LARGEST ENROLLMENT EVER AT LHSC

This fall marks the largest group of new students in Lock Haven State College's history.

Over 875 new students, including transfers as well as new freshmen, have enrolled for the fall semester, as compared to the previous largest group of 803 for the 1977 fall semester. Last fall, the total was 762.

The increase can be attributed, in part, to the recruitment of a larger number of new students from areas which had previously sent fewer students. Philadelphia, for example, now ranks fourth among county areas sending the largest number of new students, as compared to a ranking of 11th last year.

The top two counties, as usual, are Clinton and Lycoming.

According to Joseph Coldren, director of admissions, the increase in the number of new students from Philadelphia is the result of a joint recruitment program conducted by the 14 state colleges among the city schools of Philadelphia.

Representatives of the state colleges spent two weeks in Philadelphia last year visiting three high schools each day to give presentations and meet with individual students. They also spent a week visiting the city schools of Pittsburgh.

In addition to visiting the high schools, admissions officials at LHSC brought students from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to the local campus to show them what the college could offer. Their effort in Pittsburgh also resulted in an increase, with Allegheny County now ranking 7th in the number of new students, compared to 12th last year.

Lancaster County also made a big jump moving from 13th place up to 5th.

The top ten counties, interms of new student enrollment, are Clinton, Lycoming, Bucks, Philadelphia and Montgomery (tie), Lancaster, Luzerne, Allegheny, York and Delaware (tie), Northampton, and Dauphin.

A large number of new students will also be coming from New Jersey, with over 100 enrolled. This increase is due primarily to the efforts of Patti Lechmanick, who was responsible for out-of-state recruitment for the admissions office.

In addition to an increase in numbers has been an increase in quality, according to the admissions office. This year's freshman class will have ten percent more students from the top fifth of their high school graduating classes than last year, and higher college board scores.

Because of a 37 percent increase in applications over last year, the admissions office has been more selective even while increasing the total of new students admitted, according to college officials.

Another factor contributing to the increase in new students has been several of the newer academic programs now being offered, especially the new degree programs in management science and in journalism-media studies, according to the admissions office. Overall, there has been a 15 percent increase in the number of new students enrolling in programs offered by the School of Arts and Science, with computer science ranking as the largest program in that school.

Another area attracting a large number of new students is in the field of pre-professional studies, which includes programs in pre-law, pre-medicine, pre-dentistry, and pre-veterinary medicine.

Enrollment in physical education is about the same, while all elementary education programs are either holding steady or showing a slight increase.

The only person who will not be smiling throughout the beginning of the semester is Ronald Bossert, director of housing, who will have to find dormitory space for all the new students. Once again, the residence halls are filled to capacity this fall.

RESOURCE BUILDING UNDERWAY

By JEFF BUCK

"The erection of the steelwork frame (of the Research Learning Center) is complete," according to Donald C. Stevenson Maintenance Superintendent at Lock Haven State College. 30% of the work on the Research Learning Center, which will house offices, classrooms, a television studio, a radio station, two elevators, a sophisticated multi-purpose room, and a complete computer center that will occupy an entire floor, has been completed. According to Stevenson, "barring complications," the center is to be completed by November 12, 1980. The original date set for completion was July 1980; however, work on the Center was held up by the utilities project and hill-slides. The center, which will have seven floors, is a four million dollar project.

The utilities project is 80% complete. This includes the extension of the main utilities to the Research Learning Center, expanding conduits so that the telephone service on campus could be increased, expanding campus lighting to include Water Street sections of North Fairview Street, placing new curbing on both sides of Campus Street and on one side of Water Street, and providing "access, through steps and ramps, from lower campus to upper campus." This also includes enlarging the water system, and placing a macadam overlay on two roads of the college campus. This expansion of services is a half-million dollar project.

Himes Hall, the building which was moved from where the Research Learning center is, to the lot next to Thomas Field House, is now complete except for telephone service, Stevenson added.

DANCE MARATHON

The Fifth Annual Lock Haven State College Dance Marathon sponsored by Phi Mu Delta Fraternity will be underway starting on Friday, September 28 at 6 p.m. The participants will be dancing for 48 hours to raise money for the Jeffrey Scott DuBois Rehabilitation Fund and the Infant Development Program of Clinton County.

In the past four years the marathon has raised over $10,000 for Infant Development.

Prizes for this year's marathon are: first prize — $500, second — $350, third — $200, fourth — $125, and fifth — $75.

A registration fee of $8.00 will be charged and each dancer will receive a marathon T-shirt.

Couples may sign up in Bentley Hall Lounge beginning on Monday, Sept 17. At that time, the rule will be explained in full. Couples may consist of any two people and registration is also open to the general public.

If you are unable to dance, Phi Mu Delta requests you contribute by donating to your favorite couple or by making general contribution.

EDITORIAL

By DIANE ORBAN

Although a new semester has begun at Lock Haven State College, we are still blessed with the same old problems as last year. Around campus there are still signs of construction which I'm sure most of us thought would be gone by the time we returned to school this Fall. Unfortunately, we were all wrong. I guess it is true that when you try to leave your problems behind, they're always there when you return.

The EAGLE EYE Staff is having its problems too. We returned to school this fall to find that our Publications General Manager had resigned (with no one hired to replace her). We also discovered that our 'typewriter' was not working nor was our headliner machine. The new machine which was supposed to have arrived in the beginning of August just arrived last week. During shipping, however, the machine was damaged. Estimated repair time is one month.

To make matters worse, someone stole chemicals, paper, and equipment from our darkroom. The materials now must be ordered which will take some time. Upon leaving office, last year's staff neglected to replenish supplies which are necessary for the publication of the EAGLE EYE. This is not intended to insult the past EAGLE EYE staff, just to inform the student body on the delay of this publication.

On the brighter side, my staff and I feel that we have learned a great deal from this experience which will hopefully be to our benefit throughout the coming year.

In closing, I hope you enjoy reading the EAGLE EYE this year and will help us make this publication the best it can be by contributing letters, commentary, and articles. Thank you.

The SCC (Student Cooperative Council) welcomes you back to the "Haven" and hopes you had an enjoyable summer. The Summer Interim Committee was busy this summer with much new business. Some of this business will be discussed at the first senate meeting, Wednesday, September 19, at 6:30 p.m. in the PUB North Lounge. All are welcome to attend.

We hope you will get involved and find out about the goings-on in the SCC. You can pick up petitions for Senator on the wall behind the reception desk in the PUB Lower Level. The petitions may be turned in until Thursday, September 20 in the envelop adjacent to the new petitions on the wall. If petitions are turned in after Thursday, your name will not appear on the ballot. Anyone may sign your petition and you will be elected from your respective housing place (i.e. Smith Hall residents run in Smith Hall, etc.). The elections will be held on Monday, September 24 in Bentley Hall from 11-2 and from 4:30-6 p.m. and in the PUB from 11-2 for all off-campus students.

A senator represents his/her constituents at Senate Meetings every first and third Wednesday of each month. At these meetings, business, such as ways to improve the college and its policies, are discussed.

Although this student government is one of the strongest on the east coast, we have a great manpower shortage. We need you and your input. We want to hear from you. Come to the bottom of the PUB and talk to us - that's why we are here. Tell us your troubles, suggestions, problems, or criticisms.

Thank you very much.

The SCC Executive Officers:

Jeff Bomboy — President
Bob Bullet — Vice Pres.
Charlotte Young — PUB Administrator
Ron Beaver — Treasurer
Al Fluman — Rec. Sec.
Deb Horst — Corr. Sec.

To the Editor

I have just made a rather expensive investment in a ten speed bike. In an effort to conserve gasoline, I plan to use it to make short trips to town to pick up things that I need. Now I have a gripe; why aren't there indoor bike racks in the dorms? Ten speeds aren't cheap and I do not like the idea of keeping such an expensive item outside where it can be ruined by moisture or stolen by someone with a good set of bolt cutters.

Most other colleges have indoor bike racks in every dorm, but why doesn't Lock Haven have such facilities? I do not go home very often so my bike will probably be up here until, (at least) Thanksgiving. I hope to be able to ride it on nice days for as long as I can, unless moisture collects in the brake and shifter cables and ruins the whole bike.

Lock Haven get on the ball! Help your students to save energy and give us the security of indoor bike racks, in every dorm!!!

Sincerely,
Carolyn L. Whiteman

The LHSC College Players will start off the semester with two studio plays: "The Happy Journey to Camden and Trenton" and "Hands Across the Sea."

The first play, "The Happy Journey," was written by Thornton Wilder and is a one-act comedy about a family going to visit their married daughter, who has just recovered from losing a baby.

The second one-act comedy is "Hands Across the Sea," which is a British farce. This delightful play by Noel Coward is about a couple that loves to travel all over the world.

These studio plays are being directed by Aaron Battle and will be performed the first week of October.

Any student wishing to direct a traveling childrens play or a November studio play, should type a proposal of the play that they wish to direct and sent it to Aaron Battle in Gross Hall.

The proposal should include a list of characters, directing concepts, royalty fees, and costuming ideas.

The College Players will be using the main stage in Sloan Theater for the first time to stage this fall's production.

Sloan stage has never been used for College Player productions because the absence of good lighting facilities. The play scheduled to be performed in Sloan is the main production for the semester entitled, "I Never Sang for My Father" by Robert Anderson.

This production is being directed by Dr. Denys J. Gary and is a very touching drama. This is a big contrast for LHSC students in comparison to the usual light drama that has been performed in the past.

"I Never Sang for My Father" is a play that many people can identify with. The main plot is about a family that is breaking more of page one of pages apart or that had been breaking apart for many years. The action is very dramatical and touching.

The play will be performed in November.

Preview

The S.C.C. movie selection this year is composed of a very diversified list. The first movie of the semester was "Unmarried Woman," that was shown last weekend. The flick was very up-to-date.

This week's selection is a musical that was supposedly a "flop" on stage "A Little Night Music."

The popular song "Send in the Clowns" is in the musical line-up for this flick. This film is from New World pictures and start Elizabeth Taylor, Diana Rigg, Len Carion, and Lesley Anne Down.

The movie will be shown on two nights, once, Saturday the 15 at 7:00 and twice on Sunday the 16 at 7pm and 9:30pm.

ATTENTION

RHA will hold its first meeting Monday, September 17 at 4:15. All officers must attend. If any problems arise, please contact Lou, 431 McEntire at 893-3829. We would like to remind all students that our meetings are open for all to attend.

NEEDED: TYPISTS for Eagle Eye. Anyone interested please contact Diane Orban, Editor at 3277. Must be able to type 2 nights or days per week (preferably Monday and Thursday). Wages will be paid.

WANTED!! Young, hard-working people to fill positions in RHA [Residence Hall Association]. Experience and 50.00/term offered. For more information contact Lou 431 McEntire 893-3829.

PHEAA STUDENT ASSISTANCE RAISED TO $25,000

For the second time this year, the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency (PHEAA) has raised its maximum income level this time to $25,000 in its continuing thrust to help middle-income families get student aid for their children going to post-secondary schools. The income maximum had been raised to $21,500 in February from its previous level of $19,300. The income level is after adjustments by PHEAA for such things as more than one child in college, medical expenses and so forth.

In announcing the new level, PHEAA Executive Director Kenneth R. Reeher said the increased maximum was made possible due to the fact that PHEAA's appropriation through the General Assembly for the upcoming academic year was increased from $68.4 million -- the Agency's funding level for the past four years -- to $72.2 million as recommended by Governor Thornburgh. The new maximum income level had been approved by the PHEAA Board of Directors contingent upon PHEAA's receiving the increased appropriation.

The full funding of the program also means that some 6,000 students who had applied for state grant aid after the May 1 deadline date would be processed as though they had applied on time. The change in the eligibility standards and the new funding level made it more appropriate to process these applicants who had applied between May 1 and

July 1.

The increased funding also will provide for an additional 8,372 full-year awards or bringing the total for the academic year beginning September, 1979 to 115,700 full-year awards compared with 108,454 that were made for the 1978-79 academic year.

The $72.2 million appropriation also enabled the Agency to ease somewhat the amount parents are expected to contribute annually toward their children's postsecondary schooling costs. This adjustment will fall generally in the $18,000 to $25,000 PHEAA-adjusted income level. Adjustments below $18,000 were made earlier by the PHEAA Board.

In addition to state grants awarded last year, 78,849 students received $80,015,384 in Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG) money from the federal government. This was made possible by the PHEAA requirement that students applying for a state grant must also apply for BEOG funds, using PHEAA's composite application. Last year students turned to the student loan program--another program of aid administered by PHEAA to help pay their college or business, trade, technical or nursing school costs. They borrowed $258,352,691 from the participating private lenders who take part in the program.

Pennsylvania's philosophy of student aid is that one-third of the student's need should be available through grants, one-third through borrowing and one-third through work. The work portion can be through a student's own choice of jobs or through the College Work-Study Program which annually provides jobs for several thousand college students who are then expected to take a substantial portion of their earnings and use them to help pay the ensuing year's costs of education.

FALL RUSH SIGN-UPS CONTINUE UNTIL WEDNESDAY

By GINNY ROTH

The LHSC Panhellenic Council held its initial meeting of the semester last Thursday to organize and review final details for the upcoming week of Sorority RUSH and pledging for the '79 fall semester.

Panhellenic President, Deb Luhr from Zeta Tau Alpha announced that eligible women may sign up for the week of sorority sponsored activities in Bentley Lounge during lunch and dinner meal hours beginning on Thursday, September 12 until Wednesday September 19. The traditional Rush reception for those who registered for the activities will be hosted by the Panhellenic officers at 7pm in the Woolridge Lounge on Thursday Sept. 20. Each sorority will be represented at the reception, and a skit and detailed explanation of all Rush rules will be reviewed. Refreshments will also be served. The parties sponsored by each sorority will begin Sunday evening, Sept. 23rd at 7pm in Raub Hall and will run through the week during the evenings. Formal bids to pledge are then extended by each organization on Thursday September 27 at 4pm.

Linda Morris, Panhellenic Rush Chairman from Sigma Kappa reviewed the basic requirements for anyone to Rush and/or pledge this semester. Each person must have 12 credits on their record with a 2.0 cumulative overall average. This makes first semester freshman ineligible to Rush or pledge until the spring semester.

This week of formal Rush is a great opportunity for anyone interested in seeing and learning first hand what sorority life is all about. There is no obligation by anyone who goes through the week of parties to pledge any sorority. Each semester, more and more women participate in Rush simply to meet people and learn for themselves what each organization is about. Questions about rules or schedules can be directed to the following Panhellenic officers: Debbi Luhr 893-3266, Sharon Schwalder 893-3201, Chris Shaffer 893-3078, Roxie Gustitus 748-3452.

LHSC LEFT $5,000

LOCK HAVEN — A bequest of $5,000 has been provided to Lock Haven State College from the estate of the late Helen M. Brua of Hollidaysburg.

In accordance with the will, the money will be placed in a Memorial Endowment Fund in memory of Dorothy M. Brua and Helen M. Brua, with the proceeds to be used for projects as determined annually by the college's Board of Trustees.

The members of the New Student Orientation Committee were selected last spring from a field of 25 applicants as being students who best exemplified the successful transition to college life, as well as student leadership qualities. They provided guidance, assistance, and answers to this fall's new students and their parents. Standing, from left to right, are Ramona Jimenez, Deb Horst, Maureen Murphy, Charlotte Young, Bridget Robey, Carol Ann Harr, Michael Fix, and Dr. Van Duen. Seated, left to right, are Donna Robinsky, Ginnie Roth, Debbi Luhr, and Brian Kelly. Missing is Jeff Caulkins.

LHSC WRESTLER WINS TOURNEY

Lock Haven State wrestler Mike Nauman finished first in the 190 pound class in the West York Open Tournament.

The strongboy from Elizabethtown is a senior and won five matches en route to the title. In the semifinals he decked Jorey of Salisbury State, who was a NCAA Division III Champion. In the finals he decisively Gregrow of Wilkes College, 7-2.

A former Penn State standout, Dave Becker of Selinsgrove, won the 170 pound crown and in the process was voted the outstanding wrestler.

Denny Reed of Lehigh captured the 160 pound honors, while Mark Cagle of West Virginia garnered the laurels at 150 pounds. Di Serofino of Rider decisively Pitt's huge heavyweight Smokey Smocharski.

'78 GRAD NAMED COACH

Colleen Hacker, a 1978 graduate of Lock Haven State College joined the Pacific Lutheran University staff as field hockey coach and physical education instructor.

The Lititz native, who is working on her masters at the University of Arizona, played field hockey, basketball and softball for the Eaglettes. She was a member of the 1976

Olympic handball reserve squad and at one time was ranked 13th in the nation of the ladies' division of the American IBadminton Association.

At LHSC she was also named to Who's Who Among Colleges and Universities, as well as being cited as the school's outstanding physical education student.

B-BALL STAR TRANSFERS

Lock Haven State basketball player David Thompson, a two-year regular for the Bald Eagles as a freshman and sophomore, has transferred to Elizabethtown College.

Thompson, who will be a junior, will be eligible to play this coming school year because both institutions compete on the Division III level.

Thompson, of Upper

Black Eddy and Palisades High School, was a two-year letterman for the Eagles at his forward position. He tallied 196 points as a freshman and 212 this past season. He led LHSC in rebounding in 1978.

Bald Eagle head coach Dr. Brad Black would have had his entire team back from last season, but now loses a valuable starter.

GRIDDERS DROP SEASON OPENER TO LYCOMING

LOCK HAVEN - It was a tough 15-12 season opening loss to favored Lycoming College last week for the Lock Haven State football team.

This Saturday Lock Haven opens its fifth season in scenic Hubert Jack Stadium hosting Mansfield State College in first of three straight home games all with a 1:30 kickoff.

Following the Mounties into Jack Stadium are arch-rival Bloomsburg

State College on September 22 and then a Pennsylvania Conference Western Division opener with Indiana University of Penna. on September 29.

The LHSC-Mansfield rivalry is a long one dating back some 73 years to a Mountie 29-0 victory in 1906.

But Lock Haven holds the edge in the overall 37 game series with 23 wins to 11 for Mansfield plus three ties. However, the visitors have copped the past two games with a 21-12 win in 1975 and last year came out on top by 11-7 margin.

This game is the season opener for Mansfield under second-year head coach Joe Bottiglieri.

Returning for the Mounties, off the 1978 team that posted a 2-8 record, are 27 lettermen including 14 starters.

Among the veterans back for the Mounties are a pair of second team All-Conference performers, safety Bob Vagonis and linebacker Ron Clarke.

On offense Mansfield will have senior Sal Butera at quarterback. He missed last season after sustaining a broken arm in a pre-season scrimmage. Listed at running back is a top freshman prospect, Duane Sowell.

Against Lycoming, Coach Jack Fisher's grid-ders took a 12-7 halftime lead on two second period scores. First LHSC touchdown came on a halfback option pass from junior tailback Joe Speese (Medford, NJ) to sophomore wide receiver Bob Lynn (Hershey) for 29 yards. Speese scored the other Eagle TD on a nine yard end run.

Lynn had a super game with seven receptions including several circus catches for 118 yards.

Senior quarterback Dan Spittal (South Fork) went 10 for 19 and 111 yards in the airplanes.

Lycy scored the winning TD late in the third quarter on a 41 yard pass-run play from quarterback Rick Burd to Bill Kilpatrick.

Leading the Lock Haven defensive efforts in the game were linebackers senior Steve Orsini (Rockville, Md.) with 15 tackles, and senior Steve Mayes (Lock Haven) in with 12.

Ends senior Jim Dressler (Shamokin) and Clarence

Washington (Johnstown) a junior were in on 10 tackles each.

LADY HARRIERS FALL

LOCK HAVEN — The powerful Slippery Rock State women cross country team expected to be one of the top teams in the East this season defeated Lock Haven State here Saturday afternoon by 18-43 score.

The Eagle's head coach, Leroy Straley, commented after the meet by saying, "Slippery Rock has a fine team. For us, Vicki Smith ran well as did freshman Peggle Engle and Mary Lou Haughwont for their first competition"

"With more experience and training I'll expect them to improve considerably as the season progresses."

Mary Neilon and Bonnie Hollenbach turned in one of their consistently strong performances."

The Rockettes took the first to positions with Pam Melvin coming in first in a time of 19:15.4 and Grace Feasher was runnerup at 19:27.

For Lock Haven, Smith was third in a time of 19:38. Engle was 8th in 20:33 and Haughwont right behind came in 15th in 22:51.

Neilon was 14th (22:38) and Hollenbach came in 15th in 22:51.

Saturday the Eaglette distance runners will compete at the annual California State Invitational meet.

SOCCER TEAM OPENS 1979 SEASON

By BOBI HEGARTY

In the words of coach Mike Parker, this year's Lock Haven State College soccer team is the best it's ever been. Taking the last two years' performances into account, that's quite an achievement. And in this past week, the team has lived up to his expectations. Last Wednesday, Penn State topped LHSC, 3-2. Saturday, the varsity squad beat the alumni, 2-0. Sunday, the Haven Booters squashed the University of Birmingham, England touring team by a score of 5-2. And this Wednesday, Lock Haven's Eagles smeared LaSalle, 3-1.

In Wednesday's action at LaSalle, on a rough, small field, the Eagles had to change their regular play plan from close, short shots with much control to long shots. Prior to doing so, Tim Gargan threw in to Phil Fowler who headed the ball in for goal #1. LaSalle's Ross Bono scored next. Gargan scored his first goal off of a penalty kick at 37-34. In the second half, Phil Fowler scored again assisted by Gargan. The game was played with only ten men as Billy Hibbs fouled out in the first 20 minutes of the game.

In Sunday's Birmingham game, LHSC's second team was beaten by England's second team by a score of 2-0. Goals were scored by Paul "Fozzy" Foster and Steve "Salty" Salt. As the first teams dualed it out Dan Taber scored in the first half. Second-half action saw Jan Felker scored two goals. Tim Gargan put one in, the Birmingham's Bob Askey scored, followed by Andy "Bombhead" Wright. Trevor Adair scored the final LHSC goal, unassisted. U. of Birmingham will continue touring the Northeast, playing Penn State, Bucknell, Binghamton, Cornell and others before returning to England on September 28th.

In the game against Penn State, both goals were scored by Dan Taber for LHSC.
