Heimlich Occupies New Position

Lock Haven is replacing the old and bringing in the new. Miss Heimlich, the Assistant Dean for Student Life, has first hand knowledge of this for she is in the position of being a new faculty member in a job never before in existence.

She is not, however, new to the job responsibilities. Completing her undergraduate work at Ohio State, and her Master degree requirements at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana, Miss Heimlich served as Residence Hall Director and coordinator of related areas at Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana.

At Lock Haven State, Miss Heimlich's job responsibilities include the selection and training of counselors and residence hall managers, the recommendation of necessary changes, the training and advising of the Judicial Board, and direct responsibility for the three women's dorms and commuters. In addition, she is serving as advisor to the Women's Dorm Council, and mediator with the Dining Service.

Commenting on the revised student service system, Miss Heimlich stated that each dean will have a specific function but will be working together as a team. When asked about her feeling toward her new job, Miss Heimlich replied, 'I'm looking forward to a good year.'

Developmental Reading (Ed. 414) Course: Developmental Reading (Secondary) has been added to course offerings for this semester. The class will meet Tues. and Thurs. at 3:40 in R308.

Stern, Former Principal, Replaces Gross as Elem. Head

Dr. Harvey Stern, a man with a wealth of experience in the Elementary Education field, is the new Director of Elementary Education at Lock Haven State. Dr. Stern replaces Lydia Gross who retired last spring.

Receiving his education at such institutions as Syracuse University and Wayne State, Dr. Stern obtained his Doctorate at the University of Michigan. For the past 3½ years he served as the Director of Elementary Education at Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia and consultant in team teaching and non-graded schools in Charleston, W. Va.

A former elementary school principal, Dr. Stern spent five years working in overseas dependent schools. While he was there, his 17 year old daughter, Robin, was born. Robin was a contributing factor in Dr. Stern's decision to accept the position at LHS as she is enrolled at the college as a freshman this Fall.

Dr. Stern described LHS as having a nice atmosphere of friendliness and co-operation. In reference to his own department, he stated that there exists a strong, excellent, and proficient staff among which a concern for the individual student is present.

The new director views one of the major myths of teacher education today as being that the program should equip one person to teach all subjects. This generalistic policy, he feels, is unfair to the child. Looking to a futuristic goal, Dr. Stern advocates replacing the 'self-contained teacher' with a number of specialized persons constituting a 'self-controlled school.' This 'co-operative team' would result in a more opened, less structured approach to teaching.

The idea of greater flexibility in teaching is also found in his view toward Alkeley School. The laboratory school, Dr. Stern feels, is the testing ground for the practicality of new methods and techniques. He sees it as an opportunity for the students to experiment with different approaches and observe the results, and in the process of being confronted with the realities of a classroom situation, perhaps shake off some of their idealism concerning teaching.

Concerning current job opportunities in the elementary education field, Dr. Stern acknowledges that fewer opportunities exist now than in the past; however, there are increased opportunities for men and continuous openings due to a high turnover rate for women teachers who leave to marry or raise children. He stressed that the applicant will have to go where the job is and persons in the specialized fields, for example, special education, early childhood, library science, and remedial reading, will have more positions opening up to them.

Attention: All students must have their ID cards embossed with their social security number.

Dean Found For Teacher Ed. Revisions Started

"The quality of the program at Lock Haven is as good or better than various programs I have observed or been involved in," stated Dr. Paul Stanton in reference to the current Teacher Education program.

Coming to Lock Haven from the University of Pittsburgh, Dr. Stanton replaces Dr. Irene Russel as Dean of Teacher Education. Although he has only reviewed the program superficially, Dr. Stanton feels it has the potential for becoming a model program of quality teacher education.

Revisions have already started in some areas and more changes will occur throughout the semester. Dr. Stanton feels competency based education must be explored more fully and early experience with children is essential. He hopes students and faculty can work together and share their experiences and opinions.

Dr. Stanton did his undergraduate work at High Point College in North Carolina. He received his Masters degree from East Carolina University and a Ph.D. from the University of South Carolina.

Housework is one thing that there's no catching up with. You go to bed at night with everything done, but while you're asleep the sheets are getting wrinkled, the dust is settling, and stomachs are getting empty.

Deans Abolished

Student Life Restructured at LHS

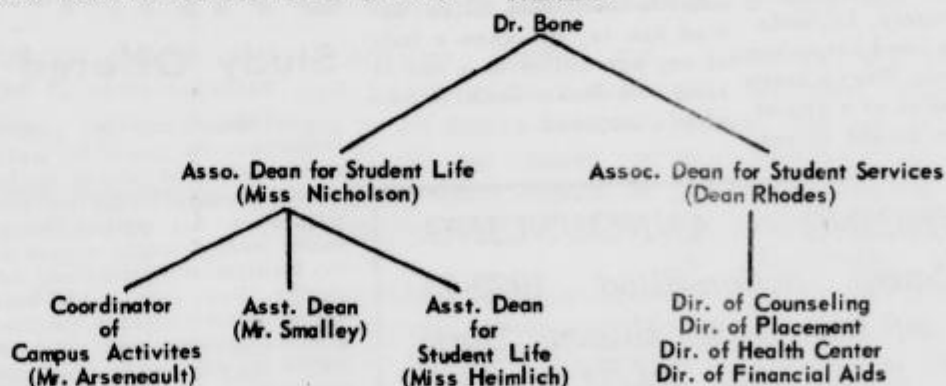

Any student, male or female, encountering a problem and seeking help while attending LHS this fall will find himself referred to the Office of Student Life. Yes, this is the LHS campus. However, the name of the student service office has been changed to encompass a new approach to handling student's problems.

The change begins with the abolition of the positions of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women. "It is an outdated concept," explains Miss Heimlich, who is serving as the Assistant Dean of Student Life. The new faculty member stated that the office of Student Life is an attempt to combine services to men and women. It is now obsolete to have separate counseling for men and women, especially today Working under Dr. Bone are Miss Nicholson, and Dean Rhodes, who is Associate Dean for Student Services.

Miss Nicholson describes her job as a combination of the position of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women. She serves as the direct supervisor of all aspects of student life.

Dean Rhodes is the Associate Dean for Student Services. Under his jurisdiction falls all of the student service organizations on campus. These include the department of counseling, placement, health center financial aids, etc. The responsibilities of the various directors of the services are self-explanatory, however, the positions under Miss Nicholson may be confusing to students.

with sexes enjoying virtually equal rights. In attempt to further explain the reasoning behind the reorganization of the student services department, Dean Nicholson, Associate Dean for Student Life, stated that the change consists primarily of the dividing of responsibilities by function rather than by sex. She feels that by working through this system, better service and more progress can be offered to the students.

Dr. Bone still retains the top position in the student life department as the Dean of Student Affairs. His job responsibilities remain the same as in the past, which consist of the handling of the non-academic problems of students. He will serve as the supervisor of all those connected with the social aspect of student life.

Mr. Arseneault holds the position of Coordinator of Campus Activities. His job entails registering activities, advising campus groups, and encouraging new and entails registering activities, advising campus groups, and encouraging new and different activities to be held on campus.

Serving as the Assistant Dean is Mr. Smalley, who is mainly responsible for the Administration of the buildings which house the students on campus such as the necessary purchasing, servicing, etc.

Miss Heimlich is the Assistant Dean for Student Life. She serves in the capacity of Advisor and Supervisor of the personnel of the three women's dorms, and she holds the responsibility for commuters.

Cross Country Team Readies for Season

The Lock Haven State cross country team began pre-season practice on Tuesday, September 5. Head Coach James Dolan has invited 15 runners back for early season drills.

Heading a list of eight returning lettermen are two-year letter winners Nibs Gordon, Steve Harnish, George Bower, and Carl Klingaman. Other lettermen back

GRE Test Dates Announced

Educational Testing Service has announced that undergraduates and others preparing to go to graduate school may take the Graduate Record Examination on any of six different test dates during the current academic year. The Graduate Record Examination includes an Aptitude Test of general scholastic ability and Advanced Tests measuring achievement in 19 major fields of study.

The first testing date for the GRE is October 28, 1972. Scores from this administration will be reported to the graduate schools around December 4. Students planning to register for the October test dates are advised that applications received by ETS after October 3 will incur a $3.50 late registration fee. After October 10, there is no guarantee that applications for the October test date can be processed.

The other five test dates are December 9, 1972, January 20, February 24, (only the Aptitude Test is administered), April 28, and June 16, 1973. Choice of test dates should be determined by the requirements of graduate schools or fellowship sponsors to which one is applying. Scores are usually reported to graduate schools five weeks after test date.

Booters Face Their 'Toughest Schedule'

Pre-season soccer drills at Lock Haven State began on September 5. The Eagle booters will have 11 days to prepare for the annual tough Alumni game on September 16 at 11 a.m. on McCollum Field.

Faced with the toughest schedule in the school's history the Bald Eagles of Coach Karl Herrmann will be hard pressed to repeat the outstanding performances of the past two seasons. LHS won the Pennsylvania Conference title in 1970 with an 8-2-4 record, and were co-champions with Shippensburg State last year after an 8-3-4 season.

"We have several outstanding players returning but we will lack overall depth. However, without key injuries we could be strong again," stated the highly successful LHS mentor. Heading the list of ten returning lettermen are Galen Hess, Don Copeland.

Co-Captain Hess was an All-East first team selection last season and led the team in scoring with 15 total points on nine goals and six assists. A fullback, Copeland has been selected as the team's Most Valuable Player the past two years.

Steve Harnish of Lancaster has been elected by a vote of his teammates to be captain of the L.H.S. team for the upcoming 1972 season. Harnish, a three-year letter winner, has had a fine distance running career at L.H.S. in both cross country and track. Last year the Bald Eagle senior finished 11th at the NAIA District Championships and 11th at the Pennsylvania Conference meet.

Veterans are reminded that on their initial enrollment they are to turn in their certificate of eligibility to the Office of Academic Affairs immediately after registration. Veterans who were enrolled previously, must also report to the Office of Academic Affairs after registration.

During the year, if an address change occurs the Veterans Administration and the Post Office should both be notified. Likewise, if their course load is reduced, the VA must be notified of any dependency changes due to marriage, divorce, births or deaths. As a final reminder, veterans must remember to return promptly the certificate of attendance card which will be received from the VA near the end of their enrollment period.
