Straw Man

Mystery Remains Unsolved

A straw man has been mysteriously placed in several secretaries' cars during the last two weeks. He was first found in a car belonging to Tommy Barzona. Attached to him was a note reading, "Take me home and bring me back tomorrow." Mrs. Barzona followed the note's instructions, adding her own note that read, "Since I was nice enough to take the man home, the least he, she, or someone could do is call me and thank me." She hasn't received any thanks yet.

The next day, the straw man was found in a car belonging to Mary Lucas. The message was the same, "Take me home and bring me back tomorrow." She too took the straw man home and returned him the next day.

The following Friday, the man was found in Sandy Conway's car with a note, "I've caught a cold! Keep me in this weekend and bring me back on Monday."

When the man was found in Bev Hamm's car he had his arm in a sling, and the note read, "It was cold last night! I was playing football, and it's not my cup of tea. Take me home and bring me back tomorrow." Because of the reference, Mrs. Hamm believes the joker to be someone who takes a coffee break with her. She drinks tea rather than coffee. With this thought and a little help from her son, who had seen the straw man at school, she narrowed the possibilities to someone working in the computer center. When she returned the straw man she added a note that read, "Please, please help me! The straw is punching holes in my hand."

The culprit of this joke remains a mystery. The straw man is presently sitting on the front porch of Tommy Barzona's house.

When the youngest child alive today has grown to the cares of manhood, our position in the world will be determined first of all by what provisions we make today—for his education, his health, and his opportunities for a good home, and a good job, and a good life.

LHS Co-ed Named King's College Queen

A Lock Haven co-ed became home-coming Queen this weekend at Kings College in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Sue Payne, a member of Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, was one of 30 girls entered as candidates by the students of the college. This is the first year that Kings College has gone co-ed. Due to the lack of females, though, procedures for the home-coming court were the same as in the past. Boy-friends submitted pictures of their favorite girls, and a panel of judges, mostly professors, chose the finalists, who were announced at the Friday night concert. Miss Payne was crowned Queen during Saturday's half-time festivities.

Former Library To House New Offices

The moving of the administration offices into the new location, the formerly Stevenson Library, is scheduled to begin on November 13th. If this deadline is met, each office will be moved separately and the building should be completely occupied by Nov. 20.

The installation of a complex PBX system has caused the delay in moving. If the telephone system is operable before Nov. 13, the offices will begin moving immediately.

The building will house all of the administrative departments except the Dean of Admissions. Dr. Bone's office will remain in Raub Hall.

YW—YMCA Sponsors Party

The Lock Haven State College YW-YMCA Chapter will follow its annual tradition of sponsoring a Halloween party at the Children's Home on Oct. 28, at 7:00 pm.

Each year the students visit the home to help the children cut and design their own pumpkins. There are presently thirteen children at the home.

Interested students are invited to attend the group's regular meetings every second and third Wednesday of the month at 7:30 pm in room 121 in the PUB.

Among other activities, the group is planning a Christmas party for the Children's Home.

Time-Out

by Al Smith

by Al Smith

Once again it's that time of the year when all 26 members of the National Football League set their scouting system into high gear in their quest for future professional talent.

When the old American Football League came into existence ten years ago, both leagues broadened their scouting programs in search for the best collegiate talent in the nation.

Through the old money battles in signing the top young college athletes who were drafted by both leagues, the small college football player and free agent began to draw more attention from the pro ball clubs.

As a result, today when one looks over the rosters of the 26 NFL teams, he finds that the small college is well represented in the pro ranks.

Last week a few people on campus received a letter from the Dallas Cowboys asking these people to list any members on the Bald Eagle football squad or any members of opponents Lock Haven State has played who might have the potential to play pro ball.

From what we've seen this season, we only listed two opponents whom we thought might have a shot at the pro ranks.

Many upperclassmen weren't on campus when the Bald Eagles tangled with Delaware State, and probably missed seeing the best running back the Eagles will face all year.

Steve Davis, a six-foot one-inch, 210 pound running back, who literally ran all over the Eagles in their first contest, picked up 260 yards against the green LHS defensive line. In the latest issue of Sporting News, Davis was ranked eighth in rushing in the NCAA College Division and seventh in scoring with 48 points through games of October 10. Davis is averaging 137.8 yards rushing per game.

The other athlete whom we thought might have a shot at the pros is Clarion's talented center Roland Sparrow. A six-foot three-inch, 230 pounder, Sparrow has received feelers from a couple of pro ball clubs.

While a couple of Eagle opponents look like they might have a chance with the big boys, the Eagles aren't left out either.

LHS co-captain and defensive tackle, Scott Brooks, a six-foot two-inch 230 pounder, has received letters from the Cowboys and Oakland Raiders.

But the two Eagles who have been receiving publicity and ranked nationally in their respective categories appear to have the best shot at the pros if any of the Eagles have a shot at all are Sam Vaughn and Mike Packer.

Split end Sam Vaughn, also an LHS co-captain, in the latest issue of Sporting News was ranked seventh in the NCAA College Division with 36 catches for 497 yards and one touchdown. He is listed right behind Al Bowman of Shippensburg in the rankings.

LHS quarterback Mike Packer, also a co-captain, has been setting the Pennsylvania Conference on fire this season and has been one of the nation's top passers among the small colleges.

He is currently ranked sixth in the NCAA College Division according to Sporting News with 87 completions in 180 attempts for 1138 yards, 15 touchdowns and a .483 percentage.

During the four years we've been here at LHS, we've seen at least seven players who have played against the Eagles that have made it in the pros.

Leading the seven is Don Herrmann, split end for the New York Giants from Waynesboro. In college everyone was talking about the split end from Waynesboro who was almost impossible to cover.

Against the Eagles two years ago, LHS probably couldn't have covered Herrmann with a fish net as the talented receiver caught 18 passes for seven touchdowns and over 350 yards as he led the Yellow Jackets to a 69-0 romp over LHS. Herrmann had 36 receptions with the Giants last year and was one of the NFL's top rookies.

Another receiver with the Giants, Bob Tucker from Bloomsburg, also gave the Eagles fits while he was playing with the Huskies. Tucker was cut on the last cut by the Philadelphia Eagles last year.

Another Eagle opponent who performed in the Baltimore Colts' revenge victory over the New York Jets two weeks ago was defensive back Jim Duncan of Maryland State who intercepted two Joe Namath passes.

Other Eagle opponents who have seen action in the pro ranks are: Ted Cottrell, a linebacker from Delaware Valley with the Atlanta Falcons; Joe Righetti, a defensive tackle from Waynesburg with the Cleveland Browns; Bill Thompson, a corner back from Maryland State with the Denver Broncos; and Art Shell, a tackle from Maryland State with the Oakland Raiders.

These are just a few of the small college players who have made it with the pros and with the caliber of the conference improving along with the improvement of LHS opponents, Eagle fans will probably see more athletes they waw perform against LHS in the pro tanks someday.

Eagles Rout The Aggies 52-21

by Chris Plyler

The Lock Haven State College football team finally put it all together for three quarters Saturday to upset Delaware Valley, 52-21, and snap their eight game losing streak.

A ten point underdog, the Bald Eagles played inspired football and broke several individual and team records in the process.

The one-game extra point record was broken by Dan Guers who kicked 7 for 7. He also kicked a 29 yard field goal. Guers has kicked 17 of 18 extra points this season.

Junior quarterback Mike Packer broke all game and career passing records as he threw six touchdown passes for 502 yards on 17 completions out of 42 attempts.

For the final three quarters the team effort was tremendous. Both the offensive and defensive teams got together to play the type of ball they are capable of doing.

Everyone has a great day. Captain Scott Brooks, Jim Hess, John Blackwell, Terrell Jones, Tyson Murphy, and Ken Jones led the interior offensive line in their tremendous blocking effort.

The pass receivers were sensational. Sam Vaughn and Tommy Allen led the team; each with seven catches. Vaughn gained 237 yards and Allen, 223.

It would be impossible to say enough about the defense. The list would include Mike Longenberger (9 unassisted tackles and 9 assists and a fumble recovery), Dave Witcoskie (1 interception for a TD and 9 tackles), Steve Glass (2 interceptions and 7 tackles), Bill Rhodes (13 tackles), Jeff Knarr (1 interception with a 50 yard run back and 13 tackles), Tom Crompton (10 tackles), Mel Abel (7 tackles and a 20 yard kickoff runback), and the list could go on.

Saturday afternoon started off like any other football game this season. Bald Eagle mistakes helped the Aggies to take a 21-10 lead. This time however the Bald Eagles started a comeback that lasted until the final whistle.

The Aggies drove 42 yards scoring on a pass from Bill Dever to Jim Foote for 11 yards, early in the first period. In the same quarter Delaware Valley recovered a LH fumble on the 18 and scored in four plays on Don Chance's rush from two yards out to put DV ahead 14-0.

After a fine kickoff runback by Witcoskie, Mike Packer hit Vaughn, Hoffman, and the TD pass of 29 yards to Allen to put Lock Haven on the scoreboard.

After Knarr's pass interception and 50 yard runback in the second quarter, Guers came in to kick a field goal and the score was DV 14, LH 10.

Chance and Foot led in the Aggies 79 yard drive on the ground and Chance scored on a one yard blast through the middle. DV then went ahead 21-10.

With only ten minutes left in the first half the defense held DVC when they tried for a first down but didn't quite make it leaving the ball on the Eagles' 42 yard line.

In a minute of playing time Packer took Lock Haven 60 yards downfield to score on a pass to Fran Condino. A 42-yard pass to Vaughn highlighted the drive. The team went to the lockerrooms at halftime behind Delaware Valley 21-17.

The third quarter held the turning point of the game. Mark Galbreath scrambled after a bad snap from the center and got a kick that went 35 yards. The kick was fumbled and Ken Jones was there to recover the ball.

After a five-yard Eagle penalty, Packer hit Vaughn on the goal line for a 37-yard pass TD. Lock Haven had the lead for the first time at 24-21.

McNelis blocked a punt and the Eagles had the ball on the 20. Packer completed a pass to Allen a 14-yard throw to Vaughn for another touchdown.

Two plays later Dave Witcoskie intercepted a pass and ran it back for a TD as the third quarter ended with Lock Haven leading 38-21.

The Aggies fumbled on the 21-yard line after only three plays and Mike Longenberger recovered the ball. Packer hit Allen on the first play for a 21-yard TD pass.

Delaware Valley put on a 40-yard drive but lost the ball on downs. With the ball on the 15 yard line, Packer dropped back to the goal line and threw the ball 50 yards to Tommy Allen who took the ball and outran two defenders 50 yards to score the final touchdown.

Harriers Give Record Breaking Performances

Record breaking performances by Steve Podgajny and Nibs Gordon, coupled with the outstanding depth of the Bald Eagles, powered the Lock Haven State cross country team to a perfect-score victory over St. Francis, 15-50.

Podgajny, Gordon and Dave Mosebrook took command at the start and never left up. Mosebrook tightened up slightly after 3½ miles, Gordon and Podgajny continued on for a 25:48.4 clocking, breaking Danny Axman's old record of 26:13. Mosebrook placed third, and behind him, the "young Eagles" finished in a pack.

George Bower and Bill Sowich tied for 4th place, followed closely by Steve Harnish in 6th. Carl Klingaman and Chuck Mather placed 7th and 8th to give LHS the first eight places. Only 13 places separated the five "young Eagles."

Commenting on his team's performance, Coach Jim Dolan said: "The men really surprised me today. Gordon and Podgajny broke the course record and looked great. All the others ran their best times over the course." "Bill Sowich particularly impressed me with his moving up to be with Bower."

"I'm really proud of all our men. They did a great job today. We need to continue to improve if we are going to handle Juniata and Millersville next week," concluded Dolan.
