Indian Novelist Will Initiate Lecture Series

Manohar Malgonkar, the well-known Indian novelist, will visit the LHS campus September 28 and 29. During these two days he will visit classes and present two public lectures.

Malgonkar is a man of broad international culture who speaks and writes and equal ease in English, Hindi, and Marathi. He is the author of five English novels: Distant Drum, Combat of Shadows, The Princes, A Bend in the Ganges, and The Devil's

Wind. Malgonkar is also a historian and the author of three books of Indian history.

Born in Bombay he lived for a time in the former princely state of Indore. An honors graduate in English and Sanskrit at Bombay University, he served in the infantry, counter-intelligence, and on Army's General Staff during World War II. During this time he rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Formerly a professional big-game hunter, he has since become a "fierce wildlife conservationist."

At present he lives with his family in the Belgium District of India and grows coconuts, oranges and mangoes.

The following is Malgonkar's program at LHS.

Sept. 28-8 p.m.

Public Lecture: "The Last Days of the Maharajas", Bentley Hall Sept. 29-10 a.m.

Talk on "Indian English, A New Language" in Dr. Marcus Konick's History of the English Language class in Raub 305

12-2 p.m.

Luncheon with faculty at Locks Restaurant. Talk: "Indo-American Relations Today"

4-5:30 p.m.

Discussion of The Princes and The Devil's Wind in Dr. James Dayananda's World Lit. and Non-Western Lit. Classes in Raub 309

He will be interviewed for WPSX-TV, University Park, by Dr. Dayananda. The interview will be taped for broadcast in October.

Dr. Dayananda is an authority on the works of Malgonkar. His review of Malgonkar's latest novel, The Devil's Wind, has been accepted for publication by the New York Times Book Review.

"All the Kings Men" - The movie is based on a 1947 Pulitzer prize-winning novel about a power-mad politician who becomes a one-man state government, and has his heart set on bossing the world. The Film is part of the Humanities Series and will be shown Sept. 27, 7:30 in Price.

No Prep Grad Test In Business Offered Nov. 4

The Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business (ATGSB), required by more than 320 graduate business schools or divisions, will be offered on November 4, 1972 and on February 3, April 7, June 30, and August 11 in 1973.

The Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business is an aptitude test designed to measure abilities and skills important in the study of management at the graduate level. It is not a measure of achievement or knowledge in specific subject matter. Those who take the test are neither required nor expected to have had undergraduate preparation in business subjects.

Registration for the ATGSB is not application for admission to any business school. Candidates should request information on admissions procedures and requirements directly from the graduate schools to which they wish to apply. Since many business schools select their first year classes during the spring preceding entry, applicants for admission to the 1973 classes are advised to take the test no later than the February 3, 1973 date. Scholarship applicants are urged to register for either the November or the February administration.

While casual repetition of the test is discouraged, individuals who have reason to believe that their original scores were not an accurate indication of their aptitude may register in the usual manner and repeat the test. In such cases the two most recent scores will be reported to designated institutions. In addition to the score report received by the candidate, scores are sent to graduate business schools designated by the candidate and to the candidate's undergraduate placement office if approval for this action is given.

The Bulletin of Information for Candidates includes a registration form, the names of graduate schools that require the ATGSB, sample questions, and detailed information about examination dates, testing locations, fees, and score reporting. For candidates planning to take the test, the day by which the test registration form and fee must be received by Educational Testing Service is three weeks before a test date. Order forms for the bulletin are available from the Placement Office in Bentley Hall.

Students considering graduate study in business will find Programs of Graduate Study in Business 1972-73 helpful in making decisions about where to apply for admission. This book contains descriptions of approximately 280 graduate business school programs and is published by the Graduate Business Admissions Council. A copy may be obtained free of charge by writing to the Graduate Business Admissions Council, Box 966, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

demo memo by jim bowman

Well, here we are! Another election year is upon us. For the first time we do have a clear choice in the election for President. In my series of columns, I will do what I consider factual comparisons between the two candidates. This will include placing Richard Nixon's record against his promises.

First, for all of you who are interested, on the Democratic side of the fence, we have George McGovern. He was born in Avon, South Dakota and is the son of a Wesleyan preacher. He was attending Dakota Wesleyan University when World War II erupted. In the service, he was awarded the distinguished Flying Cross for valor. After the war he completed his education. He received his Doctorate at Northwestern University.

In 1953 he entered politics. He was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1962. He was the first U.S. Senator to speak out against the American involvement in Indochina. He has sponsored and co-sponsored many amendments to end the war. In addition, he has initiated the modern American program of food assistance and has been the leading voice for the nation's farmers.

So much for biographies. I would give Nixon's biography, but because he is the incumbent, not much needs to be known other than his records.

When Nixon ran for office, he promised, among the many promises, to end the war, curb inflation, decrease unemployment, help bring peace to the world, and bring "us" together. Now, four years later (not to mention ITT and Lockheed Aircraft) we can see all of Nixon's accomplishments.

The war in Vietnam is not over and we are supporting a regime in South Vietnam that is run by a dictator. Nixon says he will not let the "democracy" of South Vietnam fall, but right now we seem to be propping it up with the old broomsticks. Adding to our woes in South Vietnam is the increased use of drugs being sold to us by our South Vietnamese "friends" and the ever-expanding military-industrial complex, of which President Eisenhower warned us.

Inflation is at a disastrous level, with standstill wages and climbing prices. Nixonomics failed to flourish in the first three years of Nixon, and he has had to scrap his "secret plan" for wage and price controls, which favor big business, but hurt the common American. For example, there is the bailing out of Lockheed Aircraft and Penn Central, the latter of which claims bankruptcy but owns acres of buildings in Manhattan. It's funny how these "Wall Street economics" in the White House fail to reveal the facts about Nixonomics to the public.

How about unemployment, Mr. Nixon? We are at an eight year high in unemployment. The worst part is, the people who should be working aren't and many of the rich that are "working" escape paying income tax. Plus, the working force, according to the Nixon administration, includes the migrant workers and migrant farmers, who in one year, earn less than the average blue-collar worker earns in a week. And this is supposed to be the richest country in the world.

While Nixon may have ventured to China and Russia, he cannot expect the United States to bring peace to the world by building additional warfare projects which seem needless.

As for bringing us together, Nixon cannot expect to accomplish this while Spiro Agnew tours the country blurring out atrocities against those who hold opposition to the administration. Still, Agnew continues this while catering to the "elite right-wing corps" of the nation.

GUEST EDITORIAL

by Doug Dows

Have you ever been pissed by the way your administration has been running things around here? What about that activity fee, did you ever wonder what happens to it? Well, if you have then you're not alone on this campus, there are many people who have the same feelings.

Now ask yourself this question—If you wanted to start a change on this campus, where would you go? If you're like most people you won't go anywhere, but if you are sincere you might start with your student government. As for that line of action, you might as well not go anywhere. No, not because they don't do anything around here; they really do more than most people know. The reason you can't go to your student government right now is because you haven't got one. That's right, there is no student government: not until we make one.

This is the situation—beginning this month we are under a new constitution and our old government was disbanded last year. Now we have an entirely new system—a senatorial system. In a nutshell, it means that for every 100 students there will be one senator. For example, if 238 students live in High Hall, there will be 3 senators from that dorm. Also needed are 11 commuters to represent the 1048 commuting and off-campus students. Sounds pretty simple, doesn't it? All that has to be done is to find a few students who are willing to give up a little time to benefit this campus. But right now no one wants those positions. Why? Who knows why no one cares but should we have to justify participation in student government?

That's only half of the problem. There are many other positions that need to be filled. For instance, three students to serve on the Student Publications Board are needed. We also have a new student judicial system, one that took many years to construct and now only needs to be implemented. What's needed?: at least six students from each dorm to form the Residence Hall Hearing Boards and another two students from each dorm to form the Men's and Women's Residence Hall Judicial Councils.

Now that you know what needs to be done what are you going to do? Only you can answer that question, I said before there are a lot of people who get pissed about what's going on around here, but very few get involved. Now is your chance to be part of the 2% that does. If you have any questions about these offices or if you want to run for one of the positions in the student elections this coming Thursday, then why don't you drop by the Student Government offices in the PUB.

So what are George McGovern's proposals?

On the economy, McGovern has pledged every effort to provide a job for every able-bodied American who wants to work. Remember, he is a sponsor of the Public Service Act of 1972, which would provide funds for more than 1.5 million jobs for unemployed and underemployed Americans.

He also proposes replacing the welfare system with an income security program which will treat the poor more fairly, be simpler to administer, and which will not overburden the lower-middle income taxpayer.

On Vietnam, he has stated that he is tired of old men dreaming up wars for young men to die in. He believes that total withdrawal on a timetable will get our POWs released.

On inflation, the continual spiral of rising costs is eating up more and more of the family income. McGovern believes in total tax reform, including closing loopholes for the rich, and reduced property taxes across the board because excessive reliance on property taxes has made home ownership impossible for millions of families.

However, I think it's too bad that when someone offers sensible cures to our nation's ills as McGovern has, he is labeled a "radical". Funny, though, this image is being promoted mainly by big business and Wall Street. Where does this leave the middle-lower class taxpayers? Nowhere: it has made them the largest taxpayers in the country, not the rich.

So when George McGovern says "Come home, America", is he a radical? When he proposes bills to aid the poor, is he a radical? When he speaks up against and offers a solution to end the Vietnam war is he a radical? When he says that in the richest country in the world, there should be no migrant camps, is he a radical? And when he says that full employment at "wartime" is not a myth (as Nixon says it is), is he a radical?

McGovern merely wants us to restore ourselves to the ideals on which the country was founded. So isn't it time to come home, America?

SCC Discloses Plans for Fall ; Exec. Comm. Commended

The first SCC Meeting of the academic year 1972-73 and the last under the old Board of Directors format was called to order by Pres. George Bower on Wed. Sept. 20 at 7 p.m.

According to Don Golden, the Cultural Affairs Committee has contracted three speakers for this year's lecture series. Margaret Mead will be at LHS on November 8 and in March Jack Anderson will speak. The third lecture was not disclosed.

Homecoming plans are underway. The weekend scheduled for November 13, 14, and 15 will bear the theme "Salute to Disney". Friday of the celebration will host "Ralph" in concert and "James Gang" will be the artist for Saturday's concert.

Representing the YMCA, Mike Faust presented the details of the flood related program "Walkathon". The purpose of the event was to raise $35,000 in aid to agencies in Clinton County such as the YMCA and Ross Library. Lock Haven was to supply 200 walkers to earn the city's $1,000 portion in the walk which was to begin at Beaver Stadium on Friday, September 22.

The Pa. State Asso. of Student Gov. convention will be held October 26, 27, and 28. The SCC asks for people willing to render convention help and general errands.

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to the Coor. Sec. of the SCC from Mr. Latta and dated June 30, 1972. It's contents should be of interest to every student and are self-explanatory.

Dear Cathy,

From 22 June through 1 July, of 1972, this institution was in a dire state of emergency as a result of the worst flood that this geographic area has ever experienced. You should know that on their own your executive committee and in particular, your president, and I could probably include every member of your executive committee, exercised the greatest degree of sound judgement, maturity, and prompt action to save you, the Student body, thousands of dollars in fixed assets. As a matter of fact, through this holocaust you, the Student Council, lost one painting, worth approximately $50.

Not only did they lead and work themselves into almost physical collapse, but again particularly your president and 2nd vice president were directly responsible and carried out in an extremely encompassing efficient manner an emergency program for in excess of 1,000 refugees encompassing everything from food, lodging, transportation, and emergency first aid.

There is no way in which you can repay them for the tremendous service rendered, which has reflected favorably on the entire student body, except for this due administrative recognition and by expanding your concern and lending your assistance to help them do the magnificent things that they want to do for you, the student body.

I wish to express my personal appreciation for this cooperation and consideration without which I am afraid we would have faced fiscal chaos.

LHS Pacers Win Meet ; Harnish Finishes First

by Lloyd Peters

Saturday, the Lock Haven State College cross-country team grabbed the first three places to take an important home quadrangular meet from Clarion State, Bloomsburg State, and Shippensburg State.

Bald Eagle captain Steve Harnish ran a tremendous race to win his first collegiate cross-country meet. The senior covered the 5-0 mile course in a fine time of 25:49.7.

"Nibs" Gordon, running with a painful knee injury tied for second place with Mike Gaige. Gaige, a junior, has been running competitively for less than a year. Also running fine races for LHS were Larry Wise and Hal Fried, a 23 year old veteran.

The meet was scored on a double dual meet basis. LHS defeated Clarion 24-31, Bloomsburg 18-41, and Shippensburg 17-42. The Clarion team, composed mainly of freshmen and sophomore is coached by former LHS distance running star Bill English.

The Eagle barriers travel to California, Pa. on Saturday for a dual meet with California State.

Booters Squeak By With Tie

by Robert Singer

The best offense is a good defense is not the style of play espoused by any coach, least of all Lock Haven State soccer mentor Karl T. Herrmann. However, for a while during the game with Edinboro State Saturday, it seemed so.

Fullbacks Bob Boles and Len Long had been handling more than a minor portion of the wing play offensive drives, at least in the first half, and goalie Craig Dawson had 16 saves in the entire game, which was to end in a 1-1 tie, even after two five-minute overtime periods.

For the Bald Eagles, the first half was nearly a disaster. Theoretically the score should have been 3-0 Edinboro, but Dawson, with a little help from Boles and Long, used saves interspersed with lucky breaks to keep the game a scoreless tie, the way it remained until one third of the way through the second half.

In the meantime, inaggressive play at midfield was hampering offensive efforts, such as they were. The majority of loose balls there were being picked up by Edinboro, a fact for which coaches Herrmann and Parker jumped on the team during the half-time pep talk.

Whatever they said worked. The second half was a different game. There was more intelligent play and the team began to do the things they were capable of doing. The improved midfield action influenced the rest of the teamwork, which culminated in a goal at 14:45, when Don Copeland sent a pass to Dave Chambers, who got the ball past the goalie to draw first blood for LHS.

The elation, however, did not last forever. The Scots mounted the offensive drive which resulted in a goal at 35:50. From then on the game was scoreless, even with the more aggressive play and superior conditioning evidenced by the Bald Eagles.

In most aspects, the game could be considered a tie, even apart from the number of goals. Edinboro dominated the first half, LHS the second. Shots were 23-16 Lock Haven; corner kicks 5-2, also LHS, and everyone blew his share of goals. One wonders what might have happened if all the balls had gone in; shots that were dead ringers for golf went over the net, in front of it, and out the back beside the gangs that couldn't shoot straight?

To goalie Dawson goes the most credit, he played an "outstanding and superior game," in the words of his coach, Len Long also played a good, steady game. Copeland looked good and Don Trautman's game was his "finest of the year".

Of course, this does not account for the play of the rest of the team, and Herrmann and his boys were naturally disappointed over the result. However, they were overconfident and complacent, having beaten this team 4-0 last year and 6-0 the preceding year. Credit must be given, however, to Edinboro, which has a vastly different and improved team this year. Credit should also be given to their coach, who this time "bought the right players," to quote his LHS counterpart.

That was that game. The next game is Lycoming on September 27 at 3 p.m., away. The game was decided last year by all of one goal. Somehow it seems that the things that happened at Edinboro will not happen at Williamsport next week.

Drinking would be a lot less objectionable if it didn't make so many people think they can sing.

Does the going seem a little easier lately? Better check. You just might be going downhill.
