

Noted Mathematician Offers Lectures and Conferences

Dr. Herbert Wilf, professor of mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania, is visiting the Lock Haven State campus. He will be concluding a series of public lectures and conferences with students today.

Dr. Wilf will discuss "The Monte Carlo Method" at 1 p.m. today. Dr. Wilf will be available for conferences with students in Raub 402 today from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m. His lecture will take place in Ulmer Planetarium.

Dr. Wilf earned his Ph.D. in mathematics at Columbia University and taught at the University of Illinois before coming to the University of Pennsylvania. His industrial experience includes positions with United Nuclear Corporation, Fairchild Engine Division, and IBM.

He has written four textbooks and over 40 research papers.

Dr. Wilf's visit is part of a nationwide lecture tour being sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America. The purpose of the tour is to strengthen and stimulate programs in mathematics and computer science in colleges and universities, provide department staff members and students with an opportunity for personal contact with distinguished mathematicians, and to aid in motivating able students to consider careers in mathematics and computer science.

Eagle Eye

Vol. XV No. 45 Lock Haven State College Thursday, Feb. 8, 1973

Here's the Dope on Drugs

1.b (barbiturates). Sleeping pills have long been used as a suicide medium, even before they were generally used for getting stoned. Death is usually caused by respiratory depression or central nervous system collapse, similar to narcotics. Barbiturate withdrawal is often more difficult than withdrawal from heroin. (The probability of grand mal seizures occurring during withdrawal is much higher with downers.)

2.b (Seconals). Clinically known as secobarbital sodium, a short-acting member of the barbiturate family.

3.a (orange sunshine). A brand of street acid.

4.c (shooting crystal). Crystal (a powdered form of speed) is a stimulant capable of rapidly deteriorating the body when injected for an extended length of time.

5.a (catnip). It looks and smells like marijuana, but doesn't get anyone the least bit high. It is often used to cut grass, along with oregano, and (in extreme shortages), anything green.

6.c (barbiturates). Among the most common causes of death in the U.S. is accidental overdose by mixing downers and alcohol.

7.b (amphetamine). This is one clinical name for Speed, which is often found in sustained-release diet and pep pills.

8.a (toluene)-the substance in glue which causes the greatest damage. Virtually all vapors of this nature can cause damage to brain functions with a relatively short period of use. The deadly category of vapors includes mainly household aerosol products, glue, and petroleum-based products (shellac, Ether, gasoline, carbon tetrachloride, etc.)

9.c (gasoline). This acts in the same way as would other petroleum substances. Orally, with the exception of extremely volatile chemicals, the body usually has a chance to reject poisons by the naturally built-in safeguard called vomiting. But whenever anything poisonous is injected into the vein, the user bypasses all the natural forms of rejection.

10. a (hallucinogenic derivative of nutmeg).

Clinical MDA, if it were available, would have hallucinogenic properties much like other psychedelics. However, much of the MDA going around on the street lately is very unpredictable, with an unusually high rate of bummers occurring due to a frequent misrepresentation and/or impurities.

11. c (mushroom). Psilocybin is the active ingredient of the stropharia cubensis, also known as the magic mushroom. It is grown mainly on the Western Hemisphere, in Mexico, sometimes for religious-meditative purposes.

12. b (animal tranquilizers). Most people who think they've had THC have actually had tranquilizers normally used for horses and other large animals. Actual tetrahydrocannabinol is rare, its synthesizing a costly process, and it is generally manufactured exclusively for government tests.

13. b (dysentery). Both hepatitis and subacute endocarditis can occur from using a dirty needle. Hepatitis is the most common disease, and the most easily noticeable.

be Somebody" mixed drama with humor in such a way as to play ping-pong with the audience's emotions throughout the play.

The action took place in West Greenwich Village, in New York, anytime during the past 15 years, centering around Johnny Williams. Williams is the proprietor of Johnny's Bar and used anyone he could to get ahead in a "white dominated" society.

The play was well cast with each one of the actors doing an excellent job in their respective roles.

Credit is also due to Garland Thompson, director; John Anthony, producer; and Tony Limoli, lighting, for their excellent job in bringing the play to life with their cool handling of their jobs.

Olatunji Stresses Music In Interview

"Do you have lions in your backyard in Nigeria?" When he came to the United States in 1950, Olatunji bought a drum. He answered the previous questions by imitating the stalking sounds of male and female lions on the drum. From this type of question emerged Olatunji and his "Drums of Passion".

Of the drums, Olatunji says, "Rhythm is the soul of life." Music is a universal language, and dance tells a significant story about the culture of a people. Olatunji is using music and dance to enlighten people and arouse curiosity about different cultures.

"A people without culture is like a tree without a root."

Olatunji was a cheerleader while attending Morehead College in Atlanta, Georgia. He still continues cheerleading through music. He is sole supporter of a school for Music and Dance in Harlem. Through his music and school Olatunji is trying to destroy myths about his homeland. Olatunji uses the music and folklore of Africa of old as a foundation for his present music and dance. "Modern folklore in present-day Africa is as authentic as the lore of old; both are a real expression of the life of that country lived in different times of its history."

Scots Scoop Eagles 78-68

by Skip Haley

The taunted Bald Eagle defense took a slight dip Monday night, as the "Fighting Scots" of Edinboro handed the hard luck Eagles a 78-68 defeat.

The first half was a defensive battle in which the Eagles felt right at home. The scoring was close and with five minutes left in the half, LHS led 20-17. The defense continued, but the Scots pulled within one, 25-24.

With just a few seconds left, Edinboro pulled away with a four point play. A bucket was scored, followed by a LHS four, and the teams went into the locker room with Edinboro leading 28-25.

After intermission, Edinboro came out smoking, and after five minutes, built up an 11 point lead, 40-29. The Eagles were not ready to take the count yet though. With the outside shooting of Warren Goodling, and the inside shooting of Russ Paulin, LHS pulled within five, 48-45. With six minutes left in the contest, the margin narrowed even more to three, 58-55. The game stayed close until the final two minutes, when Edinboro finally put the game on ice.

For the Eagles, Warren Goodling tallied 20 points, Russ Paulin, continuing his fine play added 17 points and six big rebounds. Tony Modiousky had ten points and also had six rebounds.

For the visitors, Stauffer was the leader with 20 points.

The loss put the Bald Eagles record of 5-12 for the season, while it vaulted the oncoming Scots to 7-8.

The next game will be another home game at Thomas Field House. It will be an afternoon game against Slippery Rock.

The game Wednesday with Juniata was cancelled when the school closed down with a flu epidemic.

Intramural Basketball Begins

by Skip Haley

The mens' Intramural Basketball League will be underway tonight. This season promises to be one of many exciting games.

A captain's meeting was held on Tuesday at which representatives met to form the divisions and decide on different eligibility rules.

After all the discussion on who could play for who, (which took up the majority of the meeting) the divisions were set up into two-eight team divisions.

In the A division, the teams are TKE, second floor North, third floor High, Off-Campus, Faculty, Moonlighters, Sigma Pi, and first floor High.

In the B division, the teams are: third floor North, Phi Mu Delta, Trimmers, Beachhouse, Iquana, Vets Club, second floor High, and Outhouse.

Both divisions are tough and to pick a favorite would be almost impossible.

The games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6:30 and 8 p.m. In addition to this, two teams will play prior to the varsity basketball game Saturday and the one on Feb. 24.

The program is under the leadership of Mr. Don Keener, with a student co-ordinator. The games will be officiated by students in the officiating classes.

An Open Letter to the "Student Life Staff"
Dear Staff Members:

My suggestion to you is that you change your title to something more appropriate to the way you have been conducting your jobs. "Student Life" implies that it is your job to serve the students on this campus. It is more than obvious that you intend only to control student life, not make it more pleasant and enriching.

For four months the students in North Hall have been trying patiently to move according to your plans in the direction of a really co-ed co-ed dorm. This has meant setting up a government and a judicial board and voting on proposed open dorm policy changes (not once but twice). Both times the surveys resulted on overwhelming majorities in favor of 24-hour open dorms every day of the week. According to the memorandum from Dean Nicholson and the Co-ed Hall Committee dated July 12, 1972: "Policy changes that represent the wishes of the residents and that are financially and practically feasible, will be implemented as soon as possible." There are no financial or practical barriers to overcome in implementing 24-hour dorms. It is a simple matter to operate North Hall as it is now with the only alteration being intervisitation of men and women. Also stated in the memorandum is one of the functions of the Hall Coordinating Committee: "to initiate and carry out proposals for policy changes." Apparently, even your own methods don't suit you as you have decided that 24-hour open dorms are not possible this academic year (no adequate reason given).

My suggestion to the students of North Hall is that they forget you and "going through the system" and live in this co-ed dorm in the way the name implies—that is, 24-hour intervisitation. You see, if the students really want this as they say they do, you can't stop them. So get off your cloud.

Carol Rissmiller
Resident of North Hall

To the Editor:

How nice it was to see a 4 x 4 inch article (including the title) on the upcoming concert at Bucknell and the 13 drug quiz questions that took up all of 4 x 12 1/2 inches on the front page of your February 6 Eagle Eye. Needless to say, those exciting abortion information and three different term paper ads once again made quite a display. It seriously saddens me that you couldn't include in one of the many newspapers since the beginning of the semester one small paragraph in memory of one Leo McMullen. For those of you who don't know, Leo, a very close friend of many people at Lock Haven, was killed over semester break in a car accident.

Thank you, dear Editor, for your time and space.

Sincerely,
Jackie Kircher
