Five LHU students are awarded certificates from British college

Five Lock Haven University students were among the first students to be awarded the Certificate in Environmental Issues from Trent Polytechnic, England.

The LHU students, who were on the Trent exchange program last fall, were part of a 15 member group of international exchange students (from various colleges).

The 15 students completed the Environmental Studies of Countrysides and Cities in Britain course, which qualified them for the certificate.

The LHU students included Stephanie Taylor, Andrew Davis, Bonnie Castner, Melissa Harr and Zoe Scholder.

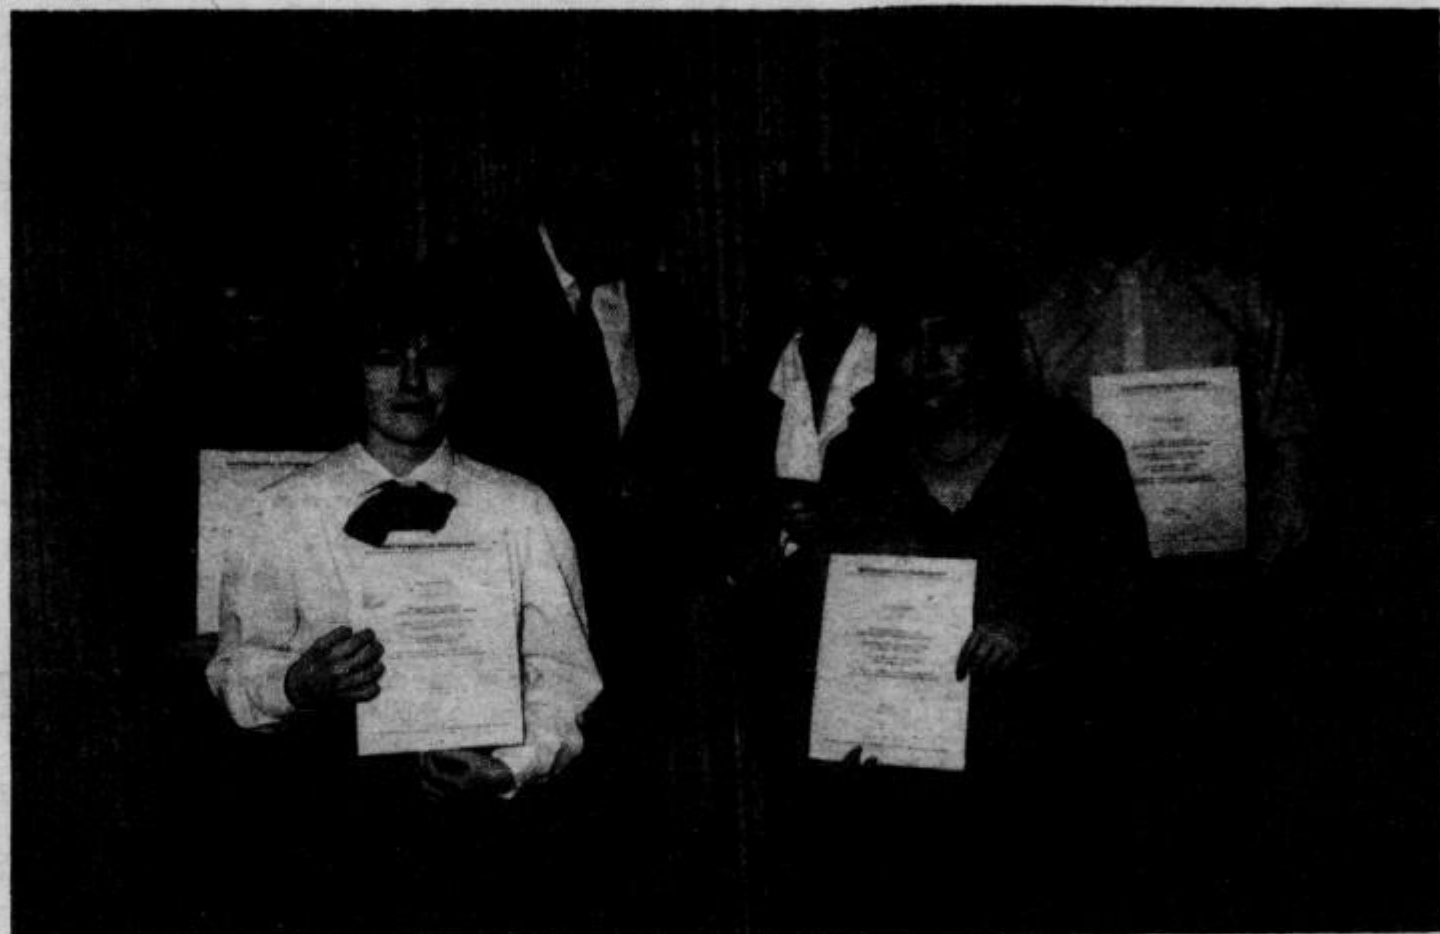

"The class was organized for exchange students only. It informed us about the evolution of the country sides and cities of England," said Taylor.

Besides classroom work, the course included field trips to The Peak District National Park, York, the Lace Market District and Sherwood Forest.

In addition to the LHU contingent, students from New York State University, Oneonta College, Salem State College, Lander College and Paderborn University in Germany also participated in the program.

Castner added that the courses were a great experience and a cheap and easy way to see the country.

"Considering the students came from backgrounds outside environmental studies, the quality of the majority of the submitted work was most impressive," said Trent Polytechnic professor John Beynon.

Faculty lecture series to begin tonight in Ulmer Planetarium

By Tammy Rekito
Staff Reporter

The first lecture in this semester's faculty lecture series will be given tonight by Dr. Roosevelt Green, assistant professor of sociology and social work, at 7:30 p.m. in Ulmer Planetarium.

The lecture will be entitled "The Black Church and the Black Family."

Green is planning to trace the origins of the black church and the black family back to the African civilization.

According to Green, he also plans to show the significance of the black church and black family in America today, and will present the problem of the lack of highly-placed black leaders in today's government.

"The positions that are held by black leaders are also associated with the black church," said Green.

He is also planning to elaborate on black folklore and black music and how it has contributed to America's culture.

Additionally, Green plans to discuss his belief on the correct name to use in reference to blacks.

"I believe blacks should be referred to as African-Americans," he said.

"All other nationalities in America have land-related names such as Irish-Americans and Italian-Americans," Green added.

Black History Month concludes at LHU

By Doug Rutter
Co-News Editor

The final three programs will be held this weekend as the celebration of Black History Month at Lock Haven University comes to an end.

According to Black Cultural Society (BCS) Vice President Lisa Hall, "It has been a good month so far. It was much better than last year's."

Black History Month is being celebrated nationwide during the month of February and is being sponsored locally by the BCS on the campus of LHU.

The Friday-night talent show will feature approximately 15 acts such as singing and dancing and is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Price Auditorium.

Saturday's festivities will include a fashion show which will be held in Bentley Dining Hall at 4 p.m.

The latest styles in apparel will be modeled by members of the Black Cultural Society and the International Club.

A presentation by Judith Thomas entitled "Blacks in America" will follow the show.

Dinner will be served at the fashion show, and an admission of $6.50 will be charged at the door.

A semi-formal dance will follow the fashion show at 10 p.m. in Bentley Lounge and is free to everyone.

The dance is scheduled to last until 2 a.m. and will feature DJ entertainment.

Hall mentioned that there has been a big turnout for very event thus far, and not just attendance of BCS members.

"There have been a lot of people enthused about the different programs," she added.

In her opinion, the tribute to poet Langston Hughes has been the best program.

Hall said, "Mr. Lucas did an excellent job with the poetry readings. I think a lot of people enjoyed it."

FROM THIS ANGLE

From This Angle's purpose is not to answer questions, but stir emotions

By Joe Jones
Editorial Columnist

They're finally letting their voices be heard.

Since I started writing for the Eagle Eye at the beginning of this semester, many people have come up to me and said that they agree with what I have been writing about but, thank my lucky stars, for each agreement there is someone willing to argue with me about my OPINION.

That is the key word, opinion, my column presents an opinion -- my opinion.

I never claim to have the correct answer, I just try to stir up a little emotion in people so that they will feel compelled to let their views on a certain subject be aired.

In my Public Affairs Reporting class, Dr. Douglas Campbell gave a beautiful definition for news. I take that definition and stretch it all the way to the definition of journalist.

A journalist should present to people information so that they are able to make a decision, and that is what I strive for each time I write.

So far, it seems to be a pretty good standard to go by because over the past few weeks, I've received letters and have had conversations with people who want to make sure that it is known that not every one agrees with my opinions.

I have had some good and stimulating conversations and correspondences from group leaders to student athletes, and appreciate and value everyone's opinion.

I may not agree with them, but I appreciate them just the same and sometimes, I have even tended to agree with the person who was arguing with me.

So, you are not just arguing but also educating yourself, because sometimes a person can take a new view toward a subject through your opinion and knowledge and learn from it.

I applaud all those people who have taken the time to express their opinions and hope that it will continue. The perfect place for this expression is in the Eagle Eye, because this newspaper always appreciates and welcomes letters to the editor.

Lisa Klepp scored 22 points and Lori Young hit three crucial free throws late in the second half to lead the Lady Eagles to a 72-68 come from behind victory over the Lady Rockets of Slippery Rock Saturday.

After leading much of the first half, the Lady Eagles faced a rejuvenated Slippery Rock team in the second half and were down by as much as nine (52-43) with 12:24 left in the game.

The Lady Eagles (13-8, 5-3) mounted a come back with 5:51 left in the game as they took a 62-61 lead on a free throw by Young.

The two teams traded baskets until Slippery Rock took a 68-66 lead with 2:52 remaining. Maryellen Jaskuta re-tied the score at 68-68 with :58 remaining and Young hit two pressure free throws with :19 left to clinch the victory.

"They were the biggest clutch shots I've ever seen any body take," Klepp said about Young's free throws.

Klepp put the icing on the cake with :04 remaining with two free throws, making the final score 72-68.

Klepp led all scorers with 22 points. Jaskuta had 17 points for the Lady Eagles while Donna Sergi contributed 13.

The Bald Eagle cagers got back on the winning track with a 82-58 crushing of Slippery Rock on Saturday night.

"We got off to a really good start against Slippery Rock," said Head Coach Kurt Kanaskie. "We knew it was going to be a tough game, we came out with fire in our eyes and took control of the game early."

Lock Haven used two slam dunks by Jeff Null and an alley-oop from Eric Hearn to Dean Kriebel to open up a 13 point lead (42-29) at halftime.

It was more of the same in the second half as the Eagles outscored the Rock, 40-29, to seal the victory.

Jeff Null lead the Eagles with 16 points and eight rebounds. Junior Price kicked in 15 and Kevin Charney added 13.

Kurt Williams was the game's high scorer with 18 for Slippery Rock. Teammate Irvin Glaze added 12.

"We just had a tough loss at Edinboro," said Null. "We had to come back and prove ourselves tonight."

The loss drops Slippery Rock to 2-6 in the PSAC and 7-18 overall. Lock Haven continues to lead the PSAC with a 7-1 record and 18-6 overall.

The Bald Eagles hosted the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown last night. The scores were unavailable at press time.

Tomorrow Lock Haven travels to California (PA) for a PSAC showdown. The Eagles defeated the Vulcans at the Field House earlier this season 86-76.

West Virginia defeats LHU wrestlers by 21-19 margin

By Scott Crispell
Sports Reporter

The West Virginia Mountaineers got four consecutive wins (134 to 158) to sneak by Lock Haven, 21-19, Saturday in Morgantown, West Virginia.

Craig Corbin and Dicky Howell put the Bald Eagles in front early with a major decision and a pin, respectively.

Corbin rolled to a 9-1 victory over Joe Yancosky at 118, while Howell decked Allan Masters in 4:19 at 126.

Trailing 10-0, the Mountaineers came roaring back through the middle weights to take the lead.

Chris Mary got the ball rolling with a 4-3 win over Jeff Husick at 134.

At 142, Scott Collins avenged an early season loss to Mike Lingenfelter with an 8-5 win.

Third ranked Jim Akerly tied the team score at 10-10 with a 9-0 major decision over Thane Turner at 150.

Tom McGourty gave West Virginia a four point lead with a major decision at 158. McGourty hit John Barrett with a five point move late in the bout to win 10-2.

Lock Haven mentor Neil Turner saw these four bouts as a key to the final score.

"We thought going into the match that 134, 142 and 158 were key matches," said Turner. "We thought we had to win two out three of those bouts. We knew we couldn't get swept."

At 167, Jody Karam stretched his unbeaten string to 23 with a pin over 20th ranked Gordon Taylor. Karam stuck Taylor with a headlock at 5:33 to put LHU back on top, 16-14.

West Virginia immediately regained the lead as Craig Costello recorded a major decision over Jeff Karam at 177. Costello got a late takedown and picked up a point for time advantage to win 11-3.

The lead changed hands once again at 190 when Bill Freeman downed Brett Smith, 11-5. Freeman's win put Lock Haven ahead, 19-18 with one bout remaining.

Jeff Spinetti gave the Mountaineers the win with a 9-2 victory over Mike Mazza at heavyweight.

With the loss, the Bald Eagles dropped to 8-5 on the year and 1-3 in the Eastern Wrestling League. LHU's five losses have come at the hands of three "Top 20" teams and have been by a total of nine points.

"We have been one win short in all of our losses," said Turner. "Someone has to step forward and get that win for us."

West Virginia, rated 16th in the nation in the latest issue of Amateur Wrestling News, improved to 8-4 overall and 1-2 in the EWL.

Number 18 Lock Haven will travel down Interstate 80 to meet Bucknell, Wednesday, before visiting second ranked Penn State this Saturday.

The line-ups for the Bucknell meet are:
118- Craig Corbin vs. John Lawton.
"We are going to give Dicky Howell a chance to rest up for second ranked Jim Martin this weekend," said Turner.

126- Jeff Husick vs. Mark Faglioni. Husick defeated Faglioni 5-2 in the Mat-Town USA Tournament.

134- Anthony Melfi vs. Ed Curran. Curran lost to Willy Metzger 2-0 at Mat-Town. Metzger will also get the night off in order to prepare for Penn State.

142- Mike Lingenfelter vs. Bruce Tharp.

150- Marc Speal vs. Carl Chambers. "This is a good opportunity to get Speal a varsity match and give Thane a day off," said Turner.

158- John Barrett vs. Kevin Bullis.

167- Jody Karam vs. Mike Bomberger.

177- Jeff Karam vs. Rob Redfoot.

190- Bill Freeman vs. Mark Dawson. Dawson was fourth at Mat-Town.

HWT- Mike Mazza vs. Ellory Crissman. This match will be like "David vs Goliath." Mazza will have to try to make the minimum of 178 pounds while the former Lock Haven High School grappler, Crissman, has to cut weight to make the 275-pound weight limit.
