Christmas Pageant To Be Collaboration

Boxing Season Will Open With Seven Veterans

Buzzell Not Included in Line-Up; Three Meets Already Scheduled; Two Open

With seven of the eight regulars on the 1937 boxing team back in school, Lock Haven Teachers College expects to have another team worthy of carrying the Maroon and Gray colors through the third ring season.

Only Ed Kolner, heavyweight boxer, is missing from the ranks as the Teachers prepare for a five-match schedule which opens Friday, Jan. 14, with Bucknell at Lewisburg.

There is some question whether Joe Buzzell, captain last season, will be on the team again. Although the veteran bantam from Old Forge is eligible, he finds his down-town job interfering with his practice periods.

Sororities Hold Annual Dance at Clubhouse

Tri-Sigma, Alpha Sigma Tau, Pi Kappa Sigma Attend Annual Social Event

Fifty couples danced to the music of Eddie Schadt and his orchestra at the Pan-Hellenic dance Saturday, December 11, in the Silk Mill Club House. The dance was sponsored by the three sororities on the campus: Sigma Sigma Sigma, Pi Kappa Sigma and Alpha Sigma Tau. Miss Martha Halbrook, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, received with the presidents of the sororities, Miss Jean Kunes, Miss Helen Eyerly and Miss Doris Yarrison and Miss Edna Bottorff, adviser to Pan-Hellenic. Guests who were in the receiving line were John Kruper, Wayne Myers, Richard Eyer and George Freely.

The various committees responsible for the success of the dance were:

Decorations: Doris Yarrison, chairman; Sara Sykes, Jane Mervine, Louise Selleck, Vera Lyons, Marie Kraemer, Jeanette Groul, Marguerite McCollum, Helen Eyerly and Ruth Datesman.

Refreshments: J. W. Freed, chairman; Doris Winand; Ruth Baughman and Georgine Gottschall.

Clean-up: Olga Moravec, chairman; Geraldine Mertz, Caroline Brown, Anna Banzhaf and Jean Bortel.

Musical and Dramatic Depts. To Present Van Dyke's "Other Wise Man"

Preparations are now nearing completion for the presentation of the annual Christmas production, which this year is a pageantization of "The Other Wise Man." This picturesque pageant is being produced under the joint supervision of Miss Cordelia Brong, of the Dramatic department, and Miss Grace Ullemeyer, of the Music department.

The pageantization of the story has been built upon the plan used by the Passion Play at Oberammergau, with two stages, inner and outer. The outer stage will carry the main story; Henry Vandyl's "The Story of the Other Wise Man" while the inner stage will reveal tableaux depicting the story of the birth of Christ. The story centers about a Magian, Artaban by name, who spends his life in a long and arduous search for Christ, the King.

Real dramatic talent has been found in the speech classes and will be seen in the production.

Harrie "Biggles" in the Prologue, will tell "The Story of the Other Wise Man," while the Reader, Charlotte Edwards, will carry the Christmas story between episodes and tableaux. Eugene McCraemer (taban, the central figure in the play) will portray the major role of Artaban. Much favorable comment has been made on his excellent dramatic ability. Other parts in the pageant are relatively small and are handled by students of the speech classes.

The play is being produced by more than a hundred members of the combined dramatic and music departments. The freshman speech classes will supply the acting and tableau features; the Dramatic Club will take care of the staging and costumes, and the music department will render the musical features of the play. The crew headed by William McGarry (Continued on page 2)

Children Entertained By Y Christmas Party

Wednesday evening, the "Y" groups held a Christmas party for children from Lock Haven and the Children's Home. They were led in play by students, and entertained with a rope climbing exhibit by Roman Peo.

While they sat in a half-circle Joseph Lucas read "The Night Before Christmas." The last line was the signal for Santa Claus, who was impersonated by Joe Sarafinski, who appears from the balcony with a bagful of gifts which he distributed to an enthusiastic crowd of admirers.

After their playing with the toys they received, members of the Y. W. C. A. served them refreshments and candy. They were returned to their homes by Mr. Ulmer and Mr. Parsons.

Christmas Meeting of English Club Features Program

Dickens' Christmas Carol is Acted Impromptu; Readings by Dr. North, Miss Fleming

The English Club met on Wednesday, December 8, at the home of Miss Ruth Simon. Thirty-four members were present.

Miss Geraldine Mertz, chairman of the group, presided over the meeting, a feature of which was a short program; poetry readings were given by Miss Rita Fleming and by Dr. North, club adviser, who read Milton's "On the Morning of Christ's Nativity." Agnes Greene, Ruth Freeman and Joe Mc Nerney described the celebration of Christmas in other countries.

A dramatized version of Dickens' Christmas Carol was played by Joe Mc Nerney, Joe Poncechalek, Charles Weaver, Ruth Crowley, Caroline Brown, Alice Fredericks, Helena Slagyi and Ruth Simon. Charles Weaver won applause for the dramatic tour de force of playing Marley's Ghost and the three spirits, single-handed; this required lightning change of costume.

The evening ended with the playing of games and singing of Christmas carols. Miss Simon served refreshments with the assistance of other members.

Dr. Flowers at Clearfield
Dr. J. O. Flowers, president of the Lock Haven Teachers College, addressed the members of the Kiwanis Club at Clearfield Tuesday evening, discussing possible developments in the field of education. He advocated 14 years of public school education as a depression cure.

Campus Building Begins February, State Announces

Work on Four Buildings to Date One Year from Bids; Cost Estimated $647,000

Students of the College have had the opportunity of viewing the blue prints, showing the principal features of the proposed construction of four new buildings on the campus within the coming year.

Bids were opened at Harrisburg, February 7, 1937. Actual construction of a new auditorium, gymnasium field house, library and power plant is expected to start about February 14. The construction program is estimated to cost $647,000.

Dr. Flowers, president of the college, who has been much interested in the new building program, received the announcement from the General State Authority.

RECENT CAMPUS GUEST

Born in Maine and raised on tall ships engaged in South American and West Indian trade, she received her education at Deering High School and her professional training at the Sargent School of Physical Education. Her Bachelor's and Master's degrees she received from Teachers College Columbia University, with a major in adult education.

Her experience includes work as a playground leader, settlement worker, girls' club executive and director of recreation for the Eastern Company of Canada. She has also been a lecturer for nine years in the social science department of the University of Toronto, was formerly national field secretary of the Women's Division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation and is at present serving as the director of education and leisure-time activities for the Girls' Service League of America.

Entertains Members of Team at Country Club; Dr. Flowers, Mr. Frank O'Reilly Speak

Members of the Lock Haven State Teachers College football team were the guests of the Pig Club at the bi-monthly dinner at the Clinton Country Club Dec. 9.

Dr. John G. Flowers, president of the college, expressed the appreciation of the college for the support shown by the community to both the football team and the college. He outlined the development of the physical education department through the sports program and possible developments with the new gymnasium.

Coach J. Wynn Fredericks and Bill McCollum, who represented the squad as one of the Senior members, also spoke briefly.

Dr. David W. Thomas, vice president of the Pig Club and a strong supporter of the team and college, who was expected to preside, was called away during the program, his place being taken by Frank D. O'Reilly.

Sixty-nine were present.

College Attends Dean's Annual Tea in New Lounge

Miss Poole is Assisted By Faculty and Students at School Gathering

The newly decorated Lounge underwent its initiation when the dean of women, Miss Poole, presided at her annual tea last Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5. Mr. and Mrs. John G. Flowers and Miss Martha Halbrook were with Miss Poole in receiving the students.

At the tables, pouring tea, were Mrs. E. Stewart MacDougall, Mrs. W. Max Bossert, Mrs. A. D. Patterson and Miss Lillian Russell. The following assisted: Miss Margaret Waldron, Miss Dorothy Deach, Miss Audrey Bressler, Miss Maloise Dixon and Miss Louise McIntire. Also present were members of the women's dormitory council and the senior girls.

Since its recent thorough decoration, the lounge is now the most attractive social room on the campus. The new maple furniture will immediately make it the most popular room for normal student gatherings. A Christmas tree, brilliantly lighted, holly on the mantle-piece, windows and tables, and a large number of flowers about the room brought it in season. A large number of students and visitors passed through in the course of the afternoon.

Govt. Conference Planned for April at Harrisburg

Will Take Form of Governors' Conference, Each School Representing State

At the meeting of Regional Directors and members of the Faculty Advisory Board, held in Harrisburg Sunday, November 15, several recommendations were made to which the attention of all member schools is directed.

Tentative date for 1938 meeting—Friday to Sunday, April 22-24. This is the week-end following the meeting of the Education Forum, as well as the committee rooms in the Capitol and the Penn Harris Hotel, will be available.

Form of 1938 meeting—A Modified Governors' Conference—Each school will represent one of the states, and its delegation will be responsible for the presentation of the problems of that state which seem to call for interstate cooperation. The solutions proposed for these problems may be presented by the ones which that state really desires. The student chairman from each school will act as "governor"; other members of the delegation will act as members of his cabinet. In place of our legislative body we are expected to preside, we will have members of the "legislature of state," "attorneys general," "secretaries of highways," etc. Re-

Sophomores Dance in College Gymnasium

The annual Sophomore Hop was held Saturday, December 6, in the College Gymnasium with an attendance of over one hundred couples.

Howdy Becker and his orchestra played fanciful "swing" rhythms that brought the "Big Apple" into a prominence it had never enjoyed before this year.

The Gym was cleverly decorated by concealed lighting and suspended snow.

The receiving line was made up of Dr. and Mrs. Flowers; Miss Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Bowers; Jess Helman and Robert Sherman, the class president.

The danger moot to be feared is not invasion by ruinous armies but invasion by ruinous ideas—Buffalo News.

Mercado's Orchestra Well Received Here

A little of the color and spirit of Mexico was brought to Teachers College on Friday evening, December 3, when Mercado's Típica Mexicana Orchestra presented the second program in the Artists' Course. The program under the direction of Angel E. Mercader was given in three parts: the first, Music of various Latin-American American Countries, the next, Typical Mexican Music.

Examples of the music of Spain, Peru, Chile, Argentine, Portugal, Columbia, Cuba, and Mexico composed the first part. Senor Jose Rubit, tenor, sang the popular Chilean song, which has also become very famous in the United States, "Hay, Hay, Hay." A typical dance of Portugal was interpreted by Luis and Josefina Ojeda. "Cuban Dream," a waltz composed by the concert pianist with the orchestra, and "La Cantinera," Mexico's well-known street song composed by the musician devoted to the Latin-American countries.

"Ventanita Colonial" by Maria Teresa Lara, sung by Senor Ruy, Chaminade's "Concertino," composed by Saitis on the guitar, Saltero, and the Ojeda dancers' interpretation of "Malaguena" were highlights of the concert type music. Other features of this part of the program were the song, "Las Hijas de Cadiz," sung by Senorita Lolita Valdez, and "Fruite in C Minor," a piano solo played by the composer, Carmen Delfin, and accompanied by the orchestra.

The final portion of the program was devoted to typical Mexican music; "Mexican Fantasy," "Las Gardienas," and "Floresita," which were sung by the soprano Senorita Valdez, were heard by an appreciative audience. Josefina and Luis Ojeda danced the "Gavote," an old-fashioned Mexican dance. Senor Rubio sang "Granada" by Agustín Lara. As the finale, "Rancho Grande," a cowboy song, which has become almost universally known, was sung, danced and illustrated with special orchestral effects.

Gout Conference

commendations from these groups will go to the general session.

Preparation for the 1938 meeting—On December 1st, blanks will be sent to each school on which the student chairman or faculty adviser will fill in, in order, the school's first five preferences in regard to the state-wide conference. Each of the five must be from a different section of the country. States will be assigned in the order in which preference lists are received.

Meeting of Executive Committee—Because of the expense of transportation involved, there is also some difficulty in arranging a meeting of the Executive Committee in advance of the Conference sessions. There are some questions of policy, however, which the Executive Committee only may decide. These include rights, setting, registration fee, arranging social affairs, etc. Mail ballots could be conducted if the Executive Committee meeting were abandoned; but a meeting could be held (the date suggested was January 16) if the majority of schools favored it. Accompanying the "state preference" blanks will be a blank on which each school may say whether or not its student chairman and faculty adviser will attend an Executive Committee meeting.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Alpha Sigma Tau
The Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority has recently welcomed into its group five new members: Doris Anderson, Clare Antez, Ruth Barker, Marion Brown and Leona Fern. Immediately after the initiation services, the entire sorority enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner at the Cub Shop. Doris Yarrison, the president, was the speaker.

Sunday afternoon teas have become a regular custom with the girls. Special guests at these teas have included Miss Jessie Scott, Himes, Miss Roberta Seltzer, and the advisers, Mrs. R. S. MacDougall and Miss Edna Bortoff.

The Wednesday preceding the initiation service, Miss Bortoff was hostess to the sorority in the "L" room of her home. Delightful refreshments were especially enjoyed by the girls beside the fireplace. The Alpha Sigma Taus are looking forward to their Christmas program and party, to be held December 20.

Naturalists' Club
At its meeting the Naturalists' Club had a discussion on animal and bird life. It also made several signs that have been put up about the Nature Trail.

For their Christmas meeting the members have planned an outdoor assembly at which they will sing carols, before a visit to Mr. Ulmer's home.

French Club

The French Club held a meeting Thursday evening, December 9, in the Y room. The members enjoyed games and refreshments. The following new members were initiated: Bron Landerbach, Charles Weaver, Woodrow Rohrbach, Pete Mollura, Marshall Wisor and Mike Kolvosky.

Pi Kappa Sigma

Eleven members of Pi Kappa Sigma enjoyed student life in Mill Hall Tuesday, December 7. Afterwards, the girls enjoyed refreshments at the home of Ruth E. Bower.

The sorority enjoyed a hike and party Friday afternoon. Refreshments and a get-together at the rooms of the sorority adviser, Miss Elizabeth Faddis, followed. Chili con carne and coffee were served, and plans were discussed for future activities.

Bel Cantos

The Bel Cantos sang at the Jersey Shore High School on Friday, December 10. Features of the program included a violin solo by Harriet Figgles, and local solos by Harriet Figgles, Doris Anderson, Ruth Conn and Myrtle Andrews. The group sang Christmas and secular numbers. It also appeared at Jersey Shore last year.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The Tri-Sigma girls have been active in planning for winter following a visit by Mrs. Lucille Morrison, alumnae chairman of the Tri-Sigma National Council. They group will have a rummage sale Saturday, December 4.

Last Sunday, Jane Seltzer was hostess at a baked bean supper at the home. A theater party and an informal get-together followed.

In the evening of Mrs. Morrison's visit, a model business meeting place, Caroline Brown was in charge, and also took the work forward, with pledging and initiations Inez Dieffenbach, a pledge to the sorority, who died in November.

The residential inspector was entertained in the Dutch Inn by the three sorority advisers: Miss Geary, Miss Bortoff and Miss Faddis.

Intercollegiate Student-Faculty Conference Held

Lock Haven Representatives Hear Dr. Newton of Phila. at Gettysburg

The Intercollegiate Student-Faculty Conference, held at the Gettysburg College, December 3, 4, 5, included five delegates from Lock Haven State Teachers College, who were: Mr. L. J. Ulmer, Y. M. C. A. adviser; Michael Jusick; Joseph Sarafinski; Arthur Duckett, and Bernard Kotchin.

Among the speakers at this conference were Dr. Joseph Fort Newton of Philadelphia, who introduced the conference theme, "Sharing Christ Today." Also on the program were found Dr. H. W. A. Hanson, President of the Gettysburg College, who gave the address of welcome; Charles P. Wuestenberger from Pittsburgh, who spoke on "Sharing Christ in Industrial Affairs"; J. L. Bausher from Reading, whose subject was "Sharing Christ in International Affairs"; Rebekah S. Sheaffer, Dean of Women, Elizabethtown College, who talked on "Men and Women Relationships."

At the Conference Banquet the main address was made by Dr. Charles Newton, president of the Gettysburg College Faculty. His address was on "The Signs of the Times."

After the banquet, most of the delegates were entertained at the Women's Dormitory, where a small dance was held.

Each of the delegates who represented Lock Haven, including the author of this article, was at the most educational affair that they had attended. They also praised the college authorities for their method of conducting the large representation. Lock Haven received commendable praise for being the most distant school to send representatives.

Assembly Program

Captain W. Arthur Bamford, local home of the Salvation Army, spoke on "The Value of a Definite Aim in Life" at the assembly program Wednesday morning. Joseph Whittaker gave the Scripture reading, Miss Myrtle Andrews led in prayer and Miss Harriet Figgles played a violin solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Sylvia Seese.

T. C. Broadcast

The State Teachers College at Bloomsburg, Pa., is entering its second year in the broadcasting field with weekly programs over station WKOK, Sunbury, Pa. Last year the programs were broadcast from the studio in Sunbury. This year, however, the hour program is being broadcast from the college auditorium at 7:30 p. m., EST. It was Wednesday, about once a month an hour program is developed, beginning at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

smocks and aprons in the kindergarten room Wednesday to repaint and repair discarded toys, which will be distributed among the under-privileged children of the community.

Ed. Club

Tuesday evening, December 14, the Education Club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Rude. After the business session, which was brief because various activities claimed so many of the members, the group played cards. A Christmas business session, concluding the party, Mrs. Rude served novel refreshments.

W. A. A. Brings Athletics Leader to Lock Haven T. C. Campus

Miss Hodgkins at Sports Conference

Led Group Discussions Here; Speaks in Assembly on Value of Recreation

A vision of service in making the world a more enjoyable place for a far greater number of people through the field of recreational sports was brought to students, teachers, supervisors and others interested in athletics at a series of conferences and talks by Miss Anne F. Hodgkins, executive secretary of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, Women's Division, last Thursday.

A vital person, Miss Hodgkins presented her ideas and the ideals of the N. A. A. F. with a simplicity, humor and clarity that could not fail to convince. A word of service on the part of teachers and educational leaders, an understanding of service transmitted to the younger generation, and an equal opportunity for every person participating in high school, college or adult recreational programs, were keynotes of her talks.

Stressed Sports For All
The speaker presented sports in the light of a social need of the person, rather than as the spectacular feats of the few. She decried the thousands in the grandstands watching the performances of the few on the field.

Speaking to an audience composed of women students, high school, and college physical education supervisors and recreational leaders in the afternoon on "Problems of Athletics," Miss Hodgkins outlined some of the characteristics of a sports program that could not only be a new day, and some of the characteristics of leaders of such programs.

"We must want something better for the next generation than we had for ourselves," she said, "for they will have to face more problems than we have to face."

Good Leaders Needed
A leader of the best recreational program should be one who has solved her personal problems, is pointed out, and who brings to her teaching or leadership a broad vision which she can in turn hand down to those under her direction.

The ideal physical education program is one that is fitted to the average girl, rather than one to which the girl must herself. The girl with no great skill, or the girl with possibly a physical deformity, needs a recreational program that will give her social contacts, help her to find successes through sports as much and more than the highly-skilled and comparatively rare champion-in-the-making, was the thought Miss Hodgkins developed.

For a democratic country, our sports programs have been stressing too much the development of the few outstanding stars and neglecting the many who should be benefiting from socializing, healthful and worthwhile recreation.

Physical Examinations
The place of the outstanding athlete, the speaker said, should be in assisting her weaker sisters in mastering the necessary fundamentals of a variety of sports, rather than in training and straining for competition and prizes.

A sports program should embrace sports for the whole year, and sports of many varieties, the speaker said. She also stressed the need for complete physical examinations for sports participants and various other physical aspects of sports for women.

Miss Hodgkins urged the women present to build sports programs for women with the understanding of women's strength and weaknesses, urging them not to try to imitate men in striving for great feats of strength of speed, but rather to build programs in which woman's strength was developed. Women can make of sports a more social activity than it has been, she brought out.

Rich Philosophy
She dealt with commercialization of women's sports, against which the N. A. A. F. is strongly opposed, discussed awards, moral hygiene, motivations and a variety of other professional problems and questions, many raised by those in her audience. And throughout all her talks ran a strong vein of rich philosophy which made a firm and closely knit texture of her various themes.

The only purpose life has for the individual is that he should do something to make the world better and more humanly, was a theme which frequently recurred in her remarks. When people begin to assume responsibilities, we get to get something else said.

Has Heavy Schedule
She started her day with a breakfast at the Dutch Inn with about 40 faculty and student leaders, began her talks in the Junior High School assembly, and spoke at the college assembly and with students and student leaders during the morning.

At noon visiting teachers and supervisors from nearby towns and neighboring recreational colleges, joined with the college group at a luncheon in Miss Hodgkins' honor, following which she met informally with student and faculty groups, plus the visitors, in a conference.

An afternoon and evening general session, divided by a ten and the regular dinner period, concluded her day.

Miss Hodgkins appeared at the college under the auspices of the Women's Athletic Association directed by Miss Maloise Sturdevant Dixon, and the Sports and Varsity Clubs.

Members of the W. A. A. assisting in her entertainment included the following officers, executive council members and sports managers:

Misses Florence Duca, president; Mary Kress, vice president; Ruth Crowley, recording secretary; Martha Jane Roho, corresponding secretary; Mildred White, treasurer; executive council members, Misses Ruth Conn, June Freed, Florence Galante, Katherine Rees, Peggy Stouck.

Sports managers, Misses Madeleine Deise, Catherine Dieffenferder, Ethel Evansco, Helen Eversly, Alice Fredericks, Myra Glossner, Faye Laubscher, Olga Moravak, Jane

Stehman, Margaretta Strayer, Marjorie Woods and Frances Zerbe. Miss Caroline Brown headed the committee for the W. A. A. tea which will be served at 4.30 p. m. in the reception room at the college.

plete but three of the five meets planned have been definitely arranged, Coach Max Bossert announced. The Lock Haven ringmen meet Washington & Jefferson College Friday, Feb. 4, and will engage the City College of New York squad here Friday, Feb. 25.

Coach Bossert said that the matches are being arranged for Friday nights so that the local business people will have an opportunity to see them.

No reply has been received from Western Maryland, a team on last year's schedule, and West Virginia, another old rival, has not been contacted. Brooklyn, on the 1937 schedule, has not been rescheduled.

Several important colleges have been approached by Coach Bossert but he declared he had not definitely stated any new opponents as yet.

The Maroon mentor declared that the schedule was incomplete but the amount of the funds available was not known in time to make contracts earlier.

With only one man at home, so far, Coach Bossert hopes to find two rivals willing to come to Lock Haven. Bucknell should have been willing to do so but would not agree to anything but a home meet.

Marzaccato Out For Team
Frankie Marzaccato of Jersey Shore is again out for the 115-pound class sport. Buzzelli, if he tries out, will no doubt be the 120-pounder or possibly the lightweight.

Roy Kress of Lock Haven, last season's 135-pound boxer, is also on the squad as are the Hopkins brothers, Jim and Bill, of Six-Mile Run, 145 and 156-pound men.

Horace Thomas, 165 pounds, Blauzberg, and Bill McCollum, 175, Lock Haven, are other veterans in training.

Two freshmen are battling for Kolbe's position. Bob Wickman and Ewald Johnson, both former Cooper Township High athletes, and both members of the football squad, are leading the competition for the unlimited class.

Other boxers are: Ralph Link, Patton; Ted Horton, Williamsburg; Bill Brossler, Lock Haven; Bill Sterrett, Milroy; Bill Skerpon, Sayre, and Hobbie Mann, Clearfield.

gave Bill Hopkins the jump on him since that time, he spent most of his time on the side-lines.

Also among the graduates we have the inseparable "Mutis and Jeff"—Hoffnagle and Yobe. We'll include "Booker" and Goles as the radicals of the campus.

For faithful service, always ready to jump into the game we have the "grand old man of football," Rowland Myers. We are all positive that Rolle will make good as at the old game of coaching (or is it a game?).

Since basketball and boxing seasons are under way, we will have to start giving our "hoopsters" and "pugs" a little attention. The basketball squad seems to include all the regulars from last year: Earon, Byers, Kruper, Young and Hoffnagle, plus such dependable substitutes as Meyer, Nolan, Manning, Blankenship, Montague and Nevins.

Among the boxers, we should recognize Marzaccato, Buzzelli, Wisor, J. Hopkins and brother Bill, "Bruto" McCollum, and "Spanky" Thomas as last year's performers, who no doubt will be out there plugging away again this year!

This Play Night idea that is being sponsored by our Physical Ed. Club is being recognized as quite the thing by prominent members of the college. We all hope that they continue to be a huge success.

Since the grid season is completed, I find it fitting and proper to select an All Opponent team. In my judgment, the following players should be thus honored:

- E.—Tessari Cortland
- L.T.—Perrotta Ithaca
- L.G.—Sirovics Bloomsburg
- C.—Ryan Shippensburg
- R.G.—Bruno West Chester
- R.T.—Sutula Indiana
- R.E.—Phillips West Chester
- Q.B.—Rossell Geneva
- L.H.—Kelley Indiana
- R.H.—Hunter Cortland
- F.B.—DeMatteo Kutztown

"To our Champions! We all have a cheering cheer to the entire squad, especially to the lads who have played their last game for the Bald Eagles. To refresh your memory, these are the boys who have completed their gridiron careers: Hoffnagle, McCollum, Conner, Yobe, Hochstein, Fretsch, "Booker" Weaver, Goles, "Rollie" Myers and Bill Brown. Ten of the finest boys on the squad that for two years managed to come out undefeated seasons and thus, for two seasons, clinch the mythical State Teachers College Championship.

Among these graduates we find that Bill Brown had the toughest luck. We all remember "Punchy" Brown as the finest backfielder we ever saw; then his fractured hand seemed to change the whole situation. Although "Punchy" was still a capable player, his lay-off Exercise for the imagination: Prepare Dr. Rude with a Palmer Handwriting Certificate.

Bob Sherman can congratulate himself on being mentioned in his home breath with Socrates; it's not often Mr. Sullivan indulges in flattery.

By mutual consent, Miss Fadden and Miss Deach are supposed to confine themselves to one dinner serving; Miss Deach has dropped out of the race; and Miss Fadden's "No, thank you's" are getting steadily fainter.

Miss Miller has arrived just in time for the epidemic of colds which has been sweeping through the boy's dormitory. One doubtful observer says that in some cases, they could be brought around with peppermint drops just about as fast as with cold medicine.

The boys' gym class gets more interesting every day; they answer to roll call, listen to a joke by Mr. Bossert about "Tally-ho", then all up the period with basketball.

That Civ Ed class that sings Christmas carols "while waiting for class to begin, ought to be scheduled for a chapel program some morning.

The combined "Y" party for poor town children and children from the home was satisfying all around. Joe Lucas read "The Night Before Christmas" while waiting for class to begin, and then; Sarafinski won their hearts as Santa Claus with his bag of gifts. After a lunch of crackers, coconut and striped candy, they were taken home.

L. H. Basketeers Defeat Jersey S. Y. M. C. A. Team

Last Season's Line-Up Used as Aaron, Byers, Kruper, Hoffnagle, Young Start

Lock Haven Teachers College opened its 1938 basketball season at Jersey Shore Dec. 14, defeating the Jersey Shore Y. M. C. A. team 35-31 in a brisk battle on the Y floor.

The Teachers took a 21-12 lead in the first half, but were outscored in the third quarter, finding their lead cut to three points. They rallied to win out by a four-point margin, however.

Lynn Earon of Lock Haven and Ollie Byers of Williamsport at forwards, Johnny Kruper of Fayette City at center, and Mack Hoffnagle and Earl Young of Williamsport at guards formed the starting lineup which was unchanged from last season.

Kruper topped Lock Haven's first quintet in the scoring with six points, and was tied by Gene Springman, Freshman and reserve guard from Williamsport.

Springman paired with Son Blankenship of Lock Haven at guards on the second five with Mike Mannion of Mt. Carmel at center and Walt Nolan and Red Moyer of Morrisdale, Walt Monahan of Clearfield, reserve guard, also made the trip.

Nine of the ten Lock Haven players who saw action participated in the scoring.
Neff, reserve forward for Jersey Shore, was individual high scorer with ten points.

The Teachers do not begin their intercollegiate schedule until Saturday, Jan. 8, when they visit Bloomsburg. The first college game here will be with Kutztown on Friday, Jan. 14.

Coach Wynn Fredericks plans to play the Jersey Shore team here and also to arrange games with one or two of the Williamsport City League teams.

Vienna Choir Boys

The Vienna Choir Boys, one of the foremost musical organizations in Europe, will sing here Thursday evening, January 6, according to an announcement by Mr. Lehman. This additional number of the course will be given at no extra charge to holders of season tickets. General admission tickets will be sold following the usual custom.

A Harp Trio and Baritone are scheduled for February and March. Securing the Choir Boys is the fulfillment of an intention, announced early in the drive of the Artists' Course, that if the course was given sufficient support, a fifth attraction would be given.

During the past four years, the German universities have lost one-fifth of their teaching staff and 30 per cent of their student body. The new German student must now undertake a career that is designed to make him a member of the political elite. The university professor now leads a tragic existence, always uncertain of his duration of his appointment and even of his salary.

California T. C. Offers Field Trip

During the summer of 1938, California State Teachers College will offer a field trip through Europe, arranged and conducted by Mr. G. E. Harding, who will distribute illustrated bulletins beginning tomorrow which contain details of the itinerary, transportation, and special features of the tour.

The tour, for which three credit-hours will be given, will be directed by an experienced European guide through England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, and France. According to the bulletin, the tour will provide the maximum in comfort, comprehensiveness, and entertainment at a minimum cost.

The sailing date for New York, via the S. S. Europa, is July 26, 1938. The price of the entire trip is $570, with a deposit of $25 required at the time of registration. The balance is due six weeks before sailing.

Summer tours of students in the Geography Department began last summer when Dr. J. Riley Staats conducted a group on a 2500 mile tour of New England and Eastern Canada.

Training School Notes

The Lock Haven Business Men's Association sent Santa Claus to visit the pupils in the elementary grades of the Training School on Monday, December 13. Santa distributed gifts from his bag to each pupil and collected the letters which were written to him, telling the children's desires.

On Wednesday, December 22, the pupils of the Training School are having a Christmas Sing, under the direction of Miss Ulmeyer. The pupils are going from room to room singing carols.

The Seniors who will be teaching the second semester are now having group conferences with Mr. Patterson, making arrangements and planning their work.
