AXP buys house after months of negotiations

A stumbling block was hurdled after the Alpha Chi Rho (AXP) fraternity ended a five year wait by purchasing a house last Tuesday.

The house was purchased after five months of negotiations.

The AXP Building Corporation signed the contracts last Tuesday evening making the house at 220 W. Main St. the first official house for the Phi Mu Chi Chapter.

"After a lot of ups and downs in the past five years in looking for houses, we were very lucky to get this house," said President-Elect Steve Bell.

The house, which was wanted by Ross Library for a parking lot, is a historical landmark and former synagogue.

Back in January when the Ross Library was considering purchasing the house, President of the Library Board of Trustees James Lovette said that if the library was to take possession of the property, they would tear the house down for parking purposes, or remodel the house and use it as a Pennsylvania heritage building.

"Larry Glenn, the contractor and former owner of the house, contacted AXP in December to see if they were interested in buying the house," said AXP President Dan Davidson.

"The original price of the house was $100,000. AXP negotiated with Glenn and worked out a deal," said AXP Secretary Chris Raup.

"The AXP Brothers will do some of the work that usually the contractor would be responsible for," said Raup.

Raup added that since AXP will be doing this, the price will no longer be $100,000 but $90,800.

AXP has been doing a lot work inside the house while the contractor primarily works on the outside, said Raup.

"After a long and busy term as president, getting this house is more than what I could have asked for as a going away present," said Davidson.

AXP entered negotiations cautiously because two previous attempts at houses fell through, said Davidson.

The first attempt was in 1984 for the Hoberman House on S. Fairview St. This housing plan fell through because of zoning ordinances.

The second attempt was in 1986 for a house on Water St. AXP had to turn that deal down because there were not enough available parking spaces.

The house will be fully operational by the beginning of next semester, said Bell.

According to the city ordinance, up to 20 brothers may live at the house at one time.

"There is still a lot of work to be done to the interior of the house. The brothers will be coming up during the summer to do some work," said Davidson.

"One of our main goals was to get a house, but now that we have one AXP does not plan to lose its ties to community service," said Bell.

Caimi, Malin to speak at state music conference

By Janine Cuccaro
Staff Reporter

Professors of music, Dr. Florentino J. Caimi and Sue A. Malin, will be the guest speakers at the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association (PMEA) Conference.

The In-Service Conference will take place April 27-30 in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Also attending the conference will be Samuel Arnone, band show-drill designer.

PMEA is a professional organization which encourages review and improvement of creative teaching performance of elementary through senior high school, and college music educators.

The annual conference offers music educators the latest in technology and suggestions for writing curriculum.

The conference also provides panel discussions, classroom and ensemble clinic sessions.

Entertainment is then provided by band and choral concerts by students and professionals.

The conference allows "educators to learn their profession, to meet and discuss ideas through workshops and from distinguished professionals in the field," said Malin.

Caimi and Malin will speak at the PMEA conference this week.

Malin will be one of the presenters of a research session. She said that the session will deal with "researching attitudes on classroom teaching."

Caimi said he will be addressing the session on the National Black Music Caucus.

The caucus is about building a curriculum that deals with students' ethnic heritage, community, and the value system.

Caimi said that he thinks educators should be trained to be employable in the center city, which includes being bilingual.

Caimi served as president of Phi Beta Mu, the national honorary conductors' fraternity, from 1985-87 and is now second vice-president.

Arnone, band director at Hughesville

High School, will present a session on the use of Pyware products to make drill design easier.

Gary Guth, LHU string instructor and director of the orchestra, will also attend.

The conference is also used as a recruiting and advertising tool.

Joseph Coldren, director of admissions, will be staffing a booth for LHU for the second year.

Coldren said this type of promotion affects admissions indirectly but in a positive way.

He said few students come but the educators pass on information about Lock Haven's music programs to interested students.

"Our presence here lets them know we have an active music program; we're involved," said Coldren. "We've had good feedback. People who visited our exhibit last year were impressed."

Both Malin and Caimi said that they feel the conference is a good recruiting instrument.

"It's a great opportunity. We have three speakers reaching people from different angles plus Coldren in the booth," said Caimi.

Lady Eagle lacrosse gains first win of season over Kutztown

By Maryellen Jaskuta
Sports Reporter

The Lady Eagle lacrosse team captured their first victory of the year as they beat visiting Kutztown 13-5 on Saturday.

The win was also the first for first year head coach Bridget Roun.

"I was excited," said an ecstatic Roun. "It was well worth the wait."

Sophomore Peg Buckmaster got the Haven rolling with 21 minutes to go in the first half when she received a pass from Paula Stephens to put it past the Kutztown goalie.

Thirty seconds later Karen Learn answered as she blasted it into the lower right corner of the cage. Stephens was credited for also setting up Learn.

Learn then tallied her second of the game to put the Lady Eagles up 3-0.

Senior Heidi Firth kept the scoring going as her over the shoulder shot found the cage and was again set up by Stephens.

Kutztown didn't manage a goal until the 8:27 mark of the first half as Nancy MacDonald fired one past Lady Eagle goalie Laurie Kerr.

Stephens then notched one as she put it in the lower left corner to put LHU up 5-1.

Kutztown's MacDonald tallied her second goal of the game with seven seconds left in the first half to cut the Lady Eagle lead 5-2 at halftime.

In the second half, Kutztown struck first as Shelly Dawson scored to decrease the Haven's lead to two goals.

The Lady Eagles fought back as Buckmaster answered with her second of the game and twelve seconds later set up her teammate Learn as the Lady Eagles went up 7-3.

Kutztown responded with two quick goals but did not score in the final seventeen minutes as the Lady Eagles exploded for six goals of their own.

Freshman Alison Moulder started off the six goal attack which also saw Stephens, Firth, Learn, and Katrina Heebner each scoring one and Moulder adding a second.

"We didn't break down," said Roun. "Everything was going well."

"We were catching, cutting, hitting the open cutter. It was consistently well."

The Lady Eagles managed 33 shots on goal while Kutztown had 21.

Lock Haven goalie Kerr had 12 saves while opponent Gwen Kerr also had 12.

"We played well," said Roun. "We came together."

The Lady Eagles, now 1-7, travel to Ursinus College tomorrow for a 3:00 start.

Track team competes at Penn State

By Jeffrey Hilty
Sports Reporter

Carl Fisher, Pam Yaroma, and Vicki Sterner shined last Saturday as Fisher gained a first place for the team, while both Yaroma and Sterner qualified for the PSAC conference championships at the 17th annual Penn State Nittany Relays.

Besides LHU, Bloomsburg, California University of Pennsylvania, Cornell, Army, the University of Toronto Track Club, and Penn State participated on Saturday.

Fisher placed first in the 400 meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 56.14 seconds, second in the 110 meter high hurdles with a time of 14.79 seconds. He also got a second in the long jumps with a distance of 22' 9 1/2" and combined with Tony Fleury, Ed Shelling, and Steve Reeser in the 400 meter relay to place third with a time of 43.4 seconds.

Yaroma placed fifth with a distance of 16' 7 1/2" in the long jump and Sterner in the triple jump with a jump of 32' 11".

Sterner said that there are several girls that she believes will be her competition in the championships.

"There are a lot of girls who are jumping high 19's consistently. There will be tough competition for the top five (at the championships)," said Sterner.

According to Head Coach Stan Burke,

Fisher needs a time of 14.40 in the 110 meter high hurdles to qualify for the championships.

In other competition, Steve Reeser placed second in the 400 meter dash with a time of 48.6 seconds, a half second behind Penn State football player Michael Timpson.

"Steve gave him a good race, kind of shook him up... only four or five yards behind him," said Burke.

Reeser combined with Fleury, Mark Robinson, and Mike Bachman in the 1600 meter relay team to place second with a time of 3: 25.2.

In the womens' competition, Jill Baumgartner placed second in the 10,000 meter run with a time of 39 minutes 48 seconds.

The two mile relay team of Cathy Stein, Julie Grasser, Karen Cole, and Amy Caldwell placed second with a time of 10:51.2.

Ann Mullen placed third in the 400 meter dash with a time of 64.2 seconds.

The 800-meter relay team of Sherry Bowen, Vicki Sterner, Bille Reish, and Antoinette Whittington placed third with a time of 1:51.9 and fourth in the 400-meter relay with a time of 52.3 seconds.

Angie Jones placed fourth in the discus with a throw of 131' 1"

The team travels to the Penn Relays in Philadelphia on Thursday and Friday and to the Millersville Relays on Saturday.

Softball team splits with Vulcans

By Merritt La Porta
Sports Reporter

Once again, the Lady Eagle softball team split a doubleheader, this time against the Lady Vulcans of California University.

Junior Sandy Hess, the number one pitcher in the Western Conference, took the loss in the opening game, which went nine innings before California pulled out the victory 3-2.

California had the lead 2-0 going into the seventh inning when LHU scored a pair to send the game into extra innings.

Freshman Kathy Wambold led off with a single and rounded the bases when CU's centerfielder misplayed the ball to score LHU's first run. After Hess walked and Gretchen Caton went in to run, Lisa Suppan put down a sacrifice bunt and was safe at first on another Lady Vulcan error. Kim Hasson stepped up and singled Caton home with the tying run.

California took the lead in the ninth when Hess gave up a lead off walk and then surrendered a base hit which resulted in an error and allowed the runner to score from first.

LHU managed only four hits, all singles, while Hess' record fell to 11-3.

In the second game, the Lady Eagles had only five hits but still came out with the victory, 4-2.

California struck first scoring two runs in the first inning, but LHU came right back in the third when Lisa Suppan singled and Amie Zimmerman bunted pinch-runner Robyn Murchie to second. Sue Weller then doubled, scoring Murchie. Kim Hasson singled and then stole second to put runners on the second and third. Lori DiVecchio then smashed a two-run single.

Gretchen Caton was the winning pitcher, raising her record to 3-3.

Senior captain Kim Hasson feels that the team is playing very well, despite the number of errors the team has suffered.

"I think our main problem with the splits is that we slack off after one win because we're satisfied with that win. Our hitting hasn't been too great either, we usually have spurts of hitting. We need to become more consistent at the plate," she said.

The Lady Eagles take on Edinboro today at 3 p.m. at Lawrence Field.
