PSAC votes against new academic standards for freshmen athletes

By Doug Rutter
Co-News Editor

In an attempt to come to the aid of one of our sister schools, Lock Haven University President Craig Dean Willis voted at a recent meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Division II against new academic standards for freshmen athletes.

Despite the effort of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) to help Cheyney University, the new academic standards will go into effect in the fall of 1988.

Effective August 1, 1988, freshmen who wish to compete on athletic teams at Division II institutions, must enroll with at least a 2.1 grade-point average in a core curriculum of 11 academic courses in high school, plus a score of at least 680 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (S.A.T.) or 14 on the American College Testing (A.C.T.) program's examination.

These standards will be revised in the fall of 1989 when incoming freshmen must have at least a 2.0 average in the core courses along with a 700 S.A.T. score or a 15 A.C.T. score.

NCAA Division I programs are currently operating under these guidelines, including wrestling and women's field hockey at LHU.

According to Joseph Coldren, Director of Admissions at LHU, these core courses include various subjects such as science, mathematics, English and social studies.

The new standards caused a lengthy debate at the January NCAA meeting in San Diego, but passed in a roll-call vote by a score of 93 to 70, according to a report in the Jan. 14 Chronicle of Higher Education.

According to Willis, he opposed the new system because of our present high standards and as an attempt to support Cheyney which argued that "they wouldn't be able to get any athletes" with such a system in operation.

Willis said, "I'm not unhappy that it passed. We have admissions standards anyway."

A group consisting of Willis, Athletic Director Dr. Charles Eberle, Associate Athletic Director Sharon Taylor and Chairman of the Faculty/Staff Athletic Committee Dr. Bruce Young was organized to explore the issues involved with this topic, but Willis had the final say when it came to a vote.

Taylor said that the concept of academic standards in athletics is fine, but that the use of the S.A.T. is unfair.

According to Taylor, the S.A.T. is a "biased instrument" which predicts low for both women and minorities.

She added, "The main thing with these new standards is getting to the high schools and ensuring that the students pass the required core courses."

As a conference, the PSAC voted against the new standards in an effort to help Cheyney remain competitive.

Willis, vice chairman of the Board of Directors of the conference, represented the PSAC at the NCAA meeting.

Independently, LHU opposed the new standards along with nine other universities in the conference.

The other PSAC schools which opposed the new academic standards were: California, Cheyney, East Stroudsburg, Edinboro, Kutztown, Mansfield, Shippensburg, Slippery Rock and West Chester.

Bloomsburg and Millersville universities were the only two PSAC schools which voted in favor of the new standards.

The votes of Clarion and Indiana were not recorded due to an error in the balloting, Willis said.

LHU President Craig Dean Willis

According to the report in the Chronicle of Higher Education, proponents of the standards argued that the rules were not especially stringent and that they were necessary to prevent Division II institutions from becoming a "dumping ground" for academically unqualified athletes.

Willis said, "It frankly hasn't happened because Division I schools have taken all the athletes they would have taken anyway. So far, Division II coaches have not seen this inflow of unqualified Division I athletes. We haven't seen that here."

Willis added that coaches can look at an athlete and tell if they are Division I material or Division II material.

Hugh C. Bailey, president of Valdosta State College (Georgia), said in the Chronicle report that both the core curriculum and the test-score minimums were necessary because "any student who fails to make a 700 score on an S.A.T. will probably have difficulty graduating."

Willis agreed and said that that was the reason for admission standards.

"Every student who comes here should have a reasonable chance of graduating," said Willis.

Lloyd D. Vincent, president of Angelo State University (Texas), said the new standards were "necessary in order to provide a balance between the academics at an institution and an athletic program," in the Chronicle report.

"This will ensure equity in athletic competition by preventing some institutions from having lower admission standards in order to compete," Vincent added.

According to Willis, this is not a frequent problem in Division II schools.

He said that success in Division I athletics is much more important and that there is more of a temptation to extend beyond the admissions' boundaries at the Division I level.

"I will assume that Division II schools will work within the guidelines. We certainly will," Willis said.

Commissioner of the Central

Intercollegiate Athletic Association, Bob Moorman, said in the Chronicle report that he expects the adoption of new standards in Division II to yield results similar to those in Division I, where numerous freshman athletes have become ineligible for college sports.

According to Taylor, head coach of LHU's Division I women's field hockey team, there was only one student recruited by the two Division I sports programs at LHU last semester who would have been ineligible for competition under the current standards of Division I.

Although there is still time to fight the new standards, Willis believes they will remain in tact.

"I'm assuming it's pretty well set. It's going to take an enormous amount of clerical work to look at all of the high school transcripts and we may have to hire someone just for that purpose."

Coldren added, "It's going to be a lot of work. We have to have documentation for every athlete whether they had problems in high school or not."

Jones plans new offensive and defensive schemes

Willis announces Tom Jones as new head football coach at LHU

By Bill Alexander
Staff Reporter

University President Dr. Craig Dean Willis has named Tom Jones, offensive coordinator at Middle Tennessee State for the past two years, to the position of head football coach.

The filling of the position, vacated by Jack Fisher, was announced last Friday at a press conference in Thomas Field House.

"Coach Jones impressed the selection committee, myself and everyone else that he met here," commented Willis, "we feel very fortunate to have him with us."

Willis also presented Jones with a LHU pin and sweatshirt.

Jones, 35, is a 1973 graduate of Western Kentucky and has coached at the University of Tennessee, Morehead State, Eastern Kentucky, Iowa State and West Georgia before moving to Middle Tennessee State in 1985.

"We want to build a program, not one of immediate change, not one to be great overnight and then fade quickly, but one that will last through a period of time,"

Jones said about LHU.

Throughout his career, Jones has been an offensive coordinator, defensive coordinator, offensive line coach, special teams coach and associated with winning football programs.

Eastern Kentucky won three Ohio Valley titles from 1981-83, the NCAA Division I-AA National Championship in 1982 and was National runner-up in 1981.

The Middle Tennessee team won the Ohio Valley Conference with an 11-0 record in 1985.

As a player at Western Kentucky, he was a member of two Ohio Valley championship teams, and in high school (Glasgow, Kentucky), he was voted All-State as an offensive center.

During the question and answer session that followed, Jones said that he is planning to use multiple offensive and defensive sets and he could possibly be in the press box during the game to get a better perspective on the game.

"We want to build something that will last, stand strong and be looked at as a very fine program. That is our goal," said Jones.

Bald Eagle wrestlers give Cleveland State a taste of the mat

By Scott Crispell
Sports Editor

Lock Haven University got a pin from fourth ranked Jody Karam (167) and a major decision from Mike Lingenfelter (142) as they rolled over Cleveland State, 23-13, Saturday.

Karam, who improved his record to 21-0, fell behind early to Ernie Stone, who took Karam down and put him on his back for a 5-0 lead.

Karam came right back as he escaped and hit a lateral drop and recorded the fall at 2:13.

At 118, Dicky Howell got the Bald Eagles off to a good start as he battled to a 4-4 draw with Paul Kapper.

Kapper, who defeated Howell twice last season, opened the scoring with a single leg takedown midway through the first period. Howell escaped with :10 left and trailed 2-1 after the first three minutes.

Howell picked up an escape in the second period to tie the score at 2-2 after two periods.

In the final period, Kapper grabbed a one-point lead with an escape. Howell then used a single leg takedown to take a 4-3 advantage. Kapper added an escape with one minute remaining to earn the tie.

"Dicky did a really nice job against a very tough opponent," said LHU Head Coach Neil Turner. "He took the attack to Kapper."

Jeff Husick recorded a takedown in each of the first two periods, and added a riding time point on his way to a 5-1 win over Jim Lightner at 126.

At 134, Willy Metzger controlled Guy Sako for the entire third stanza, which enabled Metzger to pick up a point for riding time and earn a 5-5 tie.

Mike Lingenfelter lit up the crowd with his offensive attack as he rolled to an 11-3 victory over Dan Kelly at 142.

Lingenfelter jumped out to a 2-0 lead with a front headlock takedown. Following a reversal by Kelly, Lingenfelter executed a perfect Granby roll to reverse Kelly, and lead 4-2. Lingenfelter then slapped on his patented cradle and turned Kelly to his back for three near-fall points.

Kelly picked up an escape in the second stanza and trailed, 7-3 after five minutes.

In the final period, Lingenfelter hit another Granby roll to escape and used an ankle pick to take Kelly to the mat for a 10-3 lead. Lingenfelter had 1:01 in time advantage which gave him a major decision and pushed Lock Haven's lead to 11-4.

Dave Wlodarz cut the lead to 11-7 with a 6-3 win over Thane Turner at 150.

John Barrett got the Bald Eagles back on track with a 5-1 decision over Matt Peters.

Jeff Karam increased the Lock Haven lead to 23-7 with a dramatic victory at 177.

Karam trailed Braden Adkinson 5-3, with :25 to go in the bout. Karam escaped and hit a double leg takedown with just :02 showing on the clock, to win 6-5.

At 190, Jay Suvak decisioned Bill Freeman, 6-3, and Keith Cameron ended the match with a 13-7 win over Mike Pacholik at heavyweight.

The 8-3 Bald Eagles will travel to Bloomsburg tomorrow night for the second half of the Susquehanna Valley Donnybrook series. The Huskies defeated LHU earlier this season, 17-16.

The tentative line-ups for the Eastern Wrestling League match are:

118- Craig Corbin (LH) vs John Supsic. Corbin defeated Supsic, 7-0 in overtime at the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference championships.

126- Jeff Husick (LH) vs Dave Kennedy. Husick was first in the PSAC, while Kennedy was third.

134- Willy Metzger (LH) vs Rocky Bonomo or Darrin Cummings. Metzger defeated Cummings earlier this season, while lost to Bonomo last year.

142- Mike Lingenfelter (LH) vs Marty King or Darrin Cummings. Lingenfelter has won two out three meetings with King this year.

150- Thane Turner (LH) vs Dave Morgan. Turner dropped a 6-1 decision to Morgan in the conference tourney.

158- John Barrett (LH) vs Mark Banks. Barrett won the first two meetings this season, but Banks came out on top in the consolation finals of the PSAC tournament.

167- Jody Karam (LH) vs Roger Leitzel or Paul Keysaw. Karam has beaten Leitzel three times this season.

177- Jeff Karam or Mike Mazza (LH) vs Frank Spencer of Keysaw.

190- Bill Freeman (LH) vs Bruce Wallace. Wallace was a PSAC runner-up while Freeman finished third.

HWT- Mike Pacholik or Jim Orichosky (LH) vs Ron Ippolite or Jack Yocum.

Varsity action is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Swimmers dump Edinboro and Juniata at home over weekend*...Nailor qualifies for state meet

By Bill Hunter
Co-Sports Editor

With a come from behind surge, the Lady Eagle swimmers were able to fend off Edinboro and Juniata on Saturday.

The Haven, now 3-6, defeated Edinboro by a 109-88 margin and Juniata's swimming club 109-24.

Despite being down 41-37 to Edinboro at the 200 yard fly, swimmers such as Amy Nailor, Penny Kinsinger and Paula Matulia kept the Haven on the right track.

"Penny Kinsinger's win was the turning point in the meet. She gave us the fire we needed to win," said Head Coach Jeff Lewis.

Lewis' squad posted five first place times during the meet.

Liz Miller started off the firsts with a 1:08.48 in the 100 yd. back stroke.

Kinsinger kept up the pace with victories in both the 50 and 100 free style events.

The fourth first place wreath was secured by Tracey Swartley.

The final first place was a four person effort. The talents of Kinsinger, Matulia, Atsuko Kitigawa and Renee Race combined to win the free style relay in 1:59.9.

An impressive second place swim, 12:13.24 in the 1000 yd. free style, was enough to qualify Nailor to the State meet. Her time was :01 below the cut.

The final regular season meet for the Lady Eagles was at Lycoming yesterday. Results were not available at press time. Pennsylvania State Championships will be February 19-21 at IUP.

Bald Eagles ranked 19th in Division II

By Bill Alexander
Co-Sports Editor

The Bald Eagles cagers upped their record to 17-5 overall and 6-0 in the PSAC West with a 78-70 over the Big Indians of IUP on Saturday.

Lock Haven took a ten point (37-27) lead at the half, but IUP outscored Lock Haven 43-41 in the second half, to trim the loss to only eight points.

Kevin Charney lead the Bald Eagle scorers with 19 points. Eric Hearn kicked in 14 and Junior Price added 10.

IUP was paced by John Sanow's 23 points while Lee Ward contributed 16. The loss drops IUP to 9-11 overall and 4-2 in the PSAC West.

Currently ranked 19th nationally in Division 2, the Bald Eagles take their undefeated PSAC record on the road to meet the Fighting Scots of Edinboro on Wednesday. The game is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Lady hoopers split weekend contests

By Dan Hanson
Sports Reporter

The Lady Eagles split a pair of games over the weekend defeating East Stroudsburg at home 83-61 and losing a key conference game at IUP 81-61.

On Friday the Lady Eagles (12-7) took a 22-20 lead with 7:54 left in the first half and didn't look back in rolling to a 83-61 victory over East Stroudsburg (8-11).

Maryellen Jaskuta led Lock Haven in scoring with 21 points while Kelly Myers had 13, Lisa Klepp had 12, and Lori Young added 10.

Tonia Lloyd lead East Stroudsburg with 17 points.

The Lady Eagles fell from first place in the PSAC Western conference on Saturday with a disappointing 81-61 loss to Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

The Lady Eagles went to 4-2 in the conference putting them one game behind Clarion who stands at 5-1.

Indiana's Sue Brecko led all scorers with 24 points while the Lady Eagles were led by freshman Mel Frohnheiser with 14 points and Amy Derus who added 11 points.

The Lady Eagles will be at Edinboro on Wednesday at 6:00 p.m. and Assistant Coach Carol Ritter seemed optimistic about the game.

"They (Edinboro) don't have a lot of depth and that could be our saving point," Ritter said.
