Commencement and Baccalaureate
Speakers Announced for Senior
Exercises to Be Held on May 28

Dr. Eddy and Dr. Sayres
Secured by Graduates

Twelve Three-year
Seniors to Receive
Certificates Next Tuesday

On May 28, seventy-three students will be graduated from the Lock Haven State Teachers College. All of the customary activities such as the class banquet, sending of announcements, fitting of caps and gowns, and others that cannot be expressed in so many words have been or are being carried on by the graduates.

The baccalaureate speaker will be Dr. Sherwood Eddy, whose popularity hereabouts needs no elaborating upon. The commencement speaker is also one of the most popular lecturers ever to appear on the local campus—Dr. Frank Sayers. The seniors this year are indeed fortunate in that both men are highly interesting speakers, to say nothing of the inspiring messages both are sure to bring.

Classes for the seniors ended Monday at noon, and the entire student body will be dismissed Wednesday noon.

Of the seventy-three graduates to receive their degrees next Tuesday, about 60 per cent are men, and about 70 per cent are receiving their degree in secondary education. In addition, there are 12 students receiving the State Standard Limited Certificate. These students known as "three year graduates," are the first class to receive such a certificate.

College Board of

Monthly Meeting

Board Hears That
Equipment in Buildings
Is to Be Installed Soon;
Faculty Re-elected

Equipment for the new building ordered and is now being bought, it was announced at the March meeting of the Board of Trustees. All requisitions are in and, apparently, all are approved, so that it should be a comparatively short time before the equipment is delivered and installed and all the new buildings are in use.

Miss Lingenfelter Resigns

The entire faculty of the college was re-elected with the exception of Miss Mary R. Lingenfelter, librarian, whose resignation was accepted, effective June 1, 1940. (Continued on page 8)

Baccalaureate Speaker

DR. SHERWOOD EDDY
world-famed lecturer, who will give the baccalaureate sermon for this year's graduating class.

The Times Staff, as the voice of the Lock Haven State Teachers College, wishes to extend its heartiest congratulations to the graduating seniors; and to express its sincerest regrets at losing so fine a group of young men and women.

Alumni Day To Ring
Down Curtain On
1939-40 School Year

GREETINGS TO THE ALUMNI
FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE:

The new spirit of the Alumni Association, under the leadership of Mr. Max Bossert, President, and Miss Martha Zeigler, Executive Secretary, is indicative of wide and enthusiastic support on the part of our alumni. This group has certain goals and objectives which it is striving to attain which, in our judgment, will mean, eventually 100 per cent support by all former graduates of our college. The plan, already initiated, is succeeding. When the plan is clearly understood by all former graduates, it will undoubtedly mean greater activity and wider participation.

Another evidence of this fine spirit is seen in the splendid organization of the various chapters. It has been my pleasure to make personal contacts with most of the alumni chapters. Their meetings have been well attended and the spirit of the group is uniformly enthusiastic. It is to be hoped that other alumni groups will be organized in those centers where considerable numbers of our graduates are located.

With a wide-awake and enthusiastic faculty, a fine group of students, a dynamic program of guidance, a well-organized curriculum, and enthusiastic support from the large group of alumni of the college, we feel that progress is inevitable. We urge all alumni to call upon the college at any time it can be of service to them.

Sincerely,

J. G. FLOWERS,

President.

PROGRAM UNDER WAY

Alumni Association This Year Has Been Unusually
Active and Successful

Saturday, May 25 is the date for one of this year's highlights. That day has been designated as Alumni Day, and a program has been arranged by the old grads which promises to make it a huge success.

The Alumni Association this year has done more for the school than any other previous organizations. The Alumni Plan, outlined in a previous issue of the Times, has been so arranged that a large part of the revenue is reverted back to the school.

W. Max Bossert as president, and Martha Zeigler as secretary, have devoted countless hours to the development of the present active association, and to them along with the other board members, should go much credit for the enthusiastic support which is being evinced in the present organization.

To enumerate the accomplishments of the group this year is practically impossible, so wide and varied have they been. Suffice it to say that the Lock Haven State Teachers College owes them a huge debt of gratitude, and can only hope to show its appreciation by justifying the faith placed in the school by its graduates.

1940-41 COMMITTEES
FOR STUDENT COUNCIL
NAMED BY PRESIDENT

Ralph Link, president of the 1940-41 student council announced the standing committees to work in conjunction with the council next year.

The first, and perhaps the most important, is the financial committee, headed by Richard Hartzell, who has four assistants to work with him. The largest committee, the Social committee, consists of 24 persons with Bill Masterson as chairman and Miss Poole as faculty advisor. Other committees and their chairman or advisors are:

Constitution Committee—John Quigley, chairman.

Chapel Committee—Miss Ullemeyer, advisor.

Assembly Committee—Miss Brong, advisor; Jane Shull, chairman.

Artists' Course Committee—Mr. Lehman, advisor; Dorothy Heller, chairman.

Campus Beautification Committee—Eugene McCramer, chairman.

Bulletin Board Committee—Eugene Shuey, chairman.

Initiation Committee—Mr. Parsons, advisor; Louis Martella and

FORUM HEADS CHOSEN

With Willard Poff as toastmaster, the Dramatics Club held one of the most successful banquets this year on May 3 at the Clinton Country Club. Following a delicious dinner which featured roast chicken, various members of the club were heard from, each speaking on some phase of the club's work and matching his address to the theme, "Ships." Later, dancing was enjoyed.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the banquet was the presentation of awards—made by Miss C. Cordelia Brong, at the close. The awards for the most

MANY EVENTS PLANNED

At the recent National Inter-collegiate Flying Conference held in Washington, D. C., over 100 representatives of undergraduate college flying interest voted for Lock Haven as the location of the Sixth Annual National Inter-collegiate Air Meet. Previously, the meets have been held at Purdue University, Detroit, Mich.; Aviation Country Club, Long Island; Akron University, and Kenyon College.

The dates of the meet have been set for June 20, 21 and 22, under the sponsorship of the Lock Haven State Teachers College Flying Club and sanctioned by the National Aeronautics Association.

All bona fide college students attending accredited American colleges or universities are entitled to enter the meet provided they have a total of 25 hours dual and solo, to which at least 12 must be solo flying. CAA students who have passed their private tests will be eligible.

MR. FLEMING SPEAKER

The annual Delta Rho Beta Fraternity dinner-dance, social highlight of the year, went off with huge success last Saturday night, May 11. The banquet and dance, held at the Clinton Country Club featured Ira O. Fleming as guest speaker. His topic was "Sports." Following the dinner, the group, some 120, enjoyed dancing to the strains of Carl Keller's orchestra. At the banquet, the girl friends of the "Derbies" were presented with corsages and very beautiful favors. At the close, the entire fraternity and guests arose to a toast for their girl friends.

FOR SENIORS ONLY

We are going somewhere; we are on our way. Behind us is four years of preparation for life; before us is life. We may have different goals, but we have a common purpose—to uphold the democratic ideals of America. These are days of uncertainty, hard times, world strife, and injustice. Our sacred tradition of democracy is being threatened by the greed and injustice of war lords. It is a challenge we must accept with determination to win. Now is no time for discouragement. There is war; there has always been war. There is unemployment; there has always been unemployment. The graduate of 1940 has health, energy, and has been taught to face facts. With a background of excellent training for his job he faces the future optimistically. But in addition to these virtues, he needs imagination. The job for which he is trained may not materialize. Even though the employment figures are ahead of last year in college bureaus, to find a job may tax his ingenuity; therefore, in a world that is seeking the novel and the new, imagination plays a great part.

Those of us who enter the teaching profession are entering the great and developing field of public service. We, more than any other profession, have it within our hands to mold future generations. Our thoughts and ideals will be transmitted to the minds of those we teach. Teachers probably receive less credit for their work than workers in any other field—teaching is too often a thankless job. Its reward is necessarily an intangible something that cannot be described. But whether we teach or not, or whether we have average ability or great ability, there is a place for us in the world. The important thing is to find your place and play the game hard, but fair and square.

NAMED ON NATIONAL ACCREDITED LIST

The Lock Haven State Teachers College has been notified by the American Association of Teachers Colleges that the local institution has been listed on its roster of accredited schools of teacher training, "with no warnings."

This announcement means that the local college meets every requirement set up in the standard for Teachers College in the United States, with sufficient margin that the association does not find it necessary to suggest improvements in any particular division.

The local institution has made unusual advances in the past three years, according to the records kept at the college on its progress in the various requirements on which ratings are made, in the field of faculty preparation. In the term 1936-37, the local college ranked among the lowest 10 per cent of accredited Teachers Colleges in the country, the following year it rose to the top of the lowest quartiles, or 25 per cent. For 1938-39, the Lock Haven College is listed in the upper 10 per cent of the accredited Teachers Colleges in this particular item—the educational background and preparation of its faculty members.

The Lock Haven College also ranks high in its ratio of students to teachers, being listed in the highest 10 per cent.

Alumni

AROUND THE STATE WITH THE GFADS

FROM around the state comes news of activities of our Alumni this week, in answer to some letters sent out by your scribe.

It has been a busy year for several of the Alumni chapters. Chas. Vonada, president of the Blair County crowd, which has been working for months trying to revise and bring up to date a list of Blair alumni for the college address files, reports that in their spare time the Altoona and vicinity grads have also had:

Three regular meetings, a Christmas party, a card party, and that they have a big meeting planned for May. Officers will be elected and a speaker from the college is to be invited for the occasion.

THE Lycoming County Alumni held their Spring banquet at Leo's on April 18. Several college faculty and alumni attended. Sam Long of the executive board is president of the Williamsport and vicinity graduates. This group is also planning for a card party later in the Spring.

The Cameron County graduates are functioning this year under the leadership of Reah Miller of Driftwood who was elected president to succeed Flossie Smith of Emporium at the October meeting when Dr. Flowers addressed the graduates at their dinner meeting. There were 30 alumni present on that occasion, several from Potter and McKean Counties.

THIS is the year for reunions for graduates in the '0 and '5 classes, and we're hoping that quite a number of these classes will plan meetings here at the college on Alumni Day, May 25. Virginia Eboch Nickel of Philipsburg, and Adabelle Johnston Cunningham of Woolrich are behind the reunion for the class of 1905.

Cards are sent out to every graduate and several were heard from immediately. Mrs. Nickel reports that Lewis Roat of the class died last year. Two others of this class are also dead, Alice Goodlander and Ella Kerns, and several other addresses are missing, including those of Myrtle Edgar, Reuben Brown and Rhoda Lulich. George A. Mincemoyer of Mechanicsburg is in charge of plans for a reunion of the class of 1895. Mr. Mincemoyer is and has been for years the faithful secretary of the general association.

Mrs. Ethel Sloteman Hager of Lock Haven is starting in to round up members of the class of 1920, and letters have gone or will go to officers and leaders in all of the other reunion classes, 1935, 1930, 1925 etc., looking forward to the annual Alumni Day.

JENICE Sharpe, who lives at 652 Grove Ave., Johnstown, writes that some of the recent graduates out that way, who are also alumnae members of the old Beta Sigma Chi sorority or the recently nationally-affiliated Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority are thinking about forming an alumni group. They're rather stuck for a name at the present, but hope to get something organized soon.

The girls in this crowd, most of them graduates in the early '30's, include Ann Dolan, Frannie Stokes, Mary Gates, Marion Bailey, Jean Varner, Clarissa Waininger and Mary K. Herchberger of 1939 and some Indiana Tri Sigmas, as well as the two Sharpes, Edith, now married, and Jenice.

OLLIE Byers, graduate of last Spring who has been teaching in Jefferson School, Williamsport, has resigned to continue a professional baseball career which he began last Summer. He's now in Bassett, Va., with the Bassett Club of the Bi-State League in Spring training. Ollie is the property of the Cincinnati Reds which club operates the Bassett team as a farm. Ollie pitched more than a month last season at Bassett under the guidance of Wally Novak. He won four games and lost one.

THE Alumni financing plan is still bringing in returns. Approximately 75 graduates have become paid-up members and the alumni fund now has increased to $95, half of which of course is still earmarked for the college. One bill of approximately $12, for NYA labor in sending out the alumni letters has been approved by the executive board and paid out of the fund.

If you know any alumni who has not heard of this plan, drop a penny postcard to the secretary, M. B. Zeigler, The Lock Haven Express, Lock Haven, Pa. We'll get in touch with them.

Next Year's Praeco Staff to Be Headed By Thos. Bittner

1940 EDITION TO APPEAR THIS MONTH

Jersey Shore residents seem to have prior right to the editorship of the Lock Haven State Teachers College Yearbook, The Praeco. This fact was borne out recently when Thomas E. Bittner was elected editor-in-chief for 1941 to succeed Breon Lauderbach. Both men are residents of Allegheny Street, Jersey Shore.

Bittner, a sophomore in secondary education, formerly held the post of art editor on the staff, of which he has been a member since he entered the college.

The "Praeco" will make its appearance on the campus sometime in the very near future. When interviewed as to the approximate date, Editor Lauderbach informed a reporter that the year book would be in the hands of the student body the week of May 13.

SIX EAGLE TRACKMEN AT WEST CHESTER FOR STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

MAROON CINDERMEN WIN ONE, LOSE 2 MEETS

Green Squad Encouraging As They Defeat Slippery Rock and Lose Narrowly To Shippensburg

Lost to Strong Bloom Team

In the three dual meets of the brief track schedule arranged for the Lock Haven State Teachers College track and field artists, the locals won one and dropped two. The squad made up mainly of new men was a distinct encouragement to Coach Max Bossert in the way they showed up against highly-touted opposition.

The first meet of the year was only one engaged in at home by the Eagles. Slippery Rock's cindermen invaded new College Field on May 1 and departed homeward on the short end of a 65 5-8 to 60 1-8 score.

Leading practically the whole way, the Lock Havenites faltered in the home stretch and as they came into the final event, the broad jump, they led by but a fraction of a point. This little fact necessitated the winning of a first place in the event in order to take the meet.

Merle Long, veteran Eagle trackster came through with the stuff of which champions are made, leaping 20 feet 11 1-4 inches through the chilly May air, to take the event and the meet for the locals.

Bob Culbertson's two first places gave him high scoring honors for Lock Haven with ten points. McQuiston, speedy Rocket flash, was the individual star of the afternoon, garnering a total of 13 points. John Yothers and Worth Randall also distinguished themselves for the Eagles. The two Frosh distance runners established new individual records for the College track team in their meet. Yothers running in the mile and Randall's two mile stint broke the previous marks, each of which were almost five years old.

A trip to Shippensburg with the baseball team was the second attraction of the track card. The meet, which took place Saturday, May 4, was narrowly won by the Shippers.

The final dual meet of the season found the Eagles on the short end of the score at Bloomsburg. The perennially tough Husky track team took all but two first places in the meet. Lock Haven's two were won by Long in the broad jump and Bill Skerpon in the pole vault. The Maroons took several second places in addition.

Friday, May 17, Coach Bossert and six selected athletes left for West Chester to take part in the annual State Teachers College track and field Championships. The Lock Haven entrants were: Merle Long, in the 100 yard dash and broad jump; John Yothers in the mile and half mile; Gene Sullivan in the half mile; Vic Crocco in the 220 and 440 yard dashes; Dom Sagolla in the javelin, and Bill Skerpon in the pole vault.

Baseball Team In 10-4 Loss at Mansfield T. C.

Ralph Gorman Pitches Fine Ball After Relieving Daley in Third; Allows 2 Hits in 6½ Innings

Mansfield Teachers College baseball team conquered the hapless Lock Haven nine 10-4 at the Mountaineer stronghold last Tuesday. It was the second time the Northerners had downed the Eagle baseballers, the first game being a 24-1 rout on the local diamond.

Stan Daley, who started on the mound for the locals was rapped for nine runs in two innings. Meanwhile Lock Haven had squeezed across but one counter.

Ralph "Skip" Gorman, Williamsburg freshman, relieved Daley in the third and held the Mountaineers to but two hits in the remaining six and a half innings. In the sixth frame the homesters pushed across another run to make the count ten runs which was their total for the fray.

Bob Bowes, Bob Moore, and Daley, each had two safe clouts for the Eagles. One of Daley's blows was a double, his third in two games. Jones and Kish hit circuit blows for Mansfield. The latter, who seems to be something of a slugger, had two homers in the game here.

Physical Education Department Gets Costume Rooms

After several weeks of work by carpenters and electrical contractors, the Physical Education Department has moved all costumes and costume materials from temporary rooms in the college dormitories to permanent quarters on the reconditioned third floor of the Women's Gymnasium.

The department's costume wardrobe has been growing steadily since the spring of 1926, and some of the materials purchased at that time are still in use. Today the collection includes some three hundred complete costumes, besides literally hundreds of accessories, "odds-and-ends" such as aprons, buckles, kerchiefs, scarfs, which can be cleverly combined for almost any particular kind of garb.

The new quarters provide a large room with hanging space for the costumes proper and tiers of shelves with boxes for accessories, hats and other headresses, footwear and the like. A well-lighted room has been developed on the floor level that leads to the window at the peak of the roof. Space adjoining this sewing room will be used for properties, and shelves are now being built to hold scenery and cartons of construction paper.

Spartans on Top In Intra-Mural Softball Loop

Kalinowski's Outfit Undeclared in First Four Games; Vultures in Cellar

'Tis indeed a sure sign of spring to see on the diamond in Doctor Flowers' "back yard" the intra-mural softball set softballing around. Under the able guidance of John Kruper, this four-teamed league is playing some truly outstanding ball in spots.

The Spartans, captained by the small but mighty John Kalinowski, appear to be sweeping the field. To date the Kalinowski minions have captured four contests, one by forfeit, and last none. Following not far behind is the Jay Club, led by Ted Tomlinson, who have won two contests, one by forfeit, and lost one. Right at the heels of the Jay Club comes John Kruper's club, known as the Pidgeons, who have won one game and lost two. Bringing up the rear, we have the hapless Vultures, led by John Nevins, who so far haven't hit their stride in losing four games, two by forfeit. It must be remembered, however, that these same Vultures reposed in the cellar of the basketball circuit early in the campaign, only to stage a brilliant uphill battle to win the championship playoff.

Baseball Team Starts Badly; Lose Three in a Row

Daley Pitches Well; Green Infield Fails To Function

SPRINGMAN ACE HITTER

The 1940 edition of the baseball team at Lock Haven Teachers College has been rather unsuccessful in the games played to date.

Opening the season on foreign soil against Bloomsburg, the Eagles were blanked 5-0. The game was an even one throughout Stan Daley pitching well for Lock Haven, but the glaring errors committed by the local's green infield spelled defeat. Daley remained on the mound throughout the game, and had he had proper support, would have at least gained a tie with the Huskies.

In the second game at Shippensburg, the Lock Havenites again went scoreless, although their play was very much improved. The high-rated Shipper ball team was held to a 3-0 count by the inexperienced local combine. Daley again took care of the hurling chores, performing capably, while his team-mates again gave him rather poor support.

The home debut of the Eagles on the diamond was something of a sad affair. Mansfield supplied the opposition, and rather potent opposition it proved to be. Lock Haven finally did break its scoreless record so far, squeezing a lone marker across the platter; meanwhile the thundering bats of the visiting baseballers were accounting for 24 runs. The score read 24-1 at the end of eight and one-half merciless innings.

Coach Wynn Fredericks' warriors got but three hits off a pair of Mansfield pitchers, Marvin and Dillman. Daley, who started the fray, and Ralph Gorman, Frosh hurler who succeeded him on the mound, were drubbed for 18 safe blows by the Mountaineers batsmen. Ten of the 18 hits went for extra bases including home runs—two by Kish, visiting right fielder. Lock Haven's three hits were accounted for by Glenn Miller, who scored the lone run, and Chick Springman, who had two in four trips to the plate. Springman has been hitting at a constantly fine clip in the games so far.

Tracksters Garner 8 Points at West Chester Meet

Skerpon, Sullivan, Yothers and Long Each Get Two Points

The six members of Lock Haven State Teachers College's track team that Coach Max Bossert took to West Chester for the State Teachers College Track and Field Championships garnered a total of eight points, taking fifth place in the six team meet.

The eight markers were evenly divided at two apiece among Merle Long, Gene Sullivan, Bill Skerpon and John Yothers. Long took two fourth places, in the broad jump and the 100-yard dash, Sullivan came in third in the half mile, Skerpon tied for second place in the pole vault, and Yothers took a third in the mile.

Cheney's speedy entry in the century East, tore along at a great rate, establishing a time of 9.6 seconds. In the words of Coach Bossert: "Whenever there's a meet in which those colored boys take part, it's just a bunch of white boys chasing the colored lads around all day."

Thus closed the official season of Lock Haven State Teachers College track and field artists. The record in dual meets included a victory over Slippery Rock and losses to Shippensburg and Bloom. Prospects for next season are exceedingly bright as only Merle Long, veteran dash man will be lost via graduation.

Eagle Nine Loses 5-4 at Indiana

The Lock Haven Teachers College baseball team dropped its sixth straight game in as many starts last Friday afternoon at Indiana. The Indians, who performed well before the home fans had but one error, by Subinsky, right fielder.

The Lock Havenites, who really should have copped a victory in this fray, took a two run lead early in the first frame. The homesters tied it up in the second and moved into a three run lead in the third inning.

From then on in, the Maroons held Indiana scoreless, and made a valiant attempt to come from behind with a two run rally in the sixth, falling just short of their first win of the season.

The next game will be played next Saturday as the feature attraction of Alumni Day here. Another Lock Haven team will journey to Bloomsburg to play as the big show in Bloomsburg's Alumni doings. The Huskies have already defeated the locals twice, but in is indeed doubtful if two Bloom teams can down two Lock Haven teams on the same day.

OFF the RECORD and ON

By BILL MASTERSON

Jan Savitt claims that in one year's time he will be the number one band of the country replacing Glen Miller. Jan is good but from here it looks like he is a little optimistic. I would pick Bobby Byrne as the next head man. Byrne moves to the Glen Island casino, where bands are made, and when he comes out he will be one of those leading the must hear list.

Glen Miller continues on his road to success, which puzzles me no end. Still cannot understand how a band that uses the same arrangements over and over again can hold its popularity—how long will it last?

We appreciate the good work Mr. Pete Updergraff is doing in bringing name bands to Williamsport but unless he stays on the swing side he is going to find it necessary to hock his watch. There are a lot of good swing bands that can be had for prices that will not break anyone. All names are not good.

Dorsey Wins

Tommy Dorsey is the school favorite band. The others are: Hal Kemp, Glen Miller and Glen Gray in that order. Jack Leonard, ex-Dorsey singer, is the favorite male vocalist and Ella Fitzgerald headed the female singers.

—AND ON

craft Activities, Enriching the Musical Curriculum, Administering a Block Program, and Improving the Giving and Using of Tests was discussed informally by groups led by some teacher who has had special success in working out this problem in his own school. Additional conferences and a general session were held in the afternoon.

Arrangements for the meeting were in the hands of a faculty committee, assisted by the members of the Kappa Delta Pi, the honorary educational fraternity at the college. All rural teachers and county officials were invited to attend the conference. The meetings were held in the new library and in the college auditorium.

Among the teachers from Clinton County who were invited to participate were: Mary Caprio, Lock Haven; Alma Baird, Lock Haven; Russel Douty, Loganton; Anita Millen, Tylersville; Alma Probst, Lock Haven; Mary Swoyer, Renovo; Caroline Cummings, Hyner; Harold Douty, Loganton; Sara Mapes, Beech Creek.

outstanding acting of the year were given to William Masterson and Jane Shull, for the roles of "John" (a character role) and "Kathleen" (a straight role) respectively in the club's recent production, "Smilin' Through." For the best piece of backstage work, Ralph Link was awarded a prize, and Michael Kolivosky, outgoing senior, was voted the award for contributing most to the welfare and progress of the club. Miss Brong was presented with an electric clock by the president, Bill Masterson, on behalf of the organization for the splendid work she had done for the club.

Preceding the banquet, the annual installation service was held, during which time the newly elected officers were inducted.

Dramatics Club

President, Charles Norlund; vice president, Joseph Danis; recording secretary, Jane Shull; corr. secretary and chairman, typing committee, Josephine Delo; treasurer, Esther Coder; honor chairman, Lois Reeder; historian, Sonia Venger; press representative, Lewis Rathgeber; student council representative, Charlotte Figgles; chairman program and social committees, William Masterson.

Forums

Stage forum, Dorothy Sheasley, chairman, technical director; design, June Hollenbach; construction, Roger Bickford; properties, Janice Stratton; lighting forum, Roger Bickford; costume forum, Lois Wagner; make-up forum, Katherine Frey; play reading forum, Esther Crisman, chairman play sel. committee; director's forum, Betty Lou Smith.

PLANS FOR

An excellent round of entertainment providing a minimum of expense to the participant has been arranged for. There will be four nights of entertainment free to the entrants including buffet suppers at the airport the first three nights, a banquet the last night, a dance one night, etc. The Teachers College will open its dormitories for 50 cents a night to the contestants. Free transportation in town to the airport has been arranged for.

Piper Aircraft Corporation has agreed to supply NIFC members Cub Trainers at $1.00 per hour, Cub Coupes at $2.00 per hour. Thus, any group of students driving to Lock Haven who wanted to rent airplanes here would have a very inexpensive trip all the way around.

Standard intercollegiate events are bomb dropping from 500 feet, landing (any approach) from 500 feet to a spot, landing from 1000 feet (360 degree approach) to a line at right angles to the wind (no under-shooting allowed.) Two tries will be allowed in each event. Scoring: In each event an entrant will be awarded one point for every other entrant beaten, one point more for winning.

This event should bring Lock Haven Teachers College a great deal of favorable publicity. All students who can possibly do so are urged to attend the event.

splendid support it had given him; he also expressed his appreciation for the cooperation shown by his staff of officers. He then introduced Bruce Adams, the president-elect. Mr. Adams addressed the group and depicted his hopes for a successful year. He introduced the officers for next year, who follow:

President, Bruce Adams; vice president, Robert Deem; secretary, Joseph Danis; corresponding secretary, Ed Saiers; treasurer, Robert Bowes; chaplain, Robert Slenker; sergeant-at-arms, Gordon Giles.

"DANCERS"

By BETTY SWARTZ

Harry was quite a boy. He was one of these clever persons who can always think of something funny to say. At the most formal dances, or in fact any dance, he would walk up to you and say, "Can I borrow your frame?" when a simple "May I have this dance?" is enough. Of course we always smile and say "Yes" and laugh most heartily at his supposedly clever wise-cracks.

He can always be depended upon to almost break his neck to be first on the dance floor, and practically breaks yours too, getting there.

You are clasped so earnestly, that he bunches your dress up at the back, so that you just know your slip is showing; making you uncomfortable and unable to do anything but wonder what the people in the back of you are seeing. He is the relic of bunny-hugging days, who hangs onto you as though you were a life-preserver and he were drowning in the sea. Harry will, undoubtedly, be the man who mistakes your arm for the walking beam of an old-fashioned river boat as he whirls you about the floor.

Almost invariably he will be the incurable romantic who dances you over to every dark corner to try to steal a kiss. If unsuccessful the first time he will look over your shoulder to flirt with someone else while dancing with you, hoping to make you jealous, so that when he comes to the next dark corner he will be successful.

He is sure to try to make an impression on you and everybody else by getting chummy with the orchestra while dancing by.

Then, of course, the boy wants to try out a new step on a crowded floor or insists on trying out a new step, that is certainly new to him, and everybody else in the nation.

As if all this isn't enough, he will, most assuredly, when the music stops, leave the girl stranded in the middle of the dance floor to find her own way back to the table. It makes you so mad, that you could easily twist his neck.

I like the man who asks me to dance, and dances as well as possible, without any false impressions, who can make a pleasant conversation and makes you feel at ease on the dance floor.

The girls aren't the only ones who have their problems. The fellows also have a lot to contend with. Let's take the boy's point of view and see how he feels.

There is always little Sara, with fluffy hair, that comes just under your nose and tickles it, or perhaps it is Fifi who insists on wearing wide, stiff-brimmed hats while dancing so that you have to twist your head practically off to keep the sharp brim from cutting your face.

Sara is the girl who dances by remote-control—who stands so far away from her partner that good dancing is almost an impossibility, but then Fifi is just as bad, too. She is the girl who is so full of romance that she embarrasses you by snuggling up close, hanging on so that you have to carry her around the floor. If she doesn't do this, she will invariably slouch. She is almost always a strong arm girl, who always led in dancing class and still tries to.

Fifi is the girl who insists on being a jitterbug without any knowledge of "jitterbug steps," or if she is dancing with a professional or an exceptionally good dancer, she thinks she must show off. But then, she is no worse than Sarah who is the opposite (which is just as bad). The girl who insists on telling you what a wonderful dancer you are and takes "the poor little me" attitude.

The worst offense, in my estimation, is the girl who makes a lyric out of one line. Girls singing while dancing is not so offensive, but the same line repeated over and over will get into anyone's hair.

If I were a boy, I would particularly like to dance with a girl who is natural, who relaxes and lets me lead, and who dances as well as she can.

Campus Chatter

By JOE MORAN

AIMES CHATTER EDITOR REVIEWS LIFE AND LOVES OF COUNCIL EXECUTIVE

FOREWORD

This edition of CAMPUS CHATTER, the Times' time-honored gossip pillar is the brain-child of a green novice. The complexities which face the author of such a column as this are manifold. Therefore we ask you to consider our naivete and accept the demented ramblings of this greenhorn would-be McIntyre in the spirit in which they are sent to you.

In true CAMPUS CHATTER style we open with another of those humorous jokes which are so appreciatively received around here . . . This one comes from our files and sounds like an echo of the celebrated Junior Prom so excellently engineered by that Renovo Eagle—Charles Edward Pierson. . . "How kind of you," said the pretty co-ed, (with the possible exception of the Times' asst. Editor, we are inclined to question the accuracy of the adjective modifying the noun "co-ed," when used in describing local women students), "how very kind," she said, "to bring me these lovely flowers. There's some dew on them isn't there?" "Why, yes, there is," said her escort gallant in some embarrassment, "but I plan to pay it off next week."

And now we should like to present, in deference to those thousands who have clamored for same, a brief biography of the eminent Ralph Francis Link. It seems to us that the beetle-browed Patton lad has not received his due of publicity and fanfare upon his election to the presidency of the Student Council, some time ago. After all, the overwhelming vote he received is an excellent testimony to the popularity of Roving Ralph the Rover Boy. Therefore here it is—a brief sketch of the life and loves of R. Link.

SCENE I—The metropolitan environs of Patton, Pa., where Pater Link is patten' himself on well-padded back after a nurse announces birth of a husky male. It was in the cold, grim aftermath of the World War that our Ralph first saw the light of day—and the light of day drew back aghast—(Courtesy Mt. Echo).

SCENE II—Ralph at the age when he was using his trusty sling-shot with reckless abandon, dipping pigtails in ink-wells with wanton cruelty, and generally carrying on like the little hellion that he was. Roving Ralph was absent so much from home and fireside that the neighbors in the cozy little hamlet of Patton were wont to ask themselves who was the little colored boy visiting at the Links'??

SCENE III—The Senior Ball of Patton High School. Even then worshipping females were coyly striving to make the poker-faced honor students become girl-conscious. But then, as now, our Ralph was a man's man. However, one cute little number did finally inveigle The Great One into attempting to dance. And as he blushing, laboriously and persistently attempted to master the intricacies of the two-step, Ralph the Stern resolved never again to take to the boards with terpsichorean intentions. And to this day he has kept that resolve.

SCENE IV—Following three years of patient and uncomplaining drudgery, the omnipresent (not missing) Link turns up in all his glory. With characteristic modesty he assumes the presidency of the Council. Informed of his election, the black-thatched Patton Provincial could only murmur—"All this—and heaven too??"

And this thus far is the career of Roving Ralph Link the Rover Boy. Who can say what great heights he will rise?? Can you?

It is with a considerable degree of amused tolerance that the author of this pillar watches his weaker contemporaries falling one by one, victims of the trusty bow and arrow of Dan Cupid. At this time of the year—Lovely Spring—the masculine element becomes most vulnerable in the cardiac region, and on the local campus the diminutive Daniel has found good hunting-grounds. However, it is with unrelenting resolve not to join them, that we extend our sincere condolences to the following miserable individuals, who are feeling the effects of that intangible Spring feeling: R. Patrick Marshall, campus representative of Marshall and Stehman (plug), and that Altoona Angel, Mary Mauk . . . Esther "Bubbles" Coder, without whom L.H.S.T.C. would undoubtedly fold up, and Bob Deem . . . Bubbles seems to hear a message in the motor of one of Piper's best when Bob comes droning over the school, these days . . . Jo Delo and Bill Beck, a comeback job . . . Lorna Zettle and Dick Caraher, who does a bit of flinging on the baseball team . . . and to that romantic Jersey Shore Latin, Fred Vairo, our deepest, most heartfelt sympathy. His girl-troubles are so heart-rending as to make this tender ticker almost break with woe.

JUST JOTTINGS—The Nevins Brothers, Jocko and Junior convulsing a section of the Boys' Dorm the other eventide with tales from their wild and wooly younger days on their North Fairview Street rancho . . . Probably tops in the series of hair-raising escapades so graphically related by the Brothers Nevins was the time when John coolly dropped a bucket of paint from the second floor, upon the noble noggin of Ligouri, standing below . . . Patrick John O'Neill, the Philipsburg Philanthropist, who is the guiding genius behind the success of Ernie's Exclusive Evenue Eatery, granted an interview to the Times' fashion editor the other day. Mr. O'Neill, whose slightest whims have always dominated local style dictates, declared emphatically that the new pinchless garter will be all the rage this summer season . . . And what O'Neill doesn't know about Esquire can be garnered from Ted Tomlinson, Montoursville's Hollywood-bound white hope. "Satchel Ted" is certainly the epitome of fashion as he sports about in his colorful attire . . . The sudden popularity of dancing class on Tuesday and Thursday evenings after dinner (in case you don't know) is taken as a sign of recurring interest in social life on the campus. After spending the long cold winter in deep and serious pursuit of knowledge, one feels a little like socializing a bit.

LOCK HAVEN ODDITIES—Usually chipper Stan Daley seems to be harboring some secret inner sorrow as he slinks dolefully about the halls of late . . . The Bechdel Sisters whose daily trip to and from Beech Creek (a suburb of Blanchard) must certainly be like spending the day at the zoo to those unfortunate who must bear with them. What with the chicken-like cacklings of Jane, and the bovine-like moosings of sister Eleanor, the trip must be agony. Add to that—Harry Packer. Our sympathies to you, Reverend Davie . . . Senator Lewis W. Rathgeber, whose suggestions to Neville Chamberlain on the international situation were of invaluable aid, will leave early next week for the Capitol. The genial law-maker has promised faithfully that he will personally see that Lock Haven receives some beautiful co-eds next Fall for a change. By that time, the Times' assistant editor will have graduated, leaving practically no campus beauties . . . Maurice Sallada has announced that unless something is done about this co-ed business, he will transfer next year to the University of Gum Stump, which is rumored to be somewhere in the vicinity of Karthaus, Pa. . . Maggie McMasters, that "Bouncing Baby Bearcat" from East Water St., confided the other day that she sorely misses her one time Big Moment, Eddie Kolner, the meanest man in Morris Township—with possible exception of Harold "Pepsi" Beveridge.

HERE AND THERE—From an exchange we learn that frat house presidents at Oregon State voted overwhelmingly to continue the current ban on corsages at their formal dances. What does our own Mr. Eyer have to say on that matter??? . . . Add things we can do without: Charles Norlund's vocalizing in the halls. Mr. Norlund's tenor reminds us of Alfalfa of Our Gang cinema fame . . . the Quip of the Week comes from down Maryland way concerning the creek that gave voice to: "Well I'll be damned" as the fat lady fell in (it may be old but Husky Neff has never heard it) . . . Janie Allen, the diminutive DuBois debutanty, whose shy voice reminds us of Bonnie Baker's, is vainly attempting to gain weight for some reason or other . . . According to our regular weekly poll on popularity of radio programs among local students, it was found that Renfrew of the Royal Mounted is leading Gene Autry by a wolf's howl. Also high up in the list were Uncle Don and Little Orphan Annie . . . Birdseed Flory has such a difficult time making it to school in the mornings now, that he has taken to riding in Boss Bob's Rolls Royce. . . And then there was Clyde Tucker, the Louisiana Lochinvar, who asked a delovely friend of his if she minded if he smoked. Was Clyde ever burned up when he received the reply that she didn't care if he went up in flames!!!! Which just about burns us out.

Seen in Larryville the night of The College Times Dinner: "A true friend is one who knows all about you and loves you just the same."

other districts.

The report of the state auditors on the financial affairs of the college for last year was received and reviewed by Mrs. F. E. McEntire, secretary of the board, and by Scott R. McKean, and it was announced that all suggestions of the auditors were being complied with.

Future Projects

Dr. Henry Klonower, director of teacher training and certification in the State Department of Public Instruction, was present at the meeting to discuss a project, which has been under consideration at various times for a year or more, to expand the curriculum at the college to include the training of school nurses. Dr. Klonower gave the opinion that the present legislation circumscribing the functions of the Teachers Colleges would not permit the introduction of such a course now, though the present curriculum of the college would cover the standard instruction in this field with the exception of two or three classes and certain laboratory work.

The success of the recent special course of instruction in Summer Camp work was commented upon, with the hope that future expansion of this type of instruction can be made.

All but two members of the Board of Trustees were present at the meeting, the absentees being the Hon. M. Ward Fleming, of Bellefonte and Harold D. Woolridge of Clearfield. Dr. David W. Thomas, president of the board, presided, and the others who attended were H. C. Smith, Altoona; George F. Hess, Beech Creek; Mr. McKean, Williamsport; A. P. Akeley, Coudersport; Mrs. McEntire, and Dr. W. M. Pierce, Ridgeway.
