

Dr. Warner Honored

Dr. Gilmore Warner, retired head librarian of Lock Haven State College, was presented the Pioneer Award by the Pennsylvania Learning Resources Association in recognition of his more than 20 years of service to the association at their annual convention in Lancaster on November 28 to December 1.

The Pioneer Award is presented annually to an association member having made outstanding contributions in the field of audio-visual education and technology. Dr. Warner retired from the faculty of LHS in May 1970 after having served as head librarian since 1949.

Tien Lu Chu, audio-visual librarian at the college, introduced Dr. Warner at the presentation ceremony to the more than 300 media specialists attending the convention.

A special program on "Video Tape Recording Maintenance for Classroom Teachers" was presented by Arthur Reardon, Leo Ritter, and Donald Ludlow of the college's Learning Resources Department. Basic information was given on correct choice of microphone, cleaning of tape heads, and setting up a video-tape recorder in the classroom.

PIRG Formed

The Penna. Assn. of College and University Student Governments announced Monday unanimous approval of formation of the first Pa. Public Interest Research Group, fashioned at the request and on guidelines of consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

The group met at Harrisburg Area Community College over the weekend in their first major student body leader meeting since the Association's founding earlier this year.

State Chairman Stephen R. Reed stated that a petition drive on major campuses in the state will start almost immediately to gather student body support before approaching Boards of Trustees for permission to raise student activities fees to pay for the new venture.

He said the plan is working very successfully in Minnesota and that new PIRG's are starting in Oregon, Wisconsin and Vermont. "The petition specifically asks for an increase in student activities fees for this purpose in the amount of two dollars per semester to any student. If a majority of students seek a refund, the participation campus, which would have had to give permission for this project to begin with, immediately drops from the PIRG program."

Reed announced formation of a PIRG Organizing Committee which will develop plans for three PIRG's in the three major regions of the state; the committee will then break into regional organizing groups.

The Committee has set up a Speaker's Bureau of student leaders as well as Nader's Washington staff. Government and public leaders will be asked to endorse the program and some may well be speaking statewide in support of the new venture designed to seek action on consumer, environmental and other major issues in the state.

A statewide campaign and campus education program starts this month.

ACE Sets Programs

This year the Association for Childhood Education at Lock Haven State has set up a program involving the Headstart and Follow-Through project in Lock Haven.

At a meeting in October, ACE members were invited to sign up as volunteers to work with young children at Headstart. This program gives students chances to see and become involved in Headstart and Follow-Through classes. The student also comes in contact with the same classroom experiences the regular teacher encounters.

In Follow-Through, which is designed to do just as its name implies, follow Headstart, there are many activities for the young students. They become involved in art projects, outdoor play periods, storytelling hour, and exploratory periods where the children are free to use any of the materials found in the classroom. There are also chances to see prescription work, which involves the children using their own speed to accomplish certain tasks.

The ACE volunteers are: Mary Jo Spagnolo, Barb Mull, and Rosemary Biggerstaff. Anyone interested in involunteering should contact Headstart at 748-5170 or visit the center which is located at 110 East Bald Eagle Street in Lock Haven.

CEC Visits Selingsgrove

On Wednesday, November 17, a group of 61 students interested in the mentally retarded, accompanied Mr. Peter R. Matthews, advisor of the Council for Exceptional Children (C.E.C.), to Selingsgrove State School and Hospital.

The day-long tour included a visit to the school, which contains vocational classes for educable and trainable, a video tape program on behavioral modification, a slide and discussion presentation of the institution, a visit to the various wards in the hospital and a look at the occupational therapy section. In addition, the LHS students were able to visit and talk with many of the students and patients at Selingsgrove.

The trip was sponsored by the C.E.C. which has recently been funded by the Student Cooperative Council. In the spring another tour will be arranged to one of the other eight institutions for the mentally retarded in Pennsylvania.

Exchange Students To Travel

Nottingham students will have a busy holiday season. Trips to Washington, D.C. and New York City have been planned and all of the students will be celebrating Christmas with a local family.

Six of the English students will be accompanying Dr. Michael Peplow to Washington on December 11-12. They will visit the National Art Gallery, Congress, Arlington Cemetery, the Lincoln Memorial, and the Smithsonian.

The trip to New York City, scheduled for December 16-18, involves 13 Nottingham students and members of the faculty and English Club. Accompanied by Dr. Peplow and Dr. William Reich the group will see "Lenny", the smash Broadway play, visit the United Nations, tour Greenwich Village, participate in a seminar on American education, and tour Rockefeller Center, The Metropolitan and other attractions.

Christmas festivities will be celebrated with families here in Lock Haven. Many of the students will spend part of their vacation traveling, some to places as far away as New England and Canada. Families participating in the Host Family Program include James Dolan, Robert Long, Mrs. Elizabeth Reinwald, Robert O'Donnell, John Worgan, Clayton Snare, Mrs. Kenneth Mapstone, Mrs. Kenneth Youngblood, Dean Wagner, James Woodward, Mrs. Thelma Caris, Mrs. Janet Dorey, Ira Masemore, Mrs. John Schenck, and Mrs. John Akeley.

Prof. Gene Lundy, who arranged the Host Family Program, wishes to express his deep appreciation to the Host Families of Lock Haven for their participation.

Grateful To Profs

"Things that were that I am attempting to revision and comment on anew through the medium of poetry."

This is the essence of the poetry by Joseph Levandoski which he will read at 8:15 tomorrow night in the Eagle Wing. His reading will be a culmination of 2½ years of poetry writing and feels it is "impressions of my consciousness." What he feels he is aiming at is a recreation of events by shaping these events into and by language and to do it as precisely as possible.

Levandowski has stated that due credit for his achievements is due to Larry Lebin, Associate Professor of English at LHS. "He has opened doors long enough for me to see the merit of seeing. Examples of help are poets that have been on campus." He believes that Lebin, through the English Club, has reassured him that keeping at work on his poetry was worth something. The reassurance that he has given to him and others has contributed to the completion of much creative writing.

"In reference to our poetic development specifically I owe a debt of thanks not only to Lebin but most of the English professors that I have had," concludes Levandoski.

Career Conference Relevant

Of what importance is an Industrial Conference to the students of Lock Haven State? They are basically education majors with a sprinkling of Liberal Arts students, not Business or Engineering specialists.

Yet, most students here fail to realize that there are many positions in industry for a person having a degree in Liberal Arts or Education. It is not a closed field. Persons majoring in anthropology, history or mathematics could assume a position in the areas of manufacturing, marketing or personnel and industrial relations.

On Thursday, December 9, the third seminar of the Career Seminar Series will be held in Ulmer Planetarium at 1 p.m. It will deal with industrial careers. The speakers, Robert P. Owens, a representative of Piper Aircraft, and Dr. Edgar Renfrew from American Airline, have a broad knowledge of possible positions in industry and will discuss these possibilities. They will also answer any questions that students may have. Everyone, male or female, freshmen through seniors, is invited to the conference and learn more about a career in the field of industry.

Chi Alpha Active

At its regular weekly meeting last Thursday night, the Chi Alpha fellowship planned many activities during the upcoming month. Most of the evening was devoted to a discussion on how to implement some of the principles which were learned at a recent Christian Witness Institute.

The group plans to distribute tracts in Bentley Hall during lunch hours. Members will be on hand to answer any questions regarding the claims of Christ. Also, during the week of December 13, the group will be singing Christmas carols in Bentley Hall lounge from 5-6 p.m. All students are invited to join in.

A visit to the Susque-Vie home is also planned. Members hope to take gifts and have an evening of fellowship with the residents of the home. The exact date will be arranged with the home administrator.

The highlight of the month will be a program featuring Mr. Ted Hayse from Penn State. The event is scheduled for December 16 at 7:30 p.m. in Bentley Hall lounge. Hayse is the former body guard for H. Rap Brown before devoting his life to Christ. He is now visiting various college campuses relating the secrets of his new way of life. All students and faculty members are invited to the program.

Reverting back to the old program isn't the answer. Certainly a few improvements could be made—more lines in the Phys. Ed. section and more personnel to staff them. Lastly, blame should not be placed on the administration—this is an experimental system and their objectives are the same as the students—i.e. freedom to choose courses, times, and professors. Doug Dows—Junior—Phys. Ed.

I don't know what's going on. There should be more days to register. Maybe I won't be able to get any courses for next semester. - Bernadette DeAngelis—Freshman—Sec. Ed. French.

If they would've scheduled Sophomores in the morning, and freshmen in the afternoon, it might have been better. They should consider a registration program such as Slippery Rock's advisor-student relations. - Tom Gibson—Sophomore—Social Science.

It's lousy. A lot of people can't get the courses they want. They should go back to picking courses where you just pick courses and the computer schedules profs and times. - Pam Bolden—Sophomore Lib. Arts Humanities.

The Bird Sheet

Reflections On Registration :

Students

Back to the Computer! - Ken Hoke

It's complete chaos, I was here from 6:45 a.m. to 12 noon! Phys. Ed. should have more than one desk—maybe one for men, women, book courses, athletic courses and student teaching. - Jane Aikens—Sophomore—Phys. Ed.

You should be able to have any courses you want. It should be planned better—maybe on a couple of days or have better organization. - Jim Doster—Freshman—Phys. Ed.

The thing I don't understand is why do we pre-register? I thought pre-registration was to get the amount of people who want to take courses. Now we can't get the courses we pre-registered for. - Cathy Stein—Sophomore—Phys. Ed.

It's a lot more confusing and frustrating than last Spring's. This is mainly because of the location. I don't like only having two days—a lot of Sophomores got shafted. Maybe each class should have a day to register. And there should be entrances and exits. - Gary Robinson—Sophomore—Lib. Arts Humanities.

Soule Sidelined

Lock Haven State basketball was dealt a severe blow Monday night when Clyde Soule, star 6-foot-9 freshman forward, suffered a fractured wrist during the second half of the LHS-Ithaca College game.

Soule will be lost to the Eagles for six to eight weeks according to head coach James Christopher. The frosh cager had averaged 13.5 points in the first two games and had a 8.5 rebound average.

At the time of Soule's injury LHS had surprised heavily favored Ithaca by taking a 41-32 halftime lead and had battled the Bombers on even terms through most of the second half.

A late game surge led by Dave Hollowell, who scored 39 points with 26 in the second half, gave Ithaca (3-1) a hard earned 75-69 victory. Bud Brennen, senior, scored 23 points to top LHS.

The Eagles, now 1-2 on the season, opened the 1971-72 campaign with an impressive 90-77 win over tough Mercyhurst College. Russ Paulin, 6-foot-7 sophomore led the way with 26 points.

On Saturday Lock Haven dropped an 85-82 overtime contest to Pennsylvania Conference Western Division opponent, Edinboro State. The game was played before probably the largest crowd to ever see a cage game in Thomas Field House on the Lock Haven campus.

John Marzlak, super 5-11 junior playmaker guard, was high scorer for the Eagles with 20 points, during the second half the Aliquippa native went 11-for-11 at the foul line.

LHS now has four games in the next eight days. York College invades the "House of Noise" on Wednesday. The Eagles then hit the road for three straight games: Dec. 11, at Pitt of Johnstown; Dec. 13, at California State, and Dec. 15, at Clarion State.

Copeland Cops MVP

Sophomore Don Copeland has been voted "Most Valuable Soccer Player" by his teammates for the 1971 season, it has been announced by Coach Karl T. Herrmann.

Copeland is the first player in the history of the sport at LHS to receive the honor for two straight seasons. Last year he was the first freshman to ever receive this award.

Copeland has been called the best player on a good team. The Eagles finished the season 8-3-4. They were named Co-Champions of the Pennsylvania Conference this season after a 0-0 tie with Shippensburg.

Vulcano's Vulcans Invade

Lock Haven State opens its home wrestling schedule this weekend with back-to-back meets with California State College and the University of Massachusetts.

California is coached by Frank Vulcano, former three-time Pa. Conference Champion at LHS. Last year the Vulcans have the Eagles quite a battle before bowing, 20-13.

Two of the California winners were Randy Haught (167) and Dennis Daley (177). Both will be in the Vulcans Lineup on Friday with match time set for 8 p.m. A capacity crowd of 2,500 is expected.

Saturday night the Massachusetts grapplers coached by Homer Barr invade the "House of Noise". Barr is a former Penn State standout wrestler and had a highly successful coaching tenure at State College High School. He has done a tremendous job at Massachusetts and his matmen won the New England Conference Tournament championship last year.

Last Saturday the young Eagle wrestlers of Coach Dr. Ken Cox lost to Eastern wrestling power Lehigh University, 28-7 after taking a 7-0 lead following the first two bouts.

Winning for the Eagles were senior co-captains Jim Rupp (118) and Don Fay (126). Rupp topped Marty Lynn, 10-4 and Fay, New York state champ from Island Trees High School, beat Randy Biggs, 20-5.

Despite losing to Eastern Champion Tom Hutchinson, of Lehigh 13-9, at 190 pounds, freshman Dave Wasson looked impressive in his varsity debut for LHS. Wasson tips the scales at 165 pounds.
