

Students await magical ten days in Ft. Lauderdale

By Jay Zech

They're out there, probably foaming at the mouth in anticipation by now, just waiting for those magic ten days to arrive, "Spring Break."

Who are they? They are those lucky students who are leaving the dismal Lock Haven weather behind and heading for the sunny beaches of Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Junior Tama Gray can tell you how many minutes are left before she leaves. Senior Diane Byrne just says, "I'm psyched!" Their excitement is not that unusual for those Florida bound.

Sunning, drinking, and the pursuit of the opposite sex are high on everybody's list.

"I'm going to lay in the sun from sun-up until sun-down," says Junior Eric K. Hammaker. "Then I'm going to drink from sun-down till sun-up."

For a whole week? "I'll give it my best shot," Hammaker says.

Sophomore Joe Crouse adds, "I'm fed up with Lock Haven. I'm going to Lauderdale and party for seven straight days."

Tama was more sun oriented. "I want to get a great tan. Then come back to Lock Haven and wear a lot of white."

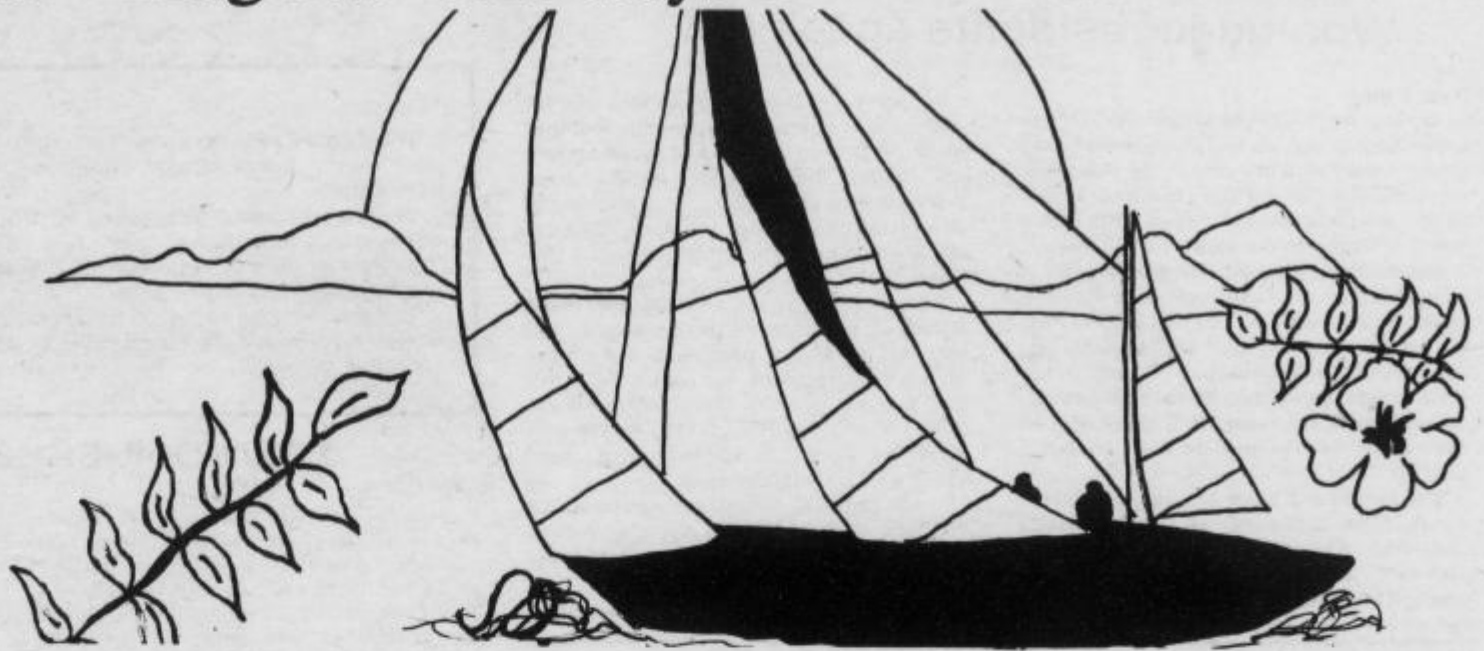

Diane said about the group of Alpha Sigma Taus going, "All of us are unattached and we won't mind meeting some fellows. My personal preference in men is tall and dark, but that's not mandatory."

Those going are hoping for adventures along the lines of the movie "Spring Break." But ex-Florida resident Dr. William Reich had a warning for those planning on raping and rioting: "Fort Lauderdale has a big jail."

As of now Lock Haven won't be well represented at the wet T-shirt contests. The women going expressed quite energetically a lack of school spirit and their modesty in this competition. A few even talked of a lack of the physical requirements.

Most of the trips, whether by car or plane, were financed by summer employment or parental loans.

Fun in the sun! Too bad the rest of us aren't going.

Snack bar contract up for grabs May 31

By Martin Pflieger

Macke Vending Company of Williamsport, operator of the PUB Snack Bar, will not renew its contract after the May 31 deadline according to SCC President Gary Interdonato.

"We will consider rebidding the contract but not under the conditions existing in the present contract," said Enoche Powell, Williamsport Area Manager for Macke. Powell declined to comment on the reason for Macke's decision not to renew the contract.

According to Interdonato, the SCC will draw up new bids that will be sent to all prospective vending companies. "We are sending out new bids just like we did when the decision was first made to lease the snack bar," said Interdonato. "Macke is more than welcome to bid on the new contract."

Interdonato feels that there are several things in the contract that do not satisfy Macke including the 8% fixed revenue the SCC receives from Macke's profits. "Macke can't deal with the 8% stipulation in the contract," said Interdonato.

"Their operating expenses are too high," continued Interdonato, "and they don't like to be told what hours they must keep."

City police department appeals to Water Street pedestrians

By Martin Pflieger

Acting on complaints from area motorists, Chief James E. Belcher of the Lock Haven Police Department is urging all pedestrians using Water Street to stay off the street and use the sidewalks.

"A pedestrian is a person who is either walking or running," said Belcher. "We have had complaints that people are running three or four abreast down the street and they are not moving for oncoming traffic."

We have control over their hours and they feel there is not enough business on weekends to stay open as long as the contract states."

"Macke has painted a pretty crummy picture for other companies who might be interested in leasing out the Snack Bar," said Interdonato.

According to Interdonato, new contract bids should go out as soon as possible in order to assure that the Snack Bar is open for the summer. Wayne Clickner, consultant for the State System of Higher Education, doesn't see a need to have the snack bar open during the summer.

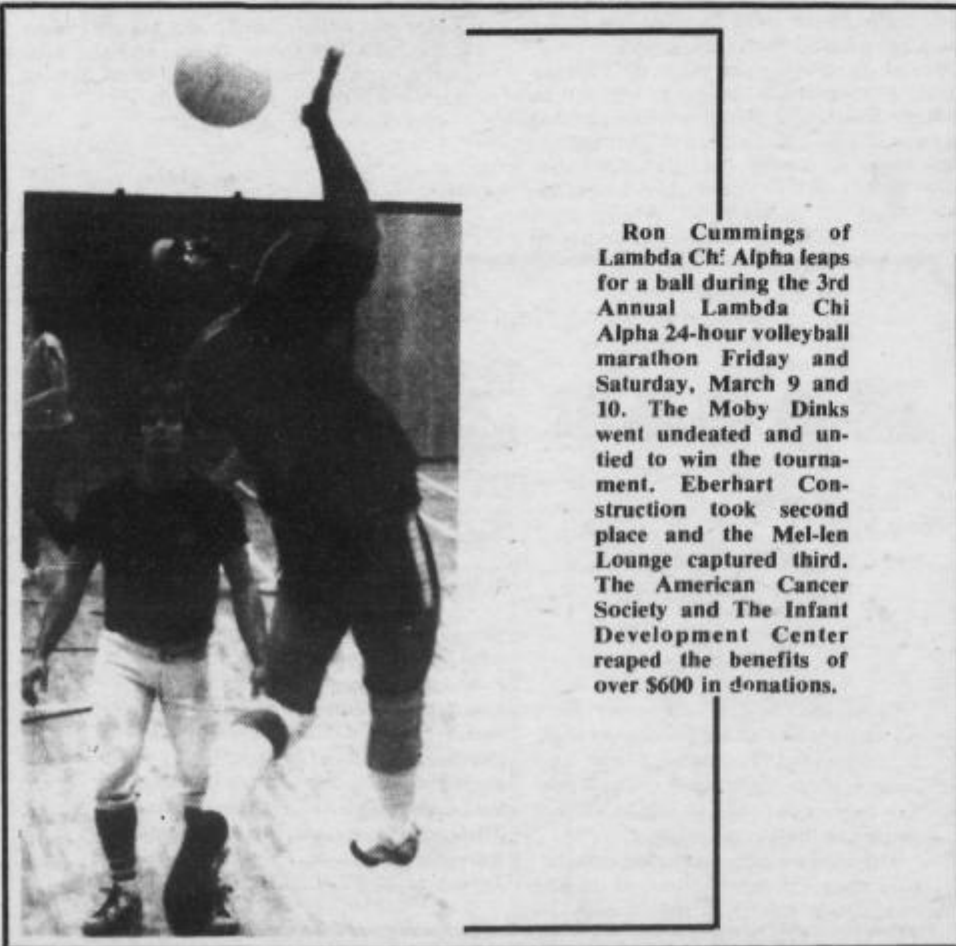

"I think we have to provide a service to the students going to school here in the summer," said Interdonato. "I would like to have a new operator of the snack bar move in as soon as Macke's contract runs out."

"I'm going to do everything to see that the snack bar stays open in the summer," said Interdonato.

"If sidewalks are not provided pedestrians should stay as far to the right side of the street as possible and run single file," continued Belcher. "When walking or running on the street pedestrians are required by city law to yield to traffic."

"We are aware that a lot of the runners on Water Street are from the University," said Belcher. "We just want to prevent someone from being seriously injured."

"We don't want to arrest anyone, but if the problem persists we will be forced to do so."

Woolridge residents speak out

Dear Editor:

As residents of Woolridge Hall (First Floor Back Wing), we feel that we are being unfairly dealt with in terms of the transition of Woolridge to a Co-ed Dormitory. Our rooms are being taken from us without the slightest regard to our views on the issue.

However, according to Dr. Bossert this is a dead issue. We have spoken to him and have found him to be extremely uncooperative toward our suggestions and alternatives to the situation. In fact, according to him, he refuses to "account to us" for any of his decisions. This is not only an unprofessional attitude on his part but a cop-out.

So, as we have been lectured five million times in the last week, we cannot change the decision to make Woolridge Hall co-ed. However, we can make an attempt to change the unfair manner in which the transition is taking place.

We want a change as far as sign-ups for rooms are concerned. We strongly feel that since the girls on the first and second floors are losing their rooms, period, then everyone else should also. Why should the girls on the ground floor and third floor have so-called "squatter's rights" when we certainly can't!

Sign-ups for rooms should be taken strictly by seniority. As upperclassmen, we feel that we should have more say on the matter than freshmen. We have lived in this hall ever since we've been here, and WE DON'T WANT TO RELOCATE. At the very least, we think the administration could spare a little understanding.

The sign-up procedure needs to be changed, and SOON. For once, why don't you give us upperclassmen the respect we deserve!!!

Rotaract Club striving on

Dear Editor,

Small clubs on this campus are one of those things that everybody knows the existence of but nobody really knows what they do and where they are.

As a new and fast emerging organization we would like to introduce ourselves and invite you to the Rotaract Club of Lock Haven University.

Rotaract Club was established in September 1983 as a sister organization of the Rotary of Lock Haven and is supported by the Rotary.

The Rotaract Club is a group of 30 male and female students who meet every other Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in the lower level of the PUB.

Our first project of 1984 requires the support of all faculty and students on this campus. The Rotaract Dinner Auction is an attempt to bring a better understanding and friendship between the two halves on campus - the faculty and the students.

Faculty members are signing up with Rotaract members to host a number of students (2, 3 or 4) over to their homes for dinner.

An auction will be held on April 11th in Bently Lounge at 6:00 p.m. All students are invited and encouraged to come and bid for dinners with their favorite professors. Bidding can also be done by mail. Look for instructions and a mail-in bid coupon in the next Eagle Eye (after spring break).

The date and time of the dinner will be up to the students and professors according to their convenience.

About 40 faculty members have signed up to host students.

We hope you participate in this fun event, which will generate funds to send a child from Lock Haven to the Mid-Atlantic Special Olympics in Elmira, New York this summer. The child will represent Lock Haven in a team sport with other children from all over the nation.

Again, we hope you will all participate and help us bring life to this campus!

Law Enforcement decision criticized

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter concerning Law Enforcement's decision to ticket parking lot 9 by the AM PM mini mart. In the past this lot has been available to those students and visitors who did not have a parking decal.

In order to obtain a parking decal to park on University property, you must have a minimum of 48 credits and have a legitimate (as judged by Law Enforcement) reason to drive. Persons with under 48 credits who must drive used to be able to park in lot 9 with no problem.

Now, however, if a student has to drive, he/she must either park on campus and receive tickets from Law Enforcement or take their chances parking off campus. Law Enforcement has specifically stated that vandalism is likely to occur in poorly lit sections off campus such as Railroad Street, which is really the only other place to park.

Law Enforcement says that the reason that they are ticketing lot 9 is because of the construction going on in lot 8. This means that 23 of the commuters that usually park in lot 8 must now move down to lot 9.

Law Enforcement has chosen to make space for these people by no longer allowing non-decal vehicles to park in lot 9. Naturally this will make more space for the people who are on campus from 8-5 during the day, but at the expense of the people who use this lot 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

I can appreciate the problem that this creates for Law Enforcement and I do agree that something has to be done. I do not feel, however, that the solution that has been chosen is appropriate.

I personally have 43 credits at this time, but I have many needs for my car on campus. My greatest need is that my car is my only transportation to and from my home.

Like many students, I have a job at home and my hours conflict with my parent's hours which makes it nearly impossible for them to give me transportation. Yes, I could find a ride home on certain weekends, but I couldn't be guaranteed a ride when I needed it.

Also, as Associate Editor-in-Chief of the Yearbook, my car is used for yearbook purposes on a daily basis. Other students use their car for various things and I believe that they should be able to park them on campus without penalty.

In closing, I would like to say that I am in no way trying to cut down Law Enforcement, but I wish that they could find a way to make room for those 23 people from lot 8 without penalizing the people who have relied on lot 9 in the past.

My suggestion is simple. Let the people in lot 8 park in the empty spaces in the other lots on campus, and on Railroad Street where there is no vandalism during to day. The construction in lot 8 will not last forever so why not make this temporary change and when the construction is finished, go back to the way that it has been in the past.

The Eagle Eye welcomes "Letters to the Editor" and we ask that you include your name, address and telephone number when submitting a letter for publication.

We have enacted this policy to protect people and organizations from anonymous accusations.

Letters should not exceed 300 words and we reserve to edit letters for content and libelous material.

Letters must be received by noon on Mondays for the Tuesday edition and noon on Wednesdays for the Friday edition.

Yearbook situation updated

Dear Editor,

Work on the 1985 Yearbook has begun. We are now in the process of contracting publishers and photographing events. The office has been painted, and office hours have been posted. Dates are being set, and the typewriters are beginning to hum. Things are really looking up.

We're starting fresh this year. Twenty dedicated people have come together and have started a difficult project for you, our fellow students. Both the name and the format of the book have been changed.

The yearbook is going to be approximately 192 to 208 pages long. It will contain all the organizations of the college, and the events affecting it. Special sections are available for Greek organizations. In October of 1985, our LHU yearbook will be entered into a state contest.

Though only the Alumni are funding this special project, the yearbook will cost $15. Orders for it will begin during the Fall '84 semester. We're hoping to sell at least one thousand copies.

This yearbook is for you, and we need your help. Anyone wanting to join the staff is welcome since some positions are still open. Also, any information of upcoming events, comments and suggestions are encouraged so that we can best serve everyone. No appointments are needed, just slide them underneath the door of Akeley 214, or contact Brian Lathrop (Editor-in-Chief), William McVaugh (Associate-Editor-in-Chief) at 3188 or Mary Jo Welker (Advertising/Marketing Manager) at 3856. A phone is to be installed at the yearbook office after spring break.

Senior pictures will be taken by a professional photographer. Seven poses will be shot, two with cap and gown for yearbook purposes. Sign-ups for Senior pictures will take place at Akeley 214 from April 9 to April 13. The actual shooting will be done from April 16 to April 20. All students graduating in Spring '84, Fall '84, or Spring

'85 should contact us before April 13. Further information regarding scheduling is being sent to the students homes.

A yearbook records your special years at LHU. Memories may become vague as the years take their toll, but pictures will be the same. Friends and events from your college years are unique. Don't miss out on a chance to save these special years forever.

Contest a success

Dear Editor,

We would like to take this opportunity, on behalf of High Hall Council, to recognize and thank the following people for their help in making Wednesday's Slam Dunk contest a great success: Roger Sparks, Scott Kiester, Clay Nichols, Mark Savage, Doug Rutter, Dave Fraser, Mike Ditto, and Don Martz.

Without a doubt, the contest was indeed a success. This is a tribute to those individuals who helped set up and run the contest. We had a better than expected turnout and the above persons are largely responsible for this. For this reason, we would like to thank them. We would also like to thank those who supported the contest by entering or watching it. We were honored, as a Hall Council, to sponsor such an event in the interest of the college students.

Hopefully with continued support from individuals like those above, and the support of the students, we will offer similar such programs to the students.

Thank you all again.

California next stop for three LHU boxers

After capturing championships in the Eastern North Regional boxing finals this past weekend in Lock Haven, three Bald Eagle boxers will now travel to California for the National Collegiate Boxing Association championship.

Lady Eagles' Martin continues to impress everyone

By Christa Landas

Pictures of Boston Celtics' Larry Bird and country western singer Kenny Rodgers don the walls of the room of LHU's women's basketball record holder, Tina Martin.

Tina scored a Lock Haven record 519 points in just 24 games this season, and punched in 30 points or better in the Indiana University, Slippery Rock, and Pace University games.

As a freshman Tina scored 435 points so her current total of 954 markers gives her a 19.9 average in 48 games. Tina has also grabbed 246 rebounds and dished out 97 assists in her two years at the Haven.

At Williamsport High School, Tina Martin scored 1296 points, held 19 school records, helped her team to a 69-17 record, and three consecutive district titles.

Currently, Tina is ranked ninth in the nation in NCAA Division II scoring. The final NCAA stats won't be available for another month, so it is possible Martin could move up in ranking.

Tina was also named an All Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference Western Division player for the second year in a row.

Who, then, is Tina Martin? Certainly not just a bunch of impressive records! Tina is a 5-8 sophomore at Lock Haven, who happens to play forward for the Lady Bald Eagle's basketball team.

Tina decided to attend LHU because she was recruited and she was impressed with the Lady's coach, Fred Riley.

Martin said, "He was personable and talked to me like I was an individual."

Another important factor in Tina's decision to come here was the fact that her parents wanted her and her sister, Teresa, to stay close to home.

There's a knock at the door to inform Tina that Kenny Rodgers is on TV and she doesn't hesitate a moment in flicking on Kenny. Tina and Teresa explain that, "We saw Kenny Rodgers in concert. He was great." They both motion towards the huge, very noticeable poster of Kenny on the back of the door and smile.

Now back to business. Tina's major here at LHU is physical education. Tina wants to coach women's basketball at the high school level and teach physical education.

In her spare time, Tina follows the career of her idol, Larry Bird. She watches ESPN to keep up on all the basketball scores and is an avid college basketball fan. The North Carolina Tarheels are her favorite team in college play. Of the five or six people in Tina's room, just about everyone, including Tina herself, agree that she is a TV fanatic.

Tina also keeps busy in the spring by playing in the infield on the Lady Eagle's softball team.

Tina was sorry to see the women's basketball season end, but she was "very happy about this year."

"As far as togetherness, this year's team was very close and everyone got along well. I enjoyed the season" commented Martin.

The only disappointment for Tina was the lack of support by the LHU student body.

Tina explained, "Mainly just parents and friends were in the stands which is good, but other schools have lots of fans, pom-poms, and noise. I enjoyed playing at Pace University even though they were against us because of their crowd."

Earning their third straight titles were Tim Frymyer, 112, and Dave Washington, 119. Both Frymyer and Washington were silver medalists at the 1983 National Championships at the U.S. Air Force Academy. Both "All-Americans" are currently undefeated (5-0) this season and are expected to be top seeds at nationals. Sophomore Steve Greber, 156, will also advance to the final four. Greber won a split decision (2-1) victory over muscular Terrance Greene, (Army), in the finals. In Friday night's semi-finals the lanky south paw also won a hard fought split decision victory over Penn State's Mike Paolin.

Three Bald Eagles lost in their bid for eastern titles. Senior All-American, Ken Cooper, 132, suffered an upset loss in the semi-finals to Ed Stover, Penn State. Cooper was defending eastern champion. Sophomore, 147 pound, Rocco Iannetta lost a decision (3-0) in the semi-finals to tough Hahn Kang, (Army), while freshman teammate, John Morrin, 165, was decisioned by Army's Scott Kuechenmiester.

Nine of the 12 ECBA North Region schools were represented in the two day qualifier. Only the champion in each weight class advances to the final four at Berkeley. The championship bouts were outstanding, and John Calles, 125, of Central Connecticut was voted the Outstanding Boxer. There is no team title awarded at the Regional level, with all emphasis on individual competition.

The boxing in the tournament was very good and the LHU boxers performed especially well according to Dr. Ken Cox. "I believe our region will be real competitive at nationals," he said. "Rocco (Iannetta) and Red (Morrin) have a promising future in boxing at LHU and I expect they will win the Eastern's in another year. Senior, Ken Cooper has been the back-bone of our operation and if I could have gotten him down to 125, I feel confident he would have done well. However, with his academics and work responsibilities, it just was not feasible. Coop's greatest contribution to our program is working in our boxers' corner. We have had 12 "All-Americans" since 1980, including six runner-ups and we're hoping to have our first national champion. Hopefully, this will be our year out in Berkeley. One thing is for sure, Coop and I will have our three representatives physically and mentally ready for the challenge," concluded Dr. Cox.

And what about the coach?

"Coach Riley definitely knows his basketball. He communicates with the players and treats them as individuals. He's demanding, but fair," claims Martin.

Tina attributes her ninth ranking in Division II to the LHU team because they got the ball to her. And also says Tina, "It shows the hard work I've done all my life."

When she was younger, Tina would practice about three hours a day on her shooting and basketball skills.

Tina feels that there are others better than her, but she is (rightly so) happy and proud of what she's accomplished.

Tina would like to make All Conference again next year. But her big goal is for the LHU women's basketball team to win the PSAC Championships and go on to the NCAA finals. After coming so close to the PSAC title against Millersville in overtime 76-73, Tina doesn't think a title next year is unobtainable.

So far the highlight, according to Tina, of her college basketball career has been making the winning shot against Edinboro in the quarterfinal of PSAC play this year.

The most memorable game this season for Tina was the Pace University game where she scored 33 points and helped her team upset the nationally ranked Pace squad. Tina felt that this was one of her better games.

Finally, everyone has a dream and Tina Martin is no different. Her dream is to play basketball in the 1988 Olympic Games. If she has the funds, Tina would continue her basketball career after college and the Olympics would be the ultimate dream come true for Lock Haven University's Tina Martin.

Willis observes ROTC train in State Park

By David C. Loebig

University President Dr. Craig Willis watched LHU Reserve Officer Training Corp (ROTC) cadets train in Bald Eagle State Park on Saturday.

On an invitation from ROTC, Dr. Willis observed LHU cadets practice loading and deploying from helicopters in a mock combat situation.

Dr. Willis flew by Army helicopter from Lock Haven Airport to the state park, located about 12 miles south-west of Lock Haven, where he saw the training.

Dr. Willis said of the trip to the state park, "I enjoyed it, appreciated it and was impressed.

According to LHU Cadre Captain Eugene Hare, the helicopter exercise were part of a weekend of training designed to prepare cadets for Army Advanced Camp in the summer.

Captain Gerald Nye, of the University's ROTC said, "The purpose of these exercises is to see how the cadets hold up under the pressures of cold, hunger, and fatigue."

According to Captain Nye, the cadets left for training at about 5 p.m. on Friday, camped out Friday and Saturday nights, and arrived back in Lock Haven about 1 p.m. on Sunday.

After sleeping out Friday night, one cadet said, "The exercise may be fake but the cold is real."

Captain Nye said he felt that the cadets' morale was excellent and that the cadets are progressing well.

GUESS WHO HIRED MORE PEOPLE RIGHT OUT OF COLLEGE LAST YEAR THAN ANYONE ELSE.

Hiring college grads is something the Army has always done. And lately, we've been doing a lot more of it.

In fact, last year alone nearly 7,000 college grads chose to begin their future as Army officers.

Why? Some wanted the opportunity to develop valuable leadership and management skills early in their career.

Others were impressed with the amount of responsibility we give our officers starting out. And still more liked the idea of serving their country around the world.

Interested? Then you can start preparing for the job right now, with Army ROTC.

ROTC is a college program that trains you to become an Army officer. By helping you develop your leadership and management ability.

Enrolling can benefit your immediate future, too. Through scholarships and other financial aid.

So the next time you're thinking about job possibilities, think about the one more recent college graduates chose last year than any other.
