Van Deun assumes financial aid post

by CATHIE KEENAN Staff Reporter

As the holes in our pockets grow bigger and inflation more menacing, the appointment of Mr. Bryan Van Deun as Director of Financial Aid is most encouraging for any penny-pinching LHS students.

An alumnus of Franklin College, Mr. Van Deun served as Assistant Coordinator of Counseling at Iowa State University before becoming Financial Aid Director of Farleigh Dickenson College. The disadvantages of urban life and extended time away from home prompted Mr. Van Deun's arrival at Lock Haven.

The evaluation of student financial status and awarding of financial aid to needy students will be approached differently by the new assistant director of financial aid. To provide money for students who would otherwise not be attending college, Mr. Van Deun will be handling extensive federal and state financial resources.

While meeting the demands of his job, Van Deun stresses the importance of working with students on an individual basis. He places special emphasis on the subjective nature of financial aid evaluation, taking all aspects of students family

Five senators needed SCC elections slated for today

"I am surprised at the number of petitions that came in for the number of vacancies," said Melinda Smalley, S.C.C. Election Committee Chairwoman, referring to today's election for S.C.C. Senators.

Three positions need to be filled in McEntire Hall, one in Gross Hall, and one position for off campus. The responsibilities of a senate member are to attend all the S.C.C. meetings that are held the first and third Wednesdays

In an effort to come to the basis of a students financial difficulties Mr. Van Deun hopes to put his counseling experience to practical use. When confronted with financial problems he encourages students not to hesitate in applying for

Candidates running for the positions in McEntire Hall are Diane Calvert, Kathy McCargo, Jo Ann Morse, and Judy Smith. Paul Los and Steven Salute are running for the one Gross Hall senate

4-H leaders needed Letters to the editor

By PHILIP BURLINGAME
Staff Reporter

The Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service is looking for volunteers and you might be just the type of person they're after. In cooperation with the College of Agriculture Extension Service at Penn State and the United States Department of Agriculture, the local unit is trying to institute and expand the 4-H program in Clinton County and volunteers are being sought.

Becoming a 4-H organization leader simply requires the attendance of ten club meetings a year and about six planning meetings with club officers. Project or activity leaders only meet three to six times a year and, contrary to what you might think, 4-H "ain't just milking cows anymore."

The activities are both interesting and educational. Interested persons should dial 748-3110 and talk to the local extension service representative.

Library thefts

To the Editor:

The Library has long attempted to provide a variety of the better literature on human sexuality to the college community. In all matters, we feel that it is best if facts and ideas are made available as freely and openly as possible. We have always recognized that insecure or immature persons would react badly to this situation and perpetrate some damage on this collection, but in recognition of the wider interests served, this problem has been tolerable.

Now, in one week, it has been discovered that both our copies of Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex, But Were Afraid to Ask, by Dr. David Reuben, have disappeared. Such instances have been happening at a constantly increasing rate for some time, and this is some sort of threshold. We still feel that such materials should be made available, but we cannot continue to try to replace these materials and still meet our other problems of keeping up an academic library without enough money. We will try to solicit contributions of replacements, when and if such efforts promise to give some return.

It's been suggested that sometimes people steal from the library because they don't realize the huge cost and inconvenience in-olved. To a librarian, that explanation sounds like a confession of criminal negligence and involuntary manslaughter, but if circumstances permit, we may try to publicize some analysis of these costs in the future. Many of them are hard to calculate, some are inestimable. One of the most distressing is the long term effect on library staff. Most of us have relatively humanitarian ethics, and we are educated in the ideal of public service. We are persuaded that our public is our purpose. But day to day, we are reminded that some of you are the enemy. After a while an emotional set

Activities Fair

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate everyone who participated in the Activities Fair on January 28 in Bentley Hall Lounge. The students who were present at the display tables were very hospitable and an atmosphere of friendliness and cooperation was reflected by everyone. Events such as this require extra time and effort and I want the students to know how very much I enjoyed it.

Again, my congratulations.

Ogle, Lawson selected outstanding athletes

Two Lock Haven women have been selected as Outstanding College Athletes of America for 1975. Pat Ogle and Ronnie Lawson, both juniors at LHS, were selected in recognition of their accomplishments, leadership, and individual achievement in our nation's college athletics program. Both names and biographies will be printed in the program's 1975 award book.

Pat Ogle was a competitor in varsity sports in high school, having played and started basketball and hockey for three years. In that time, she received numerous trophies and M.V.P. (Most Valuable Player) awards.

On the college level, Ogle has performed in hockey and basketball. As a freshman, she filled the center forward position on the junior varsity hockey squad. In her sophomore year, her position was center halfback on the varsity squad. This past season, Ogle performed as the center for the Sharon Taylor coached hockey team which ended the season with a record of eight wins and two losses. Ogle was selected to play for both the Susquehanna II and Mid East hockey squads.

For three years, Ogle has been a familiar player on the basketball court. As a three year starter, she has played the center and was chosen as a co-captain this year. However, due to a knee operation, she will be out for the remainder of the season.

Ronnie Lawson engaged in five varsity sports in high school. The sports included the following: four years hockey, playing inner and halfback; four years basketball, playing guard; three

Cagers defeat York

By RICH HEUER
Staff Reporter

The LHS cagers exhibited good defensive play, and as Coach Taylor said, "good ball control," as they defeated "the best York team that I have seen in my three years," Saturday night at Charles Wolf Gymnasium, 63-56.

The Bald Eagles started out slow in the first half trailing by six, 21-15, but rallied to pull to within one, 23-23, as Rich Francis hit on a three point play, and again on a short jumper. The Eagles took the lead for the first time in the game, 24-23, after Chuck Smidansky got a rebound of a shot and easily put it in for two.

York quickly regained the lead after Tony Fannick hit a three point play to give them a narrow lead of 26-24.

York, controlling the second half tip, increased their advantage to four, 28-24, but lost that lead as the Eagles outscored them 9-0 to make the score 33-30.

With eight minutes left in the game, York scored to keep it close at 49-46, but that was the last score that they would get in the next five and a half minutes as the Eagle's defense forced them to make mistakes and turnover the ball.

Lock Haven opened up their biggest lead of the game at 10, 58-48, with a little over two minutes remaining. York mounted a comeback attempt, but Chuck Smidansky tipped in a shot and Rick Miller hit two free throws to put the game away, 63-56. The victory upped the Eagles record to 5-12 for the season.

Dave Hendershot played a good game, scoring eight points and grabbing 16 rebounds, 11 of them in the first half. Rick Miller and Mike Chancey were the high scorers for the Eagles, each with 14 points.

The LHS jayvees evened out their record this season. York jayvees, 69-63.

Gary Brubaker's Wrestling Corner

Jumping out to a quick 13-0 lead through the first four weights, the Golden Eagles of Clarion Coach Bob Bubb proved once again that they were the better team defeating the Lock Haven grapplers Saturday night by a score of 22-9.

Before a capacity crowd in Thomas Fieldhouse, Clarion, on the strength of its big guns-- Pete Morelli, Tom Turnbull, and Don Rohn at 118, 126, and 142 respectively, gave the Bob Bubb contingent a lead they were to never relinquish.

Morelli defeated Lock Haven's Carl Lutz 6-3 at 118. Morelli broke a 2-2 tie entering the final period with an early escape and takedown to defeat the Eagle freshman.

Following Turnbull's win over Tommy Parker of LHS 11-5, in which a valiant comeback effort by Parker against the tiring Turnbull fell short, Rohn hammered out an 18-0 superior win over Lock Haven's Mike Moore at 142. With important matches coming up against Bloomsburg and the University of Pittsburgh Coach Ken Cox wanted to keep regular '42 pounder Gary Walk away from Rohn to avoid further injury to the Eagle junior and at the same time keep from giving up 6 points to the Clarion strongboy. Moore was the man as he fought off his back numerous times to keep from getting pinned.

Cox felt a win at 134 was a must if Lock Haven was to have any chance for an upset on the night. But Clarion's Gene Price bested Tim McCamley 9-4 and the Eagles had but two chances left-- slim and none.

Dave Crowell registered Lock Haven's first points on the night, decisioning Sam Baird 8-5 at 150. Crowell took his opponent to the mats 3 times giving him 21 takedowns in his last three bouts.

The Eagles had a chance to make the score respectable but George Way was upset by Bill Davis at 158 by a score of 7-3.

Scoreless midway through the second period Way tried to cradle Davis when the Clarion grappler reversed and dumped Way on his back for a four point move. The mistake cost Way the match as the two wrestlers battled on even terms the remainder of the bout.

Down 16-3 Lock Haven sent Greg Hackenburg against Geary Higgins, 1-6, in hopes of putting Lock Haven six points closer. But Hackenburg had to settle for a hard fought 4-3 decision and Todd Hillard's win at 177 for Clarion over Ron McMurray, 7-3, sewed up the match for the Golden Eagles.

At 190 Art Baker continued his impressive wrestling winning 8-2 over Bob Gordon of Clarion. A five point second period gave Baker more than enough to win his sixth dual meet on the year.

In a real exciting match Clarion's Chuck Cornea took Lock Haven's Jim Schuster down at the second period buzzer for a 5-4 lead, then went on to win 9-4 on the strength of a third period reversal and riding point to give Clarion the win, 22-9.

The Eagle jayvee's lost a real heart breaker, 20-19, to Clarion junior varsity. The win gave Clarion its forty-third dual meet win in a row.

Winning matches for the Eagles were Gary Uram, forfeit at 118, Dave Hoffman decision at 134, and Paul Rohler and Len LaRose won by decision at 167 and 177 respectively. Mike Jarzona, 142, and Wayne Johnson, heavyweight, both wrestled to draws against the Clarion opponents.

Last Friday evening LHS wrestled the U.S. Military Academy, defeating the West Pointers 29-6.

In that match the Eagles registered 26 takedowns to just 5 for Army but Clarion's match was a different story. Clarion picked up fifteen 2-pointers while the Eagles managed only seven, three by Dave Crowell at 150.

Young begins 'practical experience'

Jeffrey Young, of Scranton, is participating in the Pennsylvania Department of Education's Intern Program, because, he said "there's no teacher like practical experience."

Young is working in the Division of Science and Technology in the PDE, in Harrisburg. Young, a geography major at Lock Haven State College, said much of his time will be spent in developing a geologic field guide to Route 81.

"I hope to work with state government in ecology, urban planning, or geology, and I think this program will give me valuable experience and a better chance for finding a job," Young says.

Delighted with Lock Haven's rustic location, Van Deun prefers outdoor activities and pursues many interests for relaxation and enjoyment. In addition to being an avid fan of the outdoors, he loves athletics and unwinds through reading and carpentry. A former football player and fraternity member, Mr. VanDeun hopes to become involved again in these activities.

The overall student response was terrific, said David Arseneault, Coordinator of Campus Activities. He stated "The main purpose of this event is to give new students, both transfers and freshmen, returning students, administrators, faculty and staff, an opportunity to find out what kinds of clubs are active on the campus and to make them aware of the diversity of campus clubs and organizations." The hopes for the Activity Office is that future fairs may find more groups, both student oriented or from the community.

There were 32 participants in the fair including the Activities Office.

The program, designed to make education more relevant, to integrate theory and prac-

You want to chain the books down, keep the people out. Thefts are not discovered by librarians, but by the public. Somebody else needs that book, that article, and it is gone. For us, this is a failure, and it hurts. We tried to do that job, in public, and as far as that person there right now is concerned, we blew it.

Thank you for yet another opportunity to express our concern with a continuing problem.
