

Lock Haven Graduates 193 in the Class of 1933

CLASS OF 1933

HONOR STUDENTS TO DELIVER ORATIONS

Isadore Ziff and Margaret Gardiner Represent Respective Groups At Commencement

Isadore Ziff and Margaret Gardiner had the honor of presenting the commencement orations on Monday, May 29th. These two students were chosen by the faculty because they hold first place in the academic work of the class of '33.

Miss Gardiner, who leads the elementary department in scholarship, has selected as her topic "Literary Compensations." Mr. Ziff, the leader of the college group, will speak on the subject, "The Teacher as a Humanitarian."

These students have not only maintained their excellent class standards, but have been active in the students' activities at the college during their four years' attendance.

College Alumni Gather For Annual Festivities

The annual Alumni meeting was held Saturday, May 27, in the auditorium of the College.

The reunion classes which met this year were 1878, 1883, 1888, 1895, 1898, 1905, 1909, 1913, 1918, 1923, 1928.

Because of the remodeling it was not possible for the alumni to hold their annual banquet in the college dining room.

In the afternoon from 2.30 to 4.15 P. M., the annual meeting was held in the College auditorium. Dr. D. W. Thomas, '06, presided. Assembly singing was conducted by Professor George F. B. Lehman, Department of Music, State Teachers College, with Mrs. P. R. Kamp, '20, accompanist. A special number was given by Miss Marion Francisco, of the College, who sang "Morning," by Speaks, and "Ho! Mr. Piper," by Curran. Miss Claris-

Senior Class Play Received By Appreciative Audience

"Peg o' My Heart," by J. Hartley Manners, proved to be as decided a success in Lock Haven State Teachers College as it was in Los Angeles in 1912, its first performance; in London at the Globe, Comedy, Apollo, and St. James' Theaters, in the English provinces, in India, and the Far East. The total number of performances booked for this play is considerably over 10,000.

The play, which was given Wednesday evening, May 24, by members of the graduating class, was enthusiastically received by an appreciative audience. The many naive and humorous characters of Peg, played by Clarissa Wainger, was the chief attraction of the performance. Ruth Henninger as Mrs. Chichester played her role very convincingly and in such a way as to account for the cold indifference of her children. Ethel Chi-

Superintendent of Public Instruction Will Deliver Address to Graduating Students

Doctor James N. Rule, Superintendent of Public Instruction, was the speaker in the Commencement Day Program this year. He delivered an address on "Teacher Preparation in Retrospect and Prospect."

Doctor Rule has been associated with education and educational movements all his life. He graduated from Washington and Jefferson College in 1898, received his M. S. at the same college in 1901, and his Sc. D. in 1927.

In the teaching field, he was an instructor in Washington High School, Pa., from 1898 to 1900; assistant principal of W. and J. Academy, 1900-1907; principal of the

EDITORIAL

J. W. Crabtree, Secretary of the National Education Association, pays his tribute to the forthcoming graduating class and future teachers.

"There will be no moratorium on education. A moratorium on education would mean a moratorium on civilization. This is one of the reasons why teachers will continue the schools, pay or no pay. The nation, as it becomes aware of the services and sacrifices of teachers and of the great significance of their courage and farsightedness, will show the appreciation that it has shown to its soldiers who sacrificed their lives for their country.

In the crisis of the seventies, I was amazed, as a boy, at the sacrifices made by the pioneer teachers of that day. Since then, I have observed that whether in time of famine or in time of plenty, the teacher has lived not for self, but for the children and the community. I have noticed that the selfish man or woman seldom remains long in the profession.

When the terrible days of the World War came upon us, who led in food conservation? Who led in the sale of liberty bonds? Who led in collecting food, clothing, and funds for the Red Cross? Who kept the schools going, whether funds were available or not? And what of the teachers of today? They are serving in a worse crisis than ever before. Their responsibility is greater. Environment is more destructive in its effect on children. The teacher-load is almost doubled. In spite of all this, the teacher is again leading in welfare activities. There may be a delay in pay—a month or six months—or the pay may be cut off for the year, yet the work of the school goes on! "Who is it that removes gloom from the lives of children who come from homes filled with sorrow and suffering because of the depression? Who is it that inspires children with courage and ambition? Who teaches them to look forward to better days? Who is it that is saving civilization in these dark hours?"

"All honor, therefore, to the teachers of 1933! Your courage and your devotion stand out as the safeguard of our democracy and as the hope of the nation!"

FACULTY VACATIONS

For many of the faculty the summer is rather indefinite but a few have made definite plans.

Miss Holaway will spend her August vacation at her home in Grant, Nebraska.

Miss Fox's home town, Carbondale, Illinois, will gladly welcome her for the summer. She expects to attend the World's Fair and will pay a short visit to her Alma Mater, Peabody College, in Nashville, Tennessee.

At the World's Fair we will also find Miss Nellie Dubois. She may later journey farther to Yellowstone National Park.

Miss Berthe Daniel will spend part of the vacation in St. Louis, Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Stemple will visit Illinois. They plan to spend at least two weeks in Chicago, where they will attend the World's Fair and, as Mr. Stemple says, "Learn more and more about Science."

Mr. Weldon Williams, accompanied by his mother and J. H. Brown, will take a trip to North Carolina, from which place they will proceed to Washington, Mr. Williams' native state.

Two Art Exhibitions Show Fine Work of Art Students

During the week of May 25-29 two splendid exhibitions of art work, one in room 201 and the other in room 217 of the new training school building, were on display. The exhibit was prepared under the direction of Miss Nellie DuBois, of the art department.

The material for the exhibit was taken from the work done in class by the pupils of each grade in the Training school, the junior high school and college classes. It is representative of what the average pupils of the classes are able to do.

Since a great deal of emphasis in public schools today is placed on self-expression on the part of the child, free hand colored chalk sketches best aroused the children's creative ability. Some very excellent examples of this are drawings of spring flowers, March winds, April showers, and simple child activities. These were displayed in both the college art work and that of the Training school pupils.

In design and color many original ideas were expressed. It was evident that this originality had held a prominent part in the making of surface patterns, stick prints, dish mats, color wheels, borders and water color sketches. Some very interesting pieces of work were found among these materials of original designing.

Other work which received much favorable comment and which was outstanding was the soap carved figures, pottery, silhouette drawings, hand-made books of various description and crayon drawings.

A great deal of artistic ability was shown in this exhibit. It is evident that art is finding a notable place in the public school and in the training of a public school teacher.

DR. JAMES ADDRESSES CHAPEL ON ENGLISH DOLE

Captain Talfryn James, a native Englishman, who is now technical director of the Lock Haven plant of the American Aniline Company, was the chapel speaker on May 8, 1933. Captain James contrasted the English dole with the American relief system. The speaker declared that, although the Americans severely criticize the English system of dole, the United States has a higher percentage of people receiving relief, and also has a more poorly balanced budget. Captain James also briefly outlined the English dole system: the employee, the employer, and the government all contribute money for the dole; every unemployed man must be registered; a man who leaves his work or who commits a misdemeanor cannot go on the dole.

In executive educational work, he has been Director of Science in the Department of Public Instruction, 1921-1923; Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, 1923-1925; President of Colleges and Secondary Schools of Middle States and Maryland, 1925. On May 28, 1931, Governor Pinchot appointed him Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Dr. Rule is recognized as an outstanding authority on secondary education and has made frequent contributions to professional magazines. He is a specialist in his field and his words to the graduates will be those of an experienced educator.

Class Poem

HORIZONS

H. Leslie Sykes

This road whose end seemed fixed and certain
Now widens to the eye;
Its end a dome
Of years that lie between Today and Then.

Horizons become mirages now blur,
Moving goals; they stir
And fade and loom again.
"Four years have not died in vain."
Four years have not died!

Steps they seemed, and steps remain—
Circled steps that blur and fade
And loom again.

The eye surveys the widened road.
It glances past its lucent toil.
A moment the horizon looms
Clear,
And fixed,
And certain.

Its end is still a dome
Of years that lie between Today and Then.

I do not fear the road's end,
The birth or death of year or day,
My fingers touch with those of friends;
And faith is born with every touch—

Faith in that which is my own to use—
This horizon shall I choose.

This road whose end seemed fixed and certain
Now widens to the eye.
Its end a dome
Of years that lie
Between Today and Then.

COLLEGE SENIORS, '33

Tree Planting and Class Day Exercises are Held Saturday

With Carl Hatter, class president, presiding, and with a committee headed by Carl Wassen in charge of the program, Senior Class Day was the success it seemed destined to be.

Highlights of this ever-entertaining annual event were many.

Accompanied by James Harlan, Tony Scalzo offered an overture for the occasion, a clarinet solo which was ample proof of Tony's popularity as a member of our local orchestras.

The Class Prophecy and History, an often riotous comedy playlet entitled "Eternity, Ltd." had in its cast Edith Sharpe, Julie Silagyi, H. Sykes, John Haberstroh, Lois Dunn, Thomas Blyler, Ruth Henninger, Fred Hoenstine and other seniors. The play, written by H. L. Sykes, concerned an imaginary board of judges in an imaginary Elysian Fields. Hither, seeking immortality, came the members of the 1933 class as well as some of the present faculty. Their pleas for admittance to Eternity, Ltd., were heard by a board of control made up of Willa (Edith Sharpe) Cather, George (H. Sykes) Bernard Shaw, Noel (Haberstroh) Coward, Edna St. Vincent (Silagyi) Millay, and Lois (Miss Daniel) Dunn. The playlet was vouched as 99 and 99-100% non-serious.

A sextet of selected senior choristers offered a splendid choral selection directed by George Lehman.

Athletic awards were made from the stage and those whose work entitled them to numerals and letters received their just deserts.

The following is a brief resume of the entire day's program: Tree Oration and Planting—by Naturalist Club, Hal Poust, President; Vocal selection by six people; Welcome speech by president of the senior class, Carl Hatter; Class History and class prophecy, class poem, inclusive—by Harold Sykes (one act play); Presentation of the W. A. A. awards by Catherine Hench; Musical selection—Clarinet and piano accompaniment by Thomas Scalzo and James Harlan;

Mantle Oration by president of senior class and president of junior class, Carl Hatter and Calvin Cook respectively; Violin Solo; and a Song by the entire class.

Mr. Culbertson Delivers Address to the Graduates

Baccalaureate Service for this year's graduating class was held on Sunday, May 28. Rev. Mr. George G. Culbertson, Pastor of the Great Island Presbyterian Church, addressed the class.

Mr. Culbertson's topic was "Aims in Life," based on the modern translation of the thirty-second verse of the sixth chapter of Matthews, the gist of which is "Pagans make all that their aim in life." Mr. Culbertson presented the thought that acquiring an education is primarily for the purpose of creating a background against which we can measure values. Education should make it possible to correct one's aim in life when necessary. Mr. Culbertson considered the following difficulties in the way of such correction: First, life is burdened with an oversupply of materialistic and mechanistic emphasis, and spiritual balance is difficult to maintain. Second, in the realm of thought there is a wide diversity of opinions which makes it difficult to keep a mental balance. Third, there is a need for discernment of values in the realm of religion.

Special music was provided by the music department under the direction of Miss Lottie Larabee and Professor George Lehman.

The following numbers comprised the musical program: Processional, "March from Athalia," by Mendelssohn, Vesper Quintet, "O Lord Most Holy," by Frank-Ryden, Vesper Trio, "Faith, Hope, and Love," by Shelley, Mixed Chorus, "The Silent Sea," by Neidlinger, Recessional, "The Victorious Legions," by Sereby.

Students, Clubs Contribute to the College Land Fund

"Those schools are fortunate which have beautiful surroundings; for the imagination is never so sensitive and the mind never so open to outward impressions as during school and college days; and no small part of the education of institutions which are beautiful for situation is received unconsciously from the beauty of the landscape, the impressiveness of mountain forms, or the charm of flowing rivers."—Hamilton W. Mabie.

Lock Haven State Teachers College is fortunate in its beautiful surroundings. The College has decided that to preserve its beauty it is necessary to acquire a new tract of land contiguous to the new Athletic Field, up Girls' Glen Road to Quigg's Corner. It comprises approximately fifty acres and is offered for sale for only $1650.

The Board of Trustees has urged the purchase of this land. The Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Property and Supplies have approved of its purchase, but the State Budget Officer says there is no money available for the purchase of this land now. It has taken two years to obtain an option and it is so important that the College own this land that the students and faculty are contributing to a fund for the purchase of it before the option expires, on June 1, 1933. A number of students have contributed $1.00 and the faculty more. It is expected that a large number of graduates of the College will contribute.

The students, faculty, and alumni are buying this land to hold it until the State can purchase it, and then the contributions will be used as a part of a Loan Fund to help deserving students finish their college work.

Student organizations which have already given aid to this cause are the Y. W. C. A., the Dramatic Club, and the Department of Health Education for Girls.

Music Department Furnishes Commencement Programs

This year as in all previous years, the musical organizations of the college gave their support to the programs marking the close of the school year.

At the Alumni Meeting on Saturday afternoon there was general assembly singing with Mr. Lehman directing and Mrs. P. R. Kamp accompanying. The faculty quartet, which for some time has been "keeping in the dark," gave a selection.

At the Sunday morning baccalaureate services the orchestra played the processional and recessional marches. The Vesper Quintet, composed of Ruth Hart, Mary Ulmer, Ruth Henninger, Freda Shaffer, and Nancy Lawther, sang "O Lord Most Holy," by Frank-Ryden. The Vesper Trio, comprising Lois Wolfe, Frances Wenrick, and Ellen Louise Rooke, sang "Faith, Hope and Love," by Shelley. "The Silent Sea," by Neidlinger, was sung by the Mixed Chorus. This organization, appearing Sunday for the first time, is composed of Marion Francisco, Hazel Singer, Gwendolyn Thompson, Elsie Brion, Virginia Long, Nellie Manning, Thelma Raker, Ellen Louise Rooke, Tom Smith, Nathan Katzman, Carl Stutzman, Paul Miller, Ed Dettrey, Tom Wilt, John Shreckengast, and Harold Cronister. Clarissa Wainger accompanied at the piano.

For the Commencement Day program the orchestra selected Mendelssohn's "March of Athalia" as a processional march and Sereby's famous composition, "Victorious Legions," as a recessional. This group also presented the selection, "Apple Blossoms," by Roberts. The Mixed Chorus appeared again with "To Thee, O Country," by Eichberg.

Recital Presented by College Music Groups

The music department of the College under the direction of Miss Lottie Larabee and Professor George Lehman gave a very interesting musical recital on Friday, May 12.

The Vesper Choir sang, "Lift Thine Eyes," from "Elijah," by Mendelssohn. The Y. M. C. A. Quartet sang "Abide With Me." Two interesting numbers, "O Lord Most Holy" and "O Shepherd of Israel," were sung by the Vesper Quintet and the Vesper Quartet, respectively. The solo numbers were a soprano solo, "Morning," by Marion Francisco, and a piano solo, "Hungarian," by Mary Ulmer. The Vesper Trio gave three beautiful selections, "King of Kings," by Shelley, "Take Me, Oh My Father," by Marks, and "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," by Effinger. The Vesper Duet's "Sing Unto the Lord" delighted the audience.

The program was closed with the following selections of the Girls' Glee Club: "The Swan," by Saint-Saens, "Ole Uncle Moon," by Scott, "Rose of the Morning," by Moore.

Now that the "shooting star" season is past, the husbands of those much-married movie actresses should feel more secure.

EIGHT SENIOR FOOT BALL MEN GRADUATE

CARL HATTER—A four year senior and a graduate of Lock Haven High School where he played a fine game of football, which he carried over into his college life. He served as a very successful captain of this year's squad. He is especially known for his interest in boys and mind for clean sports.

Football Resume Reveals A Brilliant Grid Season

The Lock Haven State Teachers College football squad finished a notable year, winning every game but two, and consequently our football men are looking forward to a very successful season next fall.

Among the seniors who are going out this year through the process of graduation are: Hal Poust, Lajos Torok, Carl Hatter, Bob Densham, Hall Achenbach, and Al Sekula. These boys all played successful seasons and are leaving with fine football records.

To push the ball over the goal line next season we have such outstanding players as Christy Hammaker, Raymond Poole, Kenneth Hart, Joe Shevock, Reuben Salada, Ted Densham, Russell Burd, Myron Biddle, Maynard Lingenfelter, Richard McCloskey, George Shively, and Charles Wepsic. Shevock, Katzman, Myers, and Lingenfelter played for the first time this year and made a fine showing, which means good material for 1933.

The season closed with a banquet in the dining room of the college, with William W. Ullery, of Susquehanna University, as the principal speaker.

Colorful Dance Given by Organizations of School

Saturday, May 20, beauty and color held sway at the Spring Dance sponsored by members of the Art Club and the Varsity Club. Members of the Art Club, who had charge of the decorations, transformed the gym into a fairyland of spring colors. The walls were covered by white lattice work decorated with pastel flowers; the ceiling was a pale green; streamers of green, yellow, orange and blue hung everywhere. At the far end of HAL POUST—the super athlete from Jersey Shore, played for four years on Lock Haven's basketball team as center. During his fourth year he was not only a member of the team but also captained it to a victorious season. He was one of the stars of the football team, playing end during his four years at school. He was such an unusual athlete that he won eight letters.

the gym, three huge tie-dyed drapes were suspended from the balcony making a lovely background for the white, flower-covered throne for the Varsity Girl.

Upon entering, guests were received by Miss Alpha Davis, Mr. Millard Weber, Miss Belle Holaway, Miss Lyndall Fox, Miss Nellie DuBois, Mrs. Kaiser, and Coach Kaiser.

Music was furnished by Charlie Shaefer and his orchestra. At intermission came the crowning of the Varsity Girl. The girl and her two attendants were elected by votes handed in with dance receipts. Art Club members formed a line on the right side of the throne while the Varsity men made a line on the left side. The orchestra played a march and Madeline

Intra-Mural Baseball Season Brought to Close

Intra-mural Diamond Ball—Excitement, fun and good exercise come to all who take part in the spring sport, diamond ball. Under the leadership of Coach Kaiser, two leagues were organized, National and American, each composed of three teams of not more than 15 players each. Most of the players were taken from the boys' gym classes. Four games were played in each league, with the team in highest standing playing off the three game series for the championship. The National league champion was Carson's team, and the American league champion Herlocker's Jersey Shore squad. The games were successfully played off, despite the unfortunate weather conditions.

In the three game series Carson's team emerged victorious, winning the last two games by a large score.

Throughout the entire season every game proved to be a pitcher's bat.

CHESTER McCALL—Entered college with no experience in football, but because of his strength, excellent thinking ability, he quickly caught on to the tactics and won a place for himself as an athlete in his freshman and sophomore years, when he played both tackle and guard.

Anderson entered, lovely in a quaint pale organdy, followed by her attendants, Beatrice Berg and Betty Stevenson, both dressed in blue organdy. Upon reaching the throne Miss Anderson knelt, and Hal Poust, representing the Varsity Club, explained the significance of the Varsity Girl, then placed a crown of flowers upon Miss Anderson's head. The Varsity Girl proceeded to the throne; one attendant stood on either side of her. Afterward the Varsity men sang the Alma Mater, Madeline Anderson was escorted from the gym by her attendants and Hal Poust. It was a lovely ceremony, and a wonderful climax to the school year.

Totals 611 515

According to the above record of games the Lock Haven State Teachers College basketball team has completed a very successful season, by winning eleven games and dropping five.

Of the six pre-season games, the locals lost to Penn State Varsity players and won the other five. The Renovo Irish Americans last 48-24; and the Altoona School of Commerce lost both games, as did the Jersey Shore Y. M. C. A.

BOB SMITH—Who played guard while attending the Jersey Shore High School, starred for the Lock Haven team with his backfield playing during his freshman, sophomore, and junior years. As a sophomore he also went out for basketball. Bob not only received a letter for playing football but also won one with his fast running in track.

The first game of the regular season opened at home with the Shippensburg State Teachers College. Just before the final whistle Lock Haven rallied and came out on top of the big score. The visitors were never satisfied until they made as many points as the local team, but in the end they fell 41 to 35.

The next game was also at home, and the team had an easy time winning from California Teachers to the tune of 46 to 29.

The following week-end, Bloomsburg Teachers decided to get even for the football defeat our boys handed them and so by a long and hard struggle they conquered their foe by a score of 39-38. You must admit it was close.

Our boys paid Millersville Teachers a visit and came home with a defeat to their credit, the opponents winning 42-28.

The following night saw the score practically turned around with Shippensburg on the short end of a 42-29 stick.

ALLEN SEKULA—Coming out for spring football in 1931, he played on the varsity during the 1931-32 seasons, at halfback. Throughout his high school and college experience his public has known him by his speed on the gridiron.

The Maroons sent Indiana Teachers home with a loss of 35-31 on the following Friday—another close affair with Lock Haven victorious.

Then our quintet journeyed for a two-game series away, one at California and the other at Indiana Teachers. They took California and lost to Indiana.

Bloomsburg again rallied over our boys by winning the second game by a score of 22-42. They were the only team of the season to win two games over Coach Kaiser's six-footers.

The last game of the season was a home game played with Millersville. The visitors were easily outclassed. Lock Haven had a win of 50-13.

Among the stars of the season are Captain Hal Poust, who has played his last game for the Maroons, Millard Weber, the flash of the basketball season, who came in second in high scores to Poust. Buchanan and Condo deserve recognition as well as Cal Cook, Schnars, and Bob Densham.

Next year Coach Kaiser has hopes of a very successful season with such men on his team as Condo, Cook, Buchanan, Schnars, and Weber.

ROBERT DENSHAM—A product of the Densham family that has helped the Morrisdale High School team for a number of years, joined Coach Kaiser's squad and played equally well on the Lock Haven varsity for the past two years.

chester, the well poised daughter, was played by Dorothy Grubb, and Alaric Chichester, a comedy role of the "bally Englishman" type, was effectively played by John Henry Haberstroh.

The male lead was portrayed by Isadore Ziff, who in his splendid interpretation of Sir Gerald as a genuine and unassuming character gave the audience another well-rounded performance.

Edith Sharpe, as Bennett, Robert Collary as Jarvis, Melvin Hoy as Montgomery Hawkes, and James Harlan as Christian Brent added much to the play by tying the loose ends of the story together.

Allen Heydrich, Business Manager, has announced that the sale of tickets was satisfactory and that the whole amount will be contributed to the Land Fund.

HALL ACHENBACH—Our light but fighting lineman, made a niche in the Hall of Fame of Lock Haven athletes with his ability to guard the foe during his four years at college. He was not only a peppy member of the baseball team but also engaged in intra-mural activities such as boxing, and basketball.

COACH KAISER DESERVES GREAT PRAISE FOR WORK

Coach Harrison J. Kaiser deserves a large share of the credit for the success of the college sports season. Although several of his best men were injured early in the season the Coach built a fighting line that out-fought every foe except two throughout the entire season.

Likewise, Coach Kaiser was able to raise the standard of our basketball squad to championship calibre.

Not only has Mr. Kaiser specialized in the two major sports of the College, but he has attempted to interest the men in boxing, wrestling, golf, baseball, tennis, archery, track, and intra-murals.

TREE PLANTING CEREMONY

An important part of the beautification of the college campus has been the tree planting by the senior class of each year. This ceremony has been under the direction of Mr. Ulmer. The administration provides the trees, which are carefully planted on North Fairview street near Dr. Armstrong's home to take the place of trees which have been cut down.

On Saturday, May 27, the Senior Class of 1933 planted two American elm trees, which brought the total number of trees up to twenty-four. The entire street can now be called an elm street.

This impressive and important ceremony not only beautifies the campus, but also serves as an outstanding memorial of each graduating class.

.. Thunder In Coffee Cups ..

Almost equalling the rage for suede shoes of a sickly yellow tint (and we wore ours till the soles protested eloquently), is the present clamor on the part of the males for white brogues. If white shoes and white collar jobs go hand in hand, or would it be foot-and-neck, we'll start believing in signs.

Our feeling giddy comes as a result of our having wound up our last term paper. You know it, a rather devil-may-care, king-of-the-world feeling. Ah, would it but last!

Getting Poisonal (which some say is our trend when we get personal):

Julie went short-haired for the final days. Julie stunned all of us by shearing those locks which in her freshman year were rarely in place but which in the last three were rarely out of place. Julie, at the dance, seemed one of Alcott's "Little Women" attending a Queen's reception. Good-bye, Tempest in a tea-pot. If you want to know the why and wherefore of that last title, look up Julie's address in the Praeco and send her your questions.

Didn't the Praeco exceed all your expectations? We think it was a symphony in silver, white, and black, with a splendid solo part by Senor Jack Haberstroh, who, Rumor shouts, will vacation for a few weeks in old Manhattan. See you in the tabloids, Jack.

An orchid to Dorothy Grubb, Mary Simon, Mary Jane Nichols, Flossie Daye, Vivian Rhinehuls, Mary Young, Lauvon Basinger, Edith Sharpe and the rest of the four-year stude-teachers, for the patience, wisdom, and patience exhibited in their last week student teaching . . . If you don't believe that Patience is more than an eight letter word, ask these charming damsels.

Hazel Singer's anything but beau geste in regard to Martie's slim sheath of white organdy almost caused a battle of the centuries.

Hal Poust, while crowning Madeline Anderson Varsity Queen, was probably thinking of Stanford Achievement tests. Did you notice the multiple choice expressions on our senior Adonis' visage?

And did you know that Al Paul (Ruddy) Sekula is now dubbed The Greek God Adenoids?

Harold Sykes, trying to tap the ivories with Pete Sweitzer's Band and Garth Kleckner's new orchestra, found himself with more work than even that "largo al factotum" could handle. Hence H. L.'s shoes, gal, and spirit went to the Varsity Drag while H. L. banged "You'll Never Get Up to Heaven that Way," up at the Legion Park. That's what we call tough.

By the bye, besides dashing off the play, "Bitter Cost," given during the Dramatic Club Guest Night, Harold Sykes wrote the Senior Class Poem and the Prophecy-History playlet. We suppose he'll spend his vacation writing.

We beg your pardon for being somewhat sentimental but we still manage to remember classes in which Miss Daniel corrected our Edgar Guestian attempts at saccharine bathos, pathos, or what's-on-your-mind? Anyhow, we hate to leave the old place. Talk about school spirit . . . some of us have the courage to admit that the thought of not coming back to ten o'clock lights-out, dates twice a week, gym dances, school theatricals, dormitory nights, reunions in the halls, in the Arbor, on the campus . . . Fellow colleagues who return, please treat our old Alma Mater as if she were the Queen of all Alma Maters. And she is!

The above was not exactly the thing we wanted to say. Reading it cold leaves us the same way. But it was in our hearts and like chisel-mouthed Woodin, our musical Secretary of State, we gave vent to it. You know, Secretary Woodin in one of his mint-mad moments dashed off that danceable but unsingable trifle, "Spring is in my heart, the birds all sing." The music isn't bad, but if we thought we wrote those words we would ask Roosevelt to air the cabinet. Ho-hum! Lack-a-day, what have we got to lose?

And that above last fling is from another new ditty which seems to offer consolation of a tinny type (hot pun!) to those who will repeat courses.

To next year's student teachers:

No do's or don't . . . merely live and learn. Remember that what worked in someone else's class will probably be a dose of arsenic for yours.

It's no bed of roses but it's worth three years to get to and you'll hate to leave it.

The kids at the training school are SWELL and they will like you as much as you wish to be liked.

Getting to know your supervisors is more fun than a ten-day bicycle race. You'll find out that teachers are human, in case you've ever wondered.

Lesson plans are a blessing and not a menace.

Don't be afraid to show your teeth in a smile. The kids love it and it won't hurt standing as a paragon of the virtues.

Finally . . . it's all yours . . . Take it or leave it. But YOU can take it!

sa Wainger, also a student of the College, was accompanist.

Following this program there was an election of officers. Short talks were then given by former graduates, especially those representing the reunion classes.

From 5.30 until 7.30 the classes held dinner reunions at various hotels in the city, after which they entertained the Seniors at an Alumni Dance. The Lyric orchestra furnished the music, and the decorations were those so attractively arranged by the Student Activities and Art Clubs.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

MARGARET GARDINER

Margaret Gardiner, who has specialized in the college kindergarten course, has been outstanding in extra-curricular activities during her four years on campus. Peg, as she is more familiarly known, has been active in dramatics, appearing in Dramatic Club productions and class plays. In two of these she had leading parts—"Just Like Judy" and "The Ivory Door." During her senior year she served as president of the Women's Athletic Association, one of the largest and most active organizations on the campus. To her goes the credit of this year's successful Stunt Night.

During her first years in school she was a member of the active dayroom societies, L. A. L., and of the Girls' Glee Club, and for four years she has been an active member of the American Childhood Education Association.

Peg will certainly be missed when she graduates, not only by that gang up on third floor West but by all of us on the campus. We wish her all the luck and success in the world.

ISADORE ZIFF

Isadore Ziff, who represents the college secondary course, has devoted all his spare time to campus activities. He has been especially outstanding in dramatics. He had outstanding parts in the "Ivory Door" and this year's Shakespearean success, "The Merchant of Venice." Again he starred in the operettas, "Pepita," "The Count and the Co-ed," "For Goodness Sake," and "Orange Blossoms." During his dramatic career he was director of the two one-act plays, "The Bishop's Candlesticks" and "Sauce for the Goslings."

In addition to being outstanding in scholarship and dramatics, Izzy has served as men's sports editor on both the Praeco staff and the College Times. He is an active member of the Y. M. C. A., the Men's Glee Club, and the Student Activities Club. He has held the executive office of both the Men's Student Council and the Education Club.

To him we give all our best wishes and the best of luck for success and happiness.

Club Resume

NATURALIST CLUB

Contrary to their former practice of taking in members only at mid-semester, the Naturalist Club members have decided to take in members at the end of the year in order to fill the places of the out-going seniors. So last week we saw the tin cups, animal crackers, acorns, and green sprigs common to those who are being initiated to the order of the Naturalists. Formal initiation of those who were taken in was held Monday evening, May 22. On Wednesday morning the new members gave a breakfast to the old members at the reservoir. Those who were admitted to the club are: Nancy Kiser, Catherine Hench, Kathryn Rhoads, Evelyn Williams, Eugenia Williams, Marian Klaer, Olga Bader, Ann Peterson, Jean Rimer, Pauline Barkhuff, Naomi Wentz, Betty Glatzert, Ernest Gilliland, and Ronald Aldrich.

The newly elected officers for the Naturalist Club are: President, Allen Heydrich; vice-president, Ruth Sherman; secretary, Margaret Kyler; treasurer, George Shively.

BETA SIGMA CHI SORORITY

A fine time was enjoyed by the Beta Sigma Chi girls at their annual formal alumnae banquet, which was held at the Country Club on Saturday, May 13. It was preceded by a tea held in the sorority room in the afternoon. Many of the alumnae members were back. Among them were: Hazel Hanna, Evelyn Confer, Kathrine Diack, Marian Jones, Vivian Messimer, Marjorie Young, Elizabeth Bressler, Harriet Rohrbaugh, Ruth Hunter, Martha Zeigler, Christine Bennett, Anne Yockey, Margaret Creighton, Patty Bonner Tate, Geraldine Jones, Helen Kerney, Alice Corby, Charlotte High, Catherine Hartwick, Irene Henry, Julie Cornely, and Margaret Coira.

After the banquet a short entertainment was given by the active members. The evening was spent in dancing and in renewing of acquaintances of days of "Auld Lang Syne." Clever purses, blue with the sorority seal stamped on in gold, were the favors. Pansy corsages and beautiful orange nasturtiums added to the colorful occasion.

The new officers for the coming year were announced after the banquet and installed on May 22. They are: Sara Quigley, President; Alice Marie Hackett, Vice-President; Doris Catterson, Corresponding Secretary; Anne Wilson, Recording Secretary; Marion Francisco, Treasurer; Gwendolyn Thompson, Inter-Sorority Council Officer; Rebecca Barrow, Probation Officer.

SHAKESPEARE LITEARAY SOC.

The annual banquet of those who profess to be followers of the great playwright was held Saturday evening, May 13, at Herlocker's. All who attended had a delightful time.

Not being exactly different from other organizations, they too have elected their officers for the coming year. They are: president, Ernest Gil-

Dayroom Fraternity Host at Dinner-Dance May 6th

The Delta Rho Beta Fraternity closed its social activities of the present school year on May 6, by holding a dinner-dance at Herlocker's Tea Room.

The dining room and dance hall were attractively decorated in green and white, the temporary colors of the fraternity. The table decorations consisted of roses and snapdragons with a carnation for each lady.

The ladies received a delightful surprise when each was presented with a beautiful silver bracelet engraved with the Greek letters representing the fraternity.

This altogether delightful dinner-dance was made possible by the efforts of a committee composed of John Haberstroh, Robert Emery, Tom Smith, and Walter Rohrbaugh, with the assistance of Hal Poust, president of the fraternity, Eugene E. Reighard, secretary, and Elwood Rohrbaugh, treasurer.

The toastmaster of the evening was John Haberstroh, who has so often served in this capacity at former social affairs and who always knows knows just what to say and how to say it.

Short speeches were given by President Poust and the faculty advisers, Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Smith.

The Delta Rho Beta's were very glad to welcome two former associates, Hall Achenbach and Charles Tate.

The music was furnished by "Charlie" Schaffer and his orchestra from Renovo.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE MADE TO GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS

Many improvements have been made to the campus and buildings since the new calendar year.

A new concrete road has been completed from the Boys' Glen Road back of the dormitories. A network of concrete walks have been constructed. By next fall we will be enjoying an enlarged dining room, with a new kitchen and bakery.

The main building has received its share. During Easter vacation a linoleum flooring was laid in the main hall. The walls and ceiling of all the halls are being repainted a light buff with a dark brown border. A score of workmen have re-papered a number of walls and refinished the floors.

The improvements are costing in all something over $65,000.

liland; vice president, George Anderson; secretary, Caroline Smith; treasurer, Charles Eyer; sergeant-at-arms, Michael Danko.

A. C. E.

The officers for the American Childhood Education Association for next year are: President, Pauline Barkhuff; vice-president, Doris Catterson; secretary, Grace Thompson, and treasurer, Mary Sharp. A. C. E.'s, like other organizations, have made a contribution to the land fund. They are also planning to make a gift of $25.00 to the training school for necessary supplies.

Women's Student Government Association Gives Tea

It has always been one of the chief aims of the Women's Student Government Association to promote a spirit of friendliness between the dormitory girls, who are living together in such close relationship, and the day-room girls. They have endeavored to promote a feeling of cooperation and loyalty between the groups. Miss Holaway, faculty adviser of the Association, has done much to aid the group in the attainment of these aims.

This fine spirit culminated in a delightful tea given Tuesday afternoon by the association to the faculty, the day-room girls, and their own members.

The gymnasium which was the scene of the tea, was decorated in a gala spring motif, wild flowers of many descriptions adding to the occasion. Miss Iva Mae Van Scoyoc and her decoration committee deserve much credit for obtaining such a desirable effect.

The tea itself was lovely; the hostesses and guests were dressed in pastel organdies and summer frocks at-tune with the decorations. Miss Holaway, the dean of women together with Miss Florence Daye, the outgoing president of the organization, and Miss Sara Fletcher, the incoming president, received. Misses Julie Silagyi and Jean Smith poured from 3.30 until 4.30 and Misses Myrna Lundy and Marjorie Dice poured from 4.30 until 5.30. Grace Thompson proved to be a very successful chairman of the refreshment committee.

Classes to Publish Praeco as Entire School Project

Next year the Praeco, as a school project, will be supported by the individual classes. Special class dues of $2.50 will cover the Praeco subscription and will be collected during the first week of school in the fall. This action was taken last week by all of the students, acting in their separate class meetings upon a plan presented by a joint committee from all the classes.

The price of two dollars and a half is made possible only by the united support of the student body. In former years the number of copies sold has been limited, usually, to about two hundred and fifty, and as a result the books have always cost five dollars each. Additional numbers, however, do not cost in proportion.

The Praeco editorial staff will be enlarged to include representatives from all the classes. Members will be appointed by a committee consisting of the following: the editors, the presidents of the classes, and one representative elected by each of the various classes. As a transition plan, there will be two joint editors next year, one from the Senior and one from the Junior class. Eventually it is planned to have the editor elected regularly from the Junior class.

At recent elections of the incoming Senior and Junior classes, Tom Smith and Leon Barr were elected as Editors-in-chief for 1933-34.

Naturalist Club Celebrates Spring Homecoming Day

The Naturalist Club held its spring homecoming on Saturday afternoon, May 6, to celebrate its tenth anniversary as one of the oldest clubs of the College. Originally the club had planned to hold the affair at McElhattan Reservoir, but rain interfered and activities were transferred to the gymnasium. In the course of the afternoon various games, ranging from indoor baseball to three-deep, were enjoyed by everyone. Thirty-five former club members returned for the occasion. Among them were Charles R. Dale, Floyd Bloom, Alyce Ankeny, Juliet Ellenberger, Maxine McDermott, Eleanor Forshey, Arlie Knowles, Louise Rhoads, Elizabeth Heims, Carolyn E. Wein, Sterl Artley, Samuel Long, Robert Smith, James Quigg, Ellen Petrusky, B. Fay Bitner, Elizabeth Robb, Robert Robb, Mary Hacala, Mildred Ericson, Marie Moran, Kathryn Klaer, Peg Cunningham, Rose Bower, Russell W. Bohn, Mrs. R. W. Bohn, Charles Tate, Florence Tate, Anna N. Else, Catherine C. Morris, Pauline Snyder, Melba Lockard, Dora Detweiler, Ralph Poorman, Margaret Lundy, John B. Ross, and Annie Ross.

A joint meeting of the alumni and active members was held, with Hal Poust presiding. Two charter members, Mildred Erickson and Marie Moran, were called upon and spoke amusingly of old times. Later Stearl Ardley, in behalf of the club, presented Mr. Ulmer, its adviser, with a brown leather suitcase, expressing gratitude for Mr. Ulmer's services.

An appropriate and delightful supper was served. The refreshment committee consisted of Miss Lillian Russell, chairman, Peg Samson, Peg Freeman, Peg Kyler, Grace Thompson, Clarence Eld, and Chris Hammaker.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Ulmer tendered a reception to everyone. John Ross, head of the game protection and conservation of wild life at Harrisburg, gave a very interesting discussion.

ENTERTAINMENT SERVICE GIVES STUDENT RECITAL

On Tuesday evening, May 16, a formal recital was given in the auditorium by a group of students who are members of the College Entertainment Service. The group delighted the audience with their interesting and varied selections. The proceeds will be given to the land fund.

The program included a piano duet by Lois Wolfe and Belle Isle Stoner; readings by Leah Varner, Florence Hunt, Helen Fetzer, Dorothy Hevner, Edith Sharpe, and Gladys Weber; dances by Olga Bader and Geraldine Bower; piano solos by Pauline Barkhuff and Harold Sykes; a piano accordion solo by Lorraine Burnell; a vocal solo by Thomas G. Wilt; a violin solo by John Yon; a violin trio composed of Marion Francisco, Lois Pepperman, and Ruth Tyson, and a ukelele duet by Walter Wilkinson and Donald Hevner. The accompanists were Stella Kashinsky and Clarissa Wainger; Melvin Hoy acted as chairman of the program.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

The Alpha Sigma Tau's have pledged Katherine Keener, Nancy Kiser, and Virginia Cheeseman. Their officers for next year are: President, Caroline Schultz; vice-president, Florence Priddey; corresponding secretary, Louise Robertson; recording secretary, Margaret Williams; treasurer, Iva Mae Van Scoyoc. Their inter-sorority council officers are Caroline Schultz and Myra Evans.

RHO OMEGA LAMBDA SORORITY

The R. O. L.'s held their annual formal alumnae banquet on the Saturday following our return from Easter vacation. It was held at the Fallon Hotel and they had just loads of fun, we are told, reminiscing and reviving old friendships. Many alumnae members were back, among them Margaret Zurewich, Evelyn Bosworth, Kay Noll, Kay Karterman, Helen Gehron, Verna McGarvey, Helen Philipps, and Louise Rhodes. After the banquet the party proceeded to the Roxy Theatre.

The R. O. L.'s have elected their officers for next year also. They are: president, Florence Hunt; vice-president, Beatrice Berg; secretary-treasurer, Martha McDowell; social secretary, Dorothea Stitt; usher, Marie Gehron; inter-sorority council members, Clarita Duhart and Molly Hammon.

A tea was given by the old members to the new members on May 10 in the stage of the auditorium. The new members are: Winifred Hearn, Alice McGarvey, Lucetta McKibben, and Betty Parsons. The under-classes entertained with a breakfast and a delightfully enjoyable picnic.

Y. W. C. A.

Some unique meetings have been held by the Y. W. in the last few weeks. The meeting of May 10 was held out on the front steps. Readings and singing of old and new favorite songs formed the main part of the programme. The last meeting was a picnic supper held at the reservoir. After enjoying a supper of toasted "doggies," marshmallows, and the usual weiner roast menu, a happy time was spent in singing and other entertainment. The forming of a friendship circle concluded the picnic. The whole was a happy climax to a successful year of the Y. W. C. A.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

A delightful time was had at the apartment of Dr. Coppens at a social meeting a few weeks ago.

So that these good times may not come to an end, new members have been taken into the club. They are: Leon Barr, Ruth Burkett, Maude Brungard, Minnie Hoberman, Martha Keys, Ruhl Klepper, Ethel Law, Lucetta McKibben, Sara Mapes, Marjorie Overdorf, Sam Plummer, Sara Quigley, Elwood Rohrbaugh, Esther Schaffer, Henry Stehman, William Statler, Mary Jane Thiel, Leah Varner, Isabel Welch, Eugenia Williams, Anne Wilson, Eleanor Wood, and John Yon.

W. A. A.

Students Will Receive Honors in Athletics

As a part of the class day exercises the W. A. A. will present letters to Madeline Anderson, Maxine Laufer, Alpha Davis, Ann Crist, and Jerry Jones, who have earned 800 points each. Ann Crist and Jerry Jones are also to receive blankets for additional points.

Here's a note of warning—only W. A. A. members will be privileged to participate in sports outside of regular gym classes next fall.

The organization has elected officers for the following year. The newly elected officers are: Grace Thompson, president; Helen Ardery, vice president; Catherine Hench, secretary; and Evelyn Williams, treasurer.
