Overcrowding expected to continue as... Susick proposes changes for housing sign-up

By Suzanne Bryla
Staff Reporter

Overcrowding is a continuing problem in the dormitories this year. A committee is being formed to assist in helping with the housing problem.

The committee will consist of Mr. Timothy Susick, Associate Dean of Students, and a resident director, a RHA representative, a SCC representative, and a person from revenue.

At this point in the semester, there are still 61 men in rooms with three people. There are also about 60 men in the lounges.

In addition, 16 women are still housed in temporary quarters.

Many of these students will remain in temporary housing for the rest of this semester.

Each of the students who had to remain in temporary housing beyond September 30th will receive a $7-a-week rebate.

Commenting about the students who move off-campus and then later decide to move back on-campus, Susick said, "I personally feel obligated to those persons who stay on-campus."

He said the students who decide to remain on campus should come before students who left earlier and now want to return.

Susick plans to develop a lottery to limit the number of students who can move back onto campus.

The committee being formed is designed to receive student input. It will decide important issues like the lottery.

It will also decide on a possible deposit to reserve for housing next year.

This year, approximately 1030 students have signed up for on-campus housing. This is an increase from a past average of 850 students.

Considering the increased enrollment and the number of students wanting on-campus housing, the problems are increasing yearly.

SSHE expands role

By John P Elder
Editor-in-Chief

This fall marks the beginning of the State System of Higher Education's (SSHE) expansion into University Center, Harrisburg.

The center was taken over by SSHE in order to establish a consortium of higher education that would include both private and public-owned universities. Other universities utilizing the center are Elizabethtown College and Lebanon Valley College.

However, according to State System Chancellor James H. McCormick, the center is also going to be used to further the mission of the SSHE.

"The center will serve as an off-campus facility for the 14 institutions' instructional and public service programs."

McCormick added that University Center "provides both the opportunity and challenge to highlight the strengths of the SSHE."

To oversee the new use of the center, Shippensburg University is currently serving as managing partner. Shippensburg is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the consortium.

Currently, the operation is the only one of its kind for SSHE, and Board of Governors Chairman F. Eugene Dixon Jr.

is very optimistic about the success of the new partnership.

"We have created a new kind of program, a comprehensive educational services package of the highest quality, reflecting our talents and resources, and including the fine institutions from the private sector."

Did you know that...

-the state universities spent their first 100 years of existence training teachers for Pennsylvania's schools.

-all 14 of the state universities have a cumulative history of 1,600 years.

-the buildings for the classrooms, residences, administration, and student support number 21,315,413 square feet.

-the libraries on each campus provide resource support for academic programs with a total of 5 million volumes and 12 million periodicals, microforms, and audio materials.

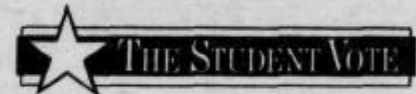

-enrollment, undergraduate and graduate, part-time and full-time, students is over 94,000.

-89% of students taught at universities in Pennsylvania are in-state students.

-there are a total of 236 undergraduate degree programs and 116 graduate degree programs in 32 major academic areas.

Social Science Club pushes for student voter participation

By Emilee Groce
News Editor

Voter registration for counties other than Clinton begins today in Bentley.

Members from the Social Science Club are sponsoring the registration of students in their native counties. Absentee ballots will also be available.

Since the general election is drawing near, registering to vote now is crucial. The young adult age group could possess considerable power if most would register and vote, yet this same group has the worst voter turn out.

"I hope everyone comes out to register to vote because it is important," said Cindy Clegg, president of the Social Science Club. "There are a lot of big issues in this upcoming election that are important to students, one being tuition increases. Our age group could have quite a pull in the elections if they would just register."

"We are registering students to vote in their home counties so they will be able to deal with issues close to home and be able to vote for the candidates they are familiar with," added Clegg.

"I hope everyone comes out to register to vote because it is important."

Cindy Clegg
President Social Science Club

Registration in Bentley will be today from 11:00 until 2:00. Wednesday the registration will be held in Raub Hall Lobby from 9:00 to 11:00 and from 1:00 to 3:00.

Letter to the Editor...

Dear Editor,

I read the article "Clubs 'strut their stuff' in activities fair" in the Friday, September 30, 1988 issue of the EAGLE EYE, and felt obliged to make two comments concerning paragraph four of that article.

(1) The role played by resident International students in our community was neglected, or not appreciated.

(2) There will be an International Festival ONLY in April of the Spring 1989 semester.

Bald Eagle gridders tie the Rock, 21-21

By Herb Samuels
Sports Reporter

The Bald Eagle football team fought hard to tie Slippery Rock, 21-21, Saturday afternoon at Hubert Jack Stadium.

The two teams came out slugging and continued to the final gun.

Slippery Rock got on the board first when quarterback Pat Strine hit Keith Wagner for a 17 yard strike over the middle. The score was set up by a 39 yard pass play to Oliver Gauthier.

In the beginning of the second quarter, the Bald Eagles put together a nine play drive with a phenominal ending. Faced with a 4th down-and-18 situation on the 29-yard line they decide to go for it.

Quarterback Radford Mason dropped back and threw a wobbly pass towards wide receiver Richard Nurse in the endzone. Nurse drew a crowd of four of the Rock's defenders.

Everyone in the crowd jumped up and got a piece of the ball. The ball then fell into the awaiting hands of freshmen receiver Derrick Beachum for a touchdown.

Slippery Rock then closed the half with a 21 yard run by tailback Greg Paterra for a touchdown. Paterra displayed great instinct and balance throughout the game as he ran for 177 yards on 26 carries.

"He's an excellent back, one of the conference's finest," said Head Coach Tom Jones.

The Bald Eagles came out in the second half and put together a 75 yard drive for a touchdown. Mason completed 6-of-8 passes during the drive, including the touchdown to Nurse for 10 yards.

A few moments later horror struck.

Paterra bounced off four or five LHU defenders for another Slippery Rock touchdown.

One of those defenders was senior defensive back Brian Comly. Comly hit Paterra awkwardly and went down with a back injury.

"I don't know how he (Comly) hit him (Paterra) but it is his back and not his neck," said Jones. "He had all his movement but it's still delicate at this moment."

Comly's condition is still unknown as of yesterday according to the coach's office.

At that point the defensive unit dedicated the game to Comly and Paterra and crew were shut down for the rest of the day.

The offense however was not finished. LHU's running and passing game moved the ball 62 yards to give the Bald Eagles their first touchdown in the fourth quarter this season.

Les Smeal blew past the drawn in linebackers for a 12 yard run to tie the score at 21.

At the 2:09 mark Slippery Rock lined up to punt and Todd Stuter managed to get a hand on it giving the Bald Eagles good field position.

The offense took over at their own 45 yard line. After a 27 yard drive, Rich Marriot tried a 45 yard field goal, but the kick sailed wide.

After the game the Bald Eagles were more unsettled than happy with the tie.

Defensive player of the game Jim Bibbs summed it up best when he said, "We can't be content with just a tie. It's not a W (win)."

The next game will be Saturday against Southern Connecticut at Hubert Jack Stadium. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

Soccer team blanks Kutztown, 3-0

By Kevin Dickie
Sports Reporter

For the second game in a row, the Bald Eagle booters won by a score of 3-0 over Kutztown and, as they did last week, contained their opposition almost entirely in their own end.

Two minutes into the game, Tibi Kobolak scored the opening goal, picking up a Butch Williamson pass, to zip the ball past the Kutztown keeper.

Kobolak is still nursing an injury to his left shoulder, yet he gave 100% effort throughout the game and continually harassed the Kutztown defense.

Eighteen minutes into the game, Kobolak came close to scoring a spectacular goal when he got off a shot from 22 yards out, which had the keeper beaten but hit the crossbar.

LHU continued to press forward and kept the Kutztown goal under pressure during the first half.

With eight minutes left in the half, Mark Colangelo surged forward, beating two Kutztown defenders before nailing a shot from 18 yards out which rebounded off the post.

Somehow, Kutztown managed to hold out until half time, conceding only the one goal.

The second half was a much more torrid affair with Kutztown's coach Dan Audette and player Jim Powers both receiving red cards.

The game was in danger of boiling over but the Eagles maintained their composure and didn't retaliate to what were often blatant fouls.

Shawn Hawkey seemed singled out by the Kutztown team as time after time he was chopped down as he pushed forward.

His dogged persistence paid off though, as he dominated the right wing during the second half.

With 23 minutes gone in the second half, LHU pressure resulted in their second goal of the game.

A ball played in from the right side came to LHU's James Kaszupski, who pounced on it and shot it past the keeper for his second goal of the year.

Six minutes later, Gary Ross was tripped by Kutztown's Matt Vile as he burst into the goal area and was awarded a penalty shot.

Ross placed the kick to the left of the keeper giving him no chance and sealing the Bald Eagle victory.

The Eagles are now 5-3-1 and are gathering momentum as the season progresses. Their next game is home on Wednesday at 3 p.m. when they face Mercy College.

Stopper comes up big...

Women's tennis edges Edinboro

By Merritt La Porta
Co-Sports Editor

The women's tennis team evened their record to 3-3 with a close win over Edinboro, 5-4, Saturday afternoon.

LHU split the singles matches with Lisa Stopper, Jen Jacobs and Becky Boyce all winning while Priya Dayananda, Rebecca Chase and Peggy Buckmaster coming out on the short end.

Stopper defeated Angela Georgiou 6-4, 2-6, 7-5 in what Head Coach Tag Helt called, "the best match she (Stopper) has ever played. She defeated the best player in the conference. It was a big and important win for us."

"You have to give all of the girls credit," continued Helt. "Priya played very hard and lost to their number two player. Rebecca Chase also played well but came up short."

In the doubles competition Stopper and Boyce won 6-2, 7-5, while Jacobs and Buckmaster rebounded from losing their first set and holding on to win 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

"Our doubles teams really came through in the end," said Helt. "Jacobs and Buckmaster played brilliantly in the deciding match and after losing the first set they pulled it out. It was a great match to watch," he said.

Wednesday afternoon the Lady Eagles are home to take on Millersville in a 3 p.m. matchup.

Field hockey dumps James Madison

By Terry Day
Co-Sports Editor

The Lady Eagles field hockey (3-6-1) defeated James Madison University 2-0, Saturday afternoon.

The first half of the game was all defense for both teams as the offenses were unable to score.

The Dukes outshot the Lady Eagles 7-5 in the first half, but in the end, both teams had 21 shots on goal.

Most of the first half action was detained to the middle of the field.

"The defense kept us in the game," said Head Coach Sharon Taylor. "We won't score easily this season."

At 17:53 in the second half, freshman Brooke Altland passed the ball to Marie Malandro, who proceeded to score Lock Haven's first goal.

About five minutes later, the Lady Eagles scored their final goal when Gia Sgrignoli put it in the cage.

Lock Haven goalie Stacey Giorgio had 11 saves with 10 of those in the second half.

"It was just nice to win one when you deserve it," Taylor said.

Everyone played well, according to Taylor.

The Lady Eagles travel to Davis & Elkins College Tuesday.
