogramming period. Patients are encased in a top of the line Sears leisure suit for a minimum of 3 years. Dr. Hymen has had a 75 percent success rate. Hymen feels tighter restriction on availability of these cursed garments will eradicate the problem. This problem of clothes causing sexual infection has chaffed man for a long time. Why else would Napoleon have asked his beloved Josephine not to bathe for 3 months. The world may never know.

From The President's Desk

By Karen Culligan
SCC President

The Student Cooperative Council (SCC) Executive Committee elections are fast approaching. Petitions are due this Friday by 4:00 p.m. in the vice-president's office in the lower level of the Parson's Union Building (PUB). Elections will be held on Monday, November 8, 1982.

The SCC presidential debate will be held on Tuesday, November 2, in Bentley Lounge during the lunch time hours. This event will be very important to the future of the SCC. It will give each of the candidates the opportunity to present their ideas and goals as to what they can do for the students of LHSC through the SCC. This factor should be the central issue of the campaign.

In previous years there has been a tendency to run down other candidates. Opponents will try to discredit each other rather than concentrate on their own positive objectives. I hope this will be avoided this year. There are too many vital issues facing the SCC to waste energy on personal grievances.

As students it is our responsibility to find out what each of the candidates has to offer. The president of the SCC has a great deal of responsibility. She or he has to have leadership ability, management skills, knowledge of student concerns, and some business sense to name only a few. All of these characteristics are invaluable to a successful and enjoyable term in office. However, there is one attribute that must be valued way above these. That is a person's ability to communicate amicably and on a professional level with students, faculty, administration, staff, and business contacts. The president is the link between all of these people. One must be a public relations official as well as a manager. It is necessary that a person realize there are many sides to an issue and be willing to listen to them. At the same time, an individual must believe in his own convictions and be willing to work to achieve them.

On November 2, you will have the opportunity to listen to each of the candidates present their qualifications and objectives. I urge every student on campus to attend and come prepared with questions; the floor will be open to students. This is the time to find out where each of the candidates stand on the issues.

Although the president is always the forerunner in the campaign, each of the other positions on the Executive Committee are just as important. Each position is essential to the smooth functioning of the SCC. When everyone does their job and does it well, there is more time and energy to work towards advancing the organization.

I would also like to take this time to thank and commend Christopher Theodore, SCC Social Committee chairman, for the excellent planning and organizing he did for this year's Homecoming. He and his committee (Denise Bressi, Tami Burger, Wendy Catrambone, Kathy Cuff, Steve Greber, Barb Kaufman, Maria Mascari, and Doug Strange) put a great deal of time and effort into making this one of the most enjoyable Homecomings.

There will be a coffeehouse this Thursday October 28th, featuring K.J. Reimensnyder and John Prosseda from 8-10 p.m. in the PUB. All are encouraged to come down and listen.

Anyone interested in entering a pool tournament? If so sign up in the PUB Rec. Room no later than Friday, Nov. 5th.

Thomas Pennewell - I have your Contemporary Marketing book - please pick it up at the Pub Administrator's office.

Student evaluations of faculty have been scheduled for the week of November 8-12. Evaluation forms will be available in Sullivan 207 the week of November 1-5. Completed forms are to be returned to Sullivan 207 by November 15, 1982.

The Management Science Club presents Lee Rosner speaking on "Labor Management Relations." He will speak tonight at 7:30 in Ulmer Planetarium.

Halloween Party Invitees- (you know who you are!) - Please get your tickets as soon as possible - Friday is the latest. $4.00 per person. Don't miss a great time - get those tickets!

Mary Buzby - I have your School Health Program - please pick it up at the PUB Administrator's office.

A career seminar sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, New York, the Management Science Club, and Career Planning and Placement, will be held Monday evening, November 1, 1982 at 7:00 p.m. in Ulmer Planetarium. Everyone is invited to attend.

SCC committee to look into Bookstore debate

By Bob Draper
Eagle Eye Staff

A committee was formed to research further the details of leasing the bookstore to the United College Bookstore Company (UCBC) at Wednesday night's Student Cooperative Council (SCC) meeting.

The committee will travel to other colleges which lease their bookstores to observe how these bookstores operate and to observe the problems these colleges may have with the UCBC. The committee has until December 1 to report back to the SCC with more information on the matter.

Committee consists of

The committee consists of: Fred DeLuca, SCC vice-president; Pam Stanziani, John Ziegler, and Robin Belitski, SCC senators; and students

Brian Sansoni and John Stemler.

SCC President Karen Culligan added, "I think that the United College Bookstore Company has a lot to offer us. It would provide us with the continuity that we need down here and I think that it is a good option for us to take."

Information on rentals presented

Information on the licensing of rental units downtown was presented by senator Kim Wilkinson. Requiring landlords to go through new licensing procedures is presently being considered by Lock Haven City Council.

Under the proposed licensing requirements, restrictions would be placed on landlords as to how many individuals they could rent to at one time. If a landlord has room for eight tenants but is only renting to six people at the time the proposed licensing occurs, the landlord may not rent to more than six people from then on. The landlords would have to fill out applications as to the amount of people they feel should be living in their rental units.

Small clubs budget approved

The small clubs budget has been approved by the finance committee, according to Charlie Baumher, SCC treasurer. The budget for 23 small clubs comes to a total of $6,500, with the largest sums of money going to the Black Cultural Society, Cheerleading, Ice Hockey Club, and Women's Soccer Club.

Taken into consideration in the computation of the budget was how much a club was allotted last year, how much of their budget a club actually spent last year, and how much money a club should make on fund raisers. "These budget figures are just a drop in the bucket towards what the clubs really spend," according to Baumher.

Pre-final break proposal was brought up for consideration by the SCC. The break would take place during the two or three days prior to the final examination period and would mean that no work could be assigned to students so students could spend more time studying.

No such pre-final break could come into effect until the 1984-85 school year, because the school calendar has been already approved for the 1983-84 school year.

Joe Carucci, SCC senator has been appointed to answer questions students may have about the discussion.

LH City Council might put limits on off campus housing

By Kim Wilkinson
News Editor

The controversial topic of the licensing of boarding houses was again discussed at the Lock Haven City Council meeting, Monday, October 17th. The licensing has been proposed to enable Lock Haven to have a greater control on the number of people living in rental units.

Councilman, Alfred E. Hoberman, said the purpose of the license is to prevent the conversion of single family dwellings into boarding houses and to set limits on houses already in use. Ac-ording to Hoberman, the proposed licensing ordinance would not have anything to do with enforcing codes, such as wiring, plumbing, etc. An application for the license and a "nominal" fee is all that would be required.

Councilwoman, Diann H. Stuempfle, stated that the license would only try to combat the problem of overcrowding. She also said that the license would help control the health, safety, noise and parking factors.

Lee Roberts, attorney, said he believed that there are enough laws controlling rental units, and the city should simply enforce them.

Scott Knyrim, a Lock Haven State College (LHSC) student said he felt the licensing ordinance was against having college students in town. He reminded the council that the fraternities and sororities have given much to the town and that without the college, the town would be worse off than it is already.

Dennis Harris, an off-campus LHSC student said, "It's stupid. It sounds good, but it won't accomplish anything. It will screw the college students."

"If it's not accomplishing anything for the students, why bother?," said Karen Kellerman, LHSC student.

Jim Whaley, a Lambda Chi Alpha brother stated, "It's a way for the town to monitor the amount of people, so the tenants won't be taken advantage of. In my view, it will protect the tenant as well as the landlord."

Voting on the proposal will take place at a later date.

The next scheduled meeting for City Council is 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 1 1982 and is open to the public.

A big success

Lock Haven only one problem:

By Shawn Bingman
& Marcelo Concelli
Eagle Eye Staff

Lock Haven State College (LHSC) Homecoming '82 began under cloudy skies early Saturday morning as several students from the dorms put the final touches to their entries for the placement contest along Fairview Street.

This year's Homecoming theme was "Comic Strips." Each dorm was represented with such characters as Charlie Brown, Hagar, Nancy, Blondie, Garfield, Annie, and B.C., to name a few.

Alumni begin to arrive

Slowly and in spurts, alumni began to arrive on campus. Several began to register as faculty, administrators, and other alumni joined former LHSC President and Mrs. Francis Hamblin, LHSC President and Mrs. Craig Willis, Lock Haven Mayor William Eisemann, and several Lock Haven merchants at the Milliken Bell Tower Dedication Ceremony. The tower was in honor of the memory of Dr. Russell A. Milliken, who served as Administrative Vice President at Lock Haven State College from 1971-1977. Mrs. Milliken said a few words about her husband and the bell and cut the ribbon around the structure. Automatically the bell chimed three times, a sound moving, after so many years of silence.

More alumni began to arrive to reunite with friends and faculty after years of separation. The cold did nothing to dampen their spirits. Hugs and handshakes were exchanged as easily as addresses and telephone

Soon the parade began at Henderson and Main Streets making its way toward its final destination - Sloan Fine Arts Building. The ROTC colorguard marched in time to start the parade as the Marching Bald Eagles followed close behind. Clowns followed and entertained children and adults alike, as they stood along the route. The children enjoyed the candy that was tossed to them.

Floats arrive

The floats arrived: Alpha Sigma Tau with "Lil' Abner," Lambda Chi Alpha with "Batman," Zeta Tau Alpha with "The Archies," Sigma Sigma Sigma with "Ziggy," the Biology and Chemistry Club with "B.C.," Sigma Kappa with "Be All You Can Be," North Hall with "Mickey Mouse," and Phi Mu Delta with "The Flintstones." The Phi Mu Delta members deserved a lot of credit for standing in next to nothing with chilly temperatures. Talk about dedication.

The three finalists for Homecoming King and Queen: Doug Bell and Bonnie Snyder, Joe Berrigan and Sue DeCaro, and Kevin Swisher and Laurie Emmendorfer, looked great sitting in back of their respective convertibles. The 1981 Homecoming King and Queen, Matt and Kim Larsen rode in an antique car with President Craig Willis, Grand Marshall of the parade.

At one o'clock, the time was approaching for the football game. The bands of the opposing teams, Lock Haven State's and Slippery Rock's started to march toward Hubert Jack Stadium. The tension could be felt as the Marching Bald Eagles in their black and white attire and maroon hats led the small procession. They were followed by the band from Slippery Rock in white and green. Nothing could be heard on the way but the soft ruffle of the drums and the steps on the concrete.

'82 Homecoming It came to an end

The sun decided to come out for the game. It joined the crowd that quickly filled the stadium. Local singer Benny Paul played before the game and was followed by the Slippery Rock band which gave a very colorful performance on the field. Their show drew cheers from the crowd which anxiously waited for the game.

Skydiver delivers ball

Then from the sky he came. a 1979 ROTC graduate of LHSC jumped from nearly 1,000 feet to land smoothly on the field carrying the game ball. The sky diver jumped from a piper aircraft piloted by Albert Hoberman, Physics and Chemistry Department Chairman.

All was ready for the game. The crowd's attention centered on the players as one of the Eagle players gave the initial kick. The game was followed with lots of interest throughout its entirety. Regardless of age, everyone cheered. Two elderly ladies, sitting in the stands, blew on their kazoos during the game. One of them was very enthusiastic. She screamed expressions like "Sock him!" and "What's wrong, quarterback?" and came up with tunes saying "way to go defense," among others.

The bands played during the game. At half-time, it was the turn of the Marching Bald Eagles to perform. Their good performance was loudly applauded.

During the course of the game, several awards were presented. For the placement contest - Smith Hall received best theme support, Woolridge Hall received most artistic, and McEntire Hall received most originality.

Phi Mu Delta wins

For the Homecoming parade, Alpha Sigma Tau's float received third place of $50, Zeta Tau Alpha's float received second place of $75, and first place of $100 went to Phi Mu Delta's float.

A scholarship was given to Sigma Kappa for the highest pledge class cumulative averages for Spring '82. A scholarship was also given to Sigma Sigma Sigma for highest cumulative average over all for Spring '82.

Homecoming King and Queen and Court were presented at half-time. Second-runners up were Doug Bell and Bonnie Snyder. First-runners up were Kevin Swisher and Laurie Emmendorfer. President Willis crowned the 1982 Homecoming Queen, Sue Decaro, escorted by the 1982

Homecoming King, Joe Berrigan.

The fraternity and sorority with the most returning alumni to register were Phi Mu Delta and Alpha Sigma Tau, with 22 and 26 respectively.

Even though the result of the game was not in our favor, there was still satisfaction among everyone. The day couldn't have been better for LHSC Homecoming '82 for there was excitement, joy and indeed, the feeling of coming home.

LHSC international program one of the best in the country

By Kerri Meyers
Eagle Eye Staff

The Lock Haven State College (LHSC) International Education program, viewed as one of the best in the nation, is continuing to expand, according to Dr. Jorge Mottet, director of International Education. The International Education program, which began in 1971-72, deals not only with foreign exchange students, but with sending student teachers and faculty abroad.

Lock Haven's five main student exchange programs are with Argentina, Australia, Great Britain, Poland, and Austria. The five main countries to which student teachers are sent are Germany, Austria, Ecuador, Australia, and England.

There are also international students here on a non-exchange basis, doing research projects. This program is presently being directed by Mottet.

In dealing with research projects, there are now three to four being prepared at Lock Haven in relationship to other institutions, Mottet said. In addition, the International Education program will be associated with United Nations Educational, Social, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), which is based in Paris.

There are presently 32 countries being represented at Lock Haven. The requirements for admittance of foreign students to LHSC are identical to that of American students, Mottet said. There are roughly five application requests per day, and around 300 applications are received each year. "If we accepted all of the applications we received, we would have approximately 300 new students each year. We must be very picky," said Mottet. There were 39 international students accepted this year, 22 of whom are now attending Lock Haven.

Construction on lot nine is part of a fire safety program funded by the state including all 14 state colleges, said Vice-President of Academic Affairs George Marshall.

Inadequate water supplies were found in 1976 during a fire at Mansfield State College, said Marshall.

Present six inch water mains are being replaced with ten inch mains as well as installing new fire hydrants, said Marshall.

Also included in the $180,831 project is the draining and painting, inside and outside, of the water tower behind McEntire Hall.

According to Marshall, the water tower project must be done this summer because of the inconvenience to the dormitories on the hill.

Lot nine can not only be used for filling fire trucks, but also as a marina at the end of construction, said Marshall.

The Kappa Kappa Psi (KKP) honorary band fraternity held a drawing Saturday night to choose the winner of the raffle, begun at the beginning of the semester, said Randy Carleton, KKP brother.

The winner, announced at 10 p.m. at Sieg Conference Center, was Helen Zugay, said Carleton.

Zugay will receive one half of the money raised from selling the raffle tickets and the fraternity will receive the other half, said Carleton.

The exact amount of money is not known yet, said Carleton.

Fifth ranked booters edge Ship for tenth win

By Bill Wortman
Eagle Eye Staff

The Lock Haven State soccer team faces an up and down Bucknell team tomorrow. Division I Bucknell supports an 8-4-1 record, and could prove to be a tough opponent for Coach Mike Parker's team. Parker feels Bucknell is an unpredictable team, and doesn't really know what to make of them until game time. Bucknell is an away game starting 7:30 tomorrow under the lights.

On Homecoming Saturday The Eagles took a long unsound trip to Shippensburg, and still came away 2-1 winners in a key conference contest. "The game was a bit of a struggle," said Parker, and added "that 'Ship' was to easy to early." LHSC took a 1-0 lead when junior John Lucosky scored a goal with only 4 minutes expired in the game. Lucosky was assisted by Jeff Schmidt ending all first half scoring. LHSC really slacked off, and the Red Raiders came back 15 minutes into the 2nd half as John Kettle scored on a breakaway, knotting the score 1-1. Not to be outdone, Schmidt came back with an unassisted goal 10 minutes before the game ended clinching another victory for Lock Haven. "The 'Ship' game was inexcusable, and we could have easily lost with numerous Raider shots on goal in the second half," said Parker.

LHSC is currently ranked 5th in Division II with a 10-2-2 record, and is looking right through Bucknell for the bigger contest this coming Saturday against Oakland. Oakland, from Rochester, Michigan, is currently ranked 6th in Division II with a 9-2-1 record and having an outstanding year. "The outcome of the Oakland-LHSC matchup will have a big impact on Division II play-off bids because we're both from the same region," said Parker. The Oakland matchup will start 1:00 on Saturday, and will be the last regular season home game for LHSC. Parker is only 3 games from having 100 career wins, and student support will be greatly appreciated with only one home game left.

Men, women harriers finish ninth in PSAC's

By Chris Brooks
Sports Editor

Coaches Jim Dolan and Leroy Straley took their respective Lock Haven State cross country teams to Edinboro for the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) Championships Saturday and both returned with ninth place finishes.

The LHSC men runners, backed by All-American Mark Amway's 10th place overall finish, wound up with 237 points. Indiana University of Pennsylvania, with 73 points, copped the team championship, as Millersville (87 points) and host Edinboro (96 points) rounded out the top three.

Slippery Rock's Hob Petrini was the individual titlist as he covered the five-mile course in 24:20. Amway, who this week will be trying to repeat as a qualifier for Nationals, was 49 seconds off Petrini's pace. Steve Sweigert also ran well as he placed 36th with a time of 26:01.

Dolan was pleased with his team's performance even though ninth place does not sound too impressive. "We did well as a team. We finished ninth, but we have an awesome conference and I thought we might even finish lower. We beat Mansfield, who beat us last weekend. Kutztown also looked better on paper, but we beat them too," he said.

Saturday, the Eagles will travel to East Stroudsburg for the Division II

Regional meet which will decide which teams and individuals move on to Nationals.

Meanwhile, last years woman conference champion, Dawn Eid, slipped to eighth place this year. Eid ran the 5000 meter Edinboro course in 18:37, 25 seconds off the pace of titlist Lisa Young of West Chester. Young's first place finish led the Rams to the team championship as Slippery Rock and IUP were close behind.

"Dawn's time wasn't bad, but she was running too far back in the pack (at one point she was 33rd) and it's hard to work your way up through that many people," Straley said.

Kristin Sloth, who Straley says has been improving with every race, took 44th in 20:16 and Louise Bashore finished in 20:29 to take 52nd.

Regionals for the Lady Eagles will take place at East Stroudsburg and should they qualify, LHSC will travel to St. Cloud, Minnesota for Nationals on November 13.

Last year Eid was an individual qualifier for Nationals, but during the race she was tripped up and aggravated a recurring knee injury. This week will be a big test for her to repeat as a qualifier. "Saturday is going to be a challenge for her to qualify for Nationals. She's going to have to beat some people who beat her at Edinboro," Straley said.

Reitzel takes tennis title

During the day on Friday and Saturday the Lock Haven State College women's tennis team participated in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference tournament at Millersville. Saturday night LHSC freshman sensation Holly Reitzel was celebrating being crowned state champion at number 6 singles.

Reitzel had to fight off cold weather and her Slippery Rock opponent to roll in straight sets 6-4, 6-0. While paying no attention to an average 4-5 record during the regular season, Reitzel did away with opponents from Edinboro, East Stroudsburg State, and Shippensburg State before conquering her adversary from the 'Rock'.

Reitzel also combined with Kelly Sherbine to finish an impressive second in number 3 doubles.

In other action for LHSC, number 1 and number 2 singles players Denise Lebert and Karen Cann respectively, fell early. Edna Roth won her first match, but then was eliminated in her second match. Gail Overdorf and Sharon Starzan also didn't last beyond the first round in singles action.

Edna Roth, a sophomore currently residing in Gross Hall, just may be the most active person at Lock Haven State College.

Roth, who has just completed her play for the LHSC tennis team also makes it a custom to run five to ten miles a day.

As the youngest of seven children, Roth makes her permanent residence in Sunbury, Pennsylvania.

"I've been playing tennis for the past ten years or so. My father taught the rest of my family so I guess it was imminent that I would grow to love the sport also," she said.

Roth indicated that, "There were three reasons for my choice of LHSC. One was that I knew LHSC had an excellent physical education program. Another was the small college atmosphere. Finally, two of my brothers and a sister who attended college here recommended it."

Roth stated, "I played tennis in high school (Shikellamy) for the men's team. There wasn't a girls team at my high school then or now. Denise Lebert (a junior on the LHSC team), her sister, and I all were good enough to start for the men's team. In my four years of high school competition I never faced a female."

In high school Roth also played field hockey for three years, and was a cheerleader for the basketball team during the winter of her senior year.

Last year as a freshman, Roth played tennis at the fifth position as compared to third position this year where she finished with a 6-4 singles record. "I have to give credit to fellow teammate Denise (Lebert) with helping me last year with my overall game," said Roth.

When discussing this year's LHSC tennis team Roth said, "All of our players had a lot of fun out there. We all got along well."

Polish program tonight in Price

The Polish Phoenix, an illustrated program on 1,000 years of Polish history and culture, will be shown in Price Auditorium at Lock Haven State College tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Free tickets may be obtained from the Office of International Education in Himes Hall, or by calling 893-2359.

The program is a 75-minute, three screen multi-image slide presentation created by a project team from the University of Pittsburgh, which spent two months in Poland during 1979 taking some 16,000 color slides of the country's art, architecture, historical sites, industries, and rural communities.

The visual presentation is synchronized with a musical background from Polish folk music, liturgical, classical, and contemporary works, and accompanied by a historical narrative.

The program has been produced to offer graphic proof that Poland, like the mythical phoenix which rises from its own ashes to live again, has once more become a viable nation after suffering immense destruction during World War II.

The project was made possible through funds provided by the Pennsylvania Humanities Council, the Polish Ministry of Culture and Art, and other agencies.

Behavior program to be held Nov. 2

The Student Council for Exceptional Children (SCEC) and the Association for Childhood Education (ACE) will be sponsoring a program on "Dealing with Students Who Have Behavior Disorders." The program is scheduled for November 2, 1982 from 7:30 p.m.-8:30 p.m. in the "Hall of Flags" room located in the Research Learning Center.

The program will consist of three panelists, Dr. Carl DiMartino, Mrs. Wendy McCormick and Ms. Karen Croce, all professionals in the field of education. The panelists will discuss the various behavior problems displayed by children in the classroom, as well as methods of dealing with the problem.

A question and answer session will follow the presentations, after which an informal reception will be held in RLC 213/214.

This program is the first in a series of cooperative programs planned by the student organizations of SCEC and ACE.

All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.
