U. S. - Latin American Relations

On the weekend of February 11-13 the campus was represented at a conference on U. S. Latin American Policy which took place in Washington, D.C. The conference was co-sponsored both by the United States National Student Association and the Collegiate Council for the United Nations; which happen to be among the largest student associations in the country.

Most observers feel that there has been a substantial change in United States policy toward Latin America under President Johnson's is how the sponsors open their introductory pamphlet on the conference. The first page of this pamphlet goes on to state that under the present Administration we have officially recognized a series of governments which came to power through military coups; we have stated publicly that we will not categorically oppose such governments in the future; and we have intervened militarily in the Dominican Republic.

The purpose of the USNSA-CCUN Conference was to review these actions and to consider their implications for the future of our relations with Latin America. More importantly, it was to discuss the broad trends in Latin America and the prevailing attitudes of the U. S. Government and public toward the major problems of the hemisphere.

Several controversial questions of major interest were brought up at the Conference and, after profound consideration, solutions and suggestions were delivered and discussed. These topics were viewed in the light of official attitudes and present U. S. policy in the hemisphere. Alternatives to that policy were considered, and the responsibility of students in articulating such alternatives were discussed as well.

Among the speakers invited to discuss these points were Mr. Sacha Volman, one of the leaders of the democratic reform movement in Latin America; Mr. William P. Rogers, former deputy U. S. Co-ordinator for the Alliance for Progress; Mr. John J. Johnson, Professor of History at Harvard; Mr. Esteban E. Torres, Inter-American Representative for the United Auto Workers; and Mr. Dan Kurzman, Latin American correspondent for The Washington POST. The regional Director of the Peace Corps, Mr. Frank Maniewicz, was also present and contributed his viewpoints to the discussions.

Among the points pondered there was one that can be justly considered of tremendous importance to all Americans and that is: Can Latin America be

Dr. Zimmerli will Retire in June

"Professional educators have two fold purpose," said Dr. Zimmerli. "Not only must we develop individuals, but we must also prepare a capable teacher to go out to teach tomorrow's children.

She smiled as she noted the obvious progress in Lock Haven's physical education department. "We now have more than 450 women in our physical education department. I can remember a time when there were as few as 97. The staff has also increased in number. Surprisingly, there were as few as five at one time. Now we have more than fifteen."

Dr. Zimmerli has seen great progress made in her department during the last ten years, and has continued hope for future progress. She mentioned that many new courses would be available for non-majors as well as for majors. Lacrosse, weightlifting, advanced levels of dancing, and community golf are some of the additional courses included in the major field. "Progress will continue as new facilities are acquired and effective modernization is made," she said.

Dr. Zimmerli came to Lock Haven twenty years ago from a position as senior advisor, Division of Physical Education, in the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, Pa. She prepared for her career at Sargent School, Boston, Massachusetts. She received her M. A. degree at New York University, and her Doctor in Education degree from Stanford University in California, where she briefly held the position of head of the Department of Health and Physical Education before coming to Harrisburg.

When asked what her major aim has been during her twenty years at Lock Haven she replied, "to develop high standards and in doing so to prepare good teachers. It is only through the teachers of tomorrow that physical education will live."

Dr. Zimmerli is indeed a woman of enthusiasm and dedication. She was the first president of the Pennsylvania State Association of Recreation in 1951. She stands at the top of her profession as a winner in 1962 of the state association's Elmer B. Cottrell award, highest recognition of her exceptional service and personal philosophy.

Success lies high upon a wall that few can climb, but Dr. Zimmerli has more than scaled the height.

considered "Anti-American?"

In order to answer this we must ask ourselves if Latin America can be judged or even studied as a unit. Obviously the answer to the latter is negative, which may help us in answering the former. This procedure was used at the Conference and it was almost unanimously agreed that these nations are NOT Anti-American, and with the exception of a few small regions it can be considered quite friendly toward the U. S.

Among the suggestions received, the one with the best response was the idea of a "two-way street in the Peace Corps"; or a give and take system which would enable the South American countries try to help us solve some of our internal problems as we are trying to do in their territory.

One of the advantages of having lived in Colombia appeared during the visit, as there was a Mexico-American Inter-parliamentary Conference taking place over the same weekend and I managed to get some of the topics judged by the Mexicans in addition to some which they suggested themselves. Although time was not too expendable, I think I managed to extract some sensible conclusions from them and among these was an idea similar to the exchange of Peace Corps groups. In addition to the Mexicans there were a Venezuelan and an Ecuadorian with which I managed to exchange some ideas and they too agreed on this topic.

THE DEAN'S LIST

The following students are placed on the Lock Haven State College Dean's List for the fall semester ending January 20, 1966, as announced by Dr. Robinson. The honor is based on a semester average of 3.5 or better for those students who carried a full program for the semester.

The Greek Vine

Lambda Chi Alpha

If harmony among brothers is brotherhood, the brothers of LXA are very proud of the trophy that is resting in their house as a result of their harmonizing at the Greek Sing. It was by utilizing their harmonial ability that they won the first place award among fraternities. They would like to congratulate the other fraternities for their excellent performances, and also to congratulate the sororities for their fine showings. Special congratulations are extended to the sisters of Delta Zeta for their first place victory in the sororities.

The brothers also hope that all Greek organizations have had a very successful rush period and have obtained large pledge classes. In our house, special congratulations and thanks are in order for our rush chairman, Dick Guyer, who we feel provided rushees and brothers with a rewarding rush period.

Last, but certainly not least, the brothers of LXA extend the greatest of congratulations to Coach Gray Simons and our number one wrestling team in their victory over Bloom.

Judo Exhibition

by BILL DEAN

The Athletic Committee of Smith Hall sponsored a Judo Exhibition on February 3, 1966, featuring Mr. Miller, instructor, and two of his students, Mr. Terry Longe and Mr. Karl Herrman.

After an informative resume of the history of Judo, Mr. Miller and his students demonstrated a number of basic throwing techniques of Judo, including: tai-Oteshi (Body Drop), O-Goshi (Hip Throw), Harai-Goshi (Sweeping Loin Throw), and the O-Seto-Gari (Reopening).

In order for one not to seriously injure himself, he must be able to fall correctly after being thrown. The art of falling, including the backfall and the sidefall, were shown as Mr. Miller throw Mr. Longe again and again. However, the tables were turned as, in response to prodding from the audience, Mr. Longe proceeded to throw his instructor.

Finally, Mr. Herrman threw Mr. Longe to point out some of the throws, Mr. Miller answered more questions, and everyone left with a basic understanding of the Japanese art of Judo.

ing forward to initiating the pledges. Walt Rudder, our pledge master, can hardly wait to get his hands on the pledges.

The KDR brothers would like to congratulate the wrestling team and Coach Simons on their fine mauling victory over the Huskies of Bloomsburg.

Sigma Pi

The Brothers of Sigma Pi would like to congratulate Coach Gray Simons and his fine team in their well-deserved win over Bloom. We know that this is only the beginning; wait until the NAIA's and National's!

The brothers have been very busy the last few weeks with rush, Greek weekend, and their election of new officers. The newly elected officers are: President, Steve Piper; Vice President, John McMahon; Treasurer, Nelson Silverstrim; Secretary, Jim Cicarello; Herald, Terry Shuman; Sergeant of Arms, Rich Shaffer.

Last Saturday night before the Bloom meet, we had a supper for the brothers and their dates. It was a very successful event, and we would especially like to thank our Steward, Jim Hoover, for cooking us a really great meal.

The brothers are now looking forward to their Founder's Day Banquet and dance which will be this Saturday night at the Moose Lodge.

With the rushing almost over, the brothers are starting to put all their ideas toward one objective — Beat Waynesburg!

Apathy Toward Praeco

The SCC committee which is trying to determine if there is enough interest to organize a yearbook next year, met last Saturday to discuss the progress of their plans. The first point of their three-point plan was realized last Thursday when all but one of the old Praeco staff said that they would either work next year or train someone to take their place.

The second and third point of their plan were put into effect on Friday when the Eagle Eye came out with the committee's questionnaire. The second point of the plan stated that five hundred of these questionnaires must be filled out. The third point stipulated that over two-thirds

S.E.E. News

For a four week period, the Union will remain open Friday and Saturday nights until midnight. One employee will be working in the food service area and the I.F.C. will be patrolling until the Union closes. After this time period, depending upon the behavior of the student body, final decisions will be made by the S.C.C. Directors.

The slate for next year's S.C.C. officers as presented by the S.C.C. Nominating committee is as follows: President, Jon Masood; Vice-President, Mark Wallace; Corresponding Secretary, Jeanie Belles; Recording Secretary, Judy Weisbrod; Treasurer, James Ciocarello. The day of election is March 9, from 9:00 a.m. till 7:30 p.m. On the ballot there will be spaces for write-ins giving the students an opportunity to vote for others than are on the slate.

of these questionnaires must be in favor of having a yearbook.

Although the committee was disappointed by the fact that at the time of the meeting only 90 questionnaires had been returned, they hearkened to the fact that all but one were in favor of having a yearbook next year.

The committee decided to take action in other directions by making a plea to the students through the daily bulletin, asking them to fill out the questionnaire.

22, 23, and 24, there will be a South Sea theme. A movie will be shown Friday night, and there will be a dance Saturday evening and a concert Sunday afternoon.

A question was proposed at the previous S.C.C. meeting concerning how the students who have gone home for a weekend can learn whether or not classes are being held on campus in the case of bad weather, as recently was the case. It was found that Dr. Parsons, Dean Robinson, and Mr. Young decide about the continuation of classes and then Mr. Young notifies WBPZ. This news goes as far west as Altoona and as far east as Philadelphia. It is simply recommended to the students to listen to the radio for information about the college.

Anyone wishing to sell food in the dorms must get permission from the Business Service Committee of the S.C.C.

To Apathy Or Not To Apathy

by HARLAN TAYLOR

Possibly every student knows that Praeco, Lock Haven State's yearbook may have its allocation cut by the SCC. The yearbook is suffering because of an insufficient staff which makes a good yearbook practically impossible. The staff is behind in their picture taking, and the whole Praeco schedule is disrupted.

The SCC feels (and a high official of the college agrees) that student apathy is the cause of Praeco's small staff. The staff of Praeco is too small; not enough students want to work

Food for Thought

by GEORGE JONES

Can you imagine eating a nice 1½" sirloin steak along with potatoes and onion rings at the Lock Haven State College Cafeteria? Ridiculous, you say. Well, you're wrong, because on the evening of February 10, 1966, twenty-five lucky (and bright) men from Smith Hall were treated to such a feast. The occasion was a banquet in honor of all the Smith Hall men that have an acpm. of 3.0 or better. Also in attendance were Dr. Gerald Robinson and Mr. Johnston of the Social Science Dept. After Dr. Robinson gave his congratulations to the students they all sat down to enjoy a fine dinner. So if you are a Smith Hall resident who doesn't think the cafeteria's cuisine is the best, get a 3.0 and have at least one good meal.

on Praeco. Therefore, the students do not want a yearbook. Thus the reasoning of the SCC. It is most logical: when students are apathetic towards something, that something should be taken away, destroyed. The students on this campus are apathetic towards Praeco, the yearbook. Therefore, Praeco should be taken away, destroyed.

In 1929, and until 1941, this country, and the whole world, was in the clutches of a depression. People with money, and there were a few, were apathetic towards investing in any business. Did Roosevelt destroy all American business? No, he tried to assist business. Is the SCC like our American government? There are a few important aspects in which the two governments are similar.

In both governments, the people pay taxes and expect to be represented. At LHSC, all students are required to pay a twenty-five dollar fee to the SCC. At LHSC, the tax paying students are represented at the council by elected representatives.

If the two governments are alike, why cannot they act alike? If the federal government tries to solve problems by trying to assist those people with problems, why cannot the SCC solve the Praeco problem by helping the yearbook?

The SCC can do this quite simply by checking the premiss contained in this argument.

In the first place, Praeco's problem does not stem from student apathy; but rather from the student's lack of information about Praeco. If any organization on this campus is to last, it must attract incoming freshmen, for freshmen will make up the organization in the future. Incoming freshmen know nothing about Praeco. At registration they are simply asked whether or not they want to buy a yearbook. Most of them do not even know what the yearbook is. Any new student who is interested in working on the Praeco staff is not told where he may go, what he may do, or whom he should see for information about Praeco.

It is the SCC's responsibility, as well as Praeco's, to inform the incoming student about Praeco. The SCC is spending our "tax monies" on the publication of Praeco. Therefore, because the SCC represents the student body, which includes the Praeco staff, the SCC should be interested in making Praeco a better organization. There should be no talk about destroying Praeco; there should only be discussion of means through which Praeco can be improved.

A survey ran by the Eagle Eye in the edition of February 18 revealed that 100% of those persons answering the questions asked wanted a yearbook. 15% of those people wanting a yearbook stated that they would work on the staff. Is this apathy?

Simply by calling Praeco's problem one of apathy, one that can be solved only by destroying Praeco, is not enough; indeed, it is fallacious. It would appear that LHSC must destroy some peoples' apathetic definition of apathy.

CLINK! CLANK! BANG!

Eagle Eye photographer Alex Morris demonstrates his muscular prowess at the Alpha Omega car smash. The members of this service fraternity purchased the limousine, vintage 1953, from a purveyor of deactivated vintage vehicles. They drove it up to Lock Haven from Avis, and removed the classic auto's wheels and glass.

Cracks, bops, kabooms, and bangs at the event were sold for ten cents each or three for a quarter. Some of the Bloomsburg guys did a rather thorough job of smashing in the roof. They climbed up on that roof and just dented it SO badly! Evidently they realized that it was their only opportunity to smash Lock Haven, and decided to take advantage of it.

Everyone who participated in the car smash seemed to have a good time. (Destructive beasts!)

Time—the essence of all wonder
 Hurries past in rapid fashion
 Leaving nothing for the looker
 Except the taste of ashes.

Those who feel its hot—cold breath
 Know what it is they're losing
 Others unaware of anything
 Happy in their ignorance.

Sensitivity is the key
 Of the chosen ones
 Who stand above the milling throng
 Interpreting the breeze.

Each to each talks of life
 Of the things found in it
 Thinking of the great ideas
 Discerning — or, so they think.

Yet, all who live will never know
 The answers to the questions
 Until the Time arrives for each
 The answer's simply Death.

OYE TU!

A group of Spanish majors has initiated a campaign to reinstate a Spanish club at Lock Haven State College. The campaign is enthusiastically supported by a few interested students. These students have decided, after affirmative response from the Spanish department, that the idea is feasible and advantageous to those lucky few.

The object of the club would be to acquire and to discuss information concerning a future dependent on Spanish. In addition, the members would sponsor activities such as typical Spanish meals, jam sessions, and the learning of popular Spanish music (singing, dancing, and listening).

Those interested should contact Mr. Koons, Peggy Billman, or John Bump for further information.

1. In its stepped-up offensive against the Viet Cong, the U. S. has relied heavily on aerial bombardment of supply lines, guerrilla concentrations and:

- A. Damn sites near Hanoi.
- B. Factories in Communist China.
- C. Soviet missile sites circling Saigon.
- D. Arms depots in Cambodia.

2. Joining the U. S. and South Viet Nam in fighting the Viet Cong are troops from Australia, New Zealand and:

- A. West Germany.
- B. South Korea.
- C. France.
- D. Nationalist China.

3. In addition to providing military men and materials, the U. S. has helped the South Vietnamese by all but one of the following:

- A. Building classrooms and roads.
- B. Training local government officials.
- C. Improving agriculture, and health care.
- D. Setting up factories to build armaments.

The Count's Secret

Once upon a time, there was a Count who had a profound secret. He simply refused to tell anybody what this secret was.

One day, the King found out that the Count had a secret. Now this particular King did not like secrets to be kept from him, so he called the Count forth to the castle.

"Tell me your secret," demanded the King, "or I'll have you thrown into the dungeon." "But I cannot tell my secret," quoth the Count. "Please, O King, I beg thee for mercy," pleaded the Count. The King was a heartless man, and would not listen to the Count's plea. He had the Count cast into the dungeon!

The King was most upset about not knowing the secret, so after he contemplated the situation, he called the Count before him and said "Tell me your secret or I'll have you beheaded." But the Count would not tell.

At dawn the Count found himself on the guillotine looking up at the blade which was about to sever his head. "This is your last chance," warned the King, but the Count still would not tell.

So the King pulled the release and the blade came rushing down and the Count screamed Stop! Stop! I'll tell! But it was too late. The Count was decapitated and the King never did find out the Count's secret.

The moral of this story is "Don't hatch your Counts before they chicken."

Bloom Tankmen nip LHSC

The six-meet winning streak of the Bald Eagle Mermen was ended by the visiting Huskies of Bloomsburg on Wednesday, February 16. The Bloom tankmen nipped the LHSC swimmers by one point, as the score read 48-47 at the end of the meet. The nip and tuck meet was decided in the last individual race. With Bloomsburg holding a very precarious 40-39 lead, they finished first and second in the 200-yard breast stroke event to command a 48-40 lead. Lock Haven won the 400-yard free relay to make the final score read 48-47 in favor of Bloomsburg.

Standout of the night for the losers was freshman Don Toucey who took first place in the 200 and 500-yard free style races with Dick Guyer finishing second in both. Other Bald Eagles who captured firsts in the meet were co-captains Don Faulkner

Bald Eagles top Juniata 57-50

The Bald Eagles of Coach Stan Daley won their second game in three days with a 57-50 victory over Juniata. This double victory marked the first time in five years that the Eagles have won two consecutive games. Juniata held the lead throughout the first half. The Eagles of Lock Haven pulled to within two points at the end of the first half. This closing of the gap was accomplished with field goals by Jeff Martin, Steve Daley, and Max Pavlovich. At the beginning of the second half the lead changed hands several times with Tom Lewis of the Eagles and Will Brandau of Juniata scoring. The Indians of Juniata went into a freeze with about eight minutes left in the game.

The maneuver backfired on the Indians when they missed their shot, and the Eagles got the rebound and tied it up at 46-46 with 5:19 remaining in the game. Tom Lewis then hit on two straight layups and the Eagles took the lead 50-46 with only 3:20 to play. At this point Lock Haven slowed the game down, looking for the good shot. Pavlovich sank a field goal and Lewis made a technical foul shot, putting the Eagles ahead to stay 54-48. Juniata scored one more field goal and the Eagles converted three foul attempts and the game was history.

in the 200 individual medley and Ed Hazlett in the 200-yard backstroke. The big gun for the Huskies was Biggs who copped laurels in the 200 and 100-yard events. He defeated Faulkner in the latter. It was the initial loss for Lock Haven's speed merchants.

The win made the Eagles 2-13 on the year. The final game of the year is Wednesday with Indiana State University on the Eagles' home court. The Eagles made nine of 11 foul shots which will not hurt their second place standing in the nation.

Basketball Team Loses at Clarion

Clarion State's Golden Eagles, one of the top teams in the Western Division of the State College Conference made its record 15-4 with an 82-58 victory over the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven State. The score at the end of the first half was only 34-25 in favor of Clarion, but the Golden Eagles had a strong second half to win going away. Lock Haven had won two in a row coming into the Clarion encounter. The Bald Eagles' record now stands at two wins and 14 losses on the season. Max Pavlovich with 16 points and Steve Daley followed closely with 14. Tom Lewis added eight and Ron Brehm six. Lock Haven's last game is next Wednesday again Indiana State University.

LHSC Proves Superiority in East - - Stomp Bloom

Many words could be used to describe last Saturday night's victory over the Bloomsburg Huskies. No matter which words one uses there is no question that Lock Haven State had the better wrestling team. Those who knew ahead of match time that Adam Waltz would not wrestle had their doubts of the outcome. Jeff Lorse, Bob Larson, Dick Rhoades, and every other wrestler on the Bald Eagle team dispelled any doubts anyone may have had.

Jeff Lorse set the tone of the meet and may have caused a great shift in things to come when he wrestled the finest match of his career, beating Keith Taylor who was previously undefeated. Lorse had Taylor in trouble several times during the match, but could not pin him. Taylor relaxed just as the pair was going off the mat at one point and Lorse obtained a very important takedown. This may have been the turning point of the match, although there were several chances for each wrestler to make his move in the 9-6 match. Bob Larson probably pulled a bigger upset than had been seen up to this point in the season. Larson decisively beat Jim Rolley, (NAIA champion), 14-8. This match consisted of a flurry of scoring including takedowns, predicaments, near falls, escapes, and reverses. As did Lorse, Larson had Rolley in trouble several times. In the 130 match, Larson came closer to clamping Rolley than Lorse did Taylor. These first two matches were two that Bloom expected to win, but the Eagles had other ideas. When Dick Rhoades decided Peters on riding time the Huskies knew they should have stayed home. They were expected to win the first two and maybe the first three weight classes.

With Adam Waltz out at 145 Bill Blacksmith moved down a weight and defeated a pretty good wrestler named Barry Sutter. Waltz had defeated Sutter at the Wilkes tournament by the score of 5-4. Blacksmith beat Sutter by the convincing score of 8-2. Bill Blacksmith completely dominated the match and at no time was he in trouble. Replacing the lighter Blacksmith was Daryl Claar who wrestled his first varsity match Saturday night. Claar performed admirably, losing only 8-6 to Campbell in a closely contested match.

Jim Blacksmith, at 160, defeated a highly touted sophomore by the name of Gerst. Gerst graduated from Danville High and has had a brilliant sophomore year at Bloom. Blacksmith did not clobber Gerst but the match score was indicative of the relative wrestling strength of the two men. The outcome was never in doubt. Tom Elling wrestling at his true weight of 167 defeated Neiswender by a score of 7-3. As in Blacksmith's match the outcome was never in doubt, and the superior wrestler won. Elling has done a splendid job in a tough role in his senior year at Lock Haven. John Smith met a heavier and more experienced opponent when he was moved up a weight to 177. Smith lost to Vargo by a fairly decisive score of 9-3.

Captain Jerry Swope decided Jim Lewis, (4-0-1), by a score of 6-1. This was Swope's 40th dual meet win and his 87th career victory. Bob McDermott won his fourth match without a loss by a default when his opponent suffered a knee injury near the end of the first period. McDermott was ahead 7-2 at the time on the strength of a takedown, reversal, and a near-fall. Lock Haven meets Waynesburg tomorrow night prior to the next few weeks of tournament competition. Waynesburg has an 8-3 record and always wrestles one of its best matches against the eagles. Here's the Bloom summary:

- 123—Lorse, LH, decided Taylor, 9-6.
- 130—Larson, LH decided Rolley, 14-8.
- 137—Rhoades, LH decided Peters, 5-4.
- 145—B. Blacksmith, LH decided Sutter, 8-2.
- 152—Campbell, B decided Claar, 8-6.
- 160—J. Blacksmith, LH decided Gerst, 6-2.
- 167—Elling, LH decided Neiswender, 7-3.
- 177—Vargo, B decided Smith, 9-3.
- 191—Swope, LH decided Lewis, 6-1.
- Hwt.—McDermott, LH won by default over DeWire.

Coach Russ Houk, twice NAIA coach of the year, expressed his agreement with a statement previously made by Coach Red Whitman of East Stroudsburg, a prominent eastern wrestling official, that Lock Haven has the best wrestling team in the East — even better than nationally-ranked Lehigh and Penn State.
