Book Fair Held In Bentley Hall

The Association of Children's Education is currently conducting a Book Fair in Bentley Hall Lounge. This project is part of ACE's fund raising drive.

There are many subjects covered by this wide range of

Reader's Give Shakespeare

Reader's Theater, under the direction of Dr. Robert Kidder, will present scenes from William Shakespeare's Macbeth and A Midsummer Night's Dream Monday and Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Eagle Wing.

The scenes from the tragedy of Macbeth will include the three witches, the famous dagger and sleepwalking scenes, and the Macbeth and Lady Macbeth plotting scenes.

To complete the evening the actors will present the clown scenes from Shakespeare's comedy, A Midsummer Night's Dream.

The plays will feature Maura Schuck, Garey Gadson, Sue Ellen Caldwell, Ed Myers, Mike Stauffer, Joe Nicely, Jerry Binus, Jim Wilkinson, and Terry Bartholemew.

There is no charge for this production.

books for all ages. The children's section concerns all types of reading. Among the available books are Mother Goose, The How and Why Wonder Book Series, and fiction stories.

The remainder of the books cater to college students. Stories are available on the topics of sex, drugs and pollution, and many classics are also presented. Thomas Hardy's books are well represented along with works by Goethe, Homer, Maugham, and Tolstoy.

Novels which have been transformed into movies include Alfie, The Sterile Cuckoo, Getting straight, and M.A.S.H.

The fair will continue until 5 p.m. today.

Selection Team On Campus

The U.S. Army Officer Candidate School Selection Team will visit Lock Haven State College December 9.

Lieutenant Byrne, from the First U.S. Army Recruiting District Headquarters, Fort Meade, Maryland, will interview college seniors and graduates on campus for the officer candidate enlistment option.

Under this program, qualified college students or graduates can enlist in the U.S. Army and be guaranteed attendance at one of the two officer candidate schools. Officer candidate training is 23 weeks. These schools are Infantry OCS, Fort Benning, Georgia and Artillery OCS, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Graduates of OCS are commissioned Second Lieutenants in the U.S. Army. They must agree to serve a minimum of two years as commissioned officers after completing this training. The Army OCS Team visiting the local campus is one of ten touring selected colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Spotlight

Coming from Wapwallopen, Pa. Miss Marion L. Huttenstine, Assistant Professor of English, has taught at Lock Haven State College for five years.

Miss Huttenstine graduated from Bloomsburg State College with both her B.S. and M.Ed. in English. She has also studied at Rutgers University, Pennsylvania State University, and Bucknell University.

Before coming to LHS, Miss Huttenstine spent five and a half years teaching at the high school level. During that time she was head of the English Department and advisor to the student publication. Currently, Miss Huttenstine is a Newspaper Fund Fellow.

Besides being technical advisor to the Eagle Eye, Miss Huttenstine advises other literary publications.

At LHS Miss Huttenstine teaches journalism, and sometimes composition. She has taught other general English courses at LHS.

Miss Huttenstine lists her hobbies as refinishing and upholstering furniture. She enjoys camping, and reads at least three books a week.

"I find the whole communications process fascinating," says Miss Huttenstine. She would like to see a communications major made available at LHS. After pointing out that most students graduate with virtually no knowledge of the workings of the mass media, she said, "Communications is the keystone that makes democracy work." Through the mass media, people find out what the government is doing, and the government realizes the desires of the voters.

Miss Huttenstine would like to see a larger English Department. She approves of the student participation within the department, and feels that it should be flexible to the students' interest at a given time. "I believe in students," she said. Above all, she would like to see continued enthusiasm for teaching.

Attention: Students, Faculty and Staff who received the first flu injection at the Infirmary in October, the second flu injection will be given Wednesday December 9th from 12 noon until 1 p.m. at the Glennon Infirmary.

Women's Army Corps Selection Officer, Captain Margaret M. Kirchmaier, will be in the Student Placement Office at Bentley Hall December 9 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Any student interested in the student officer or direct commission programs for women are welcome to stop in for information concerning career opportunities available for officers in the Women's Army Corps.

The SCC social committee will present Chicago in concert April 26, if we receive 1,500 letters from people willing to pay $20.00 per seat. Every letter will require author to buy said tickets.

Presentation

J. Arlington Young, mayor of Lock Haven, will present the key to the city to Lock Haven State College's new president Dr. Francis Hamblin at special ceremonies preceding the Lehigh University-LHS wrestling match at Thomas Fieldhouse Saturday, December 5.

Also as part of the special ceremonies Mayor Young will present to Dr. Hamblin a proclamation honoring LHS on its 100th year anniversary.

Harris Lipez, general manager of Lock Haven Radio Station WBPZ, will serve as Master of Ceremonies for the special presentation.

DATE ANNOUNCED FOR RECLASSIFICATION

Registrants wishing to drop deferments and be reclassified into Class 1-A status to take advantage of a year-end policy announced last month by the Selective Service System, have been given until midnight, December 31, 1970, to file for the reclassification. Such requests must be received by local boards by that date or carry a postmark dated December 31, 1970 or earlier.

The announcement is contained in instructions issued to local board personnel by Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, National Director of Selective Service. These instructions alter previous policy which stated that the application had to be in the hands of local board personnel prior to a December meeting of the local board.

In particular, the instruction to local boards will be of interest to men who hold high numbers in the 1970 draft lottery. Should a young man hold a number higher than that reached by his local board - and No. 195 has been set as the highest number which any local board can reach - it is to his advantage to voluntarily give up his deferment for a 1-A classification. In these cases, he will move to a lower draft priority group on January 1, 1971 with other members of the 1970 first priority group with unreached numbers.

While recognizing that young men holding lottery numbers over their local board "high" could effectively limit their vulnerability to the draft by being classified into 1-A by the year's end, Dr. Tarr stated that "the law allows young men to elect whether they will apply for a deferment and those young men granted deferments should be able to drop them if they desire."

Dr. Tarr said the new policy was issued because various boards throughout the country were scheduling their last meeting of the year at different times. By defining a specific cutoff date, the new policy allows all registrants an equal amount of time to take advantage of the reclassification offer.

Previous to changing this policy on dropping of deferments, registrants holding deferments were generally unable to voluntarily relinquish them as long as they continued to meet the criteria for deferment except at the end of the deferment period when they could cancel them simply by not submitting the necessary documents for an extension.

The types of deferments affected by the memorandum are high school and college deferments, occupational deferments, agricultural deferments, paternity and hardship deferments. The 1-Y classification, unacceptable for military service except in national emergency, is not affected by this new policy. Men classified 1-Y are not able to voluntarily drop this classification.

Dr. Tarr pointed out that all deferments are issued for limited periods of time, generally for one year, and that it is the responsibility of the registrant to submit documentation for an extension of his deferment. In the absence of documentation, the new Local Board Memorandum instructs local boards to promptly reclassify registrants into 1-A. This means that registrants wishing to continue their deferments should submit the supporting documentation to their local boards.

EAGLE'S ECHO

Question: Would you favor scheduling exams before Christmas vacation, ending the semester before Christmas and allowing for a longer semester break?

No, later or after Christmas. Would give me more time to study. Rich Roberts, freshman, liberal arts, social service.

Yes, that way we wouldn't have the burden of studying for exams over Christmas vacation, which I usually don't do anyway. Also, it's rather silly, I think, to come back for a week or so in January just for exams, and then go home again. If we had exams before Christmas vacation, then perhaps we could have a longer Christmas vacation. 'Cappy' Peterson, sophomore, Secondary English.

Yes, no way do I want to study over Christmas vacation. All my friends have their exams before Christmas and they are a lot more free and relaxed than I am. Plus the fact that all the trips back and forth between Thanksgiving and second semester are ridiculous. Dave Ward, sophomore, secondary Biology.

Yes, because I would like to enjoy my Christmas vacation and not have to worry about returning to school for exams. Also, there is such a short time between Christmas vacation and semester break, this involves more money and/or an extra trip home. Mindy Barnhart, junior, liberal arts, math.

I think exams should be held before Christmas vacation because we would not have to come back after vacation and look forward to exams. Most students do not study over the vacation and therefore they will cram for the exams and not do as well. Tom Neidig, junior, physical education.

Scheduling of this type would not only make studying for exams much easier but it would provide for easier administration of classes and longer vacations! Susan Miller, senior, elementary education.

Yes, this would be a great idea. There is one problem, that being, would it be possible to get students to stay around campus later in the month of December? This is true especially if they have to take final exams. Terry Morreale, senior, secondary Spanish.

Grapplers Entertain Lehigh Tomorrow In Opening

by Al Smith

Thomas Field House is expected to be filled to the rafters tomorrow evening when Lehigh University invades Lock Haven State for a battle between two of the East's perennial wrestling powers.

Both teams are under new head coaches and hungry for a victory in the season opener for both squads with the Bald Eagles hoping to avenge last year's 22-12 setback to the Engineers.

The Engineers, who have fallen from the nation's top ten since the days of Mike Caruso, are seeking to regain some of this lost prestige under new head mentor Thad Turner.

Turner has five lettermen returning from last season's squad and two who lettered in 1968-69.

Steve Shields, a fifth placewinner at the NCAA tournament at 177 pounds last year and a 4-3 victor over LHS's Bill Rhodes in last season's dual in Grace Hall, is the top Lehigh returnee.

Other Top Returnees

Other top returnees for the Engineers are Captain Dave Icenhower, a runnerup in the EIWA tournament last year, and Dave Waters, an NCAA placewinner two years ago and voted Sophomore of the Year that season following strong performances in the eastern and national tournaments.

Dr. Ken Cox, new LHS head mentor, has eight lettermen returning from last year's squad which finished 7-5-1 and captured the Pennsylvania Conference title for the second straight year.

Heading the list of returnees are Don Fay and Larry Rippey. Fay is a two-time conference champ and won an NAIA title last year while Rippey has captured a Coast Guard Invitational championship, a Wilkes title, and an NAIA title last year.

Other LHS Returnees

Other top LHS returnees are Paul Brodmerkel, who won a conference championship last year and has a two year dual record of 17-3-1; Gino Taxis, a conference runnerup in 1969 and a two-year dual record of 14-7; Hank Hawkins, a conference runnerup and NAIA placewinner in 1969 and a two-year dual record of 15-3-2; and Scott Brooks, a conference runnerup last year with a two-year dual record of 11-7-4.

The match has been rated even by most oddsmakers with LHS expected to be strong in the lighter weights and Lehigh expected to have the advantage in the heavier weights.

Top Match of Evening

The match of the evening appears to be at 142 pounds where LHS's Rippey will have a rematch with Icenhower. Last year on the Engineers' mats, Rippey squeezed by Icenhower, 10-7.

Another rematch from last year appears at 118 pounds where Fay will probably be pitted against Randy Biggs. Fay completely mauled Biggs last year, 19-6.

Turner earlier in the week in speaking of his team said, "I've been pleased with the attitude shown by our candidates and by the way they've worked. It looks like we'll have a group of men in good physical condition."

Cox, also known as a conditioner, has been working his squad fairly hard the past two weeks and was pleased with the Eagles' performance in a scrimmage last week against Penn State.

'Even Up, 50-50 Chance'

Cox feels the match is, "Even up and we have a 50-50 chance. We're looking for a victory, but we don't know. We have to win four out of the first five and one out of the next five to pull out a tie. We can't give up a fall."

The tentative matchups for tomorrow evening's match with LHS grapplers listed first are:

- 118--Don Fay vs. Randy Biggs
- 126--Bynie Parker vs. Greg Surelian
- 134--Larry Rippey or Bynie Parker vs. Dave Waters
- 142--George Sagan or Larry Rippey vs. Dave Icenhower
- 150--Gino Taxis vs. Herb Campbell
- 158--Paul Brodmerkel vs. Rick Bacastow
- 167--Don Adams or John Blackwell vs. Steve Shields
- 177--Hank Hawkins vs. Scott Christie
- 190--Jeff Knarr vs. John Rhinehart or Tom Hutchinson
- Hwt.--Tom Zimmerman vs. Mike Harrison or Bob Lustica

Time-Out

by Al Smith

With the winter sports season upon us, many of the 12-member teams of the Pennsylvania Athletic Conference teams open their 1970-71 seasons this weekend with tomorrow evening's Lock Haven State vs. Lehigh match heading the list of season openers.

LHS which has dominated the conference since wrestling was first initiated as a conference sport, will probably have a tough time retaining its title, as most of the top contenders a year ago have quite a few experienced veterans returning and the other teams vastly improving.

Last year's conference tourney was the closest ever with LHS nipping Clarion 66-65 for the team title while East Stroudsburg was close behind with 60 points, and this year's tournament could even be closer.

LHS used a surprise upset by Paul Brodmerkel over California's Dave Cook and an upset decision by Slippery Rock's George Enos over Clarion's 190-pounder to capture the title, after the Eagles had almost been written off after the afternoon semi-finals.

The Eagles again have to be rated the team to beat with eight lettermen returning from last season's championship squad, headed by NAIA champions Don Fay and Larry Rippey, but should expect plenty of stiff opposition in one of the toughest wrestling leagues in the nation.

Clarion, second a year ago, has an experienced lineup returning led by NAIA champion Les Bressler (158), but missing are Henry Shaffer (177) and Santo Ricotta (167). Coach Bob Bubb has five other conference placewinners back along with a very promising transfer in Wade Schalles.

East Stroudsburg, third a year ago, has all its strength in the lower two-thirds of its lineup, but has eight lettermen returning from an 11-1-1 season. Returning are conference placewinners Ted Pease (118), Kemble Matter (134), and Fred Epler (158), who are said to be improved.

Bloomsburg, down the last couple of seasons, has what is being touted as one of the school's best teams ever with only conference champion Arnie Thompson gone from last year's 11-5 squad. Returning are conference placewinners John Weiss (142), Boug Grady (167), Floyd Hitchcock (177), and Bob Hummel (Hwt.).

Slippery Rock, the surprise team of the conference last year, boasts probably the top individual wrestler in the East in Stan Dziedzic, a college division champion last year and a third place finisher in the NCAA university division tourney. His only loss last season came at the NCAA tourney to champion Mike Grant of Oklahoma. One of his best matches last season came at the tourney when he completely handled Penn State's highly touted Clyde Franz. Rocket coach Fred Powell has two other conference champs returning in Bill Schellborn (167) and George Enos (190).

California and Shippensburg have all their conference scorer's back from last season and should also be improved, while Edinboro, Millersville, Mansfield, and Kutztown will depend on youth in hopes of bettering their finishes of last year.

Of the 40 wrestlers that placed in the conference tournament last March, only nine have graduated. The remaining 31 will be aiming to move up this winter, but will have to contend with some of the best young talent the conference has ever seen in what appears to be the best season ever for wrestling.
