Shapp supports 'We Care'

"All it takes is to make up our minds to do the job - and it can be done" stated Governor Milton J. Shapp, keynote speaker at yesterday evening's kick-off dinner for the Clinton County "We Care" program. A group comprised of state and local government officials, community leaders, and concerned citizens which numbered over 500 filled Bentley Hall Dining Room for an event which included a premiere of the Bell Telephone film, "Clinton County, Pa....Where People Care."

Governor Shapp arrived during the meal, having just returned from addressing Lock Haven State students in Thomas Field House.

Following dinner, Master of Ceremonies Dr. Earl Lentz introduced special guest Secretary of Labor Paul Smith, Representative Russell Letterman, and members of the Board of County Commissioners for Clinton County.

"We Care" Chairman Robert Grossman began his speech by explaining that the program is "designed to remind us that Clinton County is a great place to live and a great place to work." He defined "care" in terms of "Can Achieve Real Excellence." "The state is strong and our county has unlimited potential," Grossman said, adding that "We must regain our community confidence and pride."

Announcing the approval of a "We Care" postmark soon to be in use, Grossman mentioned that the dinner was indeed only a kick-off for the events yet to come. Scheduled for the near future include a poster contest Sept. 12, Clinton County seal design contest Sept. 19, and radio call-in contest Sept. 22. These events will lead up to Clinton County Day October 8, when more than $2,200. in U.S. Savings cont. on page 4

Immediately following the "We Care" dinner, Governor Shapp held a press conference in the alumni room of Bentley Hall. A potential candidate for the 1976 presidency, Shapp fielded questions in a frank, yet optimistic, manner.

Regarding the local labor situation at Piper Aircraft, the governor reported on a brief meeting with Piper President Helms. He stated that he left the meeting encouraged, feeling that avenues of communication will open between labor and management through the union mediator. Previous management directives have indicated that Piper operations at Lock Haven will be phased out.

The governor was less optimistic about attempts to stimulate the economy on a national level. "I've gotten to the point where I frankly don't believe anything I read concerning what federal government is going to do about the economy," Shapp quipped. The national economy is in the doldrums, and he found it hard

Two juveniles arrested for PUB break-in

By PHILIP BURLINGAME
Assistant News Editor

Campus Law Enforcement and Safety officers apprehended two juveniles, ages 15 and 16, as they attempted to burglarize the PUB at 7:45 on Thursday morning. The officers had maintained a 48 hour surveillance on the PUB, and the arrests solved a series of incidents beginning on July 14, 1975. Seven illegal entries into the PUB were reported during this period.

The law enforcement officers recovered $63, and full restitution of the balance is expected from the suspects who allegedly stole $100. The youths were turned over to Clinton County juvenile authorities.

Wednesday evening at 10:45 a resident of North Hall was nabbed by College Law Enforcement officers for theft of services. The student was apprehended for alleged illegal use of the college TV cable system.

College police also reported suspicious actions by off-campus persons occupying a vehicle that was cruising in the area from about midnight to 6:30 a.m. on Thursday. Lock Haven police officers had stopped the vehicle and warned campus authorities of a possible burglary attempt by occupants of the vehicle.

For their own safety, pedestrians are advised to stay on the sidewalk when walking from parking lot #2 to the Price Auditorium even though stop signs have been erected on the Glen Road - North Hall road intersection.

Booters face Penn State under the lights tonight

By GARY BRUBAKER
Staff Reporter

Tonight the Bald Eagle booters will travel to "Lion Country" - Penn State University, where the biggest challenge in the history of Lock Haven Soccer awaits the Karl Herrmann contingent.

The 7:00 p.m. showdown at State's Jeffrey Field - with its 6 to 8,000 seating capacity, night lights, and perhaps the best turf in the country, finds LHS facing what Coach Herrmann calls "the best team we've ever faced."

Presently ranked eleventh in the country, Penn State is, according to LHS assistant coach Mike Parker, much better than their pre-season ranking would seem to indicate.

"Their forward line is excellent," states Parker. "Their wings will give us trouble, with John Marsden, one of their wings, making All-American last year." "They also recruited a freshman center forward who controls the ball that any player I've seen in this country," the native of England added.

"I believe man for man they are a better team," Parker continued. "They are very well coached and the only way we're going to beat them is to out-run, out-think, and play our physical type of game against them. We're also going to have to 'want it' more than they do."

"We expect P.S.U. to come at us much faster than Birmingham did," Coach Herrmann stated. "They are in better shape than Birmingham and probably better organized, as I feel we were also."

"We've got to put the ball in the air against their backs," Herrmann added. "In their 2-1 loss to Penn State, the Birmingham players felt that their backs were weak on balls passed through the air and that's what we'll concentrate on. We're also going to push Mark Sildve and Mike McCartney forward for added height up front on our corner kicks."

The Eagles will be hoping to generate more of an offense tonight than in last Sunday's shutout loss to Birmingham, but as Coach Herrmann puts it, "It's tough to control the ball on a field such as McCollum. It's very rough, which doesn't help passing or dribbling no matter what team is playing on it."

Despite the fact that Penn State will be Lock Haven's toughest opponent to date, Herrmann feels that "our team this year is the best one we've ever had." He concluded by saying, "If we were ever able to beat a team the caliber of a Penn State, this would be the year and the team to do it."

"We are in trouble, and we have to give a damn" stressed Grossman, in reference to Lock Haven's 2,800 unemployed. This 17.2 percent unemployment rate was compared to 9.8 percent in Pa. and 9.1 percent nationwide.

Vice President and General Manager, Bell of Pa. Hervey W. Froehlich introduced the film "Clinton County, Pa.... Where People Care." Extolling the beauty and friendliness as well as cultural, civic, educational and industrial aspects of the county, the film directed by Gene Mesloh of Bell public relations was then shown.

Following an introduction by WBPZ General Manager Harris Lipez, Governor Shapp began by noting "I think the meeting you're having tonight, and the aftermath of this meeting, is going to set some new trends in Pennsylvania."

After reviewing Lock Haven's comeback from the flood damage of 1972, the governor turned to thoughts of the present and options for the future. He noted the following main problem in Lock Haven as reported to him by community leaders: 1. insufficient employment, 2. low per capita income, 3. out-migration of working people, and 4. the visual appearance of the community.

Shapp noted, "These are not exclusively Lock Haven problems. You share them with the rest of Pennsylvania and the nation." He then went on to comment on the national rate of unemployment, inflation, and recession.

"Redirection of our national economic policies is vital" Shapp stated. "But until we get this, state government, local communities and the private sector must do their utmost to turn the economy around."

Shapp referred to Lock Haven's "We Care" program as a way the community can pitch in to turn the economic tide. "The goal is a revived, rejuvenated Lock Haven, where social and cultural improvement is the measure of success, and where improved economic conditions are the essential means of attaining it," said the governor.

Shapp concluded by expressing Harrisburg's desire to cooperate with the program. He pledged, "If there is anything in Harrisburg that we can do to help you bring this about in the shortest possible time, I hope you will bring it to our attention - and I'm sure I speak for the General Assembly as well as for the executive branch of government."

A meeting for all S.C.C. Cultural Affairs Committee advisors and students has been scheduled for Thursday, September 18, at 1:00 p.m. in Raub 407. The purpose of this meeting is to make all segments of the committee aware of this year's program in all areas.

to project into the future.

One suggestion of stabilizing the economy which Shapp outrightly rejected was that of wage and price controls. He cited that other wage and price controls were imposed during wartime, and still 70-75,000 inspectors were needed to force labor to comply. In peacetime, with the majority of business being non-governmental contract, Shapp stated that such controls would be totally impossible.

When asked why Pennsylvania's state college system seemed dependent upon supplemental appropriations, the governor alluded to the state constitution requirement which prohibits deficit spending. Adding that the Commonwealth, like everyone else, had to pay more for less this year, he pointed to federal cutbacks in social programs which necessitated increased funding at the state level.

"This is just one of the unfortunate facts of the time we're living in" the governor interjected. "What we're trying to avoid at all costs is the need for a tax increase in Pennsylvania."

Although Shapp's visit was publicized as Non-political, many questions centered on the governor's future political aspirations. Shapp said that his intent of candidacy will soon be formally announced. He outlined a 45 day time-frame during which he will travel to at least 20 states to raise the campaign monies required by law to qualify for federal matching funds. He also stated that he would concentrate time most in those states in which he'll enter primaries.

A question arose as to attempts by state Republicans to undermine Shapp's campaign. The governor claimed he has grown accustomed to such political maneuvers, listing a history of attempts dating back to 1966. He, however, reiterated that with be led by last year's leading scorer, Pat Rudy. Rudy, a junior, has performed at the varsity level for three years. She will be assisted by four sophomores including Sharon Murray and Colleen Hacker at wings; Cathy Ogle at inner, and Gina Graham at center. Last season's center forward Pat Ogle will not see action this year because of a knee injury.

The defensive positions will be occupied by halfbacks Wendy Keller, Andi Hoffman, Deb Nunes and Sue Bowers; and fullbacks Denise Gobrecht and Jo Ernst. The cage duties are assigned to senior goalie Cathy Sherman, who had an outstanding season last year.

more than 100,000 employees it's possible that someone might get caught with their hand in the cookie jar. The governor feels that he has cooperated in attempts to clean-up state government. He cited the turning over of contribution lists required of state employees as a step in ending state government corruption.

Shapp said he expects support for his presidential campaign because of his specific plans for reviving the nation's economy. He concluded that because of indecisive fiscal policy, many of the candidates have no base for popular support.
