Placement for Grads

The annual placement meeting for prospective 1975 graduates (December, May, or August) will be held Thursday, April 18, at 1 p.m. in Price Auditorium.

All prospective 1975 graduates should attend this meeting to complete information for inclusion in the Prospective Graduate Listing. This publication is distributed to the vast majority of 505 school districts in Pennsylvania; additional school districts outside of Pennsylvania including the states of New York, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland; and to approximately 250 significant business and industry employers.

Students planning to graduate next year should be prepared to answer the following questions: Permanent home address during 1974-75; home telephone number; potential graduation date; marital status; membership in organizations; offices held, and honors received at Lock Haven State; type of community preferred - urban, suburban, or rural; and preferred geographic areas of employment, in-state or out-of-state.

Education majors will also be required to indicate their field(s) of certification, grade level preference, sports qualified to coach, and other extra-curricular activities able to advise.

Arts and Science majors will need to indicate their major area of concentration and vocational interests.

There will be a special meeting at the end of this session for prospective

December graduates and Education majors who will be student teaching during the Fall semester.

SCC to discuss budget

The 1974-75 SCC budget will be presented Wednesday night, April 3, 1974, at the SCC General Assembly Meeting and at a special budget meeting which will be held Monday, April 8, 1974.

One result of the new budget will be a five dollar increase per semester to the Activity Fee. The main reason for the increase is due to inflationary costs. The Activity Fee has not been raised for four years and as inflation effects the college itself, it also effects the SCC.

Total Allocations have increased $15,953.00 more from last year's $184,155.00 to this year's total of $200,118.00. The Athletic Allocations having been increased $12,281.04 more with increases occurring in most athletic areas and the addition of a Woman's Synchronized Swimming Team and a Womens Competitive Swimming Team.

The total Anticipated revenue has been increased from last years expected $226,450.00 to this year's expected $248,950.00. Fixed Expenses have increased $6,537.00.

Copies of the Budget can be obtained at the SCC Executive Office for any persons desiring one.

Technology & Ed. to meet

"Focus Upon Instructional Technology in International Education" will be the topic of the President's Fourth Annual Invitational Symposium to be held Friday. The day-long symposium, which will be held in Ulmer Planetarium, will feature various speakers on this subject.

Dr. Aubrey Phillips will open the symposium with an examination of instructional technology at the University of the British West Indies, Jamaica, where he is vice dean and head of teacher education.

He will be followed by Dr. Jesse Hartline, director of the Rutgers University "Open University" project. Dr. Hartline will explain the instructional programs developed for the Open University by B.B.C. Television in London and currently being used at Rutgers.

At 11 a.m., Dr. Walter Mars, associate director of

LHS 11 arraigned on April 1

Eleven Lock Haven State students were arraigned before Clinton County Judge Carson V. Brown on April 1 for charges stemming from an intensive investigation which culminated with a pre-dawn drug raid on Dec. 11. The raid took place on the Lock Haven State College campus and in the city of Lock Haven.

The eleven students pleaded not guilty to the charges against them and are scheduled to appear for trial April 15. The jurors should be chosen at this time.

A pre-trial has been scheduled for April 8 at 10 p.m. in the court house. This will be closed to the public. At this time each case will be discussed between defendant, lawyer, prosecutor and Judge Brown.

John Peregrin to try for 'Hat trick'

by Doug Stoner

Stop, You're Killing Me. Nope, that ain't the cry of our bleary eyed editor. Rather, it's the name of a play, or to be more exact, it's the composite name of three short plays.

Written by James Leo Herlihy, author of Midnight Cowboy, the plays deal with human loneliness. Each one portrays loneliness at a different level of society.

The first play in the trilogy "Laugh's etc.", stars Jan Foster as Gloria. It deals with a woman suffering from an unhappy marriage. Gloria is the false jet-set type, trying to be something she's not. She relates her story while getting drunk.

The second play, "Terrible Jim Fitch", is about a down and out, hard-ass crook. The play concerns a confrontation between Fitch and a whore, Sally Wilkins. He is trying to justify what he's done to her. The play stars Steve Culp as Fitch and Deb Klens as Sally Wilkins.

"Bad, Bad Jo-Jo" completes the threesome. It deals with Kayo Hathaway, a rich and famous playwright and creator of the character Jo-Jo. Kayo is leaving the country to live in Switzerland. He is being interviewed by magazine reporters before his departure. Pat Quinn, Gary Robinson and Dave O'Connell star in "Bad, Bad Jo-Jo".

First performed off-broadway in 1969, Stop, You're Killing Me is now being directed on the Lock Haven campus by John Peregrin.

Preview performance will be April 8 at 8:00. Regular performances will be April 9 and 10 at 8:00. Admission is free.

Amazing Buffalo Revue?

By Bill Mahon

The weekend of April 19, 20, and 21 will be the Spring Weekend at Lock Haven State. Among the features for the weekend will be "The Amazing Kreskin", "Bob Doyle and the Buffalo Chipkickers", "The Earl Scruggs Revue", and "Dylan Day."

On Friday evening, April 19, Kreskin will perform a mentalist-hypnotist act he has spent over 30 years developing. The 8 pm concert in Thomas Field House will be $2 with a validated ID and $3 without.

Saturday evening will feature the Earl Scruggs and Bob Doyle troupe in Thomas Field House at 8 pm. Tickets for their concert will be $3 with ID and $4 without.

Rounding out the weekend will be "Dylan Day" April 21, at LHS. Two slide shows will be presented of the composer-singer's first tour in several years. The 1:30 pm and 6 pm shows in Ulmer Planetarium are free of charge.

Social, not energy, crisis

by Cindy Sleight

"An Indian has no protection of his land as long as it's in trust of the American Government."

This sentiment was impressed by Coyote, a member of the White Roots of Peace, at the press conference held in Raub 106 Thursday afternoon.

The White Roots of Peace discussed the Indian dilemma in the United States. The greatest stress of the press conference was a re-evaluation of American use of resources. Questioned on the remark, "There is no energy crisis, but rather a social crisis" made at an earlier session, Lillihoquats further explained the need to turn our backs on technology and return to nature.

When asked about the incidents of Wounded Knee and the take-over of Alcatraz, members of the group explained that these were not done for attention. The Indians were trying to live on their own land in their own way. Press coverage, they stated, did not always bring out the whole truth of these situations.

Besides holding conferences and seminars, the Indians had a continuously showing movie, an arts and crafts display and a tepee set up for student inspection.

The day ended with a dance of Thanksgiving held in Bentley Lounge. Indians and students alike participated in ceremonial chants and steps.

Mad Mahon offers rebuttal

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to afford this opportunity to clarify the Women's Dorm Council's clarification, and correct Paula Rossettie's corrections.

Members of the WDC have written lies; taken statements I have had printed and put them in quotes leaving out several words which change the meaning of what I said; desecrated the office they were elected to; and attempted to persuade students to their own side of the issue by redefining the definitions and exaggerating facts.

Hence, I will attempt to put the facts in their proper perspective that were included in the two letters written by the WDC. First I will go through the four points presented by all the members of the Council in the March 27 article.

In their first point the WDC explain they are "a self supporting group." What do they mean? Do they sell cookies door to door - conduct pop bottle drives or collect old newspapers and sell them to be recycled? No, they don't.

Every penny the WDC spends is taken from students in Gross, Russell, Woolridge and McEntire. It all belongs to students and should be spent in the best interests of all students.

In point two of the letter they state the money "is used to support residence hall programs" and "it can not be used or donated to other organizations, such as the Women's Swimming Team as stated in the article of March 25." All I can reply to this is, that it is a lie. I know your money cannot be donated to the Women's Swimming Team, and I never made that statement in my article of March 25.

Point three states the purpose of attending the convention was "to gain ideas to bring back." Well all the Council members had to do for a thousand dollars worth continued on page 4

Beyond Masculinity

The values of today's society are based primarily on the masculine value system. This statement basically sums up the gist of Warren Farrell's Monday night talk, "Beyond Masculinity".

In his lecture, Mr. Farrell described the different values of men and women and the need to change, understand, and share these differences.

Men represent success objects of today, according to Farrell. The pressures to keep moving up the social ladder are consistently and constantly pounding them. The speaker believes that men need to share the responsibility of being the "breadwinner" with their women or wives. This way, he explained, both can pursue their individual interests and careers within moderation.

Unfortunately, a man's success is measured mainly in external rewards - money, certificates, degrees, and titles. Farrell pointed out that there needs to be an intermingling with a woman's kind of success. This is usually measured by internal rewards such as the inward satisfaction gained from being a good parent to the children, and from understanding and helping her mate.

With all the pressures man allows to be piled on top of him, he needs the woman to build up his ego. As Farrell puts it, women are like jock straps - always supporting, but not showing too much.

Farrell went on to say that the sex barriers need to be broken down. It should not be considered masculine to climb the ladder of success, nor should doing housework be considered feminine. Men need to learn how to personalize, not only intellectualize. And according to Mr. Farrell, men need to learn how to love.

Questions and discussions followed Mr. Farrell's lecture.

Softball

According to Coach Brad Black, Men's Intramural Director, the Men's Intramural Softball program will try to get "off and running" this Monday, April 8 at 5:30 pm.

This season will not start with the makeup games from Monday, April 1, and Wednesday, April 3, but will go according as planned for the teams scheduled to play this coming Monday, April 8.

The contests which were "snowed out" this week, will, according to Coach Black, "hopefully be re-scheduled at a later date."

More information will be provided in upcoming issues of the Eagle Eye.

Ananda Marga Society-free Yoga and Meditation classes, Thurs., April 4, 7-9 pm Gross Hall lounge. No previous experience necessary; bring blanket for practicing Yoga positions.

What's Happenin'

Thanks are extended to all who helped in making the visit of the "White Roots of Peace" such a success. Special thanks to the wood supplier, haulers and cutters, the guides, publicity people, and the faculty members who sponsored discussions in their classes.

of ideas was to see Paul Rossettie.

In Miss Rossettie's April Fools letter (it was not clear, but I think she intended to attack me in that letter) she cited several very good reasons why the trip to Louisiana should not have been made.

Miss Rossettie supported me (unintentionally) when she stated the recreation room of Russell Hall "consists of old furniture in front of a working half-the-time TV set, and a run-down fold-up ping pong table." The WDC did not have to send three women half-way across the country to find that out. I'm sure Miss Rossettie would have been able to tell them what to do with the $1,000, free of charge.

As far as point four goes:
 A. anybody could name Nov. 14-18 Women's Week- you don't need to spend $1,000 to think of that.
 B. Bill Miller taught his self defense course at Bucknell and Penn State long before he came to Lock Haven. That's much closer than Louisiana.

Concerning Miss Rossettie's compulsion to speak out, I think most readers were confused as to what she was speaking about. She begins by attacking me; then cites several good reasons why the Council members should not go to the convention (run down fold-up ping pong table and a working half-the-time TV set); and then takes a rather cheap shot by jumping up and yelling sex discrimination.

Miss Rossettie states she writes her letter to "correct the numerous false statements made by Mr. Mahon." To this my reply is that I stand behind everything I said in my What's In article except the one correction I promptly made, on my own accord in the next days issue. It was pointed out to me that the WDC does not receive it's funds from activities but it is included in the SCC budget. I made that correction before anyone from WDC approached me.

"Don't tell me about managing money and benefiting students! Surprised?" I would not call it surprise Miss Rossettie, it is more like confusion. You use two reasons for not taking that trip to explain why the trip should be taken.

Concerning the extra $150 that was needed to send the three girls, you quote me as saying something which I did not say. True, the quote is very close to what I said, but the few words you left out of that sentence just happen to change the meaning.

After taking a statement I said and making it appear as if I'm attacking the WDC because they are all women, Miss Rossettie explains that it was a "crass and thoughtless statement."

I was attacking all student funded organizations which spend the most money for the fewest students. It was also hard to understand your statement that the campus is "predominately women." There are approximately 11 women on campus or every ten males, I don't think that can be called "predominately women."

You fail to realize, or at least explain to your readers, the very existence of the 100 men who live in Gross Hall. One hundred men who the Council represents, and the Council is not an all female organization.

Please do not write another annoying letter until you are prepared to deal with the facts, or at least make your own corrections.

Sincerely,
 Bill Mahon

the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, will lecture on the question "Is the Cart Before the Horse in International Education?"

The afternoon session will feature Dr. Robert Murray speaking on instructional technology in the Territory of Guam. Also speaking in the afternoon will be professor John Whetton who will discuss teacher education in Great Britain.

The conference will be concluded by Dr. Russell Milliken, formerly associate dean of Ohio University's College of Education and now administrative vice president of Lock Haven State.

Symposium coordinator is Mr. Arthur Reardon, LHS director of learning resources

Get into the swim

Coach Bradley Black, Men's Intramural Swimming Championships will be held this Thursday night, April 4, in Zimmerli Pool.

Swimmers must be at the pool by 6 pm sharp. Swimmers will sign-up for the events in which they are planning to participate with the tournament getting under way at approximately 6:15- 6:30 pm.

No individual will be permitted to participate in more than 4 total events. He may swim in 3 individual events and 1 relay or 2 relays and 2 individual events but may not swim in more than 3 individual events or 2 relays.

Teamwise, a team is not permitted to enter more than 1 team per relay, nor may they enter more than 3 contestants per individual event.

The order of individual events will run as follows: 200 free, 200 breast, 50 free, 50 back, 50 breast, 100 free, 100 breast, and 100 back. Relays will start with the 100 medley relay followed by the 100 free relay, 100 breast relay, and the 200 freestyle relay.

The 50 yard Butterfly event will be included in the list of events if enough contestants are entered.
