

KAP brotherhood planning a return to LHU campus

By John Elder
Staff Reporter

"From the start, everything in this fraternity has been done by the book and we're going to make sure it continues that way," said Roger Way, president of the local Epsilon Omega Alpha (EOA) chapter.

Referring to the start of a new Kappa Delta Rho (KAP) chapter at Lock Haven University, Way is confident the new chapter will be a success.

According to Way, KAP is the oldest fraternity on campus and never really left Lock Haven.

"Actually, what really happened was that the previous brothers lost recognition from the national," said Way.

The new KAP chapter is to be formed by former members of the EOA fraternity. In order for EOA to earn recognition from the KAP national, the fraternity must follow specific guidelines.

"The agreement was to have 35 members for a provisional chapter status and 50 members for a charter," said Way.

Way noted that the original Lock Haven chapter of KAP also began as an EOA chapter.

"Hopefully, the second time around will be more successful," said Way.

Since its conception last October, the fraternity has gained provisional chapter status and anticipates a charter by the fall semester.

The fraternity's adviser is Dr. Tu Hsun Tsai, associate professor of Sociology at LHU.

"We have met KAP requirements and have national recognition. Now it's simply a matter of getting University recognition," said Way.

He explained that the fraternity will meet with Associate Dean of Students Timothy Susick to go over stipulations concerning University recognition.

According to Way, Susick has been a big help with the fraternity formalities.

"He's worked with us from day one," commented Way.

"Once the 35 members' grades are checked and are cleared, we should get University recognition," said Way.

In commenting on the progress of the new fraternity, Way said he is very surprised in how quickly the fraternity has regained recognition.

"We never thought we'd accomplish so much so soon and meet the requirements," he said.

Way said that the fraternity's success is due to a group effort.

"We began back in October with seven members and now have 35 hard-working members," added Way.

He also said that the amount of support the fraternity has received from the Alumni Board and the national chapter has been "unbelievable."

"Right now, our nationals are very enthusiastic about us," said Way.

"In comparison with the previous chapter," he stated. "The national believes we have accomplished more in the past four months than they did in four years," said Way.

Some of the future events planned by the new fraternity include a Jaycee softball tournament and a carwash.

Way emphasized that the fraternity has a "hazing free" pledge program.

"Some fraternities think that they need hazing to bring the brothers closer together. We have a strong brotherhood and we don't haze," stressed Way.

According to Way, the fraternity has rented a house on Church Street previously known as the "Loft."

Way has high expectations for the fraternity and believes that they "have only scratched the tip of the iceberg."

"Hopefully we'll bring KAP up to what it used to be," said Way.

He also said, "It's been an unfortunate thing that the KAP crest has been tarnished, but we have 35 brothers who are ready to polish it up."

Senators approve budget for 1987-88 academic year

By Jennifer Brady
Staff Reporter

The Student Cooperative Council's 1987-1988 budget of $383,015 was approved by the Senate in its meeting held this past Wednesday.

The budget was passed after a discussion on the amount of money allocated to student publications.

When the budget was brought before the Senate by Treasurer Scott Bitner for approval, Public Relations Officer Bob Rote requested that the student publication's budget of $19,000 be read to the Senate.

Rote said that he questioned the funding of $8,000 for new Apple computer equipment.

Rote said that he believed it would be more cost effective to have the $8000 set aside in the general contingency for the future purchase of a printing press.

According to Rote, the Eagle Eye would consequently not have to rely on a local paper to do their printing.

New Dean of Students Linda Koch said that she did not believe the purchase of a printing press would enhance the operation of the student newspaper because running a printer is a complex task in itself.

She stated that students who desired to concentrate on improving their journalism abilities would end up having to learn the trade of printing.

Bitner also said that he believed the student publication's budget was cost effective in the form presented to the Senate.

He added that Dr. Douglas Campbell, the Eagle Eye advisor and department chairperson of English, Journalism and Philosophy at LHU, would not spend the SCC's money haphazardly.

"Dr. Campbell has always been very concerned about finding the best buy for student's money," said Bitner.

He added that Campbell had invited him along when he was shopping for computer equipment over the summer.

According to Bitner, Campbell saw a piece of software with a price tag of $1,500 and said that, through some reading and researching he had done, he predicted the cost would decrease in the future.

Bitner added that Campbell had waited, and the price went down to $400.

Vice President Steven L. Donaldson said that even with the addition of the Apple computer equipment, the Eagle Eye budget has only increased by about $400 since 1983.

Matt Connor, former editor of the Eagle Eye from 1985 to 1986, offered his comments concerning the discussion on the budget for student publications.

"We're talking about a first rate newspaper," said Connor. "The Eagle Eye has won three first class awards from national organizations, and the Apple computers obviously had something to do with this."

Following this discussion, the entire budget was unanimously approved.

In other business, McNamara said that he spoke with Vice President of Administration Dr. Dean Phelps about possibly splitting or segmenting the current $60 SCC activity fee in the future.

According to McNamara, Phelps said that other universities are splitting fees and that the administration wanted to talk with the SCC about undertaking such a process.

McNamara added that this change would mean that certain SCC organizations designated by the University would receive a dollar amount right out of the current fee.

McNamara said that he could foresee the addition of seven or eight fees on the University billing card, and he therefore urged the senate to "never, never submit to having a fee split."

He said, "Who would have a say in the expenditures of those monies? Believe me, it would not be the students if the University designates which organizations would be listed."

The proposed fee splitting, according to McNamara, would eliminate the current system of checks and balances which exists by having the student government determine how the students' money should be spent.

McNamara also reminded the senators about Legislative Appreciation Day, which is to be held on Thursday, April 23.

Several Pennsylvania legislators will be visiting the campus for the entire day. The event was organized by Rote and Corresponding Secretary Amy Shultz. SCC Accountant Jean Nestlerode said in her report that 99 students still owe their activity fees.

She added that three student's names have been sent to the magistrate, and they will have to pay fees in addition to the past dues owed the University.

In other business, McNamara presented for approval an amendment to the financial guidelines of the SCC.

The amendment calls for all campus organizations, if it is appropriate, to print the slogan "Sponsored by the SCC" in a prominent place on all professional or organizational prepared posters, programs, cards or other printed materials of the campus organization.

If SCC-sponsored organizations fail to do so, the Student Appropriations Committee will take "appropriate action."

In other business, Senator Jennifer Dexter, a member of the Food Service Committee, presented information about the quality of the food and service at Bentley Dining Hall.

The information was gathered by way of an informal questionnaire given to students during lunch.

The committee found that some of the items students enjoy the least are pasta, pizza, seafood and chicken.

From a question on what foods students would like to see added to the menu, the committee found that steak, shrimp, uncut fresh fruit, fried chicken and a greater variety of soups topped the list.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

News of National Championship brings congratulations from former student

Dear Editor:

Although we live south of the Mason-Dixon line, in Falls Church, it is still Nittany Lion country.

My son-in-law and I were thrilled to see on our local T.V. station, where two Lock Haven boxers won college boxing championships. My husband just returned from a business trip to the bay area, and was equally excited when he read in Palo Alto about the boxers winning the championship in Reno.

As a former student at Lock Haven

(State Teachers' College) many years ago, it has been fun kidding our Nittany Lion friends relative to Lock Haven also having National Champions.

Although it is not a national football championship, it is nevertheless an extraordinary accomplishment for a small college. I'm sure Max Bossert, Jim Young and the boxers in my husbands era, are equally proud of their accomplishments.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. Klein, Mr. Saavedra and their coach, Dr. Cox.

Mrs. Mary E. Gibson

"He will be sorely missed." Young bids Dr. Larry Lytle farewell

Dear Editor:

This past month Dr. Larry Lytle retired from his practice of medicine and surgery, including his role as Team Physician for the Lock Haven University athletic program. If anyone is irreplaceable, Dr. Lytle is such a person.

Having been a faculty member at Lock Haven University for over 14 years, I have had the opportunity to see the breadth and depth of the contributions he has made. For several years Dr. Lytle worked as team physician for no compensation. Financial, professional or personal gain have never been his primary motivation. He gave so much of himself out of genuine concern for the students in the athletic and athletic training programs.

Countless athletes have benefitted from his unparalleled skill and understanding, and student trainers had the opportunity to learn from a wise and caring teacher. He will be sorely missed.

Although he has retired from full-time practice, he will continue to contribute to Lock Haven University as a very active member of our Council of Trustees (and hopefully, occasionally as a guest lecturer).

On behalf of the students, faculty, coaches and the entire university, I would like to express our gratitude to Dr. Lytle for his years of work and commitment, but especially for his caring.

Sincerely,
Bruce W. Young, Chairman
Department of Health Sciences

Pig roast invades Bentley Hall

By Kathy Freed
Staff Reporter

Custom Management Corporation is sponsoring an "Old-fashioned Texas Barbecue" to be held next Thursday in Bentley Dining Hall.

According to John Wilt, director of Custom Management, the barbecue is being handled with a twist in comparison to previously-sponsored Bentley dinners.

"The dinner isn't going to be cafeteria style or buffet. Instead, there are going to be seven different booths that have food at each," said Wilt.

"People can walk in and pick up their tray, and then go around to the booths to get their food. There will also be a roasted pig to eat," he said.

Along with dinner, Wilt said that there will be entertainment, such as the local bluegrass band, Last Complete Show, square dancing by the Woolrich Squares and a movie, The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly, to be shown in the cafeteria.

He also said that there will be saloon girls and cowboys at the barbecue, and everyone should come dressed as a cowboy or a cowgirl because prizes will be awarded for the most authentic outfits.

Also, Wilt explained that there are two contests scheduled, a pie-eating contest and birch beer chugging contest.

"We figure it's the toughest time in the semester, with finals and all, so the barbecue is a good monotony breaker," Wilt said.

The price of the barbecue to students without a validated meal card is $3.50 and the cost to all other guests is $4.

CLUB HOUSEHealth Science Club strives to be a service to the health science majors

By Kim Beery
Clubhouse Columnist

The purpose of the Health Science Club is to "provide greater communication between health science majors, Club members and the faculty members as well," said Club advisor Dr. Bruce Young.

The Club is currently in its first semester, pointed out Young.

He explained that LHU students Shawna Sternberg and Jill Pivrotto came to him about establishing the Club.

Young added that they wanted to help students explore different options after graduation.

Although the group hasn't been in existence long, Young said that they have already sponsored several activities.

The Club was involved in the Health and Wellness Fair, as well as the Children's Fair where they set up a stand in Roger's Gymnasium and showed slides and diagrams to children, he said.

Sternberg said that she appreciates the time and effort that people put into the founding of the Club, the Health and Wellness Fair and the Children's Fair.

Young added that the Club sponsored a career and health science seminar in which people from Lock Haven Hospital came to describe jobs and educational background.

The club has also sponsored a short course in taking blood pressure.

In addition to these projects, the group has visited the Sports Medicine Center and the Physical Therapy department at the Williamsport Hospital.

Young said that the Club is currently setting up a system of files to help students find information about specific graduate programs, employment and graduates in the major to use as contacts.

Another file will include information on the field experience program at LHU.

Each student in the major must work somewhere for credit, similar to student teaching, Young explained.

People involved with these experiences will come here and talk to the Club members.

Recently, the group presented a film on AIDS and then heard from two speakers from the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Sternberg said that they are planning a "Massage for Money" shortly after Easter break.

Young stated that the organization gives students a chance "to become more aware of career opportunity and diversity in the field."

"The Club has a lot of potential to help students with professional as well as personal goals, said Sternberg.

Other Club officers include Jill Pivrotto, vice president; Andrew Davis, treasurer; Stephanie Taylor, secretary; and Gwen Costa, librarian.

Sternberg said that the group has between 25 and 30 active members which is divided into 11 committees.

She said that the Club is planning to elect new officers at the next meeting, which will be held April 30 at 6:30 p.m. in the Health Science Building.

Director of Custom Management Corporation John Wilt and his assistant Kristal Ford have organized the barbecue for April 23.

Bottorf presents physics paper at West Chester University teachers' convention

By Barbi Hannah
Staff Reporter

Rusty Bottorf, an LHU math and physics student, was chosen by West Chester University to present his paper at the 10th annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Section of Physics Teachers.

The convention was held March 12 at West Chester University and was attended by secondary education physics teachers and university professors.

Bottorf presented his paper entitled "Newton's Third Law - Boat Demonstration," which was based on a paper he wrote earlier.

He said that the paper was based on Robert Clark's article in the September 1986 issue of The Physics Teacher, and from subsequent letters in later issues of the magazine.

According to Bottorf, Dr. Donald Simanek, professor of physics at LHU, encouraged Bottorf to write on this idea since it was relatively new and to submit it to West Chester University.

"The paper was chosen on a selective basis, according to whether the University could use the topic at the convention," said Bottorf.

He also said that both teachers and professors received the speech very well.

"I owe a lot to Dr. Simanek for his helpful ideas on the project," said Bottorf.

Bottorf said that there is a possibility that his paper may be published in the physics magazine, The Physics Teacher.

Bottorf graduated last year from LHU with a B.S. degree in physics and has since returned to earn his teaching certification in math and physics.

POLICE BEATThree students lose parking privileges under new policy

By Tammy Rekito
Staff Reporter

Since the new parking regulations have been established this semester at LHU, three people have lost their parking privileges on campus, said Lt. Dennis Grenniger of Law Enforcement.

"After receiving seven fines, a student's parking privileges will be revoked," he said.

Grenniger explained that Law Enforcement wants to remind students to be careful not to park in restricted places, or they may receive a fine.

He also gave the reports of other incidents from the past week.

Three cases of theft were reported to Law Enforcement in this time period.

In the first case, a student reported his Levi denim jacket was stolen from outside of room 418 in Ulmer Hall.

The jacket reportedly contained the student's SCC I.D. and room keys.

In the second incident, some female students reported having some clothing, tapes, and blank checks stolen from their room in Smith Hall. Law Enforcement has a suspect in the case.

In the last case of theft, a throw rug belonging to the University was found in a student's room in High Hall. The rug was returned to Student Life.

In a case of criminal mischief during the past week, a Fish Real Estate sign was found in front of Woolridge Hall. The sign was returned to the agency by Law Enforcement.

In a case of vehicle damage, Grenniger said that a professor's car was hit by another car which had been left in gear and then rolled into it.

"Fred" the Millersville swan perishes due to starvation

Millersville -- Fred the Swan, a long-time Millersville resident and symbol of the University, died March 23, after a week-long illness.

Fred probably went blind and died of starvation, since he was unable to locate food. An autopsy was performed on March 24, but as of Friday, March 27, the results were not yet available.

Ralph, Fred's mis-named mate, will probably die since swans mate for life. However, her fate is not yet been certain.

The pair left no survivors. Ralph laid eggs once, in 1982, but the three potential MU residents mysteriously disappeared before hatching.

University officials will probably begin a search for a new pair of swans to take up residence in the campus pond but no definite plans have been made.

Also at Millersville-MU Police charged students Brad S. Unger and Brian Scott Robey, both 18, with underage drinking, criminal mischief and scattering rubbish.

The suspects were arrested by Sgt. Larry Waltz when they were observed walking from a party that took place off campus. While walking near MU Police headquarters, Robey was seen throwing a beer bottle at a parked vehicle.

West Chester -- One WCU student was placed in intensive care and a second was treated and released following an attack that took place on Saturday, April 4, outside Ruby Jones Residence Hall.

The two students, whose names have not been released, were traveling across campus shortly after 1 a.m. when they were confronted by three individuals, two of whom are WCU students. An argument began between the two groups, and the three allegedly jumped the other two and began beating on them.

When the police arrived, both students were on the ground and one student was unconscious. The unconscious student had a broken jaw, was bleeding from both ears and had begun to swallow his tongue.

The second student was taken to Chester County Hospital with the other student and was treated for multiple lacerations and bruises and was given several stitches. The student was also treated for head and face injuries, and was released later that day. The first student was kept in intensive care and was finally released Monday, April 6.

One defendant was charged with two accounts of aggravated assault, simple assault, recklessly endangering the life of another, terroristic threats and harassment. The other two were charged with one account of each of the same crimes. All three were charged with criminal conspiracy.

The two defendants who are WCU students were immediately placed on internal suspension pending a hearing.

Kutztown -- An 18-year-old female student was raped on Thursday, April 2, while she was jogging.

According to Kutztown police, two men abducted the student, carried her to a downtown apartment building and took turns raping her.

"Both suspects have been identified," said Kutztown Police Officer James Hirko. According to police, the suspects weighed 200 pounds each and overpowered the victim.

"She did not scream. She said there was nobody around to hear her," Hirko said.

The incident occurred between 7 and 8 p.m. that evening. The victim notified police shortly after midnight.

The names of all involved have been withheld because the case remains under investigation.

Bloomsburg -- Two medical offices located on Sesame Street in Bloomsburg have been the victims of nearly 20 acts of vandalism in the past two years.

The most recent occurred on the night of February 5, when a brick was thrown through the office window of Dr. Emil L. Harasym.

Harasym said this is the eighth known act of vandalism committed to his office since it was built in 1985. The cost of repairs of the damage is approximately $400.

Harasym added that the vandalism occurred on Thursday nights during the fall and early spring.

Dr. Robert Meldrum's office, located across the street from Harasym's, has been subject to nine acts of vandalism in the 19 months since it was built. The cost for repairs was estimated at $3000. He added that most damage occurred on Friday and Saturday nights.

Dean of Student Life Robert Norton said that BU security will watch the area and report to town police if anything more occurs. He also stressed that the acts were not enhancing the University's relationship with the community and that students should be more responsible.

PA International Student Assoc. begins

By Janet Airgood
Staff Reporter

The Pennsylvania International Student Association (PISA), which has been created in an attempt to unite international students in the state, has been formed as a result of a discussion which was held on March 28 during the LHU International Festival.

"There was a lively and constructive exchange of ideas from all participants," said Eric Otiende, one of the founders of the PISA.

Otiende explained that the PISA will be governed by a body of international student representatives which will be called the Board of Presidents.

The Board will be composed of 14 presidents from international students organizations in the participating Pennsylvania universities.

PISA headquarters, rotated in alphabetical order, will be located at a different university every semester so that all participating universities will equally share the work involved. Hopefully, the project will get off the ground this fall, Otiende said.

The organization possesses great potential and has set several goals, he said. First and foremost, its main function is to bring international students together to exchange views and ideas.

Through this exchange of ideas, Otiende hopes the PISA will supplement and enrich the individual international programs.

He said the PISA will organize activities and functions which will be geared toward making the world more peaceful and prosperous.

As a start, Otiende pointed out that the PISA will strive to be effective in presenting international programs and ideas to the individual universities and their respective communities.

Clinton Arts Council to sponsor BYU singers

The Clinton County Arts Council will present as its first event of the year, performances of "The Young Ambassadors" on Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25, at 8 p.m. at Bald Eagle-Nittany High School in Mill Hall.

The Arts Council has just recently been organized and includes over 20 arts and crafts clubs. Its purposes are to encourage the arts and crafts in Clinton County by stimulating the formation of groups, crediting artists and craftspeople in the county, publicizing their activities, and securing financial support for them as needed.

"The Young Ambassadors" is a celebrated song and dance group from Brigham Young University in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Their audiences have included President Reagan, Indian Prime Minister Indira Ghandi, Mother Theresa and Queen Sirikit of Thailand.

Their show consists of a variety of music. The group performs Broadway show tunes, favorite oldies, comic medleys, a western hoe-down, a medley of songs from the musical "Big River," and 50's numbers.

According to Randy Boothe, the group's vocal coach, the show is designed to promote brotherhood among the people of the world.

"Our show presents a message of personal happiness. Friendship is our message, with music as the medium," he added.

In addition to the scheduled performances, the group will perform for hospitals, the elderly, the handicapped and student groups.

Admission is $3 and all profits will be used to support the activities of the Clinton County Arts Council.

Tickets are available in the SCC business office in the PUB, or by calling 748-8882 or 748-8729.

The ROTC cadets traveled to Coffin Rock the weekend of March 20 to practice and test their leadership skills.

The MS IV's, fourth year Military Science students, planned the training and then directed the MS III's, third year Military Science students, through various leadership exercises.

The three MS III squads were flown by helicopter from Smith Field at 5 p.m. on a Friday and were flown to a location near Coffin Rock. From there, they made their way to the assembly area at Coffin Rock, which is about ten miles southwest of Renovo.

The MS III's demonstrated their leadership skills on the Training Application Exercise Lanes. The MS III's rotated the squad leader position and were tested on their ability to react to certain situations, such as situations involving a sniper, an ambush, obtaining a prisoner of war and reacting to an incoming fire.

The MS III cadets will have two more exercises which will test their leadership skills: a weekend and a full week at Fort Indiantown Gap near Harrisburg. These exercises are designed to prepare the MS III's for their six weeks in Advanced Camp this summer at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

This group of ROTC cadets traveled to Coffin Rock for training.

Miss St. Thomas reigns in LH

By Mike Dally
Staff Reporter

Hailing from St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, LHU freshman Jasmine Pond made waves on the beauty pageant circuit when she was crowned Miss St. Thomas last year.

This weekend, however, Pond will be graciously relinquishing her crown when she returns to St. Thomas for this year's contest. Pond will make her final Miss St. Thomas walk and deliver a speech at the 1987 competition.

Contestants in the annual Miss St. Thomas beauty pageant are judged on critical criteria such as modeling garments from evening to swim wear, and presenting their talents.

Pond emerged as the winner of the pageant after she elegantly modeled the required clothing and displayed her special skills, including singing, dancing and acting.

"I was also selected as Miss Intellect and Miss Photogenic for the pageant," said Pond.

Encouragement from her mother and father and the help of a professional modeling coach are cited by Pond as being especially supportive factors in the pursuit of her interests.

Pond, who is majoring in biology here at LHU, said her hobbies include singing, dancing and modeling. Currently, Pond is working at the Admissions Office as a tour guide.

Having only appeared in two beauty pageants, Pond anticipates competing again in the future.

"I might go back and try for Miss Virgin Islands and, if I win, I'll go on to Miss Universe," said Pond.

Circle K to sponsor bed race

The Lock Haven University Circle K Club, in conjunction with the Infant Development Program of Clinton County, will sponsor a bed race on Saturday, May 2 at 1:30 p.m.

Although bed races are not entirely new to Lock Haven, they have not been held in recent years.

Deb Pierson, Circle K president, hopes that next month's race will become an annual event.

"It's a great opportunity for the campus community and the local community to join hands in helping to support a worthwhile cause," she said.

In order to participate in the race, each team must present at least $60 in pledge monies upon registration the day of the race. Each team will consist of six people and one bed which will be decorated with an original theme.

Each "racing coupe" must originate from a bed and have least four wheels touching the ground. According to Pierson, no engines, motors, pedals or mechanized motion of any kind will be permitted.

A tentative course has been scheduled to begin on West Main Street, and travel approximately one-quarter mile from First Street to Sixth Street.

A list of race rules and awards may be obtained with the entry form. Deadline for entries is April 18. For further information, contact Pierson at 107 Himes Hall, Lock Haven University, Lock Haven, PA 17745.

All proceeds will benefit The Infant Development Center in Lock Haven.

Funk throws one-hitter ...

Softball team blasts Clarion 9-0 and 14-1 in PC West showdown

By Bill Alexander
Co-Sports Editor

After splitting their last two games with Bloomsburg and Edinboro, the Lady Eagles put it all together on Tuesday and swept both games of their double-header against Clarion 9-0 and 14-1.

Senior Leslie Funk lead the way in game one as she pitched a one-hitter to get the victory. Funk struck out two and walked six to go with her three RBIs.

The Lady Eagles took the lead in the second as they broke open a scoreless tie.

With one out, Paula Hahn and Mel Frohnheiser were issued walks. Frohnheiser was caught trying to steal second for out number two. Kim Hasson singled and Lisa Suppan drove in Hahn and Hasson with a triple for a 2-0 lead.

Haven centerfielder Kathy Staib started the third inning with a single and was followed by Ginny Neiss who also ripped a single. Colleen Werkheiser smashed a triple to score both Staib and Neiss, and Funk brought Werkheiser in by smacking an RBI double.

Suppan lead off the fourth with a walk and was followed by Staib who ripped a single. Werkheiser singled in Suppan, then Funk stroked a double to score Staib and Werkheiser. Funk moved to third as the attempt to throw Werkheiser out at the plate went over the Clarion catcher's head and LHU led 8-0.

Frohnheiser lead off the Lady Eagle fifth with a walk. Hasson was also walked, but Sandy Hess replaced her as she was injured diving back to first base. With one out, Sue Weller singled in Frohnheiser for the last LHU run.

It was much of the same in game two as freshman Gretchen Caton gave up only four hits to LHU's 15 to earn the win. Caton also struck out four and walked three.

Leading 2-0 after three innings, the Lady Eagles blew the game wide open in the fourth as they scored eight runs to take a commanding 10-0 lead.

Hahn started off the barrage with a walk and Frohnheiser followed with a single. Vicki Divittorio laid down a bunt single to score Hahn. Suppan got a walk and Karen LaValley singled to load the bases. Staib then came up and ripped a two-run single, scoring DiVittorio and Suppan.

Neiss smacked a double to score LaValley and Werkheiser followed with a single. Funk knocked in Staib with a sacrifice fly. Hahn double in Neiss and Frohnheiser singled to score Werkheiser and Hahn.

Clarion scored its only run of the two games in the bottom of the fourth.

The Lady Eagles scored their final runs in the top of the seventh.

Hess led off with a walk. Staib and Neiss singled to load the bases. Werkheiser walked to score Hess and Funk followed with a three-run triple for the final score.

"We had lots of hits and good pitching,"

Freshman pitcher Gretchen Caton struck out four batters and walked three in her victory over Clarion on Tuesday. Although the scoreboard looks wrong, it is correct. The Lady Eagles batted first in game two and the scorekeeper put our scores on top instead of the bottom.

said Head Coach Wayne Allison. "After the last few games we really needed good hitting and needed to score runs."

Now 11-9-1 overall and 3-1 in the PSAC

West, the Lady Eagles travel to Cortland (N.Y.) State this weekend to compete in a round-robin tournament with host team Cortland, Hofstra and Geneseo.

Baker rings up second no-hit performance

Back on April 14, 1984, then freshman Bob Baker fired a no-hitter in his first collegiate start as the Bald Eagle baseball team blanked Bloomsburg, 2-0, at Bloom. Baker struck out two and walked four in that contest.

Now a senior, Baker, a 6-1, 185-pound righthander, celebrated the anniversary of his no-hitter by tossing his second collegiate no-hitter as the Haven salvaged a split in a Pa. Conference Western Division double-header at Clarion winning the nightcap 4-0.

He struck out five and issued only one walk in the masterpiece. He also hit one batter, while another Clarion batter reached base safely on error.

"For four years he's (Baker) kept going out there and giving us everything he has," said LHU Head Coach Greg Bartley. "He just pitched a great game today. He was literally unhittable."

LHU, which lost the opener 5-2 as well as the suspended game from March 28, 20-13, got Baker the only runs he would need in the fourth inning as they snapped the scoreless tie with four plate crossers.

Pat Stasio singled, Steve Kampf singled and Jeff Perryman singled to load the bases. Mike Sigmund grounded out to third to drive in the first run, and after the second out John Kampes got aboard on an error by the Golden Eagle third baseman, two runs scoring on the play. John Brown then ripped an RBI single to drive in the final run.

Bob Baker

LHU collected eight hits in the contest, Perryman and Brown both 2 for 3 and Stasio went 2 for 4.

In the opening game, Clarion glided on the three-hit pitching of Damian Marasco to the 5-2 victory. Freshman Mark Shilling was the losing Bald Eagle pitcher.

Stasio drove in the first LHU run on a ground out in the first after Mike Snyder had singled and moved to third on a wild pitch and a pass ball. In the fourth, Stasio singled and pinch-runner Sigmund later scored on a Perryman sacrifice fly to center.

As for the suspended game, which was completed prior to the start of the regular double-header, Clarion exploded for seven runs in the fourth or 11th overall, for the 20-13 win.

The Haven is now 10-12-1 overall and 1-5 in the PC West.

Golfers take three of four at Bucknell

By Mike Leavy
Sports Reporter

The men's golf team defeated two of three teams in a four way match this past Tuesday at Bucknell University.

The Haven stroked a 419 defeating Bloomsburg University and Lycoming College who shot 420 and 498 respectively.

Bucknell University defeated all teams with a 385.

Scott Thompson led LHU with a 79 on the day.

The Haven's Mike Pizzoferrato and Jim Lacey each stroked an 82.

Lacey said that he had a tough time at the wire.

"All I had to do was to make the last four holes on par to get a 76, but I guess I just tired out," said Lacey.

Doug Spotts was fourth for the Bald Eagle men golfing an 86.

Dave Petruzzi was the number five golfer with a 90, followed by Chris Raup with a 92 and Steve Cox with a 102 for the Haven.

The team's record now stands at 5-4.

LHU will host Susquehanna University on Wednesday at 1 p.m. and East Stroudsburg on Friday.

Hoffer and Gair lead quad meet

By Dan Hanson
Sports Reporter

Deanna Hoffer grabbed two first place finishes and freshman Rob Gair won the javelin in Wednesday's quad track meet at Mansfield University.

The Lock Haven women dominated the jumping events with Hoffer winning the long jump with a leap of 16 feet 9 inches, and the triple on a 36 feet 3 inch jump. Pam Yaroma placed third in the triple, and teammate Vicki Sterner took fourth in both the long and triple jumps.

Angela Jones had an impressive showing in the field events, placing second in the discus with a 118 foot 10 inch toss and third in the javelin and shot put events. Donna Spengle was runner up in the javelin with a throw of 90 feet 10 inches.

Another strong point for the Haven was the hurdles. Sandy Adams ran a 16.9 second time in the 100 meter hurdles to finish second, just ahead of teammate Sonya Adams who took third, crossing the line in 17.1 seconds.

Ann Mullen placed second in the 400 meter hurdles in 72.6 seconds, just .3 ahead of third place Sherry Groff.

Jill Baumgartner and Antonette "Bubbles" Whittington also had strong showings for the Lady Eagles. Baumgartner placed second in the 5,000 meters at 20:06 and Whittington finished third in the 100 meters in 13.9 seconds.

Bloomsburg won the team title with 105 points, followed by Lock Haven with 48 and Mansfield with 14. Ithica did not run a womens' team.

The Lady Eagles are now 1-1 on the season.

Coach Stan Burke is pleased with the teams improvement over last year, but has questions about the dedication of some of athletes.

"We have some people we just can't rely on," said Burke. "They don't show up for practice or meets and I'm disappointed in that aspect."

In the men's meet, Rob Gair made up for a dissapointing appearance in the pole vault by winning the javelin with a toss of 164 feet 5 inches.

Michael Bachman and Anthony Driebelbies took second and third respectively in the 400 meter event. Bachman crossed the line in 52.1 seconds, followed by Driebelbies with a 54.1.

Tim Fuller grabbed second in the 800 meters in 2:01, and Bachman sprinted into third in the 200 meters in 23.1 seconds.

Scott Lockhard took third in the shot put with a toss of 39 feet 11 1/2 inches.

The Bald Eagles will face stiff Division I competition this weekend at the Penn State Nittany Lion Relays which begin today at 11:00 a.m. at Penn State.

Lacrosse team falls to 3-5 after losses to Ship and Millersville

By Bill Hunter
Co-Sports Editor

Outscored 24-7 in its last two matches, the Lady Eagles lacrosse team has hit a low point in the season.

"We are struggling because of lack of confidence," said Head Coach Rose Ann Neff. "We haven't put together two good halves since the Slippery Rock game."

The team's two latest opponents have been Millersville and Shippensburg Universities.

On Wednesday the Lady Eagles ventured to Millersville University, where of the first ten goals scored, LHU could only claim three.

The first of the three was netted by Paula Stephens, assisted by Heidi Firth at 14:28.

At 13:25 the reverse of the first goal happened as Stephens assisted Firth on the goal.

Karen Learn got the third Haven goal on an assist by Karen Fry.

After four consecutive goals by the Lady Marauders, the Haven attempted a comeback.

With 1:33 left in the match, Firth found the back of the net again for her second goal.

Millersville got another point with only :59 remaining in the game, but it was LHU who would make the final strike.

A little too late, but with only :43 on the clock, Katrina Heebner drilled one past MU goalkeeper Kim Davis.

Davis faced 35 shots and made 11 saves. Haven goalie Stacey Giorgio was credited with 14 saves.

"We outshot them, but our shot selection was poor," said Neff.

In earlier action, this week started off sour as the Lady Eagles traveled to Shippensburg to meet the Lady Red Raiders.

The Haven began by getting the opening goal, but it was all down hill from there.

The next five goals were connected upon by SU.

Mary Kauffman led the barrage off with two goals coming only 1:47 apart.

Charlene Camale, Kim Marshall and Kelly Morgan kept up the pace with goals coming at 8:10, 7:42 and 6:34 respectively.

Breaking up the run was LHU's Nora Sharkey. Sharkey got the second and final goal for the team at 6:13 in the first half.

The final seven goals of the game belonged to the Lady Red Raiders. Highlighting the scoreboard were Carolyn Hales with three goals and Jackie Utz and Carolyn Hale each getting two of the last seven.

"They had three girls that could go straight to the goal. They blew right through our defense," said Neff.

Neff also added that SU was probably the second best team in the conference behind West Chester.

Giorgio stopped 14 shots, while her counterpart in goal, SU's Kim Young, stopped ten attempts.

The team's record not stands at 3-5.

"We are not out of the playoff running yet. We have to beat Bloom and play well the rest of the season," said Neff.

The Lady Eagles square off at home today against East Stroudsburg at 1 p.m.

Tennis team blasts Lyco. 8-1 for first win

By Mike Leavy
Sports Reporter

The men's tennis team registered their first mark in the win column yesterday by defeating Lycoming College, 8-1, at Lycoming.

Russ Krise led the way for LHU in singles by defeating Paul Fochtman 7-6, 6-3.

Luke Schwanke was the only loser for the Haven when Kevin Mahoney defeated him in three sets 6-7, 3-6, 6-7.

Enrique Villagomez, now in the number three spot, edged Ted Kelleher in the first set 7-5, and crushed him in the second set 6-2.

Number four man Rob Baker defeated Matt Parcels in straight sets 6-3, 6-0.

Gregg Dauber also won his contest easily defeating Keith Barrows 6-3, 6-3.

Hitting in the number six position for the Haven, John Griffin won by forfeit.

In doubles action Villagomez and Chuck LaBarre also won by forfeit.

Griffin and Eric Hess played in the second doubles position defeating Kelleher and Barrows 6-1, 6-4.

"We were down 4-3 in the second set, but were able to get together and come back for the win," said Hess.

The third doubles match was also forfeited by Lycoming.

This victory now raises the Bald Eagle men to 1-3.

Coach Carol Ritter explained why Lycoming was missing some players.

"Several of their players had classes and couldn't make the match. Others didn't play when it looked hopeless," said Ritter.

The LHU men's tennis team travels to Bloomsburg University next Wednesday for a match at 7 p.m.

CAREERS

Our firm is a large private investment firm with offices located in Centre County, Pennsylvania; Boston; Massachusetts; and Englewood, Colorado. Our growing international client-base includes major universities, Fortune 500 companies, and other widely recognized corporations and institutions.

nine

We would like to hire ~~eleven~~ well-rounded individuals out of 1987's graduating class. In the past, new associates have come from a wide spectrum of disciplines, ranging from a B. S. in Music Education to a Ph.D. in Biochemistry. New associates will join our firm in positions that will provide valuable experience and the opportunity to learn and help guide our firm into the future. We are looking for candidates who want to build a career with our firm.

Successful applicants must have at least a Bachelor's Degree with a minimum overall grade point average of 3.00. The individuals must be detail-oriented, intellectually aggressive, responsible, and willing to give that little extra that makes the difference.

The following are some of the associate levels positions offered:

Assistant to the President. A newly created position requiring intelligence, common sense, the ability to work independently, and the ability to handle ten different projects at once. This person will do some of the work currently being done by our firm's president. Flexibility and a high tolerance level are required. The associate will be rewarded with a rare opportunity to gain valuable experience.

Securities Trader. The associate will join our current staff which traded over $3 billion worth of securities in 1986. The individual must be extremely accurate and willing to work in a high pressure environment. In return, the associate would receive an advanced understanding of securities markets.

Applications Programmer. A knowledge of investment finance, RPG II, Fortran; Basic and telecommunications are most helpful, as is exposure to programming in a multi-user environment. Also useful is a familiarity with Wang VS systems. Three years of programming experience would be preferred, but not required.

Investment Research Analyst. A research staff position involving the quantitative analysis of financial figures and stock market data for approximately 750 stocks. Accuracy and the ability to meet daily deadlines are an absolute must. This approximately 60 hour per week position is suited only for a dedicated and career-minded individual.

Special Projects Analyst. Will be working on special investment research projects, along with routine responsibilities. The position would require the individual to work long hours and weekends when necessary. The applicant should view detail-oriented work as challenging and rewarding.

Portfolio Assistant. A reliable, detail-oriented person to help prepare error-free client reports and presentations. Experience with computers (word processing and plotting) and interest in investments would be helpful. Ability to meet deadlines a must. Applicant should have good communication skills and be willing to work long hours and weekends when necessary.

Corporate Accountant. We are looking for a high caliber individual who can produce perfectly accurate work on a timely basis. The job is too big for one person, so we are not going to list the individual requirements but are simply looking for the most capable applicant.

Securities Accountant. Responsibilities will include reporting daily trading to leading financial institutions world-wide. Our work is highly specialized, thus we can train anyone who is willing to learn. The associate will learn much more than what is covered in finance class.

Research Assistant. An entry-level position to compile, organize and file stock market data and reports for a team of four research analysts. Must possess good communication skills in order to accurately collect and record financial data directly from companies. The position offers the potential to advance within the firm. The individual will deal with the investor relations departments of major corporations.

Part-time Employees. We are also looking for ^{eight} ~~ten~~ additional part-time employees to do clerical work and light manual labor approximately fifteen to twenty hours per month at $7.50/hour.

If you are interested in any of these positions and feel you would be a valuable addition to our staff, please respond by sending a letter stating why you would be an asset to our firm along with your current resume and names of four references to P.O. Box 79, State College, Pennsylvania 16804.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

These positions have already been offered to other individuals from 1987's graduating class.

For the following, two positions were created and offered to an M.B.A and an M.S. in Psychology:

Marketing Assistant. Candidate not need have a degree in marketing but should possess superior organizational and communication skills, learn quickly, work well under deadline pressure, and be willing to work long hours. The ideal applicant will have an eagerness to learn, the ability to work independently, and the patience and understanding for routine assignments as well as special projects. Responsibilities will include telephone contact with clients, updating and maintaining monthly and quarterly data and correspondence, and preparing and editing publications.

The following position has been offered to an M.A. in Communication Studies:

Investment Research Analyst. A research staff position involving the quantitative analysis of financial figures and stock market data for approximately 750 stocks. Accuracy and the ability to meet daily deadlines are an absolute must. This approximately 60 hour per week position is suited only for a dedicated and career-minded individual.

The following position has been offered to a B.S. in Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management:

Receptionist. Requirements for this position are good communication skills and the ability to represent our firm to the public. Also necessary is the willingness to do general office work as needed. Within the past ten months, two people who held this position were presented with the opportunity to advance within the firm.
