LARGEST ENROLLMENT IN HISTORY OF COLLEGE

OVER 500 STUDENTS ENROLLED THIS YEAR

Many of the Students Come From States Outside of Pennsylvania.

NEW ROOMS ARE FURNISHED

This year's enrollment of students at Lock Haven Teachers College is the largest in the history of the institution, there being more than 500 students. This fact is very encouraging to all concerned and shows that the growth of our college has been very rapid.

Not only is there a large enrollment of students, but a varied one as well. Students have come to us not only from all sections of our own State, Pennsylvania, but also from such States as New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Maryland. Our reputation is spreading, a matter of which we should all feel proud.

The large enrollment has made it necessary for the college to purchase furnishings for forty more rooms in the dormitory which have heretofore not been used, besides the purchasing of other equipment.

Altogether, everything points to the finest and best year in the history of our college.

I. K. U. HOLDS ANNUAL WELCOME TEA FOR GROUP I

On Wednesday afternoon, September 11, the I. K. U. held its annual welcome tea for the Group I Freshmen and upper classmen interested in the International Kindergarten Union. The tea was held in the kindergarten of the Training School, made comfortable by the addition of many cushions ransacked from the dormitories. The whole affair was more or less informal, the refreshments carrying out the kindergarten idea with animal crackers, lollypops and mints served with the tea. Everyone enjoyed themselves and the members of the I. K. U. feel that the tea was quite successful in its purpose of promoting good fellowship and interest among the girls of the society and those interested in the kindergarten work.

DAN CUPID OVERCOMES TWO COLLEGE STUDENTS

Clara Miller, of Lock Haven, and Lewis A. Sohick, of Salladasburg, were married June 20 by the Rev. J. LeRoy Sohick, brother of the bridegroom, at the parsonage of the Methodist Church at DuBoistown.

The bride is a graduate of the Lock Haven High School and is pianist for the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Lock Haven. She is continuing her studies here at the college as a member of the Class of '31.

Mamie Griffith, of Pleasant Gap and Max Stickler, of Bellefonte, were married in the Methodist Church at Cumberland, September 9. Miss Griffith is a Senior at our college and a member of the Beta Sigma Chi Sorority. She expects to finish her work here and graduate with her class next June.

S. T. C. BEST PLACE

Max Bossert, '31—doesn't that name make a fellow feel like turning hand springs—after a very enjoyable summer vacation at home in Mill Hall, decided that old S. T. C. was the best place after all. Glad to have you back, old boy. It sure looks like old times to see you here.

TWO NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO FACULTY

We are starting our new college year with a new Dean of Women and a new Athletic Coach.

Miss Belle Holaway, Dean of Women, is a graduate of Hastings College, Hastings, Nebraska, where she has also served as Dean of Women for several years. Last year she received the Master of Arts Degree from Columbia University. Miss Holaway takes the position held for the past five years by Miss Gertrude Roberts, who is now at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Raymond Morgan has charge of the physical education classes for men and the coaching of men's athletic teams.

Mr. Morgan, who is a native of Indiana, was graduated from Perdue University and has attended coaching schools conducted by Knute Rockne and other well-known coaches. He has come recently from Columbia University where he completed work for the degree of Master of Arts this spring. He has had several years of experience as a coach at Susquehanna University.

Doyle attempted big city life and made out pretty well, but is glad to be back in the tent-making business.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT OUR COLLEGE

Radiola Makes Big Hit With the Students Who Enjoy Dancing and Music.

NEW DRINKING FOUNTAINS

So many new improvements have been made at the college since the students left last June that there was surprise after surprise for them when they returned this fall. Drinking fountains have been installed, one in each corridor and one in the gymnasium.

In the gymnasium, the floor has been repaired and rewaxed. A new radiola furnishes the music for evening dances and is very popular with the students. New lockers have been placed there and in the dayrooms, adding greatly to the convenience of the students.

New chairs replace the old ones in the dining hall, and a fine new grand piano occupies the stage in the auditorium.

In addition to all of these things, work is being carried on steadily with the new Training School building, which it is hoped will be complete before very long. A new hundred-thousand dollar athletic field is being prepared—in fact improvements are being made on the campus that when completed will be worth a quarter of a million dollars. Watch us grow!

VACATION NOTES

So many of the Seniors are back all pepped up and raring to go; there must be some good reason for all the energy. There is—just see what summers some of them had!

Mary Barnard attended the Y. W. Conference at Eaglesmere during the early part of the summer and to complete things was traveling through Philadelphia and Atlantic City and even up to State College.

The Johnstown crowd—Flo Metzger, Ann Viering, Sally Mangus, Bill Rankin, Beryl King, Eve Bosworth—were all at home most of the summer but it is easy to imagine what a good time they must have all had together. It's a wonder there is anything left of the city!

Nance Galbraith lives in Johnstown too but she was at camp a good part of the time, though she didn't grow any taller.

Betty Kittleberger was at Eaglesmere, too, where she must have acquired some of the energy with which she is making the Y. W. hold its own. She was visiting in various other parts of the State too before she settled down at home at Curwensville.

Betty also made one of the party whom Peg Ferguson entertained at her camp near Port Matilda. Several of the class of last year, Jean Peters, Agnes Fuoss, Mary Neibauer, and one of the new Juniors, Mildred Granville, were there.

Meg Reiter was running around as usual, camping at Chautauqua and taking in the sights of Buffalo and Pittsburgh before she came back to St. Marys.

Betty Van Scoyoc was in Tyrone all summer; it would seem that she had a very good reason for staying there and wild horses couldn't drag her away.

Phyl Kinkead didn't stay at home as much but covered most of Pennsylvania and New York City and some of the New Jersey coast before she came back to Lock Haven.

Mary Ann Gilson was working at Ocean City, N. J., all summer.

Betty Acton spent her vacation at Eaglesmere and at home in Phillipsburg, to prepare for her strenuous duties here as president of the Girls' Student Council.

Cappy Stall saw a good deal of the country and a great many more good times in her travels this summer over New England and Canada and up to Lake Ontario.

If you wish to know what some of our girls like Clara Miller and Mamie Griffith and Irene Langan, and even some of our faculty, did with their summer, you must look in another column of this paper.

Pete Hile was another ambitious one this summer for while she was at home in Pleasant Gap she was doing clerical work for the Titan Metal Company.

Ethel Knoll lives at Pleasant Gap, too, but she was in Philadelphia this summer.

Dot Stitzer, the fourth of the Pleasant Gap crowd, was at home and according to her own account "just loafed."

When Ingrad Franklin got tired of her home in Lansé she varied the monotony with visits to Cleveland and Erie.

One doesn't get bored so easily in Altoona so Helen Wilson spent most of her time there at home this summer.

Helen Anderson lives in Ludlow but she worked in Jamestown, N. Y., during vacation.

Eleanor Cunningham had a house party this summer which included several of her S. T. C. friends—Sue Twigg, Anne Groeben, Helen O'Neill, and Betty Acton, all of whom seem to have had a great time at Williamsburg.

Ruth Grier was a counsellor at a girls' camp on Pine Creek this summer. We envy the girls but Ruth brought lots of her pep back to us too.

Dot Bastian raised whoopee at Ocean City, N. J., and Helen Lear and Elsie Harper of last year's class were there to help her.

Mary Worcester was at home in Elwood City most of the time but she had her pal, Eddie Miller from Williamsport, there to keep things moving for a week or two.

Grace Farren was at summer school here at S. T. C. Some of us know the secret of a part of her love for the Alma Mater.

Margaret Lundy was another summer school student. She went back to her home in Warrensburg to rest up between grinds.

Baker Burnham says she worked part of the time at home in Johnsonburg but she also had a "darn good time" out of her summer.

Dode Arnold deserted her home in Warren for a part of the summer for a camp on Chautauqua Lake and visits to Mary Kay Yeckley and Frank Fry.

Avie Catlin was in Akron and Cleveland all summer. We hear that she was enjoying life just as much as usual.

Sally Wiseman tried the other part of the State this summer, visiting in York, Lancaster and Hanover during her vacation.

Marjory Snow was another traveler who left her home in Warren to drive out through her home State and explore various regions of Ohio.

Emma Jane Lohr is another Johnstown girl but she spent the summer in Detroit. According to all reports Detroit has several attractions of which to boast.

J. Allen Miller, class of '31, spent his summer vacation in Penns Grove, N. J., as a "dauber." He claims that he's a first class painter and can take care of any and all sorts of painting, fancy and otherwise.

Eugene Coleman, class of '32, after being absent for a year, decided to come back for another siege. Glad to see you back, old fellow. "Coley" spent the summer vacation as chief pilot on the ferry across the river between Hyner and Ritchie.

Francis "Spud" Mack, class of '32, also among the missing last year, spent the summer vacation quietly at the home of his parents in Renovo.

Alton L. Miller, class of '31, ought to be in great shape after his workouts with A. W. Hinaman Construction Co. all summer. He claims that the coming year is going to be a "banner" year for the class of '31.

Victor Piper, class of '32, spent a very enjoyable summer visiting friends and relatives in various parts of Pennsylvania. It is also whispered that he spent some time in Erie, Pa., and was employed by the Continental Rubber Co. Don't be like that, Vic.

Clarence Cowfer, class of '32, spent the summer vacation as an employee of the P. R. R. at Renovo. He is "hard as nails" and rarin' to go. Good luck, old boy.

Clarence Swoyer, '32, after spending his summer vacation earning his daily bread and butter as an employee of the P. R. R., says he's ready for the worst and is feeling as fit as a fiddle.

Ted Robb, '31, went a long way from home to spend his summer's vacation. He's just returned from New Haven, Conn., where he had been employed by the Western Electric Co. Looking fine, Ted; all set for the football season?

Sebastian Grieco, '32, spent his summer vacation learning the lumberin' "racket" and from all indications, seems to be in wonderful fighting condition for the coming football season. "Sabby's" beef will look good on that line.

Max Cook, '32, the star of the Freshman Upper Classman football game last fall, spent the summer vacation as an employee of the Lock Haven Chair Co. Ought to be hard as nails. How about it Moxie?

Norman Morgan, '30, decided that S. T. C. was the best place for him, so he spent his summer vacation back among the same old cheerful scenes of his college days.

Richard Parsons, '31, was a real globe trotter this summer, spending part of his summer in Lock Haven as a student at the college, and the rest of his time—well, take three guesses, the first two don't count. How about it Dick? 'Fess up, old boy.

Charles Hager, '32, had 'em all beat when it came to spending vacations. He was employed in the local "marble orchard" and claims he is ready for anything now. We believe, after spending three months in a cemetery, who wouldn't be?

Albert Sundberg, '32, ought to be another "hard as nails" after his strenuous workouts with the Highway Department at Williamsport all summer. We expect a lot from "Sunny" this year, so it's great to hear that he is in wonderful condition.

Fred Ricker, '31, spent a very enjoyable summer vacation as an employee of the N. Y. C. R. R. Co., at Avis. Fred ought to be in great shape for the coming year—he'll need to be. How about it Freddy?

Willard Bardo, '32, was employed by the N. Y. C. R. R. at Jersey Shore during the summer and from the nature of the work ought to be in wonderful trim for the coming football season. Tear 'em up, big boy, this is our year.

Ray Zaner, '30, among the missing last year, spent a quiet summer vacation at his home in Avis. Ray, as you all know, is one of the members of the "Training School Faculty."

Paul Vonada, '30, was enrolled as a student of S. T. C. during the past summer. Paul felt that there's nothing like education, and decided to get as much as possible.

Einar Eliason, '31, spent a very quiet and enjoyable summer vacation visiting in Erie, Philadelphia and Lewistown, also spending some time with his parents at Renovo.

EDITORIALS

The Times Staff had all the good intentions of getting the first paper for '29-'30 out during our very first week in Lock Haven, but as usual, those "unforeseen circumstances" arose and completely wrecked both our plans and our hopes. So our greeting may be a bit late, but nevertheless we want to take this chance to give the Times welcome to everyone, especially the Freshmen who are here for the first time.

At the first chapel exercises Dr. Armstrong announced that the enrollment for this year is the largest the college has known and he also expressed much pride in the quality of the Freshmen who make up the incoming class. There seems to be, as we look around, every reason for these remarks. Although from outward appearances, the upperclassmen seem to adopt a very different attitude, they are really just as pleased as anyone else with the new recruits. At present they are very intent on showing their superiority, but underneath they are ready to help in any way possible to make the new students feel at home. The upperclassmen have been over the rough places before and know how to ride them best; they are ready to pass this knowledge on wherever it will help. We want to like the Freshmen and we want them to like us for only on these conditions can come the cooperation which is the foundation for true college spirit.

WEDDING BELLS

Clara C. Gross, of Lock Haven, and George L. Stark of Philadelphia, were united in marriage at a nuptial mass at St. Agnes Church, last June. The mass was celebrated by the Rev. Anthony Leckner, of Detroit, a cousin of the bride, assisted by the Rev. J. W. Keagh, of Philadelphia, national chaplain of the Newman Clubs.

The bride is a graduate of the Lock Haven College and of Columbia University, holding a Master's degree in History. For the past three years she has been a member of the faculty of Temple University, Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Stark are residing at 2733 North 46th Street, Philadelphia.

Eleanor Troutman, of Antes Fort, and Chester M. Kerns were married at Bloomsburg, June 8. The bride, a graduate of the Lock Haven Teachers College and a member of the Beta Sigma Chi Sorority, has been teaching at the Lincoln School in Williamsport.

Edna Rose Nevel, of Lock Haven, and William Grover Bailey, of Woolrich, were united in marriage Tuesday evening, July 2, at 8:00 o'clock in the Woolrich Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Morgart of that place. After her graduation from the Lock Haven Teachers College, the bride took special training for the teaching of special classes at Vineland, New Jersey. For several years she has been a teacher of such classes maintained at the Penn School in Lock Haven.

Carolyn Blanchard Stevenson, of Lock Haven, and Mackey M. Maione, of Williamsport, were united in marriage in the Trinity Methodist Church at Lock Haven, June 15. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Merrill Williams in the presence of many friends and relatives of the couple. Mrs. Maloney is a member of Beta Sigma Chi Sorority. She taught for two years in the Williamsburg schools, and for the past year has been teaching at the Penn School in Lock Haven.

Catherine Rank and John Brenem were united in marriage in the Evangelical Church at Williamsport, August 31. Mrs. Brenem is a graduate of the College and a member of Beta Sigma Chi Sorority. Mr. and Mrs. Brenem are residing at State College.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lawson, of Pittsburgh, sometime in August. Mrs. Lawson will be remembered as Dorothea Miller.

Ethel M. Shade, of Lamar and Donald K. Passell, of Commerce Street, Lock Haven, were married August 11 at Bellefonte by the Rev. W. C. Thompson. The bride has been teaching in the public schools of Lamar. The couple will reside in their newly furnished home at Zion.

Geraldine Mae Taylor, of Lock Haven, and James Calvin Furst, of Danville, were united in marriage at the First Evangelical Church at Lock Haven, August 3. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. R. Mergenthaler. Mrs. Furst has been teaching in the Colebrook Township School for the past two years. The happy couple are now residing in Williamsport.

Dorothy Campbell and Randall Meyers were married on July 19 at Coburn. Miss M. Gertrude Roberts and Miss Ivah N. D. Whitwell, members of the College faculty, were guests. Miss Whitwell sang several selections. The bride is a member of the Beta Sigma Chi Sorority.

Verna Mae Duke, of Renovo and Blair Seamen of Ridgeway, were married at the home of the bride's sister in Chambersburg some time in August. Mrs. Seamen is a member of L. A. L. Sorority. Mr. and Mrs. Seamen will reside at Ridgeway.

Edith Johnson, of Flemington, and George E. Campbell, of Queens Run, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, July 1. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thurman R. Husler. The newly married couple will reside in Flemington.

Irene Langdon, of Scranton, and Kenneth E. Shea, of Bellefonte Avenue, Lock Haven, were united in marriage at St. Patrick's Church at Scranton, by the Rev. James Flynn, August 22. Mrs. Shea is a member of Rho Omega Lambda Sorority.

Lloyd Plummer and Margaret G. Buckwater were married in the United Brethren Church of Portage. The Rev. Cunningham, brother-in-law of the bride, officiated, assisted by Rev. Smith, of Portage. Mr. and Mrs. Plummer will reside at Lovett where Mr. Plummer is Principal of the Junior High School.

ATHLETICS

A fairly good-sized turnout answered the call of Coach Morgan for the opening football practice. Since then several men have been added and preparations are being made to get in shape for the opening game with Dickinson Seminary, October 5, on the home field.

In view of the losses sustained by the graduation of most of last year's line and back field, plus the loss of Bob Smith and Captain-elect Ken Waterbury, a tower of strength at tackle, who did not return to college this fall, prospects seem only fairly good. These losses, together with one of the stiffest schedules ever attempted by the local college, gives a hint as to the position in which Coach Morgan and his men find themselves.

The players are coming along fairly well, and considering the not too large squad, Coach Morgan has preferred to keep his men drilling on fundamentals, with a few light scrimmages. Already the squad has been hit with injuries, mostly in the backfield with Robb, Cowfer and Torok nursing bad legs. Several others have had minor injuries which have handicapped Coach Morgan in his effort to develop a smooth-working combination.

The calibre of the opposition to Teachers College, this year may be seen in the fact that last year West Chester defeated Drexel Institute, one of the most powerful of the smaller colleges of the East, to the tune of 12-0. The boys are going to give their best, in spite of all this, and deserve every bit of support that can be given them.

000000

The activities of the Women's Athletic Association have begun with the force of a miniature whirlwind. About sixty first-year candidates have reported for hockey. There will be five teams for beginners, and four teams for advanced players. Definite plans have not yet been made for a tournament, but it is thought that a varsity team will be chosen from among all the players at the close of the season.

000000

The tennis tournaments will soon be under way. The little maids who are unable to put the ball over the net are having a tennis tournament all their own, while the so-called wizards are playing off their sets a la Wills. September 25, interpretative dancing was held in the gymnasium under the direction of Miss Edgerton.

The W. A. A. is one of the foremost organizations in the college. Its chief purpose is to give every girl the

CAMPUS CHATTER

Greetings to everybody! (this includes the Freshmen). The old students know us but may we say for the benefit of the Freshmen that this is the only place on the campus where gossip is permitted. Please don't hold the editors or any member of the staff responsible for what appears in this box!

First, we want to congratulate the authorities on the improvements that have been made. You can actually wear a decent pair of stockings to the dining room now because there's no danger of mutilating them on these nice smooth chairs. And the drinking fountains will save Miss Bentley a lot of worry by decreasing the number of glasses that disappear from the dining room.

What a noted crowd of Freshmen came to us this year—a Hoover and a Smith. We have the Dry and the Wet of it.

There are several things that make people absent minded but it certainly opportunity to become an adept in some form of recreation. It is not meant for athletic girls alone, but for every girl in college—athletic or otherwise.

On October 8, the membership drive will begin. A program will be given in the gynasium that every girl in the college will want to attend. You may not be interested in tennis or hockey, or other sports of a similar nature, but that does not mean that you never can become interested.

JOIN THE W. A. A.! It was organized for YOU. The yearly dues are seventy-five cents. Set aside that amount. Remember this:—You won't be sorry if you do.

FORMER FACULTY MEMBER WEDS

Miss Geraldine Lockhart, of Lake George, New York and Louis George Dauenhauer, of Amityville, New York, were united in marriage June 25, at Grace Episcopal Church, Massapequa, New York, the ceremony being performed by the rector, Rev. Edgar E. Brice. The bride was formerly a member of the faculty at the Lock Haven Teachers College and was a patroness of the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority. After leaving Lock Haven, she was principal of the Massapequa schools. Mr. and Mrs. Dauenhauer will reside at Amityville.

Gordon McCloskey, another old timer, is back with us again after one year of teaching. His summer vacation was one of the best he's ever enjoyed since he's been a youngster. At least so we've heard. How about it, Mac?

Ivan Fritz, one of our old timers, is back with us again after spending his summer vacation as truck driver at his home town of McElhattan.

Harry Shaffer, '31, spent his summer vacation as a student of old S. T. C., proving that education was very much sought after by this very energetic young man. Good work, Harry, keep it up.

Moon McMullen spent his time travelling. Where? Mostly from Altoona to Allequippa.

Lester McCall said he rested. We don't know what he means by "rested" because we heard he was on a road gang. What was the offense, Lester?

Harry Poorman and Fred Malone wrestled with the steering wheels of trucks, and they both declare they didn't hit any poles.

Bob Plummer and Sol Wolfe worked on the railroad. Bob hid stones under the ties.

Lynch and Johnson are reported as having worked on a pipe line. What was it boys? A meerschaum?

Rice said he was an air hammer operator. You ask him if he is thinking of it as a life occupation.

Sam Sherron starred as a labor gang leader near his home. He told us he had it pretty soft.

FACULTY WEDDINGS

On August 8 occurred the marriage of Miss Katherine Cooper and Mr. Samuel Smith at the home of the bride at Loganton. The bride is a graduate of Lock Haven Teachers College and has been teaching for the past two years in the Lock Haven High School. Mr. Smith is a member of the college faculty, occupying a position in the Mathematics Department. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are living at 202 West Church Street, Lock Haven.

Miss Mae Sisler and Mr. Jay Stemple, both members of the college faculty, were married at the home of the bride, Ohio, Ill., August 28. Mr. Stemple is in the Physical Science Department and Mrs. Stemple is in the Music Department. They are residing at the corner of Church and Second Streets, Lock Haven.
