Kiddie Theatre To Present Play In Fall Semester

Next year, "Jack and the Beanstalk" will be presented on Lock Haven's campus October 11, 12, and 13 by the Pittsburgh Children's Theatre. The auditorium was filled for the 5 performances of "Marco Polo," this year's Children's Theatre production.

The elementary schools in attendance were Mill Hall, Woodward Township, St. Agnes, Renovo, South Renovo, Immaculate Conception, Beech Creek, Blanchard, McGhee, Robb, Woolrich, Castanea, Flemington, Dickey, and Porter Township.

The manager of the theatre, Miss Faye Parker, is a three time winner of the National Children's Playwright Contest sponsored by the University of Seattle, Washington.

Miss Parker is famous for the productions "Tom and the Wonderful Why," which played at the Lincoln Center in New York, and "Explorer of the Unknown," which played in New Delhi and London.

The Children's Theatre plays on a circuit from Indiana to Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, and Virginia. The theatre has been a regular feature on LHSC's campus for the past 12 years.

McGee Defeats Thompson, Shrey in Freshman Elections

Eck, Bower, Taddeo Also To Hold Office

The Freshman Class elected their officers for the school year 1967-1968 in an election held on Monday, May 8. The results were: president, Bernie McGee; vice-president, Margaret Eck; secretary, Chris Bower; treasurer, Marlene Taddeo; male SCC representative, Shannon Lieb; female representative, Linda Montague.

According to Craig Batcheler, "Bernie will be working to better the class and do his best to make it a unit. Bernie will try to display college unity and to make the college a unit and not a suitcase campus."

Craig also said that Shannon Lieb will try to be the best rep-

The final meeting of the German Club "Die Besonderen" was held on May 11 in Raub 422 at 7:30 pm. Final plans were discussed for the picnic, der Ausflug, which was held on May 13 at Ole Bull State Park. The members also agreed on tentative plans to interest incoming Freshmen in the, "Die Besonderen"

Lock Haven State To Graduate 176, 15 Members To Receive Honors

Dr. Charles H. Watts, president of Bucknell University will be the speaker at this year's commencement. An expected 176 Lock Haven State College graduates will attend commencement ceremonies on Sunday, May 28 at 2:30 pm in the Thomas Field House. Admission to the ceremony will be by ticket only which will be distributed to the graduates.

Commencement rehearsal will be Saturday, May 27, at 9:00 am in the field house. After this rehearsal the graduates will participate in the alumni activities including the luncheon at 12:15.

Fifteen members of the May class will be graduating with honors. Receiving the honor of summa cum laude are: Michael Byers, Jr. and Letty A. Moore. Those attaining the honor of magna cum laude are: Margaret M. Decker, Doris D. Frye, Beth A. Lunger, Judy C. Stover, and Virginia R. Zaner. Eight additional members of the class will be receiving the honor of cum laude. They are: Michaelyn Lieb, Patricia A. McKibben, Jack D. Miller, Mary Margaret Mohr, Randall K. Packer, Kathryn A. Richey, Leroy E. Straley, and Dianne L. Wolfe.

Candidates for degrees are: Charles L. Ackerman, Edward J. Adams, Jr., Darleen E. Alexander, Ruth K. Allison, Elizabeth E. Bagshaw, Frances E. Bailey, Doris A. Bailor, Joan E. Barbarich, Terry L. Beckwith, Harry J. Brungard, Pamela G. Brush, Myri J. Brut, Donna H. Bucheit, Michael Byers, Jr., Harry R. Callahan, Jr., Emilio F. Campagna, Bonnie L. Cartwright, William G. Charles.

Picnic at Camp 'Hate-To-Leave-It'

Camp Hate-To-Leave-It was the setting for the Math Club picnic held May 9. The cafeteria provided fried chicken, macaroni salad, baked beans, hot rolls and butter and orange cake for dessert to 20 students. "I don't know why, but regular old cafeteria food tasted good out here!" said one math major.

Raymond Whitney, advisor to the club and his wife Clara were there, as were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wagner and Ralph Kuhn.

The math majors seemed to have a good time and even the boys didn't mind cleaning up the dishes. All they had to do was burn the paper plates and throw the soda cans in the garbage pail. Of course "all play and no work makes Jack a dull boy" so the math club straightened up the SCC camp before they left. As it was stated by a few of the sophomores in attendance, "More people should know about how cool this place is, and use it to its fullest extent."

Even though it was a cold, rainy evening the members said that they did enjoy themselves and feel the camp would be a great place for an afternoon outing sometime.

EAGLES' ECHO

Question of the week: "Would you prefer if Lock Haven State adopted the tri-semester system or continued in its present form?"

"I think that the tri-semester would help in relieving the boredom which occurs in some of the classes, but I still like it this way."

Paula Gordon
Junior: Liberal Arts-Social Science

"No, I don't think that they should change it. The pressure in taking finals twice a year is bad enough let alone three times a year. What you learn in 18 weeks would be put in 10 weeks, so you end up working all the harder even though it is shorter amount of time."

Alex Morris
Junior: Secondary-Social Science

"It should continue in its present form with an extended session, a single summer session, as you can't learn enough in six weeks. In the summer, as it now stands, as under the tri-semester systems you find that you can't learn enough in the amount of time."

Kathy Jacobs
Sophomore: Liberal Arts-English

"Definitely, it should continue this way. On the tri-semester you don't have as much time for each subject. The time is too short between exam periods."

Cheryl Vernon
Freshman: Liberal Arts-Psychology

"I prefer it the way it is now. It's shorter this way and we get the summer all to ourselves. When we come back in the fall we can get all through with the classes and only have to take finals twice the way it stands now."

Mel Lyons
Freshman: Elementary Education

"I prefer the two semester system, because I think that in the tri-semester there is too much crammed in too short a time and there wouldn't be enough time for an outside job, etc."

Rick Lingle
Freshman: Secondary-English

"Oh, those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer!" With finals upon us, many feminine minds have been turning to thoughts of summer parties, maybe at a favorite beach. Well, at this favorite beach this year, you are likely to be finding many new "looks" in swimwear. These new looks involve new fabrics, new designs, and new accessories, and should be quite pleasing to the masculine eye.

First on the new fabric list is the puckered elasticized fortrell and cotton. This fabric looks like old shrivelled waffles, and in spite of its outward appearance, seems to make an effective swimsuit.

Another popular fabric this year is cotton voile. This sheer looking fabric is being used to cover other materials and gives a suit a soft, feminine quality.

Also popular are brushed denim hopsacking, and satin. Fabrics such as these can come in plain colors or prints, especially the floral variety.

Still on the in-list are the Helena knits and cotton and rayon blends. These fabrics are sport-covers", which include shirts and swim dresses.

The shirts can be made out of the same fabric as the suit or a contrasting fabric. Popular for which doesn't actually cover up as much as it claims to, since it is partially transparent. This gives the shirt a "peek-a-boo" appearance.

The other style of coverup, the sundress, is usually made out of some wild print but sometimes matches the suit. These really do cover up the wearer, which can be convenient at times! It can make those trips to the beach something less of an exhibition, and can protect against sunburn.

Yes, this year's swim wear is definitely designed for active people. So, if all those poor students who are forced to attend summer school would buy a new swim suit, maybe we could persuade someone to improve our beach. After all, why should all those many semesters spent in "Beginner's Swimming" go to waste?

Manuscript Sale, Showing in Raub

An exhibition and sale of manuscripts and early printing began on Monday, May 16, and will continue for two weeks. It will be held in Raub Hall on second floor, the Little Gallery, from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm.

An exhibition of manuscripts leaves dating from the 13th century and pages from books printed during the first century of printing (1450-1550) including the Vellum Leaf from a Spanish Breveary dating from about 1425 will be displayed. Also included are excellent examples of early woodcut illustrations and decorated pages from the early printed Bibles, and a few examples of near-Eastern and Indian manuscripts.

While visitors to the exhibition are under no obligation to purchase any of the works to be shown, all of the items are for sale at prices as low as $3.00.

ing new colors and prints which have stepped them up enough to still be "groovy."

Of course, like any other summer, there are some wild looks such as tiger skin, metallic sun reflectors, African prints or lace, but these "looks" are rare.

All of these new and old fabrics have gone into the making of some exceptional styles. In the one-piece variety, the tri-colored suits are fairly popular. Also the "poor-boy look" will still be found.

For those who like the two-piece suit, the tie-back bras are prominent. Also bras with tucked fronts and spaghetti straps will be big items. As for the lower half of the suits, the hip-riders and boy legs are the major designs.

Popular again are the two-piece suits with the box-like top. These fall from the shoulders to the hip where they are sometimes belted. These suits give the appearance of being one piece.

Perhaps the biggest idea this summer lies in the category of accessories, this being the "suit

The Sisters of Sigma Kappa officially ended this school year with their Initiation Banquet on May 9 at the Dutch Inn. At this time the new sisters were treated to a delicious feast. Also at this time the sisters bid a sad farewell to the graduating seniors: Joan Barbarich, Bonnie Cartwright, Carol Kneply, Sharon Maggs, Judy Saul, Connie Shoemaker, Judy Reinmiller, and Sharon Davis. May the best of everything come to these sisters as they depart from LHSC.

This sisters would like to wish good luck and best wishes to Sister Sue Hoch and Tom McLean, and Sister Melanie Chapman and Theodore Williams on their recent engagements.

Lambda Chi has been very active on campus in the past few weeks. The first annual Greek Olympics was held and proved a big success by everyone who attended. The second annual car rally was also sponsored and it, too, went over big with entries from all over the area.

The biggest event was White Rose Weekend, our annual formal. A good time was had by all. Some of the highlights were the house party on Friday, a piano duet by Pat O'Connor and Georgea Gabriel on Saturday night and some dances at the formal ball.

The brothers also took time out to initiate five new pledges: John Austine, Nelson Ilgen, Harry Specht, Glen Oaler, and Mike Dechman.

Special congratulations go to Gary Seibert who took a first place in the Penn Relays recently and to George Jones and John Heins who were pinned to Mary Ann Lea and Nancy Kimball, respectively. Congratulations also go out to our new brothers: Bill Dreilbelbis (best pledge), Jim Cunningham, Dave Toler, Chuck Metzgar, Joe Knight, Gary Hepfer, Dave Tobigs and Mr. Eric Bellman.

ΣΣΣ

If you have been thinking that your eyes were seeing things like red fingernails, white socks and sandals, bows tied in the hair, balloons trailing behind, and suitcases dragging along, you have been absolutely correct. Rationalization may have led you to believe that it was too early to be awake and that you were actually dreaming. Closer inspection would have proven you wrong. What you saw were nine Tri-Sigma pledges hiding behind the few trees on campus or running early to classes to avoid the rush. It seems the Sigma Sigma Sigma pledge-sister party held in Himes Building on May 3 caught most of the sisters off guard and likewise they took advantage of the few days remaining before their pledges were to become sisters.

The senior send-off picnic was held May 14 at Hanna Park honoring the following sisters who are seniors: Viv D'Onofrio, Ann Englert, Sue Focht, Carol Hertzog, Cindy Howard, Diane Jones, Becky Jones, Janet Kephshire, Judy Kicher, Sharon Kochenderfer, Lori Kohler Dehart, Annette Lightner, Toni Marin, Daphne Millward, Letty Moore, Judy Stover, Robin Thomas, Joyce Gaisor, and Peggy Underkoffler.

LINGLE'S LOGIC

Girls! Will your favorite fellow be on campus next semester? Fellows! Will you be on campus next semester?

Although the answer to both of these questions may well come from the Dean of Academic Affairs, it is becoming more and more likely that the answer may come from Washington D.C. this summer.

The reason is that the draft law, which has a time limit on it, terminates this year and a new law must be submitted by Congress to the President. The draft as it is today seems riddled with inequalities; the student deferment, for example, comes under great criticism. Moreover, after General William Westmoreland's recent "successful" trip to the United States, he called for an increase of U.S. troops in Vietnam from 750,000 to a million men.

If the Vietnam war is not terminated soon and if Westmoreland is granted the troops he has asked for—this would be an increase in Vietnam troop strength between 50 and 100 per cent—the situation appears that much bleaker for the college student.

At present, 6 per cent of the draft registrants in the United States have student deferments. Included in this group are young men attending high school and graduate school in addition to under graduate students.

While a minority argues that such deferments are essential to the improvement of the entire social and economic fabric of our society, the majority of the draft commission has decided that these deferments are no longer vital to national interest.

Lt. General Lewis B. Hershey, the head of the draft, argues for student deferments. He points out that the figures of recent years indicate that 60 per cent of the college student group has served in the armed services either as inductees or volunteers, whereas 58 per cent, a lesser figure, of the non-college men enter the service.

In addition, Lt. General Hershey feels that many of those students who are permanently deferred are performing a vital service to their country in some other area such as in the fields of medicine, engineering, teaching, or dentistry.

How about a summer of fun, excitement, and intrigue? The American Student Information Services of Luxembourg has announced new and interesting job openings in Europe.

The locations are in Scandinavia, Costa Brava, England, the Swiss Alps, France, Germany, and the Benelux countries. Wages can be as high as $400 per month for door to door soliciting.

ASIS arranges for the student's work permits and job contract and living accommodations before their departure from the U.S. Low cost, special interest tours are available to students in conjunction with a job or are available separately.

One of the most amiable and best liked professors at LHS is due to resign at the end of the present semester. Dr. Louis Pitchford, who has taught at Lock Haven only two years, is leaving his present position due to allergies. Despite efforts of doctors to immunize him, he has continued to be allergic to mold and trees, thus necessitating the change in environment.

Dr. Pitchford plans to move to Mexico, where he will teach at the college of Artisia, a school which is presently in its first year. In his new position, he will serve as Chairman of the History Department. Dr. Pitchford is no stranger to the area for he did an amount of his graduate work at the University of Mexico.

When asked to comment on his views of LHS, he replied thusly: "I feel every student who goes here is very lucky, for each department is fortunate enough to be blessed with splendid teachers. In this school area, the student has the attention of the professor, he is not merely a number as in larger schools; he is also not taught by graduate students. In short, the students are important."

When asked of his experiences with the students, he commented, "They are delightful. I've had a wonderful time with them. I'm just sorry I didn't get to have everyone down to our house for dinner."

Dr. Pitchford's high regard for his students is truly par to his students regard for him. From his students, one receives nothing but the highest of praise. These statements can be summed up in the words of a social science major. "He's one of the nicest and greatest guys I've ever met and one of the best teachers we have."

Dr. Pitchford's departure from LHS will leave a loss not only as a teacher but as a man. He will always have a small part of LHS, for the "ugly man" statue he received last year will "go with me everywhere and have a special place of honor." The Eagle Eye wishes Dr. Pitchford the best of health and luck in his new position.

This issue will mark the last week for this column, due to the fact that I will be enlisting in the Coast Guard. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Eagle Eye staff for their help and support in establishing the column. I have enjoyed writing the column, and I also hope it has been enjoyed by our students and many members of our faculty. I also hope someone will write the column next year, because I do think it has a place on our campus, and I hope it is continued.

This week, I would like to devote most of the column space for the purpose of polling students and some of our faculty as to their favorite, all-time record. I think it will prove interesting to see the different choices and the ages of the students involved. These choices should bring back memories.

THE EAGLE EYE is published twenty-seven times during the school year by students of Lock Haven State College, Pa. All opinions expressed by columnists and feature writers including Letters-to-the Editor and not necessarily those of this publication but those of the individual. Editors Express Gratitude To Students, Faculty, Adm.

"I thank you for your voices; thank you, your most sweet voices."

Thus wrote William Shakespeare in his classic, Antony and Cleopatra. This also highly parallels our sentiments now, as we prepare for you this year's final issue of the Eagle Eye. We especially want to thank the many supporters of our publication who submitted letters to the editor. We regret that we could print only those which were properly signed. We hope that others will take heart at these few and support even more so the free student press next year.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to all of the many administrators, faculty members, personnel, and student leaders who helped us to report in the Eagle Eye information of interest to as many persons as possible. We have tried to be fair in our judgements and constructive in our criticism, and in our process we have found many understanding and acute personalities at Lock Haven State. As we offer our opinions for improvement of this college, we also greatly appreciate student opinion for the improvement of the Eagle Eye in order to make it more applicable to the student body of LHS.

HOUSEMOTHERS COOPERATED WITH DEADLINES

We especially want to thank Mrs. Griffin, housemother of North Hall, and Mrs. Schiavo and Mrs. Bierly, housemothers of Russell Hall, for their understanding and cooperation regarding the many times it was necessary to request their permission to allow our girls to stay out much later than the regular dorm hours. The services these women extended to us 2 and 3 times a week were invaluable and never once did they really complain of the inconvenience we so often caused them with these appeals.

We also want to thank Dr. Parsons for his understanding and perception in handling the many problems concerning the editorial policy of the Eagle Eye. He is a leader whom the students can call their own, and a man with an unshakeable faith in humanity.

In keeping the theme of this editorial, we must also express our gratitude to the entire Eagle Eye staff, without whom it would never have been possible to publish a newspaper as effectively as we have this year.

"HUTT" RECEIVES SPECIAL THANKS

We are very sure that the entire staff of the Eagle Eye joins us in saying that, of all the many people at Lock Haven State who have helped us, the person most deserving of a public testimony of gratitude and appreciation is our faculty advisor—Miss Marian Huttenstine. Just as we affectionately call her "Hutt," we also affectionately offer to her a most sincere and very warm "thanks."

A ROVING REPORTER

On Thursday, May 11, 1967, the LHSC batmen traveled to Millersville for a baseball game. When the team bus arrived, it was raining too hard to facilitate the playing of a baseball game; an inter-collegiate mudpie making contest was briefly considered, but it was decided to cancel all plans for an athletic or baking contest.

The Eagle Eye sent one of its intrepid sports reporters, Richard Thompson, along on the bus to cover the game for the Eagle Eye's intrepid sports page. The reporter told Mr. Hermann that he would meet them later in the field house. He planned to pay a visit to his femme fatale in the girl's dorm. By the time our roving reporter had finished with the usual pompous platitudes and ear-nibbling, he discovered that he had been with his gal-pal longer than he thought. He scampered hurriedly across the street, through the cafeteria, and the library, across the campus, and to the field house, where he waited for about 15 minutes in hope of his comrades. Just as he started to walk back to the campus, he became most disgruntled at the sight of the LHSC team bus which was floating slowly in the direction of LHS. Tired, dejected, dismal, and soul-sick the Eagle Eye journalist trudged slowly back to the women's dorm seeking the comfort, consolation, and sympathy he hoped would be extended him by his better half. She suggested that he go to the phys. ed. building and tell whoever he could find that he was the LHS Eagle Eye reporter and that he had missed the bus. He took this heart warming advice, wrung out his clothes, took two Dristan tablets, and rowed over to the phys. ed. building. Upon learning of Thompson's misfortune, the man he talked to arranged for his overnight accommodations in the dorm, meals in the cafeteria, and bus fare to Lock Haven.

On the following day the rain stopped its incessant splattering and the flood waters receded. The Eagle Eye reporter was delightfully entertained over the weekend. When he returned to the Eagle Eye office in the late Sullivan Hall, the only thing that Rich had to report was, "that was the best weekend I've had in a long time."

The Eagle Eye hopes that the LHS phys. ed. department is as generous as Millersville's when a visiting college newspaper reporter finds himself in a similiar predicament.

Editor's Note:

The Eagle Eye wishes to extend recognition to the editors and staff of the 1967 Crucible for a job well done. This year's issue represents a more-than-adequate representation of LHS students.

'Praeco' Staff Recognized For Excellent Yearbook

The editors and staff of the Eagle Eye wish to take this opportunity to compliment Sheila Bennetch, Mrs. Brown and the entire staff of the 1967 Lock Haven State College Praeco in turning out an excellent yearbook for the students and personnel of this college.

Working out of the same close quarters as the yearbook staff, we of the Eagle Eye have come to realize the many hours that a few interested persons sacrificed in order to present a "good" yearbook to the Lock Haven State students; and they have succeeded. This year's Praeco is filled with the kind of enthusiasm which we are sure will continue for many years to come.

We also wish to congratulate Janet Shuey and Margaret Eck, who have been elected as editor and assistant editor respectively of next year's Praeco.

Congratulations on a job well done and may you have much success in the future.

Good Luck, Graduates!

Letters To The Editor

Students Told To Stop Working, Transition Period Needed

For the information of the uninformed, not all students at LHSC are handed the money with which to go to college. The lack of ready cash facilitates the need for some to work. The Economic Opportunity Act realized the need of some students and so appropriates money to participating colleges to subsidize usually low wages. This program is named the Work-Study Program. LHSC has been operating with aid from the Work-Study for two years now. Up until lately, it seemed to work with a good deal of success. What has suddenly happened now that the fiscal year is coming to a close?

All of a sudden, those students who have been on Work-Study have been told to stop working and earning the much-needed money. Last year, there was no such ultimatum. Why should there be a change this year?

Perhaps it is a certain incompetency somewhere along the channels in our school. With a bit of research, I found out that a set sum is allocated to the school for Work-Study per fiscal year. It seems to me that some not-too-difficult bookkeeping could keep things straight so that the "needy" students could work. If this is the case, why has not the program been carried out with efficiency? Could it be that someone is not earning the salary he (or she) is being paid? Maybe that person would pay my rent, food bills, etc., which are ever present.

A Work-Study Employee

"Friend" Or Job?

Dear chastened Co-ed, Anne,

Before we are quick to criticize a person doing his job let's first consider the facts. Maybe "Giddy-up Garry" isn't as polite as he should be sometimes, and maybe he could use a little more tact, but the job gets done.

If your boss were to tell you, "Don't let anyone through that line without a meal ticket," what would you do? Jeopardize your job or be a little rude to a (friend?) of yours.

Anne, your letter was very well written and I'm sure you brought up a good point, the fact of why we have to bring meal tickets into the cafeteria at all if the "Great White Guard" knows your face, and whether or not we paid for our meals this semester. This is the point I'm sure all students on our campus would like to argue, not the fact that a guy working at his job may have to lose a few friends because of the rules he must follow.

Look-Before-You-Leap-To-Conclusions
A Student

To the Editor,

May 17 begins the late hours and unending days of intense involvement with student preparation for final examinations. As in the past, classes will terminate at 5:00 pm on the day previous to the first scheduled day of tests, which commences at 8:00 am.

It has been said that a student need only several hours for each course to be successful in his exams if he has studied diligently throughout the semester. Admittedly, this is true in some situations. However, often a student encounters an unexpected amount of material in his last two weeks of classes for which he is not entirely at fault.

A professor, desiring his course to be ultimately beneficial to his classes, suddenly realizes that, as the semester nears culmination, he has failed to sufficiently cover the textbook in its entirety. He therefore eases his guilt-ridden conscience by transposing the responsibility of the coverage of the material to his classes and then including this information in the semester examination.

Also, during the last two weeks of classes, students are enmeshed with those papers, book reviews, extra projects, and other time consumers that often terminate a course. To be sure, most of these were assigned before the said period; however, other course assignments often conflict, minimizing the time that could be utilized for advanced work in the long term papers and projects. On the other hand, if this previously assigned work is completed before the date it is due, the daily assignments must inevitably be neglected. Either way, some academic undertaking will suffer.

Because of the lack of time available to prepare throughout the semester for finals, I feel that there should be a 24 hour transition period between the close of classes and the beginning of finals.

3 LHSC Spanish Majors Selected To Study Abroad

Three students from LHSC are among 36 students from colleges throughout Pennsylvania that have been chosen to travel to Spain. Rosemary Delicati, Paula Martello, and Bob Shaffer, secondary Spanish majors, will spend approximately six months studying at the University of Valladolid, in Valladolid, Spain. They will gain 30 semester hours towards graduation from LHSC.

The trip is being sponsored by the Indiana University orientation. June 16, they will leave New York City for Lisbon, Portugal via ocean liner Queen Anna Maria. They will land in Portugal on June 22.

On June 23, they will arrive in Valladolid, Spain, and classes will begin on June 26. The approximate cost of the trip is $1370. Rosemary and Paula will be living with Spanish families, while Bob will live in a men's residence hall at the university.

The stay in Spain will include field trips and excursions and unlimited travel opportunities since classes only meet from 10 am to 12 noon daily.

Rosemary, Paula, sisters of AET, and Bob, a brother of TKE, will find college life in Spain much different than it is here since there are no sororities or fraternities at the University of Valladolid. When asked if they thought they would be an influence for starting Greek organizations in Spain, they replied that it is doubtful, since the Spanish people are very individualistic. Any organization such as Rosemary Delicati and Paula Martello will attend college in Spain next year. This would be very much against their way of life.

All three believe that it will be a wonderful opportunity to study in Spain. "We'll all learn things about the language, the people, and the culture that you don't find in text books. The three all plan "to travel extensively while abroad."

Paula lived in South America for four and a half years and she is anxious to see how Spain compares with parts of South America. The girls are planning to travel to Italy and Switzerland and Bob is interested in traveling to Madrid and the northern regions of Spain. Bull-fights and Flemenca dancing are also on the agenda.

The group will be home from Spain, December 22, "Just in time for Christmas." They feel that it is important for any foreign language major to study abroad to gain full appreciation of the language and the people. When they do their student teaching they hope to relay all they will learn and their enthusiasm to their students.

A Spain-bound Spanish major, Bob Shaffer will be spending next year at the University of Valladolid.

STUDENT IN THE SPOTLIGHT

"These kids are always complaining and don't give a chance to what they are complaining about."

That's what Cheryl Van Haelst, freshman English major, answered when asked what her pet peeve was. From Muncy Valley, she attended Laporte High School where she was active in the National Honor Society, Chorus, Drama, News Club, and FTA.

Pee Vee, as her friends call her, came to Lock Haven for several reasons—"Lock Haven is a small college and I like the campus. I was especially impressed with Dr. Bone."

While on campus, she has joined and become active in the College Players and the English Club. Of the College Players, she remarks, "It's an experience with work of all types. You can really get involved in everything and actually develop an entirely new personality."

Although she is only a freshman, Pee Vee has starred in a leading role in all three of this year's College Players productions. She played opposite Bruce Blaine in Hotel Paradiso, and was featured as Caitlin, one of the leading feminine roles, in the second presentation, Dylan. Cheryl also characterized a naughty nun in Cradle Song. "On the whole, the students at Lock Haven feel they are here for a purpose. You get to meet them and get to develop friendlier relationships."

Of the faculty, Pee Vee says, "I love them because each one of them is different; therefore, you can enjoy each one."

"One thing on campus I don't like is the way physical education majors are classified. It seems as if everyone is always looking down on them."

Cheryl's hobbies include swimming, skiing, and attending summer stock theatre and the "drags". After finishing school, she would like to travel both here and abroad and would like to do some creative writing.

"I feel that the Eagle Eye has made many improvements. The people are making more and greater efforts to turn out a paper of more pages and better quality."

As a member of the LHSC science department, Mr. Powell represented our faculty at the executive committee meeting of the Association of Pennsylvania State Colleges and University.

"Originally a branch of the PSEA, this committee serves as a line of communications between the state college faculties and the state legislature. We represent the interest of the faculties," said Mr. Powell.

Led by president Richard Keller from Millersville State College, the association, which has a more strictly defined purpose than the PSEA, is concerned with the improvement of tenure policies, the creation of a state board of regents, and provisions for faculty retirement.

Two bills which the association is presently supporting are the salary bill and the autonomy bill. The latter would grant more power to the individual colleges in decisions directly affecting them.

PR Man To Speak At Alumni Dinner

Mr. Donald W. Rich Jr. president of Communities Service Inc., a public relations consultant firm, will be the guest speaker at the Lock Haven State College Alumni luncheon on Saturday, May 27. The luncheon will be a combined affair for LHSC Alumni and the 1967 Spring Graduating class. It will begin at 12:00 in Bentley Dining Hall.

Mr. Rich graduated from the Peddie School, Hightstown, N.J. and then studied economics and was graduated from Yale University in 1936. He has done graduate work at Columbia, Princeton, Rutgers, and the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Rich was director of alumni and public relations as well as chairman of the social studies department of the Peddie School from 1936 to 1951. He has headed his own firm, Communications Service, Inc. since 1957, and has also served as co-director of public relation for the N.J. constitutional convention, press secretary and executive assistant to N.J. Governor Alfred E. Driscoll.

A member of many public relation organizations, Mr. Rich is active in church and civic activities. He is also a trustee of Kalamazoo College, Michigan.

Fall, Winter, Spring Sports Events

Lock Haven State's girl's field hockey team completed an undefeated season last fall with a 7-0 record. On the way to this record, West Chester State, previously undefeated for two successive years, fell to the powerful Bald Eagles. They never faced Lock Haven's team before. Head coach of the hockey team was Dr. Smith and Nancy Springs was the captain of the team.

Lock Haven's harriers began the season by defeating Slippery Rock, the previous years state champions. The meet with St. Francis brought with it a seldom seen shut out as L.H. took the first six places. The only loss of the season was in a triangular meet with Waynesburg and Westminster, Waynesburg being the winner. In the PSCAC meet Bill English placed first and Ed Zinn fourth, but the team came in second to West Chester.

The season closed with a 16-46 victory over Millersville and ended with a 7-1 record. The head coach was Mr. David Beaver and Bill English and Ed Zinn were captains.

Although Lock Haven's football team began the season with four consecutive losses, the season rounded out with a 2-7 record and gave fifteen freshmen the experience they will need to make an exciting season next year. The team played tough games against some of the finest teams on the eastern coast.

Our victories came against Slippery Rock and Edinboro with scores of 22-6 and 17-14, respectively. In both games Jim Miller kicked field goals, and added another one in the Shippensburg game, giving him a school record of three in one season. Jim Blacksmith also performed impressively by scoring a total of 66 points.

I would like to thank all of the students who voted for me as president of the class of 1970.

Lock Haven's soccer team began the season with a victory over Frostburg State with a 3-1 score. The match was nearly all offense with our men always at the opponent's goal. The season rolled on with a loss to a tough Grove City team by a 5-2 score and a tie with Shippensburg State in the first home match of the season. Homecoming was dimmed by a loss to Trenton State, 2-0. The Trenton team was the national winner the previous year. Following this, our soccer team bounced back to defeat St. Francis 2-0. In the last matches of the season, our men lost to East Stroudsburg 3-0, beat Lycoming 4-2, tied Slippery Rock, and culminated with a 4-1 victory over Millersville.

It was a good season, and the team came away with a winning slate (4-3-2). Head coach was Mr. George Lawther and the co-captains were "Geno" Bailey and Bob Henry.

Lock Haven State's wrestling team had a tremendous season with only one loss, to East Stroudsburg. Spectators could never be certain who would be wrestling. Every match saw new wrestlers on the mats. An example of the strength of our team in each weight class can be seen in the efforts of Denny Killion who hadn't wrestled previously in the season, but pinned last years runner up in the NAIA tournament to place sixth.

The team started by beating Springfield and continued to win until it met East Stroudsburg. However, in the PSCAC tournament the loss to East Stroudsburg was revenged as the matmen took first. The tournament was high-lighted by Shane Foley's pinning of Jon Dutt of East Stroudsburg, who was rated third in the nation.

Coach Grey Simon's men then walked away with the NAIA crown. A first place finish by Ken Melchior and high placing by our other wrestlers gave us the victory. In the Wilkes Tournament the matmen placed second to a strong New York Athletic Club.

The Lock Haven State swimming team made a fine showing this year. Bob Hultz put forth a fine effort in becoming our second state champion by placing first in the 200 yard breast stroke. He also had third place finishes in the 200 yard individual medley and the 200 yard butterfly. Dick Guyer also did a fine job by placing second in the 200 yard free style and third in the 500 yard free style.

Bob Hultz set two records this year in the 200 yard individual medley against Millersville and in the 200 yard breast stroke at the state meet.

The team's coach was Harold Hacker and the captains were Don Faulkner and Ed Hazlette.

Highlight Lock Haven's '66-67 Year

After dropping its first game to Ithica College, Lock Haven's basketball team bounced back and defeated California State College, which was the expected winner of the western division, by a score of 89-76. An unimpressive 2-14 record is not a true representation of the team's ability because they lost many very close games which could have easily been victories for our team.

Mr. Daley was the team's coach and Max Pavlovich and Tom Lewis were co-captains.

This year's Aquafins Show, "Charlie Contemplates Life," was truly a success, and those in attendance enjoyed themselves greatly. Some of the high-lights of the show were the stunts performed by the "Three Baseball Players," Bob Ramsey, George Myers, and Trent Smith. Their high diving exhibition captivated the audience. Marnie Eshudy was a big hit as a mermaid, and the threesome, Sue Doty, Roberta Myers, and Louise

In one of the less serious and more fun sports events of the year, Tri-Sigma and the Bald Eagle Club took top honors. This event was the first annual Greek Olympics, sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. All organizations were invited to enter as a team. The olympics consisted of a modified version of the original event. There were demanding events, like the high jump, broad jump, mile relay, cross-campus run-walk, and the softball throw. There were also events just for fun, like the seat pants relay, the three-legged race, and orange relay, the 100-yard wheelbarrow race, the chariot race, and a tug of war.

The Tri-Sigma girls were victorious over Alpha Sigma Tau and Delta Zeta.

The men's winner, the Bald Eagle Club, is a new organization which is working towards fraternity status.

The olympics was termed a great success and a lot of fun by all who were present. Next year it is hoped that more organizations will enter and make the competition greater.

At the State Conference track meet on Saturday Lock Haven's cindermen placed second to West Chester and Slippery Rock took third.

Bill English was the second highest scorer in the meet. He took a first in mile with a time of 4:18, first in the half with 1:57, and second in the 2 mile run. John Heins placed fourth in the half, and Dick Guyer had a 5th place finish in the 2 mile. In the other running events Wayne Randolph ran a 9.8 in the 100 yard dash and a 21.8 in the 220.

In the field events Terry Shuman placed first in the discus with a throw of 147'10" and Mike Mitchell took fourth in the same event. Gary Seibert threw the spear 218 feet for a second place finish, and Bob Wright finished third in the shot put with a throw of 46'8". The jumping events saw two sixth place finishes with Mike Hampe clearing six feet in the high jump and George Cronrath breaking the school record by pole vaulting over 12'65/8". Although Bob Ramsey didn't place, he also set a new school record in the triple jump with a leap of 41'2".

The meet ended this season's track meets.

Young did their usual great performance.

The majority of the Aquafins cast is underclassmen gaining each year in experience. As a note to students for future reference, the water performances should get better as the years go on. The Seniors, however, did do a good job in their various positions throughout the show. Congratulations Seniors!

To you we have a final statement, for memory's sake, "Goodby, Seniors, we hate to see you go. Goodby Seniors, it was a tremendous show!"

At the beginning of the tennis season, Steve Daley started in the winning column with his partner Decker in the first doubles. Resofshy and Curry also won at the third doubles against Lycoming. In the next match with Mansfield, Daley won his singles match gaining another point for the only win of the Eagles' season.

In the next match with California, Lock Haven failed to gain a point. Leo Curry and Bernie Smolen captured the only point at St. Francis. Against Bloomsburg, the team faced another strong match. Daley and Resofshy both won the first set, but then dropped the last two.

When Mansfield came to our home courts, Daley was back on his winning streak, defeating Hornish. The other two points were won by Leo Curry in singles and Daley-Williams in doubles. At the Millersville, Daley and Smolen captured two points for the team. In the last match with Shippensburg, Daley, Miller, Smolen, and Curry were all point-getters for the netters. Throughout the season, we find Daley winning the most points for the Bald Eagles.

WARA Sponsors Banquet; Dr. Maetozo Guest Speaker

The Women's Athletic and Recreation Association held their annual banquet and senior "send-off" at the Dutch Inn on May 10. Special guests included all the women on the physical education department staff and Mrs. Glennon, R.N., an honorary member of WARA. Dr. Matthew Maetozo, head of the physical education department, was the guest speaker. He was accompanied at the banquet by his wife.

After Dr. Maetozo was finished speaking, the outgoing officers were honored, and the introduction of new officers took place. They are: Freda Eshleman, President; Jeanne Becker, Vice-President; Sherry Clemmer, 4 Seniors Receive Gold Whistle Awd.

For the sixth consecutive year, the physical education majors have selected the recipients for the Golden Whistle Award. The seniors honored this year were Darlene Alexander, Gene Bailey, Robin Klaar, and Gary Seibert.

A vote was taken by the seniors and then approved by the faculty and physical education staff. It appears that these four individuals came out head and shoulders above everyone else—really? Not in physical height maybe, but it is evident that they stand out in their chosen professional fields. In the words of Dr. Matthew Maetozo, "All are of high moral character. All have shown dynamic leadership qualities in phases of college life. And all have proven their ability to inspire others." Congratulations to four fine seniors on this treasured and memorable award.

Following the presentation of the Golden Whistle Awards, the seniors of the Physical Education Majors Club presented a demonstration on THE DIFFERENT PHASES ON MOVEMENT EXPLORATION. The audience was warned to come prepared to participate, and participate they did in several parts of the program.

The real fun came following the presentation of awards to some outstanding women athletes by Dr. Charlotte Smith. The entertainment was presented in 4 segments, with each class having skits, songs, poems or other forms of comedy with which to "PROBE" the professors, entertain the girls, and honor the seniors.

As in all previous activities sponsored by WARA, the class of 1970 far outnumbered the other classes in attendance, and they naturally took the class plaque given to the class with the most representation throughout the year.

Am. Chem. Soc. Hears Speaker

Dr. Edgar E. Renfrew spoke to the Lock Haven student affiliate of the American Chemical Society at 7 pm, May 9 in Ulmer 208. Dr. Renfrew, director of research and development at American Aniline Co., spoke on the "Emergency of a Large Corporation."

Before his employment at American Aniline, Dr. Renfrew worked with Koppers Corporation in Lock Haven, Koppers Corporation Research Center at Monroeville, and Minnesota Mining, Manufacturing Corporation. Dr. Renfrew has 38 U.S. patents.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Dr. Renfrew received his B.S. in chemistry at the University of Idaho and his Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota.

An unusual movie was shown by the English Club at LHSC May 10. "Last Year at Marienbad" was, in brief, the telling of a tale by a young man. The story he relates is one of his love for a married woman whom he met the previous year at a hotel. At that time he asked her to run away with him, and reluctantly refusing, she told him to return for her in one year. Upon his return, at which time he anticipated the fulfillment of their plans, she again told him "no," but then changed her mind and joined him.

Student response to this explorative film was one of enjoyment combined with confusion.

Willard Lankford of the English department, expressing a need to see the film again, felt that the director "tried too hard to be erudite and ended up too abstract."

Using analogy to describe the film, Mr. Lankford felt that "Marienbad" is to the movie media what neologism (the creation of a new word or a new definition of an established word) is to literature.

Yvonne Anderson, who lectured at the LHSC campus earlier this semester on "Art and the Motion Picture," said that a film should be 70% visual and 30% verbal. "Last Year at Marienbad" was about 70% verbal and 30% visual in impact.

In an attempt to give style and atmosphere freshness, too many devices were interwoven. Such devices include the Gothic atmosphere which was reinforced by the music, the 18th-century garden, the endless halls, and the references to historical figures.

Ball Team Splits Doubleheader With Shippensburg "Raiders"

In doubles the Raiders managed to win the first and second doubles giving them the match. Anderson and Farmar defeated Daley and Williams 7-5, 6-4; Hoover and Miller defeated Miller and Decker 6-2, 6-2; and Curry and Smolen defeated Simpson and Mullomery 8-6, 6-3. The final score was the Raiders 5 and the Eagle 4.

At the end of the singles match each team had three points. Either team could have won by winning two of the doubles matches. Daley (LH) defeated Anderson 10-8, 6-4; Hoover (S) defeated Williams 6-3, 6-3; Miller (LH) defeated Miller 6-1, 6-4; Mullomery (S) defeated Decker 7-5, 6-2; Farmar (S) defeated Curry 6-2, 3-6, 6-1; Smolen (LH) defeated Simpson 6-2, 6-0.

EAGLE EYE

Cindermen 2nd At State Conf

This year's track and field team at LHSC ended an undefeated season by placing second in the state conference meet. Throughout the season many new records were set on the track and in the field. Mike Hampe broke the high jump record, Terry Shuman broke the discus mark, and Bob Wright threw the shot over his own previous record. Bob Ramsey broke the triple jump record and George Conrath now holds the highest pole vault mark in the school. Wayne Randolph broke the record in the 100 yard dash. Bill English holds the mile and two mile mark. The season concludes the second consecutive year that the cindermen were undefeated.

First place finishes in the state were Bill English in the mile and the half-mile and by Terry Shuman in the discus.

Larry Brickley hit a fifth-inning, bases loaded single and Jeff Ward pitched a five-hitter to give the Bald Eagles a 4-1 victory in the first game of a doubleheader Saturday.

Ward, in his last game as an Eagle, pitched a strong game in going the route for the first time this season and picking up his first victory of the year.

Shippensburg picked up its lone run in the first. It was unearned, coming after a walk, a sacrifice, and an error.

It remained 1-0 until the third when Jeff Ward singled, went to second on a passed ball, and scored as a double by Jack Berryman.

Lock Haven broke the tie in the fifth by loading the bases and Larry Brickley singled sharply to the right, driving in two runs and making the score 3-1.

The Eagles added a fourth run in the sixth when Joe Stay walked, stole second, and was doubled home by pitcher, Jeff Ward.

Shippensburg won the second game, 3-0. Gerry Police was the starting pitcher, but Ray Huff relieved him in the sixth and finished the game.

The Eagles completed their season with a 2-10 record.
