Faculty Union and State Reach Tentative Contract Agreement

Steve Coffman

After a week of intense contract negotiations, topped off with a round the clock session, the State System of Higher Education (SSHE) and its faculty union have reached a tentative contract agreement.

A press blackout, imposed over negotiations Monday, Sept. 30, will remain in effect until both parties have voted on the contract. At that time, details of the agreement will be released.

Dr. Edward Clawson, member of the Lock Haven University (LHU) chapter of the Association of Pennsylvania State College and University Faculties (APSCUF), said LHU APSCUF members would probably vote on the contract Oct.

14 or 15.

Dr. G. Terry Madonna, state president of APSCUF, will be at LHU today to explain to APSCUF members the terms of the new agreement.

Clawson said the vote of all APSCUF members, from the 14 Universities under the SSHE system, would be completed by Oct. 21.

Clawson said a group of APSCUF representatives voted Saturday in favor of the contract by a two to one margin. He then added that he could not release any details of the contract, but that it is "better than the one they had on the table before."

Scott K. Shewell, of the Chancellor's office, said the Board of Governors of the SSHE would vote on the contract after the APSCUF vote had been completed.

The Board of Governors has a meeting scheduled Oct. 15 and Shewell said they could possibly vote at that time if the APSCUF vote had been completed.

In a statement released yesterday, Chancellor Dr. James McCormick said "The bargaining process does work... When parties of good mind and will set a goal, and both are intent to reach a fair and just settlement, the process works."

In the SSHE's last publicized offer, APSCUF members at the top of their pay scales would have received a five percent increase in yearly salary. Members lower on the scales would receive a one percent bonus in December and a two percent bonus in the fall of 1986.

APSCUF was seeking a 17.5 percent increase in yearly salaries to bring its members' salaries up to the national average for college professors.

Dr. Douglas Campbell, president of APSCUF at LHU, said the increase is needed to maintain the quality of education in the system.

Good teachers are being lost to other schools and industries because the SSHE system is not offering competitive salaries, added Campbell.

Five Couples Receive Homecoming Nominations

Following some difficulties with nominations, preliminary candidates for Homecoming King and Queen were elected yesterday.

The five couples nominated were: Mike Babbitt and Chris Campana; Mike Bender and Jill Campbell; Steve Donaldson and Holly Gauntt; Jim Fissel and Jacque Dacey; Russ Pattishmock and Mary Cacolice.

Student Life Director, Ms. Carol Rinaldi, said that the nomination process should be publicized to a greater extent. One couple, Greg Wykoff and Mitch Norman, had to be eliminated from the ballot, because of a pre-balloting oversight.

Nominees must officially sign in at the Student Life Office located in Smith Hall Lobby. In order to publicize, they should do so a week in advance, but a couple may be a "write in" until 9:00 a.m. on the day of elections.

Final elections will be held on Wednesday, October 9. Students may choose one--and only one--couple. Steve Donaldson, SCC Social Chairman said, "If any ballots have more than one couple circled they will be invalid."

The top three couples will ride in the Homecoming parade which begins at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, October 12. The overall winners will be announced during halftime at the football game against California University.

(L-R) Mike Moyer, SCC Cultural Affairs Committee Chairperson, Romantic Mike Skill, WSQV disc jockey Carl James, and Romantic Wally Palmer, clown around before the Sunday night performance. Approximately 1200 fans rocked to such songs as Talking in Your Sleep, One in a Million, and newly released single Mystified. "It was a very elaborate show to set up. The light system was extremely complex and took four hours to take down," said Moyer, Concert Coordinator. The Romantics commented to Moyer that the response from the crowd was so good that the show lasted much longer than they expected. The show was the biggest selling one of the band's tour so far.

AES Organizes Child-Care Center

It's apparently a trend of the Eighties, and it's catching up to a group of Lock Haven University students who are responding in kind.

"Forty percent of all college students nationwide are 25 years old or older," says Cheryl Moyer, President of the newly-formed Adult Education Society at LHU.

She added, "Here at Lock Haven, about 18 percent of the 2600 students are over that age limit, and we are a group with some very special problems and considerations."

One of the most pressing problems and the largest consideration for some parents returning to finish an interrupted education, is child-care.

In response to this issue, the Adult Education Sociey (AES) has started a Parents' Co-operative Babysitting Service in the bottom of Russel Hall.

Run by five mothers who are members of the AES, the service accommodates up to 14 children daily.

There is already a waiting list for next semester, according to Moyer.

Some parents now involved in the Co-op had students watching their children during the day.

Many of them took their children to class with them, which normally turns out to be a disaster.

The service is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, and during evenings when the AES has sponsored events.

Eagle Eye Receives New Computers

By Sherri Wray

A new $20,000 computer system has been purchased for use by the Eagle Eye staff for production of the newspaper.

Four Apple Macintosh computers, an image writer, and a laser beam printer were bought. The computers each have a 512K memory with the double disk drive.

The computers will be used by reporters, layout people, and editors of the paper. Dr. Douglas Campbell, advisor of the Eagle Eye, said everyone must use the computers because, "this is what reporters in the twentieth century are doing." Having computers at the Eagle Eye will mean a higher rate of production from the staff. Four people can now write stories at the same time, whereas before only one reporter could.

A compugraphic system --phototype setting-- was used before. This system caused problems, mostly inconvenience because special training was needed to operate it, and only secretaries and typists had that training.

Dr. Campbell said, "The Macintosh computers are first-rate equipment. They are the most user-friendly machines on the market."

He also added that the Macintosh computers are often criticized for their use of so much memory to make it easier for the user to manipulate the machines.

Dr. Campbell stated that in the future he and the Eagle Eye staff would like to have their own printing press and process camera.

As it is now, the Eagle Eye is limited because it can only publish on days the Express is able to accept the pages. Eventually the Eagle Eye would like to print their own paper and not worry about other schedules.

Although the new equipment is in use, Dr. Campbell said the schedule for the paper will not change. The computers will not slow down or speed up production.

Dr. Campbell lastly mentioned that anyone, no matter what their major, can be on the Eagle Eye staff. It is not just for Journalism majors.

Bald Eagles drop Western Division opener to Shippensburg 20-6

The Shippensburg defense handed the Lock Haven University Bald Eagle football team a 20-6 loss Saturday in LHU's Pennsylvania Conference Western Division opener.

Not only did Ship's defense perform well, the offense, led by running back Frank Van Buren played effectively. Van Buren had 176 of the Red Raider's 407 yards total offense. He rushed for 115 yards on 24 carries and one touchdown. He achieved his other 61 yards on four receptions for two TD's.

LHU had 238 yards in total offense. Bald Eagle Quarterback Pat Cahill had his best throwing performance of the season with 96 yards on four completions.

The Red Raiders put the games first points on the board with a seven-play 30 yard drive. Shippensburg quarterback Dan Carey ended the drive with a touchdown pass to Van Buren.

The Bald Eagles started to drive down field on their next possession from their own 17 to the Ship 32, but the Raider defense halted that attempt.

LHU's Jeff Swanson recovered a fumble to get the Bald Eagles the ball back at the Ship 40. The LHU wishbone offense couldn't get things rolling and had to punt back to the Red Raiders.

Van Buren and Carey teamed up again for Shippensburg and for their second touchdown. This touchdown drive covered 87 yards on 13 plays. Carey hit Van Buren across the middle for the 35 yard score.

Ship threatened to score late in the first half. The Raiders other tailback, Tom Miller dashed 55 yards down field, but a touchdown saving tackle by defensive end Julio Enos on the two yard line halted the attempt. On the next play Miller had a tough time handling the pitch from Carey and fumbled. Back up safety Matt Leeds recovered the ball at the LHU two.

After getting to their own 24 yard line, the Bald Eagles had to punt. Peter Eastwood hit a 52 yard punt and the Raiders return man found the punt too hot to handle and LHU's Phil Stokes recovered the ball.

Early in the third quarter, Ship put its final points on the board, as Van Buren broke a run for 47 yards and a touchdown.

The Bald Eagles scored their only points of the game on a 37 yard touchdown pass from Cahill to John Klacick. Cahill threw for 25 yards before that TD play. The Ship defense answered again and blocked Wayne Quinn's extra point attempt.

The Bald Eagles dropped to 1-3 overall and will be home this Saturday at 2 p.m. to take on the Vulcans of California University for homecoming.

Men's CC Team Wins Invitational

The Lock Haven University men's cross country team led by head coach Jim Dolan captured the annual Bloomsburg Invitational title Saturday.

LHU's Ken Toner set a new course record, the Bald Eagle runners finished first among the four teams competing in the 4.9-mile meet. Toner completed the course in 25 minutes and 15 seconds, 20 seconds in front of runner-up Chris Lundy of Bloomsburg.

LHU compiled 45 points, edging Susquehanna for the title, the Crusaders with 49. Clarion was third with 60, followed by the Huskies with 78.

Lock Haven had another top five finisher in Andy Shearer who placed third with a time of 25:43. Jason Rinaldi of SU was fourth in 25:50 and Clarion's Jim Snyder rounded out the top five with a time of 25:55.

Also figuring in the Bald Eagle team scoring were: Dan Sheredy, 11th, 26:43; Craig Yakscoe, 14th, 27:01, and Brad Seth, 16th, 27:24.

LHU is scheduled to face the Alumni squad on Saturday at 2:15 p.m. as part of the Homecoming festivities. On Wednesday Oct. 16, the Eagle runners will host Juniata in a 3 o'clock meet.

LHU Booters Struggle to a Tie

It was a windy and cold afternoon when the Mountaineers came into town, but the Lock Haven booters were ready to do battle.

The Division 1 Mountaineers of West Virginia University (2-6) came with hopes of victory, but were held to a stalemate and final score of 0-0 through two periods of 10 minute overtime.

During a Lock Haven controlled first half, three shots and two corner kicks were taken on WVU goalie Brian Hartlove.

Coach Lenny Long told his team that the key to the game was "pressure" and he told this theory to each player as they went on to the field.

With the early substitutions of Eric Wilhelm and Martin Dahl, coach Long again said "give us a strong 10 minutes and stay with them."

The second half began with the Mountaineers taking control. Long runs and quick shots came from WVU forwards Thierno Niang and Joe Trendler, but to no avail.

It was during the middle of the second period when Lock Haven goalie Rob Cocker started to shine. Cocker was tested five times, including a deflected shot off of a corner kick which he knocked away.

Also during the second period, WVU players were issued two yellow cards and one red card causing the ejection of Midfielder Omid Nazami. The red card forced WVU to play shorthanded throughout the rest of the game.

When the 90 minutes were completed, a decision to play two ten minute overtimes was agreed upon by both coaches and the officials.

It wasn't until the second of the two overtime periods that excitement peaked.

A corner kick was attempted by West Virginia and a direct shot was heading to the corner of the goal. Lock Haven goalie Rob Cocker dove across the goal line, but was unable to reach the ball. Suddenly, defenseman Mike Parkman came and deflected the ball out of the goal.

The game ended in a scoreless tie. West Virginia coach John McGrath was quoted as saying, "Playing here is always a rough match, and today was no different."

One final note on the game, Senior Terry Flynn and Sophomore Rob Eaton will not see action against Cortland. Flynn because of a red card incidence and Eaton because of injury.

The Lock Haven University soccer team faced Cortland State last night at 7 p.m., but the final score was not available at presstime.

Lock Haven's next game will be at home against Shippensburg Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Lady' CC Team Finishes Second at Bloomsburg

The Lock Haven University women's cross country went 2-1 Saturday morning in the annual Bloomsburg Invitational.

The womens competition was scored like a four-way dual meet instead of an invitational.

Leroy Straley's Lady Eagle runners defeated Clarion, 15-50 and host Bloomsburg 25-30, but suffered a 22-39 defeat to Millersville. It was the lady runners first loss of the year.

Nancy Tang-Yuk of Millersville won the event in 18:08, followed by Lock Haven junior Sue Kutz in 18:27. Laura Endress of Millersville was third in 18:45, with Lock Haven's Pam Noll fourth with a time of 18:59. Janine Franko was Bloomsburg's top finisher placing sixth in 19:12.

Three other Lady Eagle runners figuring in the team scoring were: Kathy Staib, 14th, 19:53; Lisa Bergin, 17th, 20:22, and Jackie Widmann, 20th, 20:35.

The LHU women are currently 5-1 overall and will compete against the Alumni team Saturday at 2:15 p.m. as a part of the Homecoming festivities.

Hockey Team Splits Games

Lock Haven University women's field hockey team split its two games this weekend at Columbus Ohio.

They topped host Ohio State by a 2-1 score on Saturday before losing to the nation's No. 3 ranked team, the University of Iowa, by a score of 4-0 on Sunday morning.

Iowa, whose record now stands at 8-2-1, also handed Ohio State a 3-0 loss.

The 1-1 record this weekend sets Lock Haven's season log at 6-3.

The Lady Eagles will host Lafayette today, with the game scheduled to start at 4 p.m.

In the 2-1 win over the Lady Buckeyes, Lock Haven's first score was by junior Lisa Coppock, with Wendy Heiges on the assist with 5:03 remaining in the first half.

LHU goalie Lori Sannella had seven saves, OSU's Kim Willis coming up with eight.

Coach Taylor said, "We took a while to adjust to the artificial turf, but I think we made the adjustment well."

"This was a good game to have first before we played Iowa," she added.

Despite showing a lopsided 43-4 advantage in shots on goal, Iowa had trouble putting the ball in the net against the tough Lady Eagle defense.

The team was lead by goalie Lori Sannella, who stopped 21 Hawkeye shots.

"Lori Sannella played well, and Kim Hasson was very good as the rusher on their penalty corner. They earned every goal that they got," she added.

Shakespeare Returns to LHU with TWELFTH NIGHT

The Student Cooperative Cultural Affairs Committee at Lock Haven University will present the National Players 37th annual touring company.

On Thursday, Oct. 10, the company will present a Shakespeare romantic comedy, TWELFTH NIGHT, on the LHU campus.

The National Players are the longest running theatrical touring company in America.

TWELFTH NIGHT has consistently been among the most popular of Shakespeare's comedies, featuring the poetry of a love story, good humor of mistaken identities, and the intrigue of romantic affairs.

In this writing, Shakespeare brings to life a group of unforgettable characters, and uses the plot to display both their good and bad qualities. Intrigue and happiness are mixed to interact with the romantic events of love-sick, silly aristocrats.

The presentation will be in the theatre of the Sloan Fine Arts Center, beginning at 8 p.m.

Admission is free to students with a college ID, $2.50 for adults, and $1 for children. Tickets are available in advance in the PUB.

Viola (Denise Balthrop), disguised as a young man, receives manly advice from Duke Orsino (Robert Graham) on Courtship.

LHU Student Is Teaching Continuing Education Class

A regular course offered by Lock Haven University's Continuing Education Series is being taught with a new twist this year.

Aquacise, a popular water aerobics class, will be taught by Ave Gaffney, an LHU student.

She is a senior, majoring in secondary education/biology.

The West Chester, PA, native became interested in the conditioning program in the spring semester of 1984, when she enrolled in the separate class offered to regular students.

A scheduling conflict with another course, however, did not allow her to participate in all the class periods. In order to make up the time, she was asked by Dr. Lucienne DeWette to help her instruct the course for continuing education students.

Gaffney showed a strong interest in instructing the students, rather than being one, and aided DeWette in course instruction during both the fall and spring semesters last year.

This fall she takes on the role by herself.

"I'm really looking forward to this year's class," she said. "We have had fairly good turnouts in the past, and I would like to see this semester's group be filled."

The Aquacise class is a form of aerobic exercising, but allows for little chance of injury because of the "water cushion."

The exercises are set to music and offer cardiovascular conditioning and general muscle toning throughout the body.

West Germany Exchange in the Works

Lock Haven University may soon have an exchange program with a university in West Germany.

Dr. Craig Dean Willis, President of Lock Haven University, and John Johnston, Acting Director of International Education met with Professor Dr. Peter Freese, Vice President on Academic Affairs at Paderborn University.

Freese recently spent several days at LHU learning about the university and discussing the possibility of an exchange program.

"I hope we will be able to negotiate a student and staff exchange," Freese stated. "The students who come to our university must be fluent in German so we may begin with a small exchange. As more Lock Haven University students become fluent in German, the exchange can grow."

The University of Paderborn was founded originally in 1614 and revived about 12 years ago after being dormant during the 20th century.

Approximately 13,000 students attend classes on the four campuses.

"We are a strong research university," Freese noted, "with ties to industry in the area."

The university offers programs in economics, engineering, computer science, agriculture, natural science, and the humanities.

In addition to his administrative work, Freese is also a faculty member in the American Studies Department and author of 18 textbooks on American Studies.
