

Largest Class to Graduate May 26

Duane Wilder, treasurer of the National Forge Company, Warren, and a member of the Governor's Commission on Education, will deliver the main address at the May Commencement at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 26, in Thomas Field House.

This year's graduating class is the largest in the history of the college, the 152 students being enrolled in these curriculums: 54 in secondary education, 53 in elementary education and 45 in physical education.

An unusual feature this year will be the commissioning of Stanford Shaffer as a second lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps. Shaffer has been training for several years and his commission is contingent on his receiving a bachelor's degree. Capt. Gale of the U. S. Marines will make the commission.

Dr. Gerald R. Robinson, dean of instruction, will present the graduating class to Dr. Richard T. Parsons, president, who will confer the degrees. No tickets are required for admission to the commencement, Carl Bartlett, senior class president, announced.

The final weekend of activities for the 1963 class will begin with the senior luncheon to be held at 12 noon Friday, May 24, at the Dutch Inn, Mill Hall. This will replace the traditional senior breakfast. Don Charlton, president of the Student Co-operative Council, will preside for the luncheon program which will be sponsored by the council.

Commencement practice will be held in Thomas Field House for all seniors at 1:30 p.m. Friday, following the luncheon. After the practice, the class tree and the class gift will be dedicated. An outdoor bulletin board has been voted as the class' gift to the college. It will be placed in front of Russell Hall.

Saturday's activities will begin at 7:15 p.m. when a banquet will be held at the Lock's Restaurant. The Senior Ball will follow from 9 to 12 p.m. at the Elk's Club. Faculty members and their wives have been invited to share this event with the seniors.

Daniel P. Showan, assistant professor of social science, is the 1963 class advisor.

Curriculum Coordinator, Librarian Join Staff

Seven persons have been added at press time to the staff for the 1963-64 academic year, the dean of instruction's office has announced.

Joining the social science department will be

Dr. Tao Cheng as an associate professor and Joseph E. Harris as an assistant professor.

Dr. Cheng was graduated from the National Ninth High School in China in 1941 and received a LL.B. degree from National Peking University in 1946. Completing the rest of his education in the United States. Dr. Cheng earned a master of arts degree in international relations from Temple University in 1961 and a PhD. degree in political science from Columbia University. He came from Florida Normal and Industrial Memorial College in St. Augustine, and will teach political science.

Social Science Teacher

Harris received a bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from Howard University and is presently working toward a PhD. in African studies at Northwestern University. For the past two years he has been employed by the Agency for International Development in Guinea.

Two faculty members also will be joining the language arts department: Joseph R. Peck, II, of Williamsport will be assistant professor of English and the new advisor to The Eagle Eye. He received degrees from the University of Pennsylvania in 1942 and from the University of Florida 11 years later. He has served several years abroad as vice consul for the Department of State in Germany and did graduate work at the University of Geneva. For the past seven years he has taught English and American literature at Lycoming College.

Jack Silberg, assistant professor of English, comes from DeWitt Clinton High School, N.Y. He received a bachelor of arts degree from New York City College and a master of arts degree in medieval literature from Brooklyn College.

Psychology Addition

Neil D. Wilson has been added to the psychology department as an assistant professor. He earned degrees at S.U.N.Y. Teachers College and the Teachers College at Columbia University. He served as an instructor in the U. S. Navy and comes to LHSC from the State Teachers College, Towson, Md.

Dr. Eugene Nuss will become curriculum co-ordinator, a new position at the college. He received a bachelor of science degree from Bloomsburg State, a master of education degree from Temple University, and a doctor of education degree from the University of Maryland. Presently, he is employed in a similar position at Western Maryland College.

Robert Bravard will become an assistant librarian and will head the catalog division of Stevenson Library. He earned a bachelor of arts degree from Wilmington College, Ohio, and a master of science in library science from Syracuse University.

The college also will be initiating a new program in special education next Fall. The program has been placed under the direction of Dr. Mary Alice Smith, professor of elementary education, who has moved from the Akeley School to become a member of the college staff.

Dr. North Retires from Faculty; Plans to Continue Teaching

"After leaving Lock Haven I expect to teach and do nothing but teach." These were the words of Dr. William R. North, chairman of the liberal arts department and professor of English who is leaving at the end of this semester. Dr. North has accepted a teaching position at Mary Baldwin College, Va.

In regard to other plans Dr. North said that in the near future he hoped to devote more time to his hobbies of stamp collecting, gardening and traveling.

Spring Concert Features Serious, Light Selections For Mother's Day Program

Having solos in Sunday's choir concert are Bonnie Shultz and Carlyn Crouse. Other soloists not pictured are Chris Dwyer, Suzanne Mehall and Carolyn Franchio.

Sunday at 2 p.m. in Price Auditorium, the College Choir, under the direction of Russell Gilham, associate professor of music, will present its annual Mother's Day Concert.

The first part of the program will consist of more serious music including Brahms' "Requiem," "Alleluia," "Grant Us Thy Peace," "Sheep May Safely Graze," "On a Snowy Evening," "None but the Lonely Heart," with Suzanne Mehall, soloist; "The Silver Swan," "Once to Every Man and Nation," and "Behold All Flesh is as the Grass."

Lighter music will be featured in the second part of the program with "I Could Have Danced All Night," "Moon River," "No Business Like Show Business," "Whale of a Tale," with Chris Dwyer, soloist; "Climb Every Mountain," "Moon River" and "Younger Than Springtime."

The mixed ensemble will sing "I Enjoy Being a Girl" and "Pick a Little." Bonnie Shultz will sing "Hello Young Lovers."

The men's quartet will conclude the program with "There is Nothing Like a Dame."

LAST ISSUE

This is the last issue of The Eagle Eye for this semester. Editor Penny Hain and her staff have produced the last two one-page issues as extras in that appropriations for this year called for only 25 issues. These extra editions plus the three six-page issues printed earlier in the year were made possible by the increased advertising revenue. Mary Coffey is advertising manager.

Four Preps to Appear On Campus Tonight

The Four Preps, a well-known vocal group, will present a concert on campus today in Thomas Field House from 8:30 to 10 p.m. The Panhellenic and the Inter-Fraternity Council are sponsoring them.

The Preps include Bruce Belland from Chicago, Ohio; Glen Larson from Long Beach, Calif.; Marvin Ingram from Shreveport, La.; and Ed Cobb from Holywood, Calif.

Since 1957, they have been recording for Capitol where they were the youngest vocal group on a major record scale.

Some of their hits include "Dreamy Eyes," "26 Miles," "Big Surprise," "Lazy Summer Night," "Got a Girl," and "Cinderella."

In 1958, the Four Preps were recognized as the "Most Promising Vocal Group" in the Cash Box Magazine poll.

So We Say . . .

Future Beckons

With this, our last Eagle Eye, we reflect on the accomplishments of the 1962-63 college year. Highlighting the year were the colorful homecoming festivities and the addition of big name entertainment to the campus. Observing the physical growth of Lock Haven with the construction of new buildings and with the graduation of the largest class in the history of the school, we foresee more success and expansion in the future.

However, there is one shadow cast over the campus with the retirement of Dr. William R. North. Dr. North has devoted 28 years of invaluable service to Lock Haven. He has not only been a teacher to countless numbers of students, but also a friend and adviser. When Dr. North leaves, his self-sacrifice and devotion will long remain in the hearts of all who know him. Good luck Dr. North!

Student Council Questions Use of ID Cards; Hears Library Rules

The Student Co-operative Council voted at its last official meeting of the school year to recommend to Dr. Richard T. Parsons that the student identification cards be used solely for identification purposes and not for any other reasons.

This recommendation came as a result of questioning by some of the council members on the removal of ID cards from students for minor disciplinary reasons. The council stated a case of such action on the part of some administrators and voted its disapproval.

Pres. Don Charlton announced that Rick Clifton again would head the constitution committee and that Bob Strauss would chairman the freshman customs committee.

Sandy Sanderson, assembly committee chairman, announced that Norman Cousins, editor of

LHSC Bowler Gets To Semi-Finals

Jon Martin, bowling for LHSC in the Eastern College Bowling Tournament last week advanced to the semi-final round before being eliminated.

Martin rolled a 191 average to qualify for the semi-finals and was eliminated while maintaining a 182 average for the last 16 games. Out of 250 bowlers, Martin finished 16. Twenty-four bowlers went into the semi-finals and from this number, eight advanced to the finals. The Eastern champ will meet the Western champ at Chicago in the National Tournament.

Dad... I Need Help!

I met the sweetest, prettiest, most glamorous girl here at Lock Haven State that I ever saw. Dad, she's got everything but I can't expect to beat competition unless I get some new IVY LEAGUE clothes at THE HUB, Lock Haven's Fashion Center for Young Men. They've got what it takes to meet and keep the right people. My allowance is "shot." Please wire me some more!

'63 Praecos Expected Soon; Summer Supplement Planned

The 1963 Praecos are expected to arrive on campus in a few days and will be revealed at The Eagle Eye and Praeco banquet at 6 p.m. Sunday, at Thomas Restaurant. Time of distribution to the student body will be posted.

Irene Hash, 1963 editor, explained that this year's book initiates a non-conventional approach in its organization which carries a progress theme throughout the book. This theme is geared around the progress in the student, and in the building construction on campus. Several other new features have been incorporated to carry a news-picture magazine design and a pictorial essay trend.

The Praeco that will be distributed next week will include events up to March 1, Miss Hash said. Everything happening after this date until and including graduation will appear in a supplement to the main portion of the book. This supplement will be mailed during the summer to students who will not be on campus in September if they sign a mailing list in the publications office before classes end, she said. Students returning to the campus, however, will be able to pick up their supplements at that time.

Miss Hash explained that the supplement will have an adhesive binding which will enable it to be attached to the binding of the book immediately after the senior portraits. She stressed that the supplement has been planned to fit into the Praeco at this point in order to complete the progress theme of the book.

Working on Miss Hash's staff this year were Carolyn Strouble, Mary Lou Gorton, Christie Lyons, Karen Hogue, Diane Carter, Joe Osman, Chris Dwyer, Tom Mixer, Jake Laban, Pegge Piper, Isabel Mansfield, Peggy Conklin, Fran Markel, Ann Murray, Lillian M. Junas, assistant professor of journalism is the advisor.

Register Now for Summer School

Pre-registration for summer school was held several weeks ago. Some students registered for the summer session, but many students who are planning to go to summer school did not.

Only those courses with a minimum enrollment will be offered, therefore, it is imperative that every student interested in attending any or all of the summer sessions pre-register with their advisor.
