

NORMAL TIMES

At Central State Normal School

VOLUME 4

LOCK HAVEN, PA., SEPTEMBER 24, 1925

FOOTBALL SEASON OF 1925 WILL OPEN SOON

Under the direction of Coach Fredericks the Maroon and Gray squad is buckling down to the real work of the season. The first week or more was spent in the usual preliminary work of getting the men into the mental as well as the physical shape necessary to produce a great football combination. The last two years Normal has seemingly produced football combinations when even the most optimistic of the game followers had become pessimistic over the outcome. This, to a great extent, has been due to the mental attitude which the coaches have instilled in the men. That attitude is still there. The squad will come then.

That Coach Fredericks has a problem on his hands, we must admit. The nucleus around which he must build his team is smaller than was expected. Only Pomeroy, Ward, McDowell, Fitzsimmons, Ulmer, and Bitner are back from last year's squad. However, there is an abundance of new material. Shuey, formerly of L. H. H. S., will likely take over the key position. He is a player of some note in Central Pennsylvania, and will live up to his reputation.

Forsbt handled the high school state champs last year and is ready to do the same with a normal state champ team.

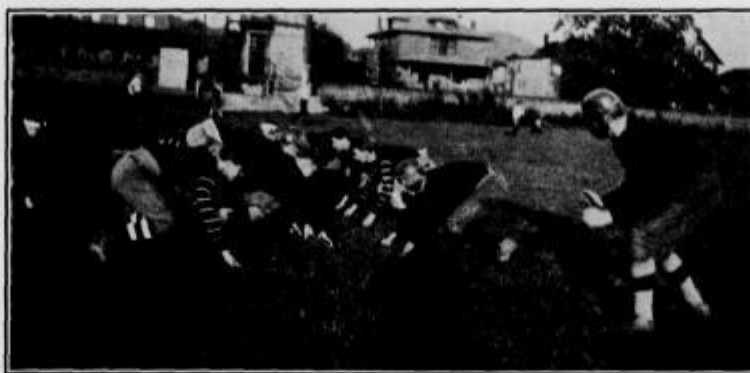

Taylor comes from Juniata College and is known as a "Holy Terror" in the line.

Coffey, the great triple threat man from L. H. H. S., will likely take care of the vacancy left by Loftus of last year.

Denn Grier, an all imposing half-back and one of the mythical all state eleven of last year, will be on the squad.

With these there are numerous others as Miller, McCloskey, Hazen, Cornell, Bair, Sherkle, Gilliland, Bauman and Bowser. In all there are about 30 men on the squad.

The team this year faces one of the hardest schedules of any Normal school in the state. Five games are already under contract with a possibility of four more. Normal goes to the eastern part of the state to engage the strong Stroudsburg eleven there on Oct. 3, returning only to battle Mansfield and revenge old scores. Kane will be the opponents Oct. 24. On Nov. 7 and 14, respectively, the team will play at Bloomsburg and Indiana. Both these two are big games and Normal must be in the best of condition to win them.

Coach Fredericks is also giving a special class in the theory of football, which meets twice a week.

Peppy Orchestra Promised

The Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Whitwell, expect to begin work this week. All those who have signed up are well advanced in music so Miss Whitwell expects to take up some rather difficult pieces.

Their first appearances will be made in Chapel but they are also preparing for the School Men's Conference to be held here the first week in October.

Following is a list of those who have so far signed up:

Violins—Colbert Varner, Brown Besert, Ivan Fritz, Josephine Paul, Edith Hoy.

Banjo-Mandolin—Charles Cronk, Reginald Fitzsimmons, Helen Sheehan, Gwen Stringfellow.

Cornet—Wilfred Pomeroy.
Alto-Horns—Charles Vonada.
Saxophone—Earl Woodward.
Drums—Glen Nolin.
Piano—Rita Dale.

Two Hundred Educators Meet Here—Dr. Haas, Dean Withers, Miss Mabel Carney, Dr. Briggs and Other Notables Lead Discussion

The first Schoolmen's Week for Central Pennsylvania opened its sessions at this issue of Normal Times went to press. Well over two hundred schoolmen are in attendance, about a third of whom are living in the dormitories. The rest have found quarters in Lock Haven's hotels, or motor in from Williamsport, Bellefonte, State College and other cities and towns nearby.

The list of speakers for the general sessions include Dr. John W. Withers, Dean of the Graduate School of New York University; Dr. J. M. Glass, expert in junior high school of the State Department of Public Instruction; Dr. Francis B. Haas, State Superintendent of Schools; Miss Mabel Carney, of Columbia University, nationally recognized leader in the improvement of rural education; Dr. Thomas H. Briggs, of Columbia University; Miss Jessie Gray, president of the P. S. E. A.; Dr. J. Herbert Kelley, Executive Secretary of the P. S. E. A., and many others.

ENROLLMENT LARGER THAN PREVIOUS YEAR

Registration day closed on Monday, September 14, with a great increase over last year's enrollment. One hundred new students joined the ranks of Central State, making a total enrollment of three hundred sixty-nine regular students for this year.

The east dormitory, as had been expected, is being used on all three floors. The boys are still holding their own on the first floor, as thirty-five have been newly enrolled. The second and third floors, however, are being occupied by the better half of the family—the girls. All the floors of the west dormitory are likewise filled to its capacity and the school as a whole has taken on a home-like appearance.

This fact that there was quite an increase in the enrollment of the school caused very little commotion in registering in the gym. Everything was done in a systematic way.

When we entered the gym we were met by our dear old friend "Belvie," who handed us a blue card with a number on the back. He then sent us to the balcony where we waited until the number was called. Miss Roberts called the numbers in rotation and as our number was called we came down and took a place on the row of chairs that had been placed on the middle of the gymnasium. There you were given the "once-over" and vice versa. From there you went to a small table where Mrs. Cresswell gave you your key to your room and your room number. Mr. All then greeted you with his pleasing smile and a registration card. When you had filled this out Mr. Ritter took care of your money at the next table. From here you were given to the care of Mr. Trembath who, with his "ever ready" smile greeted you and there directed you to a table to make out a program.

This year, to our surprise and convenience, our programs were printed. Heretofore all schedules had to be made out by the students themselves. Any changes or conflicts were taken to Mr.

The first important step toward four-year normal school courses has been taken. The State Council of Education has authorized all normal schools whose courses of study shall be approved and who shall meet certain other standards to establish four-year courses granting appropriate degrees. State teachers' colleges, not normal schools of junior college grade! Pennsylvania is taking another great forward step in education.

Now to make Lock Haven Normal one of the first teachers' colleges in Pennsylvania!

discussions, features of all the meetings of the schoolmen here, have been retained in the program of Schoolmen's Week. Three such sessions are scheduled.

Sectional conferences for county superintendents and city and borough superintendents occur on October 1. On the following day Dr. Briggs addresses the high school section, while Miss Carney meets with the superintendents. Saturday's sectional meetings are those of the teachers of English, foreign languages, mathematics and science, and social studies.

In the next issue of Normal Times we hope to cover the news of the week adequately. This, of course, is a mere foretaste.

The complete program for the week follows:

Suggested Topics for Round Table Conference

1. Should an effort be made to secure a better selection of students entering normal schools and teachers' colleges?

2. The place of the study of subject matter (as contrasted with theory and method) in the professional education of teachers.

3. Rural schools as social centers.

4. Has the value of drill in the fundamentals of the common branches been over-estimated?

5. Is supervised study desirable from all pupils? If not, what principle of division or grouping should be followed?

6. Semi-annual promotion in graded schools.

7. Educational value of institutes and association meetings.

8. How far shall the high school go in encouraging social activities in the school?

9. Has manual training made good in high school?

10. Can the teacher training program go over in 1927?

11. Shall we have a county unit of school administration?

12. What should be the qualifications of a high school principal?

13. What should be the qualifications of an elementary school principal.

14. What should be the organization of a county superintendent's office?

15. Why the platoon school?

16. What should be the extra curricula program of a senior high school?

17. What should be the extra curricula program of a junior high school?

18. What kind of examination is best for the county certification to high school?

19. What is the answer for the poorly trained one-room school teacher?

20. How can the State Department of Public Instruction best help in the interpretation of the course of study?

21. What is the relationship that should exist between the public high school and college?

22. What changes must take place in the curriculum in order that we may realize the fundamental objectives of secondary education?

23. What changes must take place in the curriculum in order that we may realize the fundamental objectives of primary education?

24. How may we put into successful operation a more efficient program for character building?

25. Mass athletics versus intensive training of the few.

26. How may we co-operate with the churches in a program for religious education?

27. What is the correlation between preparation to teach certain subjects while the teacher is in college and the actual subjects taught by the teacher after she gets out of college?

28. What is the most effective way to get experienced teachers to keep abreast of the times professionally during the school year?

29. Provision for individual differences within any classroom.

30. Is education failing to build minds for twentieth-century problems?

31. Is the I. Q. permanent?

32. What is the primary purpose of the high school?

33. Is it possible to simplify the curriculum without impoverishing it?

34. What studies should the junior school include?

35. What are the moral effects of student participation in school government?

Mrs. Trembath Has Short Article in September Bird-Lore

An article by Mrs. T. W. Trembath appears in the September-October number of Bird-Lore Magazine. The article, a short one, is entitled "Blue-grey Gnatcatchers in Pennsylvania," and reads as follows:

"An interesting and unusual record for my birdlist this year is that of the Blue-Grey Gnatcatcher. I saw first the female bird, and then the male. Both were carrying lichens and cobwebs for their nest, which was in the making. In observing them for a number of days, and by imitating their plaintive little note could call them within a few feet of my post. This was on May 9 to 13, 1925. On May 31, I took another trip to their home, and found the nest just as I last saw it, but the birds were not around. Between those dates I came across a pair of gnatcatchers in a large oak tree at some distance from their original nesting-place. At the time I was puzzled as to whether this was another pair hunting a nesting-place or the same pair I had watched nesting. June 10 I made another trip, and to my great surprise not a trace of the nest could I find. Apparently the birds had carried the material from their first nest to another which I have not yet discovered."

Mrs. Trembath is very much interested in birds, and has a long list of common and uncommon birds each year. She hikes a great deal, and with a pair of field-glasses and a telescope she can see more than the average person can observe.

Senior Glee Club Meets

The Girls' Glee Club met Thursday night, Sept. 17, in the auditorium. Twenty-two members of last year's group reported at the meeting and it was decided to meet every Thursday evening, following last year's procedure. A short rehearsal was also held Tuesday evening, Sept. 22, and plans were held to give a program at the School Men's Conference, which is to be held at C. S. N. S. on Oct. 1, 2 and 3.

Editorials

The Get-Acquainted Party was a success.

Tennis is well on its way to popularity, both for participants and social-observers.

The enlarged number of scrub faculty has made the scrubbing lighter.

We see an increase in the number attending the nightly dances, but where are the Seniors?

Normal's first Sunday brought a record number of visitors to cheer homesick girls—and lovesick ones.

The boys at Central State look up to the girls. Etiquette commands it and necessity demands it.

This new idea of purchasing song books makes it hard for those who buy them—they have to do all the singing.

Judging from the number who ride to school in cars one would think that the students were ex-millionaires.

Y. W. Cabinet Installs New Members

At the opening of school there were three vacancies on the Y. W. Cabinet, due to the fact that Dorothy Campbell, Anna Winkleblech and Margaret Hirsh did not return this fall. Margaret Cunningham has been appointed Undergraduate Representative and Katherine Kurtz chairman of the Poster Committee. The chairman of the Social Service Committee will be appointed this week, also the assistants of several committee chairmen.

Raub Lyceum Days Recalled

The days before the name of Central State Normal School had become firmly established in the minds of Lock Haven, students are recalled by a paper which Sara Diehl has discovered among the possessions of her uncle, Mr. S. H. Showers, who graduated here in 1884. It is Volume One, Number Three, of the Amateur Normal Review, a paper published here for the first time in 1884. In prominent black capitals on the front cover are the words: "Published by the Raub Lyceum"; in very much more modest capitals underneath those, "Central State Normal School." The labors of our first principal, A. N. Raub, to get this school on a firm foundation, and the amount of help or other encouragement granted by the state was so small that no one had begun to feel very deeply that this institution was truly either a state school or a school for the training of teachers.

This early predecessor of Normal Times recalls other memories. The committee which published it was made up of J. Henry Young, Mary E. Eagle, and Mary Castles. These names should stir our early grads into reminiscences. The huge five story school, which stood up on the hill until the famous fire, is pictured on the cover. Christie's School of Business, located in the Kreamer Commercial Building, ran an advertisement on the entire inside cover, including the hearty recommendation of Principal Albert N. Raub and Professor J. M. Peoples of this school. The senior class was examined in civil government, geography, United States history, physiology, arithmetic, botany, mental science, rhetoric, orthography, grammar, Latin, English classics, American literature, geometry, algebra, reading philosophy, and methods and school economy by a committee consisting of Supt. John A. Robb, of Lock Haven; Prof. Thomas Ness, of California Normal; Deputy Supt. John Q. Stewart, and Supt. Dixon, of Harrisburg, while Supt. Isaac McCloskey, of Clinton County, was a visitor. The examinations are given in full, and justify the terror with which the Seniors awaited the inquisitors.

The list of subjects indicates how normal school training has been revolutionized. The questions give even plainer indication of the former insistence on fact, fact, fact; on pure memory work in classes.

Clearfield Wins Track Meet

Clearfield county track men displayed their prowess in the inter-county track meet when they out-scored all their opponents combined. Clearfield county can well boast of her fine athletes as they are to be found in all the events.

The other counties were impeded in the fact that they did not have enough men to take part in all the events. Many of the men who did take part took places, but there were not enough men.

The running events were closely contested and good time was made despite the fact that spiked running shoes were not allowed. Lack of proper physical condition was evidenced in the distance runs, but to obtain first place was just as gratifying as if training had been kept for the events.

New members—David Ulmer, Anna Else, Anne Gingery, Winifred King, Katherine Jones, Katherine Kurtz.

Summer Team Beats Faculty 4-1

The final game of the season was played Monday, Aug. 15, 1925, by the faculty and the Normal team. The game was close throughout, the varsity having just a bit of an edge on the game. The faculty battery, Zeigler and Bohm, were very efficient.

The game started with the varsity at bat. They succeeded in scoring three runs in their half. The Faculty did not score, due to the airtight fielding of the varsity.

The second inning saw the one home run of the game when Stevenson made a complete circuit of the bases. The Faculty now settled down and Mr. All put across the first tally.

The next three innings were scoreless, close, and exciting. The faculty were tired at this time, but a group of good sports that never say die. However, time did not permit the game to go longer and permit the faculty to show the varsity how to play real baseball.

This game was the greatest attraction of any during the season. Both Varsity and Faculty were well represented with rooters.

The lineup:

Faculty	Varsity
Bohn	McKinney
Zeigler	McIntire
Armstrong	Howe
All	Russell
Ritter	Flesher
Van Arsdale	Keiler

Reverend Stein Speaks in Chapel

Reverend Curvin Stein, Pastor of St. John's English Lutheran Church and President of the Ministerial Association of this vicinity, conducted the chapel exercises of Friday, September 18.

Reverend Stein, in his talk, likened school life to a battle. In each there are three stages: The onset or the rush, the grip or the digging in and the drag. Nearly every one makes the first two stages on his own power. In the drag encouragement and aid must be sought from a higher spirit.

Reverend Stein, speaking for all denominations in the city, gave the students an invitation to use Lock Haven as their home churches.

Dr. Shaw Spends a Week at C. S. N. S.

The students of C. S. N. S. were quite fortunate during the week of Aug. 10 to Aug. 14 to have Dr. Shaw visit the Normal School.

Dr. Shaw, who is a trustee of Washington and Jefferson College, President of the State Education Association and Deputy State Superintendent, spent much time with the class in Rural School Problems.

The periods of the week were quite successfully taken up discussing the following subjects: Conditions of the school grounds, school building, source of water supply, teacher's personal appearance, organization of school, class room work, school government and play ground activities.

Friday morning when Dr. Shaw appeared in chapel he had many worth while experiences to relate to the students. He mentioned the fact that the time has passed when the rod is the chief instrument of any school room. Each teacher must find the correct conducts and habits which lead to given abilities, and then strive to develop these abilities. Dr. Shaw related the experience of a little Indian boy that was merely given a chance and that one chance proved his greatness. Again he told of six one-room schools in a certain county. Five of these in 22 years had more than 100 teachers. The sixth school had one teacher for twenty-two years. The results of the five former were adults of average ability; of the latter twenty-one boys and girls stand out as leaders. Robert E. Spear, no doubt the greatest of these, is at present the president of the Christian religion in China. Dr. Shaw's last thought to us was:

"There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,

There are souls that are pure and true;
Give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you."

High, who usually straightened things out with very little difficulty. The co-operation of the students and faculty members went a long way toward making the job of registration a little less irksome.

After registration every one went over to their rooms in the dormitory, where the Seniors were given the job of making the Juniors feel at home. One and all made themselves acquainted with the new students and gave them a hearty welcome to Central State Normal School.

From the looks on most of the Juniors' faces, they seemed as though they were quite at home and of course the Seniors couldn't help but be otherwise. The goal for this year's students is to make Central State Normal School have the best year it ever has had, have the best football squad, basketball squad, and show forth in all its work, hard work, clean speech, and fair play. We have made a good start and are pressing forward toward our goal.

Summer Orchestra

Summer Session Orchestra

C. S. N. S. was a pleasant place this summer for no other reason than the music provided by its orchestra. Music hath its charm and undoubtedly our orchestra did charm its listeners. Every Saturday evening to the tune of "Sally" or "My Best Gal," we tripped it on the light fantastic toe across the Gym floor. Marching from chapel was made more interesting when we heard the blare of the saxophone and the sweet tones of the violin. Many of us will remember how Vonda Johnson and Margaret Farwell entertained us with piano solos at our regular Tuesday night movies.

On Tuesday evening, August 18, the orchestra assisted in the Music Department concert. It was at this time that the orchestra did its best work and displayed some unusual talent.

The Orchestra consisted of twelve pieces, in the order in which they occur in the picture below:

Drums	Albert Habba
Banjo	Andrew Fleischer
Cornet	Wallace Close
Saxophone	Paul Vonada
Violin	Victor Benigni
Trombone	Sam McKinney
Trombone	Ellis Boyer
Piano	Vonda Johnson
Ukulele	Ruth Taylor
Violin	Edith Hoy
Cornet	George Close
Violin	Beatrice Schwamb

All the money which otherwise would have been paid to an outside orchestra, will go to buy new instruments to be permanently owned by the school.

Although the summer session orchestra will be missed, its success has spurred the music lovers on to better things this fall. The prospects of the orchestra this fall are bright, several new wind and string instruments having been added. Before the end of the month it is expected that many more students will be on hand with their instruments for the orchestra work is becoming more valuable. Gerald Woodward, a member of the orchestra of 1924-25, is now conducting a ten-piece orchestra in the High School in Montoursville as a result of orchestra experience at C. S. N. S.

New Faculty Members

The faculty of Central State Normal School for the year of 1925-26 remains the same as last year, with the exception of two new members, Miss Amy B. Roegge, of Seymour, Indiana, has taken the place of Miss Geraldine Lockhart as Director of Junior High School in the Training School. And Miss Maloise Sturdevant Dixon, who is Miss Denniston's assistant, has charge of gymnastics of Junior Class and Girls' Athletics.

Miss Roegge is a graduate student of Columbia University, where she specialized in Junior High School work. After completing a successful course at the University she made a thorough study of some of the best Junior High Schools of the country.

Miss Roegge has been connected for some time with Junior High School work in Seymour, Indiana; Leonia, N. J., and Kimberly Girls' School at Montclair, N. J., where she was an instructor last year. She now holds the position of the Director of the Junior High School in the Training School, and Instructor in "School Efficiency," and "Purpose, Organization, and Development of the Junior High School."

Miss Dixon comes to us from New York City as a member of the department of health education, a pupil of Miss Gertrude Colby, former director of this department. Miss Dixon was graduated from Vassar College and holds her masters' degree from Columbia University, where she is the third woman to pass preliminary examinations and become a matriculated candidate for the doctorate in physical education. She has directed health education in the kindergarten and lower grades of a New York City experimental school; has taught individual (corrective) gymnastics in the clinics of the two New York City hospitals which take care of the corrective work for children in the city public school system; has acted as substitute or assistant teacher in physical education classes at Vassar, Teachers' College, and New York University; has led physical education activities for several years in a branch of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Episcopal Church; and has done playground, community center and community center and camp work under the auspices of various organizations.

Bookroom Changes Location

Even the Central State Normal can boast a new bookroom, the fact still remains that every day it is as crowded as it ever was. Prior to the fall semester, the bookroom was crowded into the office of Mr. Ritter. It was thought advisable to change this crowded condition, so Mr. Sullivan's former classroom has been fitted up and the students are already finding it more spacious and convenient. Miss Titus is in full charge of the new bookroom and she surely had her hands full attending to all the wants of the new students and many of the old. This arrangement makes it easier for those in Mr. Ritter's office, as the students will pay all bills there including registration fees, semester bills, and things of that type. Judging by the crowds waiting around the halls to get into the bookroom, business is as fast and furious as a Christmas rush.

Special Trolley Cars Run

The fliers coming into Lock Haven Monday, Sept. 14, both in the morning and the afternoon brought so many Normal students that it was necessary for the traction company to run special cars to accommodate the crowd.

The special cars waiting at the end of the line at Mill Hall and at Lock Haven were quickly filled with students. About three hundred of the students, mostly young women teachers, were taken to the school.

Y. W. C. A. Gives Tea

A tea was given by the Y. W. cabinet to the girls of the school Tuesday afternoon, September 15, in the Y. W. room. This was a new idea for acquainting the girls with the Y. W. and with each other at the same time.

Orphia Phillips acted as hostess to the large number of students who attended. The Tea was served from three to five, and during this time a large number of students became better acquainted.

Reverend Williams Speaks

Reverend Merrill Williams, Pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, addressed the students in chapel, Sept. 23.

Reverend Williams' talk was based on restlessness and dissatisfaction as a means of progress. This spirit results in the measurement of self and higher ideals and aspirations.

Supt. Davis Speaks

Supt. Davis, of Blair County, was last but not least in importance of the Friday morning chapel speakers of the summer of '25. Supt. Davis declares he has been a school teacher for many years but an orator for very few. Nevertheless this was of little importance for he just found by some means or other a subject so interesting to all.

The talk was well arranged around three main points: Dig not for those things so far away but at home in your mother's garden. The digging is not to be confined to material things alone but also education.

Do the humbler tasks. Teach the village schools. The reward will come. It has been said that the school teacher will get his reward when the birds get theirs.

Seek a mate of old acquaintance. Be satisfied and see true value in friends you already know.

The first of these points was presented in such a manner as to be interesting to all. But when the third was reached; well—it took the cake. It is quite evident that Supt. Davis will be remembered by all the students of the summer of 1925.

Immediately following this most excellent address Dr. Armstrong, in just a few minutes, expressed his appreciation as to the mannerly way in which the Normal students conducted themselves during the summer session and mentioned the fact that he, with the faculty, was quite well satisfied with the work of the students during the summer term. These few remarks were indeed gratifying to the student body.

Y. W. Meeting September 23

At the weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A., Peg Cunningham led the devotions. The Eagles Mere delegates, Rose Bower and Harriet Kelt gave their conference reports. Rose emphasized discussion groups and expressed her wish to start discussions in Y. W. meetings.

Stop! Look! and Listen!

He was speeding in his flivver,
Rushing eastward, by the river;
He was giving lurching lizzie
All the gas that he could give her,
Till he jammed upon the brake
Making lizzie snort and shake;
But the train was right upon him;
He had made his last mistake.

He got stalled upon the track,
Hadn't time to start or back,
So he made heroic efforts
To abandon his old hack.
All too soon he breathed his last,
For the train was coming fast;
He was greeting old St. Peter
By the time three coaches passed.

Nevermore he'll speed his flivver
Urge it eastward, by the river;
Nevermore will he give lizzie
All the gas that he can give her.
After he was struck that day
He soon stopped; but people say
That he'll never look and listen,
Cause he's too darn far away.

Art Club Elects

The officers of the C. S. N. S. Art Club for the year of 1925-26 are as follows:
President Hazel M. Moose
Vice President Wilford Pomeroy
Secretary-Treasurer .. Carman Johnson

The club is very much pleased in having two of its older members attending school this year, Catherine Rank and Marguerite Gschwendtner.

Everything looks toward the road of success for the Art Club with Miss Yale as advisor. We know what good work they have done in the past years, and we are sure this year will surpass all the others.

REALLY SMART "BOBS"!

The secret of style in hair these days is in having it "bobbed" rather than just bobbed! There is art in hair-cutting just as in tailoring. The truly smart woman knows this—and knows that we know that art! Be "bobbed" at the hands of an artist—the difference is not in the price, but in the effect!

US AND OTHERS

Faint heart or homesickness are the only causes we can find for the weekend absences of Elizabeth McKee, Agnes Ryan, Elizabeth Wolf, and Pearl Pearson on Sept. 20.

James Burke, Joe Golden, and James Cannon, of Seranton, visited Alice Cannon, and Mary Collins over the weekend of Sept. 19.

Ione Potter was gladdened by a visit from her brother, Victor Potter, of State College.

Sally Friedman and Betty Block were the guests of Miss Florence Sykes, of Lock Haven over the week-end of September 19.

Carman Johnson, Edith Mitstifer and Agnes Mattson entertained their parents at C. S. N. S. on Sunday, Sept. 20.

Mary Nason refused to spend the first week-end under the roof of C. S. N. S., so she rushed back to her home in Julian.

Already visitors are coming in answer to our call for help. The following were appropriately welcomed in East
Hall during the past week:

Mr. and Mrs. Hessar and Ruth Hessar were here Thursday to put the finishing touches on Alice's room.

Tom Labock, from State College;
George Labock and Oral's two sisters, from Philipsburg, were all here Sept. 20 to cheer up Oral.

Ella Mae Lilly entertained John Mitchell and E. W. Wallace from State College, Sept. 20.

How we all envy Charlotte Stere and Betty Williams! Wouldn't we all love to go to Woolrich for dinner with some of our family? Well that's just what Charlotte and Betty did. Mr. and Mrs.
Stere, John and Madeline Stere, and Nell Williams made up this party.

Alvera MacClintock challenges every one to beat her eating chicken. She spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. F. C.
Robb, at Lock Haven, and came back with the announcement that she had eaten three chickens.

Here are the whereabouts of a few of last year's Juniors:

Bertha Stiney is going to Clarion Normal.

Roberta Wolf is attending Mansfield Normal.

Ellen Williams is working in Akron,
Ohio.

Gerald Woodward is teaching in Montoursville.

Helen Johnston is teaching at Hazelton Mills.

Peggy Hirsh is attending Dickinson Seminary.

Mrs. Solt surprised Peggy Heylman Sunday. As she is Peggy's sister, it was a most welcome surprise.

Margaret Schumann, a summer student, is teaching at Gravel Hill.

Lillian Anderson, a summer student,
is teaching at Wilcox.

Beatrice Richardson started the term in properly by entertaining Kenneth Wolf, on Sept. 20.

Miss Helen Thornton, of Watsontown, entertained her mother, Sunday afternoon.

Catharine Gallagher was made happy by a visit the week-end of Sept. 20, from her mother, Mrs. M. E. Gallagher, of Altoona.

Miss Marie Eckert entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eckert, of Jersey Shore on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. I. A. Corby was surely welcome when he arrived Sunday to see Alice Corby.

L. A. L. Elects Officers

The officers of the L. A. L. society for this year were chosen at the first business meeting, Sept. 14. They are:
President, Lenore Sharp; Vice President, Josephine Robb; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth Wetzel.

"Y" Gives First Party of Year

The annual "Get-Acquainted Party," given by the Y. W. was again a huge success. Any one who has a particular weakness for shaking hands surely was completely satisfied Saturday night. The reception line started with some of the old Y. W. members, but soon it had grown to include all the students and extended three-fourths of the way around the gym. Many were the sore-throats and aching arms but judging from the width of the grins none minded a few ailments like those.

After the serious business of meeting all the guests, Helen Kokron, assisted by Anne Else, started some games.

Last and most important, every one had the chance to display the latest steps, original or otherwise, to the jazz of our faithful piano.

GAS

Not more than nine days ago, nine young gentlemen, in a nineteen twenty-five model touring car, (W. K.), went up and down over a total of nine-hundred-ninety-nine hills, hunting for a good time—they got it!

It happened like this. An old friend of the boys spent the week-end with the students, they in turn spending the entire evening and the wee small hours of the morning with the old friend. This same friend, having brought with him his new car, suggested to the students that they accompany him in his new 1925 model car (W. K.) for a ride. The students (to be brief) accompanied.

Now begins the tale of the wildest ride ever known to this vicinity, ranking second only to the ride taken by Paul Revere, and that could never compete with the speed of this later model perambulator. With one coat and hat for the bunch the nine gentlemen in the 1925 model touring car (W. K.) started for somewhere in the great dark and chilly spaces, in the direction of Jersey Shore. After several attempts to make a few of the sharp turns known to these parts, the riders arrived in the town in time to see the Hotel Proprietor put the cat out. A raid was made on nine ham sandwiches and nine cups of coffee, and the return trip fell in line. Now the old friend, having arrived in the town of Look Haven did not check the speed of the 1925 model touring car (W. K.) and the nine gentlemen soon found themselves in the town of Mill Hall. By this time the one hat and coat were about nothing, and some one of the nine gentlemen suggested that a return take place, and some four and one-half of the nine gents could obtain wraps and blankets to accompany them the balance of the way, as yet undecided. Several miles had been traversed when, without warning, the nine gallons of gas, which should have been, were no more. Then with groans and mumbles, the nine gentlemen uncovered and began to push. They pushed the 1925 model touring car (W. K.) over ninety hills, (so it seemed) before a farmer was routed from the hay, and gave them their direction and some badly needed information. The little town of Lamar was not far ahead, and there was a Gas station in it. (Note—Gas will now be spelled with a capital G for the balance of the tale). The Gas station was there, but was of no value without the Gas man. That was the next problem. Nine gentlemen routed nine families from comfortable bunks trying to find the Gas man. The somewhat dubious man was at last routed, and the Old Friend procured nineteen gallons of GAS. The ride to Bellefonte was uneventful, but the nine more cups of coffee and nine more ham sandwiches were appreciated to the fullest.

After warming up a bit, the nine men piled in the car—1925 model touring, (W. K.), and, top men exchanging positions with those who had formerly been ridden on, the journey was resumed. This time they were headed toward home. At the end of the road, half of the men did not retire at all, while the others missed their breakfasts.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine."—Prof. G. M. Whipple, University of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes, are overworked."—Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned, may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain."—Prof. G. F. Swain, M.I.T.

"To students who have never learned 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment."—Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all mis-directed effort. Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.
