Havenscope, aerobics live this semester

By Mike McKay
Staff Reporter

The campus television station, WLHU, has added to this year's production an aerobics program led by Annie Meske, an LHU student.

Every Monday and Wednesday at 7 p.m. Lock Haven residents can join Meske and two other students in a half hour aerobics program.

"The work-out is designed not to get progressively harder as the weeks go on so anybody can tune in and join at any time," stated Deb Pinkerton, executive producer for WLHU.

Pinkerton has made changes in the production format.

One noticeable change from last year is that the aerobics and Havenscope programs will be live.

"My reasoning for going to a live show is that I think people will work better with the program broadcasting live and won't have to worry about editing," commented Pinkerton.

Havenscope is undergoing other changes under the administration of Pinkerton.

The news program, which is scheduled to be aired this Thursday at 7 p.m. on channel 10, will now have a movie review.

News anchors Joe Jones and Karen Keenehan and sports anchor Rob Yogal will be joined in front of the camera by Joe Haley and Matt Conner with their movie review.

A new department formed this year by Pinkerton is the public relations department.

"Diane Chilangwa and Toni Gusti are WLHU's new PR personnel and will handle all the advertising for the television station.

The program will be broadcasted courtesy of the Susquehanna Broadcasting Association, the local cable company.

Hybels to speak on TV religion

By Sue Berger
News Editor

Evangelists are broadcasting on national television and are getting involved in politics. This will be the topic of discussion in the first lecture of the faculty lecture series.

Dr. Sandra Hybels, the speaker, will present the lecture "TV Evangelists: Selling Jesus in the Modern Age" tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Ulmer Planetarium.

Hybels will include such topics as how evangelists get their money.

A television evangelist is someone who buys TV time and markets their religion all over the country, according to Hybels.

These evangelists also believe in the Fundamentalist theology which means that they think one must be "born again" to be a Christian said Hybels.

"I think it is an important topic," said Hybels, "because many TV evangelists are getting into politics."

She added that many evangelists influence politics and that at least one television evangelist, Pat Robertson, is running for President.

Hybels researched this topic this summer at the University of Maryland at a National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Seminar.

She spent five to six weeks reading fulltime about evangelists and investigating such questions as, "Why are evangelists so popular with people?"

In her research, one fact she discovered is that computers are very important to television evangelists. The preachers use the computers to compile mailing lists.

Hybels said that she began researching the subject because she has a cousin who is headed toward television evangelism.

She said that her cousin started a church five years ago and that the church now has a 5000 member congregation.

An evangelist who attended the summer program at the University of Maryland, according to Hybels, said that the report is an objective one.

The lecture will be open to both questions and debate.

The presentation is open to all students and faculty.

Gehret, Hoover win awards

By Sue Berger
News Editor

Two LHU students have been awarded scholarships by the Clinton County Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC).

Senior Gretchen Gehret and Sophomore Helen Hoover each received a $250 scholarship presented by Vivian Bechdel, Clinton County ARC president, and Dr. David Anderson, Clinton County ARC treasurer and an LHU professor.

Gehret is an early childhood and a special education major.

Gehret's mother, Carol Gehret, is also a senior at LHU. She is majoring in secondary education.

Hoover is an elementary and special education major.

The ARC is an organization devoted to improving the welfare of children and adults with mental retardation.

Anderson said, "The Association for Retarded Citizens is basically an advocacy group. They see that services that the mentally retarded have a right to are being delivered."

The Clinton County ARC presents one or two scholarships every year to a resident of Clinton County who is enrolled in a Special Education degree program at any college.

The award is granted according to academic achievement, interest, and need.

Lasts year's winner was Charlene Barner who was also an LHU student.

Investigation...

Police to start cracking down

By Jeffrey Hilty
Co-News Editor

This semester off campus student housing is coming under the scrutiny of Lock Haven city police.

Friday's Express contained an article which said police are beginning to investigate "areas that have traditionally been shown to be trouble spots."

Lt. Joseph P. Sanders, officer in charge of this community's police department, stated (in the Express article) that a recent check into the records revealed that several places have received extensive warnings and have repeated offenses.

Friday's edition of the Eagle Eye will have a closer look at the areas the city police are investigating.

SCC movies receive Oscar

I am giving an official Eagle Eye Oscar award to the SCC and its Cultural Affairs Chairman Ken Foster who is in charge of the movies, for their revamping of the SCC weekend movie program.

Saturday night, I went to the PUB and saw Animal House, and two weeks ago I also had the chance to view Down and Out in Beverly Hills. I was pleasantly surprised that the attendance at the SCC sponsored events was fairly large.

Let's look at the facts:

1) According to Foster and SCC President, Kevin McNamara, with the new large-screen TV and VCR movie format that is now being used, the SCC is saving approximately $3000 over the old Price Auditorium system.

2) This money saved with the VCR format will be used to rent more recent feature movies, such as Out of Africa, White Nights, Back to the Future, and Ruthless People. All of these movies are still playing in theaters. Plans are also in the works for a few major movies to be presented in Price next semester. Some of the extra money being saved will also be used in sponsoring other cultural events.

3) The picture and sound qualities of the films in the PUB are better than were ever possible in Price. Other advantages of the PUB is its cozy atmosphere, and being able to show a movie all three of the weekend nights.

4) Due to the better movie choices, picture and sound quality, alot more people are turning out for the SCC movies. In fact, McNamara said last Sunday night there were over 100 people at Animal House, many more even had to be turned away. Did you ever see 100 people at a movie in Price?

So it is my pleasure, to give this Eagle Eye Oscar Award to the SCC and Ken Foster for great pre-planning, superb movie selections, and fine financial judgement on their weekend movie format.

Chris

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

We would like to respond to the front page articles of the Eagle Eye that were in the September 9 issue. There is an apparent need for the student government (SCC) and the Inter-Fraternity Council to get actively involved in policies and procedures that affect student's rights and responsibilities.

The process of direct curtailment of student input regarding judicial matters, and the implementation of Handbook Amendments in mid-stream, and apparently unknown to the student body, is disturbing. The fundamental issue is due-process. When one is given (or assumes) the mandate to serve as prosecutor and judge, without the accused or defense given any options in election or selection procedures, then the appearance of fair and impartial judgement is non-existent. What was not mentioned was the agenda of the prosecutor, presented in the form of proposed sanctions, but not spelled out for the readers.

Sincerely,
Brothers of Sigma Pi

Game 2: Eagles lose "air show" to Bloom

By Bill Alexander
Co-Sports Editor

It was The Pat Cahill/Jay DeDea Show on Saturday as the PSAC foes battled on the gridiron with Bloomsburg coming out on top of the Bald Eagles 38-32.

Cahill led the Eagles offense with 158 yards rushing on 32 carries and went 11-for-23 passing for 199 yards and no interceptions. Cahill also accounted for 26 of Lock Haven's 32 total points.

DeDea, on the other hand, gained most of his yardage through the air. He went 21-for-37 for 354 yards and two touchdowns, but was intercepted twice. DeDea also ran 14 times for 22 yards and one score.

Lock Haven started the scoring with a 45-yard TD pass from Cahill to John Klacik. Mickey Miller added the PAT and the Eagles led 7-0.

The Huskie's drove right back as DeDea scored from the nine and Chris Mingrone's extra point knotted the score at seven.

A Miller field goal gave the Eagles the lead at 10-7, but DeDea struck back with a 39-yard TD pass to Jeff Bolles with 1:32 left in the first quarter.

Bloom's Tom Martin extended the Huskie's lead to 21-10 as he scored on a five yard run at 14:30 of the second quarter.

Cahill narrowed the Huskie lead to four as he went in from the six, but Martin ended the first half with a 37-yard TD run, to give the Huskies a 28-17 lead.

In the third quarter, the Eagles cut into Bloom's lead again as Cahill hit Brian Stugart with a 39-yard TD pass. Cahill ran for the two point conversion to shave the Huskie lead to a field goal.

But, DeDea struck again as he hit John Rockmore for a 44-yard TD with 2:52 left in the third.

Cahill rallied the Eagle's back with a three yard TD run and Miller's extra point brought the Haven within a field goal at 35-32.

Bloom iced the game late in the fourth quarter as Mingrone kicked a 21-yard field goal for the final score.

The Eagle's host the Red Raiders of Shippensburg this Saturday. The game marks the start of Haven's PSAC Western Division play and the Homecoming game for the team.

Tom Smykowski gains yardage in Saturday's loss to Bloomsburg. Although the Bald Eagles gained more yardage, the Huskies won the game 38-32.

Soccer team 4-0-2

By Bill Hunter
Co-Sports Editor

In a match that was not as fruitful as the Lock Haven Soccer Team had expected, LHU defeated the Fighting Scots of Edinboro University by the score of 2-0.

The Haven, traveling almost seven hours to play at Edinboro, still managed to come out strong.

The scoring opened with only 2:34 into the game. LHU forward Anthony Cutrone took a pass from Steve Pagua and blasted it past Scot goalkeeper Jay McIlhenry.

The second and final goal of the game came in the second half at the 65:33 minute mark. The goal, assisted by Glenn Davis, was credited to midfielder Rob Eaton.

The Haven, although not depicted in the score, had command of the game. LHU took a total of 32 shots and nine corner kicks, as compared to Edinboro's seven shots and no corners kicks.

Coach Lenny Long said, "It was a good conference win, but we are still not getting great performances from our players."

Lock Haven will have to be at the top of their game when they take their undefeated 4-0-2 record to Division I force Penn State. Game time is set for Wednesday at 7:00 p.m.

When asked about the Penn State task ahead of his team, Long said, "Our great players have to play super, and our good players have to play great."

Fan conduct

Will '86 match at PSU be like '84 match?

By Joe Krause
Sports Columnist

The ultimate irony in sports is this: The bad times become worse and the good times become a nightmare.

And so it was on that cold October evening back in 1984 that Coach Lenny Long's night of perfection would turn into a bad dream.

His young eagle squad was caught up in a grueling, emotional struggle with Division I power Penn State.

In the short span of time that followed, one transfixing moment occurred that would not only alter the entire complexion of the game, but also change the entire relationship between Penn State University and LHU that up until now, had been so cordial.

With the game tied at 1-1, the fans who followed the team up route 220 to offer their much needed support, became loud and boisterous.

For many, this particular game offered the perfect excuse to load up the coolers with as many cold ones as possible and take part in what we call a good old-fashion "roadtrip."

And so, fueled and under the influence of alcohol, our beloved Bald Eagle supporters became the teams biggest nemesis.

With 15 minutes to play, one stoned Lock Haven fan heaved a beer bottle onto Jefferey Field. When the home side took offense to this action of stupidity, our fans showed even more class by countering with the chant of, "Penn State S--ks. Penn State S--ks."

As much as it was unfortunate, it was real. One Penn State fan even asked if Lock Haven was a junior college.

In one sense of the word, maybe we are. For not only did we lose the game by a slim 2-1 score, but we also went on to lose the respect of the Ethnic Committee, who placed our program on probation.

"It doesn't help our players when our fans get belligerent," said Long. "In fact, it hurts our program more than people realize."

It sure does, just ask the Bloomsburg team how they felt when a few of our so-called fans found it necessary to yell obscenities at last Wednesday's contest.

And so, with that thought in mind, here's something else for you to consider. It is the fate of some never to be fully appreciated until they are gone.

Should Penn State refuse to pencil Lock Haven in on next years schedule, the school has it's "beloved" students to blame. However, should things go according to plan, many of you will get a chance to see Walter Bahrs' Nittany Lion team here at McCollum Field next season.

Finally, one more piece of vital information for you to consider while your packing that cooler full of refreshments. Soccer is not the only sport on Penn State's calender. There is wrestling, basketball, field hockey, baseball, softball, and lacrosse.

It would be devastating to our athletic program if and when they decide they no longer want to compete against a group of junior college kids disguised as a Division II power.

Official's mistake costs game for field hockey team

By Joselle Melito
Sports Reporter

The Lock Haven University Women's Field Hockey team lost a heart-breaking game to James Madison 2-1 on Saturday.

According to Head Coach Sharon Taylor, a problem existed in Saturday's game that had a very big affect on the outcome of the final score.

"We used a different kind of corner which relies on the official seeing offsides. Unfortunately the official made a wrong call and allowed a goal to be scored in favor of James Madison," said Taylor. "It was after the call was made that the official realized her mistake. After the game she admitted that she was wrong, but it was too late to do anything about it".

Taylor had expected to come out of that game with a victory. "The official's call is no excuse for our loss. We certainly should have scored more."

The Lady Eagles outshot James Madison 28-13. Lori Sannella had ten saves for the Haven while James Madison's goalie had 15.

Taylor still feels that the Lady Eagles offense needs a lot of work. She says that a change will be made in today's home game against Bucknell, at 4:00.

James Madison's goalie kicks away a shot from a Bald Eagle player. The Bald Eagles lost 2-1 on a questionable call by an official.

Women Netters finish fifth at IUP Invite

By Shawn Gerhardt
Sports Reporter

For their second time this season, the Lady Eagle's Tennis team was rained out. They will, however, compete at Slippery Rock University on October 13.

The Indiana University of Pennsylvania Invitational was played on Saturday and the Lady Eagle's placed fifth out of the six competing teams.

Walking away with first place at the Invitational was Clarion University with Shippensburg University placing second. Indiana came in third and Edinboro University placed fourth. Slippery Rock came in sixth.

No. 1 for LHU, Autumn Swisher played Shippensburg's Amy Tocco and won 6-1, 6-1. In her second match against Jennifer Neatrou from Shippensburg, Swisher lost 6-3, 6-2.

Lisa Stopper, playing at the No.2 singles position for LHU, was beaten by Clarion's Sue Fritz 7-5, 6-4. Stopper's second match was a success, and she beat Lisa Howe from Slippery Rock 6-3, 6-3.

Colleen Werkheiser at the third position singles was defeated by Clarion's Amanda Bell in her first match 6-4, 6-0. Following in the path of her teammates she came back and beat her opponent Dawn Carlson from Slippery Rock in three grueling sets 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Werkheiser said, "The first match I played on Saturday at the Invitationals was against a very consistent player. I am a volleyer and she is a baseliner. The second match though, I looked stronger overall."

LHU's Jo Culver lost to IUP's Linda Hanlon 6-2, 6-1 but then beat Sandy Blechschmidt from Shippensburg 7-6, 2-6, 7-6.

Kim DiCesere, in fifth position, lost to Slippery Rock's Jane Bender 6-2, 6-3 and won in her match against Shelly Bucci from Slippery Rock 6-3, 7-6.

Lady Eagle no.6 singles player Jean Vuk suffered a double loss. The first from Carolyn Vallecarsa 6-3, 6-1, and the second 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 from Pam Dietrich of Shippensburg.

In doubles, the LHU duo of Swisher and Stopper were defeated by Clarion's Warren and Belle 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. They bounced back though, and won their second doubles match 6-0, 7-6, against Morgan and Reynolds from Edinboro.

Culver and Werkheiser and Peggy Buckmaster and Ike Hoffman from Lock Haven both lost in their doubles No.2 teams and No.3 teams respectively.

Lady Eagle's X-C place fourth at Mansfield

By Dan Hanson
Sports Reporter

The Bald Eagles harriers were on the road Saturday to run on the hilly, rain drenched course at the Mansfield Invitational.

Pam Noll crossed the line in 19:37 to secure third place, and teammate Sue Kutz finished fifth in 20:07 to lead the Lady Eagles to a second place overall finish.

"Team captains Pam Noll and Sue Kutz both ran a great race," said coach Leroy Straley. "Mansfield's course was very hilly and Pam and Sue looked strong the entire race."

Lorie Jamison (20:56), Kathy Staib (21:03), and Jill Baumgartner (21:16) finished 14th, 15th, and 17th respectively in the race won by Mary Ryan of Geneseo in 19:16.

Lock Haven competed against Bloomsburg, Houghton, and eventual winner Geneseo on Mansfield's 3.1 mile course

In the men's meet, Lock Haven's Dan Sheredy took 32nd in 26:37, and Brad Seth finished 35th in 26:46 as the Bald Eagles took a ninth place overall finish in a 12 team field.

Coach Kurt Smith was pleased with the teams improvement in their individual times, but expressed concern for the upcoming PSAC meets.

"We are going to have to get stronger performances out of the number four and number five runners in the next few weeks in order to start scoring better against other PSAC teams," Smith said. "However, our younger runners are beginning to round into shape and will move up in the scoring."

The Bald Eagles will be at home for the last time this season as they take on Bloomsburg, East Stroudsburg, and the Lock Haven Alumni on Saturday at 2:15 p.m.
