President hosts open forum

By Eric Hearn
Staff Reporter

Student concerns, including the registration system and living arrangements in the dorms, were included in an open forum Thursday night in High Hall.

Lock Haven University President Craig Dean Willis was the featured speaker, in addition to other administrators.

The administrators included in the discussion were Vice President of Administrative Affairs and Development, Dr. Dean Phelps, Dean of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Elsa Gomez, and Associate Dean of Students, Tim Susick.

Also in attendance were Dean of Students, Dr. Linda Koch, Director of Public Affairs, Rebecca Rosser, Associate Dean of International Studies, Jack Johnston, and Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs, Dr. Ronald Woodbury.

Student Cooperative Council executive board members and senators were included in those in attendance.

In addressing the grievances of students having problems with the new registration system, Willis turned the questions to Woodbury, the committee chairman in charge of the new system.

When asked what he planned to do about the student unhappiness with the system, Woodbury said, "We're going ahead, but we are not blinded. We know that things can go wrong."

However, Woodbury said that by using the University computer, the student demand for every class will be known.

He said, "This will aid in getting students classes that they need." Woodbury also stated that the old drop-add system will basically be the same.

Also pointing out a good thing about the new registration system, Willis said that there has been a significant increase in faculty and student interaction.

Although disappointment with the new system has been expressed by many students, about ninety percent of the student body has registered with their advisor and will comply with the new system, according to Woodbury.

Woodbury said that if a person failed to register they would most likely be unsuccessful in the drop-add arena, as course selections would be limited.

The letter sent to students, informing them that it would be assumed they were not returning next semester if they failed to register, was called a "scare tactic" by SCC President Kevin McNamara.

McNamara also said he was disappointed in the way the letter, sent from Woodbury's office, was written.

In responding to the comments made by McNamara, Willis said "there was no intent to scare anyone into registering."

In addressing the problem of students living in study lounges, Willis turned the question over to Susick.

Susick said that there are only 36 male students still in the lounges, and rooms will be found for them.

Rosser addressed the issue of off-campus students requesting the use of campus laundry facilities and said that an agreement is being worked on, and "hopefully it will be worked out soon."

Lecture to discuss Alzheimer's

By David C. Smeal
Staff Reporter

Alzheimer's disease, an illness that causes memory loss in elderly people, affects two to three million Americans and is expected to triple in the next 50 years.

"The elderly are mainly affected by the disease. However, it usually begins at a young age and continues to worsen as the body grows older," said Darla Conway, a social worker and member of the Bi-County Office of the Aging.

Conway will be speaking this evening at 7 p.m. in Ulmer Planetarium at a program entitled "Understanding and Coping with Alzheimer's Disease."

Alzheimer's disease results in memory loss. The people who have this disease lose the ability to realize they have an illness. They have many fears and, as the brain continues to deteriorate, these people fail to recognize that a problem exists at all.

Alzheimer's disease is progressive and irreversible and has no known cause, cure, or effective treatment.

Treating the symptoms, such as anger or depression, can make the disease more tolerable for the patient and the family.

SAC reviews fundraising policy

By John P. Elder
Staff Reporter

Campus organizations that sponsor fundraisers without approval from the Student Appropriations Committee (SAC) risk losing Student Cooperative Council (SCC) funding, according to SCC treasurer Matt VanLokeren.

At last Tuesday's SCC executive meeting, VanLokeren suggested that club treasurers should read the SCC policy and become aware that they are accountable to the SCC.

According to VanLokeren, groups that hold fundraisers without SCC approval will initially receive a warning. Additionally, unapproved fundraisers can place the group's SCC funding in jeopardy and can result in judicial action.

VanLokeren said that any organization that is recognized by either the University or the SCC is eligible to hold a fundraiser, but for the past few years, some groups have not gained SCC approval before conducting their money making events.

"I've been finding that a lot of fundraisers are taking place without our (SCC) approval," said VanLokeren.

In order to receive SCC approval, VanLokeren said that an organization must apply at least one week before the fundraiser is to take place. Applications can be obtained at VanLokeren's office.

Once the application is received, it is reviewed by the four SAC senators and President Kevin McNamara at the weekly SCC meeting. The request is then either approved or rejected.

VanLokeren noted that the SCC reserves the right to reject any fundraiser that might compete with the University bookstore or another scheduled fundraiser.

According to VanLokeren, the reason groups need approval to conduct fundraisers is to prevent problems that might arise if two groups would have similar fundraisers at the same time.

"There have been a few instances where people have called and said that another organization on campus was having a similar fundraiser," said VanLokeren. "Unless the organizations get our approval, there is no way we can keep that from happening."

Booters earn second consecutive PSAC Championship

By Bill Hunter
Editor-in-Chief

It takes a lot of guts, extra effort, and even a little luck to knock off a team ranked seventh in the nation. But, the Bald Eagles had all that and more Sunday afternoon as they beat the Warriors of East Stroudsburg 2-0, and nailed down their second consecutive PSAC Championship.

Besides the state trophy, the team also received an automatic berth into the NCAA Division II Tournament.

In a random drawing for an opponent, the Haven was matched up with none other than East Stroudsburg. The game will be played on McCollum Field this Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Coming into Sunday's game, the Warriors tried to put last year's 2-1 PSAC Championship loss to LHU behind them.

Playing a very physical, end to end match, each team tested the other's strengths and weaknesses early on.

With 12 minutes to go in the first half Tibor (Tibby) Kobolak drove the ball between two ESU defenders, putting him in a one on one situation with second string goalie John Miele (ESU's starting keeper is out for the season with a broken hand).

Miele proved to be up to the challenge though as he forced Kobolak off center of the net, giving his defenders enough time to recover and knock the ball out of play.

On the ensuing corner kick, taken by senior co-captain Rob Eaton, the ball appeared to be curving toward the net, but was blasted out by the Warrior defenders.

"When you make it to this level, teams don't get many chances to score," said Eagle Head Coach Lenny Long. "There is a mutual respect for all the teams now."

The first half ended scoreless, but the Warriors came out with a charge to begin the second half.

A quick corner pass by Fenstermacher set up Wilson for a shot directly on goal. Haven goalie Warren Westcoat dove for the ball, but it was out of reach. Recognizing the situation, Craig Shale broke off his coverage and deflected the sure goal out of danger.

Only minutes later LHU put on their own offensive show.

As Meile attempted to make a save on a crossing pass, Lock Haven forward Roy Mehl challenged him for the ball. The collision left both players on the ground and forced the injury substitution of the ESU goalkeeper.

With 25:21 the Haven finally got their offense in sync.

A corner kick taken by Eaton sailed over the Warrior defense and to the edge of the 18 yard box. Awaiting the pass was Andrew Monteith, who headed the ball past third string goalie Lou Sudholz for the score.

"We've been practicing that play all week and couldn't get it right," said Monteith. "I'm glad we picked that time to get it all together."

"I thought we had the momentum at the time, but losing our keeper really hurt us," said ESU Head Coach Jerry Sheska. "It's hard to play with a third string goal keeper."

Five minutes later the Haven put the game out of reach when a shot taken on a direct kick was handled by a defender, causing a penalty kick.

Sudholz, trying to guess where the shot would be, dove right, but Eaton blasted the ball low and to the left for the goal.

The Bald Eagles took 13 shots in the game, while ESU claimed 11.

Following the game an award ceremony and "Here We Go Haven" chant-a-thon were held.

The Warriors must face Penn State (a rescheduled game) Wednesday night before returning here Sunday.

Hunter runs for two TD's in 19-6 victory

By Bill Alexander
Sports Editor

It took them seven weeks, but the Bald Eagles finally got their second win on the board as they defeated the Wolves of Cheyney 19-6 on Saturday.

"I am very, very happy for the win," said Head Coach Tom Jones. "These kids really deserved a win. We played sloppily at times and had way to many penalties, but we did win the game, and that is what you're looking for."

Lock Haven took the lead mid-way through the first quarter as QB Rich Hunter capped a 12 play, 69 yard drive on a one yard plunge. Placekicker Mark Mears took a bad snap from center and attempted a pass for two points. The pass was intercepted by Cheyney's Gerone Powell, but the Eagles led 6-0.

The Wolves tied the score at 6-6 as QB Andre Baylor connected with Brian Christian on a 35 yard TD pass. Strong Safety Dave Laudeman blocked Webster's extra point kick with 18 seconds left in the first half.

The Bald Eagles took what looked to be the lead on their opening drive of the second half, but a six yard score from Hunter to Paul McMullen was called back on off-setting penalties. Mears' attempted a 25 yard field goal on 4th down, but missed wide to the right.

Lock Haven got the ball right back as linebacker Todd Stuter intercepted a Baylor pass and returned it 24 yards to the Cheyney 31.

The Haven scored the go-ahead touchdown minutes later as Hunter hit senior John Klacik for a 15 yard TD. Hunter's pass for two points fell incomplete, and the Eagles led 12-6.

Hunter put the game on ice halfway through the fourth quarter as he finished an eight play, 64 yard drive on a four yard TD run.

Cheyney had two chances to cut into the Eagle lead in the fourth, but an incomplete pass on fourth down, and a fumble deep in Lock Haven territory sealed Cheyney's fate.

The victory raises Lock Haven's record to 2-8 and the Wolves finish the 1987 season with an identical 2-8 record.

The 1987 season finale is next Saturday as the Bald Eagles travel to Mansfield. Kick-off is slated for 1 p.m.

Fleming races to a spot at NCAA meet

By Merritt La Porta
Sports Reporter

Peter Fleming turned in a sparkling performance on Saturday as the men's and women's cross country teams competed in the NCAA East Regional meet held at Bryant College in Smithfield, Rhode Island.

Fleming led the men's team to sixteenth place overall, and he captured thirteenth place individually with a time of 32:08. By finishing thirteenth, Fleming has qualified for the NCAA Division II National meet to be held at the University of Southern Indiana on November 21.

"I'm extremely happy with Peter's performance," said Head Coach Kurt Smith. "His progress from the conference meet to the regional meet was outstanding considering he missed a lot of regular season meets due to an injury."

Fleming will be one of four runners to represent the East in the National meet.

Brad Seth ran second for LHU, John Widl, third, Marc Phillips, fourth, Roy Osborne, fifth, Scott Sweitzer, sixth, and Jamie Darling, seventh.

"The whole team ran very well considering our second runner, Greg MacGowan, was in the hospital with a 105 degree temperature, and John (Widl) injured his foot at the three mile mark and had to hobble across the finish line," said Smith. "Nineteenth out of 31 teams is pretty good."

Meanwhile, the women's team had to compete without top runner Debbie Valansky, who sat out the race due to a bad cold.

"She tried to warm up, but she had a very bad cough, and her injured leg was bothering her again, so she just couldn't make it," said Head Coach Leroy Straley.

The loss of Valansky showed as the women finished sixteenth out of twenty-one teams.

Jill Baumgartner was the first Haven runner to cross the line, finishing sixty-fourth overall with a time of 20:16, six seconds ahead of teammate JoAnne Pautz. Lorie Jamison finished seventy fifth in 20:32, and Julie Grasser finished 87th with a time of 21:09.

"Debbie's (Valansky) absence did hurt the team, as did the fact that some of the weaker teams in our conference who we could have beaten didn't show up," said Straley. "A lot of good teams competed against us, so I'm happy with our sixteenth place finish."

Workshop stresses communication

By Phillipe Vannucci
Staff Reporter

Expressing what is wanted out of a relationship will be the topic of the fourth and final discussion in the University's Wellness series.

"O.K. - Now let's talk," a workshop geared toward improving communication skills in relationships, will be held November 16 in Woolridge Hall lounge at 7 p.m.

Lynne Herrmann, who is a registered nurse at the Family Planning Clinic in Lock Haven, will be the program's speaker.

Lori Sikorskis, who also works at the Family Planning Clinic in Lock Haven, will assist Herrmann in the presentation.

"The discussion will enable students to discuss among themselves the various ways to communicate their wants and needs in a relationship," said Herrmann.

A film by Dr. Jesse Potter on communicating will also be shown. Discussion activities will follow the film.

This is the last workshop of a four part series that deals with various sexual health issues.

The four workshops were sponsored by the Wellness Committee, Family Planning, and the Clinton County Women's Center.

The first topic in the workshop series was "Touch first, Talk later."

The second and third workshops discussed acquaintance rape and AIDS.
