Look-a-like highlights Reagan/Bush rally

By Kim Wilkinson

With the "Real McCoy" campaigning at a sister school, Millersville University, the Reagan/Bush Rally on this campus was highlighted by a Reagan look-a-like yesterday in front of Price Auditorium.

As the motorcade pulled up in front of Bentley Hall, the chant "Four more years" was heard.

Local elementary school children lined the front steps of Price as "secret service men" (Alpha Chi Rho brothers) escorted "Reagan" to the podium.

The speaker urged everyone to vote Republican, "even though the polls show us way ahead" because every vote counts.

"Reagan" said to lower the national deficit we need a Republican Congress and he urged support of local Congressman William Clinger.

He also said he heard that Gary Interdonato, president of the Student Cooperative Council (SCC), was doing "a good job for the party at Lock Haven."

Other comments made by "Reagan" included bad jokes aimed toward Democrats.

Co-chairman of the Young Republicans, Tim Sporcic, said that "the Republicans haven't forgotten Lock Haven. I urge you to vote and vote Republican. Politics are a serious game."

He added that the turnout was good by the community and disappointing from the college.

Reception planned for December grads

By Jill Krueger

The University's December graduates did not have the chance to attend a graduation ceremony until May but this year, prospective graduates will be honored at an informal reception, said Dr. Harvey Sterns, Dean of Academic Administration.

The reception will be held in the Sloan Gallery on December 16. Prospective graduates and their parents will have the opportunity to speak with University President Craig Dean Willis, Vice Presidents John Zaharis and George Marshall, and the deans of the three colleges.

"We had a reception last year for the prospective graduates and I thought it went pretty well, but this year I would like to see more students involved," said Sterns. There are 113 prospective graduates.

One of the reasons for having a reception instead of a formal ceremony such as the one in May is that the "timing is off," according to Sterns. The Fall Semester ends near the holidays, and most students have special plans or are busy looking for jobs, Sterns explained.

The December graduates are encouraged to participate in the May graduation ceremony, but many have moved out of the area and are employed making it hard to return to the University to attend the event.

Last year, out of the entire December graduating class, only 33 percent showed up for the reception, said Sterns.

"A group of student requested that something be done to honor the December graduates," said Sterns. "They wanted a formal graduation ceremony, but we decided a reception would be more feasible."

The reception is arranged through the Academic Administration offices. Prospec-

Bloodmobile Thursday

By Kim Madgiak

The Bloodmobile will be held in Woolridge Hall on Thursday from 10:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Many people are involved in the organization of the Bloodmobile. The three people most closely related to this project are Jennifer Samuels, president of the Panhellenic Association, Glen Ardis, president of the Intrafraternity Council (IFC), and Coty Casareto, personal coordinator of the Residence Hall Association (RHA), according to Joan Hayfield, secretary to the Dean of Students.

The Panhellenic Association is responsible for providing five escorts for the donors. These people will escort the donors to and from the tables where the actual blood is taken.

The IFC is accountable for having six volunteers to set up the Bloodmobile. Six people will aid in taking down the equipment.

A new tactic is being used this year to motivate the students to give blood. Each residence hall wing has a goal set for how many new donors come from their section. Approximately six new donors are hoped for from each wing. The wings in each hall will compete against each other for the number of donors and the winning wing in each hall will have an ice cream party sponsored by the RHA. The halls will also be competing against each other for the most donors. The winning hall will receive a trophy to keep in its possession until the next Bloodmobile comes to LHU.

"Our quota this year is 300 pints of blood, or in other words, we are looking for 300 donors," said Hayfield. She also mentioned the fact that Bloomsburg is twice the size of LHU and are hoping for 600 donors, while Lycoming has approximately 1000 fewer students and they are hoping for 210 donors. Hayfield also stated, "We did reach our quota of 100 pints this summer when the Bloodmobile was here. I'm hoping for a rainy day as we do better on those days rather than on a sunny days when students are involved in sports, etc."

If a student wishes to donate blood, appointments can be made by calling the Dean of Students Office at Ext. 2022 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. or fill out a pledge and return it to his/her Wing Representative or return it to 311 Sullivan Hall. Appointments will receive priority handling.

Everyone is encouraged to give the gift of love. A donation may save a life.

Frat Wars is print battle

In a galaxy far, far away...wait a minute, let's make that right here in Lock Haven, the epic has continued. The title of the current epic is not Star Wars, but Frat Wars. The current epic is not being filmed, but being printed.

In this epic, there is not one Luke Skywalker and one Darth Vader, but rather a few self-acclaimed Lukes and a few implied Darths. There are no lightsabers to be found as weapons, but rather a much more powerful weapon called words.

The epic titled Frat Wars started when Craig Rosenwald, who foresees himself as a Luke, wrote a letter to the editor. Rosenwald's letter, which appeared in the Friday October 19th edition of the Eagle Eye alleged that a few Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) brothers (Darth in his mind) broke his friend's (Luke) jaw for staring at them in Cork's Bar. Rosenwald was upset and let it be known that while it was only a few TKE's (Darth) that did the jaw breaking, the entire organization should be responsible for the actions of its members, and an apology to his friend (Luke) should be in line.

The weekend came and passed, and on Tuesday October 23rd a letter to the editor appeared from Charlie Roberts of TKE in response to Rosenwald's letter. Roberts mentioned that neither he nor Rosenwald were at the scene of the "crime" so how could either make a judgement. Roberts stated that Rosenwald's Darth is being held accountable, but the entire organization should not be held responsible. Roberts' main point was for Rosenwald to make a critical evaluation of his words before passing judgement against TKE.

Two days passed and on Friday October 26th a letter to the editor appeared from an unverifiable person who also foresees himself as a Luke. The comments in opposition to the TKE organization could not be printed on Friday because the name of Vielo Tito, as signed below the letter, was not identifiable either in the Lock Haven University (LHU) directory or in the Lock Haven phone book. That letter could be printed in today's edition, and was, because the signature of V. Lotito under the letter was acceptable as an identifiable person as clarified in the LHU directory and Lock Haven phone book.

Without a letter of opposition to Mr. Roberts' remarks, Friday's Eagle Eye was free of any verbal warfare in print. But today's issue is a different story. Not only is there a letter from Mr. Lotito, but now there is another letter of opposition from Mike Stephani.

In his letter, Mr. Lotito, who foresees himself as a Luke, alleges that when there are two or more TKE brothers gathered in one place, there is always trouble. Lotito also obviously does not appreciate some of the words used by Roberts in his letter. Mr. Stephani, who also foresees himself as a Luke, felt that he also needed to make some points in opposition to the letter by Roberts.

All I can say is that the Eagle Eye is expecting another letter to the editor from TKE. If we don't get a letter, I guess the verbal warfare will stop for awhile. If we do get a letter, I wonder how long we will allow this newspaper to be a battleground for the Frat Wars epic. It would be hard to put a stop to the word battle because one side would always get in the "last laugh." The "last laugh" would eventually occur when our final issue comes out sometime in May. Maybe all we need is the upcoming Thanksgiving vacation to put a halt to the current epic of Frat Wars. If not, there is always that long break in between semesters to return to words of peace instead of war.

What if professors miss class?

A few weeks ago, an editorial covered "Should I Stay or Should I Go" concerning students attending class.

I feel that something should be said about professors who miss classes on a regular basis. I realize that professors are human also and may occasionally need to have a personal day, that's understandable. But what about professors who have thus far missed more than four or five classes? At the time, we students feel elated by not having to sit in a confining classroom, but when it comes to exam time, some of us feel like lost souls.

If professors can place a restriction on how many classes a student can miss before lowering his/her grade, why can't the administration have some sort of quota for its staff? I understand that a professor can be docked a day's pay for missing a class without notifying anyone. Who checks up on these cases? Perhaps we students should start taking attendance, after all, it's our money that's being wasted.

I, personally am tired of sitting in a classroom, waiting for a professor to show up.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I would like to keep this short and sweet. Responding to Charlie Roberts' letter defending TKE, Give me a break Charlie! I wasn't born yesterday. Charlie, why is it that when there are two or more TKE Brothers gathered, there is a sense of trouble? No Charlie, the world does not stop for Tau Kappa Epsilon. No Charlie, it is not ludicrous to hold 35 boys accountable for "one on one bar room fist to cuffs" (which should not result for any reason.) As the old saying goes Charlie, "Show me your friends and I'll tell you who you are."

By the way Charlie, sarcasm is supposed to be funny? What happened? (Barbarism...? and witchhunts??) Sorry Charlie.

V. Lotito

Dear Editor,

We the brothers of Kappa Delta Rho would like to thank all those involved in helping make our Dating Game a success.

We have received nothing but good comments from students and faculty alike. Even though the crowd was not capacity, those that did attend surely made up for this with their enthusiasm. It was clear a good time was had by all. It is due to this enthusiasm that we hope to make this a yearly event.

Again, thanks to all and we hope to see you again next year.

Sincerely,
The Brothers of Kappa Delta Rho

Dear Editor,

I used to look at these TKE fiascos and pass them off as a continuing soap opera. Now the storyline has changed as a few TKEs spoke in defense of their latest actions. Now I look at these TKE fiascos and die laughing at the cartoon.

Hockey team defeats West Chester 3-1

By Christa Landas

Avenging a 1-0 loss they suffered here a year ago in the semifinals of the PA Conference Tournament, the Lady Eagles beat West Chester, 3-1, in a regular season match Friday.

Before a large home crowd, Lock Haven came out hungry for a game and for a win. The women's field hockey team hadn't seen action since Oct. 14 when they tied with Rutgers, 2-2.

"Everybody played very well given all the situation here; it was tiring," said Coach Sharon Taylor. "They were tired. You could tell toward the end, running on this kind of field and trying to dig out of all that stuff on corners; it really does take it away from you."

After a whole day of drizzle, Charlotte Smith field was not in the best of shape. In fact, it was soggy mess despite earlier efforts by maintenance to dry up some of the puddles with sawdust.

Senior Sherry Derr didn't let field conditions bother her as she scored the 72 goal of her career. Derr got things rolling at 18:39. She pushed an unassisted goal by WC's goal keeper Amy Westerman.

Less than two minutes later, Ginny Neiss smashed a ball at the West Chester net and made it 2-0. Lori Greiner picked up the assist.

Lady Ram, Caron Heilman, got credit for the only West Chester goal. She scored with just three minutes remaining in the first half.

Freshman Doobie Caprio locked up the LHU victory as she was in the right place at the right time. Ginny Neiss fed her the ball at 3:58 of the second half, and Caprio, positioning herself perfectly in front of the net, slipped the shot past Westerman.

Coach Taylor said, "It was a good win. We needed this one because West Chester had started off [the season] slowly. They've got a losing record, but they're a young team, and they're going to be outstanding in another year. We needed to show this win if we're going to expect anything on the national level."

The Rams drop to 7-9 overall after Friday's defeat. Lock Haven ups its season mark to 10-5-1.

The Bald Eagles had 33 shots on goal to just 18 for West Chester. In penalty corners, both teams were equal with eight apiece.

Captain Bonnie Lassen said, "Today we really worked together. We were all psyched up for this game...definitely."

LHU goalie Lori Sannella saw action in the first half of the game. She had seven saves and allowed one goal. Kate Murphy came in at the beginning of the second half and stopped 12 shots by the young Ram team. West Chester's Amy Westerman saved 11 hits at her cage and allowed three goals.

In J.V. action, the Eagles downed the Rams, 2-1. Kim Romano on an assist from Sue Cornish scored at 10:00 of the first half. Caprio added the insurance goal. Cornish again had the assist. A. Miller of West Chester scored at 27:00 of the second half for her team's only goal.

Sue Brubaker had seven saves in the Haven effort.

Lock Haven will meet C.W. Post at home on Tuesday at 3:00 p.m. Coach Taylor is looking for Post to be very aggressive with nothing to lose. The Lady Eagles will have to be ready, according to Taylor.

Hrovat leads Edinboro to 45-25 win over Eagles

By Dave Walters

Edinboro's senior quarterback Blair Hrovat completed 17 of 27 passes for 250 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Fighting Scots to a 45-25 victory over the Bald Eagles Saturday.

The Scots left Jack Stadium with a 6-2 overall record and a 4-2 Western Division slate. The Bald Eagles are now 1-7 overall and 1-5 in the West.

The Bald Eagle defense allowed two touchdowns in just 54 seconds and let the Scots put the game out of reach.

Edinboro drew first blood in the first period on a four-yard sprint into the end zone and Jim Trueman booted the PAT to make it 7-0.

The Eagles answered back late in the first period on a 37-yard field goal by freshman Dan Ellis. The field goal was set up by a 17-yard pass by freshman quarterback Pat Cahill to wide receiver John Klacik.

Edinboro started a drive on their own 32. The Scots tallied a first down to the 42 and then Hrovat's accurate arm went to work. Hrovat hit tight end Bob Sureno on the right sideline for a 47-yard pickup. Junior cornerback Jere Warner made a touchdown saving tackle on the one-yard line. On the next play running back Damon Chamber leaped over the goal line for another Boro TD. Truman's extra point made it 14-3.

The Bald Eagles powered back on their next possession. An 18-yard run by sophomore Roosevelt Brown, a 15-yard penalty and a 21-yard reception by Klacik brought the ball to the five. Cahill pitched to freshman Derek Lawrence who raced around the right side into the end zone. Kicker Ellis set up for the extra point but holder Doug Karas took the snap and took the ball into the end zone for a two-point conversion to make the score 14-11.

But, the Haven didn't stay close for long as the Scots registered a 12-play, 69-yard drive and ended up in the Bald Eagle end zone again to make it 21-11.

Freshman Eric Speece got the ball on their own 21 to open the third quarter and powered down the sideline for 64-yards to the Boro 15. Cahill scored three plays later on a seven-yard option play.

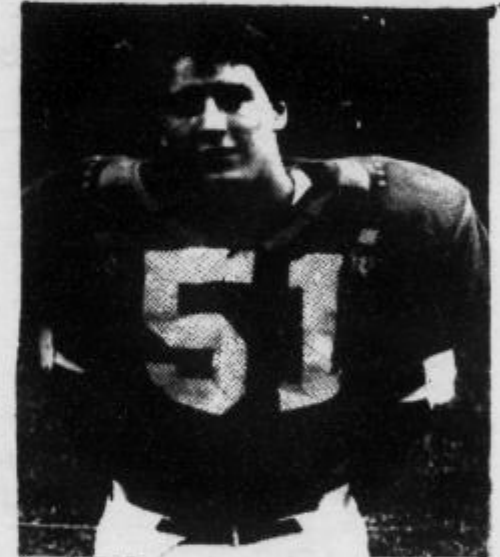

Following Cahill's TD, Edinboro scored their two quick scores to make the score 35-18.

Roosevelt lit up the scoreboard one last time on a two-yard power. Ellis booted the PAT.

Edinboro added another touchdown and a field goal to end the game.

Linebackers Stan Allen and Bill Peterson combined for 27 tackles, two fumble recoveries and one interception. Warner had nine tackles.

Head coach Jack Fisher said, "It's just disappointing. Up until the last 17 minute or so we were in it. We could have won."

Stan Allen - 16 tackles, one interception, one fumble recovery.

Soccer team clinches PSAC West by blanking Slippery Rock

By Scott Crispell

The Bald Eagle soccer team clinched 1st place in the Western Division of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference with a 3-0 victory over Slippery Rock, Saturday.

The victory improved Lock Haven's record to 11-6 and gives them a shot at the PSAC overall title against Eastern Division champ, Cheyney.

Against Slippery Rock, Lock Haven jumped out to an early lead and never looked back. Kevin York gave the Bald Eagles a 1-0 lead on an unassisted goal just nine minutes into the game. Midway through the first half, Keith Betts scored on an assist by Rob Eaton to make it 2-0.

The second half was scoreless until, with just 15 minutes remaining, Ed Ralston scored on Eaton's second assist to put the game away.

Coach Lenny Long was elated with Saturday's win. He stated, "We play California University of Pennsylvania Saturday. That is our last conference game, and even if we lose, we go to the championship game against Cheyney. But, I think we'll win anyway. We are playing well. We won 2 games on the road last week and that is a good sign. This is a good time to be playing well. The team has a good attitude now. Against Cheyney, we are gonna be at full strength and there should be no reason for a let-down. If we win states, we will get an NCAA bid. I think we are ready."

Cross-Country men finish 11th at PSAC's; Toner is first Eagle

By Christa Landas

As Coach Jim Dolan predicted, his cross-country team finished between 10th and 14th place at the Pennsylvania Conference Championships.

The championships were held on Saturday at Slippery Rock University, and the Bald Eagles took 11th place.

Edinboro University brought a strong team lead by Luil Grahm. Both Grahm and Edinboro grabbed the first place honors.

Edinboro tallied only 39 points to win the team championship. Grahm finished the course in 26:08, fifteen seconds ahead of William King of Millersville, for the first place laurels.

Ken Toner was the first man across the line for Lock Haven. He ran to 27:56 and a 31st place finish.

"Ken Toner ran just a super race," said Coach Dolan. "The rest of the guys were flat. I wasn't real happy with their performance."

Bud Murphy came in 47th and was the second man to finish for the Eagles.

The rest of the team finished as follows: Andy Shearer, 61st; Craig Yakscoe, 73rd; Dave Perry, 75th; Mike Eidschink, 77th and Kevin McNamara, 83rd.

A total of 94 runners participated in the PSAC meet making up 14 teams.

Indiana Univ. of PA was second, East Stroudsburg garnered third, and Millersville was fourth with 142 points.

With only one week remaining in the men's cross-country season, Coach Dolan's goal is to see his team perform like they are capable of in the final meet.

"That would be a nice ending to the season," commented Dolan.

The Bald Eagle's last meet will be run at Indiana Univ. of PA. The Nov. 3 race is the NCAA Division II Regional Championship where Lock Haven will again challenge most of the teams they saw at PSACs this past weekend.

Anorexia Nervosa to be lecture topic

By Diane Chilangwa

A discussion to all students on the now popular disease, Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia will be held on Tuesday November 6 in Raub 106 at 9:00 p.m. by the Director of Gross Hall, Judy Cochrane.

Anorexia Nervosa is described to be a self-indulged starvation syndrome accompanied by vigorous exercise by the individual. Bulimia, the sister disorder of anorexia translated from Greek roots means "ox-hunger" and is characterized by binge-eating. Binge behavior consists of the secretive, frenzied consumption of large amounts of high calorie or "forbidden" food during a brief period of time (usually less than two hours).

In an interview on the subject, Cochrane pointed out that this talk is being given as an eyeopener to students here at the University. She said it is a problem noted to affect more college students than any other age group.

Cochrane could not say whether she knew of any cases on campus due to her limited knowledge on student anorexia/bulimia victims.

Her reason as to why this disorder is so common is because of the highly irregular eating habits among college students. There are several reasons for anorexia to affect female students. Some of these reasons may be:

- fashion magazines praise the thinner you are the better you look
- for already anorectic victims, wanting to be in control of their eating habits makes them feel they have achieved this
- over achievers wanting perfections set high standards for themselves also fall into this trap by wanting perfection. People who are overweight (bulimia victims) are encouraged (pressured) by peers to loose more weight.

Every weight conscious person should be alert to warning signs of anorexia. These are feeling dizziness, loss of menstrual periods, and muscle deterioration. Bulimia victims may develop the following signs and/or symptoms: an abnormal and constant craving for food; insatiable hunger or appetite, salivary gland enlargement, menstrual period disturbances, supression of hunger sensations, "pig out" only to vomit the food and return to eating again.

Men are no exception to Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia. Not only is it common among female gymnasts and dancers but men wrestlers and dancers too.

According to Cochrane, 96 percent of the victims of the above mentioned diseases are women. The remaining 4 percent of this population are men. She also states, "Statistics show that 15 percent of all victims die and an estimated 15,000 will die of starvation this year."

All are encouraged to attend.

Rogers Gymnasium has new look

By David M. Smith

The weight room in Roger's Gymnasium has a new look to it these days.

More space, a new paint job, lights, and a cleaner atmosphere are a few of the changes you'll notice when you enter Roger's newly renovated weight room.

The Lock Haven University maintenance department, headed by Jim Meckley, has been working since the beginning of the semester to help give the room its new look.

By knocking out a couple of the walls, Meckley said, the weight room has found the extra space needed to accommodate the large number of people who use the facility.

The installation of new lights as well as painting the walls white with crimson trim are a few of the many renovations the maintenance department has yet to finish.

According to Meckley, "We have a way to go, but when it's done we'll have it looking like new."

Vandalism decreasing

By Cheri Gearhart

Vandalism is not a serious problem on campus and has been on a decline for the last three years, according to Law Enforcement Director Richard L. Hepner.

He stated the decline was due to "better enforcement, and the students are more responsible and taking more pride in the campus."

In previous years, vandalism damages cost the taxpayers an estimated $11,000.

The punishment alone may be a leading factor in the decline since vandalism, termed Criminal Mischief, is a summary offense which constitutes paying a fine. The penalties can also go as high as a felony of the third degree which would constitute a fine and a jail sentence.

Lambda Chi host international gathering

By Bruce Rappoport

The Bi-annual International Social Gathering was hosted again by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Members of the community, faculty, and administration attended the event as well as members of the student body and the presidents of many Greek organizations.

Mike Gross, vice-president of Lambda Chi Alpha said, "Attendance for the international event was down due to other scheduled activities for the same evening. Those who could not attend missed a very good time, though."

Certificates of appreciation were exchanged during the fuction in front of those who attended. Lambda Chi Alpha and the International Students Association are both looking forward to future events and social gatherings as such.
