

When Will You
Return that Tux?

COLLEGE TIMES

We Want
Bloomsburg's
Scalp

State Teachers College, Lock Haven, Penna.

VOL. VIII—NO. 42

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1930

5 Cents Per Copy

SENIOR DANCE HOLDS SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT

College Gymnasium Was Very Beautifully Decorated in Rose and Silver.

We all have heard that "anticipation is far better than realization." We have also heard that there is always an exception to the rule. The greatest of these was the "realization" of the Senior Prom on Saturday night. We feel that this social event, truth be told, acclaims this event the most outstanding of the school year. Never was there so much planning, never so much anxiety. That the affair was a success is self-evident.

Renewing old acquaintances with returning alumni and greeting our guest was the first real thrill. When we stepped into the Gym, we had to stop a minute to regain our composure and pinch ourselves to wake up to the realization that we really were still in our own element.

Decorations were carried out in the class colors of rose and silver, transforming the every day appearance of the Gym into a veritable dancing place. Dance programs followed the same scheme.

The orchestra, a Williamsport production, was one of the main features in making the dance peppy.

The receiving line consisted of the

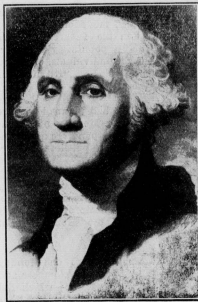

Continued On Page Four

"Y. W. C. A. TREASURE CHEST" GIVEN AT MEETING

On Wednesday evening, February 12, the Y. W. C. A. presented a play "Y. W. C. A. Treasure Chest," to a large audience. For years the villainous pirate had kept the keys to a chest of jewels and a chest of aesthetic treasures of womanhood in his possession. Finally one young girl asked the pirate for the key to the treasure chest which contained the things so valuable to women everywhere. The pirate wondered at the courage of this girl and her desire for the key which was finally surrendered and the contents of the chest were shown to the pirate.

The Y. W. C. A. members taking part were—Interpreter ——— Dorothy Grubb
Pirate ——— Henrietta Maurey
Every Girl ——— Mary Bair
The Association ——— Mildred Granville
The Three Recreation Girls—Laura

Continued On Page Two

WASHINGTON

"The name of Washington is inseparably linked with a memorable epoch. He adorned this epoch by his talents and the nobility of his character, and with virtues that even envy dare not assail. Great from the outset of his career, patriotic before his country had become a nation, brilliant and universal despite the passions and political resentments that would gladly have checked his career, his fame is today imperishable—fortune having consecrated his claim to greatness, while the prosperity of a people destined for grand achievements is the best evidence of a fame ever to increase."—Talleyrand.

"When we come to such a person as Washington, men seem to have agreed that here was greatness which no one could question, and character which no one could fail to respect."

"Washington stands as a type, and has stamped himself deep upon the imagination of mankind. He rises up from the dust of history as a Greek statue comes pure and serene from the earth in which it has lain for centuries."

"In the progress of time Washington has become in the popular imagination largely mythical. The old sentiment of humanity, more ancient and more lasting than any records or monuments, which lead men in the dawn of history to worship their ancestors and the founders of states, still endures. Thus we have today in our minds a Washington grand, solemn and impressive. In this guise he appears as a man of lofty intellect, vast moral force, supremely successful and fortunate, and wholly apart and above all his fellow-men."

Continued On Page Three

CROWN OUR WASHINGTON

Arise—'Tis the day of our Washington's glory.
The gallants uplift for our liberties
From
Forever let Youth tell the patriot's story.
Who sweep award for freedom the fields of the sun!
Not with gold, nor with gems,
But with evergreen vernal.
And the banners of stars that the continent apart,
Crown, crown we the chief of the heroes eternal.
Who lifted his sword for the birth-right of man!

Lead, Face of the Future, serene in thy beauty,
Till o'er the dead heroes the peace shall gleam,
Till Right shall be Might in the councils of duty,
And the service of man be life's story supreme.
Not with gold, nor with gems,
But with evergreen vernal.
And the flags that the nations in brotherhood and peace
Crown, crown we the chief of the heroes eternal.
Whose honor was gained by his service to man!
—Henrich Butterworth.

Intra-Mural Teams Play Close Games

The second week's play of the Men's Intra-Mural Basketball Tournament ended with Cross leading the pack in the American League and McLean showing the way in the National League. Both teams boast an undefeated record so far, having won both games played. The games played last week were close, hard-fought battles with one exception when McLean's outfit romped to a 76-21 victory over Grieco's band. Captain McLean was high scorer of the evening with 45 points. Every other member of his team contributed to the team scoring. For Grieco, Hartz stood out with 13 points. In the Johnson-Kell fracas, which found Kell on top when the final whistle blew, Lohr, Kell, Rich, starred for the Kellites with Captain Johnson high scorer for his outfit.

The next two games brought together Captain Bossert's Bruisers and Captain Rohrbach's band in one game and Captain Cross undefeated outfit matched with Captain Blitzer's five. In the former game Rohrbach came out on top by a score of 18-14 with Rohrbach high scorer. The close guarding of Hank Smith stopped Bossert's quintet time after time. The scoring for the Bruisers was evenly distributed. In the other game Cross undefeated band met and van-

Continued On Page Four

BUY A PRAECO

The Book For
Everybody

SHIPPENSBURG DOWNS LOCAL VARSITY 39-28

Raiders, After First Quarter, Battle
on Even Terms With Down River Quintet.

In a game that, except for the opening quarter, was evenly fought, the local varsity five fell before the superior shooting of the Shippensburg Teachers College quintet at that place last Friday evening.

A capacity crowd was on hand, expecting to see their favorites come through with an overwhelming victory over the Lock Havenites. The first quarter, which ended 10-1 in favor of Shippensburg, seemed to bear out their expectations but from then on to the finish, Coach Morgan's Raiders proceeded to battle the down-river aggregation on an even basis as far as scoring went and, by far, outplayed the general all-around play was concerned.

Smooth Teamwork.

Time after time the Raiders worked the ball down to their opponents' basket only to have their attempts to score go wild or roll off the hoop tantalizingly. Their team-play was much smoother than the final score indicates and had their scoring attempts been more accurate, a different story could have been told. As it was the boys came back after the opening quarter and, showing a flash of their real scoring ability, rang up a total

Continued On Page Four

MR. ULMER ATTEND VISUAL EDUCATION CONFERENCE

Prof. Ulmer, of the college faculty, attended a conference on visual education held in Harrisburg, February 13 and 14. About forty delegates, representing most of the Teachers Colleges of the state, were in attendance at this meeting.

The conference was called by Dr. Hobin, head of the Visual Education Department of the state, for the purpose of discussing Dr. Hobin's plan of organizing a course of visual education with credit to be given by the Teachers College of Pennsylvania.

This conference was somewhat like a school in that the representatives received instruction in the use of lantern slides and movies. They discussed what aids visual education should give and what constitutes a good slide and a good movie. The big idea of the conference was to promote visual education in every subject.

Heart Throb Bureau

Through some malicious malediction of Cupids, or perhaps by some mad mania of his own mind, Dr. Agnes managed to mangle himself into the manacles of matrimony. The ministerial pontiff pronounced the nuptials on Friday and already the Doc has had occasion to lament the lunacy that led him to mar his manly manner and mix himself in the meshes of marriage. On Friday afternoon the great Doctor married Miss Ima Junior of this College. The bride was dressed in a beautiful old rose arpon and wore a pair of green beads around her neck. She carried a large bouquet of Clinton County Catnip. Sweet essences of Hash from the dining room filled the air and as the ceremony was being performed the College Orchestra struck up the tune of the Marsellaise. Members of the Times Staff who attended the wedding were deeply impressed by the sweetness of the bride and the utter innocence of the groom. After a short trip to the arbor the happy couple returned to the Times Room where they have employment for some weeks to come.

It seems the girls in this institution of higher thought, or what have we, fall harder for blind dates than an intoxicated steeple-jack in the metropolis. The Doctor wishes to announce that there will be one less girl (his wife) running around the Campus two weeks before the dance with her hair stuck to her head like a scalped Indian in a cloud burst.

The following letter seems to sum up the substance of a common college problem so we will treat it in this issue:

Dear Doc:—
I suppose a fellow who is away from home should give the old folks a break and write to them once a week. I have been so terribly busy that I haven't been able to do as I should. I am so overworked. What would you suggest?
I. M. LAZY.

Dear Lazy:—
I know what I would do if I were your father but in case he doesn't do it, I suggest the following solution: Have someone mimeograph about fifty copies of the following letter. Each week take a copy and underline the word in parenthesis that is true at the time you are writing.

Dear Mother:—
I am (well sick). I need ($84.50 $72.00 $25.00 $10.00 $5.00 $2.00). I am flunking (all most) of my courses.
I am (not still) going with the old girl.
Your Son Lazy.

GUARDED

Cop—"Aren't you afraid to leave your rascalon coat there in the rumble seat?"
Motorist—"It's all right, officer, a friend of mine is inside minding it."

Editor's Note.

The Praeco Staff is making a campaign for individual pictures and, therefore, discussions and plans for this feature should be considered as a part of every club item this week. Stunt night plans are still a vital factor in all Klub Korner items, too. Frankly, we'll be glad when stunt night is past history.

*****

The Rho Omega Lambda and the Beta Sigma Chi Sororities held their regular jamborees on Monday afternoon. The Bittersweets talked about teas, past and future.

*****

The Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority held formal installation of officers on Monday afternoon. For a list of those installed, please consult issue No. 39 of the "Times."

MR. STEPLE DELIVERS
INSPIRING VESPER TALK

Mr. Stemple gave us a new type of talk on Sunday evening at vespers. His talk was based on religion from a scientific point of view. All our modern inventions like the airplane, radio and telephone, the discovery of electricity and the use of it for power only strengthens our belief in God as an all powerful, all wonderful being.

The talk was developed by the suggestion that we follow one man down through the ages from the beginning of the world. The different scientific discoveries from the earliest times, the discovery of the Law of Gravitation, the invention of the telescope and microscope and the subsequent wonders portrayed through them has enhanced our feeling of God's supremacy more than all doctrine that can be preached.

There were very few students at vespers. What was the trouble? Couldn't you get there on time, or just what happened? We had made a record for attendance at vespers but it is gradually sliding down again. Bring it up. There is always something worth while; do not miss it.

DISAPPOINTED

Friend—"What makes you think there is something wrong with your family?"

Man—"Well, we got the car all paid for and they're not figuring on a new one yet."

Buy a Praeco—the Book For Everybody.

Alpha Zeta Pi (otherwise known as the Times Staff) met Monday evening and decided in the future to strive for punctuality, popularity and perfection (for the individuals, club and stunt respectively). "Hitich your wagon to a star, etc."

The Art Club had planned to have an open meeting Monday night but were forced to postpone the affair until Wednesday. We predict an entertaining affair.

The Education enthusiasts led by Mary Toolan and Martha Stahl elucidated the relationship of Psychology and Business at the Monday night meeting of Ed Club.

The Naturalists met on Monday night to talk about new members and have a feed. Question—which did they do most of—talk or eat? Either would be natural.

Y. W. C. A. DELEGATES
ATTEND CONFERENCE

The Mansfield State Teachers College was host to the Y. W. C. A. of Bloomsburg and Lock Haven last week, in the form of a very interesting and inspiring conference. Miss Alice Brown, field representative for the Y. W. C. A. presided. The programs were of great value, particularly to the Lock Haven branch. At the meeting various problems were brought up and a general discussion was held. Among these problems were the position of the Y. W. in Teachers College, the relationship of Y. W. and Student Council and the place of the faculty in Student Y. W. C. A. The planning of programs was a special feature of the conference. These programs foretell a happy and progressive year for Y. W. C. A.

Our school was represented by Mary Jane Nichols and Charlotte Caldwell. They report a very interesting time and they were very much impressed with the hospitality and good will prevalent in Mansfield.

“Y. W. C. A. TREASURE CHEST” GIVEN AT MEETING

Continued From Page One

- Smith, Kathryn Wagner, Betty Kohler.
- Girl Reserve _____ Ruth Conrady
- Girl Reserve Spirit—Health—Eleanor Miller.
- Girl Reserve Spirit—Knowledge—Gertrude Marks.
- Girl Reserve Spirit—Spirit—Mary Wolk.
- Girl Reserve Spirit—Hospitality—Alyce Ankeny.
- Sally Wilson coached the play.

LIFE IS CALLED BEST TEACHER

"Education is not merely a matter of book learning. In fact, it is doubtful whether the most significant things are learned from books," asserted Mr. Andrew, discussing mental health in the home in the February Journal of the National Education Association. "One learns by the responses which he makes to the world around him. We do not learn self control primarily by reading about it and committing to memory many facts about the nature of self control and its value, but by practicing self control. Similarly we learn honesty by being honest and courage by being courageous."

"More and more," says Mr. Andrew "we tend to realize that education is a matter of behavior. Our best schools are accepting this educational psychology but even those that do must realize that the school is in control of children not more than five or six hours a day. Less than 15 per cent. of the child's entire year is in the school-room."

Stresses Home Influence.
Mr. Andrew states the school can make no great progress in furthering the mental health of the child without the hearty support of the home, since so much of the child's life is spent responding to influences outside the school.

The writer deplores the well-known universal failure of teachers today to know the homes of their pupils. He points out that the kindergarten was the first division of the school to realize the value of home cooperation. One reason for this was the theory of Froebel, founder of the kindergarten, that there could be and ought to be a school without books.

In the kindergarten the children continue their play life under the guidance of trained teachers who seek to correlate home experience with that of the school. Mr. Andrew recalls that in Boston all kindergarten teachers are expected to visit the homes of their pupils as part of their work.

He urges the continuance of this home and school relationship into the higher grades of the school and encourages parent-teacher cooperation in associations and through exchange of visits on the part of the parent and teacher. The visiting teacher Mr. Andrew sees as a partial solution of the problem of bringing home and school closer together in educational purposes.

WRONG! WRONG!

Two colored gentlemen were making a hasty retreat from a chicken yard one night.
Rastus: "Do you see them flies a'coming behind us?"
Sambo: "Them ain't flies, brother, them's buckshot."

Buy a Praeco—the Book For Everybody.

COLLEGE TIMES

The College Times is published at Lock Haven State Teachers College, Lock Haven, Penna., by the Board of Editors of the College Times.

Published weekly during school year
Subscription rate, $1.00 per annum.

BOARD OF EDITORS

In-Chief—Elizabeth Dalby
Managing Editor—Margaret Benson
Business Editor—Reyce Johnson
Alumni & Exchange Editor—Mary Barnard
Men's Sports Editor—Einer Ellison
Girls' Sports Editor—Irene Russo
Joke Editor—Charlotte Mahaffey
Business Manager—William Sweet
Subscription Manager—Katherine Anderson
Circulation Manager—Norman Morgan

Staff Writers—

Robert Bollinger, Anna Mary Gilson, Martha Zeigler, Samuel Long, Ralph Poorman, Alice Reed, Albert Sundberg, Sylvia Sykes, Elizabeth Mackley, Ruth Conrady, Maude Cunningham, Quentin Wolfe.

Typists:—

Margaret Spooner, Fay Bittner, Bernice Moran.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized June 3, 1923. Entered as Second Class matter November 5, 1928, at the Post Office at Lock Haven, Pa., under the No. of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1930

EDITORIALS

Every year we are reminded by the red "222" on our February calendar that we have reached another anniversary of the Father of Our Country. To most of us it means that it is just another day of inconvenience when the banks, stores and barber shops will be closed and we must sit in chapel and hear some one repeat kind words and praises about Washington.

Wouldn't it be better if we could prod our lazy mental processes into searching out the reasons why a man, any man, should be so great. Take just one characteristic of a strong and dominating character, justice, in a broad-minded way. Washington gives us a good example of this when on the return trip of his first visit to Ohio, he and his companion were following a temporary Indian guide. The guide suddenly turned and shot just one characteristic of an overpowered guide and Washington's companion was for taking the Indian's life at once but Washington refused and the guide was released to go on his way. Could any one of us have strength of character to do such a thing? Probably not. It requires so much thought and effort to attain strength of character, that we are likely to proceed with our petty quar-

US AND OTHERS

Anne Viering was called to her home in Johnstown on account of the death of her mother.

Al Read and Sally Wilson had a home-coming celebration at Sally's home in Altoona over the week-end.

Leona Douglas spent the week-end with Miss Gorsuch at Dickinson Seminary.

Kathryn Stiffler was a home visitor in Johnstown, Saturday and Sunday.

Dot King and Nellie Hess were home at Altoona over the week-end.

Kay Hardy spent the week-end at her home in Tyrone.

Betty Acton spent the week-end at her home in Philipsburg.

Margaret Lundy visited at her home in Montoursville over the week-end.

Betty Kohler and Loretta Wyar say that they won't want to go to meals for a week after spending the week-end with Dot Stitzer at Pleasant Gap.

Margaret Hooley visited at her home in Renova over the week-end.

Gwynell Morgan visited at her home in Williamsburg, Saturday and Sunday.

Elizabeth Southern spent the week-end at her home.

Mary Burky, of Portage, spent the week-end here visiting her niece, Maude Cunningham.

Viola Monteth had the pleasure of entertaining her mother this week-end.

Mary Bair spent Saturday and Sunday at her home.

Bob Bollinger spent the week-end at his home in Johnstown.

John Duke and John Kachick visited their homes in Snow Sho.

Lester and Chester McCall returned to their home at McAlvys Fort for the week-end.

Kermit Stover visited at his home in Coburn.

Allen Sekula was the guest of James Harlan at his home in Jersey Shore.

Harold McIlvaine was home in Altoona on Friday.

Buy a Peace—the Book For Everybody.

rels and help to make the world miserable. Let us smile and forget more of the injustices we receive; we will be happier.

Prod the old mentality and see where you can apply more of the staunch and noble characteristics of great men. You will learn to know these men better and besides it will feel wonderful just to be getting ahead.

ALUMNI NOTES

The engagement of Miss Christina G. Wolfe, to Mr. William F. Meyers, of Arnold, Pa., has been announced. Miss Wolfe was graduated January, 1930.

Among our week-end visitors who attended the Senior Ball were a great many of our Alumni. Dorothy Gearhart was the guest of Reba Franklin. Jolly is teaching in the fourth grade at Garfield School in Altoona. She graduated in June, 1929.

Doree Mattern, former graduate of the Class of '29, is teaching in Philipsburg, in the third grade.

Edith Morrison, who was here for the dance, is at her home in Williamsport doing supply teaching.

Peg Ferguson is going to Beaver College this year. She was graduated here in June, 1929.

It looked like good old times to see Rhea Miller, Lillie Johnson and Freda Matsin together in the dining room. Rhea is teaching in Salt Lake City in Elk County. Lillie is teaching in Ridgway and Freda in South Williamsport.

Jean Peters, another '29 graduate, is teaching in Altoona.

MISS RUSSELL GIVES TALK ON "CHARACTER OF LINCOLN"

On Wednesday morning Miss Russell helped us to celebrate Lincoln's birthday fittingly by giving us a portrayal of his character gleaned from various sources. Mr. Lincoln was all that people have said of him, honest, humorous and human. The qualities were gained from his association with nature and his life in the backwoods of the middle west.

Stephen Vincent Benet in a poem that is well known by many of the students of Lock Haven, "John Brown's Body," gives some very good character studies of Lincoln. Miss Russell read some of these and I am sure we were all better acquainted with Lincoln, the man, after she was finished.

Several little instances given by Miss Russell showed us that Lincoln was human. So many people think of Lincoln only as a war time presidential hero. He was in reality a man who had the good of his country at heart and who would save the Union at any cost.

MORE THAN THAT

One banker has said that college education sets a man back three or four years, and the man who has a son there can tell you that is not all it does.

Senior Play to be Given February 28

When an irritable force meets an immovable object, what is the result? Many people have tried to give the answer and on Friday night, February 28, "Friendly Enemies," will present one more answer. "Friendly enemies" is this year's Senior play, a three-act comedy written by Samuel Shipman and Aaron Hoffman.

It gives us another of the many angles of the World War—that of a German family disrupted by conflicting loyalties. How the son who is loyal to the United States and the father who is a native German, loyal to his fatherland, finally become reconciled to each other's view points, is the theme which runs through three acts of sparkling comedy, tempered with the inevitable tragedy when the father discovers his son's apparent disloyalty.

But to tell any more would be to "let the cat out of the bag" and we shall let you do that for yourselves on the night of February 28th.

The Cast.

Walter Stuart—Gordon McCloskey
Nora—Kathryn Barnham
Marie Pfeiffer—Margaret Spooner
June Block—Warrene Scott
Karl Pfeiffer—Foster Augustine
Henry Block—Russell Bohm
William Pfeiffer—Earl Smith

WASHINGTON

Continued From Page One

"Behind the popular myths, behind the statueque figure of the orator and preacher, behind the general and the president of the historian, there was a strong, vigorous man, in whose veins ran warm, red blood, in whose heart were stormy passions and deep sympathy for humanity, in whose brain were far-reaching thoughts, and who was informed throughout his being with a restless will. In the right interpretation of the words, and the deeds, and the true history known to all men—we can surely find George Washington the noblest figure that ever stood in the forefront of a nation's life."

Before George Washington died, he said to Dr. Crick: "I die hard, but I am not afraid to die."

—John T. Morse, Jr.

SURE OF SOMETHING

"How is your husband's lawsuit getting along?"

"He thinks he will get either two months in prison or two months in Palm Beach from it."

GOOD ALIBI

He—"Why do you persist in driving that antiquated wreck?"

He (munchy married)—"I spend many evenings downtown and that car is my alibi for not getting home."

Buy a Peace—the Book For Everybody.

SHIPPENSBURG DOWNS LOCAL VARSITY 39-28

Continued From Page One

of 12 points while holding their opponents to a total of 16 points.

Poust and Bardo led the offensive during this period, with Robb also scoring on a long shot from center. However, Cowfer was more than holding his own, stopping many of the offensive thrusts attempted by Shippensburg. The third quarter found the down-river boys shooting from all angles and from all parts of the court. Most of their shots were so hurried by the fast defensive play of the Raiders that they started from outside the foul line yet so unmany was their aim that they were able to pile up a total of 32 points as against 20 for the Maroon and Grey.

During the final quarter, Coach Morgan attempted to turn the tide by frequent substitution but the margin was too great to overcome. The last few minutes of play saw a regular attack allowed upon the blackboards by the Raiders but to no avail, the game ending 39-28 in favor of Shippensburg.

Lock Haven Lost on Shooting.

The boys simply were not on in their shooting and that one thing explains their defeat. No alibi is attempted. Shippensburg deserves credit for winning, yet any one who witnessed the game cannot help but feel that, with the boys exhibiting the same brand of floor work they put up and being more successful in their scoring attempts, the game would have ended differently. However, no amount of explaining can win games so we'll pass it by and look to the remainder of the schedule.

Two home games remain. Next Saturday with Bloomsburg Teachers College and the following Saturday with Dickinson Seminary. In order to end the season right the boys need the support of all students and every one connected with the school so let's show how much spirit and faith we have in the team and also in the coach by turning out next Saturday and helping the boys play host to Bloomsburg. Remember the date—Saturday evening, February 22.

Buy a Praeco—the Book For Everybody.

TEACHIN'

Just a settin' in a school room
In a great big easy chair
And a begin'n' things a movin'
With a lordly sort of air.

Not a thing to do but askin'
Lot of questions from a book,
Speciin' kids to know the answers
The they're not allowed to look.

That's teachin'!
Just a drawin' great big money
An' a livin' like a lord;
Jest makin' folks pay taxes
From their hard-earned stored-up hoard.

Keeps them buyin' books and fixin's
That they ownover really need.
Snap. I'll say so. Gosh a'mighty!
Easiest livin' ever see'd.

That's teachin'!

CAMPUS CHATTER

At last we have proved that it can be done; we've had a formal dance—and everyone had a "squirrelly" time. How about it, Essie?

*****

Every college has its Red Grange. But Foley found that it didn't work on the basketball floor—they wouldn't let her run with the ball. Oh, cruel world!

*****

In a discussion of feeble-mindedness and its causes—
Grieco—"Well, Dr. Rude, I've heard that if you speak a child too much it will make him feeble-minded."
Dr. Rude—"But you don't speak a child on the head, do you?"

*****

They're taking inventory now, with seats all assigned for Girls' Meeting. Next thing they'll be doing is branding us for fear we'll wander away from the fold.

*****

Bob Bollinger went home at Christmas time to give her the diamond; we hear he was in Johnston again this week-end—what was it for this time, Bob, to buy the furniture?

*****

Campus refrain for this week—
"After the ball is over."

*****

George's birthday on Saturday—here's a wager: bet we have cherry ice cream on Sunday! What ever possessed him to cut down that cherry tree?

INTRA-MURAL TEAMS PLAY CLOSE GAMES

Continued From Page One

quished Bitner's fighting five by a score of 31-20. Bloom and Katchick were high scorers for Cross while Sekula and Ziff furnished the scoring power for Bitner's outfit.

On account of the Senior Class Saturday evening, no games were played Friday evening.

The standing of the teams follow:

National League
Team	G.	W.	L.	Pct.
McLean	2	2	0	1.000
Grieco	2	1	1	.500
Kell	2	1	1	.500
Johnson	2	0	2	.000

American League
Team	G.	W.	L.	Pct.
Cross	2	2	0	1.000
Rohrbaugh	2	1	1	.500
Bossett	2	1	1	.500
Bitner	2	0	2	.000

Ten Highest Scorers.
Name	Team	Points
McLean	(M)	64
Katchick	(C)	39
Mack	(BO)	25
Hager	(M)	23
Lohr	(K)	22
Hatter	(G)	18
Sekula	(BI)	17
R. Smith	(J)	17
Kell	(K)	16
Renninger	(R)	16

IN THE WASH!

Fred—"Why are you wearing that old sweater to class? Haven't you a clean shirt?"

Bob—"Sure. I have lots or shirts but they are both at the laundry."

MOST ANY STUDENT.

Teacher—"What did you say?"

Student—"Nothing."

Teacher—"How did you express it this time?"

SENIOR DANCE HOLDS SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT

Continued From Page One

president of the Senior Class, Russell Bohn, his guest, Miss Mildred Klyler, Miss Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. High.

During intermission dance varieties and novelties were cleverly portrayed by several members of Lock Haven's "very young set."

We feel that much credit is due the committees who worked so hard to reviewed by every one who was there with pleasant memories of one of the "best times ever."

Buy a Praeco—the Book For Everybody.

RAY ZANER ANNOUNCES BIGGER AND BETTER PRAECO

On Tuesday morning of last week Ray Zaner, representing the Praeco Staff, made a few announcements in chapel. It seems that in former years the Praeco has been a book for Seniors only; this year it contains writings of every student in the school be Freshman or Senior. Mr. Zaner did his best to impress this on the minds of the students by a well-planned talk.

The Praeco will cost about seven dollars to publish but we can purchase it for five. Who does not want seven dollars for five? Then this year there is to be an addition of about thirty-two pages to the book, this means a better Praeco. Watch the bulletin board for the names of those who are taking subscriptions for this book and hand them your five dollars in the next two weeks so that the staff will be able to make a book fitting their motto, "A Bigger and Better Praeco."

Buy a Praeco—the Book For Everybody.

Lock Haven Downs Curtin Faculty Five

Before a capacity crowd of loyal rooters, the Teachers' College quintet smothered the Curtin Faculty Five of Williamsport last Tuesday evening on the local college court by a score of 50-22.

The victory averaged a defeat earlier in the season by a 40-44 score which the Curtin Five inflicted upon the Raiders. Coach Morgan's team out-played the down-river boys throughout the entire game and were never in danger of being overtaken. With Poust and Robb, the locals bombarded the hoop during the first half and rolled up a lead of 25-11. Cowfer and Bardo held off the visitors' attack so effectively that most of the few shots they obtained were hurried and wild.

The second half was a repetition of the first with the Raiders completely in command of the situation. Coach Morgan substituted several times during the half without weakening the attack or defense of the locals. The game ended with a final score of 50-22 in favor of the Teachers' College.

The cheering of the local rooters was of a high order and much to be commended. The cheer leaders made a natty appearance in their new sweaters and put plenty of pep into the large crowd assembled to witness the game. Spirit with a capital S was present and showed the increasing interest that has been aroused among the student body. It is hoped that this interest and enthusiasm continues without any let-up. Two home games remain on the schedule—Bloomsburg Teachers' College and Dickinson Seminary.

REVENGE IS SWEET

Lock Haven	F. G.	F.	T. P.
Plummer, F.	6	0x3	12
Robb, F.	5	2x3	12
Poust, C.	3	0x3	18
Bardo, G.	9	1x3	7
Cowfer, G.	0	0x3	0
McMullen, F.	0	1x3	1
Sundberg, G.	0	0x3	0
Poorman, G.	0	0x3	0
Malone, F.	0	0x3	0
Totals	23	4x13	50

Curtin Faculty	F. G.	F.	T. P.
Morgan, F.	0	2x3	2
Easley, F.	2	0x3	4
Ehwan, C.	3	3x3	9
Brungard, G.	2	1x3	5
Glen, G.	1	0x3	2
Ferguson	0	0x3	0
Stanley	0	0x3	0
Milward	0	0x3	0
Scalfie	0	0x3	0
Totals	18	6x9	22
L. H. T. C.	23	27	50
1st Half	2nd Half	Total
L. H. T. C.	23	27	50
Curtin Fac.	11	11	22

Buy a Praeco—the Book For Everybody.