

Centennial Con. Scheduled Thurs

Featured speaker for the Lock Haven State College centennial academic convocation to be held tomorrow at 1:10 p.m. in Thomas Field House is "the father image of the New Left," Paul Goodman.

His theme is entitled "Education in the year 2000." Since the 1930's, this man, of intense intellect and prolific pen, has deluged the world with essays, short stories, books, novels, plays, and poems, constantly voicing a passionate plea for a more humane society.

In his book Growing Up Absurd (1960), Goodman gained national recognition by leading a spirited defense of youth who drop out of American Society.

The book exemplifies his basic anarchist principle: "Human beings are innocent; bureaucracies create evil."

Related to his theme for LHS, Goodman has stated, "There is no right education except growing up in a worthwhile world. Indeed, our excessive concern with problems of education at present simply means that the grown-ups do not have such a world."

A 1931 graduate of the City College of New York, he taught at the University of Wisconsin and San Francisco State College's Experimental College.

He is concerned with such varied areas as philosophy, city planning, and psychotherapy.

The convocation crowd may expect to be shocked in their seats, for Dr. Goodman believes: "One advantage of being a 'success' is that I can now say without being accused of sour grapes."

For example, he told the National Security Industrial Association in a recent speech: "You are the military industrial of the United States, the most dangerous group of men at present in the world, for you not only implement our disastrous policies, but are an overwhelming lobby for them and you expand and rigidify the wrong use of brains, resources, and labor so that change becomes difficult."

Preceding Goodman's address, Dr. Daniel P. Showan will lead the faculty processional.

The College Choir and Wind Ensemble will celebrate the bi-centennial of Ludwig van Beethoven by presentation of three selections under the direction of Dr. John B. McGowan.

After the presentation of various announcements and awards the program will be concluded with a march by Beethoven.

Chairman Attends Nat'l Humanities Series

Dr. Marcus Konick, head of the Humanities Department, recently attended a meeting of the National Humanities Series in Racine, Wisconsin.

The series is operated by the Woodrow Wilson fellowship fund under a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Forty-five chairmen of communities throughout the country, which have been selected to receive the series, attended the meeting.

This year the meeting was held at Wingspread, the house built by Frank Lloyd Wright for Mr. Johnson of the Johnson Wax Corporation.

Beside the local chairman, also attending the meeting were the chairmen for the National Foundation of the Humanities, his program director, and the directors of the series.

At the meeting, discussions were held on the nature of the series, how to organize it, schedule it and publicize it. Also, examples of the programs were given. The programs will include drama, music, philosophic discussions, speeches, and exhibits.

The following is a schedule of these meetings which will be held on the Lock Haven campus, in the area schools and in various organizations.

October 26, 27 - meeting on Justice. One session in Court House and one on campus.
November (no date as yet) - One hour reading of "Man for All Seasons" by Dr. Esther Doyle.

February 24, 25 - "Face to Face"

May 3, 4 - "Stop, Look and Listen", includes John Newson, film director.

Last two wks. in February - Program featuring Nat Simmons (actor), reading Black literature and Gibran poetry. Also, Winston Chrislock, historian.

These programs are free and open to the public. They are sponsored by the Rotary Club and by the college.

The "Time Out For Man Series" deals with man's problem as an individual, as a member of the community and in relationship to modern technology and his environment.

More Faculty Added

Mr. Louis Magent, from Norfolk, Virginia, graduated from Jersey Shore High School in 1962. After receiving his Bachelor of Science from Lock Haven State College in 1966, he attended Penn State and graduated in 1970 with a Master of Education. His teaching experience consists of one year in Rockville School District in Maryland, and three years in Lock Haven School District. Currently he teaches at the Akeley School in the upper level, and advises 15 college students.

Dr. Ronald R. Forsvedt, a recent addition to the faculty, graduated from Sweet Grass County High School in Big Timber, Montana. After graduating from Montana State University with a Bachelor of Science, he re-enrolled in quest of his Master of Education, and eventually graduated as a Doctor of Education in 1963. Before joining the LHS faculty, he was employed as Director of student teaching at Upper Iowa College in Fayette, Iowa.

Born and raised in Lock Haven, Mr. Terry V. Shultz graduated from Lock Haven High School in 1962, and Lock Haven State College in 1966. After securing his Bachelor of Science he attended Pennsylvania State University and graduated with a Master of Education in the summer of 1970. Before coming to Akeley School, Mr. Shultz taught four years in the Williamsport Area School District. At the Akeley School he teaches pre-kindergarten and kindergarten. He also advises students from the college.

Union Director

Farley A. Latta has been appointed Director of Parsons Student Union. In addition to directing student union activities, Mr. Latta will serve as supervisor of student accounts and as Bookstore Manager.

A retired Air Force Colonel with 26 years of service, Latta had wide experience during his service career in administrative, supply, and management procedures. He served as Deputy Commander for Material, 14th Air Commando Wing, Vietnam; Director of Material, 45th Air Division, Loring AFB, Maine; and Director of Policy and Management Division, Deputy Director for Logistics, Headquarters USAF, Washington, D.C.

While in the service, Latta attended the Air Command and Staff College; Management School and Air War College, where he studied supply and maintenance. He also studied at the University of Maryland.

Latta is married and the father of two children. Muriel Jo is a senior at Lock Haven State and Michael is serving in the U.S. Navy. The Lattas reside at R.D. #1, Jersey Shore.

He replaces Monroe Hurwitz, who resigned after he was fired by the SCC. He is now Bookstore Manager at George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

Conflicts Over

During the first week of school, 300 students received partial schedules and approximately 88 had conflicts. Of the 300 partial schedules, 250 were due to transfer students and returning students who either registered late or did not complete the course form. Other conflicts were due to filled classes in which case the students had to accept an alternate course which was chosen last spring along with the desired course. Because of a great increase of students and a slight increase of faculty, 125 alternate courses were assigned as of September 21. Another factor that added to the difficulties is the continuation of Saturday classes.

Last year Lock Haven State adopted the "General Education Program" through which students chose the courses they wanted. Previously, the college used "Block Scheduling" in which students were assigned to a curriculum in their major field without much choice of classes. The present program is still in a trial period.

This year's scheduling was done by computer at Indiana University. Scheduling begins with seniors or those closest to graduation to insure them of needed classes.

Next year LHS will have its own computer resulting in a reduction of conflicts.

Student Rates Available

College and high school students may buy tickets to most Broadway shows at half-price, through a special program of the League of New York Theatres.

Upon the presentation of a student I.D. card at theatre box-offices, student purchasers may buy a maximum of two tickets at precisely half the regular price. This program, which has been in effect since last July and which has been encouragingly received, does not apply to every performance of every Broadway show, however. The student discount tickets are made available by and at the discretion of each show, depending on ticket demand through the regular channels. Shows that are currently doing capacity business, such as "Applause" and "Hair," are not in a position to offer the discount tickets.

But the majority of Broadway productions, including such established hits as "Promises, Promises," "1776," "Child's Play," "Butterflies Are Free" and "Fiddler on the Roof," are offering the student discounts. Students who wish to take advantage of the program are advised to check the individual box-offices in advance, to determine where the discounts are available.

The reduced-price tickets are available both on an advance-sale basis and on the day of performance. Shows that are "previewing" prior to an official opening night, a common procedure in the Broadway theatre today, will also offer student discount tickets.

Sports Scene

by Larry Green

The past weekend was definitely a bad one for LHS athletic teams. All three of the major teams faced defeat at the hands of their opponents.

The soccer team was defeated by Frostburg 3-0. The cross country team was edged 31-27 by a powerful Slippery Rock team. To round out the wasted weekend, the football team was smashed 25-7 by arch rival Bloomsburg State College.

The questions being asked on campus this week are, 'What happened?' and 'are we faced with three losing teams this fall?'

In order to answer these questions, let us look at each team.

SOCCKER-The soccer team opened the season with the annual Alumni game. The score of this was 0-0. Frostburg then beat them 3-0. So the team has failed to score in its first two games. The team has not moved the ball well and has generated very little offense.

The main problem for this team is injuries. They have been unable to put the starting eleven on the field at once this season. This has hurt the teamwork and possibly explains the lack of attack.

Add names to the injured players and you find some of the best soccer players in the country. Co-captain Tom Ellis has mononucleosis and will be brought along slowly; last year's high scorer, Don Fay has torn knee ligaments; veteran star Jack Infield is hampered by a torn knee cartilage; and standout Jim Sleicher has a badly sprained calf.

The Eagles will be playing four games in the next ten days. The success of the team will depend mainly on how many of these regulars are able to play at one time.

We feel that the team has the players to make it a winner and the coach to form these players into a fighting eleven. As soon as the injuries heal, the soccer fans at LHS will be treated to one of the finest teams they have ever seen. CROSS COUNTRY-Cross Country fans need not worry about last weekend's defeat. The Eagle Harries have the talent and desire to place high in District 18 NALIA honors.

They have some fine runners this year in Steve Podgajny, Chester; George Bower, Jersey Shore; Nibs Gordon, State College and Dave Mosebrook, Spring Grove.

The cross country team will travel to Johnstown to meet Point Park College and University of Pittsburgh branch of Johnstown on Saturday. The Eagles will be seeking their first victory of the season and we feel they will get it.

FOOTBALL-The football team has lost their first two games. Powerful Delaware State beat them 19-14 in the season opener and then Bloomsburg smashed them 25-7 on Friday night.

The rushing offense has been terrible in the first two games. They have shown a -15 yards from scrimmage with 76 yards gained against 89 lost. Coach Weller is quite upset by this and commented, "It looks like we'll have to start all over again with the offensive unit."

The only bright spot on offense has been the passing of junior quarterback Mike Packer. He has thrown 65 times with 30 completions and 458 yards. Packer has been brilliant considering he gets little time to throw. The offensive line have Mike very little time to throw in the past games. Sam Vaughn and Wayne Hoffman have combined to catch 22 of Packer's passes.

The Eagles next game will be against California State on Saturday. Coach Weller will have to accomplish a great deal before this game if the Eagles are to break into the win column.

This football season at LHS will have to remain a question mark at this time, until we see what can be done to to spark the offensive unit. To quote Coach Weller, "At this time we're not too optimistic about our chances in the Division of our conference."

Soccer Team To Meet Challenge

Faced with four tough games in the next ten days Lock Haven State College soccer head coach Karl Herrmann is hoping his injury and illness list will soon start decreasing instead of increasing as it has over the past three weeks.

"How we'll be doing during the next 10 days will depend a lot on how many of our regulars we can put on the field at the same time. In the first two contests we were missing at least three," commented the Eagle mentor parly this week.

The heavy schedule opens Wednesday when Coach Frank Eisenhower, former Lock Haven State athlete brings his St. Francis College booters to McColligan Field. Then on Saturday the bold Eagles travel to Edinboro State. On Wednesday, Sept. 30 Lock Haven will go to Williamsport to meet arch-rival Lycoming College and then on Oct. 3 at 2:00 p.m. host Shippensburg State College.

Last Saturday the Eagles lost to a strong Frostburg State College team, 3-0. "We didn't move the ball the way we should have" stated Coach Herrmann.

The LHS mentor felt Jack Infield, State College; Steve Weller, Middleburg; and All-American Goalie Bruce Parkhill, State College; looked good despite the loss.

Lock Haven won the junior varsity contest 9-1 with Bill Linkle, Hershey, scoring three goals.

All - American Team Picked By SPORT

NEW YORK-Texas and Ohio State have placed three players each on SPORT Magazine's 24th annual All-America Preview Football team named in its current issue, while Notre Dame and Southern Cal have each placed two men on the squad.

Two of the Texas picks, tackle Bobby Wuensch and running back Steve Worster, are on the offensive club, with guard Bill Atessis named to the defense. Worster gained 649 yards and scored nine touchdowns in part-time play last season, including 155 yards rushing against Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl.

Ohio State tight end Jan White is on SPORT's offensive unit, while middle guard Jim Stillwagon and defensive back Jack Tatum help man the defense.

Notre Dame placed Larry DiNardo at offensive guard and Clarence Ellis at defensive back, and USC put Charlie Weaver at defensive end and Greg Slough at linebacker on the SPORT Magazine Preview team.

Mississippi's Archie Manning gets the quarterback slot in a year when great passers abound, while Wisconsin's Abe Thompson, a sleeper who gained 907 yards with a 3-7 team last season, gets the other running back post.

The wide receivers are Chuck Dicus of Arkansas and Carlos Alvarez of Florida. Dicus caught 98 passes for 1542 yards during the last two seasons, while Alvarez had 88 receptions for 1329 yards last season alone.

Joining Wuensch at tackle and DiNardo at guard, respectively, are Dan Dierdorf of Michigan and Chip Kell of Tennessee. Don Popplewell of Colorado, at center, completes SPORT's Preview All-America offensive team.

The defensive tackles of the Preview team are Ron Curl of Michigan State and Renso Perdoni of Georgia Tech. Joining Southern Cal's Slough at linebacker are Jack Ham of Penn State and Ralph Cindrich of Pittsburgh. SPORT's Preview All-America club is completed with the addition of Auburn's Larry Willingham to the defensive back combination of Ohio State's Tatum and Notre Dame's Ellis.

Ball Five!

NEW YORK-Carl Yastrzemski, Wayne Comer, Don Mincher and four other big-league ballplayers have challenged the veracity of some of Jim Bouton's anecdotes in his best-selling baseball diary, "Ball Four."

Charging Bouton with distortions and misrepresentations, the seven players give their versions of the incidents in an article in the current issue of SPORT Magazine.

Yastrzemski was charged by Bouton in the book of attempting to organize a separate committee for the purpose of settling the player strike without the Players' Association.

Carl answers back in the SPORT article: "At no time did I ever try to get anyone to join me to settle the disagreement without the Players' Association. Actually, I took no attitude about the strike. All I did was what everybody else did--sat things out until the problem was unraveled."

Wayne Comer and Don Mincher, teammates of Bouton's at Seattle in 1968, were accused of getting into a one-punch fight on an airliner.

"Never happened," Comer says. "Mincher and I were buddies. Still are. Bouton knew that." Agrees Mincher in the SPORT article: "The incident of me hitting Comer in the airplane came right out of Bouton's head."

Fred Talbot, who was on the Yankee pitching staff with Bouton, openly calls him a liar on several points. "None of that 'Peeping Tom' stuff was true," says Talbot, referring to Mickey Mantle's alleged leading of a "Peeping-Tom" raid.

Of the other players quoted in the SPORT article, Mike Hegan, Gerry McNertney and Gene Brabender all accuse Bouton of distorting the truth, somewhat, but are more disturbed with what they term unnecessary demeaning of Mantle than with anything written about themselves.
