Student Counselor positions now open

By TINA BROOKS
Feature Editor

Applications for the position of Student Counselor for Summer 1976 and Academic year 1976-77 are now available in the Student Life Office in Smith Hall.

All candidates are required to have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 and must have a sophomore, junior or senior status at the end of the current semester. "An ability to relate well to students and staff, a willingness to work within the guidelines of college and residence hall policies and an understanding and acceptance of the responsibilities of the position" are also required.

Candidates must also be willing to work wherever assigned, agree that counselor responsibilities take precedent over other activities, and have no other employment while working as counselors.

Among the responsibilities of Student Counselor are, working closely with the hall manager and staff, being available to assist students during the week and on all weekends except one per month, and referring counseling or discipline problems to the proper campus agency.

Summer 1976 applicants must be available to return to campus early to assist in opening the residence hall for each summer session and stay

Replacement needed for fraternity parties

By FRED SCHULTZ
News Editor

Many students have openly expressed their opinions on the closing down of all fraternity parties this weekend, ordered by Dean George Rhodes.

Rhodes, on Friday, ordered all fraternities to close all of their parties to the student public. The main reason for this order is the incident in the High Hall Parking lot late Monday night involving a LHSC co-ed who was returning from an "open" party. Since this happened, all parties were ordered to close. Any violators, according to Rhodes, would be reported to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

When asked if he wanted the parties reopened, Mark Marra, a freshman resident of High Hall stated, "If the college is so concerned about the amount of people who stay here on weekends, they should re-open the parties." He also stated, along with others, that if the parties are closed, and the dorms are watched by counselors, house mothers, and security officers as closely as they were this weekend, no one will stay here on Saturdays and Sundays.

Steve Lebo, another residence hall occupant for three years commented, "I think the parties should be opened again. There are no other things for people to do on weekends." Since fraternities are one of the main sources of social life here on the weekends, it would seem something will have to replace them or most of the people will have no reason to stay.

C.C. grand jury lowers charges against co-ed

Judith Levandoski, LHSC co-ed, was indicted by a Clinton County grand jury Thursday, April 1, on charges of involuntary manslaughter and concealing the death of an illegitimate baby.

The previous charge of murder against Levandoski has been dropped according to Clinton County District Attorney J. Michael Williamson because there was no evidence to prove that she had intentionally committed murder.

Levandowski was originally charged with criminal homicide when arrested on Feb. 26 in connection with the death of the 10 day-old baby.

until the hall closes at the end of each session. Academic year 1976-77 must return to campus early after vacation times and stay until the residence hall closes before vacation.

Student Counselors for the Academic Year 1976-77 will have their full room and board paid for a double room occupancy and all but $72. per semester will be paid for single occupancy. Summer counselors will be paid $187 per hour, campus minimum wage, for 15 hours per week.

Other benefits include valuable personal growth experience and excellent experience for future employment.

Is Johnson our man?

What would you say about a congressman who represents a multitude of sparsely-populated towns and counties, yet whose campaign funds are mostly gifts from large lobbying organization?

Albert W. Johnson, who is seeking re-election to his seventh consecutive term as congressman from this district, is the Minority Chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee. In his most recent quarter-annual report naming the origin and amount of campaign contributions, it is shown that out of the $5,925 he's received, $5,000 has come from banking interests.

This fact, in corroboration with reports on Johnson's campaign platform should be enough to make anyone question the kind of representation he's giving us.

Locally, he's gone on the record as having supported both a dike-levee system and the construction of a dam for flood control. These two methods could never co-exist because of a lack of money and other conflicting factors. Yet Mr. Johnson doesn't admit this and refuses to voice his approval of one or the other.

Nationally, Johnson has been recently named to the elite "Dirty Dozen" - a list of "anti-environmentalists" made up by concerned conservationists who lobby to get political action in their interest. This may be because he voted to lift federal price controls on the sales of natural gas. Does that action sound like it represents the people of this district?

Mr. Johnson has gone on the record as being an opponent to gun control. He said he's lived in Smethport since before he's been a congressman and he's never witnessed any "unseemly" actions involving the use of a gun. Smethport is a town with a population of approximately 1800. The folks in State College might disagree.

Finally, Mr. Johnson is 69 years old and has been representing the 23rd District since 1963. The 23rd District is geographically, the largest in this country, this side of the Mississippi River. It appears that Mr. Johnson's recognition of the problems of his constituents may have dwindled in his 12 years in office. Certainly, a look at who his friends and enemies are, would seem to indicate that his interests lie where the money is.

Gordon visits Walden

A good bit of research goes into a theatrical production, and when that production is based on historical facts and literary individuals an even greater amount of background needs to be obtained.

Such was the case of "The Night Thoreau Spent In Jail" which the College Players presented here on campus just before Spring Break. The research and interest in Henry David Thoreau, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and the events which surrounded them continued to intrigue some of the show's production company after the play had closed.

"Thoreau's" scenic designer and technical director, John Gordon, LHSC Professor of Speech/Theatre, spent the break in the New England area of the United States visiting the sites where many of these American literary figures spent their lives and created their works. This evening at 7:00 p.m. Mr. Gordon will present a slide, lecture, and discussion session in the Theatre Upstairs (J321) based on some of his findings.

"Walden Revisited" will focus on the many settings upon which Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee based their script. Gordon plans to point out some of the material which these playwrights were unable to reveal.

The discovery of the Thoreau residence wasn't until the 1940's. While walking through the woods in search of the cabin and finding it under a fallen tree, its discoverer rushed through the woods to proclaim his finding to the first person he could find. Upon reaching a young soldier in the woods who was also visiting the area, he announced the discovery of Henry Thoreau's cabin only to surprisingly find that the soldier he was disclosing this to was named Henry Thoreau, a distant relative who also came in search of the site!

This week another portion of historical background is presented onstage, that of minstrel songs. George Britton, nationally known folk singer, comes to the Sloan Theatre Thursday, April 8th to feature "400 Years of Minstrelsy and Folk Song".

"The Dean of Philadelphia Folksingers" has been involved in almost every area of the folk music movement: he has written songs, studied the songs of America and dozens of other nations, has been one of the nation's outstanding folk service proponents, and worked for the conservation of natural resources before it was popular. He has shared the stage with such illustrious names as the Philadelphia Orchestra at Robin Hood Dell and has spread his infectious joy wherever he sings.

Britton's concerts and numerous return engagements at many college campuses keep him on the road most of the year. However, when he is not on tour he directs and teaches the art of folksinging, guitar and allied subjects in his studios in Philadelphia.

George will also conduct a workshop in the Sloan Band and Chorus Room Thursday at 11:00 a.m. Tickets for the evening performance are free with validated ID, 2.50 for adults, and .75 for high school students. Only 310 tickets are available. The appearance is a production of the Lock Haven Artist Series.

Lacrosse expects rugged season

The Lock Haven State college women's Lacrosse opens a rugged nine match schedule on April 6, traveling to Maryland to face Frostburg State.

The first home match is April 8 against one of the top teams in the nation, perennial power West Chester State College at 3:00 p.m.

The Eaglettes third-year head coach Sharon Taylor has seven regulars back from a team that posted a 4-3 record last season.

The veterans returning for another year are junior Cyndy Powell (Oaks) first home, who has scored 13 goals over the past two seasons; sophomore Carolyn Rheiner (Doylestown) left attack wing with six goals last year.

Senior Ellen Ralston (Aldan) center; junior Nancy Hoelzle (Harleysville) cover point; junior Joyce Greene (Doylestown) third home.

Sophomore Andi Hoffman (Gettysburg) is back at the third man post, and senior Cathy Sherman, a two-year letter winner, will be anchoring the defense in the goalie position.

Among the top contenders for a starting berth on the team are sophomore Deb Pentz (Waynesboro), sophomore Janet Greene (Horsham), sophomore Pam Wittaker (Collegeville).

Several newcomers who will be adding to the strength of this season's team are freshmen Peggy Wild (Chalfont), Sue Woolston (West Chester), Donna Jamison (Holicong), Mary Fleig (Harrisburg), and Nancy Crouthamel (Doylestown).

The 1976 varsity schedule: April 6, at Frostburg State, 3:00 p.m.; April 8 at West Chester State, 3:00 p.m.; April 10, at home, LHSC

Haven netmen look promising

By DOUGLAS GREITZ
Staff Reporter

A rugged 11-match schedule faces the Lock Haven State College Tennis Team for the 1976 season coming off a fine 6-3 record from last year.

The Bald Eagle netmen open the season on Monday, April 5, at 3 p.m. They will host Slippery Rock State in the first of eight home dates.

Despite the graduation of Ken Gibson, a brilliant four-year regular, who veteran Coach Karl Herrmann considers the best player in the school's history, the head mentor is looking for a good year.

"We'll have the best depth and team balance since I've been at Lock Haven, and we have a promising group of newcomers this season," Herrmann stated. "The summer-like weather in late February and early March has helped us tremendously in pre-season practice," he added.

Five lettermen return for the upcoming campaign. Sophomore Tag Helt (Lock Haven) at no. 2 position had a 5-4 singles record. At no. 3, two-year regular John Hubert (York) returns with a 6-3 mark in 1975.

Senior Craig Shindler (York), a three-year letter winner, is back at no. 4. He had a 5-4 mark last year. Returning at no. 6, senior Rich Morell (Dennville, N.J.) had an outstanding 7-2 record last year.

Sophomore Scott Bishop (Pittsburgh) earned a letter at no. 3 doubles position compiling a 5-3 mark with Lenny Long who graduated.

Two freshmen newcomers expected to crack the starting lineup are Glenn Miller, former Lock Haven High School standout, and Keith Vernon (Madison, N.J.).

Season looks like a winner for tennis team

The outlook is bright for another winner this season for the Lock Haven State College women's tennis team.

Six letter winners return from a fine 1975 team that posted a 5-2 record under third year head coach Mary Breid.

The Eaglettes netters opened the 1976 campaign on Saturday, April 3 hosting a strong University of Pittsburgh team at 2:00 p.m.

Lock Haven's only other home match comes in the season finale against arch-rival Bloomsburg State on May 4.

Leading the returning veterans are the outstanding Stopper sisters--Debra and Cindy--from Williamsport.

Junior Deb has compiled fine seasons of 5-1 and 6-1 at the number one singles position. Sophomore Cindy had a great unbeaten, 6-0, freshman year at number four and will move to No. 2 for the '76 season.

Three-year letter winner Cheryl Prosser (Southampton) is expected to be at No. 3 singles after fine records of 4-0, 4-1 and 6-1 last campaign. Shelia Blackburn, a junior from Reisterstown, Md., returns at No. 6 after posting a 3-2 mark there last year.

Paula Wolfe from Williamsport should be at No. 4 singles after a year at doubles with Donna Tyler (Audubon) who also returns. Last year the duo posted a 4-3 record in doubles action.

Rounding out the starting six singles position will be at No. 5 a newcomer, junior Kyle Cornelius from Beech Creek who has had plenty of amateur tournament experience.

Introducing The Beer Drinker's Cream Ale.

We have great news for beer drinkers. There's a new brew in town. Kodiak Cream Ale, the beer drinker's cream ale.

You see, Kodiak is unusually light and smooth. Kodiak Cream Ale has everything beer has, and some things beer doesn't.

It has a unique creamy taste. And an extra smoothness that only comes from the finest mountain hops. We even use a special, costly brewing process that gives it a beautiful body all its own.

All in all, Kodiak is enough to make a beer drinker give up beer. Or a cream ale lover switch brands.

And now it's easier to try Kodiak. That's because, until now, you could only get Kodiak on draft. But now, by popular demand, you can have a Kodiak at home, too.

So pick up a six today. Kodiak Cream Ale, the beer drinker's cream ale.
