May 24 is Alumni Day

COLLEGE TIMES

Fire Drill Tonite

VOL. VII—NO. 52

State Teachers College, Lock Haven, Penna.
FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1930

5 Cents Per Copy

MANY GRADUATES RECEIVE POSITIONS

Present Graduating Class to be Well Represented in Schools of Pennsylvania.

The following students have all a final ready secured places in which to complime theory with actual classroom night in the complex of the first secured to the first secured to the first secured that the fi

Acton, Betty—Philipsburg.
Anderson, Jeannette—Mt. Jewett.
Bagshaw, Blanche—Canoe Creek.
Barnard, Mary—Altoona.
Bowers, Julia—Bedford.
Briedenstien, Grace—Altoona.
Buddinger, Pauline—Snow Shoe.
Campbell, Helen—Cammal, Grades

I to VIII.
Catlin, Avonelle—Mayburg.
Courter, Eleanor—Blanchard.
Cunningham, Eleanor—Actna.
Cunningham, Helen — Williamsburg, Grades I to VII.

Dale, Farian—State College, Grade

IV.
Eckert, Ruby—Antesfort.
Evans, Becky—Pottersdale.
Farr, Mary—Warren.
Fenton, Verna—Troy School, Troy.
Fitzgibbons, Doris—Hawk Run,

Grade II.
Foreman, Sara—Gregg Township.
Franklin, Reba—Altoona.
Fye, Lily—Salona.
Garrison, Marian—Bloomington.
Grell, Kathryn—Lykens Township.
Griggs. Edith—Lauder, Grades

Griggs, Edith—Lauder, Grades
V-VI.

Harmon, Ann — Montgomery,
Grades I-VIII.

Hengst, Mae—King.
Hess, Margaret—Bethlehem.
Hoenstine, Anna—Claysburg.
Hurst, Margaret—Philipsburg.
Irwin, Ada—Bellwood, Grades

V-VIII Artib. affect.

Johnson, Ruth—Clearfiek.
Kelley, Ruth—Hollidaysburg.
Kepner, Dorothy—Port Royal.
Kinkeade, Phyllis—Tyrone.
Korman, Mary—Gulieh Township.
Kyler, Mid—Knox Township.
Lantz, Ona—Altoona.
Long, Sam—Williamsport.
Lord, Fagne Jane—Johnstown.
Lord, Fagne—Ardmore, Kindergarten.

Maury, Henrietta — Mill Hall,
Grade II.

McCuilly, Ethel-Morrisdale, Grades V-VIII Depart. Work. Owens, Margaret - Wolf Run,

STUDENT MUSICAL RECITAL TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

The Annual Student Musical Recital will be given in the auditorium Friday night, May 16. This concert under the direction of the instructors in the music department is one of the events in our school program to which we look forward with high anticipations. All through the year we hear of the creditable work that the students of music are doing with Miss Whitwell and Mrs. Stemple as instructors, but this formal concert is a final proof of accomplishment. The program to be carried out on Friday night is an arrangement of plano and vocal music.

March Giese
Ruth Klewans
Rigaudon Mac Dowell
Mildred Allen

Over the Waves ____ Grant Shaffer
Barbara Furst
Her Rose ____ C. Whitney Coombs
Ma Li'l Sweet Sunbeam

Mabel McKinley
Elsie Brion
Air de Ballet _____ Moszkowski
Mary Ulmer
The Recruits March ____ Barth

Rococo Pauline Hudson

SHAKESPERIANS DINE AT NEW FALLON HOTEL

Last Saturday night the Shakespear Literary Society held its second annual banquet at the New Fallon Hotel. Fifteen members of the society met, with their faculty advisors, around a festive board piled high with good things.

During the banquet many things were discussed concerning the club's activities this year and prospective activities for next year. Edwin Me-Donald acted as toastmaster during the evening and kept the wheel rotating at a good speed.

Mr. Gage and Dr. Rude talked about the early years of the society and several of the members talked about the success of the year. John Haberstroh played a piano solo and Maude Cunningham read a poem,

"Getting Information Out of Pa."
The party broke up when Sabby Grieco began telling of what a marvelous asset a good vocabulary was to any student especially when some of the faculty might be convinced that you knew something.

FOR SALE

-HOME-MADE CANDY-

A. C. E. (I. K. U.) FRIDAY

DUSK OF MAY

Around the lawn, tall trees cloister, Robed in pure fresh green. The grass reflects the same cool color.

The grass reflects the same cool color.

Through the thick leaves the last rays of the sun faintly glint

And pass away.

Then beneath the trees Young lovers stroll aimlessly by Content with the world as it is.

Now the breath of lilacs Comes to me on the refreshing even ing breeze . . . This is the dusk of May.

May. B. Matchley.

BETA SIGMA CHI HOLDS ANNUAL ALUMNI BANQUET

About sixty alumnae and members of the Beta Sigma Chi Sorority with Miss Ivah Whitwell and Miss Avis Edgerton, faculty advisors, attended the annual Alumni Dinner Dance at the Country Club, last Saturday.

Of the alumnae present, the class rosters showed 1929 with seven representatives; 1927, three; 1926, six; and 1921, one—Mary Thompson, of Altona, who was proud of her distinction as the "oldest" girll present. During the course of the evening, Helen Hagasty, '26, formally announced the organization of a Bittersweet Alumni Club in Altona which be also the seven of the course of the course of the theorem of the course of pear's graduation.

Brief specific blagerton, Miss Whitwell and the alumnae were followed by the announcement and introduction of the newly-elected officers for next year. These are President, Martha Zeigler; Vice-President, Kay Gorman; Treasurer, Jenice Sharp; Recording Secretary, Katherine Flannally; Gorresponding Secretary, Ann Dolan; Intersorority Council Repre-Lawhead.

FINAL PLAY OF THE YEAR IS BEING PREPARED BY JUNIORS

The cast for the Junior Class Play,
"Tons of Money," is working practically night and day in preparation for the performance which takes place next Friday evening at eight o'clock.
"Tons of Money" is a rollicking comedy with many hilarious scenes ensuing, and of course each character is after the "tons of money" which is after the "tons of money" which is of Mics Arwy the play promises to be a success and the Junior class guarantees its patrons a delightful evening's entertainment.

MARY GATES ATTENDS I. K. II. CONFERENCE

Name of Organization is Changed From I. K. U. to A. C. E. at Memohis Gathering.

Our college was represented at the I. K. U. Conference held at Memphis, Tennessee, April 22 to 27, by Mary Gates, a Senior girl of Group 1. The most important decision was the fact that the name will no longer be I. K. U. but A. C. A. for it is now the Association for Childhood Education. Since the work covers the nursery school, kindergarten and primary grades, the delegates and leaders decided on a name to cover a broader scope.

Mary was with the Pittsburgh delegation, which had Miss Boyse, head of the kindergartens in Pittsburgh, as their leader. In this Pittsburgh group tent from the Pittsburgh delegation about ten o'clock that evening. They took a sleeper to Cincinnatti and then went to Memphis on the Pan-American. This road Mary is sure is quite different from the one in our state.

When the delegates arrived in Memphis Monday evening, they were met with "open arms" and they needed to wait no longer to see evidence of southern hospitality. Transportation to the Hotel Peabody, the head-quarters of the conference, was furnished and Mary was pleased with her

Continued On Page Four

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM TO BEGIN ON NEXT FRIDAY

The commencement season of State Teachers College at Lock Haven will begin with the Junior Class Play on Friday night, May 23, at 8:15. This is the last play of the year so it is the big attraction of the students and many alumni.

many alumni.
Saturday, May 24, is Alumni Day and will open at 2:30 with the annual business meeting in the auditorium.
Dr. David D. Thomas, President of the Alumni Association, will preside.
After this meeting, a short program will be given.

sung, and of course each character is after the "trons of money" which is at stake. Under the careful directly which is at stake. Under the careful directly at a stake and the Junior class the success and the Junior class guarantees its patrons a delightful even image and the statement.

Continued On Page Four

ALUMNI NOTES

The Bittersweets say they had a wonderful time at their banquet which was held Saturday, May 10 at the Clinton Country Club. The following alumni were there:

Catherine Cook, '29—Curwensville.
Ann Gilloegly, '29—Williamsport.
Helen Hagerty, '29—Altoona. Mary Thompson, '29-Altoona.

Elizabeth Bressler, '28. Jerry Jones, '28.

Carolyn Stevenson, '26. Marguerite Carl, '26. Catherine Rank Breneman.

Alice Corby, '27—Altoona. Catherine Hartswick, '27—Altoona Charlotte High, '29—Bellwood. Peg Creighton, '29—Mill Hall. Jule Gibbons, '29—Williamsport.

Ruth Crane, '28. Ruth Hunter, '29. Irene Henry, '29—Jersey Shore. Helen Beher, '28—State College. Dorothy (Campbell) Meyers, '27

Virginia Miller, '26—Tyrone. Marian Bailey, '26.

1929

Emma Kelsal, a primary teacher at Vintondale, spent the week-end at S. T. C.

Thelma Moore has a position next vear at Castanea.

Kathleen Bowes and Lewis Smith were married in Maryland on Monday, May 5. Mrs. Smith was a member of the Class of '29 and the Beta Sigma Chi sorority. Mr. Smith is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Smith of 238 West Church Street, Lock Haven, their annual banquet at Quigley Hall

GIRLS' SPORTS

Interest in the Girls' Spring Sports is steadily increasing. Whether on the tennis courts, baseball or track field, any spectator will see a great deal of competition at the daily practices. All track girls are getting ready for the annual meet. Baseball games and tennis sets are being played off in quick succession.

The track section is still practicing for standards of measure.

Several baseball games have been played between the different classes, Woika's winning team in the game with Ebert's first year Primary. Score 10-4. Zeigler's College team scored another game to their credit when they won against Russell's College Juniors by one point. Score and Eileen Phillips will speak for the 20-19. Monteith's 2nd year winning R. O. L.'s at next year's council meetprimaries won the game with Arnold's 2nd year primaries. Score 32-6. G. Anderson's 2nd year intermediates scored 17 runs to Stiffler's 7.

Can't be True.

He. Do you smoke?

She. No, I don't smoke. Do you drink? He. No, I don't drink.

She. He. Do you neck? No. I don't neck. She.

Wampus.

mit that with the arrival of the good lanterns were hung all over the room O' summertime, she is more prone to and the low lights gave a shadowy efsurvey the campus from a comfort- fect of happiness and contentment. A able spot than enlighten the inmates delicious luncheon was served and the concerning what they probably al-ready know—but orders is orders. ald and gold ribbon. The sponsors

I. K. U.

The I. K. U. announces its new name—the Association for Childhood Education A. C. E .- and also its new officers:—President, Dot Palmer; Treasurer, Gertrude Marks; Secre-tary, Betty Machtley. Here's success to all the new 'uns.

B. E. X.

The B. E. X. sorority met last week and amended the constitution relative to elections and followed this business with the election of their new officers whose names appear elsewhere in this paper.

Art Club.

The Art Club has arranged plans for a picnic to be held Wednesday 21 up the glen.

L. A. L.

The L. A. L.'s have decided to hold next Thursday night. We shall at-

A 7 P

The Times Staff held formal initiation of seven pledges last Monday evening. The initiations was preceded by a heart-rending program presented by the pledges and followed by a perfect lunch given by the new members. Plans were made and committees appointed for a picnic which is scheduled for next Monday night and to be held at Woolrich Park, and lastly nominations for officers were made. So ended a perfect

R. O. L.

The R. O. L.'s elected their intersorority council members at their regular Monday meeting. Laura Smith and Eileen Phillips will speak for the

A. S. T.

The Junior Alpha Sigma Tau girls Treasurer held a farewell party for the Senior Inter-Sorority Council members on Thursday evening, May 8. The rooms were cleverly decorat-

President Vice-President Secretary

Knew It All.

"What is Francis Scott Key's greatest distinction?"

ord.

ed a cab.

The editor is right willing to ad- ed in the sorority colors. Japanese were Miss Himes and Mrs. Mac-Dougall.

A. C. D.

The Alpha Chi Deltas held a meeting on Tuesday, May 13 for the purpose of electing officers for next year. The results of the election were as follows:

Dorothy Bixel President Vice-President Helen Johnson Evelyn Bauman Sec'v.-Treas. __

W. A. A.

Mae Collins, President of W. A. A. for 1930, handed in her resignation. W. A. A. held a meeting at 12:45 Tuesday and Irene Russell is the newly elected President.

Naturalist Club

The spring weather evidently does not bother some people around here when they can arise and be going on a hike by 5:30 A. M. Nature probably gets them and they desire to be with it. All this means that the Nat-uralist Club went on their last hike Tuesday morning, May 13. The energetic ones went for an extended hike and all collected at the meeting place, the reservoir, for breakfast-cheating on the dining room again by having "Hot Dogs." Mr. Ulmer, the Club's advisor, was there and with the aid of some members, planted some trees. Everyone returned brimming over with pep and regreting that this was the last excursion of the year.

A. S. T.

At the regular meeting of the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, the sisters became politicians and elected their officers for next year. The following people will run the meetings and sign the checks next fall:

Alice Read Dorothy Palmer Edith Furst Elizabeth Kell

Dot Palmer Gertrude Marks

Four Hundred Years Old

Recently the French celebrated the four hundredth anniversary of the He. Well, what do you do?

"He knew all four versus of "The doughnuts. We believe we had that She. I tell lies.—U. of S. Calif. Star Spangled Banner."—Yale Rec-doughnut for breakfast the other morning.

JOKES

Cheap Enough.

The Scotch grocery-salesman hail-

"How much to take me to the Majestic Hotel?" he asked. "One dollar and seventy-five cents."

"And how much for my suitcases?" "Oh," said the cabman. "I'll take those for nothing." "Fine! Take the suitcases. I'll Slippery Rocket.

Ophelia, get me a can opener. Me thinks that I have a flea in my Knight clothes.—"Life."

Did you hear about soap boy Por-ter? He takes a yard stick to bed with him to see how long he sleeps. College Humor.

What a terrible crush I have on this road, said the steam roller driving through the campus back drive.

"Let's have a little drink of water," said the elephant as he lapped up a puddle.-C. Humor.

Sometimes I feel so low I have to come up to touch ground .- C. Humor.

No Foolin'

The main difference between my girl and a traffic cop is that the cop means it when he says "Stop.

Kreolite News.

Introspection. "I simply must look into this," said the flapper as she pulled out a mirror.—The Journal.

Whale-Bones.

"You boy over in the corner!" Thus the brutal examiner to the nervous-looking pupil in the class. boy over in the corner shot up like a

"Answer this," continued the examiner. "Do we eat the flesh of the whale?"

"Y-y-yes, sir," faltered the scholar. "And what do you do with the

"P-please, sir," responded the nervous one, with chattering teeth, "we l-leave them on the s-side of our p-plates."

Kreolite News.

Letter from Constant Reader: "I have a horse that at times appears normal, but at other times is very What shall I do?

Stock Editor's Reply: "Next time your horse appears normal—sell him." lame.

"When Mr Smith came to dinner he said I was a lovely woman."
"Don't believe him. He said the dinner was lovely, and you know the fish was burned."

COLLEGE TIMES

The College Times in published Lock Haven State Teachers College, L Haven, Penna., by the Board of Editors the College Times, Published weekly during school year Subscription rate, $1.00 per annum.

BOARD OF EDITORS

Editor-in-Chief Margaret Beeson Managing Editor ___ Royce Johnson Make-up Editor Irene Russell Alumni & Exchange Editor Elizabeth Machtley

Men's Sports Editor

Albert Sundberg Girls' Sports Editor _ Martha Zeigler Joke Editor Sylvia Sykes Business Manager Einar Eliason Circulation Manager _ Quentin Wolfe Subscription Manager

Elizabeth Dalby

Staff Writers:-

Katherine Anderson, Robert Bollinger, Mary Barnard, Anna Mary Gilson, Samuel Long, Charlotte Mahaffey, Norman Morgain, Ralph Alice Read, William Poorman, Poorman, Alice Read, william Sweet, Ruth Conrady, Maude Cunningham, William Bitner.

Typists:-

Margaret Spooner, Fay Bittner, Bernice Moran.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate postage provided for in Section 1103, Act October 3, 1917, authorized June 3, 1923. ntered as Second Class matter November 5, 1928, at the Post Office at Lock Haven, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1930

EDITORIALS

Each year members of the graduating class say that they will be back at different times through the terms but somehow they fail to appear. Yes, it has been proven that they are even absent for Alumni Day. Great plans are being made this year and it is hoped that a great number of Alumni will attend.

Your Alma Mater is just now preparing herself for her fifty-second Commencement Season and will be glad to welcome back her loyal sons and daughters. Are you going to disappoint her? You had spirit while here so show it now by coming back. A large number of Alumni returning means a successful season so one and all do your bit and cooperate by coming back

No doubt our readers will be interested in the following facts connected with the life of Mr. Bennett who lectured so ably at the Y. M. meeting last Wednesday.

John Bennett is a young man whose ideas are youthful and whose interpretations of contemporary thought are quite modern. He is a graduate of Williams College and has done graduate work at Oxford. At present is ever alive and ever active.

S. T. C. was well represented at Altoona this week-end. Florence Diehl, Dot Kling, Helen O'Neil, Kay Vast Tracts of Timber Burn as Hardy, Nellie Hess, Mabel Creighton and Dede Stover were all home for the week-end.

Mary Edla Miller, Mary Worcester, Evelyn Hinkleman, Esther Solt, Ann Forse and Grace Mark were home at Williamsport, Saturday and Sunday.

Fannie Stokes visited at her home in Johnstown for the week-end.

Essie Noll and Pete Hile were at home in Pleasant Gap over the weekend.

Edith Markle and Mary Beale spent the week-end at Mary's home in Burnham.

Sally Wilson spent the week-end in Altoona.

Becky Evans went home with Verna Fenton for the week-end. Kathryn Burnham visited with her former schoolmate, Irene Henry, at Jersey Shore.

Martha Colgate was at her home in Mt. Union, Saturday and Sunday.

Helen Lewis and Edythe Lewis spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes in Williamsport.

Dot Bastian spent the week-end at home in Williamsport.

Betty Acton visited with friend, Eunice Williams, recently. Eleanor Kunselr an visited with her brother, Saturday and Sunday, at his home in Mt. Carmel. Mabelle Winkelblech Haines were home in Millheim for the week-end.

Ed. Speck entertained friends and relatives recently. Ernest Wagner visited at his home in Center Hall last week. Kermit Stover spent the week-end at home in Coburn. Carl Wasseen spent his week-end on the hilltop in Grassflat. John Kachik and John Duke have an alibi for going to Snowshoe. They wanted to give the Bishop a break.

Ralph Poorman took a Civil Service examination at State College last Wednesday, for the teaching of Indians.

he holds the professorship of Religious Philosophy at Union Theological Seminary and next year he will assume a similar professorship at Au-

Mr. Bennett teaches and considers religion as a dynamic force rather than a static one. It is his belief that thrilling of escapades. Christianity should so permeate one, that all reactions and all relations should be colored by it, that is, Christianity should so implant its seal upon a being that his actions should vanity bag fo'?" be directed by it. In short, Mr. Bennett believes in a Christianity which

US AND OTHERS I WAIT FOR THE WAGON

College Fighting Squad Waits For Unknown Warden.

All that could be seen on our northern horizon last Thursday evening was a great mass of raging fire and blinding smoke which travelled so rapidly that it seemed inevitable that it would reach Renovo by morning and wipe out the little metropolis that has given us such a unique collection of good and bad in the past vear.

As our red blooded college boys gazed upon the maddened conflagration they become enraged and waited patiently for the signal from Warden Parsons to open fire on the enemy. Assistant Warden Sekula was in charge of the first squad of recruits who, at the command of their leader, donned their fighting regalia and set out on a dead run toward the roaring horizon

Captains McCall and Smith kept the outfit in good marching attitude by whistling the Stein Song with Mc-Ilvaine humming the accompaniment in his unusually beautiful and sonorous tenor.

Sergeant MacDonald called a halt and explained to the enthusiastic band that the fire line was still about ten miles hence and that they would have to wait for the wagon. The fighters welcomed this command as they were already becoming fatigued after their long half mile hike, so they sat down on the bank of the road in front of the Dew Drop Inn and waited patiently for the arrival of the truck that was to hurry them to the scene of disaster.

After waiting about a half an hour the boys became sleepy and as a result of a Coup d'etat, formed and executed by Private Wagner, a direct mutiny ensued which culminated in a mad rush for the dormitory.

Never before has this college witnessed a more disgraceful retreat; never was kitchen knave more embarrassed than were these future teachers as they passed through the long line of teasing, razzing, tan-talizing boys who had gathered to view their return.

We do not know who is at the foot of this but we do know that it was one of the best practical jokes that we have ever been fortunate enough to laugh at. We will now take time out and give three loud ha ha's in honor of those who were brave enough to venture forth on this most

BLUFFING

Ladies and Gentlemen:

IS CRY OF FIGHTERS The subject on which I am to speak this evening is one in which I am sure you are thoroughly interested. all have a certain innate desire to bluff, although some of us have the art more finely developed than oth-

> This art is not new to the world, in fact Plato practiced it very freely, when he told the people that he wrote his own editorials for the daily Re-Columbus saw a few red men on the shores of some place and told the queen that he had seen Indians. Sir Walter Raleigh wanted a certain good lady to raise his salary, so he laid his overcoat on the ground, and told the queen that there was a puddle of water beneath it; he had his salary raised to four dollars a month.

> But I ask you as students to be broadminded and take an inventory of our own day. Do we bluff? Of course we don't; if we did it wouldn't be bluffing, it would merely be a bad failure > Bluffling can be more extensively and successfully used by men than women for a great many reasons; the first of which is that men can assume the interested look more easily. Who ever saw a woman stand and recite on a topic about which she knew nothing? No one, of course not, but how many men in this college ever talk about anything that they really know about. Very few, in fact there is no reason for a man to study over one subject, because from that course he can find enough foolish questions to ask to insure the instructor of his interest and that's about all a teacher can expect anyway.

> In Aristotle's time bluffling was an art and called oratory, but today it is a science and is called a recitation. Many ways of bluffing are in use at the present time, the most classical being called the veto type. This kind consists of raising an argument as to the value of a particular person, place or thing, then a free for all debate as to which is right, the first or second, reason. Most people have long since forgotten what the reasons were but the old clock is still going strong. Another way to bluff is to say the following, "Well, now in my research I didn't run across that point," or "why, I didn't know you assigned that." Perhaps the old one Perhaps the old one about "the books were all in use" about "the books were all in use" would help if "I was ill last night" had been used. An extreme case of bluffing could be employed by admitting that "the room-mate spilled water all over the paper," or "why I thought I handed that in."

> Bluffing is not a one sided proposition we are led to believe, when as an answer to a question we are told to "look it up as it will do you more > good." Of course I could say a lot more about bluffing but my time is up.

A paint manufacturer recently received the following letter:

vanny bag 10'?"

Mandy: "Go way, man. Dat ain't us some of your striped paint? We no shoe polish. Dat am mah beauty tus some of your striped paint? We clay."

MARY GATES ATTENDS I. K. U. CONFERENCE

Continued From Page One

rooms there for they were overlooking the Mississippi River.

Tuesday morning, the delegates took advantage of the privilege of hearing Marjorie Hardy, author of the Primers used in the first grade of the Training School. One of the novel affairs of the first day was the letters from the foreign correspondents: Japan, Australia, Switzerland, Poland, Norway, Moscow, Denmark, India, England and Scotland. The letters told of the growth and progress of the kindergarten, but asked for further suggestions. That afternoon Mary attended the group con-ference of "Environment as a Stimulating Factor." The program of Negro Spirituals of the Glee Club of Booker T. Washington High School was appealing and inspiring to the listeners.

The next morning the schools of the city were open to the visitors. Mary observed a demonstration in creative music with Gertrude E. Skinner of New York City as group leader. The two addresses of the evening were given by Julia Wade Abbott, "Parental Education," and Dr. Cleveland Meyers, of Western Reserve University, "Parents Educational and the Pennsylvania had a snappy stunt for Delegates Day, Thursday, for when the roll was called each state had to respond. At the luncheon that day the Pullman Porter Band furnished the music. Mary Doheney Davis, Chairman of the Editorial Board of "Childhood Education," spoke on the value of that magazine. Friday morning the business meeting was held at which the name of the group was changed to A. C. E. The officers of this year were reelected. "American Speech, Our Responsibility," was the subject discussed by Dr. Emma Grant Meader of the Russell Sage Foundation, Troy, New York. The delegates were impress ed by the Symposium Dinner held at Goyoso Hotel, Friday evening. Miss Lucy Gage from the George Peahody College presided as toastmistress for the evening of Southern Song and Story.

Saturday was given to the visitors as Play Day. Mary chose a motor boat ride on the Mississippi River for her diversion. In the afternoon the children of the city entertained their delegates with a circus. The circus concluded the conference for this vear. Next year it will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, Mary will be glad to talk about the conference with the other girls for she seems very enthusiastic about the beauties of the South and its atmosphere. It is all true she says that the Southern people are especially polite and hospitable, and she even found evidence of the expression "you all." She managed to include 'you all." plantations in her itinerary. She is proud to say, too, that she met peoprofile to say, our control of the whole, Mary is happy that she had tures, the shortest distance between whole, Mary is happy that she had tures, the shortest distance between whole, which is the shortest distance between the control of the shortest distance between whole is a straightful eight.

The Anemone, dan I gets paid for "Exchange." this opportunity to visit Memphis.

CAMPUS

won't be long now!

Famous Comebacks-"C'mon in, the water's fine."

We hear that Emma Jane Lohr, Nancy Galbraith and Ruth Grier took beauty treatments while on the R. O picnic last Saturday afternoon. How's the mud, girls?

Pop McCall, after many arguments, has been acclaimed the champion of the horseshoe pitchers.

by being seen on East Campus with a spell of---!

book in his hand. Judging by the number of bats be-

MANY GRADUATES RECEIVE POSITIONS Continued From Page One

Clearfield. Prosser, Grace—Bedford. Pucky, Marian—Altoona. Reed, Lois—Hughesville. Reiter, Meg-St. Marys. Sager, Kathryn—Cedar Springs, Grades I-VIII.

Seelve, Helen-Ansonville, Grades I,VII.

Stickles, Marguerite - Keating Township. Stitzer, Dorothy-Pleasant Gap. Strum, Thelma-Penfield.

Thompson, Lulu-Blair County. Twigg, Sue-Morrisdale, Grades I-IV.

Wagner, Earnest—Tusselville, Pa. Walters, Helen—Mazeppa, Grades I-IV.

Watts, "Kay"-Sheffield. Weyant, Esther-Klahr. Williams, Eunice-Patton Township. Wilson, Clara-Woodland, Grade

VI. Wilson, I IV-V. Lelia - Bigler, Grades

Don't Like the Eats

"I should be very happy, because I'm married to the type of girl I wanted.

"She is a marvel of physical perfection. We have been married three years and never once have I seen her hair disarranged or her gown untidy. Her hands are ever white and smooth. Marvelously manicured nails gleam when she extends her finger tips in greeting. fHer teeth are rows o white pearls. Her complexion would shame any school girl. She's wonderful! Her immaculate appearance source of never-ending joy to me. "But I'm getting tired of eating in restaurants!

Kreolite News.

Why all the yearning looks during mural baseball league must lead a these warm days, girls? Cheer up, it tough life. It's lucky for the "umps" that pop isn't sold on the baseball field.

> Red Cowfer nearly caused a riot at the swimming hole last week. Five girls were nearly hurt in the rush that followed Red's appearance in his hathing suit.

> Time payments are not what they seem to be. If you don't believe me, ask some of the girls who have made their first payment on a coat of tan.

The bachelors' club is just about extinct. Spud Mack, whom we would Bardo surprised everyone recently least suspect, has succumbed to the

Some of the boys around here who are in love, tell us that business isn't ing broken, the umpires of the intra- the only thing to run in cycles.

MISS DIXON DESCRIBES HER HOBBIES AT DAY ROOM Y. W.

The dayroom "Y. W." had a very interesting and enjoyable meeting last Wednesday when Miss Dixon gave them a talk on her "Hobbies." She first told them that the odd years at her college collected owls and the even years collected torches. At the present time she has between 45 and owls in her collection.

Her hobby at the present time is collecting stones which she is going to use to build a house at some future time. Many amusing incidents were given as she told where she had found ome of her stones, and how she had obtained them. Miss Dixon states that her friends as well as some of the faculty members are becoming interested in her hobby and have even been giving her material aid in her collections.

Here's hoping she finally gets enough to build her house and invites us all to come to see it.

I dream now of a newspaper not especially for youth, but one which is fit for youth as well as age, fit to be carried into any schoolhouse and there used as a textbook, a history in the present tense, a history which will bring the past into the present and help the present to see where the next day's march should lead .- John Finley, associate editor, New York Times in the April Journal of the National Education Association.

and never had a wreck.

9 HOW THEY'LL FEEL ABOUT US SOME GRAND DAY

Ten million years from now some geologist will be poking among the ruins of ancient cities and he will come upon a pile of dull red bricks. "Aha," he will cry in the language of the times. "I have probably came upon some invaluable specimens of a race of barbarian building dwellers." Then he will summon some excavators to take away earth and debris that he may examine the heap of red bricks more closely. Great will be his joy when he finds that there is a space walled in. From his experience he will know that this is what was known as a room. He will look around and find that it is filled with queer wooden things that fall apart at a touch. These odd shaped things were known as desks. Just then a member of the party rushes in and cries that he has found a great curved piece of gray stone with some queer figures on it. The geologist's right-hand man, who knows all about hieroglyphics, studies the figures and finally announces that they mean "State Teachers College."

"Then this," cries the geologist, "i what was known as an institution of learning, where many grown up, hard hearted adults inflicted brutal punishment on the youth of the day, by making them do projects and take examinations. Come let us search di-ligently to find some relics of these projects and examinations, and preserve them as an eternal reminder to us of our forefathers great sufferings."

So they searched and found great stacks of books and writings. The geologist grew sad as he found millions and millions of papers written by students and the countless number of puppet shows, charts and maps on which the poor youth had labored. But they did not fall apart at the touch of hands. Nay, they were made too well. They were preserved by the quality of work that had been done on them.

At length the geologist raised his head and with tears in his eyes he said. "Let us not disturb this work. We realize how the youths of long ago must have suffered to do such great quantities of writing. We shall cover this pile of red bricks with earth again and leave untouched the masterpieces completed by those whom we are honored to call our forefathers. But we will take this curved grey rock and keep it in our sight always as a tribute to those who wore out both brain and body on examinations and projects."

More Knowledge.

It is very difficult to discourage a met his match when he tackled a sol-book canvasser. But one of the tribe emn looking negro elevator attend-

The negro listened while the canvasser enlarged on the vast stores of knowledge to be acquired from the Dick-I've had this car for years work he was offering on the installnd never had a wreck.

Pleen—You mean you've had this "'Twouldn't be no manner o' use to