Students to teach in foreign lands

By TINA BROOKS
Feature Editor

"A fantastic opportunity to do student teaching and at the same time have benefit of a foreign experience" is how Dr. Marcus Konick, Director of International Education, described the student teaching program with foreign countries which is to be initiated next year.

In this program, Lock Haven State students will be doing their student teaching in overseas American-sponsored elementary and secondary schools. Since the foreign student teaching program lasts nine weeks it satisfies one-half of the total student teaching requirement for LHS students.

Although the students will be teaching in American schools, and speaking their own language, they will have the opportunity to see the foreign country and all will be living with native families.

Dr. Konick and Dr. Donald Fostvedt, chairman of the Department of Specialized Studies, are now working to complete plans for this program.

Tentatively, a maximum of ten students will be going to Quito, Ecuador; three to Vienna, Austria; however, it is not settled how many student teachers will be going to Berlin, Germany.

Dr. Konick reported that negotiations are now in progress with Santo Domingo but they "don't know if anything will come out of that."

Participating schools will be the Cooperativa Colegio Americano De Quito in Quito, the American International School in Vienna, and the John F. Kennedy School in Berlin.

Preliminary evaluation has been done on approximately 20 students who have applied for the student teaching abroad program so far. Most of the applicants applied for this program when they signed up for regular student teaching last fall.

A selection committee consisting of faculty and administration will make the final decision on the applicants. Dr. Konick reported that a final decision will probably be made

Civil Service positions are available now

College students who wish to apply for state civil service positions in the college career series may submit applications until March 26, the State Civil Service Commission has announced. Job opportunities are limited.

Written tests for these positions will be scheduled periodically at statewide testing centers. The examination will also be given daily by appointment only at State Civil Service Commission offices in Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia. Applicants must submit college transcripts with their application.

The college career series includes trainee and beginning level positions in administration, social services, education, and natural science. Most positions require a bachelor's degree in a field appropriate to the job title. Candidates

Winter Weekend kicks off Friday at ten p.m.

By CATHIE KEENAN
Co-Editor

Although the spring may be a more appropriate season to describe the current weather conditions in the area, activities for "Winter Weekend" will begin this Friday at 10:00 P.M. and continue through Sunday till 9:30 P.M.

The appearance of folk balladeer Harry Chapin on Saturday night in Thomas Fieldhouse at 8:00 P.M. will be the main focus of entertainment during the weekend. Originally contracted for the concert by public relations agent Barry Kearson, Chapin is scheduled to play for two 45 minute segments, however, he has been known to perform up to 4-5 hours per concert.

Social committee chairperson Sherri Cowperthwaite reported that the committee was not responsible for establishing the ticket price for the concert. She added that Kearson had arranged the price and the committee "had talked him down" from $6.50 to $5.50 per ticket.

"If we could do it we would give the kids a concert for free," said Cowperthwaite, "we're paying for manual labor for the concert and some of the publicity."

A coffeehouse is tentatively planned from 10-1 p.m. on Friday in the PUB, however, steak and eggs are definitely scheduled to be served. The coffeehouse will be followed by a dance featuring "Hybrid Ice" scheduled from 12-4 a.m. in Bentley Hall Lounge. No admission fee will be charged.

Saturday's scheduled events include the Chapin concert and a dance from 10-2 a.m. featuring "Dust" which will also be held in Bentley Hall Lounge and will be free of charge.

"Dialogue", a group which has appeared several times at the Main Point in Bryn Mawr, Pa. will perform Sunday from 6-7:30 p.m. and prior to their performance a movie "Airport 75" will be shown. "Break-out", one of the several Charles Bronson movies which have recently achieved popularity will be shown from 7:30-9:30 p.m. to conclude Winter Weekend.

Career Development Center helps with college pressure

By JIM DORAN
Staff Reporter

"College is pressureful years", said Dr. Don Crews, Director of Counseling and Acting Director of the new Career Development Center.

The center is set up to help Lock Haven students through the trials and pressures of college life. The service has recently been combined with the Placement office for convenience.

Crews sees different pressures at different stages of college life. "As a freshman you are going through serious changes," he said.

Crews believes that as a freshmen you develop new skills in getting along with others.

Crews feels that sophomores have made adjustments to college life but, like the freshmen, are still going through the process of change. The change, according to Crews, is not an adjustment to their new life but an intense period of evaluation of the life they lead.

"Sophomores," commented Crews. "Are not finding out what college life is, but what is is not."

As a Junior and Senior the emphasis is not on college life but life after college. "Juniors and seniors," noted Crews. "Are concerned with how to make it and whom to make it with."

Crews feels the crowded, competitive world on the outside creates disappointments for upperclassmen.

"The outside won't necessarily be a smooth next step," said Crews.

The career development service is open to all students, and discussions are kept in complete confidence. If a student feels he needs outside help the service will refer him to the best qualified people to meet that student's needs. "If we can't provide the services for the student, we feel an obligation to find that person a suitable source of aid," said Crews.

The career development office is located on the bottom floor of Raub Hall, and the hours are eight to four, Monday through Friday.

AAUW awards two coeds scholarships

By STEVE HEVERLY
Staff Reporter

Two five hundred dollar scholarships were awarded by the Lock Haven branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) recently at the AAUW's annual scholarship meeting. This year's recipients were Susan Hanna and Katherine Claycomb.

Susan Hanna is in her seventh semester at Lock Haven State, majoring in Health and Physical Education. She is a Kappa Delta Phi member and is married.

Katherine Claycomb is also married and has a six year old son. Katherine is a senior, majoring in Social Work. She maintains a 3.89 cumulative grade point average. Katherine has also served as a volunteer in Lock Haven hospital's social service department and the Susqueview nursing home.

Criteria for selection to these scholarships are attitude and extra-curricular activities. Only juniors and seniors are eligible for the scholarships.

Mrs. Alice Fuch, chairperson of the scholarship committee, said that two $500 scholarships were a big boost from other years. She stated, "The past four years the (AAUW) gave out only a $200 scholarship. To increase it to two $500 scholarships is a big step."

Mrs. Fuch went on to say that the funds for the scholarships come from various AAUW projects. The major one is the Spring book sale where the AAUW takes donations of used and new books and sells them.

This year much of the money came from sales of a bicentennial calander prepared by the AAUW.

P.S.U. to invade Nevel's 'House of Noise'

By GARY BRUBAKER
Staff Reporter

Coming off a 24-17 upset to Lehigh University, Coach Bill Koll's Penn State matmen hope to get back on the winning track against the Lock Haven Bald Eagles, tonight in Thomas Fieldhouse.

The Nittany Lions, 8-2, on the season were ranked number one in the East going into the Lehigh match - their only other loss having come against a vastly improved Navy team, 20-19. Alas, they were not the only team surprised this weekend as Clarion State College was stunned by Fred Powell's Slippery Rock matmen, 20-18.

With the Eastern rankings sure to be in a shambles after this past weekend's activities, the Bald Eagles, currently 16-2 on the year, have a chance to make things more hectic tonight in Ross Nevel's "House of Noise."

With the Bald Eagles at full strength an upset win would be a definite possibility. However, LHS has lost Greg Hackenburg via the injury route for the remainder of the season, and word has it that George Way might be out because of illness.

Here are the tentative line-ups for both teams:

118 pounds, Wayne Packer, P.S.U. (9-0) vs. Carl Lutz, LHS (13-2-1).

126 pounds Jim Earl, P.S.U.

(6-2) vs. Tom Parker, LHS (11-4).

134 pounds Rich Kepler, P.S.U. (6-4) vs. Tim McCamley, LHS (15-3).

142 pounds Denny Sciabica, P.S.U. (6-4) vs. Mike Moore, LHS (16-1).

150 pounds Bill Volradh,

P.S.U. (8-2) vs. George Way, LHS (17-1).

158 pounds Dave Becker, P.S.U. (9-1), vs. Doug Krebs, LHS (0-2).

167 pounds Jerry Villecco, P.S.U. (10-0) vs. Al Fricke, LHS (14-3).

Eagles lose game at foul line

By MIKE CROSBY
Staff Reporter

Before a crowd of 1,400 fans at Thomas Fieldhouse Saturday night, the Golden Eagles of Clarion defeated the Bald Eagles by a score of 78-68.

The game started out on a sour note for Lock Haven. Clarion shot a technical foul as soon as the game began because the official scorer had a different starting lineup in the score book than the ones that actually started. The foul shot was missed and there was no damage done.

Both teams had trouble finding the basket for awhile and with seven minutes gone, the score was Clarion 14, Lock Haven 9. At this time, Clarion was out rebounding Lock Haven, and many of their points were coming off the boards.

Lock Haven came back, and with 7:57 to go, Dave Hendershot hit a short jump shot to bring the Haven within one at 16-15. After this, the teams exchanged several baskets, and with only 2:39 to play in the half, co-captain Pat McClellan hit a pair of free throws to give the Haven a 23-22 lead.

McClellan and Hendershot scored again before the half, and when the buzzer rang, Lock Haven had a slim 27-26 lead to take into the locker room.

The second half started like the first ended. Both teams exchanged baskets, and no one could build up any kind of a lead.

On two consecutive baskets by center Terry Rosetto, Clarion took a 40-37 lead with 15:11 remaining in the game. They held on to the lead for awhile, but on a steal by Bill Vassallo Lock Haven knotted the game at 44.

Clarion outscored Lock Haven 20 to 9 from the foul line in the second half, and this was the winning margin. High scorer for Lock Haven was Hendershot with 17, and

Lady Swimmers split first triangular meet

By MARY FEUSNER

Last Saturday morning, the Eaglette swimmers bowed to Slippery Rock and swept by Allegheny in tri-meet competition. The results of the tri-meet were tallied as three separate meets: LHSC vs SRSC, LHSC vs Allegheny, and SRSC vs Allegheny.

In the competition between SRSC and LHSC, the Rockette swimmers dominated by the score of 77-54. Outstanding performances by Eaglette swimmers were turned in by freshmen Selma Bjorklund and Bev Hofman. Selma's times in the 200 yd. IM (2:24.68) and 500 yd. free-style (5:48.63) were record breakers. Bev's time of 2:12.17 in the 200 yd freestyle was good for a first and another varsity pool

Becky Elliott took a first in the 50 and 100 yd. backstroke. First places in the 50 and 100 yd. breaststroke were swept by Linda Saxinger and Heidi Weber, respectively.

Ellen Ralston took a second in the 50 yd. freestyle, and Heidi Weber finished in second, behind Saxinger in the 50 yd. breaststroke.

Haven swimmers enjoy visit to Lycoming pool

By DOUG GRIETZ
Staff Reporter

The Lock Haven Swim Team travelled to Lycoming last Wednesday and found the home team to be more than accommodating hosts.

In taking advantage of Lycoming's lack of depth, a phase that has also plagued the Lock Haven mermen, the swimmers opened by capturing the 400 yd. medley relay under the propulsion of Phil Johnson, Jim Bird, Denny West and John Leskoe in a time of 4:48.8.

Stretching the lead further was Dave Woods and Jeff Walewski who finished first and second respectively, in the 200 yd. freestyle, with Wood's time at 2:13.4. Standout Brad Zaber quickly took a 60 yd. freestyle (due to length of pool, conventional 50 was impossible) in 32.2 with Captain Mark Wingert finishing second.

With a convincing lead of 23-2, the Eagles coasted into their third victory of the season, but not before Denny West claimed a first in the 200 yd. butterfly, clocking 2:23.2.

With a total of 160.50 points, freshman Steve Schmitt captured the 1 meter sometime in early March.

No deadline has been set for applications but Dr. Konick suggests that anyone who is still interested and would like to apply should see him as soon as possible.

"If we have people who find that they are interested," Dr. Fostvedt stated, "we will still be happy to consider their application."

According to Dr. Konick, life-long learning courses in Spanish and German are being offered this semester to familiarize the students with the language of the country they are going to visit.

Dr. Fostvedt will be attending a meeting of the American Association of International Education from February 18-20. More details on the program will be gained at this meeting.

Eugene Metz, Director-General of the American school in Quito and Carlos Chiribogo, an OAS (Organization of American States) representative from Ecuador plan to visit the LHS campus sometime this spring.

were recorded in the following events: 50 yd. fly- Peg Schaal, 100 yd. fly- Bev Hofman, 100 yd. tree- Becky Loughin, and 100 yd. breast- Linda Saxinger.

Eaglette diving specialist Nancy Crouthamel took firsts in the one and three meter diving. She accumulated 161.25 and 197.95 points, respectively.

Elliott, Weber, Schaal and Loughin recorded a first place time of 4:40.76 in the 400 yd. medley relay, and Bjorklund, Schaal, Hofman, and Elliott managed a first with a time of 4:02.63, in the 400 yd. free relay. Both relay times were new varsity records.

Second place finishers for LHSC included the following: Weber - 50 yd. breast, Ralston -50 yd. free, Schaal - 50 yd. fly, Loughin- 100 yd. free, and Hofman- 100 yd. fly.

The 50 yd. back (Loughin), 50 yd. fly (Chicearo), 100 yd. fly (Schaal) 100 yd. free (Kriebel) and 100 yd. breast (Saxinger) were third place finishes for Lock Haven.

The Eaglettes will travel to Bloomsburg on Thursday afternoon, looking for another victory to add to their present 4-2 record.

With Senior Brad Zuber gaining his second individual first by taking the 100 yd. freestyle, Mark Wingert coping the 500 yd. freestyle, and Jim Bird taking the 200 yd. breaststroke, the meet was out of reach for Lycoming, as Lock Haven had built an invincible 56-26 lead.
